

The First Heir novel Chapter 1704

Thump!

Connor's heart jolted. This damned Philip! Did he hear everything?

"Philip, why are you here so suddenly? Aren't you supposed to be in Riverdale?" Connor asked. His face was calm but he was a little flustered.

If he had really heard everything, their plan would be ruined.

"Hehehe..."

Philip went over and kicked Levi violently in his stomach while snatching the report from his hands. Levi fell to the floor instantly, clutching his stomach and rolling all over the floor in pain!

F*ck!

What the hell?

Why did he kick him?

"Damn it! Philip, who are you to kick me?!" Levi roared.

However, Philip ignored him and looked at the report.

Connor was furious and tried to snatch it from him as he shouted, "Bring it here! Who are you to look at it?"

However, before he could reach out his hand, Philip had already grabbed Connor's neck and lifted him up!

"I already told you not to harbor any thoughts about Wynn. Otherwise, I won't let you off!"

Philip's eyes were cold, his pupils throbbled with flames, and the veins on his arms were bulging. His grip on Connor was so strong that the old man's face flushed red and he could not breathe!

Thud!

Philip loosened his grip and Connor fell to the floor, panting and coughing violently.

"P-Philip, you've gone too far! I'm Connor Clarke, your granduncle..." Connor was furious.

Allen rushed over from the side and helped Connor up. Then, he sternly criticized Philip. "Philip, do you still have any respect for the branch family? By doing so, you're making an enemy out of the entire branch family!"

However, Philip smiled blandly, held the report in his hand, swept a glance over them, and asked, "Tell me, what does this report mean?"

"What are you talking about? It means nothing."

Levi stood up and said while rubbing his stomach. Philip's eyes froze. He stared at Levi, took a few steps closer, and asked grimly, "I'll ask again, what does this report mean?"

At this moment, Levi was completely oppressed by Philip's aura. His whole body was shaking and his heart was full of panic.

He quickly replied, "Do you want to know? Aren't you very capable? Why don't you find out on your own?"

Philip frowned, and the killing intent in his eyes exploded. He fiercely grabbed Levi by the collar and snarled. "Levi Clarke, don't force me to make a move on you! I'll investigate this report thoroughly but all of you won't have a good ending!"

After saying that, Philip turned to leave. When he reached the door, he suddenly turned back, looked at the three people, and sneered coldly. "By the way, I've already heard everything you said about the secrets of the door. Thank you for helping me gain a wider understanding."

Following that, Philip left the suite and said to the few men at the door, "Keep a close watch!"

"Yes, Mr. Clarke!"

After that, he went downstairs and quickly dialed Fennel Leigh's number. He asked, "You've entered the door before. Help me check something."
