

The First Heir novel Chapter 2441 -2450

Chapter 2441

Very soon, Colson's car arrived at the branch of the Hall of Evil.

The headquarters of the Hall of Evil not in Sedona, but the Evil God, Lord Vataco, had been recuperating in Sedona recently.

Colson arrived at a luxurious private estate with heavily armed guards all around and maids with hot figures. In the small garden of the manor was a swimming pool with many sexy women having fun. These women were all top models with very good figures, and any man who saw them could hardly walk straight.

At this moment, a slender man with tender skin was lying on a beach chair with sexy women surrounding him. They were feeding him fruits and such.

The elderly Colson Michael was now waiting at the entrance of the small garden.

A tall bodyguard with a sturdy figure stood two meters away from the young man, bowed respectfully, and said, "Lord Evil, Colson Michael requests to see you."

The slender man hummed, pointed casually with his slender finger, and said, "Let him in."

Soon, Colson walked into the small garden and stood respectfully two meters away from the Evil God. He knelt humbly and said, "Lord Evil, I hope you're well."

Evil God Vataco was still lying on the beach chair at this moment with sexy women in his arms. He smiled and asked, "Colson, why are you in such a hurry to see me?"

Colson knelt on the ground and said sadly, "Lord Evil, Sun God Apollo showed up at my bar and killed Rick Michael."

Hearing that, Vataco, who was eating fruits, suddenly sat up straight. The face of this handsome man contained evil and charming coldness, while his eyes were blue, just like the waves of the sea. He had well-defined delicate facial features, and one might even mistake him for a woman.

With a piercing chill in his eyes, he stared at Colson and asked, "Apollo showed up at your bar?"

“Yes, Lord Vataco,” Colson replied.

Vataco waved his hand casually, and all the sexy women dispersed. Soon, only Vataco and Colson were left in the small garden.

“Did you say that Rick was killed by Apollo?” There was a chill in Vataco’s eyes.

Colson nodded and said, “Yes, Lord Vataco. Please call the shots for me and the Michael family! Avenge Rick! I’ve mobilized all the elites of the Michael family. At your command, I’ll immediately destroy the Sedona branch of the Hall of the Sun!”

Chapter 2442

Vataco frowned as he looked at Colson and asked, “Are you sure you can go up against Apollo?”

Colson said, “I may not be able to do it, which is why I want to ask you to help me in secret.”

Vataco thought for a moment and said, “Colson, it’s not that I don’t want to help you, but you should understand that Apollo is not an ordinary person. What the Hall of Evil needs now are recuperation and development. If we lose part of our strength for the sake of your Michael family, it’s not worth the loss.”

Colson felt despondent at his words. However, he could not have any dissatisfaction with Vataco. Thus, he said, “Then the Michael family will take action against the Hall of the Sun alone. I only hope that you can step in when necessary. Vataco thought about it and said, “Why don’t I send two people to protect you?”

Hearing this, Vataco quickly bowed and said, “Thank you for your kindness, Lord Vataco. The Michael family will swear allegiance to you.”

Vataco casually waved his hand and Colson left. After he left, Vataco called out, “Leona, Felix, go to the Michael family and follow that old guy, Colson. Remember, your duty is to kill Colson if he shows any disloyalty. Then, take over the entire Michael family and support Matlin Michael to become the new patriarch of the Michael family!”

“Yes, Lord Vataco!” Two figures stood behind Vataco. They were two burly guys, one tall and one short. They had cold faces that were filled with deathly vibes. They were fearsome to look at.

The next day, a piece of news exploded in Sedona. The eldest son of the Michael family, Rick Michael, had suddenly died last night and his funeral was being held today.

The entire Michael family was closed off to the public. The news caused a sensation in the entire city of Sedona.

“What? Have you heard? Rick Michael is dead!”

“It’s too shocking! Rick is the eldest son and the future heir of the Michael family, but he died out of the blue.”

“Hehe, what sudden death? Didn’t you hear the news last night? I heard that Rick messed with someone he shouldn’t have messed with and got killed.

Many gangsters were sitting in a diner and chatting about it.

“What? Killed? Where did you hear that?” someone asked curiously.

The fat bearded man was about to speak. Suddenly, several men in black suits with golden cobra badges on their chests burst through the door.

As soon as they entered the door, they held pistols with silencers in their hands and shot all the people who were talking about the Michael family!

Likewise, all over Sedona, anyone who discussed the incident of the Michael family last night would be killed. This was the strength of the Michael family.

Meanwhile, in a small mountain manor in Sedona. The Michael family’s manor was very luxurious, full of resplendent castle buildings. At this moment, inside and outside the manor, all the death warriors and elites of the Michael family were assembled.

All of them were equipped with the most advanced weapons with the golden cobra badge on their chests.

Colson stood in front of this group of death warriors and elites with his golden cobra walking cane. He glanced at them coldly and said, “You’re the pride of the Michael family. Bring your pride and cleanse the seventh base of the Hall of the Sun with blood!”

Chapter 2443

“For the Michael family! For Rick! Cleanse the Hall of the Sun!”

“For the Michael family! For Colson! Cleanse the Hall of the Sun!”

Suddenly, thunderous shouts resounded throughout Michael Manor!

Behind Colson, the two people sent by Vataco stood silently. Looking at the fully equipped death warriors and elites ready to go, they also showed a chill in the corners of their eyes. Unexpectedly, the strength of the Michael family had grown to this point.

No wonder Vataco had been wary of the Michael family. It seemed that the countdown to the downfall of the Michael family was near.

Colson turned around and looked at the two guards, one tall and one short, sent by Vataco. He said, "Dark Angels, please come with me."

Dark Angel was a self-appointed title in the Hall of Evil. In addition to the seven great envoys, there were nine Dark Angels under Vataco's command. They were all killing machines and indisputable assassins.

They rarely took action, but once they did, the missions they carried out were 100% successful. It could be said that they were the most loyal subordinates of Vataco. To Vataco, the seven envoys could be replaced at any time, but the nine dark angels were different. They were his confidants and foundation.

The two dark angels looked at each other and nodded. They followed Colson out of the manor and got into a bulletproof luxury car. Soon, the car started and the crowd headed to the seventh base of the Hall of the Sun in Sedona.

Colson had selected this target carefully.

It was far away from the Hall of the Sun's headquarters with a relatively weak defense. It was the easiest base to attack. As long as they could take this base down, the Michael family would be famous!

Moreover, the old fox Colson had a backup plan. The atmosphere was rather silent in the car. The two Dark Angels sat on either side of the back row while Colson sat in the middle. It was an extremely luxurious stretch limousine, so both sides could accommodate passengers. There was a small bar table with a lot of expensive booze in the middle. Four bodyguards in white suits sat on either side of Colson.

The Four Demons of Hell of the Michael family were the death warriors personally trained by Colson. Colson personally poured two glasses of wine for the two Dark Angels of the Hall of Evil. According to their status, the envoys and the dark angels were actually of the same level. However, there were times when the Dark Angels acted on behalf of Vataco, so even the envoys would have to give way to them.

"My lords, let's have a toast in advance." Colson raised his glass and invited.

The two Dark Angels looked at the wine glasses, then at each other. They picked up their glasses and toasted with Colson.

Chapter 2444

As Colson Michael watched the two Dark Angels finish their drinks, a faint smirk appeared on his face.

One of the Dark Angels asked indifferently, "Colson, are you so confident that you can take down the seventh base of the Hall of the Sun?"

Colson smiled lightly and said, "My lord, this seventh base is one of Sun Hall's data centers. There are not many guards around, so it's the easiest to take down. Moreover, there's a lot of information about the Hall of the Sun inside. I think Lord Vataco will be very happy if we can take it down."

The two Dark Angels raised their eyebrows when they heard that. They asked a little eagerly, "Are you sure that this seventh base is one of their intelligence bases?"

Seeing that the two Dark Angels had taken the bait, Colson smiled and said, "There's no need for me to deceive you."

This is the accurate information that my Michael family finally obtained after months of investigation. This seventh base is a secret intelligence base belonging to the Hall of the Sun!"

Suddenly, the two Dark Angels looked at each other and read each other's inner thoughts from the other party's eyes.

They must obtain the proceeds of this intelligence base. In this way, they would obtain a reward from Vataco.

Anyway, Colson was destined to be a dead man, so such pickings would be the best.

"Haha! Good! Very good! Colson, although Lord Vataco has given orders that we can only take action as the last resort, for the sake of our friendship, we'll definitely step in to help you!"

The tall Dark Angel laughed heartily and said.

Colson sneered before he said gratefully, "Thank you, my lords."

Soon, the convoy arrived at a secret base in a small jungle on the outskirts.

At the rear of the convoy were more than a dozen armored vehicles. The doors opened, and the death warriors of the Michael family jumped out one after another. They were all fully armed and ready to go!

Colson stepped down from the car, followed by the Four Demons of Hell and the two Dark Angels. They stared into the depths of this jungle.

The two Dark Angels frowned and asked, "Are you sure that the seventh base is inside?"

Colson said with certainty, "Of course!"

After saying that, he waved his hand and shouted to the death warriors of the Michael family who had lined up behind him, "All the elites of the Michael family, for your honor, charge! Leave no one alive!"

Instantly, this bunch of ferocious death warriors charged into the jungle. Soon, shots were fired with thunderous explosions.

The two Dark Angels shuddered when they heard the intense gunshots. Their chance was here.

"Colson, this is too slow. Let us take care of it!"

After saying that, the two Dark Angels ignored the change in Colson's expression and turned into two black shadows.

They rushed into the jungle and joined the battle.

Colson leaned on the golden cobra walking stick in his hand and sneered. He looked at the depths of the jungle where the battle was fiercest with sparks and gunfire everywhere.

"Hehe, Lord Vataco, you forced me to do this. Since you want to kill me, I can only say sorry to you," Colson said coldly.

At the same time, two figures appeared behind Colson. "Old Colson, you still know what you're doing.

Hans walked out with a smile playing on his lips. Next to him was none other than Georgina with her sexy figure.

Seeing Hans and Georgina, Colson bowed slightly and said, "I want to thank Lord Apollo for the warning. Colson Michael, swear allegiance to Sun God Apollo!"

Hans snorted coldly, patted Colson on the shoulder, and said, "No need. The boss doesn't like your Michael family. We're helping you this time just to deal with Vataco."

Colson's eyes turned cold, and he shook his head helplessly.

Last night, Hans passed through the heavy encirclement of the Michael family and casually passed a message to Colson that Vataco wanted the two Dark Angels to kill Colson and support Matlin Michael into the position. Colson was very shocked when he heard the message. He could not imagine Evil God Vataco abandoning him so easily.

Finally, he reached an agreement with Hans. It was to save himself and for the sake of the Michael family.

At the same time, a majestic figure with red flames and a red dragon around his body walked out of the jungle together with a man shrouded in a red chimera.

Thud, thud!

The heads of the two Dark Angels were tossed at Colson's feet.

"Colson, you've finally made the right decision," Fennel said lightly.

Then, he looked at Philip at his side and said, "Let's go and meet Vataco, then."

Chapter 2445

Back to Vataco's luxurious manor.

At this moment, Vataco's face was full of anger, and an evil aura surged all over his body. He angrily smashed the coffee table in front of him with a single punch!

"Damn Apollo and the Michael family! They actually joined forces against me and killed my two Dark Angels! I won't let this matter rest!"

Vataco was furious, and his face was full of icy killing intent. "Issue my Evil God's Order. Immediately mobilize all the Dark Angels and great envoys in Sedona and prepare for battle!"

Vataco's eyes were full of piercing coldness, and the aura on his body was overwhelming. He added, "Also, contact them and tell them that this is an invitation from the Hall of Evil."

After that, Vataco got up and stared at the gate of the luxurious manor with shining eyes. If his information was correct, Apollo and the others would be here soon. Almost half an hour later, Fennel and the gang arrived outside Vataco's manor. The whole manor was on high alert and defense at this moment. That bloodthirsty, tense, and exciting atmosphere could be felt even by an ordinary person.

Fennel and Philip stood 100 meters away from the manor, their eyes staring fixedly at the huge entrance of the manor.

Fully armed guards of the Hall of Evil had already surrounded the place. All of them were dressed in black uniforms, looking extremely evil. They were Hell Demons.

Fennel and Philip looked at each other before walking toward the manor's entrance.

Suddenly, ten burly men with tattoos all over their bodies rushed out of the manor. They were outrageously stout like gorillas!

Fennel and Philip stopped at the same time. The former stared coldly at the ten burly men rushing out and said softly "Be careful. These ten people are the Hellhounds of the Hall of Evil, the top ten killing machines under the Dark Angels. Their combat level should be between the third and fourth zones. Although it's not particularly high, their bodies have undergone special transformations. Once their power is fully unleashed, they can reach the peak strength of the fourth Zone!"

These ten guys were the strongest combat power under the Dark Angels of the Hall of Evil.

Every single one was a killing machine!

Not only were they disciples, but their bodies had also been modified through scientific research experiments, and they were extremely powerful. If such a group of inhuman beings was thrown to the battlefield, one of them could stand against a hundred. Moreover, they were extremely tall. They were two heads taller than Fennel and Philip, looking exactly like gorillas. Each of them also carried a huge killing weapon in their hands. There were maces, axes, chainsaws, swords, and hammers that looked like they belonged to Thor. One of them even carried a huge saber, shiny and overwhelming!

For the first time, Philip felt a powerful sense of oppression from them.

If these ten people joined forces, their combat power would definitely reach the peak of the fifth zone, maybe even the sixth zone!

Chapter 2446

However, that was if they joined forces.

At this moment, on the roof of the manor's castle, Vataco looked at the situation at the entrance with binoculars. Then, through the manor's loudspeaker, he laughed wickedly and said, "Apollo, you came just in time. I've been waiting for you. I didn't expect that you even bought off the Michael family. That really surprised me. However, don't you think you're too arrogant to barge into my manor with an Easterner like this?"

Fennel looked up with a firm focus and instantly penetrated the distance of several hundred meters. He found Vataco on the top of the building, laughed loudly, and said, "Vataco, you're still as timid as a mouse, always up to such tricks. Aren't you tired of it?"

"Hahaha!" Vataco also laughed and said, "Apollo, as long as you can be killed, any trick is worth trying. It's fair in love and war, right?"

"Hehehe." Fennel chuckled and said, "Vataco, you don't need to send these people to their deaths. You should know my strength."

Vataco laughed, his eyes flashing with a dazzling cold light. He said, "No, this is just an appetizer. I hope you enjoy it. If you have the ability, defeat my ten precious children first. This is a game Where either you die or they die. I hope you take it seriously."

Hearing this, Fennel and Philip showed a chill in their eyes.

Sure enough, Vataco had never been bothered about human lives, even if these people were his subordinates. To him, these people were nothing more than killing machines.

"Apollo, don't be nervous and enjoy it. Ill torture you properly until your death! Then, your Hall of the Sun will fall into my hands!"

With a faint smile on the corner of his mouth, Vataco's face was full of evil.

Fennel coldly looked at the ten stout men in front of him and said to Philip, "We each take half and make it quick. No problem, right?"

Philip nodded indifferently and said, "No problem. With that said, Fennel and Philip were ready to start. Vataco also shouted, "Babies, for your faith, for your king, and your honor, charge! Tear them apart!"

At this command, the ten burly guys like gorillas roared and charged toward Fennel and Philip!

However, Fennel and Philip sprang into action first. With a chill in his eyes, Philip stomped on the ground. He had locked on to his target. It was the guy with a huge ax!

The guy swung his huge ax where Philip stood with a roar. However, he only sensed a black shadow.

Bang!

The giant ax swung down but only hit the ground. Cracks and a huge pit appeared!

Philip was nowhere to be found. When the guy came back to his senses, he realized that Philip was already on his right.

He was one of the ten Hellhounds under Vataco's command, a top expert with strong combat experience. He quickly picked up the giant ax, turned around, and swung the ax at Philip who punched him on the right. The huge impact stirred a gust of wind in front of Philip!

It must be said that this guy with the ax moved very fast. With such combat experience and skills, ordinary disciples would be instantly killed by him.

However, he had met Philip, an unpredictable man.

Philip seized the right timing and moved sideways. At the same time, he threw a punch at the guy's chest!

Boom!

After the huge explosion, the manor's entrance quickly went quiet.

Chapter 2447

When Philip's punch landed on the man's chest, his fist suddenly exploded with an energy pressure that soared to the sky

At that moment, the man with the giant ax only felt an overwhelming and forceful pressure that went through him from the fist of the Eastern man in front of him. The power exploded in his chest. In that instant, he felt that his chest and internal organs were shattered by something!

Boom!

He flew out like a cannonball and slammed into a white wall of the manor.

Bang!

The wall collapsed, and the man sat buried in the rubble. He opened his eyes in disbelief and looked at his chest which was pierced through by a punch. With the corners of his mouth full of blood, he raised his eyebrows with difficulty and looked at the Eastern man not far away.

The energy contained in this punch was terrifying and domineering. This punch completely went through his body, leaving him no chance of survival.

At the same time, exposed wires and flaming electronic components could be seen in his chest. The man with the giant ax was actually a human-modified cyborg!

"Is that it?" Philip clapped his hands indifferently and said with disdain in his eyes.

On this side, Fennel wasted no time either. He took down a man with a chainsaw by removing his two arms.

Just like Philip, he used one move to take down a powerful Hellhound of the Hall of Evil in seconds.

Standing on the roof of the white castle, Evil God Vataco witnessed everything in front of him.

The chill on his face became more pronounced.

Abominable Apollo!

Also, who the hell was that nasty kid?

He actually possessed a fighting power no less than Apollo!

Had there always been two Sun Gods in the Hall of the Sun?

Twin Sun Gods?

Impossible!

There had never been such information!

Back to Fennel and Philip.

After Philip easily took down the man with the giant ax, a gust of wind suddenly blew behind him.

Without thinking, Philip stomped on the ground, lunged forward, and grabbed the fallen ax on the ground.

Without looking, he jumped into the air, rotated his body 180-degrees, and swung the giant ax in the direction behind him.

Clang!

A huge explosion of metal collision resounded through the vicinity of several hundred meters.

The sound simply deafened everyone's eardrums.

It was a man with a sword. The sword slashed forcefully on the blade of the giant ax, which burst with brilliant sparks.

If Philip had not noticed the sword, it would have split him in half. However, when the man snuck up on Philip with his giant sword and tried to cut him in half, he was shocked by the scene in front of him.

The short Eastern man easily dodged the attack and even stopped the blow with a huge ax.

The tremendous impact from the collision made his hands that were holding the huge sword tremble uncontrollably.

Such a powerful slash of the sword was easily blocked by the opponent's huge ax!

Chapter 2448

Why?

How could this short Eastern man possess such strong combat power and explosive force?

The giant sword resisted the giant ax in midair. Both parties exerted full strength.

However, the man with the giant sword obviously felt his strength gradually waning.

The force and oppression from the giant ax instantly pierced the giant sword into his arms.

Suddenly, the giant ax turned crimson as if burned by the scorching heat. At the same time, the giant sword in the man's hand also turned red like hot magma.

The man suddenly retreated and widened his distance from Philip.

The sword in his hand that could be used to slay demons had turned crimson by now.

However, before he could react, a gust of wind blew in front of him.

Philip quickly stomped on the ground and jumped up.

In his hands, the giant ax was like a hammer.

He swung the giant ax violently right on top of the man with the giant sword in a vertical chop.

The size of the giant ax formed a stark contrast with Philip's body proportions.

This giant ax weighed hundreds of pounds and was not something an ordinary person could easily lift.

However, the Eastern man in front of him easily lifted the huge ax and swung it at the man with the sword.

Clang!

It was another metal collision that shook the place.

The huge ax swung down from midair, and the burly man could only lift his giant sword to resist this blow.

However, when the ax collided with the sword, everyone saw the man with the sword staggering a few steps back due to the impact from the ax.

His feet left two deep marks on the ground. Moreover, after such a Violent blow, the man's arms were drastically distorted.

The huge force from the giant ax had shattered all the man's bones in his arms.

At the same time, the sword also crumbled from the middle.

Bang!

Half of the shattered sword flew out and penetrated deeply into a wall, causing the wall to crack.

The other half was still held in the man's hand. Before he had time to scream, the force from the giant ax did not diminish and swung down right on top of the man's head.

Puff!

Instantly, the man split into two halves and fell into a pool of blood.

Even at the last moment, he could not scream before he lost his life.

Again, he was a cyborg. Most of the body parts were human, except for some vital organs in the torso that were mechanical.

This was the masterpiece of the Hall of Evil.

The Hellhounds were killing machines modified from human bodies.

Thus, Evil God Vataco did not care about the lives of these people at all, because he could continue to produce such killing machines.

The scene went silent.

In less than a minute, Philip had single-handedly killed two Hellhounds from the Hall of Evil.

Philip killed two of the ten Hellhounds under Vataco's command, while two more were killed by Fennel, leaving six behind.

Fennel had just finished off a man with a mace.

He turned to Philip and said with a smile, "Not bad. Your combat skills are getting better."

Philip chuckled lightly.

His eyes then fell coldly on the remaining six Hellhounds as he said, "Only you guys are left."

The remaining six held their strongest weapons and looked at the two Eastern men coldly with a hint of fear deep in their eyes.

Fennel walked over, stood with Philip, and said to the six men, "Come at us together. Don't waste our time."

On the other side, Vataco stood on the roof of the castle and roared. "Charge at them! Whoever kills them will be promoted to Dark Angels!"

Chapter 2449

Vataco's roar resounded throughout the manor.

The remaining six Hellhounds also raged and roared.

Hearing that, a man with a Fusha longsword roared as he ran forward.

He stomped on the ground and swung the longsword in his hand at Fennel and Philip.

Seeing this Fusha longsword, a biting chill appeared in Fennel's eyes. He reached out and stopped Philip from moving forward.

He said, "Let me deal with this one."

After saying that, Fennel took a step forward, showed middle finger to the incoming man, and mocked him, saying,

"It's just a roaring gorilla. Trying to scare us off with this is nothing but a mistake."

The Fusha longsword in the man's hand reminded Fennel of a certain event in the past.

During the early days when the Hall of the Sun was founded, he had a very loyal follower.

He was a friend who used to wield the Fusha longsword beautifully.

The longsword was none other than the one in front of him, which was engraved with that guy's initials on the cold blade.

Vataco stood on top of the white castle and laughed lightly.

He said, "Apollo, does this longsword remind you of an unpleasant past? Hahaha, where's your buddy who went through thick and thin with you in the past?"

He died under my hands because of you. Now, using his weapon to kill you is really the most wonderful ending in this world."

Hearing that, Fennel's eyes showed a piercing coldness as he stared at Vataco and said, "Vataco, you don't deserve to be a god of the 12 Sacred Halls. Today, I swear to kill you!"

After saying that, Fennel looked at the incoming man with the Fusha longsword.

His eyes were full of nostalgia.

This longsword represented too much of the past and memories.

Fennel never imagined that he would see this longsword again one day.

A name hidden in the depths of his memory surfaced again.

Very good!

Fennel was angry now.

He stared at the roaring man approaching. His eyes showed a killing intent as he said coldly, "You don't deserve to have this Fusha longsword! He's not someone you can handle!"

With that said, Fennel stared at the black longsword. His gaze tensed as he swung the mace in his hands forcefully across.

He ignored the other party's mighty slash and went straight for the kill!

Such a domineering stance made Vataco who was in the distance above a little frightened!

Clang!

The longsword collided with the mace and produced a loud metallic clunk.

Deafening!

There was a metallic buzzing sound like humming cicadas within a radius of a few hundred meters.

With a simple blow, the man with the Fusha longsword was powerless against Fennel's attack.

He was swept away by the mace.

Bang!

The man flew out and fell heavily to the ground. The longsword in his hand was also thrown into the air.

It flashed with a dazzling black light, and while accompanied by the humming that reminded one of the cicadas, it fell down.

However, a clean and fair big hand caught the Fusha longsword.

Swish!

A beautiful arc full of killing intent exploded in the air.

Chapter 2450

Fennel wielded the Fusha longsword in his hands, his eyes full of nostalgia as he looked at the black blade inch by inch.

When he saw the engraving on the blade, he got quite emotional.

At the same time, the man who was swept away by the mace suddenly jumped up from the ground at this moment.

He stomped the ground with both feet, a powerful burst of energy exploding from within him.

He threw a punch at Fennel.

However, this was nothing more than child's play in front of Fennel.

Before the Hellhound's punch could even reach half a meter in front of Fennel, a black light magnified in his eyes.

With a biting killing intent, the sharp blade flashed across his eyes.

Swish!

The sword rose, and the hand fell.

The Hellhound's right fist was chopped off under the dark flash of the blade and flew out in midair.

A bit of green mechanical liquid splattered and revealed the electronic equipment and parts inside.

Other than his brain and some key parts that were still human, the rest of these Hellhounds had mechanical organs that had been artificially modified.

In fact, such modified people would be an indomitable existence on the battlefield.

However, they were facing Fennel and Philip today, who were two killing gods from the East.

One of them was even Sun God Apollo, a presence that invoke fear in the West.

Then, in the man's gaze, the blinding flash of black light exploded in front of his eyes.

The Fusha longsword had easily slashed a cross in his chest.

He clearly felt the sensation of that longsword going through his chest and cutting off his electronic components.

With wide eyes, he looked down at the green mechanical liquid flowing from his chest.

Then, Fennel kicked his chest violently!

Boom!

The man's chest burst open, and all the mechanical organs shattered in that instant. This kick completely took the life of this Hellhound.

Even his mechanical heart was kicked out, which rolled down from his chest and blinked with a red light.

This should be considered another form of the Hellhound, but he was still killed by Fennel in seconds.

After that, Fennel held the longsword which dazzled brightly.

He stared at the remaining five Hellhounds and asked coldly, "Are you doing this one by one or all at once?"

"Go to hell Apollo!"

Seeing this scene from the top of the white castle, Vataco was completely enraged.

He desperately held the button in his hand and roared. "I want you to see the strongest battle power of my children! Come on! Show your strongest form! I'll unleash all your powers!" With a roar, Vataco pressed the button firmly.

At the same time, the five Hellhounds standing at the entrance of the manor suddenly tensed up.

Then, their eyes turned dazzling red.

All the mechanical organs in their bodies were changing forms at this moment, reaching the best and strongest fighting form.

This was the latest progress of Vataco's research, which had not been tested yet.

This was the first test.

No matter what, he must kill Apollo!

In an instant, the five Hellhounds completely lost all human emotions and turned into killing machines.

All of them lunged at Fennel with the deadliest killing moves.

It was the strongest team, and they worked together seamlessly.

Moreover, their speed, explosive power, and combat power had improved by several levels.

The peak of the fourth zone!

Five modified humans with the peak combat power of the fourth zone.

Fennel frowned and quickly stepped back. He stood with Philip and said, "Here they come!"

Philip nodded, and his hands suddenly burst into dazzling flames. Two flaming chimeras appeared.

"Go!"

Fennel roared.

Wielding the Fusha longsword, he charged ahead with Philip and quickly engaged in a fierce battle!
