

Chapter 1062

Agnes had been very busy dealing with this matter and lost a lot of weight in the past two months.

However, these people seemed to have made up their minds to take Agnes down and swallow Gopher Delivery Services.

“Mr. Grey, please stay and we can discuss further. However, your price of 500 million is too high. I’m afraid we can’t agree to it.”

Agnes rushed out at this time. Wearing a white shirt, a pale pink skirt, and a pair of black high heels with her hair in a ponytail, she looked very capable and intellectual.

Philip noticed it at one glance. She indeed looked thin and tired.

However, Agnes did not see Philip in the crowd because her attention was all on Horace Grey.

This was the task Philip assigned to her—to take down the delivery market in Riverdale.

“Hmph! What is there to discuss? 500 million is the final price! If you can't show your sincerity, don't talk about the cooperation!” Horace spoke in an arrogant tone.

He looked back at Agnes, his gaze lingering on her figure for a while before he said with a smile, “Of course, some of the bosses have prepared a banquet at Virtuous Court tonight. As long as you’re willing to attend, the cooperation can be discussed further and the price can naturally be negotiated.”

Another dinner invitation!

Agnes frowned. Since discussing this cooperation, Horace had implicitly and explicitly hinted to her many times.

As long as she accompanied him for dinner, the cooperation could be discussed.

Who was Horace Grey and what character was he? He was a well-known old pervert in the industry!

He had tainted many young girls.

Therefore, Agnes had never once agreed.

It was also because of this that the cooperation was delayed again and again.

“Mr. Grey, it’s not too late to have dinner after the cooperation agreement is signed,” Agnes said with a smile.

Horace snorted. “Miss Summer, this shows to me that you’re not sincere. If this is the case, there is nothing to talk about, then. Gopher Delivery Services can wait for bankruptcy!” Horace said coldly, waved his hand, and looked at the onlookers. He deliberately threatened, “I urge you to resign as soon as possible. If I want this company to go bankrupt, it’ll only take half a day!”

After that, Horace turned around and left with the other three bosses.

Agnes panicked. She quickly rushed over and almost stumbled. She said, “Mr. Grey, I’ll go. I’ll go tonight!”

Agnes had no choice but to agree.

Hearing this, Horace smiled triumphantly and grabbed Agnes' tender hand. Rubbing it twice, he said, “Miss Summer, you should have done this right from the start. Why delay until now?”

Agnes hurriedly withdrew her hand and stood away from Horace. He said, “Then tonight, we shall discuss further in Virtuous Court.”

“Sure.”

Horace looked at Agnes with narrowed eyes, his heart already feeling the itch.

This woman looked soft and tender. At first glance, she had little experience, or perhaps, no experience in that department at all.

After that, he turned around and prepared to leave.

However...

Suddenly!

A voice came from behind the crowd.

“Agnes, you don’t have to attend. There’s no need for Gopher Delivery Services to rely on cooperating with such scumbags in order to take down the delivery market in Riverdale.”

Philip walked out from behind the crowd, standing with his hands behind his back. He stared coldly at Horace and the others.

Chapter 1063

Hearing this, everyone looked sideways.

Agnes immediately saw Philip in the crowd and was about to call out to him.

Here, Horace’s face darkened. He pointed at Philip rudely and asked, “Who the hell are you? How dare you say such things? Who taught you this?”

Horace did not put Philip in his eyes at all. By the looks of him, he should be an employee of Gopher Delivery Services.

He was too rude!

Therefore, Horace immediately turned to Agnes and questioned angrily, "Miss Summer, how can your company hire such an unqualified employee to talk to me this way? Aren't you interested in this cooperation anymore?"

"That's right! There's no need to get an employee to express your dissatisfaction this way!"

"Hehe, I think there's no need to hold any further discussions. Without Gopher Delivery Services, the business performance of our companies will be better!"

For a while, several bosses spoke incessantly.

They were already dissatisfied with the sudden emergence of Gopher Delivery Services right from the start.

Cooperation?

Hehe.

They had never planned to cooperate in the first place. They just wanted to blackmail Gopher Delivery Services and play around with Agnes.

Their objective was Agnes Summer. As long as they could get Agnes into bed, the company would be theirs for the taking!

She was just a woman. What would she know about running a company and doing business?

In the end, she was nothing but a man's plaything.

Agnes ignored the questions from the bosses and trotted over to Philip. Bending down, she lowered her head and greeted, "Mr. Clarke."

Mr. Clarke?

For a moment, Horace and the others were stunned!

Could this young man be the investor behind Gopher Delivery Services?

Horace sneered, "I was just wondering who this was. It turns out to be Mr. Clarke. What a pleasure."

This was unexpected.

The legendary and elusive boss behind Gopher Delivery Services turned out to be such a kid.

Was he a rich second-generation?

Philip stepped forward at this moment, staring at Horace and the others with cold eyes. He said, "Mr. Grey's reputation is quite well-known, indeed. I heard that you're quite the Casanova and often play around with many young girls. I wonder what your wife thinks about it."

It was a deliberate dig.

Horace's face flushed red as he yelled at Philip, "Mr. Clarke, I can sue you for slander! I'm a clean and conscientious man who only loves my wife! Those gossips and rumors are an insult to me!"

Horace was furious.

Although what Philip said was the truth, no man would admit it.

Moreover, Horace dared not offend the tigress at home.

His affairs were done secretly and there had never been an accident.

Even if he was caught, he would deny it.

Philip chuckled when he finally met this man who was without any bottom limits.

Earlier, he had gotten all the information about Horace through Theo.

This guy was actually similar to him, a son-in-law who relied on his wife's family background and spent more than 20 years before he established his reputation in Riverdale.

Because of this, Horace finally gave in to temptation and found many lovers.

"Mr. Grey, listening to the conversation just now, are you asking for 500 million before you're willing to transfer the market to us?" Philip smiled faintly as he asked.

Horace said unceremoniously, "Yes, 500 million! If you can pay up, the food delivery market in Riverdale will belong to Gopher Delivery Services! If you can't, then there is nothing further to discuss!"

Hehe.

Horace's eyes were full of vehemence, and the corners of his mouth were also pulled into a cold sneer.

500 million in exchange for the delivery market in Riverdale. It was worth it.

Besides, Horace did not intend to just give up the business like that.

After getting 500 million, they could reopen the food delivery company and re-occupy the market!

Yes, they were going to play them out!

This was what the four bosses had agreed earlier.

It was because they thought Agnes, that woman, was a pushover.

Philip nodded and took the market analysis report from Agnes, saying, "But my data analysis here shows that the total market of Mr. Grey and the other three food delivery companies is only worth 100 million. Isn't 500 million a bit—"

Horace laughed and said with disdain, "What? You think it's too much? Then don't think about swallowing the market in Riverdale! If you don't have the capability, how dare you think about it? Are you tired of living?"

However...

To everyone's surprise, Philip shook his head and said, "No, I mean 500 million is too little. Why don't you increase the price a bit?"

Everyone was shocked by his words.

What?

Too little?

Increase it?

F*ck.

Too pretentious!

The employees at the scene and those who knew Philip from before felt that Philip was overplaying it.

Even if he was rich now, he could not do things like this.

Agnes was even more shocked as her beautiful eyes flickered. Her small mouth opened slightly, and she hurriedly tugged Philip's arm, whispering, "Mr. Clarke, isn't this too..."

However, Philip just replied, "It's okay. I know what I'm doing."

Chapter 1064

On the opposite, Horace and the others sneered after a brief shock.

"Mr. Clarke, your tone is too arrogant. Okay, what about one billion? If you can transfer the money today, I'll bring all my people and get out!" Horace said with eyes full of mockery.

What the heck was this? Was this guy showing off in front of him?

'One billion! Let's see if he can get it out!'

Philip nodded in assent and dialed a number. "Transfer one billion to Melrose Food Delivery to buy over this company."

On the other end of the phone was naturally the person in charge of Milanelson Angel Investment Group.

Their funds were not owned by the Clarke family, so they were not restricted by them.

After hanging up the phone, Philip glanced at the time indifferently and said, "It'll take five minutes at most."

Horace and the others were a little confused.

Was this kid being too pretentious?

"Haha, Mr. Clarke, there's no one better at acting than you. Okay, I'll wait five minutes. I want to see how you plan to buy my company!"

Horace barked, his face full of displeasure.

However, as soon as he finished speaking, he received a call from his company's chief financial officer.

Horace was stunned by this call, and so were the three bosses behind him.

So fast?

No way.

"Hello, what's the matter?"

Horace still answered the call. He instinctively did not believe it.

"Mr. Grey, we just received one billion in our account, saying that it's for the acquisition of Melrose Food Delivery Company."

On the other end of the phone, the chief financial officer sounded very excited!

One billion!

It was ten times beyond the company's current market share value!

Holy sh*t!

Who was the rich tycoon who took a fancy to Melrose?

“What? Say that again! You really got one billion?”

Horace panicked!

A person who could transfer one billion at will... How could he be an ordinary person?

Who could this Mr. Clarke be?

After hanging up the phone, he was stunned for a moment. Horace smiled flatteringly and said, “Mr. Clarke, congratulations. From now on, Melrose belongs to Mr. Clarke.”

What a windfall!

Horace was ecstatic! He did not expect to meet a fool!

He actually bought his company for one billion.

Horace was not the only one shocked as Agnes was also surprised!

How rich could Philip be?

However...

Just when Horace was full of joy, Philip poured cold water over him with his words. “Mr. Grey, don't be too happy yet. I think there's something you need to look at first.”

With that, Philip played the video on his phone and gave Horace a look.

Instantly!

Horace took a deep breath and was nervous all over!

It was a video of him having an affair with his little lover! It was evidence of him cheating!

All of a sudden, everyone in the office knew about it.

Including the three bosses he brought, everyone was silent.

Horace also understood. With a grim face, he asked Philip, “What do you want?”

Philip said mildly, “In your opinion, how much will it cost you to buy this video from me?”

Chapter 1065

When Horace heard this, his brows furrowed as his face became extremely dark!

This guy dared to threaten him?!

“Mr. Clarke, isn't it a bit too much for you to do this?!” Horace shouted, waving his hand with anger on his face.

Philip smiled and said calmly, “Is it too much? I just think it is a means. If you think this video is nothing, I'll send it to your wife. According to what I know, you're a live-in son-in-law who relies on the influence of your father-in-law to get to where you are today. Moreover, your wife already suspects that you're cheating on her, but you're very careful and didn't leave any evidence. If your wife sees this video, do you think you'll be kicked out from the Sloan family?"

After saying that, a faint smile appeared on Philip's face.

This smile was like a spring breeze, but it made people tremble.

Horace felt this way right now!

Damn kid! He was actually playing such a game!

However, Horace was indeed worried about the video leaking and getting kicked out of the Sloan family.

If that happened, it would be over for him.

"Mr. Clarke, what exactly do you want?"

Horace gritted his teeth bitterly and made concessions.

Philip shrugged and said, "Simple. One billion for this video. In addition, you and all your companies. How about it? It's a good deal."

After saying that, Philip grinned broadly.

Hearing that, Horace was furious. With his face flushed, he roared. "Impossible! I'll return your one billion to you! However, it's absolutely impossible for us to give our companies to you just like that! This is blackmail, extortion! You can be arrested for this!"

Horace was not a fool and immediately understood Philip's intentions.

This was a scam!

If Horace agreed, he would be an idiot!

The three bosses behind him also chastised with a cold expression.

“Mr. Clarke, don’t go overboard with this!”

“Are you planning to drive us into the corner? I won’t agree to this!”

“Mr. Clarke, don’t think of swallowing all our companies with just one video!”

However...

Philip was still standing with his hands behind his back. Looking at Horace mildly, he asked, “Have you decided?”

“No! I won’t agree!” Horace immediately replied.

Philip shrugged, dialed a number, and said, “Let them come in.”

Hearing this, Horace was taken aback. With a bad premonition, he glared and asked, “What do you mean? Who will be coming?”

As his voice fell, he saw seven or eight women coming in noisily through the door of the company.

Those were all the women he had played with before!

Why were they here?

In an instant, Horace knew something bad was going to happen!

Looking at him again, Philip grinned and said, "Mr. Grey, you still have ten minutes to think about it. After ten minutes, your wife will be here."

"What?"

Horace was taken aback, and his pitch increased. "Boy, how dare you play me out?!"

Philip shrugged indifferently.

At the same time, those seven or eight women had already surrounded Horace. They were yelling at him and throwing punches.

The scene was uncontrollable for a while.

It was mainly because Horace had gone too far.

After playing with these women's feelings, he abandoned them.

Ten minutes later, Horace still refused to agree.

At this moment, a stern curse came from the door. "Horace Grey, how bold of you! You dare to cheat on me behind my back?!"

Horace's face was already full of scratches at this time. When he looked in the direction of the door, his legs went weak in fright!

She was here. She was really here, full of anger and holding a leather whip!

Everyone looked sideways and saw a middle-aged woman with a body that weighed more than 400 pounds at the door. She was holding a black whip in her hand. Her face was full of anger, and the floorboards shook with every step she took!

The woman violently pushed her way through all the women and stood in front of Horace.

Then, smack!

With a wave of her hand, a slap directly landed on Horace's face.

Chapter 1066

Instantly.

With a wail, Horace flew out and hit the desk.

"Wife, you've misunderstood. It's not what you think," Horace immediately explained, covering his red and swollen face.

However, the enraged fat woman just brandished her whip.

Smack!

This whip was drawn on Horace's arm where a red mark instantly appeared.

"Do you still want to lie to me? Do you think I'm blind? Don't think I don't know the things you've been doing behind my back. I was just closing one eye this whole time. Now, your dirty deeds have been found out by others. This is defamation to the Sloan family. I must kill you today!"

That woman cursed fiercely. No one could stop her!

In a moment, Horace's screams resounded throughout the company.

This guy was covered with bloodstains and was lying on the ground limply.

He hugged his wife's thick legs and begged for mercy, "My wife, I was wrong. I was really wrong. Please forgive me this time."

The fat woman kicked Horace away, then pulled out the documents from her bag and tossed them all on Horace. She said angrily, "Divorce agreement. Sign it and get out of the Sloan's house! You have nothing to do with the Sloan family in the future!"

Boom!

In the next instant, Horace, who was limp on the ground, began to panic.

He was being kicked out of the Sloan family?

In that case, it would really be over for him!

"Wife, my dear wife, please listen to me..."

At the last moment, Horace let out a hysterical cry and shouted at the fat woman who had already turned around to leave.

Everything was in vain.

The hall fell into a cold silence.

No one thought that the ever-imposing Horace Grey would one day be lying so miserably on the ground while bawling his eyes out.

“Philip Clarke, you’ll die a horrible death! I’m doomed. It’s all over for me. I’m going to kill you!”

Horace, who was crazy with anger, got up frantically and pounced on Philip. He tried to choke him to death.

However...

Bam!

Philip lifted his foot and kicked Horace's abdomen directly, kicking him three or four yards away. He fell heavily to the ground and was unable to get up for a while.

Philip said coldly, “Mr. Grey, do you think I’d give you a chance to seek revenge?”

Horace lay on the ground with an unpleasant face and said with difficulty, “You... What do you mean?”

As his words fell, men and women in black uniforms walked in through the door of the company. They had badges on their chests. They took out documents and said to Horace who was on the ground, “Horace Grey, you’re suspected of appropriation of interests. Come with us.”

Boom!

At this moment, Horace finally realized how vicious Philip’s methods were!

One attack after another!

There was no room for him to retaliate.

No, he had no chance to retaliate at all!

Before he could react, he was already taken out of the company.

Back at Philip's side, he was looking coldly at the other three bosses who were still standing idly by. He then smiled amicably and asked, "For the three of you, have you considered it yet?"

Chapter 1067

Consider?

Did they still need to think about it?

The three bosses glanced at each other and shook their heads helplessly. One after another, they eagerly began to flatter Philip and said, "We agree to the cooperation."

Philip nodded and said, "As it should be. Since we're cooperative partners now, all of us are friends."

After that, Philip looked at Agnes.

The latter suddenly came back to her senses and hurriedly invited the three bosses to enter the general manager's office again to renegotiate the terms of cooperation.

Very soon, an agreement was reached.

After sending the three bosses away, Agnes returned to the general manager's office and saw Philip sitting on the sofa, sipping tea.

"Mr. Clarke, I..."

Agnes felt a little guilty because she had not performed well.

In the end, Philip needed to step forward and solve it for her.

She felt that she was not qualified for this job.

Philip seemed to notice Agnes' hesitation and self-blame. He said with a smile, "Agnes, there are no outsiders here. Don't call me Mr. Clarke. Just call me Philip."

Agnes did not dwell on this topic and said, "Philip, I don't think I'm qualified for the general manager's position. I want to resign."

As she said that, Agnes felt that she had let Philip down.

Her eyes went red.

Philip seemed to have guessed that Agnes was going to say this, so he smiled and said, "Agnes, I know what you're thinking. But in my eyes, you're more than capable of taking up the position of general manager. I believe in you. Let's put it another way. Even if this company goes down, it won't affect me that much."

Agnes glanced at Philip when she heard his words and said, "Are you so rich now that you don't feel anything even if the company goes bust?"

Philip laughed and said, "Really, Agnes, you have to believe in yourself. What happened today has nothing to do with your capability. You may come across something like this again in the future. At that time, you have to learn to exercise your judgment and act decisively. Who are the people you can talk to about cooperation and who are the people only suitable for tough methods to force them to talk about cooperation?"

"Agnes, don't think too much into it. If you feel that you can't do it by yourself, you can hire more talents," Philip continued.

Agnes thought for a long time before saying, "Okay, I'll try again."

Philip got up, pressed Agnes' shoulder, and said, "Not only do you have to try, but you also have to fully believe in your own abilities. If you have any problems that can't be solved, just call me and we can discuss it together."

Agnes turned her head, the corners of her mouth lifting into a smile. Her face was filled with a coquettish smile as she said, "Okay, I'll work hard."

After chatting for a while, Philip got up and prepared to leave the company.

However, just at this time, the phone rang suddenly.

After Philip answered it, Theo's anxious voice came from the other end of the phone. "Mr. Clarke, I have something urgent to report to you!"

Philip was a little surprised to receive a call from Theo at this time. Moreover, listening to the man's tone, he sounded very anxious.

Could it be that something had happened?

"What's the matter?" Philip asked.

"Mr. Clarke, it's about your sister-in-law, Lynn Johnston, and Mrs. Clarke. I'm afraid something has happened to them!" Theo said anxiously. He was in his Maybach rushing to Philip's location.

What?!

Philip's head buzzed. It had only been a few days and something happened to Wynn again?

This time, Lynn was involved as well!

He did not have time to ask for the details before he ran out of the company. As soon as he left the building, Theo's car stopped at the door.

“What happened exactly?”

Philip's face darkened as he growled.

Theo sweated profusely as he said, “Mr. Clarke, Mrs. Clarke received a phone call in the hospital and hurried out. According to the men's report, she went to a local money-lending company. The boss of the company is Ulrich Craig, a person with ruthless methods and who has made lots of dirty transactions. He came from out of town two years ago.”

“Ulrich Craig?” Philip frowned and asked, “What's his background?”

“Ulrich Craig is a very dangerous guy. In two years, he took over all the large and small money-lending companies in Riverdale. His methods are harsh and vicious. He's extremely prideful. Moreover, according to recent news, this guy is being supported by someone behind him. This time, for Mrs. Clarke to enter one of his companies, it's most likely related to money.”

Theo finished speaking in one breath and felt a little flustered.

He and Ulrich had never crossed paths, so everyone was at peace.

After all, Ulrich's business did not conflict with Theo's.

Besides, Ulrich was not engaged in power scuffles. He merely raised his own thugs, or in other words, debt collectors.

Philip frowned. Was this issue related to money?

Did Wynn borrow money from a loan shark?

“Let’s go.”

Philip was anxious. Wynn should be resting now. If something happened again, the baby could be gone.

Theo opened the car door. The two got into the car and sped toward Ulrich’s company.

Dozens of black Mercedes-Benz cars followed closely behind Theo’s car to Ulrich’s company.

Chapter 1068

At the same time in Golding Finance Limited.

Ulrich Craig was sitting on the leather sofa with a cigar in his hand, looking at the two women in front of him with a cold smile.

Pretty.

Gorgeous.

They were none other than Wynn, who had a chill on her face, and Lynn, who was feeling aggrieved and crying.

On the side, a young man covered in blood had been beaten up. He was wailing and rolling on the ground.

He was Lynn’s new boyfriend, Jimmy Glade.

At this time, Jimmy had a bruised nose and a swollen face. One of his arms was also broken. Needless to say, he was in an extremely miserable state.

In this chairman's office, there were also eight thugs dressed in various clothes guarding the door and other possible exits. They were all staring at Wynn and Lynn with lecherous gazes.

Ulrich took a puff of his cigar, looked at Wynn, who had a cold look on her face, and said with a smile, "I didn't expect Wynn Johnston, a golden flower in the medical industry of Riverdale, to visit a small company like mine. What a rare guest indeed. But having said that, your cousin owes me some money. Do you plan to pay it on her behalf?"

Wynn glanced at Lynn, who was hiding by her side with a slap mark on her cheek. She said to Ulrich in a cold voice, "Mr. Craig, I'm already here as you requested. You can tell me how much money my cousin owes you and I'll pay it back for her."

"Haha."

Ulrich laughed, then threw the papers on the coffee table to Wynn with a sneer at the corner of his mouth. He said, "Madam Johnston, don't be in such a hurry. You should look at this document first, then decide if you want to pay it back for her. I'm afraid you won't be able to pay it back after reading it."

Wynn was puzzled. She opened the file and glanced at it. Her eyebrows furrowed as a look of anger took over her face. She exclaimed, "500 million? Mr. Craig, did you take the wrong document? Even if my sister has borrowed some money, how could it be 500 million?"

Wynn was dumbfounded!

This amount of 500 million really shocked her.

However, when she saw the authorization page, it was indeed Lynn's signature!

As soon as Lynn heard that it was 500 million, she immediately shouted at Ulrich anxiously, "Impossible! How could it be 500 million?! I obviously only borrowed 500,000! This is a scam! You cheat!"

Lynn was stunned!

It was 500 million!

“Wynn, you have to save me!”

Lynn immediately grabbed Wynn's arm tightly, feeling very scared.

Chapter 1069

Smack!

Ulrich rushed over at this moment and slapped Lynn's face, knocking her directly to the ground.

Then, he yelled at Lynn angrily, “B*tch! It's how much I say it is! How long has it been since you borrowed the money? Isn't the interest counted as money too? Do you think I'm running a charity?!”

Wynn hurriedly ran over and pulled Lynn up while glaring at Ulrich angrily. She said, “Mr. Craig, how can you hit people so casually?!”

Lynn cried and hid behind Wynn, saying, “Wynn, I really didn't borrow that much money. They're lying! This is extortion!”

Wynn nodded and comforted Lynn, saying, “Don't worry, I'm here. Everything will be fine.”

Ulrich looked at this moving scene and sneered ruthlessly, “Madam Johnston, the relationship between you and your cousin is very touching. But your cousin owes me this much money. This is the contract which she has signed.”

Ulrich's eyes lingered on Wynn and Lynn.

What a beautiful pair of sisters.

Especially Wynn, who was such a superb woman paired with a good-for-nothing husband. What a waste!

Then, he turned to look at Lynn. She was young and beautiful.

She had developed well at such a young age.

“Mr. Craig, my cousin said she only borrowed 500,000. Even if you’ve counted in the interest, it can’t add up to 500 million! This is blackmail! It’s illegal!”

Wynn chastised.

Hehe.

Ulrich sneered and slapped Wynn's face, saying, “Illegal? Who dares to say that I’m breaking the law? Everything is in black and white. 500 million is 500 million. Even if you get someone else to look at it, the result is the same!

“Madam Johnston, I’m not afraid to tell you the truth. If you can’t return the 500 million to me today, you don’t have to leave. Just stay here and accompany me.”

Ulrich’s eyes were cold, his expression looking lewd.

“You! What are you trying to do?!”

Only then did Wynn realize she had fallen into a trap!

Ulrich Craig had no intention of letting her and Lynn leave!

“What am I trying to do?”

Ulrich snickered and said to his men, "Lock them in the next room!"

"Yes, Mr. Craig."

On the side, Lynn got anxious. She got up, rushed over, and pushed Ulrich abruptly while shouting, "B*stard! Let go of my cousin!"

Smack!

Ulrich turned around and slapped Lynn's face angrily. It was followed by another kick.

The force of the kick was very heavy. Lynn fell directly to the ground and was unable to move for a while.

Wynn was distressed. She rushed over and slapped Ulrich's face fiercely.

Ulrich got annoyed by this slap.

Ulrich glared at Wynn angrily, roaring like a beast while directly pressing Wynn on the table with both his hands. Then, he tore her clothes abruptly. "Little b*tch, do you f*cking want to die?!"

"Ah! Let go of me, you beast! If you dare to touch me, my husband will not let you go!"

Wynn resisted in horror.

However, the other party was a man with great strength. Wynn could not do anything at all.

Chapter 1070

At the same time at the entrance of Golding Finance Limited.

Philip and Theo's men had arrived.

Philip was anxious. He opened the door and rushed in.

Theo and his men followed closely behind.

Philip barged into the company, but before he even entered, he was stopped by a few security guards at the gate!

These people were Ulrich's henchmen, specially hired to prevent people from making trouble.

"F*ck! Stop right there!"

Seeing Philip about to break in, one of the men with a scar on the corner of his eyebrow threw away his cigarette butt and suddenly roared.

"Get lost!" Philip did not want to waste time with these small shrimps, so he yelled at them.

Scarface pointed at Philip's nose and yelled, "Damn it, you're an arrogant kid! Are you looking for death? Do you know where this is?"

With a layer of frost on Philip's face and anger in his eyes, he shouted, "I'll say it again! Get lost!"

He was very anxious now.

If something happened to Wynn because of this delay, these people would have to die!

When Scarface heard such pompous words, he immediately gathered everyone to surround Philip and said angrily, "F*ck! I've never seen a guy like you! You dare to tell me to get lost?! You must be tired of living!"

With that said, Scarface twisted his eyes and hit Philip with a punch!

To him, Philip was just a weakling, yet he dared to be so aggressive to him. This man was simply looking for trouble!

However, before his punch landed, Philip had raised his hand and squeezed his fist in the air!

This scene shocked everyone!

Scarface was notoriously ruthless and strong!

Now, the ordinary man in front of him had caught Scarface's fist, rendering him unable to move!

Scarface taunted, "Interesting. It's just... Oh no... It hurts."

Before he finished acting tough, a strong force enveloped his fist. In the next second, there was a creaking sound that came from his bones.

It must have been crushed!

Philip looked indifferently at Scarface, his face now flushed and distorted with pain. Philip lifted his leg and kicked the other's knee!

Thud!

Scarface knelt directly on the ground, his expression full of pain.

“I said, get lost!”

Philip’s expression was cold as he glared at the henchmen around him.

Those thugs immediately pointed at Philip and babbled, “Boy, let go of Scarface! Otherwise, you can’t walk out of here!”

“Quickly kneel down and beg Scarface for mercy!”

“Let go of Scarface!”

However, Philip just sneered coldly as the force in his hands increased.

Scarface immediately screamed like a pig and said, “Ouch! It hurts! Don’t do this! Brother, please have mercy on me.”

Philip glared fiercely and loosened his hand. Scarface immediately clutched his hand that had been caught in the vice-like grip. He got up from the ground, then roared, “Attack! Kill him!”

However, as soon as the few men behind him were about to rush forward, they backed away with a horrified expression on their faces.

Behind Philip, dozens of black-suited thugs were quickly walking over.

Theo was in the lead!

F*ck!

Was that Theo Zander? Why was he here?

The few hooligans were dumbfounded!

Chapter 1071

“Master Theo, why are you here? Are you here to look for Mr. Craig?”

Scarface, who was the leader, said flatteringly as he looked at Theo while trembling.

Theo could not be bothered with these gangsters. He did not even look at them directly before shouting coldly, “If you don’t want to die, get lost! Tell Ulrich Craig to get out here right now!”

Scarface wiped the cold sweat from his forehead with one hand and gulped nervously.

The other thugs also looked panicked.

Theo’s demeanor was too strong!

For hooligans like them, who had not heard of Theo’s fame?!

Just by standing there, they could already feel the intense pressure from Theo!

“Master Theo, I’m sorry, but Mr. Craig is meeting with some distinguished guests right now. We have been given orders not to disturb him. Maybe... you can come back tomorrow?”

Slap, slap!

As soon as Scarface’s words fell, Theo’s big hands went up and slapped his face back and forth!

Who was Theo Zander?

The underground boss of Riverdale!

The strength in his hands was nothing to joke about!

Furthermore, he could feel the anger radiating from Philip, so naturally, he showed no mercy.

With these slaps, several of Scarface's teeth were knocked out and his mouth was full of blood.

Bam!

As soon as Scarface wanted to speak again, Theo raised his leg and kicked him, sending the man flying out several yards. He hit the glass door and shattered it!

"Who dares to stop Mr. Clarke will die!"

Anger burst from Theo's eyes as his body became filled with chills. With a twist of his eyes, his gaze swept over the people rushing through the door.

The men were looking at each other, every one of them feeling weak in the knees.

It was okay for them to bully ordinary folks, but the one standing before them was Master Theo Zander!

Would they dare to fight head-on with Theo?

That was akin to digging their own graves.

They looked at each other again and quickly ran in to inform Ulrich.

Of course, there were still a few people at the door, watching Theo and the others closely.

Then, amid the horrified gaze of Scarface and the others, Theo said to Philip respectfully, “Mr. Clarke, please step in.”

Huff!

Someone took a deep breath.

Scary!

Theo Zander was actually bowing his head to the kid and appeared very respectful as well.

Holy sh*t!

These ruffians were going crazy!

What was the background of that ordinary young man?

Philip did not say a word. His eyes swept fiercely over Scarface and his men. Then, he quickly rushed into the hall.

Now, he was most worried about Wynn and Lynn.

If there was a second delay and something happened to Wynn, he would definitely kill this group of people!

Looking back at Wynn’s side, in Ulrich’s private room.

Wynn was pressed on the sofa by Ulrich where she was struggling. She was a weak woman and pregnant. How could she be an opponent for a man like Ulrich Craig?

She was completely at his mercy right now.

“Mr. Craig, you should stop now while you still can! It’s illegal for you to do this, so let me and my cousin go! Otherwise, if my husband gets here, it’ll all be over for you!”

Wynn was helpless and desperately resisting, hoping to frighten Ulrich with her words.

However, facing a beauty like this, Ulrich could no longer control himself.

This trap was specially set up for Wynn and Philip.

He was most eager for Philip to get here.

Although he did not know why the boss behind the scenes was targeting Philip, he knew he just needed to complete the task.

He was just a wimp. What could he do?

Chapter 1072

“Hahaha, Madam Johnston, at this point, are you still joking with me? To tell you the truth, this set-up today was done specially for your husband!”

Ulrich’s face was full of sinister smiles as he continued pressing on Wynn's shoulders. He was about to bite Wynn’s neck.

Wynn quickly dodged as tears fell from her eyes.

She hated herself for being so naive. She obviously knew that Ulrich was not a good person, yet she came alone, wanting to take Lynn away.

Now that she had fallen into his hands, was she going to be ruined in the hands of a man like this?

Thinking about it, tears came streaming from the corner of Wynn's eyes. She cried out, "Philip, save me! Ah, let go of me!"

The more Wynn cried, the more excited Ulrich became!

On the other side, Lynn, who was lying on the ground pretending to be dead at the moment, looked at the scene on the sofa with half-closed eyes.

She swallowed her chokes and trembled all over.

She wanted to help Wynn but was too scared.

She was afraid that a rogue like Ulrich Craig would defile her.

Besides, Ulrich would be tired after doing the deed, so maybe she would be spared.

Thinking of it this way, Lynn sobbed quietly and simply closed her eyes without looking at the scene anymore.

Wynn turned her head, looked at Lynn on the side, and yelled, "Lynn! Save me! Help!"

However, despite Wynn's struggling and screaming, Lynn did not move. It was as if she could not hear her.

At that moment, Wynn was devastated.

Hahaha!

Ulrich let out a harsh laugh. "Madam Johnston, just enjoy it obediently. Don't worry, I'll be quick and gentle."

After that, Ulrich stared at Wynn's neckline and stretched out his hand.

Bang!

Suddenly!

The door of the room was slammed open as a minion came rushing in.

"Mr. Craig! It's bad! Something has happened!"

This shocked the excited Ulrich. Immediately, he flew into a rage and rushed over to kick the minion with one foot. He shouted, "F*ck! Can't you see that I'm busy?! What's the matter? If you can't say it properly, I'll kill you!"

The minion scrambled up from the ground and said in a frightened voice, "Mr. Craig... Theo... Theo..."

Smack!

Ulrich slapped him and said sternly, "What the f*ck are you talking about? The cat got your tongue?"

"Mr. Craig! It's Theo Zander! He brought some men with him and barged in here!"

"What the hell are you talking about? Theo Zander brought people here? What is he doing? I don't have any business with him!"

Ulrich frowned, the anger on his face still obvious.

The minion looked panicked. "Mr. Craig, what should we do? Theo brought someone with him. We don't know the background of that person. Looking at them earlier, Theo is quite polite to him."

Ulrich frowned upon hearing this.

Theo had brought people here? Why?

Was he trying to steal his business?

"How many people did Theo bring?" Ulrich asked.

"About a dozen," the minion replied.

Ulrich narrowed his eyes, his face full of chills. He had a foreboding that Theo's appearance was not that simple.

Usually, he and Theo's paths never crossed. With this sudden visit, could it be because of the Johnston sisters?

"Take the two of them to the basement. Also, quickly call all the men to gather outside just in case!" Ulrich said coldly while adjusting his suit. Then, he led dozens of men toward the door.

As soon as he got downstairs, he saw Theo and his men quickly rushing over.

His eyes fell on the young man walking a few steps before Theo.

At this time, Theo's men had already knocked all of Ulrich's men in the hall to the ground.

Philip grabbed a minion by the hair and punched him before kicking his face. Philip then shouted in a cold voice, "Tell me where Ulrich Craig is and tell him to get the f*ck out here!"

Chapter 1073

That minion, with a bruised and swollen face, sneered, "A trash like you wants to see Mr. Craig? Go to hell!"

Bam!

His reply was another kick from Philip!

The kick landed directly on his chest. He flew out several yards, hitting the wall pillar. Just like that, he fainted!

At this moment, the hall was stirred by a chill and murderous aura!

Theo followed behind Philip. With just one glance, Theo already knew that Philip was livid. The murderous aura radiating from his body was exactly the same as when he was in the underground chamber of commerce!

Upon seeing this, Theo also panicked for fear that Philip would demolish this place!

This Ulrich Craig was truly capable of causing trouble.

Was it not enough to stay alive? He had to provoke Philip and capture Wynn and Lynn.

"Oh, isn't this Master Theo Zander? How did you have the time to visit this small place of mine?"

Ulrich was standing on the stairs at the moment. He forced a friendly smile on his sinister face and walked down with a dozen of his minions.

Philip raised his eyebrows with a chill on his face, staring at the people who were approaching. He asked in a cold voice, "Is he Ulrich Craig?"

"Yes, Mr. Clarke. This person is Ulrich Craig, the chairman of Golding Finance Limited. He has eight small loan companies under him that also do online loans. The companies' development and progress in the past two years have earned him a place in Riverdale's finance industry," Theo explained in a low tone.

Philip glanced at Ulrich with a fire burning in his eyes.

Who cared about him? He dared to put his wife and cousin-in-law under house arrest. Even if the queen came, he needed to kneel and apologize!

After all, the opponent had breached his bottom line!

At this moment, Philip rushed directly to Ulrich with an angry face, but Theo stopped him.

"Mr. Clarke, hold on. Ulrich has an unusual background. It's not suitable for you to face him directly. Let me do it."

Theo whispered in Philip's ear, then stepped forward. His eyes were like burning torches as he walked to Ulrich with his hands in his trouser pockets.

"Mr. Craig, I like to be efficient, so I'll get straight to the point. You've captured Mr. Clarke's wife and cousin-in-law. Let them go," Theo's face was dark as he spoke.

Ulrich understood.

It turned out that the young boy behind Theo was Philip Clarke, the same man his big boss wanted to deal with.

Interesting.

Even Theo Zander was respectful to him.

“Haha, Master Theo, I don’t understand what you’re saying. When have I captured Mr. Clarke’s wife and cousin-in-law? Besides, it’s not appropriate for you to demand someone from me, right? No matter what, this is still my territory,” Ulrich sneered.

Theo’s face darkened quickly, and the corners of his eyes were twitching with anger.

This Ulrich Craig was still ignorant of his imminent death!

“So, are you saying you won’t release them?” Theo asked coldly, already angry.

Ulrich shrugged and chuckled. “Master Theo, your words are incorrect. It’s not that I don’t want to release them, but they’ve already left. They’re not here anymore.”

Ulrich’s shameless face was full of treacherous smiles. He was not worried about the other party searching this place for those two women.

Theo Zander dared to bring so few people into his territory. He was not putting him in his eyes at all!

Why should he be courteous, then?

If it really came to a fight, with the minions in his company and the men who were rushing back, they had more than enough people to take care of Theo and his lackeys!

This other party was too conceited!

They thought they could take the women away with such a few men?

Ridiculous!

Philip frowned. With a layer of frost on his face, he clenched his fists.

This Ulrich Craig was looking for death!

Chapter 1074

“Ulrich Craig, I’m warning you one last time! Release them!”

Theo was completely furious. His face was chilly while his majesty and aura as the underground king rose.

This Ulrich Craig was disrespecting him!

No matter what, Theo was a prominent figure in Riverdale. Even if Ulrich was from out of town, he should at least understand the rules!

“Haha, Theo, I know your position in Riverdale is impressive. But don’t forget, I have a big boss behind me. I’m not afraid of you! Today, you brought so many people with you and barged into my territory. This is an open provocation! If I end you here today, you can only blame your bad luck!”

Ulrich glared fiercely and waved his hand!

In an instant, dozens of minions behind him and those from the entrance as well as side doors of the company rushed in. They completely surrounded Theo and Philip’s group!

They brought weapons!

Theo glanced at Philip and found that the latter's face was already gloomy.

This showed that Philip was about to erupt!

He did not expect that Ulrich would dare to act like this. He wanted to take down Theo and his men in one fell swoop!

However...

Just when the atmosphere was extremely tense, a group of people walked in.

These people wore black martial arts uniforms with red sashes tied around their waists.

The man taking the lead was pushed in while sitting in a wheelchair. It was a radiant man who had a sneer on his face.

It was none other than the young master of the Hull subsidiary who was taught a lesson by Philip the last time, Flint Hull!

“Haha, Philip Clarke, how about it? You didn’t expect to see me, right?”

Flint’s face was full of menace, his eyes full of hatred.

He had been waiting for a long time!

He was going to kill Philip with his bare hands today!

He also wanted him to watch as his wife was defiled!

Philip tilted his head and looked at Flint who had suddenly appeared in a wheelchair. He suddenly understood.

It turned out that everything was caused by him!

“Flint Hull, you’ll die a miserable death!”

Philip stared at Flint coldly as if he was a dead person.

There would be no reparation with the Hull family after this.

One trouble after another.

He wondered if Second Master Hull was still alive.

However, he could be certain that Flint Hull would die a miserable death later!

“Haha! Trash! Do you think I’ll be scared of your harsh words? You should take a good look at your current situation!”

With a sneer on his face, Flint told the helper to push the wheelchair around and circled Philip twice.

Then, he shouted in a cold voice, “Philip Clarke! Today, I will give you back ten times the humiliation you gave me that day! I want you to suffer! I want you to kneel and beg me for mercy!”

The more Flint said, the stronger the look of hatred on his face. Finally, a hideous sneer took over his face.

Ulrich also came over in a hurry. He bent down and lowered his head, saying respectfully, “Young Master Flint, you’re here.”

Flint just nodded faintly, still staring at Philip with a pair of gloomy cold eyes. He said, “This is the price for provoking me. I’ll slowly play with you, as well as your wife and children. I’ll send all of you to hell soon! By messing with me, you’re looking for death! For the Hull family, crushing you will be as easy as crushing an ant!”

Flint had long been blinded by hatred.

When he came to Riverdale this time, he had sneaked out behind his family's back.

It was all to seek revenge on Philip!

That good-for-nothing Sullivan dared not attack Philip, so he would do it himself!

What did it matter if he was one of the 108 defenders of the country? Could he challenge the Hull family?

Philip turned his head, his pair of bitterly cold eyes flashing with killing intent. He said to Flint, "Flint, even your Second Uncle Sven Hull dare not speak to me this way!"

Chapter 1075

Flint immediately laughed and said sarcastically, "Damn, you're such an idiot! What are you talking about, mentioning my second uncle? Do you know him? Do you know what he does? Even if you know his name, do you think I'll be scared of you?"

Flint smiled, his face cold and cruel.

This wimp actually knew his second uncle's name.

Interesting.

"My second uncle is the Second Master of the Hull family! He's my father's younger brother! My second uncle handles half of the affairs of the Hull family's subsidiary, and there are hundreds of Hull family disciples under him! You should find out what kind of person my second uncle is. He's an existence that thousands of people admire wherever he goes!"

When Flint said this, he looked proud.

What he wanted most in his life was to be a great hero like his second uncle!

He was not interested in being a businessman like his father.

The Hull Chamber of Commerce had always dabbled in civil and military affairs.

Flint's father was a literary talent in charge of the entire Hull family's subsidiary, that was, domestic affairs.

Flint's second uncle, Sven Hull, was in charge of the entire Hull subsidiary's manpower, also the Hull family's disciples.

Which was to say, the martial artists.

Flint wanted to be like his second uncle.

He wanted to be as domineering!

However, at Philip's next sentence, Flint was stunned for a long time.

"Flint, don't you know that your second uncle is on the brink of death right now?" Philip said coldly with a chill in the corner of his eyes.

Hearing this, Flint frowned and screamed, "What the hell did you say? You dare to curse my second uncle?! I will kill you right this moment!"

When Ulrich heard the words, he waved his hand and shouted, "Men! Take Theo down! Break all of Philip's limbs and bring him into the office for Young Master Flint to deal with!"

Ulrich gave the order.

In an instant, a dozen minions behind him, including those at the door who had surrounded Philip and Theo, all lifted their weapons and rushed over!

Screams resounded!

The commotion was massive!

One of them hit Philip's head directly!

"Mr. Clarke, watch out!"

Theo shouted sharply, rushed forward, and pushed Philip away. He raised his leg and kicked the minion holding a steel pipe on the chest!

Bam!

The minion groaned, fell on the ground, and could not move for a while!

"F*ck! Kill them!"

Ulrich was angry.

A group of people besieged them in an instant. Theo and the men he brought fought with all they had, relying on their own skills to fight with Ulrich's minions!

However, Ulrich was prepared. His minions continuously rushed in from the door.

There was a huge gap between the two parties, and soon, Theo and his men could not hold it any longer.

“Mr. Clarke, Theo!”

At this critical juncture, a sturdy man swept in like a black whirlwind. With a ferocious aura, he rushed in like a tiger descending a mountain!

Moreover, behind him, a lot of bodyguards in black suits rushed in. The whole hall was now crowded!

Tiger and his men had arrived.

He rushed in, knocked over several minions, and rushed to Philip and Theo. He said, “Mr. Clarke, Theo, are you alright?”

Philip shook his head.

At this time, Ulrich and Flint were dumbfounded.

They did not expect that Theo’s reinforcements would be here!

There were so many people now!

At the door of the company, dozens of black commercial vehicles were parked!

A steady stream of people jumped out of the cars and rushed in!

“Ulrich, what should we do? How could there be so many people?”

Flint sat in the wheelchair as his heart trembled.

He had secretly come out this time and could only bring this many Hull family's disciples with him. Now that they were fighting with Theo's people, he could not do much!

Ulrich was also sweating all over. The scene in front of him really shocked him.

He did not expect that Theo would do this for real!

In front of him was the young master of the Hull family. Was Theo crazy?

Even if Philip had some ability and strength, he would not be able to fight against the Hull family!

What was Theo trying to do?

Would he offend the huge Hull family because of Philip?

"Theo, are you mad? Quickly tell your men to stop! Are you trying to offend Young Master Flint and the Hull family?" Ulrich roared, his face full of shock and anger.

However...

Theo just glanced at him indifferently, then faintly replied, "Ulrich, you're still so ignorant in the face of death."

Ulrich clenched his fists bitterly when he heard the words!

Chapter 1076

In a blink of an eye, all of Ulrich's people, including those brought by Flint, were almost down.

One of Theo's subordinates rushed over and said directly to Philip, "Mr. Clarke, we found the lady. She's in the basement!"

When Philip heard this, he ignored Flint and Ulrich and walked directly to the basement.

"Tiger, take someone along and protect Mr. Clarke," Theo said.

"Yes, Theo."

Tiger nodded in response, then led a dozen or so skilled bodyguards to the basement following Philip. The man was walking in front of him, his pace showing that he was in a hurry.

When he reached the basement, Philip kicked the door open and saw Wynn and Lynn locked inside.

There were also another three minions inside.

Philip saw that Wynn's clothes were torn and her face was horrified. He felt distressed and angry at the same time!

The three minions still attempted to rush over, and as a result, they were knocked to the ground by Philip one after another. They could not get up at all!

"Philip?"

Wynn was in the corner, all curled up. When she saw the backlit figure at the door, she immediately rushed over while crying loudly.

Here!

He was here!

Whenever she needed him the most, Philip would show up!

He was like her knight.

“Cousin-in-law...”

Lynn also stood up in fear. She ran over while wiping away her tears. She was so aggrieved that her body was trembling.

Although she disliked Philip, at this moment, Philip was the person who could give her the most sense of security.

Philip looked at the two women and said to Tiger, “Send them back.”

“Okay!” Tiger replied, not daring to delay at all. He got some people to escort Wynn and Lynn away from here.

At this time, the tenderness on Philip's face was completely replaced by anger.

He turned around with murderous intent and walked toward the lobby of the company with a few bodyguards following behind him.

This fury could hardly be contained!

At the lobby.

Philip saw that Flint, Ulrich, and the others were completely subdued by Theo and his men.

“Mr. Clarke, what should we do with them?” Theo stood beside Philip and asked respectfully.

The anger flowing from Philip made everyone in the hall sense his killing intent!

His cold eyes swept toward Flint who was being pulled from the wheelchair and pressed to the ground.

It was this simple gaze that made Flint tremble with fear.

He had never seen such a look on a person, like a death god that made people shudder all over as if they had fallen into an ice pit. Their every pore was filled with fear!

“Make him a eunuch,” Philip stared at Flint and said coldly.

“Philip Clarke! How dare you?! I’m the young master of the Hull family’s subsidiary! If you dare to lay a finger on me, my father and second uncle will never let you off! At that time, you, as well as your wife and children, will be buried for your stupidity!” Flint roared hysterically.

He was scared.

He was afraid that Philip would render him impotent.

However...

Philip’s expression was cold as he just said, “I’m afraid your second uncle can’t be bothered about you right now.”

As soon as his voice fell, a bodyguard behind Philip directly drew a dagger from his waist. He stepped forward and took off Flint’s clothes with his hands. Raising his dagger, he was about to slash it down!

“Ah! Philip Clarke, you son of a b*tch! If you dare to treat me like this, you will die miserably!”

Flint was extremely frightened and yelled loudly, "Sister, save me! I'm about to be castrated!"

Sister?

Theo frowned.

Philip's expression also went cold.

At this moment, a graceful woman dressed in a rose-red dress walked in through the front door with several burly bodyguards.

It was evident that this woman, who was in her 30s, took good care of herself just from her delicate-looking skin. She strutted in with her hips swaying, exuding a natural seductive charm.

The only thing was, this woman's exquisite features were hidden behind a poker face.

"Sister, you're finally here! Hurry up and kill this kid!" Flint yelled as if he had found a ray of hope.

Chapter 1077

From the moment this woman entered the hall, the chill radiated by her made everyone in the hall tremble.

Especially her face and expression. It was the kind of arrogance and contempt that exuded from the inside out. It was as if no one in the audience could enter her eyes.

Philip glanced sideways at the woman who had suddenly appeared and could not help but frown.

His first impressions were always quite accurate. This woman probably had a unique status.

As for Theo, the moment he saw this woman, his gaze turned peculiar. He could not help being surprised!

Others may not know her, but Theo had been the underground leader in Riverdale for so long, so he recognized her at first sight!

This woman's name was Vinci Hull. She was the eldest daughter of the Hull subsidiary and Flint's elder sister.

This woman was infamous!

She was a cold-blooded and ruthless person.

He did not expect to see her here!

Theo could not help but panic.

Philip was going to be mortal enemies with the Hull family now.

"Theo Zander, how about giving me some dignity and letting my brother go?"

When Vinci stepped in front of Flint, she coldly glanced at her brother who was about to piss his pants from fright before raising her eyebrows to smile lightly at Theo.

Her tone and expression carried a hint of command.

Theo's severity immediately diminished.

He could not help it. He was not a match for the Hull family.

It was not about Vinci's strength. The main point was the head of the Hull family behind her and her fiancé!

Vinci's fiancé was the boss of a domestic corporate giant!

In his 30s, he was already the 13th richest man on the Forbes list!

His assets were worth more than 60 billion!

Moreover, Vinci's fiancé was not only rich, but the background and strength behind him were even more shocking!

Anyone in the loop would know that her fiancé's family could be said to be among the top families in the country!

Therefore, Theo dared not provoke Vinci, and he did not want Philip to provoke her either.

It was because he would be offending two major families at once if that was the case—the Hull family and the fiancé's family, the Lowell family!

Everyone knew that Vinci's fiancé, Seamus Lowell, was terrifying!

In the entire southwestern coastal area, Seamus was a character that influenced both overt and covert forces. In front of such a person, Theo's strength was simply not worth mentioning.

However, Philip might be a contender.

At this moment, when Vinci realized that Theo had not spoken and saw his frowning expression, the look on her face became colder.

She asked sternly, "Why? Are you not letting him go? Will it be necessary for me to ask my fiancé to come here in person and ask you the same question?"

Overpowering!

Vinci felt that this matter did not require the Hull family to step forward.

She was now accustomed to using the Lowells' name when doing business outside.

It was more convenient.

Anyone would be more polite and respectful when they heard the name Seamus Lowell of the Lowell family.

"Not at all, Miss Hull. You must be joking. There's no need to trouble Mr. Lowell," Theo quickly smiled and said.

When Philip noticed Theo's demeanor at this moment, he knew that Seamus Lowell must not be a simple character.

Otherwise, Theo would not be so nervous.

Therefore, he asked in a cold voice, "Who is Seamus Lowell?"

With beads of cold sweat on his forehead, Theo said to Philip, "Mr. Clarke, he's not a simple character. The Lowell family is very prominent in the country. To give a simple example, in front of the Lowell family, the Hull family is only worth 70%. Moreover, the Lowell family has people in some special industries and they can reach very high places.

"Mr. Clarke, let's stop here for today. Madam is fine anyway. We can just take Ulrich Craig away," Theo continued.

Chapter 1078

Forget it?

Hearing this, Philip's eyes turned cold. He looked at Theo and asked, "Are you afraid of this Lowell family?"

Theo shuddered at those words. He nodded respectfully and apologized. "Mr. Clarke, you've misunderstood. I'm just worried about causing unnecessary trouble for you. If you need me, I can do anything for you, even going up against the Lowell family!"

Theo immediately expressed his attitude.

He would go all out for his master.

Philip did not say anything to that and glanced at the woman in front of him.

After that, he sneered and said to Vinci, "Even if the queen came here today, I want Flint to get his just deserts!"

What about the Hull family and Lowell family?

Anyone who dared to lay a finger on Wynn must be prepared to get wiped out!

No matter how powerful the background, in front of the Clarke family of Arcadia Island, they were nothing more than ants!

When Vinci heard this, her eyebrows furrowed. It was only then did she notice the young man next to Theo.

Judging from the way Theo treated him just now, it seemed that this man's background was nothing small.

"Hehe, I really can't tell from the looks of this gentleman. How remarkable. Even Theo Zander of Riverdale is willing to bow to you."

Vinci smiled and looked at Philip.

Apart from being young and handsome, she really could not tell what was so extraordinary about this guy.

Philip smiled faintly. He had always been quite tolerant toward women.

However, if this woman dared to stop him from attacking Flint today, he would not mind taking care of her as well!

“Miss Hull, right? Do you know what your brother did just now?” Philip asked with a chill in his eyes.

“I don’t care what he did. No one can do anything to him, let alone maim him! I’m a reasonable person. Just say the word. How much do you want to settle this matter?” Vinci said this in an extremely arrogant manner. Philip was totally insignificant in her eyes.

In front of the Hull family, the tiny Riverdale was nothing but an ant!

When Philip heard the woman say this, the expression on his face instantly froze.

He asked, “What you mean is, no matter what your brother did wrong, even if it’s murder or arson, the Hull family can solve it with money?”

Vinci chuckled as the arrogance on her face confirmed the answer.

She said, “You’re Mr. Clarke, right? Let’s do it this way. Two million and this matter ends here. If you insist on pursuing it to the end, don’t blame me for being rude. The Hull family has always been reasonable. The reason why I’m not letting my people in is that I think the matter can be resolved peacefully. So, Mr. Clarke, don’t go too far.”

After that, Vinci directly instructed her subordinates to pull Flint up and take him away.

Without waiting for Philip's order, Theo had already blocked their paths.

When Vinci saw this scene, the expression on her face immediately turned into anger. She glared at Theo and shouted, "Theo, what are you doing? Are you going against the Hull family?"

Theo glanced at Philip who stood with his arms behind his back and said, "If Miss Hull thinks of it that way, it's not incorrect. As long as Mr. Clarke doesn't agree to let this matter go, none of you can leave here today!"

Chapter 1079

Theo's stance at the moment was very domineering!

These words really made Vinci's heart tremble!

Theo Zander dared to openly confront the Hull family?

Was he crazy?

"Theo Zander, are you mad? Do you know what you said just now? Do you want to go to war with the Hull family? Do you know that the Hull Organization is behind the Hull family? What power do you have to go up against us?"

Vinci was furious!

As the eldest daughter of the Hull family and also Seamus Lowell's fiancée, how could there still possibly be people who disrespected her?!

Hateful!

However...

Theo remained adamant. “Miss Hull, no matter how powerful the strength and background of the Hull family, we’re in Riverdale now and I have the final say!

“Besides, if Mr. Clarke doesn’t give the word, anyone who dares to leave here will be crippled by me!”

Theo almost roared, his voice loud and majestic!

The entire hall was shocked to silence in an instant!

Vinci was furious, and for the first time, she felt that she was actually being looked down upon!

Was it because of this young man in front of her?

“Mr. Clarke, I’ll warn you one last time! Quickly tell them to withdraw. Otherwise, don’t blame me for being rude!”

Vinci gritted her teeth at Philip.

The corners of Philip's mouth faintly curled up, and he quietly looked at Vinci who was in front of him. He was amused by that angry look on her face.

“Miss Hull, you think too highly of yourself. In my eyes, the Hull family is nothing.”

What?

He actually dared to spout such insolent words!

The corners of Vinci's eyes were cold, her face full of killing intent. She shouted, “Since you want to die, then I’ll fulfill your wish!”

Having said that, Vinci commanded loudly, "Get in here!"

Biff, bang!

The squeaking sounds of leather shoes stepping densely on the floor were very scary.

In just an instant, a team rushed in from outside the door, followed by another team of Hull disciples wearing black martial arts uniforms and red sashes around their waists!

The aura of these people was not at the same level compared to those brought by Flint.

Overbearing!

These were the true elite members of the Hull family!

These people rushed in and immediately surrounded Theo's people.

At this moment, the situation in the hall had reached a critical point!

Everyone was holding their breaths!

They feared that a gasp would worsen the situation!

"How about it, Mr. Clarke? Are you going to continue now? Let me tell you. In this world, the person who can fight against the Hull family has not been born yet!"

Vinci had a cold smile on her face, looking all high and mighty.

Her eyes were filled with mockery.

Seeing that Vinci had the upper hand at this moment, Flint, who was being supported by someone to the wheelchair, immediately sneered.

He raised his middle finger at Philip and provocatively said, "Philip Clarke, you trash! I'm waiting right here, why don't you come and get me? I'm waiting for you to kneel and beg for my mercy! Hahaha!"

Flint might have thought that Philip had been thoroughly suppressed.

He felt as if he was floating.

His arrogant tone, eyes, and expression were all full of disdain.

"Vinci, we must teach him a good lesson. Break his limbs and tie him to the back of my car. I want to walk him like a dog and let everyone in Riverdale see the fate of those who oppose me!"

Flint scorned.

It seemed that he could already envision the next scenes, including the image of him walking Philip and Philip kneeling and begging for mercy.

How exhilarating!

Vinci glared at Flint, feeling very helpless for this younger brother.

He was too petty.

He was not a man who would accomplish great things.

However...

To everyone's surprise, Philip still looked nonchalant with a calm expression on his face under such circumstances.

He turned his head and looked at Flint, who was full of arrogance, and said, "Do you really think you can leave here alive today?"

F*ck!

He was still so pretentious!

Flint was annoyed in an instant and became agitated.

"Philip, don't try to scare me! Trash like you is nothing but an ant in front of the Hull family! So what if you know Theo Zander? Do you think you can rule the world? In my eyes, you're a chicken!"

Flint cursed angrily. The more he yelled, the better he felt.

Chapter 1080

Then, he turned his head to look at Theo and said, "Theo, out of the goodness of my heart, I suggest that you hurry up and draw a clear line with this idiot. Otherwise, I'll take care of you all at once! By then, Riverdale will become the Hull family's territory!"

Seeing Flint's arrogance, Theo felt angry and helpless.

This kid was really stupid.

Could he really not tell that Philip was not afraid of the Hull family at all?

Even Sven Hull, that old fogey, was sent back in a half-dead state after falling into the hands of Philip.

Could it be that after such a long time, the Hull family still did not receive the news?

Was the matter being suppressed?

As the heir of the local Hull family, Flint had no right to know about it?

Philip simply stood there, motionless like a mountain. He was covered in a majestic aura, and his eyes had condensed with coldness.

His patience toward Flint had reached the limit.

Since Flint wanted to die, he would fulfill his wishes.

“Theo, trash him!” Philip ordered coldly.

Without any hesitation, Theo walked directly toward Flint who was in the wheelchair.

He went up and kicked him directly!

Flint and the others could not react at all. The former was kicked in the stomach and rolled away together with the wheelchair!

Ouch!

“Argh! Theo, you’re f*cking dead!” Flint cursed angrily. With this fall, his hand seemed to be broken again!

“Stop it!” Vinci shouted furiously at this moment. She stood in front of Theo, raised her hand, and slapped him across the face. “Presumptuous! You dare to act against the young master of the Hull family?! Don't you want to live anymore?!”

As her voice fell...

All the disciples of the Hull family who Vinci brought along with her put on a fighting stance, glaring at Theo eagerly.

However...

“Get lost!”

Theo burst out in anger and directly grabbed hold of Vinci's hand, firmly squeezing her wrist before shoving her away!

Instantly, Vinci fell to the ground on her ass in pain.

She immediately flew into a rage.

Since young, she had never been pushed down by anyone!

Vinci sat on the ground, pointing hysterically at Theo and glaring with her apricot-shaped eyes. She started shrieking, “Take them down! Take everyone down for me! I want them all disabled!”

The moment Vinci's voice fell, the members of the Hull family swarmed over!

Their shouts rocked the world!

However, Philip glanced indifferently at the Hull family's disciples who were rushing about.

He still stood with his hands behind his back, his face full of confidence and dominance.

Screech!

Suddenly!

At the entrance of Golding Finance Limited, the squeals of harsh braking and the sound of squeaking tires rubbing against the road resounded throughout the hall!

Almost instantly, everyone in the hall saw that seven or eight armored cars were quickly stopping outside!

The green doors of these cars opened, and one by one, fully-armed combatants jumped out of them!

They were all wearing combat uniforms and holding guns.

They acted neatly and uniformly, taking less than 20 seconds to rush in directly from the entrances, exits, and windows to control the entire hall!

“Drop your weapons! Squat down!”

“Drop your weapons! Do not resist!”

“Violators will die!”

Chapter 1081

Everyone in the hall was dumbfounded at the sudden appearance of these heavily armed combatants!

Especially Vinci and Flint whose faces paled at this moment. They were experiencing tremors all over their bodies.

Vinci's expression was very dark, and her beautiful eyebrows were tightly twisted together!

She never dreamed that in tiny Riverdale, there would be people who could mobilize fully armed combatants!

Even the Hull family had no right to do so!

How could this be?

Could it be that the young man in front of her was really not that simple?!

This was Vinci's guess and fear.

As for Flint, his mind went completely blank while his eyes were filled with shock.

Throughout his life, the only time he saw a few heavily armed combatants participating in a fight was because of the Lowell family!

Now, it was happening again right before his eyes!

This time, it was because of another man!

Flint was stunned!

He always thought that Philip was just trash. Even if he had some strength, it was still in tiny Riverdale.

Flint Hull had not been afraid at all.

Now, however, he was scared.

His body could not help shaking.

“Vinci, this... What’s going on? What should we do?” Flint spoke with a trembling voice and looked at Vinci with a nervous expression on his face.

In his eyes, his sister was a fearless existence.

In the past, his sister had settled everything for him, and this time was no exception.

Vinci did not speak, but her brows tightened as her eyes condensed. She looked at Philip and asked in a deep voice, “Mr. Clarke, are you really going to fight the Hull family? You should understand that the Hull family's power in this country is not one of an ordinary small family or enterprise. Behind us is the Hull Chamber of Commerce, a multinational organization! Once you declare war on us, it means that you’re up against the Hull Chamber of Commerce of the whole world. You have to think clearly!”

What Vinci said was a little threatening.

She did not expect that she would one day have to bring out the name Hull Chamber of Commerce to suppress the enemy.

It was an insult!

For Vinci and the Hull family, it was an insult!

However, this was the reality.

Philip gave Vinci a strong sense of oppression.

She had never seen a man who could be so calm and relaxed in such a critical situation.

It was as if all that happened in front of him was just a small nuisance in his eyes.

It must be known that there were three forces in the hall at this moment—Theo's people, disciples of the Hull family, and the heavily armed personnel who suddenly broke in.

Of course, the members of the Hull family were completely at a disadvantage at this moment!

After all, the opponents were combatants who had the right to let live or kill!

Suddenly...

Philip started to speak with a cold look in his eyes and slight disdain in his expression.

He had only raised his right hand when Theo immediately and respectfully took out Philip's favorite cigarette, personally lighting it for him.

"Miss Hull, I made it very clear just now. No matter who it is today, even if it is the queen, I won't let Flint leave here alive."

Philip took a puff of the cigarette and exhaled heavily, the smoke spraying on Vinci's delicate face. The latter frowned in disgust.

Damn this man!

How dare he provoke her?!

"You'll regret this!" Vinci said coldly, the expression on her face already gloomy as hell.

Would this man really ignore all consequences?

Was it really that easy to fight the Hull family?

However...

In everyone's eyes, Philip suddenly snickered.

His laughter made Vinci confused.

"Miss Hull, maybe your second uncle would understand better whether I can make the Hull family disappear from this world," Philip said calmly.

Hearing this, Vinci's heart trembled, but she still sneered, "You're not qualified to mention my second uncle. For a kid like you who doesn't know the limits of the sky, I can take care of you myself!

"Do you think that I'd be afraid of you if you relied on such fighters?"

"Don't forget, my fiancé is from the Lowell family!"

Vinci said several sentences in a row, threatening the opponent while also emboldening herself.

She could not help it. It was also the first time she had encountered such a situation. Some people actually dared to play with fire.

With that said...

Vinci took out her phone, made a call, and started sobbing. "Hubby, come and save me. There's an arrogant kid who's not showing the Hull family any respect!"

Chapter 1082

At this moment, Vinci's fiancé, Seamus Lowell, the most outstanding talent from the Lowell family's younger generation, was negotiating business with some people in a high-end club in Riverdale.

After receiving a call from Vinci, Seamus suddenly raised his brows. His face darkened when he heard that someone was not giving the Hull family any respect.

"Disrespecting the Hull family? Does the other party come from a big background?" Seamus, in a white suit, asked slightly in surprise.

There were people who dared to do this to the Hull family? A little Riverdale could produce such a character?

Then, Seamus asked again, "Does the other party know that you're my fiancée?"

"I told them, but they're still not buying it," Vinci said aggrievedly.

This woman really could act.

Instantly, Seamus, who was on the other end of the phone, became furious. He shouted in a deep voice, "What? They're not even respecting the Lowell family now? F*ck! Who dares to be so arrogant?!"

"I don't know. The other party's name is Philip Clarke. Even the underground leader of Riverdale, Theo Zander, treats him respectfully. He doesn't seem to be a simple character."

Vinci glanced at Philip who was calm and composed and gritted her teeth bitterly.

Immediately, Seamus said solemnly, "Wait there, I'll go over now. Anyone who dares to disrespect the Lowell family is looking for death!"

After that, Seamus hung up the phone, got up, and brought his people along. They got into the Rolls-Royce downstairs and left the clubhouse.

Here, after Vinci hung up the phone, she looked at Philip triumphantly with her arms folded across her chest. She said, "You're doomed! My fiancé will be here soon. He's Seamus Lowell of the Lowell family!"

Vinci was full of confidence now.

When Flint heard this, he immediately became excited.

F*ck!

It was just as exciting as a roller coaster ride!

"Hahaha! Philip Clarke, it's over for you! Since you dare to provoke my brother-in-law, then you'll just have to await death! He's Seamus Lowell of the Lowell family! Listen carefully! In this world, there are only that few of them, understand?"

Flint raised his eyebrows with an arrogant expression on his face.

Theo felt nervous when he heard this.

He looked at Philip and had to remind him. "Mr. Clarke, it's the Lowell family."

However, to everyone's surprise, Philip still had a calm expression on his face. He glanced at the arrogant Vinci and Flint, saying, "The Lowell family? I really look forward to his arrival. Perhaps there may be surprises."

Surprises?

Everyone was baffled.

Vinci frowned. She did not understand what Philip meant.

Flint just burst into laughter and shouted, "Still pretending? When my brother-in-law comes, be prepared to kneel and beg for mercy!"

Sure enough, not long after Flint finished speaking, a Rolls-Royce stopped at the door.

Soon, a handsome man in a white suit walked down from the car while wearing sunglasses. His demeanor was full of swagger.

As soon as he entered the door, he took off his sunglasses and yelled, "Who is the blind fool who refuses to show respect to the Lowell family? Are you looking for death?"

Instantly, the Hull siblings, including the Hull family's disciples, were all eager and full of enthusiasm!

Seamus was here!

The Lowell family's most outstanding young talent was here!

Now, this ignorant Philip Clarke was doomed!

However...

Under everyone's gaze, Philip turned around with a faint smile on his face and looked at Seamus before saying, "It's me."

Seamus was walking in from the door. He got closer, and soon, he could clearly see the man on the opposite side.

Very young.

Why did he look familiar?

Wait a minute, that voice!

When Seamus was at a distance of about three or four yards from Philip, his footsteps came to a halt!

What the f*ck?

How could it be him?

Seamus' eyes widened at the sight, and his whole body was shaking!

Chapter 1083

When Seamus saw the man standing in front of him at the moment, his originally arrogant demeanor immediately deflated while his face turned green.

He did not expect to run into Philip Clarke in this tiny Riverdale!

Damn it!

Could it be that he was the one Vinci provoked?

In an instant, a jumble of thoughts crossed Seamus' mind.

On Vinci's side, she immediately twisted her hips and walked toward Seamus coquettishly when she saw him coming. She took his arm and cried out, "Hubby, you're finally here! This is the kid who's not giving the Hull family any respect, let alone the Lowell family. He even kept saying that he's going to cripple my brother!"

Vinci's face at this moment was very arrogant and domineering.

Her look and demeanor revealed her dominance as the lady and fiancée of a wealthy family.

Hehe.

Anyone who fought against her deserved a miserable death!

"Brother-in-law Seamus, you must take revenge for me. Look at me. He did this to me!"

Flint wailed and sobbed just like a child

At the same time, he glanced at Philip while revealing a sneer in his eyes.

Haha!

This time, Philip was doomed!

However, it was beyond everyone's expectations that Philip had not shown a trace of fear from the moment Seamus arrived. Instead, he looked at the other indifferently while standing with his hands behind him like a towering mountain. The aura of a king that flowed all over his body was even more obvious.

Just then, everyone saw Seamus stepping forward. They were imagining that he would definitely teach Philip a firm and unforgettable lesson, maybe even maiming his limbs.

"Young Master Clarke, why are you here?"

A miracle happened!

Seamus was actually respectfully standing half a yard in front of Philip, bowing his head while slowly sweating from his forehead!

Everyone was astounded!

The Hull siblings were stunned on the spot!

What did Seamus call Philip just now?

Young Master Clarke?

What Young Master Clarke?

He could actually make Seamus respect him?!

Who was not aware of the power and background of the Lowell family in the country? It was an existence that could rule the world!

However, Seamus had lowered his head at this moment.

“Young Master Lowell, are you surprised to see me?” Philip asked lightly.

The sweat on Seamus' forehead fell, but he did not even dare to wipe it.

“Not at all. Young Master Clarke’s brilliance is like the sun. I’m not surprised at all,” Seamus said hurriedly.

When these words were spoken, Vinci could not hold it any longer. With a stern face, she asked in confusion, “Hubby, what are you doing? Is a wretch like him worthy of your kind treatment? What Young Master Clarke? I think he’s just being pretentious. You’re the young master of the Lowell family. Why are you still afraid of him?”

Vinci did not understand it and looked impatient. Then, she turned to Philip and yelled, “You, what dirty tricks did you use to make my fiancé bow to you? Go to hell!”

After that, Vinci's expression changed as she raised her hand to give a slap.

However, Philip made no moves.

There was no need for him to do anything.

After seeing this scene, Seamus stared with wide eyes before he rushed over and grabbed Vinci's hand in mid-air. Then, he went up and slapped her face fiercely.

“F*ck! How dare you do this to Young Master Clarke? Do you want to die?”

Seamus was furious!

With a fierce look in his eyes, he could not wait to beat Vinci to death.

Dumb b*tch!

Did she not recognize Philip Clarke?

He was an omnipotent person!

When Seamus was in his 20s, he once met Philip at one of the most prestigious evening galas in the country.

At that party, all the top domestic entrepreneurs, heads of the family, and leaders in some special industries and special fields were invited.

At that event, the Lowell family was only fit to sit in the outer hall!

The most terrifying thing was that the party was specially organized for welcoming a certain someone.

Who?

Naturally, it was for Philip Clarke who was in front of him at this very moment!

Seamus Lowell would never forget it!

Chapter 1084

In the brief meeting that year, he also had the honor to exchange a few words with Philip.

It was precisely because of that few words and Philip praising him for being capable that his career developed progressively in the next few years!

The Lowell family also encountered an unprecedented opportunity for development. In one fell swoop, they rose to the top among the country's largest family companies and became one of the giants.

In other words, Seamus Lowell as well as the Lowell family were what they were today because of the few words from Philip Clarke!

At this moment, this stupid fiancée of his actually wanted to lay a hand on the great benefactor of the Lowell family!

She was courting death!

Seamus was so furious that his entire face went green!

Vinci stared at Seamus with a stunned look.

In front of so many people, her fiancé had hit her just to protect an ignorant and stinking man!

“Seamus Lowell, what are you doing? I’m your fiancée! You actually hit me because of him?”

Vinci’s eyes were full of disbelief.

This was something she never expected.

Flint was also dumbfounded.

He watched as his future brother-in-law slapped his sister and his body shuddered together with his rapidly beating heart.

Holy sh*t!

Was his brother-in-law so cruel?

However, why was he hitting his sister?

Then, in his astonished gaze, he saw Seamus staring at Vinci solemnly while warning, “Take all your people and leave at once!”

Seamus was very worried that Philip’s goodwill toward the Lowell family would be destroyed because of the Hull siblings.

In that case, the entire Lowell family would be ruined!

Thus, if necessary, Seamus would even get rid of Vinci Hull!

However, Vinci was annoyed upon hearing Seamus' words!

She pointed to Philip, her eyes filled with unyielding grievances. She shouted at Seamus, "Seamus Lowell, you coward! You don't even dare to provoke a wretch! How dare you call yourself a member of the Lowell family and brag about how good you are?! You can't even protect your fiancée at this moment! You're trash!"

While cursing, Vinci sobbed and shoved Seamus to vent her emotions.

However, Seamus took a few steps back and glanced at her with a dark expression. He raised his hand and slapped Vinci's face back and forth, shouting, "Stop it right now, b*tch! Do you really think my Lowell family is willing to marry a woman from your Hull family? It's just a political marriage! I can still choose whether to marry you or not!"

Vinci was stunned by his words.

What did that mean?

"Seamus, what do you mean by this? Because of him, you want to break off our engagement?" Vinci asked in a cold voice, tears brimming in her eyes.

She did not expect Seamus Lowell, this man, to be so heartless!

Was he going to break things off with her?

"Yes! You dare to disrespect Young Master Clarke, so the Lowell family doesn't need a daughter-in-law like you! And neither do I!" Seamus shouted, his eyes full of cold light.

As long as Philip's favor for the Lowell family could be restored, he was even willing to break his engagement to Vinci!

“You! You b*stard! You scumbag!” Vinci cried angrily, pushing and scratching at Seamus.

Seamus directly pushed Vinci away and said to the Hull family members, “Take your lady in hand!”

A few members of the Hull family immediately stepped forward to grab hold of Vinci who was full of tears.

They were really worried that the young lady would provoke Seamus. If that happened, the Hull family would face the sanctions imposed by the Lowell family!

Following that, Seamus glared at Flint grimly before turning around and flattering Philip. “Young Master Clarke, do you need me to do anything for you?”

Philip’s expression remained indifferent from the beginning to the end. At this moment, his eyes fell directly on Flint, causing the latter to tremble all over.

What was that look?

What was he going to do?

Flint’s heart was full of dread.

“It’s justified for you to teach your junior a lesson. Seamus, I hope Flint will admit his mistakes from the bottom of his heart, understand?” Philip said lightly.

“Yes!”

Seamus nodded and turned to Flint with a cold look!

Chapter 1085

When Flint saw Seamus walking toward him with a grim look, he immediately panicked.

He said in horror, "Seamus, what are you going to do? No, I'm your brother-in-law, the heir of the Hull family. You can't beat me because of that wretch!"

Flint was witnessing his future brother-in-law going berserk.

He was like the devil incarnate!

Seamus just looked at Flint coldly and rolled up his sleeves, saying, "Flint, since you made a mistake and provoked Young Master Clarke, you should know what your fate is!"

With that said, Seamus went up and kicked Flint in the heart!

This kick was forcefully heavy and even more ruthless than Theo's before. It was a kick that could take someone's life!

A scream of pain.

Flint flew out again!

There was a cracking sound.

This time, his leg was broken again!

Flint's face was suddenly flushed as his expression became contorted from the pain.

"Seamus, don't, I was wrong. I was really wrong."

Flint begged for mercy.

He was scared.

His future brother-in-law was really ruthless!

“Not enough. There’s still killing intent in your eyes!”

Seamus rushed forward with kicks and punches. He pressed Flint on the ground, held him up, and gave him a good beating!

It was simply mindless bashing!

The methods were extremely cruel!

All the Hull family members took a deep breath!

This was too awful!

This was the first time their young master was so miserable.

Moreover, he was being taught a lesson by his future brother-in-law. No one dared to intervene at all.

How could they?

That was Seamus Lowell from the famous Lowell family!

Was the Hull family tired of living that they dared to provoke the Lowell family?

“Sister, save me, Vinci!”

Flint was sprawled on the ground, his nose and face swollen. Tears were rolling down from his eyes as he looked at his sister, desperately screaming for help.

However, Seamus only grabbed hold of Flint’s ankle and started tossing him around!

Biff, bang!

Thud!

Finally, when Flint was at his last breath, Seamus stopped.

“Young Master Clarke, how about this?”

Seamus turned his head, his previous ferociousness faded away and replaced with a pleasant expression.

Philip nodded faintly. He stepped forward, passing by the stunned Vinci when walking to the half-dead Flint. He lowered his eyes and asked, “Flint, how is it? Didn’t I say that no matter who came here today, you won’t leave here alive?”

At this moment, Flint's ears were buzzing. Seizing the last chance, he hugged Philip's thigh and wailed while begging for mercy. “I was wrong, I was really wrong. From the bottom of my heart, I don’t dare to do this anymore. I’m a b*stard, I deserve it. Please forgive me. I don’t want to die.”

Flint was really scared this time, extremely scared.

Just because of Philip's words, his future brother-in-law beat him within an inch of his life.

Too harsh!

Too terrifying!

Philip did not answer but raised his eyes to look at Vinci who was in a daze. He asked, "What about you?"

Vinci reacted abruptly and pointed at Seamus while shouting, "Seamus Lowell, you dare to do this to my brother? You're picking a fight with the Hull family! I will definitely go back and tell my father and the rest of the Hull family. We'll go to war with the Lowell family!"

Vinci flew into a rage!

Seamus had actually treated her brother like this.

He was disrespecting the Hull family!

The Lowell family, no matter how big and powerful, had to keep in mind who the head of the Hull family was. They needed to weigh the consequences.

Chapter 1086

However...

Out of Vinci's expectation, Seamus waved his hand and said, "Vinci Hull, I'm sorry. Even if we go to war with the Hull family, I won't show any mercy today. Your brother should have been taught a lesson long ago. This time, by provoking Young Master Clarke, it's entirely his fault. He's simply looking for death!"

"Who the hell is he? What f*cking Young Master Clarke? I don't know him! I'm saying this today. The Hull family, against the Lowell family and this bullsh*t Young Master Clarke, will fight to the end!"

Having said that, Vinci rushed over and knelt by her brother's side, looking at him lovingly.

Flint was full of regret and said, "Vinci, it hurts."

Vinci's eyes were red. She turned to look at Seamus and asked, "Can we leave now?"

Seamus did not answer but looked at Philip instead.

He dared not decide on his behalf.

Standing with his hands behind his back, Philip looked at the disheveled Flint and said, "Yes."

As soon as his voice fell, Vinci immediately ordered people to take Flint to the hospital.

At the same time, when she passed by Philip and Seamus, her eyes were cold as she said, "I won't let you off!"

Philip responded indifferently, "I await the Hull family's retaliation."

It was not until Vinci left with all the members of the Hull family that Seamus turned his head and asked respectfully, "Young Master Clarke, why did you let them go like this?"

Philip turned his head and said with a smile, "What's the matter, Seamus? Is it not enough to give Flint a beating?"

Seamus hurriedly said no.

Philip then said mildly, "Go back and tell Old Master Lowell that I'm going to take action against the Hull family. If the Lowell family doesn't want any trouble, you should cut all ties with the Hull family. Otherwise, if I find out that the Lowell family is still involved with the Hull family, the lot of you should dig a pit and be prepared to bury yourselves alive."

When Seamus heard the words, he trembled and nodded violently. “Young Master Clarke, don’t worry. As soon as I return, the Lowell family will completely cut off ties with the Hull family. If you need our help, please tell us at any time. The Lowell family will definitely go all out!”

Seamus quickly stated his position.

This was an important event.

If Philip wanted to attack the Hull family, it meant that the domestic Hull family would collapse!

Seamus dared not imagine the scene.

It was because the Hull family was too big. They were just slightly smaller than the Lowell family.

Once the Hull family collapsed, the property and power of the Hull family would inevitably arouse the hunger of many parties.

At that time, if the Lowell family was able to swallow the Hull family, then in some domestic markets, the Lowell family would dominate!

This was a golden opportunity!

Seamus understood.

Seeing Philip leaving with his men, Seamus quickly bowed and said, “Young Master Clarke, please watch your step.”

Five minutes after Philip’s car left, Seamus hurriedly got into the Rolls-Royce and said to the driver, “Go home as fast as you can!”

A storm was brewing.

The car sped wildly for hundreds of miles.

Late at night.

Seamus' car stopped directly at the door of a huge villa.

The loud horns awakened the entire manor.

The electronic gates opened.

A team of heavily armed personnel could be seen patrolling.

Seamus' car quickly drove in and stopped at the gates of the manor.

The butler ran out and opened the car door to welcome him. "Young Master, why are you back so suddenly?"

Seamus got out of the car with a worried expression on his face and said to the butler, "Hurry up and notify all members of the Lowell family that I have an important announcement to make. I'll ask the old master to come out."

Hearing this, the butler trembled!

Notify all Lowell family members...

The old master was also involved as well!

Could it be that great things were about to happen to the Lowell family?
