

The First Heir –

Chapter 1728

Following that, Connie, Venom, and the other enforcer discussed it for a few minutes.

Finally, Connie looked at Fennel, respectfully handed him the King Black Iron Token, and said, “He can have the direct access spot, but you have to promise us one thing.”

Fennel frowned and stared at Connie coldly.

Before he spoke, his compelling aura made Connie’s heart tremble!

When she was unaware of Fennel’s identity earlier, she was still able to resist. Now that she knew Fennel’s identity and was thinking of all the legends about him, Connie could not bear it any longer. Her legs went weak and she quickly said, “It... It’s a request from us.”

Only then did Fennel abate his aura and ask, “Do you want to ask about the third zone?”

Connie looked at the other two and quickly said with a bow, “We hope you can enlighten us.”

Fennel thought for a moment and said, “This request is not excessive.”

After that, he glanced at the three of them and said, “Among the three of you, only you have a better shot with your qualifications to enter the third zone. The remaining two have no chance. So, work hard.”

Hearing these words, Connie’s heart instinctively jumped for joy. Fennel said that she could enter the third zone. That meant that her future achievements would be more than what she had now.

As for the other two, after hearing Fennel's comments, they instantly turned deathly pale.

They had no qualifications to enter the third zone?

Those who had never come into contact with the mysterious power and knowledge behind the door might not think much of it.

However, it was different for them. They had been exposed to the world behind the door and had come into contact with unprecedented civilization and power. They were eager to have more and to gain better resources.

Fennel's words were tantamount to destroying their ambitions and breaking their paths for growth!

Thud!

Venom knelt and exclaimed, "Please tell me the way. As long as you can help me enter the third zone, I'll serve you to the best of my ability and be loyal to you forever!"

After some hesitation, the other feminine-looking man also knelt and said, "Please show me a clear path."

Fennel shook his head and said, "It's useless. Your talents are insufficient. You may be different from normal people and can enter the door, but this is all just random. Don't think too highly of yourself because in this world, there'll always be geniuses who are more blessed than you and they're the favorites of this world. There's no way for you to compare to them. To put it simply, you can't even compare to me, so how can you enter the third zone? Even if you use some means to enter the third zone, the competition and cruelty there are far from what you can handle. Give up. Feel free to unleash your talents where you can strive. That's where you belong!"

"In addition, I have to advise you that even if your physique and abilities are different from normal people, this is not the basis for you to stand above others. I think the Nonagon has such a rule, right?" Fennel asked with a smile.

After hearing these words, Venom and the other person silently glanced at each other. Then, they got up and stood to the side, looking despondent and not saying a word.

On the other hand, Fennel looked at Connie without saying anything. He then turned around and left with Philip.

Connie looked at Fennel's departing back, her heart unable to calm down for a long time.

She had actually met Fennel Leigh, one of the Seven Kings of Disciples!

He was a man with countless legends!

He was the man who turned Nonagon upside down five years ago!

He alone turned Griffin Pavilion into a pool of blood. In the end, he successfully left the Nonagon and no one dared to stop him!

Fennel left the Concord Hotel with Philip.

Outside the door, Philip frowned and asked, "What is the world behind the door like? Also, the peculiarities they displayed just now are beyond the scope of current science. I need an explanation."

Fennel raised his eyebrows, looked at the azure sky, and saw Sheryl approaching from behind Philip. With a smile, he said, "Let's find a place to have a drink and I'll tell you about it. However, this Larson chick can't come with us."
