/ Fit For Your Love

Everett's phone rang after he got off the plane. He pressed the answer button and walked out of the airport.

"Hello."

"Mr. Weston, Mr. James did go to Sydney."

"I see."

He then hung up and got in the car.

As soon as the car door closed, an email came in.

The title is: 'Everett, there's something you want to know'

Everett's eyes narrowed slightly, and he opened the email.

Soon, the atmosphere in the car began to cool down.

It was a photo on the phone screen.

In the photo, Brayden and Olivia walked into a neighborhood.

The name of the community was R&J.

It was the neighborhood where George and Elizabeth lived.

Their home.

Olivia was woken up by the ringtone.

She opened her eyes and took the phone in a daze.

Without looking at the screen, she answered, "Hello."

"Olivia...Are you, are you sleeping?"

Elizabeth was surprised to hear her voice, which showed she was waking up from sleep.

"Mom?"

Olivia looked at the screen and confirmed that it was Elizabeth's call, then she rubbed her eyes and sat up.

"You were just sleeping?"

Elizabeth asked again, her voice tinged with excitement.

"Yes."

Elizabeth was delighted to hear her admit it, but she couldn't help but ask, "With the son-in-law?"

The meaning was obvious.

When couples sleep together, what they would do was an unspoken thing.

Olivia paused and looked to the man beside her.

Brayden was woken up by them and he was looking at Visit to read the newest content, everyone! little embarrassed by his gaze and turned around.

"Yes, "Oh, well...That's right.Couples have to be together often.'

"Mom, what's the matter?"

She knew her mother Visit to read the newest content, everyone! but I'm in the hospital now, so I can't go back.I asked your father to come back first and cook for you."

"Mom, no need.I can do it."

"How can this work? It's different.Only when your father does it can we show that we value him.'

"I'll hang up.Your father has already gone back.That's it.Bye.'

Then she hung up the phone.

"Mom..."

The phone number she dialed was already busy.

Brayden looked at Olivia's frown, sat up, and asked, "What's wrong?"

"My dad's back.He said he wanted to cook for you."Brayden curled his lips.

"Please me?"Olivia nodded.

"Then what do you want me to do?"

He would do whatever she said.

Olivia thought for a moment and said, "It's better not to give them hope."

"Okay"

After the two washed up, George came back.

When he came back, he was still carrying a lot of food.

Seeing the Brayden and Olivia, he said with a smile, "I bought some food for you to eat."

Olivia took the food and said, "Dad, no need. You go to the hospital to take care of mom. I'll cook the dishes here."

George immediately said, "How can this work? This is the second time our son-in-law has come to our house. I must show off my skills!"

He was about to go to the kitchen when Brayden said, "No, I'm going to have dinner in the restaurant with Olivia."

George froze.

Olivia said, "Dad, you go back to the hospital to take care of mom. Don't worry about here. I know what to do."

George was anxious.

He made a deal with Elizabeth to make medicine for Olivia after dinner.

It was the traditional Chinese Medicine picked up by an old doctor, and it was especially effective for pregnancy and childbirth. If they didn't let him cook, how could he make medicine?

"This..." Brayden walked over.

"Olivia, I'm hungry. Let's go out to eat."

He didn't even look at George.

George was instantly embarrassed.

Olivia said, "Dad, Brayden is not in good health and he can't be hungry. We'll go out first. You could go to the hospital to see mom. She took her bag and went out with Brayden. George looked at the two people who had left and did not react. They just walked away and didn't treat him as his father-in-law at all! Even though he was angry, George didn't forget his business.

He called Elizabeth.

“What is it?”

“He didn’t want to eat the food I made.He took Olivia outside to eat.What am I...What am I going to do?”

“George, why are you so stupid? You can’t even handle this small thing!”
Elizabeth was furious.

“want to, but with that look on his face, what can I do? Should I farce him to eat my cooking?”

“Then why don’t you thought some other ways?”

George was enraged by what she said, “You’re smart.You have a lot of methods!”

He hung up the phone angrily.

Elizabeth was furious at his action.

But she held it and called him back.

Gorge didn’t want to answer it.but he answered it finally.

“”George, I’m telling you, if you ever hang up on me again, I’ll beat you up!”
George didn’t say anything.

Elizabeth didn’t hear him contradict her.

Then she calmed down a little and said, “You boil that medicine and leave it at home.I’ll call Olivia then.”

George heaved a sigh of relief at her words.

“HI do it now!”

“George, I warn you, if you can’t do this well, then we won’t have to be together!”

After that, Elizabeth hung up.

George, on the other hand, was 10t angry with her.He went to the bedroom and took out the medicine.

Olivia and Brayden went to an authentic restaurant here.

It was the right about lunch time.

There were a lot of people in the restaurant and it was very lively.

Olivia found empty seats and the waiter came over.

“What do you two need?”

Olivia took the menu and said to Brayden, “The boiled salted chicken here is delicious. Would you like to try it?”

“Okay” Brayden looked at her gently.

Olivia continued, “Vegetable tofu is not bad either.’

“Sure.”

“The fresh soup are mild, but it tastes good.”

“You.”

“How about a stir-fried bamboo shoot? This bamboo shoot is our own bitter bamboo shoot. Can you bear it?”

“Of course.”

“That’s it? Olivia handed the menu to the waiter. Four dishes, two people, that was enough. When the waiter left, Olivia said, “I’ll call my mom and ask if my father is at the hospital.”

“Yes.”

“Do you need my cooperation?” Olivia curved her lips.

“No”

She called Elizabeth, and she didn’t avoid Brayden. She had complete trust in him.

Brayden looked at her with his chin propped up.

His eyes were gentle, dotting, and indulgent.

It had been a long time since he had that chance to look at her so quietly.

He was very satisfied.

Olivia called Elizabeth, and soon Elizabeth’s voice came over.

“Olivia, have you eaten with my son-in-law?”

"We're eating outside, mom. Has dad returned to the hospital?"

"Not yet."

Olivia frowned, looked at the clock and said, "I'll call dad"

They had been out for half an hour, and dad should be at the hospital by now.

But before she could hang up, Elizabeth's Visit to read the newest content, everyone! making medicine for you."

"Medicine?"

She was not sick. What medicine?

"Yeah, didn't you have a miscarriage? Your first child was miscarried. It must have hurt your Visit to read the newest content, everyone! women who have miscarried need to be well taken care of to get pregnant again, and the baby will be healthy."

"Mom wants you to be happy now and have a happy family, so I get you some medicine, and you have to drink it when your dad gets it done."

Olivia didn't say anything, but her hand holding the phone tightened.

She didn't want to think about the miscarriage or the lost child.

But her mom always talked about it, and she couldn't stop her.

She Visit to read the newest content, everyone! do.

Elizabeth said quickly, "I'm going to take my medicine. Let's call it off"

Elizabeth hung up and Brayden asked, "What's wrong?"

Her face had obviously changed.

"Nothing"

She put her phone in her bag and sat down, She didn't want him to know. She didn't want him to worry about her.

In this world, the person she wished that didn't care about her the most was Brayden.

Because she couldn't afford it.

Brayden knew she didn't want to say it.

It was useless for him to ask when she didn't want to.

Only company.

He would be by her side.

Elizabeth hung up on Olivia and called George.

"I just called Olivia. How's your medicine?"

"About half an hour"

"Okay, I guess they'll be back in half an hour. You wait at home and watch her take her medicine before you come to the hospital."

"I see."

Elizabeth hung up the phone, her eyes filled with excitement.

As long as Olivia took the medicine, they had some wonderful nights.

Then they would have a baby soon? Olivia and Brayden went home after dinner.

Along the way, Olivia frowned as if something had happened.

When they finally walked into the neighborhood, Brayden asked, "What's wrong? You look unhappy." Olivia looked at him.

"Is it that obvious?" Brayden nodded seriously.

"Yes, I can tell at a glance."

He could tell whether she was happy or sad.

Olivia sighed.

"My mother asked you to come back this time because she wanted us to have a baby." Brayden was stunned.

Olivia looked up and looked ahead, her eyes filled with sadness.

"I don't want to talk about baby. When I talk about this topic, I feel uncomfortable and uncontrollable"

She mocked herself, caressed her stomach, and whispered, "Even when it comes to this topic, I will remember how alive it was when I moved and kicked me in my belly."

Brayden's heart was suddenly pierced by something.

It hurt.

Every word of hers told him what she had gone through that night.

And he didn't know what to do.

He could not heal her pain, nor make her forget.

Brayden turned around and hugged her.

"I told your parents that I don't want child"

So they wouldn't force her. Olivia shook her head.

"My mother is very persistent. I've decided. I'm going to adopt a child and tell them that it's my child." That way, they wouldn't force her. Brayden hugged her.

"Okay, we'll adopt one."

As long as she liked, she could do anything! At this moment, outside the neighborhood, a black car was parked there.

The man inside looked at the two of them hugging each other, his eyes darkening.

Olivia took out the key and opened the door.

The two of them went in.

As soon as they came in, they were greeted by the smell of medicine.

Brayden asked, frowning, "Do you smell the medicine?"

He suspected that he had smelled wrong.

Olivia smiled bitterly.

"Yes, your sense of smell is fine. It's the smell of medicine." Hearing their voice, George rushed out and said, "You're back!"

Olivia looked at George and said with a frown, "Dad, haven't you gone to the hospital yet?"

“Well, no, I’m decorating the medicinal herbs for you. Your mother was worried that you got busy and forgot to take medicine. She told me to watch you take it before going to the hospital.”

Then he went to the kitchen and took out a small bowl of black Chinese medicine.

“Here, take it-”

George looked at her eagerly.

Olivia didn’t feel like taking it and said, “Dad, I’ll take it later. You may go to the hospital first. I’m worried about mom being alone in the hospital.”

“It’s okay. Take it first. I’ll leave as soon as you take the medicine.”

Elizabeth told him to watch Olivia take it.

Looking at the medicine, Olivia didn’t want to take it, but she still handed it at the thought of her mother’s temper and George’s eyes.

As she was about to take it, Brayden took the medicine and looked at George.

“What medicine is this?” he asked.

She was fine.

Why was she taking medicine? It was clear that she wouldn’t like to take it.

George was shaken by Brayden’s cold eyes.

It was indeed that rich people had a strong aura.

Just like Everett.

None of them were pushovers.

George rubbed his hands and said with a smile, “It’s good for her health.”

“Does it need to take medicine?”

“Well... Didn’t she have a miscarriage? Well...”

“Crack...”

The Visit to read the newest content, everyone! a double-take, looking at the medicine scattered on the ground.

Olivia was also stunned.

She rarely saw Brayden get angry.

And every time the person Visit to read the newest content, everyone! the first time, he was angered by someone other than Everett.

Brayden pulled Olivia over and looked at George.

"She's in good health. She doesn't need any medicine. If you want to force her to take it, return five million to me immediately!" he said.

George's face turned pale.

Brayden said to Olivia, "Wait for me."

He went to the bedroom and took out their luggage.

"Let's go," he said.

He intended to get out of here with her.

And left this home that made her suffer.

George figured out what was going on and quickly grabbed Brayden.

"Brayden, don't get excited. We won't let Olivia take the medicine. Is that okay?"

As long as he didn't pay back the five million, he was willing to do anything! Brayden looked at him coldly.

"You have no right to mind the business of my wife, since she married me. If you want to do that, then pay the five million back to me."

"No! I won't mind her business!"

"We won't. Olivia is yours when she marries you. We won't mind her business!"

"It better be."

He took Olivia over and said, "Let's go."

Now that she was already suffering, why did they keep hurting her? He was really furious.

Olivia was about to say something as she reacted.

But she still followed Brayden at the thought of something.

If she stayed here, there was no point in him protecting her.

They quickly disappeared outside the door.

George loosened himself all over and sat down on the sofa.

But soon, he called Elizabeth.

The rich men were really changeable, and they were so demanding!

“Did she take the medicine?”

“No, Brayden...”

“What?! No? George, what’s the problem with you? You cannot take care of even such a trivial matter! What a good- for-nothing you are!”

George was interrupted by Elizabeth before he finished speaking.

He was immediately irritated.

“I want her to take it too. But Brayden just threw the medicine bowl. What could I do?”

“What... What? What did he do?”

“Well, he said that Olivia was her wife, and we had no right to mind her business. If we want to, we need to return the five million to him and he will give Olivia to us.”

“No!”

How can this be?

“I said no. Where can I get the five million?”

“Then... What happened next?”

“He’s gone with Olivia!”

George was also furious. It was supposed to be an easy job. But it was so hard to do.

He had no choice! “I... Well, let me see...”

Fit For Your Love Chapter 247

/ Fit For Your Love

Brayden took Olivia to the hotel. He booked a room and dragged Olivia in.

The door was closed. He placed his suitcase aside and looked at her.

"Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

"Why bear all this alone?"

Olivia smiled apologetically and said, "It's a shame to let you know it."

What her family did really embarrassed her.

Brayden felt hurt seeing Olivia act like that.

She still smiled even when it was all like this.

How could she still smile? Olivia said, "Since you did that just now, they will behave themselves. Don't worry."

She reacted as if she was talking about others' business.

She was not sad at all and it seemed what she said in the restaurant was his illusion. Brayden felt terrible.

He was very uncomfortable.

"Olivia, I'm not worried about them exposing your scars, but about you."

"Can you cry? Don't laugh."

Her smile really made him feel worse.

Olivia paused and said, "It's okay. I'm used to it."

She opened the suitcase.

"I slept this afternoon, so I'm in good spirits. You go and do your work. I'll draw the final design this evening. It was supposed to be done this morning. But her mom had an accident, so she didn't have much time to draw."

Then it was time for her to calm down at night to draw.

She was going to finish all the designs.

Brayden looked at her slender figure squatting on the ground, and an emotion suddenly rushed out.

He hugged her and held her in his arms.

"Olivia, can you not be so strong?" Olivia was stunned.

Strong.

“What if I’m not strong?” She thought.

In the hospital.

Elizabeth held the phone, her hands clenching and loosening alternately.

She was anxious.

She Visit to read the newest content, everyone! could her son-in-law react so fiercely? But soon, Elizabeth’s eyes widened.

He said that Olivia was his woman, and they couldn’t disturb her.

Whoever Visit to read the newest content, everyone! that mean that as long as they didn’t bother Olivia, they didn’t have to pay back the five million? The more Elizabeth thought about it, the more she felt that way.

She couldn’t help but get excited.

And she called George.

She wanted to make sure if that was the truth.

But just as she called George, the door opened.

Elizabeth looked over and her face darkened instantly.

George was cleaning up the house.

His phone rang and he answered, “Hey, what’s the matter? I’m cleaning up the house.’

There was no sound on the phone, George was curious. Why was there no sound?

“Elizabeth?”

“Elizabeth? Can you hear me?”

There was still no sound.

Couldn’t she get a cell phone reception? Or did she press the wrong button? George thought both were possible, so he hung up and went to the hospital.

It was better to discuss what to do in the future with Elizabeth.

But when he arrived at the hospital, he saw the nurse making the bed.

Did he go to the wrong place? He retreated to check the ward number.

It was right.

But why was the nurse making the bed? George hurried in.

"Where's my wife?"

"You are?"

The nurse looked at him, confused.

"I am her husband. Who are you? My wife is still in the hospital. Why are you making the bed?" The nurse was surprised.

"Didn't this patient just get picked up? You don't know?"

"Picked up?" George was confused.

Who picked her up? Elizabeth hadn't been discharged yet! George said quickly, "Who picked her up?"

"I don't know. I just know that she has left. You can ask the doctor." George immediately went to the doctor's office.

"Doctor, who picked up my wife?"

"Your son in law"

"Son... Son-in-law?"

"Yeah, don't you know?"

"How did he know that? George quickly called Olivia. Brayden went to the bathroom to take a shower." Olivia was drawing a design draft.

When she heard her phone ring, she took it and picked it up with a stroke of her finger.

"Hello."

"Olivia, did you pick up your mother?"

Olivia looked up and frowned.

"No, what's wrong?"

"Just when I arrived at the hospital, the doctor said your mother was picked up by her son-in-law. You're with Brayden. I don't have his phone number, so I have to ask you."

"No, Brayden didn't pick mom up!"

He was with her all the time. How could he have picked up mom?

"What? Brayden didn't pick up your mother?"

"But the doctor said it was her son-in-law who picked her up!" Olivia got nervous.

A person's name crossed her mind. The pen in her hand fell off...
