Chapter 273 - The shame of the palace

Shen Lang looked at the palace master who was prepared in front, and his body shape did not move.

Whether she is the master of the rain, since it is the palace of the Tianshan Ice Palace, the strength will certainly not be worse, at least it will be a level with Chu.

Now the Shen Lang, the sequelae of “blood-induced madness” has not been eliminated, but only half of it has been restored. Now if you have another “blood-induced madness”, and do not say how much the effect can be achieved, the consequences may make him really Hang up.

Therefore, he has just made a profit, but he is actually not sure about a battle with the palace owner.

But to escape, it is not difficult for him!

What he wants to know now is how is it going to fall?

What brought him here today is not the rain, but what has never been seen in the invitation of the moon, Ke Ling, indicating that the Lord did not seek the consent of the rain.

Moreover, their time in the past is the time when the rain falls and sees him every day. This also means that if the rain falls, it is not allowed to be opened, or it is under house arrest because of opposition!

But when it comes to the lips, the waves are pressed down.

Falling rain is an excellent disciple of the Ice Palace, and it is a pure Yin body. The future is boundless. Now there is also a part of Xue Lingguo used to train her, which shows that it is valued.

That is to say that she is not willing to smother the waves, the palace owner is also the most to put her under house arrest, not really how to treat her.

On the contrary, the rain falls to show that he cares too much, or that he shows concern for the safety of falling rain, but will be used by the palace owner!

Thinking of this, Shen Lang did not ask the situation of falling rain.

“Can I ask another question?”

When I heard the dark waves, the ice palace main nodded: “Say.”

The slender iron chain, like a snake, automatically swam on the top of the cliff and set off some ice.

“If I cooperate, will you want my life?”

This question, let the ice palace master laughed directly: “Did you have already analyzed it? Do you still have to promise me? Of course you will not want your life, I just want you a little blood. Hehe...you are not Are you worried about malnutrition? We will even use the elixir to feed you very healthy.”

After asking this very pure and stupid question, Shen Lang seems to be relieved.

“So I am relieved.”

“Come on, you will come over!”

The palace owner did not go forward, but she grabbed the front end of the iron chain in her hand, and it was the beginning of Wang Shenlang.

“I still choose...”

When Shen Lang spoke, he jumped back to the back and quickly fell down the cliff.

At the edge of the cliff, his hand reached out and a large piece of ice fell into his hand.

I just asked that the stupid question was to delay the time. He used the gods to inspect the surroundings and the approximate height of the cliff!

Of course, the Lord of the Ice Palace did not believe that the swell of the swells would be awkward. When he was in shape, the iron chain immediately swooped like a viper!

At the same time, her figure is also fast to the edge of the cliff, both speeding up, let the front end of the iron chain, then chased outside the cliff, rolled up to the sinking waves.

Shen Lang just grabbed the ice inside the hand and immediately sent it to the iron chain, letting it entangle a positive. After he took off his hand, he fell faster and fell below.

After the ice palace owner felt that he had seized the person, he immediately shook the waves with a hand

Come up. But in a little time, she has already reached the edge of the cliff, and she does not need to pull back to the cliff. It has already seen it clearly. It is not a sinking wave, but an "ice block substitute."

Looking at it now, Shen Lang has already fallen by more than half of the distance. With this tens of meters of iron chains, it is no longer possible to get people back.

She did not hesitate, and directly followed the leap out and chased down the cliff!

Although the cliff has a height of several hundred meters, normal people will die when they fall, but Shen Lang is not an ordinary person. He will choose to jump off the cliff. He must want to escape. She does not believe that Shen Lang will want to die.

Below the cliff bottom, there is thick snow, as long as it does not fall on the protruding rock, it will not even be seriously injured.

The lord of the white fluttering, when falling from the bottom of the cliff, quite a fairy looks like a dust.

At this time, she heard a voice coming from below: "Miyak! Your skirt is floating!"

Shen Lang and her have been separated by a certain distance, even if it is below, in fact, can not see. But from this perspective, the ridicule of saying this made her angry and funny.

This guy is the best! When is this all the time, it will fall to the bottom of the cliff, and there is still a heart to say her skirt.

When I heard the words, Shen Lang had already fallen to the bottom of the cliff. It fell vertically and directly fell into the snow. Then there was no movement, it seemed that the earthquake was too big and needed to be slowed down.

The ice palace owner was a little late, and immediately caught up with the cliff.

Unlike Shen Lang's rapid fall, she is lightly falling down, controls the surrounding airflow, makes the speed slower, and can be safer.

When there are dozens of meters away from the ground, the iron chain in her hand quickly entangled a piece of rock protruding from the cliff, thereby pulling a easing, her speed slowed down again, and the place where the sinking waves fell. Falling.

"You flee! See you can escape the palm of my hand!"

The palace owner looked at the sinking waves trapped inside the snow, and tweeted. Of course, she is also a bit strange. Even if Shen Lang is shocked, she should also run away immediately. Is it broken?

At the moment she is about ten meters from the ground, suddenly! The swells in the snow, at an incredible speed, straight up to the top!

The palace owner just found out that it was not right, and it was too late to react. Her body continued to fall, and the Shenlang had a quick rise, but it was only a few meters away.

However, she is a super strong, even if it is so sudden, it is immediately to protect the body, to avoid being successfully attacked by the waves. At the same time, the hand shakes the iron chain has been collected, and it has been protected directly around.

When it was said that it was late, the palace owner immediately felt the attack of Shen Lang!

Shen Lang's body was calculated very well, and did not directly hit her, but stuck directly behind her and left! And when she passed her from the bottom up, she reached out and grabbed her skirt hem!

Because he picked up the speed too fast, pulling the skirt straight up, but she also transported the body, the result is to pull the skirt directly and fly up!

The next moment, the palace owner has landed, not falling into the snow. Of course, she wouldn't just be a skirt. After she pulled it away, there was still a dress inside. It was just a wave of Shen Lang, which undoubtedly made her feel a deep shame!

Especially when pulling a skirt, I don't know if it's careless or intentional, as if I've caught her hips...

She looked up and glared, and the iron chain in her hand quickly rolled over.

But what surprised her was that Shen Lang did not set off a dozen meters, but kept the speed unabated. The higher the flight, the more it was going to the top of the cliff!
