Fit For Your Love Chapter 335

Olivia smiled when she saw Brayden. The nurse said he would be back in two hours, and she kept looking at the time.

Really, he came back in almost two hours. When Brayden saw her smile, he walked over.

“When did you wake up?” Olivia took the pen and paper.

“About an hour after you left.”

“You didn’t sleep long” Brayden said.

Olivia wrote, “Are you busy with something?”

Looking at him, her eyes were sparkling with curiosity. But Brayden knew she was asking Sissi.

Was there any news of Sissi? It had been a long while since yesterday.

Brayden took the pen and paper out of her hand and held her hand, “Don’t talk, I’ll tell you.

Seeing that he was serious, Olivia knew that he was going to talk about Sissi and she nodded.

“I found something about Sissi.”

Brayden looked into Olivia’s eyes and continued, “She was sent to a psychiatric hospital by Everett”

Olivia’s eyes widened and she froze. A psychiatric hospital...

Why did Everett send Sissi to a psychiatric hospital? Olivia wanted to ask.

Brayden held her hand and said, “Don’t worry. I knew you will be worried.”

Olivia was indeed worried.

How could she not be worried? What would a normal person experience after being sent to a psychiatric hospital? She would be driven mad.

Olivia took out the paper and pen in his hand, and she wanted to write down what she wanted to say.

Brayden held her hand and said, "Don't worry. Listen to me."

Olivia looked at him anxiously, her eyes filled with worry.

This was a serious matter. Brayden said helplessly, "I went to visit Sissi. She's at Sky Psychiatric Hospital and she's very excited."

Olivia frowned.

She didn't know if Sissi was mentally ill, but she knew that the girl was not a bad person. Why would Everett do that? No. He had a reason to do so.

Because Sissi threatened him.

How could a man like him bear being threatened? He would retaliate against Sissi.

Just like retaliate against her.

Olivia smiled bitterly.

Everett was as scary as a demon.

Brayden looked at Olivia's expression and said, "What do you want to do? I'll help you."

After a pause, he said, "But I think Sissi should be sent to the psychiatric hospital"

When he said this, his eyes were meaningful.

Olivia was stunned and looked at him.

Brayden said, "The wound on your neck was caused by her. Sane people wouldn't do such a thing."

Olivia lowered her head and immersed herself in her thoughts.

Brayden's words reminded her that Sissi had threatened her with jumping off the building. She was very extreme.

Sane people wouldn't do that. She took the pen and paper and wrote, "Have you seen her doctor?" Brayden nodded.

"Yes."

“What did he say?”

“The doctor said she had ocd, anxiety, mania, and phobia” Olivia frowned.

She was so mentally ill.

“But I don’t know if these symptoms are real.Brayden’s lips curled up in mockery.” Olivia paused.She held his hand in hers.Brayden looked at her.

“Can you bring her here?”

She wanted to visit Sissi, but in her current situation, Brayden wouldnt allow her.

So, she could only ask if he would bring Sissi here.

Brayden looked at the longing in her eyes and said, “I’ll think of a way.Gratitude appeared on Olivia’s face.”

Brayden.

“Thank you.”

“For always helping me” She said.

Brayden quickly called someone and personally brought Sissi out.

As soon as Sissi left, the hospital was in a mess.Soon, Davis received a call from the hospital.

Fit For Your Love Chapter 336

“Hello! “Davis, Miss Walker is missing.”

Davis, who was holding the documents, froze his hands.

“What’s going on?”

“We checked the surveillance.Someone took Miss Walker away.” Davis frowned.

“Who?”

“Mr.James, that talented violinist” Davis stopped talking.

Two seconds later, he said, “I see.”

Then he called Everett. He was a little surprised that someone had taken Sissi away at this time. But when he found out it was Mr. Simmons, he stopped being surprised.

“Sorry, the subscriber you dialed is busy now...”

Davis took down his phone, looked at the time, thought of Preston’s call, and hung up.

At this time, Mr. Weston should have gotten off the plane and was in the car.

Indeed, Everett was in the car at this time. He was on the phone with Preston.

“I saw the report that you and Melody are getting married. Does this mean that the red envelope I prepared is finally going to be delivered?” Preston said with a smile.

However, after saying that, there was no sound on the phone.

His eyes moved slightly, but he didn’t say anything more, waiting for Everett to answer him.

About half a minute later, Everett said, “Is this what you called to say?”

Preston smiled.

“Yes, this year is not my year of fate. Why my company is not going well?”

“Everything goes unwell. There’re even twists and turns during the launch of a new brand’

“There’s no choice but to try to avoid some unexpected situations”

Obviously, he was worried that Everett’s incident would affect AK Company.

AK Company was everything to him, just like what SHS Group was to Everett. He didn’t want AK Company to be affected by these external factors. He needed a positive answer from him.

Everett looked at the dense traffic ahead and said, “It will go well: He hung up the phone.

Preston listened to the busy tone of his phone and curled his lips. He meant no matter what happened, it would not affect AK Company.

“Everett, I hope that’s true then’ Davis called Everett about half an hour later.

The call went through this time.

“Hello”

“Mr. Weston, Sky Mental Hospital called. Mr. Simmons to pick Sissi up.”

Everett was silent.

Davis could hear the car honking over there.

After about a minute of waiting, Everett’s voice came over.

“Umm”

Then, the phone hung up.

Davis listened to the busy tone on his phone and hung up. Well meant that you didn’t have to worry about it. But that was not Mr. Weston’s style.

Everett threw his phone aside and looked out the window. His dark eyes were deep as usual. However, there seemed to be something different. It was not as usual. It was the next morning when Brayden brought Sissi to Olivia.

Olivia saw Sissi and immediately sat up. She subconsciously wanted to speak, but Brayden took a step ahead of her and said, “Don’t talk.”

Olivia’s lips closed. She looked at Sissi.

Sissi stood at the door and looked at her, tears streaming down her face.

Olivia’s heart ached when she saw Sissi like this. She took off the quilt and got out of bed. She could get out of bed now.

But before she could stand up, Sissi ran over and hugged her.

“Olivia, I’m sorry!” Sissi said loudly and burst into tears.

Olivia’s hands froze.

A few seconds later, she hugged Sissi and patted her on the back.

Sissi should have been scared out of her wits these days. Sissi cried for a long time. She let go of her, looked at her neck, which was wrapped in gauze, and said, “I’m sorry, I didn’t mean to.” She really didn’t mean it. She just wanted to scare Everett. She had no intention of killing Olivia.

Olivia shook her head. Her lips moved slightly, and Brayden brought her the paper and pen.

Olivia smiled.He was really paying attention to her.

Olivia took a pen and wrote on the paper, "Did Everett do anything to you?"

Anyway, Sissi was just a child in her eyes.

Girls were usually rebellious at the age of sixteen, and anything that happened at this time would affect them.

Although Sissi harmed her before, she sincerely repented and realized her mistake.

So Sissi deserved to be forgiven.

Sissi shook her head and sobbed.

"No, he sent me to a mental hospital.Then the doctors checked me and said I was mentally ill.I wasn't!"

Sissi's voice grew louder and more excited.

Olivia patted her on the back and wrote on the paper, "Don't get excited"

She looked at Brayden.Brayden knew what she was going to ask and said, "I took her to another hospital yesterday after I picked her up.She's fine"

Olivia pursed her lips and looked cold.

"Everett, I know you're ruthless."

"But she's just a child, are you still human?" She thought.

Brayden looked at the solemn face of Olivia and said, "I picked her up.It's all right."

Olivia wrote, "Help me take Sissi to her father's hospital."

It was better for her to be by her father's side.Then he wrote it on paper and showed it to Sissi.

"I thought about it.Since your father is a human vegetable, he can't manage the company.Even if Everett doesn't buy your father's company, you can't take over your father's company.If Everett buys it, you might still have money in your hands."

"You are still young.You can study abroad and major in medicine.See if you can make your father wake up in the future.There are still many possibilities in your life.Don't ruin your future."

“You should cherish your own life, understand?”

Sissi cried when she saw these words.

Brayden sent Sissi away.

Olivia came to the balcony and looked far away. He held the railing tightly.

“Everett, aren’t you afraid of retribution for being so heartless?” She thought.

Brayden took Sissi to her father’s hospital and left. But Sissi stopped him.

“Well.” Sissi suddenly spoke.

Sissi remained silent after leaving Olivia’s ward. But she suddenly said something now.

Brayden stopped and turned to look at her, waiting for her to continue.

Sissi twiddled her fingers and said, “Why?”

Brayden put his hand in his pocket.

“Why did I bring you out?” Sissi nodded.

When Brayden arrived at the psychiatric hospital, he directly told her his identity and the purpose of coming there when he saw Sissi.

After listening, she left with him without hesitation.

That hospital was horrible.

She was afraid. She didn’t want to stay there for any moment. She believed that at that time, even if it were her enemies came, she would beg them to bring her out.

But when she left with Brayden, Brayden took her to another hospital. She was scared in that hospital. She ran away when she saw she was taken to a hospital again, but his words stopped her.

He said if she wanted to prove she was not a psycho, she shouldn’t run. She didn’t run away. She wanted to prove that she was not mentally ill. She didn’t suffer from the illnesses those doctors said. She didn’t! So she followed him in. Then the results came out.

And Brayden said that he would take her to see Olivia tomorrow morning.

Then he left. He asked her to stay in a hotel and found someone to watch her.

Then one night, she could not sleep at all, and she was at a total loss.

It was only in the morning when she saw Olivia that Sissi gradually came to her senses.

Now she was well aware. She was aware that Brayden didn't like her at all. She found Brayden hated her very much.

He didn't even want to take another look at her.

If Olivia hadn't asked him to bring her out, he wouldn't have cared about her at all.

And she knew why he hated her.

That was because she had hurt the person he loved the most.

It was because of this that she felt that even if he was willing to fulfill Olivia's wish, he didn't have to bring her out himself.

She felt that he had some other purpose. She wanted to know.

Suddenly.

Brayden looked at her with no warmth in his eyes and no expression on his face. He was like an ice cube, releasing a cold aura.

"I want Olivia's heart. Even if I want you to suffer, I will listen to her" Sissi stood there, shocked and motionless. What kind of love could disarm his hatred to her? Brayden got in the car, started the car and drove to Olivia's hospital.

Suddenly, the phone rang. He answered.

"Hello."

"Brayden, let me tell you something. I suggest we should treat the girl you brought last night."

"She's not very mentally ill, but if she doesn't get treatment, I'm worried that her condition will worsen if something irritates her"

"No, she's mentally strong."

"She won't get this disease if she's mentally strong."

“I’m driving here. We’ll talk later”

“You... Well, have dinner with me if you’re free”

“Okay” Brayden hung up the phone and looked at the traffic ahead with no emotion in his eyes.

Olivia was waiting for Brayden in the hospital.

She really wanted to take Sissi to her father’s ward in person, but she couldn’t do that, so she could only wait for Brayden to come back and tell her the situation.

Brayden was back in less than an hour.

Seeing him come back, Olivia’s face lit up with a smile.

Brayden looked at the light in her eyes, and said with the voice full of tenderness.

“Have you been waiting for me?”

“Yes”

Although he knew that she did that because she wanted to know how Sissi was doing, he was still happy.

“Are you afraid I can’t take her out?”

Olivia immediately shook her head and hurriedly took the pen to write something.

Brayden held her hand and said with a smile, “I’m joking. Olivia was helpless.

She was trying to explain.

How could she not believe him? She was very relieved of him. He was the person she trusted the most in the world. Brayden looked at Olivia’s smile and held her in his arms with his chin against her hair.

“Olivia, after the launch of the new AK brand this year, let’s move abroad and settle down”

Fit For Your Love Chapter 338

On the fifth day of Olivia staying in the hospital, the doctor removed the gauze from her neck.

Brayden watched from the side, his eyes fixed on her neck.

When the last layer of gauze was removed, Olivia's slender and fair neck was exposed.

There was a scar just below her left ear.

It was not big, only a third of the fingernail cover of the little finger.

But it was such a small wound that almost killed Olivia.

Brayden looked at the wound and clenched his hands.

Olivia looked at Brayden's darkened face and held his hands which were clenched into fists.

Brayden paused and looked at her.

When he saw her gentle eyes, the anger in his heart gradually disappeared.

The doctor said to Olivia, "You are recovering well. You can talk and eat, but you can only eat liquid food. You can't chew. Too much chewing will tear the wound and is not conducive to the recovery of the wound"

"Okay, is there anything else that needs to be careful about?" Brayden asked.

"Yes, although she can talk, she can't talk too much and shout is absolutely not allowed"

"I see"

The doctor also said some precautions, which Brayden remembered in his heart.

The doctor left.

Olivia looked at Brayden.

"Brayden." Her voice was hoarse.

It was as if her throat was broken.

Brayden looked at her neck and said nervously, "How is it? Did you tear your wound when you spoke?"

If her vocal cords were to make a sound, her necks would be influenced. He was worried.

Looking at his extremely nervous appearance, Olivia smiled.

“No, I’m not talking very loudly. I won’t tear the wound.”

Brayden was relieved to hear the happiness, easiness, and relief in her voice.

“But did you remember what the doctor just said? You can’t talk a lot in a day”

Olivia smiled and asked, “Do you want me to say a few words a day?”

Brayden nodded solemnly.

“Yes.” Olivia stroked her forehead.

She was joking.

But he was serious.

Almost ten o’clock, Grace came to the hospital.

Grace returned to H City yesterday.

The first thing Grace when Grace returned to H City was to see Olivia, and when Grace saw her looking so thin, Grace almost cried.

Olivia comforted Grace for a while.

“Olivia, are you feeling better?” Grace came in with some nourishments.

“Better” Olivia said.

Grace was taken aback when she heard Olivia speak.

She quickly came to her senses, threw her things away, and ran over.

“Olivia, you can talk now?”

Olivia’s voice was different from the voice she had when she spoke in the past, but her voice was much better now.

It was almost the same as before.

“Well, the doctor said that after two more days of observation, I can leave the hospital if things go on smoothly”

“That’s great!”

"I just want you to get better soon. You're in the hospital, and you become so skinny" Grace said with a frown.

It was true.

One could tell at a glance that Olivia was very thin now.

Olivia was so thin that she would make others feel pitiful.

Olivia curved her lips.

"It's okay. My weight will be back."

As long as she started eating, she would be fine.

Grace hugged her.

"Olivia, I like you to be fat. I don't like you to be so thin"

In Olivia's eyes, Sissi was a child, and Grace was a lively girl. Grace had a good personality.

"I know, I will be fine."

Brayden washed the fruit and said, "Don't talk too much."

Olivia smiled helplessly.

Brayden was now a supervisor, and he had his eyes on her if she just said one more word.

"Got it"

Grace couldn't help but envy the two of them when she saw how close they were. She also wanted a happy and blissful love and marriage.

Brayden looked at Grace.

"What do you want to drink? I'm going to squeeze fruit juice."

Olivia couldn't eat the fruit directly, so he squeezed the juice for her.

Grace said, "Do you have oranges? I drink orange juice."

"Yes: Then he looked at Olivia and said, "You should also drink orange juice to absorb vitamin c" “Okay Brayden took the washed fruit to squeeze the juice.

Grace said secretly, “Olivia, brother-in-law is so good”

Olivia smiled.

“You will meet such a good person in the future.” Grace shook her head.

“Unless I have done a lot of good things in my previous life” Grace said in her heart.

“No”

“Hmm?”

Grace looked at Olivia and saw that Olivia’s eyes suddenly became nostalgic. There were tenderness, love, and a lot of other emotions in Olivia’s eyes.

“A person has good and bad sides. It depends on whether he treats you good or bad” Everett was an example. He showed all his good side to Melody and all his bad side to her. It was that simple. Grace nodded thoughtfully.

Then Grace asked, “Shall I look for someone who loves me, not someone I love?”

Olivia was stunned and raised her lips.

“Yes.”

“He loves you, then he spoils you, dotes on you, and cherishes you. If he doesn’t love you, you will be in great pain because you can’t get his love.” Olivia said in her heart.

Brayden took out two glasses of juice, one for Grace and one for Olivia.

Grace took it with a smile.

“Thank you, brother-in-law: “You’re welcome: Brayden went to make himself a cup of coffee and then, he looked at Olivia.

Even if he was in the bustling city, as long as Olivia was by his side, he could only see Olivia in his eyes and he couldn’t see anything else.

Grace took a sip of the juice and looked at Olivia.

Olivia also took a sip of juice.

Seeing that Grace wanted to ask something but stopped, she asked, "What's wrong?"

Fit For Your Love Chapter 339

She asked, and Brayden looked over at Grace as well.

Grace blinked and said sheepishly, "I want to report to Olivia, but I don't know if you will...be unhappy?"

She looked at Brayden, a little afraid. Olivia was amused by her. Grace was like a mouse meeting a cat. Brayden looked at Olivia.

"I know you want to hear her report.

"So, is that a yes?"

Olivia looked at him with a smile. Brayden raised his wrist and looked at his watch.

"You have twenty minutes."

"Okay" Grace immediately said, "You are so nice!"

Brayden got up and looked at Grace, "It's 10: 15"

"Got it!"

Grace gestured OK.

Brayden took the car key and said, "I'm going out to buy something"

Olivia answered, "Okay."

He didn't disturb them.

Brayden left.

Grace smiled and said, "Olivia, Mr. James really doesn't want me to talk to you about work"

But because he knew that Olivia wanted to know what happened, he compromised.

Olivia was stunned and said, "I know"

He had always indulged her.

Grace clicked and took out the document.

“Olivia, you have a good husband and live a happy life.”

Olivia’s smile faded.

Happy? She felt guilty about being loved but not being able to give him the same love.

Brayden left the hospital, picked up his cell phone and dialed a number.

“I’m going to make arrangements for my wedding. I have to start preparing a lot of things now. I don’t want the wedding services. As for the location and details, I’ll plan them myself. Find some reliable people and follow my instructions when the time comes”

“Okay, I agree, but can you give your work some time?”

“Not yet”

“Brayden..”

“Money can be earned in any time. but there is something that you will regret for the rest of your life if you lose it.” Brayden hung up.

In the ward, Grace reported to Olivia about the work over the past few days and told Olivia about the progress of the person who was temporarily in charge of Olivia’s work.

Olivia asked who the person in charge of her work was this time? Grace said without raising her head, “My brother”

“Hmm?”

Grace’s brother? She didn’t know Grace had a brother, and her brother was at AK Company as well? Grace said, “I remembered. You don’t know yet. My brother is Jason”

Olivia was stunned.

Jason’s sister? She suddenly remembered the first time she met Jason, when she saw Grace coming out of Jason’s office.

At that time, she didn’t think much about it. It turned out that they were siblings.

However, “Why didn’t I meet you at AK Company?”

Grace spread out her hands.

“You are the senior leader of AK Company, but I’m just a nobody”

So, how could Olivia possibly meet her? Especially since she was so busy.

Olivia smiled.

“But I remember you weren’t at AK Company at first”

She was in the competition at that time. AK Company’s designers wouldn’t participate that competition.

“That’s right. At that time, I was young and aggressive. I didn’t want to rely on my brother but on my own. In the end, I met a lot of setbacks and suffered a lot. But after meeting you and knowing that you went to AK Company, I went to AK Company too” Olivia nodded.

“So your brother actually asked you to go to work at AK Company at first, but you didn’t want to.”

“Yeah”

“So I suffered a lot” ,Wronged and framed.

In short, Grace met almost all the difficulties.

What happened at that time made her wonder if she had chosen the wrong profession.

But when she met Olivia, she felt she didn’t choose wrong, and she was surer when she went to AK Company.

“Thank you, Olivia. Because of you, I continue to work in this field.” Grace said sincerely.

Olivia smiled gently.

“That’s good. I hope you keep working hard”

“Mmm!”

The two of them chatted for twenty minutes and Brayden came back.

Grace packed up and said, “You came back just on time. It’s terrible”

Brayden put the stuff on the table and said, “This is what I have to do for the person who needs to be taken care of.”

He looked at Olivia.

She was too disobedient.

Olivia didn't know what to say.

Grace looked at the two of them and giggled.

"I won't disturb you two. I'll go first!"

Olivia, "Okay."

Brayden sent her to the door of the ward.

"I won't send you out of the hospital."

"OK."

Grace waved away and Brayden walked back to the ward.

Looking at the smile on Olivia's face, he said, "I haven't seen anyone like you who likes work so much."

She was so happy.

"I wanted to surprise you, but I wanted you to feel happy yourself, so I decided to tell you about it."

Seeing how serious he was, Olivia felt a little nervous.

"Okay, I am listening"

"I'm going to start preparing for the wedding" Olivia was stunned.

The wedding...She forgot about it.

At first, Brayden said that next year's Valentine's Day would be the wedding day.

At that time, she agreed.

However, many things happened later, and the wedding was put on hold. She didn't expect he would bring this up now.

But soon she nodded.

"Okay"

Brayden was stunned when she agreed so readily.

Seeing that he was stunned, Olivia smiled and asked, "What?"

Brayden looked at the smile on her face and curved his lips.

"Nothing. I thought you wouldn't agree."

He thought he had misheard her.

Olivia smiled.

"Why wouldn't I agree?"

They had got their marriage certificate, so it was a matter of time for them to have a wedding.

Brayden shook his head.

"Nothing."

It was great that she agreed.

He was afraid that she would not agree.

If he forced this on her, she would be unhappy.

He didn't want her to be unhappy.

Olivia put the card in the bag and said, "I'll design the wedding invitation myself"

She didn't know what the card was just now, but now she knew. It was a wedding invitation.

"Okay"

Brayden went home in the afternoon. He said he was going to cook for her himself.

She knew that he was trying to cook something more nutritious.

He didn't feel easy about letting others cook.

After Brayden left, the nurse stayed in the ward to watch over her.

He was worried about her being alone in the ward, even though she was now in stable physical condition.

Olivia called Preston after Brayden left.

The doctor said that she would be discharged in a few days if everything was fine. She had to tell Preston in advance about her situation, so he could make arrangements for her work.

But no one answered the phone, and Preston's voice sounded when Olivia was about to hang up.

"Olivia." His voice was hoarse.

He sounded like he just woke up.

Olivia said, "Mr. Smith, are you feeling unwell?"

Preston heard Olivia's voice, looked at the phone for the time, and sat up.

"A little, but I am fine. You can talk now?"

"Yes, the doctor said I am doing well and I'll be discharged in a few days."

"Good, but can you tell me what happened to you?"

He wanted to know about that.

Olivia smiled and said, "It's nothing. Really."

Preston suddenly smiled. He pinched the part between his eyebrows and smiled.

"Nothing' makes you unable to talk?"

"Olivia, are you lying to a child?"

Olivia was helpless.

"Mr. Smith, I didn't lie to you. This is a small matter for me"

She just didn't expect this little thing to get complicated.

Preston shook his head.

If she thought it was a small matter, it was not a small matter at all. But no matter what, she wouldn't tell him.

In that case, he stopped asking.

He didn't want to force her.

"Then call me when you get out of the hospital. I'll arrange your work then."

"Okay, Mr. Smith."

Olivia paused and said, "Mr. Smith, take some medicine if you feel uncomfortable"

"Don't push yourself, it will get worse"

Preston was a little stunned and a gentle look appeared in his eyes.

"OK, I will"

"Then I let you rest. I'll hang up."

"Okay"

Olivia hung up the phone.

Preston listened to the busy tone and then found was 1:45 in the morning. He curved his lips and got up to look for the medicine. He didn't want to take any medicine.

He had always hated taking medicine, but when he heard Olivia's words, he suddenly felt that taking medicine was not so painful anymore.

After hanging up the phone, Olivia thought of something.

There was one thing she felt she needed to do when she was discharged from the hospital.
