The First Heir – Chapter 1679

The woman was rather delicate-looking. She was holding the arm of the man next to her. He was quite good-looking and dressed expensively. He must be rich. Philip and Wynn turned around to look and their faces immediately darkened.

This woman was no stranger to Philip and Wynn.

She was once Philip's suitor in university, and she deliberately went against Wynn in every aspect simply because Philip rejected her. Just like that, hatred was born from love.

Her name was Clara Nolan, and she was an arrogant woman who thought that everyone was beneath her. Clara was just passing by when she saw Philip and Wynn. She did not expect to run into them here after not seeing each other for so many years!

When she saw Philip looking at Wynn so tenderly, the hatred from the past welled up after being sealed in her heart for so long.

Thus, she immediately went in, wanting to humiliate Wynn and the others a little.

Although she had not been in Riverdale in the past years, she still knew a lot about Wynn and Philip thanks to the alumni group.

Unexpectedly, Philip's situation worsened and he married into the Johnston family, becoming the laughing stock of Riverdale.

To think that Philip used to be Prince Charming in the eyes of many girls in university who all found him to be handsome and talented.

However, he ended up marrying into the Johnston family and becoming the husband of Wynn, that tramp. Clara felt very upset.

Wynn rolled her eyes at Philip and whispered with a pout, "You need to resolve your history."

Philip felt very helpless. What did she mean? He and Clara had nothing to do with each other!

When the attendant heard Clara say that they had no money to buy the clothes, her expression darkened. What the hell? These people were penniless bums! Thus, she wanted to drive them away.

Joy was furious. When she was in school, she was known as the 'Tigress of Uppercreek'. She had a fiery temper and could not tolerate any disadvantage. When she heard Clara's words, she immediately flew into a rage!

"What are you talking about? Who said we can't afford the clothes here?" Joy glared and said.

Clara chuckled, gave Wynn a sideways glance, and said, "Birds of a feather flock together. Since you're here with Wynn, you must be poor too. What's there to brag about?"

"You!" Joy was about to get angry when Wynn pulled her back.

"Forget it, we're out to shop today. Let her say what she wants. Don't argue with her," Wynn said with a hint of coldness.

She felt jealous at the thought that Clara had once pursued Philip.

Women were all like that.

"Wynn Johnston, what is that attitude of yours?!" Clara rolled her eyes and became very angry.

How dare Wynn talk to her like this?!

"You're just a little b*tch. When you were in university, I could already tell you were no good. You must have slept with a lot of men. Whose seed is that in your belly? Did you get Philip to provide for another man's son?" Clara spat out spitefully.

Philip could not listen to this anymore and retorted coldly, "Clara Nolan, that's enough! You can't spout nonsense like that at will!"

When Clara looked at Philip, her mouth opened in surprise before she said incredulously, "Oh, Philip, I didn't expect that you'd become like this. You weren't like this before. Have you been defeated by reality? How dare you marry a woman like Wynn? Oh, that's not right, I heard you married into her family instead. Tsk, tsk..."

Clara no longer had any feelings for Philip as her love had turned into hatred. She just wanted to humiliate them and seek revenge!

Wynn glared at Clara without speaking, took a garment, and held it in front of her to look at it.

Philip's face was also slightly cold, but Clara was all an old classmate, after all. He did not want to make an enemy out of her and simply chose to ignore her.
