

The First Heir –

Chapter 1747

After returning to the hotel, Philip left Heath a few instructions and went upstairs.

He did not notice two sneaky guys behind him watching as he went upstairs. They followed him the entire way, saw the room number, and turned around to go back downstairs. Then, they found Angus and Hector who were waiting in a car parked at the hotel's entrance.

After listening to his subordinates' report in the car, Angus sneered coldly. "Young Master Hector, since we already know his room number, the rest will be easy. Rest assured that I'll definitely teach that arrogant guy a lesson for you this time! We'll make him a cripple and leave Uppercreek immediately. At that time, I'll have to ask for your support."

Hearing this, Hector's eyes exploded with chills as he responded, "Angus, that definitely won't be a problem. As long as that son of a b*tch is crippled tonight, you'll be my comrade for life! With me around, you'll easily gain a foothold in Charbury!"

After talking, Hector took the baseball bat passed by his friend from the back of the car and held it in his hand. Smiling fiercely, he put on the black mask he had prepared!

Then, he pushed open the car door and was the first to step down before anyone else.

Angus signaled with his eyes and immediately put on a mask with a few of his men before they followed Hector who took the lead. This was an opportunity to die for and Angus would not miss it!

When he came to the floor of Philip's suite, he looked around and found a few bodyguards patrolling outside the corridor.

"Damn it! This guy even has bodyguards?" Hector was stunned.

Angus was also taken aback and said, “Young Master Hector, don’t worry. This is a piece of cake.”

After that, he motioned to his two minions to lure the bodyguards away.

The two minions got the signal. They rushed over in a swaggering manner and clashed with the bodyguards. A moment later, those bodyguards were successfully led away by Angus’ men.

At this time, Philip heard the commotion from inside the suite and walked out.

When Hector saw Philip coming out, his eyes were full of fierce cold intent. He wanted to rush over and beat Philip up right now!

However, Angus grabbed Hector who wanted to rush out from the stairway and whispered, “Young Master Hector, don’t be impulsive. If we go over now, everything will be in vain! Listen carefully. I heard a woman’s voice inside the suite. It must be his wife or sister. We might as well attack the people in the suite! In this world, there’s nothing more painful than when your loved ones are hurt and you fail to save them!”

As he said that, Angus showed a treacherous sneer across his face.

When Hector heard this, his eyes lit up and he immediately looked at Angus with praise. He patted Angus on the shoulder and said with a smile, “Angus, well done!”

Angus chuckled and said, “It’s all because of you that I got enlightened.”

Hector did not bother to listen to Angus’ flattery. Seeing that Philip had left, he immediately went to the door of the suite with Angus and the rest.

They knocked on the door without a word.

In the suite, a delicate female voice was heard. "Did you forget your door card?"

Following that, the suite door opened.

Hector saw the woman standing at the door. How beautiful!

Very young too!

Anne Foster was standing at the door, blinking and staring at the people in front of her, especially at the young man in front who took out a baseball bat from behind!

Anne was shocked and the smile on her face froze as she asked in fear, "You..."

"Are you alone?" Hector's gaze was cold as he poked his head in and looked around. Seeing no one there, he barged in and pointed the baseball bat in his hand at Anne!

"Who are you? Get out! Otherwise, I'll call the police!" Anne shuddered. She immediately understood that these people were probably here to cause trouble for Philip!

Moreover, Wynn was resting in the bedroom inside. If these people broke in or saw Wynn, the consequences would be disastrous!

While thinking that, Anne blocked the door with her delicate body. Although her legs were shaking, she warned them seriously, "I'm the only one in the room. My boyfriend just went out. Who the hell are you? If you don't leave, I'll shout for help!"
