/ Fit For Your Love

Melody held her purse, her red lips slightly curved, and looked at Everett with sharp eyes.

She was beautiful, standing under the crystal light, with invisible thorns all over her body.

But even so, she was still beautiful.

Everett walked over, stopped in front of her, and looked at her.

"Melody, you don't look like a person that would be angry.' Melody met his calm eyes and chuckled.

She turned and looked away as if laughing at herself.

"Everett, you're like this again. Every time you don't want to answer a question, you change the subject."

"Am I right?"

She turned around and looked at Everett.

There was a fake smile on her face.

Everett raised his eyes and looked at her with a different look in his eyes.

"It's too late. Go to bed early:"

Then he turned around and went upstairs.

Then there was some noise.

It was a slight sound of her fingernails scratching hard on her handbag.

"Everett, do you love her that much?"

"We have been knowing each other for nearly 30 years and you treat me like this."

In the study of the Westons.

Cristina stood in front of his desk and looked at Wade, who was practicing calligraphy with a brush behind his desk.

"Dad, only Brayden shows up at his engagement party. Did you know about this long ago?"

Wade devoted himself to this practice.

In a few seconds, a beautiful character fell on the rice paper.

Hearing Cristina's words, he Visit to read the newest content, everyone! paper, he said, "So what if I know? What would you do if I don't know?"

Hearing this, Cristina knew his father had Visit to read the newest content, everyone! at her.

"What are you worried about?"

"That's not something you should be worried about."

Before she could finish speaking, Wade interrupted her, put down the brush, and walked out.

Cristina frowned.

"Dad, I know it's not my business, but Brayden and Everett are from our The Westons. You said we should stick together."

"Now that Brayden and Everett are in a conflict this because of Olivia, I'm not at ease"

If it weren't for the Westons, she wouldn't have said anything.

But Everett and Brayden were important members of the Westons.

She didn't want something to affect their relationship.

Wade sat down on the sofa, took the tranquil tea, and started to make tea.

"You saw it tonight. Nothing happened, right?"

Cristina sat next to him.

"Yes. Nothing happened, but I feel something is wrong. This is Brayden and Olivia's engagement party, but Olivia didn't show up. Did something happen?"

"Nothing happened. It's best that Olivia didn't show up." Cristina was surprised.

"What do you mean?"

Why was it best that Olivia didn't show up? Wade looked at her.

“Do you think the engagement party will be over if Olivia comes tonight?”

Cristina was suddenly enlightened.

Yeah.

Everett didn't want Olivia to be with Brayden.

If Olivia showed up tonight, he might do something.

But, he didn't do anything tonight, but just let the engagement go on? This did not seem to be what he liked to see.

But why didn't Everett do anything? Cristina did not understand.

“Dad, according to Everett's temperament, even if Olivia didn't show up tonight, he would destroy this engagement, but he didn't. Why?”

The water boiled.

Wade took the tea leaves and put them in the teapot.

He then picked up the teapot and washed the cups.

“Olivia and Brayden broke up.’

“What?”

Cristina stood up in shock.

How could they get engaged after they broke up? This...

Her mind was in a mess.

She was stunned and didn't what to think. Wade frowned.

“Sit down.”

Cristina sat down and looked at Wade, who was very calm, and said, “Dad, can you explain it to me all at once?”

Otherwise, she would have stood up in shock again.

Wade looked at her and said, “It's getting late. You should go back”

Cristina had no way but stop asking, which just made her even curiouser.

The driver sent Cristina back.

Cristina sat in the back seat of the car and kept thinking about what Wade had told her.

Finally, she figured it out after the car stopped at the door.

Everett didn't want Olivia to be with Brayden, but Brayden insisted to be with Olivia.

Therefore, the two kept fighting.

People would assume Brayden won because he had been engaged with Olivia.

But he actually lost.

Because Olivia broke up with him.

So, the winner was Everett.

The reason why Everett didn't do anything today was not that he didn't want to do, but because it was meaningless.

Cristina was in a complicated mood after thinking this through.

Brayden said they would get married on February 14 next year.

The bride had to show up.

But would Everett still do nothing like he did today? Leona and Reid arrived home.

Leona called Belle as soon as she got home.

Belle answered, "Mom."

"What's going on tonight? Why isn't Olivia here?"

Belle heard Leona was angry and said, "Mom, do you think it is appropriate for Olivia to be there tonight?"

Leona frowned.

Belle continued, "Mom, it's best that Olivia was not there tonight. Otherwise, the engagement party might not end well?"

Leona's heart tightened.

Her mind raced and she quickly understood.

Her daughter was right.

If Olivia Visit to read the newest content, everyone! well.

"Mom, don't worry. Olivia will never have anything to do with Everett again."

Because she was already Brayden's wife.

Leona did not know that Brayden Visit to read the newest content, everyone! that, she said, "I don't think so. Brayden and Olivia have not received the license, and neither has Everett and Melody.' As long as you didn't get your license, everything could change.

"Mom, Olivia and Brayden have gotten their licenses."

"What?"

"Brayden showed me his marriage certificate with Olivia yesterday. They got it a few days ago, and now they're legally married." Leona was shocked.

She never expected it to be so soon.

She thought it would be next year before the two of them could get their licenses.

Belle continued, "Mom, so you don't have to worry"

Belle knew what Leona was worried about.

She was worried that Olivia would be with Everett again.

She didn't want them to be together again.

Now that Olivia and Brayden were married, she could rest assured.

But Leona still didn't believe it.

"Are you serious?"

"Mom, if you don't believe me, I'll show you the marriage certificate tomorrow.'

"Okay, bring it over!"

"Bring it tomorrow morning." Leona thought she had to see it with her own eyes before she believed Belle's words.

"Well, mom, see you tomorrow.' Belle hung up.

Leona held her cell phone, her heart beating fast.

She had prayed that Olivia would marry soon.

She didn't care who Olivia would marry, as long as the person was not Everett.

Now that she suddenly married someone, she couldn't believe it.

Belle went to Brayden's bedroom, found him packing, and immediately went to him.

"Brayden, where are you going?" Brayden looked at her.

"Mom, I'm flying to Paris tomorrow morning.' He was going to find Olivia and tell her that they were legally married.

"Paris? What are you doing in Paris?"

"Olivia is there." Belle suddenly laughed.

"So you are going to see your wife. Then I won't stop you. What time is your flight tomorrow?"

"Twenty past six in the morning."

"So early?"

"Yes, He wanted to see her earlier.

"Well, you should rest early. I don't want to bother you."

"Good night, mom."

Belle and Kingsley got up early to send Brayden to the airport and watched him get on the plane.

For some reason, Belle's eyes turned red as she watched Brayden leave.

Kingsley said, "Don't worry, our son has grown up.'

He had his own opinions, and he knew what to do and what not to do.

Belle nodded and choked.

"Kingsley, I don't want anything else. I just want Brayden to be healthy and happy."

"Me too"

Belle and Kingsley returned home.

As soon as they got home, Belle's phone rang. It was Leona's call.

"Mom"

"Belle, are you here?"

"I'm coming over now."

"Ok"

Belle hung up and Kingsley asked, "What's wrong?"

"Mom asked me about something. I'll go over first."

"Go ahead"

Belle took the marriage certificate and went to Leona's house.

Leona had been waiting for her.

When she heard the car coming in, she got up and went out immediately.

Seeing Belle get out of the car, she couldn't wait to walk over.

"Where's it?"

She didn't sleep much last night thinking about it and got up early this morning.

Just wait for Belle to visit to read the newest content, everyone! Leona to be in such a hurry, but she still took the marriage certificate here.

Leona immediately took it over and opened it.

There visit to read the newest content, everyone! marriage certificate, and their information was clearly registered.

The most important thing was the stamp below, which was the stamp of the civil affairs bureau.

And it was picked up in this district.

Seeing this, Leona finally relieved.

They really got the license.

Olivia and Everett were no longer related.

Belle looked at Leona's relaxed eyebrows and said, "Mom, don't worry. Olivia will be your niece-in-law in the future.' She wouldn't have anything to do with Everett.

Leona frowned when hearing the title and said, "Now that she's Brayden's wife, she has to stick to her duties and live a good life with Brayden. She can't be as unguarded as before."

"These are the things you should tell her as a mother-in-law.' Leona was really dissatisfied with Olivia. But there was nothing she could do.

It was hard for her to say anything now, so she could only remind Belle.

"Yes, I know:"

Belle didn't stay at Leona's place much longer.

After showing Leona the marriage certificate, she left soon.

Leona watched the car drive away, and she took a long breath.

As long as Olivia married someone else and it was not Everett, that was wonderful.

She walked in and stopped very quickly.

Olivia and Brayden got their licenses.

Everett didn't know about this, did he? Leona stood there, thinking about the engagement party last night, and then thinking about the license, her heart sank.

Yes.

Everett didn't know it.

He had absolutely no idea.

Otherwise, he would never have watched Brayden announce his engagement to Olivia last night.

Leona clenched her hand, picked up her phone, and immediately called Belle.

Soon, Belle's voice came.

"Mom"

"Who else knows about it, Belle?"

"Me, Kingsley, and grandpa."

"Well, don't tell anyone about this, especially Everett."

If Everett knew it, he might have done crazy something.

"Mom, don't worry. I won't let Everett know."

Everett always wanted to stop Brayden and Olivia's relationship. How could she let him know it now!

"That's good. Bye."

"Ok."

Leona hung up the phone and held it tightly.

The engagement last night made her think it was hard for Olivia and Brayden to get married later.

But now she was completely relieved.

Even if they couldn't get married next valentine's day, it wouldn't change the fact that they were husband and wife. Everett, you finally failed once.

Fit For Your Love Chapter 209

/ Fit For Your Love

Olivia didn't know what was going on in Capital City.

All she thought about was design.

After chatting with Donald and Spencer that night, the three of them arranged to visit Spencer's jewelry store the next day.

So Olivia got up early in the morning and went to the appointed place.

SY Jewelries.

The name of Spencer's jewelry store.

The taxi stopped outside SY Jewelries and Olivia got off.

Donald came over immediately.

"Olivia" He had been waiting outside the store.

Olivia trotted over.

"Good Morning! How long have you been here?"

She had already arrived twenty minutes earlier than the appointed time, but her master had arrived even earlier.

Donald smiled and said, "Not long after. Let's go in."

"Okay"

The two of them didn't say much.

They walked in and Spencer came out to greet them.

"Olivia, Donald, come and see our new arrivals.'

Olivia, "Okay, Spencer.' Donald chuckled.

"I have seen almost every item.' Spencer glared at him.

"Go away. I didn't mean you. I'll show my store to Olivia only.'

"Whatever, I'm not interested.'

"Hey, you old man. Be nice."

The two old men fought against each other.

Olivia curled her lips and went to the counter to look at the jewelry on the gold flannel.

Spencer's shop was as elegant and quaint as the store name.

It was like a jewelry store in ancient times.

It was very tasteful.

Since the shop was so antique, so was the stuff on the counter.

The accessories were all ancient.

Olivia looked at these antique jade hairpins and silver bracelets and felt like she had walked into another world.

Spencer walked over and said, "All these were handmade by experienced masters. Every piece is unique."

Olivia nodded, her eyes shining.

"I can see it."

After taking a closer visit to read the newest content, everyone! the same design shared differences in details.

Obviously, the accessories were made from pure handiwork.

Olivia took a look at a jade hairpin and visit to read the newest content, everyone! course."

Spencer personally took it out and gave it to her.

Olivia carefully took it with both hands.

In an instant, a cool feeling came from the palm of her hand.

Her eyes sparkled.

She caressed the jade hairpin carefully and then looked at the hairpin.

An orchid was carved on the hairpin's head, so lifelike.

Elegant.

She could imagine how elegant it was to stick this jade hairpin in a girl's hair.

Spencer saw that she liked it and said, "If you like it, I'll give them to you."

Olivia hurriedly visit to read the newest content, everyone! looked at her nervous expression and said with a smile, "You don't have to be polite with me. I'm a person who cares about fate. If you like this hairpin, it means that you are destined."

Olivia shook her head.

"You can't do that."

The jade hairpin was precious, which must cost at least several thousand.

How could she receive a gift that was so expensive? Olivia said no.

Spencer had no choice but to say, "Well, since you don't want anything, you can ask me any questions. I'll tell you everything I know."

"Okay"

Olivia took out her pen and notebook and began to take notes on the things he said.

During that time, she asked Spencer as long as she had any questions.

She was extremely serious.

Donald stood beside the two of them, looking at Olivia's serious appearance.

He suddenly remembered the time when he had just met Olivia.

In the beginning, he expected to have someone competent to learn green embroidery.

Olivia was a good choice.

And she came in time.

Then he began to teach her green embroidery.

She was serious, polite and respectful, leaving a good impression on him.

Later on, Bill hurt her.

She chose to be tolerant.

He admired her for her generosity.

Until now, he had already regarded her as his disciple.

His last disciple.

Olivia stayed at SY Jewelries for the whole morning.

When Spencer invited them to have dinner together, Olivia said yes without hesitation.

The three of them went to a restaurant in Q City.

Olivia paid the money early, so Spencer kept complaining about her.

Olivia smiled and said, "I've been bothering you all morning. I must treat you two so that I can feel better."

"Did you learn this trick from your master?"

Donald put his hands behind his back, raised his chin, and said proudly, "What's the matter?"

Spencer pointed at him.

"You old brat!"

"Aren't you different from me?"

The two of them started talking again.

The smile on Olivia's lips lingered.

She was very happy. She was truly happy.

In the afternoon, Spencer took Olivia to his plant.

He had his own plant, which was full of old employees.

Just like Donald's factory.

Spencer took Olivia and Donald in and introduced the plant to Olivia.

Olivia picked up the pen and notebook again and took notes.

It was a busy afternoon.

Spencer asked Olivia and Donald go to his house for dinner.

His family had already prepared the dinner.

Olivia wanted to decline.

Donald said, "Go, why not?"

"I haven't been to your house for a long time!"

"Let's hurry up"

So they went to Spencer's home and had dinner.

After dinner, Olivia chatted with Spencer and Donald and went back to the hotel.

Originally, she was going to send Donald back, but Donald told her to go back to the hotel early to rest.

He and Spencer still had to talk.

He knew she was busy.

Olivia also know that Donald had not talked like this with his old friend for a long time, so she went back.

When she returned to the hotel, she opened her PC and began to organize today's notes.

By the time she was done, it was already two in the morning.

She looked at her plan in the computer. After a while, she picked up her phone and dialed a number.

/ Fit For Your Love

Preston was in a video conference when his phone rang.

He raised his hand to signal the person on the screen to stop and take the phone.

Seeing the name on the screen, he raised his eyebrows and stroked the answer button.

"Olivia, at this time, it should be early in the morning at home."

"Yes, Mr. Smith, I have a job to report to you"

She sounded serious, her voice as clear as ever. Preston curled his lips.

"Go ahead."

"I went to see the jewelry craftsmanship that has been passed down for hundreds of years today. It's very good. I think we can design the new brand of jewelry, and then entrust them to do the jewelry:"

Mr. Miller's crafts were meticulous and vivid.

They had been passed down for hundreds of years and nothing could compare with them and the spirits in them.

So instead of looking for another factory, she suggested entrusting Mr. Miller's factory to do the production.

She believed that everything would be beautiful and perfect.

Preston tapped his finger on the table and said two seconds later, "How much do you know about that factory?"

"I know it very well."

"Well..."

Before Preston could finish, Olivia interrupted him.

"Mr. Smith, you can come to this factory if you have time."

After all, they were developing a new brand, and everything had to do with whether the new brand could help push AK Company to a new high.

"Ok, I'll reschedule my plan. I'll call you when I get there."

"Okay:"

Olivia was about to hang up when Visit to read the newest content, everyone! to do with Max?"

Olivia was stunned.

The topic was changed so fast that she couldn't react at once.

Preston didn't hear her voice and Visit to read the newest content, everyone! that after I leave, no one will take care of Max?"

Olivia returned to her senses and said, "No, I trust you. You will arrange it."

He was a big boss who often went on business trips but still had a dog.

He must have some take care of his dog.

So she wasn't worried.

Preston smiled at her words of absolute trust.

She finally stopped prejudicing him.

"Mr. Smith, I'm going to rest. I'll hang up first.'

"Okay, have a good rest.'

After hanging up, Olivia closed the lid of the computer, showered, and went to bed.

But thinking about Preston's words before going to bed, Olivia thought of Max and its coquettish look.

She smiled happily.

Preston put his phone on his desk and said to the person in the video, "Continue."

Half an hour later, the meeting was over, and he pressed the inside line and said, "Book me a flight to Q City tonight."

"Okay, Mr. Smith."

Brayden arrived at Paris Airport at 4:10 pm.

After he got off the plane, he didn't go straight to Olivia.

Instead, he went back to his apartment where he had stayed with Olivia and put down his luggage.

He then washed up before he went to AK clean and refreshed.

When he arrived at AK, it was almost 5:30.

The car stopped outside the building where AK Company was.

He got out of the car and walked in.

After the last meeting, Preston came out of the elevator.

As soon as he came out, he saw Brayden walking in.

He stopped and looked at him.

Dressed in light-colored casual clothes, he had a gentle and elegant demeanor. Brayden didn't know Preston, so he didn't look at him but walked straight to the front desk.

Preston looked at Brayden and remembered something he had forgotten in the past two days.

Brayden and Olivia would get engaged on the ninth day this month of the lunar new year. It was the eleventh day today and two days had passed.

But he didn't hear anything about Brayden's engagement. So had they been engaged or not?
