/ Fit For Your Love

In front of the corner, Everett, Davis and a few men came out of a private room.

Everett walked in the middle with a suit Jacket on his left arm.

He was wearing a black shirt, black trousers, and black leather shoes. With a tall figure and long legs, he was very eye-catching, who can be noticed at first glance.

With a V-taper, he was very well-proportioned, which made people reluctant to look away from him.

Such a person in the crowd could be noticed at the first glance.

They were walking forward.

Everett didn't speak, and other men were talking to Davis.

Everett was like a king, who only needed to know the result.

Melody's heart was pounding...

Every time she looked at him, her heart beat fast.

However, she was getting further and further away from him.

Soon, they stood in front of the elevator.

Melody looked up and walked over with cat steps.

Her high heels clattered on the marble floor.

Everett turned around.

Davis also looked over.

The two of them were already familiar with Melody's footsteps.

Seeing Melody, Davis was surprised and greeted her, "Miss Johnson"

The other men heard his words and looked at Melody too.

A flash of surprise flashed across their eyes.

"Miss Johnson, nice to meet you here."

They could rarely meet big stars like Melody.

Especially she was a beautiful, charismatic, and imposing big star.

She was Visit to read the newest content, everyone! at Everett and curled her lips.

"Everett, I didn't expect to meet you here." Everett looked at her.

"Alone?"

"No, I just had a chat Visit to read the newest content, everyone! two of them.

One of them said, "We just saw Miss Johnson on TV show before.It's our honor to finally meet you in person today."

Another man answered, "Yes, Mr.Weston is so lucky!"

Melody took Everett's arm and finally looked at the other men, saying, "I won't allow you to take Everett to any hang- outs."

The men quickly said, "Miss Johnson, don't make fun of us!"

Melody smiled deeply.

"That's good."

Looking at Everett, she said, "It's getting late.Are you going back to the hotel?"

"Yes."

They hurriedly said, "We won't disturb you anymore."

Everett, "Have a good time, everyone.It's my treat."

"You're welcome, Mr.Weston-' Everett said to Davis, "Take good care of them."

"Okay"

Everett and Melody left the western restaurant.

The car was already parked outside the restaurant.

The driver saw the two of them come out, get out, and open the back door.

Everett gentlemanly asked Melody to sit in first, then he went in after she sat down.

The driver closed the door and got in the car.

Soon, the car drove forward.

Melody looked at the man sitting next to her and leaned on his shoulder.

“Have you missed me lately?”

As she spoke, she took his hand and played with it.

Everett looked ahead.

“I miss you every day.” Melody thought he would say “what do you think?” but she didn’t expect him to say he missed her. And “miss her every day”.

Melody was stunned.

But soon, she held his face and looked at him.

“How much do you miss me?”

Everett lowered his eyes.

There was no light in the car, and the back seat was even darker.

But Melody clearly saw what Everett said in his eyes.

“I miss you as much as you want.”

As soon as he finished speaking, Melody hugged his neck and kissed him on the lips.

But the moment her lips were about to kiss Everett, Everett turned his head away.

Her red lips fell on his face. The air froze

When Melody pressed her lips against Everett’s cheek, it was like a frozen frame. She did not move at all.

“So this is how much you’ve been missing me?”

Melody asked after a long while, her lips leaving from Everett’s face.

Everett stared at her and said in a low voice, "Otherwise?"

Melody's fingers curled up.

A few seconds later, she smiled, "So you're angry?"

"Everett, I haven't done anything yet.' She had just told the truth, and he was like this.

If she really did something, what would he do to her? The corner of Melody's red lips lifted.

She sat upright, stared ahead and said in a quiet voice, "Everett, what's done can't be undone, and you can never go back."

"Just like that baby you abandoned before it was born."

'So, what do you have to compete with Brayden?"

"You lost the game at the beginning"

"No matter what I do, it will not affect this outcome" She thought.

The car stopped at the hotel and Melody got off.

Hardly had she stood still than the car drove past her.

He didn't like anyone interfering in his affairs, no matter how much he cared about that person.

Once someone stepped in, it was a violation of his bottom line.

Melody's eyes were filled with mockery.

His indifference, his ruthlessness, she had already experienced them two years ago.

But now, she seemed to have just known him.

Everett went back to the hotel, threw his Visit to read the newest content, everyone! rested his head on the sofa.

Then he shut his eyes.

As he closed his eyes, the night that had happened two years ago Visit to read the newest content, everyone! the ground, covered in blood, her face pale as paper.

She had been staring at him with hope, longing, and pleading in her eyes.

She had said, "Everett, it's your baby. He's over four months old. He has already taken shape..."

"He moves in my womb. He's docile and obedient. He never bothers me. He's really good. I beg you, please keep him..."

"You can punish me in whatever way you want. I just beg you to keep him. Even if you want me to die, I'm OK with it, Everett..."

"Everett, I beg you. For Visit to read the newest content, everyone! our baby. I'm begging you..."

"Everett..."

The pleadings still seemed to be in his ears.

It was like yesterday.

All of a sudden, her voice had changed.

It had become hollow and blank.

"Have you ever loved me? Even a little?"

"No"

Suddenly, he was emotionally torn apart.

Everett sat up and covered his heart.

The pain that he had never felt before invaded his veins.

It felt so odd that he did not know what to do.

He just sat there, his head down, his hands clutching the shirt on his chest, his forehead knotting in a frown, his body unmoved.

It was quiet at night.

Everything noisy fell into a deep sleep.

Everything seemed to have changed.

And seemed not to have changed...

Brayden went back to the hotel.

When the elevator went by Olivia's floor, he pressed down the button subconsciously.

But how come the elevator would stop if he pressed the button at this moment? He smiled, laughing at his own stupidity.

He wanted to see her, but was worried that Everett would embarrass her if he went to see her too often.

He didn't want to distract her at this point of time.

The elevator stopped on his floor and Brayden walked out, sending a message to Olivia.

"Go to bed early at night. Staying up late will hurt your body."

At this moment, Olivia had just arrived at the hospital.

Her phone was in her bag.

She trotted into the hospital but didn't hear the text tone.

Soon she arrived at the ward Elizabeth was in at the in-patient department.

"Dad, is mom awake?" Olivia ran into the ward and asked.

Her eyes fell on the woman lying on the bed.

Elizabeth leaned against the bed and covered her head with her hands painfully.

When she heard Olivia's voice, she looked over.

At the moment she saw Olivia, her eyes brightened.

"Olivia, you're back?"

Elizabeth said quickly and reached out to Olivia.

Olivia immediately went over.

"Mom, you are awake. How do you feel now?"

Sitting on the bed, Olivia took Elizabeth's hand and looked at Elizabeth carefully.

Elizabeth's face was pale and her brows were furrowed.

Olivia could tell that her mom was not comfortable.

Looking at George, she asked, "Dad, has the doctor come and see mom yet?"

George said, "Yes."

"What did the doctor say?"

"There's nothing wrong for the time being, but it's going to take a few days to observe." Olivia nodded.

"Okay. Then observe for a few days."

Unlike when we were young, when we were older, we should pay attention to every bruise and don't be careless.

Elizabeth took Olivia's hand and said, "Olivia, you're finally back. I thought Visit to read the newest content, everyone! her eyes as she spoke.

Olivia said softly, "Mom, you'll be fine. Don't worry"

It was rare for her to see her mother like this. Looked Visit to read the newest content, everyone! this time.

Elizabeth shook her head.

"Olivia, I'm afraid I'll never see you again. I'm really afraid..."

"Mom, you've always been in good health. We need to check up this time. And we'll do whatever the doctor says. Don't worry overly. Many of the illnesses are caused by your own imagination."

"No, it's different this time. The moment I fell, I felt like I was going to die. Olivia, you don't understand that feeling. I was really..."

Before Elizabeth could finish speaking, tears began to flow.

Olivia was heartbroken and hugged her.

"Mom, trust me. You'll be fine."

"There will be something wrong. I always feel uncomfortable."

Elizabeth hurriedly said, "Olivia, do you think I will die before my grandson is born?"

Olivia's body stiffened.

Grandson...

Elizabeth held Olivia's hand tightly and said anxiously, "Olivia, I don't think I can wait any longer. You have to give birth to a child quickly. Let me see my grandson in my life, or I will die with a grievance!"

Olivia pursed her lips.

Child.

How could she have a child? She and Brayden were not married at all.

And...she didn't want a child either.

"Mom, calm down first. We'll talk about this later. It's very late now. Rest well and don't think about anything."

"No, if you don't promise me, I won't sleep!"

"Promise me now and let me hold my grandson next year, or...Or I might as well die now!"

She was about to hit the wall. Olivia quickly grabbed her.

"Morn, what are you doing?"

"I want to hold my grandson!"

"Sydney is so young and hasn't graduated yet. I can't count on her. I can only count on you. Olivia, if you don't promise me, I'll die in front of you tonight!"

Elizabeth said it very firmly, as if she really hit the wall if Olivia didn't agree.

George hurriedly said, "Olivia, just promise your mother. Anyway, you are married now, and the baby will be born soon. Your mother is emotional instability now. If she hurt herself, you and Sydney don't have a mother!"

Olivia frowned.

It was not that she didn't agree. But how did she have a baby? How about going to the orphanage and hold one? Seeing that Olivia was silent, Elizabeth said, "I don't want to live!"

She closed her eyes and wanted to hit the wall.

Olivia immediately said, "I promise!"

Before Olivia called out, Elizabeth bumped into the wall.

Fortunately, Elizabeth softened her actions a little bit after hearing Olivia's voice.

So she didn't hit the wall with much force.

But even so, it still made Elizabeth dizzy.

She sacrificed a lot to get Olivia back.

Olivia looked at Elizabeth and said quickly, "Dad, call a doctor!"

George didn't expect Elizabeth would actually run towards the wall.

He was shocked and immediately called the doctor.

In order to make Olivia believe what she said, Elizabeth bumped into the wall not long after hanging up Olivia's phone.

Elizabeth had used all her strength.

George didn't expect her to do it again.

He was really worried now.

George quickly brought the doctor.

The doctor examined Elizabeth and took her to do an X-ray.

The results came out quickly.

Olivia hurriedly asked, "Doctor, how's my mother?"

"From the current result, there's nothing wrong with her, but from what I saw about your mother, I think she should stay here for a night for observation. Tomorrow morning, she will receive another check."

"Okay, doctor."

Olivia came to her mother, who was lying on the bed and looked worriedly at her.

"Mom, don't do anything stupid. I promise you I would do as you said."

Elizabeth heard her and stopped groaning.

"Really?"

"Yes, I am serious."

"Then you come home with your husband some time. After you got married, we even haven't had dinner with him. Bring him back. I will cook something you Visit to read the newest content, everyone! of them came back, every problem could be solved.

Olivia frowned.

How could she ask Brayden to come to her parents' house? In other Visit to read the newest content, everyone! was still watching her.

If brought Brayden home, what would Everett do?

"Mom, Brayden is busy. He is always on a business trip. I don't think he can come."

"Always on a business trip? Then how can you get pregnant?"

"He's not on a business trip every day. When he's home, I am always with him--"

"How can that work? You've had a miscarriage before, and it's not easy to get pregnant. Now you two don't spend much time together, how can you get pregnant? How can I have a grandson?"

"No, Visit to read the newest content, everyone! hit the wall again!"

As she said, she struggled to sit up.

Olivia quickly held her down.

"I promise you. I'll try my best to get him to come over, okay?"

"He has to come!"

"Call him now. I'm his mother-in-law anyway. Even if you owe him five million, that won't change the fact that he's my son-in-law!"

"Call him, right now!" Olivia's heart ached.

But she suppressed the pain and said, "It's early in the morning. He's sleeping. I'll call him tomorrow morning."

Elizabeth wanted to refute.

His mother-in-law was lying in the hospital, and he was still in the mood to sleep.

But George quickly said, "Elizabeth, we are not in a hurry. Our son-in-law is a busy man. It's unreasonable to wake him up this late. It's better to wait until tomorrow morning when he gets up."

George said and winked at her meaningfully.

They owed him five million.

They didn't have to be too hasty.

Elizabeth then said, "Fine, call him tomorrow morning. If you don't, I'll jump off the building."

"I will, mom. Have a good rest. I'll be here to watch over you tonight."

"OK, you're not allowed to go anywhere." She had to watch over her at the hospital.

Otherwise, she would be worried.

"Okay:"

"Dad, you can go home. I'll stay with mom."

Olivia said to George.

"Okay, you stay here. I am going now."

When George left the ward, he saw the suitcase at the door and said, "Olivia, I am taking your suitcase home."

Olivia said, "No, dad. There are documents I need. I have to do some work later"

Hearing her say that, George felt a little pitiful.

She was so busy, trying to pay back the five million, but they kept trying to urge her to have children.

But it soon occurred to him that as long as Olivia had a child, they would not have to pay the debt.

So he did not feel guilty quickly.

They were doing it for her good and lightening her burden.

Olivia took a towel to wash Elizabeth so that she could feel better and sleep better.

But Elizabeth was afraid that Olivia would leave, so she kept staring at her.

But in the end, she could not resist the drowsiness and fell asleep.

Olivia gently pulled her hand out of Elizabeth's hand.

To prevent her from leaving while she was asleep, Elizabeth kept holding her hand.

After tucking Elizabeth in, Olivia took out her phone.

Olivia knew her mother wasn't joking with her this time.

She didn't want anything to happen to her mother.

However, the moment when she took out her phone, she saw a text message on the screen.

It was from Brayden.

Seeing this message, Olivia felt warm-hearted and sent a message back to him.

"My mom had an accident and I might need your help. Call me back tomorrow when you see the message."

After the text message was sent, Olivia went to open the suitcase to take out the design drawings.

As soon as her hand touched the suitcase, her phone rang.

Olivia immediately declined the call and turned to Elizabeth.

When she saw that Elizabeth just frowned, she breathed a sigh of relief.

She quietly walked out, closed the door of the ward, and walked a little further before checking who had called her.

It was Brayden.

Seeing Brayden's name, Olivia looked at the time.

It was already over one o'clock in the early morning.

Was he still awake? Olivia called back to Brayden.

As soon as the phone got through, Brayden's voice came through.

"Olivia, how is auntie?" His voice was filled with anxiety.

"It's nothing serious at the moment, but my mom is a little emotional. I need your help."

"Tell me, what can I do?"

"My mom asked me before about whether we were married or not.

Since I didn't want her to worry, so I told her that we were married.

Today, mom bumped her head and was in an unstable mood, asking you to come back to meet her."

"No problem. I'll book the flight right away."

"And..."

"What?"

"She wants us to have Visit to read the newest content, everyone! say yes for the time being."

There was no sound on the phone.

Olivia was confused, "Brayden?"

"I'm listening, just..." He paused.

"Hmm? What is it?"

"Nothing. Do Visit to read the newest content, everyone! have sent someone to follow me all the time. If we get too close and see each other too frequently, I think he'll make some trouble. The new brand is going to be launched in the second half of this year. I don't want to go against him during this period."

"Okay, I know what to do."

She just didn't want Everett to know that he was with her.

"Well, Brayden, thank you."

Brayden smiled, "There's no need to thank me now. Save it. You can thank me for once in the future."

"Hmm?"

What did he mean?

"Okay, let's not talk about it. I'll arrange for it and you should rest early.'

Brayden hung up the phone. Olivia listened to the voice on her cell phone, which was telling her the line was busy. She was slightly confused, sensing that his last sentence seemed to imply something. What did it imply? Did he figure it out and agreed to accept her payback? Brayden quickly called Kelly and asked her about her following schedule.

"There's a concert to perform in Sydney tomorrow, but you said you will be in Q City for these days, so I declined it."

"Book me a flight to Sydney now.'

"Do not decline it?"

"Decline it."

"What?"

He asked to book a ticket to Sydney, but also to say no to the performance.

What did he mean? "You book a flight to Sydney, and I'll transfer back to C City."

"This..."

What kind of operation was this?

"Then, don't let anyone know about my change of flight. Tell them I'm going to Sydney."

Hearing this, Kelly roughly understood what the plan was.

She then asked, "Are you hiding from someone?"

"Everett."

The moment Elizabeth woke up early in the morning, she asked Olivia, "Did you call him?"

"Yes, he said he would come today."

Elizabeth's eyes lit up instantly, "Really?"

"You will see when he arrives today, won't you?"

Elizabeth smiled, "Then I'll wait!"

Soon Elizabeth said, "If my son-in-law doesn't come, I'll jump off the building!"

Jumping off a building had become her daily talk.

"He will come."

Q City was not far from C City, so he would definitely arrive today.
