First-class Son-in-law By Drunk Alone Chapter 15

Chapter 16

“Get away from her!”

The moment Hill’s ugly hands were about to touch Rain, a voice without a hint of emotion came from the door.

It was not loud, but it was extremely clear in the quiet space.

Everyone in the room looked in the direction from which the voice came.

They saw a well-built young man with well-defined features walking into the ward. He was handsome and had an outstanding temperament.

As if to serve as a foil to his appearance and temperament, his outfit was ordinary, and his hair was messy. He was even carrying a bulging snakeskin bag.

If he was not so good-looking and did not have such a unique temperament, people would have thought that he was a trash collector.

After Rain heard the familiar voice, she instantly opened her eyes with a surprised expression.

It was Henry!

Henry was here!

But after the initial surprise, her face filled with worry again.

There were about five people on Hill’s side.

While Henry was all alone.

What could he do when there was such a huge disparity in numbers?

His presence did not change anything.

As she expected, Hill and his gang looked at Henry with scornful smiles.

Hill curiously looked around, smiled, and said, "Hmm? Did that beggar just say that?"

His lackeys instantly laughed.

"Haha! Hill, that guy did say it."

"Exactly. It was that stupid beggar."

"Do all beggars nowadays want to be heroes and rescue damsels-in-distress?"

"Bah! This brat is clearly an idiot..."

Henry could not be bothered to even look at these people. He walked over to Rain and softly asked, "Are you okay?"

"Henry, I'm fine. You... You're an idiot..." Rain was worried and angry.

She was angry at him for not calling the police. Why was he so foolish as to rush over instead?

Henry smiled faintly at her. "I'm glad that you're fine. Don't worry. Let me handle the rest."

Rain was stunned.

For some reason, when she heard his husky voice and looked at his confident face, the long-lost sense of safety came over her again.

This made her instantly feel at ease, and she calmed down.

Even if she knew that Hill's group was made up of six strong men, while Henry was alone, for some reason, she still had faith in him.

“You have a death wish, brat? You’ve got guts to stick your nose into my business.” Hill stared at Henry with contempt.

Finally, Henry slowly raised his head and looked at the man with a profound gaze.

“I said, get away from her!” Henry said in a calm and cold voice.

Right after he spoke, the room burst into noise.

Everyone looked at Henry as if he was an idiot.

There had to be something wrong with him.

How could he talk to the famous Hill like this?!

This was no different from marching to his own death.

They could already see the bloody scene of Hill bashing the beggar’s brains in.

Just as they expected, Hill instantly flashed a ferocious smile.

“Haha! B*stard, since you have a death wish, I’ll kill you!”

Hill growled, clenched his huge fist, and swung it at Henry’s head.

“Ah! Watch out, Henry!” Rain could not help but scream.

She was so frightened that she closed her eyes. She could not watch it.

Crack!

Suddenly, a terrifying sound reached her ears.

It was clearly the sound of bones being broken.

“Ouch!”

Then, there was a mournful scream.

When the people in the room looked in the direction from which the sound came, all of them were shocked. They widened their eyes, and their expressions filled with shock and confusion.

What...

How was this possible?
