

The First Heir – Chapter 1812

“Mr. Dunley, things are not looking good. The information we found out about Philip seems to be wrong. This Clarke family of Riversouth is not as simple as we thought. No matter what we do to them, they can retaliate accurately and also block our trade and business.”

An assistant panicked at this moment and quickly reported to Winston.

Winston became solemn when he heard that. He rushed into the work area and glanced at their computer screens and the analysis report.

Ten billion dollars had been used to tackle the Clarke family. However, not only were they unable to recover the ten billion dollars but the money was firmly trapped in the market by the other party!

“What the hell is going on? Aren’t you guys known as the best market regulators? Why is this happening?” Winston was angry and asked the question with a roar.

One of the managers quickly stepped forward and explained, “Mr. Dunley, the situation has changed. We have to reinvestigate everything about the Clarke family. I suspect that the information we found earlier is all false. Judging from the current situation, it seems that all the industrial and trading companies of the Clarke family that we’ve been targeting are empty shells. It’s as if the other party dug a pit and waited for us to fill it up with money before they ensnared everything.”

Hearing this, Winston looked grave. He turned his head to the assistant next to him and barked, “Investigate! Check all the information about Philip Clarke!”

If he lost another ten billion dollars, he would have to resign and return to Flower City!

As soon as he finished his words, another employee shouted, “Oh no, Mr. Dunley! The other party has launched a counterattack. They’re targeting our trading ports and partners! Look, our stock index is plummeting!”

Hearing that, a group of people rushed to the computer and glanced at the stock index. It had already dropped by two points!

Based on the total trading assets under Winston's control, this was an indirect drop of several hundred million dollars!

“What are you waiting for? Hurry up and stimulate the stock market!” Winston roared.

However, as soon as he finished speaking, a dozen phone calls suddenly rang out in the office!

After more than a dozen employees picked up the calls and gained an understanding of the situation, they quickly reported, “Mr. Dunley, our trading partners are requesting to cancel their orders and terminate all cooperation.”

“What?” Winston panicked and gasped.

How could this be?

“Why do they want to cancel all orders? Why do they want to terminate all cooperation with us? We're Dunley Group! Don't they want to live anymore? Are they not afraid of our retaliation?” Winston said angrily.

The manager quickly replied, “Mr. Dunley, we don't know the exact situation now. I'll check it out immediately. There must be someone behind this.”

Winston was flustered when he heard this.

With such intensive counterattacks and offensives, could it be Philip Clarke behind this?

Five minutes later.

“I found it! The Clarke family are the ones manipulating this behind the scenes!” The manager returned and asked, “Mr. Dunley, what should we do now? We’ve already lost 20 billion dollars. If we continue to fight, we will have to invest at least another 50 billion dollars. If we stop here, although we can stabilize the situation after this, we won’t be able to recover the loss of 20 billion dollars.”

Winston’s face was already gloomy at this moment. Full of anger, he shouted, “Invest! I refuse to believe that this little Clarke family in Riversouth has the ability to go up against the Dunley family! Notify the finance department to immediately allocate 50 billion dollars! I’ll take down this Clarke family today!”

Right at this moment, an assistant rushed in and shouted, “Mr. Dunley, a person named Philip Clarke requests to see you downstairs.”