

Fit For Your Love Chapter 36

/ Fit For Your Love

The plane landed in Capital City two hours later.

Brayden was getting off the plane and leaving the airport.

Belle was already waiting outside the airport.

Seeing him come out, she immediately stepped forward.

“Where is she?”

Belle looked behind him.

The Old Master lived in Capital City all the time.

Naturally, they were going back here to attend his birthday party.

Belle returned two days earlier.

That was yesterday.

So today she came to pick up Brayden.

She was expecting Brayden to come back with the girl he liked, but she only saw himself.

Belle didn't believe it.

She looked behind to see which girl her son liked.

However, Belle said, “Mom, she didn't come.’ Belle glared at him.

“Didn't I say you should bring her here? Your grandfather is looking forward to it!”

She told the Old Master about it.

It could be said that everyone in the Weston Family knew that Brayden had someone in his heart. Brayden was helpless but to push Belle forward.

“Mom, it's not time yet.”

“Not the right time?!”

Belle's eyes widened in disbelief.

"You have slept together! Do you have to wait until you have a child?"

Belle was so excited that her voice grew louder, and the people around them immediately looked over.

Brayden was speechless and pushed Belle into the car, "Mom, we didn't do that."

Belle didn't believe it at all.

How could it not have happened when they were already in bed? She would never believe it.

Brayden decided to change the subject.

"Have uncle and aunt gone back?"

"Your uncle hasn't arrived yet, and your aunt has arrived."

"Hmm? Aren't they together?"

"Your uncle must have something to do, so he's going to be late."

"Well, I see."

"Don't change the subject for me. Do you think you're like your uncle and don't want to get married?"

So he kept delaying it.

Brayden was speechless.

The Old Master's birthday was held at the hot spring villa the next day.

But the family member had come back the day before.

So it was today.

So tonight was the real-time for the family to celebrate the Old Master's birthday.

At Belle's nagging, Brayden went home to wash up and went to the Old Master's place.

All family members of the Weston Family, except Everett, had arrived yet.

Melody was playing mahjong with Leona.

The Weston Family was bustling with people.

Old Master had two sons and a daughter.

His eldest son had three sons.

Now all three of them were married and had children.

But they were not as old as Brayden.

It was too late for him to get married.

The second son had a daughter and a son.

The daughter was Belle and the son was Everett.

The youngest daughter was Cristina, who had two daughters and a son.

Only the eldest daughter of the youngest daughter's three children married abroad, the second son and the youngest daughter were not married yet.

Now everyone was doing their own things, chatting, accompanying the child, playing chess, which formed a lively scene.

When Belle and Brayden arrived, the Old Master had just ended a chess game with Reid.

Reid won.

""Grandfather.' Brayden greeted.

Wade heard his voice and immediately looked over.

"You are coming!"

"Yes, grandfather."

Wade quickly waved at him.

"Come on, I haven't seen you for a long time. Let me take a good look at you."

Brayden knelt down on one knee to let his grandpa take a close look at himself.

Wade touched his face, looked at him carefully and nodded.

"Well, our Brayden is getting more and more handsome."

He then thought of something, and he looked behind him.

“Where’s your wife?”

Brayden was stunned.

“Ah?”

Wade glared at him.

“Don’t tell grandpa that you didn’t bring your wife here!”

Brayden immediately knew what was going on and was helpless.

“Grandfather, don’t listen to mom’s nonsense.

It’s nothing.’ Looking at his appearance, Wade pointed at him and said to Reid, “Is this child shy?”

Reid smiled, “I think so.”

Brayden was speechless. Brayden handed the box to Wade.

“Grandfather, I’m still pursuing her. This is a gift from her. She wishes you a happy and healthy life.”

Wade’s face suddenly turned into a smiling flower.

“She had already sent me gifts!”

Brayden’s ears reddened.

Reid, “Now he is really shy.”

Wade burst into laughter.

The Old Master here was laughing happily.

When the people inside heard it, they all came out to see what things had made the old man so happy.

Knowing that they were talking about Brayden’s future daughter-in-law, they all teased him.

At the back, Brayden’s face really blushed being commented by so many people.

Melody looked at the bustling scene inside, she raised the corner of her mouth, picked up her phone and dialed a number.

Based on the current situation, it was no surprise that she and Everett were working out soon.

Melody was delighted to hear a familiar voice over the phone.

“When will you arrive?”

“In an hour.’ Everett was a man of his word.

When he said so, it meant he would make it in an hour.

“Well, now that everyone’s here, we’ll be waiting for you.”

“What are you so happy about?”

There was an uncontrollable joy in her voice.

“Guess.”

There was no sound on the phone.

Melody’s fingers tightened slightly and she said after a moment silence, “You might lose.”

Everett looked out of the window and a face gradually appeared in front of him.

It was stubborn, cold, and angry.

“Well.”

Olivia went to sleep when she got home.

She stayed up all night and now she was so sleepy when she was relaxed.

But after only two hours of sleep, she was woken up by her cell phone.

“Hello.”

“Olivia, pack your things right away.I’ll pick you up in half an hour.”

“For what?”

Olivia murmured with her eyes closed.

Her eyes were dry and she didn't want to open them at all.

"Olivia, what's wrong? Are you sick?"

"No, come on. What's the matter?" she asked.

She barely opened her eyes and looked at the time.

It was two o'clock in the afternoon.

"Well, I told you two days ago that Mr. Jason of Ak would be here in the next two days. I just got the news that he's already in Capital City. We have to hurry up and take the lead"

Ak was a luxury brand that specialized in women's clothing, perfume, and cosmetics.

It was very famous.

A while ago, it was heard that Ak wanted to find a partner to bring new vitality to Ak.

This era was progressing, and it was inevitable that we should improve ourselves.

Ak's strategy was very correct.

DF Company wanted this opportunity.

Once they could work with AK, DF Company would rise to a higher level and develop very well in the future.

Olivia became enlightened at once.

"Okay, I'll pack it right away." She was about to hang up when Frank stopped her.

"Olivia, are you really okay?"

"No, I just slept late last night. It's okay"

"That's it."

Hanging up the phone, Olivia went to take a bath.

Then she was refreshed after dressing up and putting on a light makeup.

She went downstairs and stood outside the neighborhood.

As soon as she stopped, Frank's car came over and stopped in front of her from afar.

As the trunk opened, she put her luggage in and got in.

Frank looked at her and said apologetically, "I'm sorry for your hard work.'

Her eyes were a little red.

Even with her makeup, it could tell that she was sleepy.

Olivia chuckled, "If you think I'm working hard, give me more bonus.'

"No problem!"

"I'm fine even if you want me!"

Olivia was lost for words.

"..Forget it" The plane arrived in Capital City two hours later.

It was already past five.

Olivia took another nap on the plane and felt much more comfortable.

But she was hungry.

Frank said, "Let's go to the hotel for dinner first, have a good rest, and go to Jason tomorrow morning.' "Okay."

The car soon stopped at Tishi Hotel.

Frank said to her, "I got a secret message. Jason is staying at this hotel."

Olivia said with a smile, "Looks like I can benefit from association with a big shot again.' Tishi Hotel was the best hotel in Capital City.

She did get the benefit.

Jason said, blinking his eyes, "If you want to come, we can be there next time, just two of us."

Olivia took the room card directly into the room and locked Frank outside.

Frank touched his nose, wondering that if he was that scary.

Olivia cleaned up and found that her throat hurt. It seemed to be a sign of a cold.

She coughed and rubbed her forehead.

To avoid catching a cold, she decided to buy some medicine later in case.

Frank quickly knocked on the door and asked her for dinner.

Olivia took her bag and went out.

It wasn't Olivia's first time in Capital City, nor was Frank.

But for food and having fun, Frank who was a senior expert, quickly took her to a authentic Sichuan restaurant.

He liked Sichuan food very much.

Besides, Olivia's hometown was over there.

Therefore, both of them liked Sichuan Cuisine.

After the meal, A Sharp pain stabbed Olivia's throat.

Frank felt it too and immediately took her to the pharmacy to buy some medicine.

By the time they got back to the hotel, Olivia began to have a headache.

That was what colds were like.

They came at once and caught you off guard.

"Olivia, I'm here to take care of you tonight.You..."

Frank was pushed out by her before he finished speaking.

When the door was about to close, he grabbed it and said seriously, "Call me if you're really uncomfortable."

Olivia gestured to him and closed the door.

She seemed to have a fever.

Olivia went to the bathroom to wash up.

After washing up, she took some medicine and lay on the bed.

She fell asleep in a daze.

At this moment, in the Weston Family.

The whole family had a happy meal, and everyone greeted the Old Master as it was his birthday.

The smile on the Old Master's face never stopped.

It was afraid that after this night, the wrinkles on the Old Master's face would be more.

"Brayden, you have to bring your wife over at grandfather's birthday next year, understand?"

The Old Master signaled to him with the gift in his hand.

This girl was so nice.

The gift she gave was meticulous, exquisite, and full of sincerity.

At first glance of it, he knew that she was a good and clever child.

Okay.

Very good! So many people gave him gifts tonight, but this child's gift won his heart the most.

Everyone laughed when they heard the Old Master's words.

Brayden was shy and his face was slightly red.

He clenched his fist against his lips and coughed softly, "Grandfather, I'll work hard!"

"You must work hard to bring your wife and a fat white boy back next year to wish your grandfather a happy birthday!"

Cristina said.

Brayden's face turned even redder.

Leona continued, "That's for sure. I, as the grandmother, am waiting to have a grandchild!"

They teased him one by one.

Brayden really felt helpless.

Fortunately, the Old Master saved him very quickly.

“Everett, you should hurry up too. Don’t let your nephew blossom and bear fruit while you still have nothing”

The Old Master had come through a hail of bullets in his early years, and he always had a rough temperament on his body, so even though he had retired for so many years, the things in his bones were still the same.

All of a sudden, everyone’s eyes fell on Everett and Melody.

They had been engaged for a year and together for two years.

If the year when Olivia was involved was not included, it could be said that they had grown up together.

Their relationship was comparable to Everett’s relationship with everyone present.

However, the two of them had been together for so long while they just did not get married or have children.

They made everyone anxious.

But there was nothing they could do.

Everett was the most unpredictable one among them, and as elders, none of them dared to say anything about him.

Except for the Old Master.

Melody picked up a coffee cup and drank coffee.

She shouldn’t be talking at this time.

Although she knew that many eyes were on her.

Everett looked up calmly.

In an instant, everyone was staring at him, waiting for his answer.

They also wanted to know why they had to wait and why they still didn’t take the last step.

However...

“No need to hurry:”

Wade almost spat out a mouthful of blood.

Leona frowned.

She thought her son and that woman were over, and her son would get married soon after he got together with Melody.

Although she was not very satisfied with Melody if she was going to be her daughter-in-law.

But Melody was better than Olivia no matter what.

But after two years, they were still not in a hurry.

She had to wonder if something went wrong between them.

“Everett, let grandpa ask you. How old are you this year?”

“Thirty-five.”

“You still remember you are thirty-five? Do you really have to wait until your nephew marries his wife and gives birth to a baby?”

“It depends.”

The Old Master immediately covered his chest and fell on the back of the sofa.

Cristina hurriedly shouted, “Dad!”

Wade waved his hand.

“I’m dying. I’m so angry.’ Everyone looked at the Old Master.

But Everett was still sitting there.

She was as steady as a bell.

The Old Master was in good health, and it was not a problem for him to live ten more years.

Melody also went and checked Wade.

Cristina quickly gave Wade some medicine to take and soothed his chest.

“Dad, what are you angry about? If they, young people, want to get married later, they can get married later. It’s not a year or two away.’

“Really, Melody?”

Wade immediately looked at Melody.

Melody smiled and said, “Grandpa, don’t worry. We won’t be later Brayden:”

When Wade heard this, he sat up straight.

He was not like the weak old man that he was a while ago.

“Really?”

“Really” Wade looked at Everett and he was full of energy.

“Then I’ll bear it in mind”

Then he said to Brayden, “Hurry up. If I can’t see your wife on my birthday next year, then you don’t come back.”

Brayden, “.....”

The atmosphere softened again. Leona left with Melody to have a word with her alone.

Brayden went out with his phone and called Olivia.

He wanted to tell her that her grandfather liked her present.

Everett glimpsed Brayden’s back as he left and then went upstairs. They would stay in the old house tonight.

Everyone had a room here.

Brayden stood by a holly tree in the yard, one hand in his pocket, patiently waiting for Olivia to pick up.

Finally, the call went through when the beep was about to end. He smiled slightly.

“Olivia.”

“Senior...”

A hoarse and weak voice came, and the smile on Brayden’s face disappeared instantly.

His brows furrowed.

"Olivia, what happened to your voice?"

"I'm okay. Just a slight cold."

"A cold? Have you taken any medicine?"

"Yes, don't worry. I'll be fine after having a sleep."

How could he not worry? Her voice sounded bad.

"Are you having a fever now?"

He was worried sick thinking she was alone at home without anyone to take care of her.

"No, just a sore throat. Nothing serious."

Olivia perceived the concern in Brayden's voice and comforted him.

"Have a good rest. Go to the hospital if you really feel bad.' If he had been in H City, he would have went to her now.

"I know, senior. I feel sleepy after taking the medicine. I'll sleep now.'

"Okay."

Olivia quickly hung up the phone, but Brayden's brows were still furrowing.

Tomorrow was his grandfather's birthday, so he couldn't leave, but thinking of Olivia staying at home alone disconcerted him.

Soon, Brayden dialed a number.

"Find me a health worker now. It's pressing."

"Yes"

"Call me as soon as you find one""

"No problem."

The call finished quickly.

Brayden was still worried, but there was nothing else he could do.

He wasn't too far from her.

He waited outside.

Not long after, a call came saying that the health worker had been found.

He immediately gave the address to the health worker and told her to leave for Olivia's house now to take care of her.

However, twenty minutes later, the health worker called him and said there was no one at home.

Brayden's face changed.

"Are you sure?"

"Yes, I knocked on the door for a long time but no one answered."

"Stay there. I'll call her right now." He hung up and called Olivia.

He was afraid that Olivia would not answer, which could make things difficult.

Fortunately, Olivia answered the phone, and her voice was heavier than before.

"Senior..."

Brayden was relieved to hear her voice, but soon became even more worried.

"Olivia, go open the door now. I got a health worker to look after you."

Olivia was taken aback.

"Health worker?"

"Yes, she's right outside your house. Open the door." Olivia was still in a daze, but she was very amenable and got out of bed to open the door, but there was no one outside.

"Senior, there's no one outside."

"No one?" Brayden frowned.

Did the health worker go to the wrong place? "Wait, I'll call her."

Just as he was about to hang up, Olivia suddenly raised her voice as if something just struck her, "Senior, I'm not at home right now."

"What?"

"I went on a business trip this afternoon. I'm in Capital City now." Brayden's eyes widened in disbelief.

"You're in Capital City now?"

"Yes, I follow my boss here to meet a client."

"That's great. Tell me the name of your hotel. I'll come over now." He didn't expect her to be in Capital City.

He was very happy.

"Tishi Hotel."

"Okay, I'll arrive soon." "Wait..."

After hanging up, Brayden went to the living room, and said to Belle, "tell grandpa that I'm going out."

Belle looked at him in surprise.

"Now?"

"Yes, I have something to do. See you later."

Before Belle could respond, he left. Belle looked at the person who ran out quickly and shouted, "Brayden..."

But the man had got in the car and left.

She murmured, "what's the rush?"

Melody walked over and said, "I think he is going to see his girlfriend." She seemed to know the son very well.

Belle's eyes sparkled.

"Melody, have you seen her?"

"No, it was just an accident. I just saw a profile"

Belle immediately pulled her aside, looking very excited.

"How's that girl? Tell me."

"I didn't see her face, but I think she is a pretty and quiet girl from her side face."

"Well, gentle and quiet girls are suitable for Brayden!"

Melody curved her lips.

Tonight, not only was Belle happy, but she was happy too.

Upstairs, Everett stood on the balcony, holding a glass of red wine and looking into the distance.

Brayden quickly arrived at the Tishi Hotel, standing outside Olivia's room.

He called Olivia.

"Olivia, I'm outside your door. Open the door"

"Okay."

Olivia went down from the bed to open the door.

When the door opened, Brayden appeared in her sight.

Although she was shocked to hear that he was coming, she still couldn't believe that she saw him in her sight.

"Senior, why are you here?"

Brayden walked in and closed the door.

His hand fell on her forehead and he quickly frowned.

"You have a fever." Her face was red.

Olivia nodded.

"I'm Okay. It's just a low fever." She had a low fever when he called her the first time.

But she didn't want him to worry, so she didn't say anything.

"Olivia, you always make me worry about you."

He wanted to blame her when he heard that she didn't care about her health.

But when he saw her listless face, he couldn't say anything harsh.

Olivia smiled helplessly.

“Senior, it’s just a little cold.It’s not a big deal.”

Brayden didn’t want to listen to her.

He was afraid that he would be angry if she continued.

“Go and lie down.”

He helped her to the bed, covered her with the quilt, and asked, “Where’s your medicine? Let me see.”

“Here.”

Olivia pointed to the bedside table.

Brayden took the medicine, looked at it, and frowned.

“No fever medicine?”

“Well, I didn’t have a fever when I went to buy the medicine.’

“Lie down for a while.I’ll go out to buy the medicine.”

He went out and took the room card away.

“You go to sleep first.I’ll be back in a while.’

“Okay.”

The room was dark, but Olivia was at ease and fell asleep with her eyes closed.

Brayden went to the pharmacy to buy antipyretics, a thermometer, and some things to cool her down.

He bought them all at once.

By the time he got it back, Olivia was already asleep.

But her face was getting redder and redder.

He quickly took her temperature.

The fever wasn’t very serious.

But it couldn’t go on like this.

He went to the bathroom to get a towel and hot water.

Then, he put the hot towel on her forehead.

He also took the alcohol and cotton to wipe her palms and feet.

He didn't stop.

After two hours, Olivia's fever was gone and her breathing slowed down.

Brayden heaved a sigh of relief.

He pulled her sweaty forehead hair away to reveal her bright and full forehead.

She looked haggard after catching a cold.

His heart ached.

Why didn't she take good care of herself? If he could, he really wanted to take care of her by her side all the time.

In the Weston Family.

When the Old Master heard Belle say that Brayden went out for his girlfriend, he immediately said, "Let him bring her here tomorrow!"

He would take a good look at her.

Belle also wanted to see this future daughter-in-law, but she said, "He may not want to."

"He has to even if he doesn't want to! Go and think of a way to make sure he brings his future wife tomorrow as a way to make me, the old man, happy!"

"Okay, I will try hard!"
