Chapter 31: The Knight Squad was Scared Away!

Chapter 31. The Knight Squad was Scared Away!

“Milord, what is that?” One of the knights within the group cried out.

It was because the tip of the golden armored knight’s greatsword had turned red!

“Magma!”

The golden armored knight said in a low voice.

Behind him, a few other knights unsheathed their swords.

They quickly removed a portion of the ash on the ground.

After removing the thick layer of ash which was around half a meter thick, the scene below was revealed.

Shockingly, beneath the ash was red hot lava!

“Milord, it’s the same over here!”

A knight who had run several hundred meters to one side shouted.

“Milord, it’s also the same over here!”

Another knight who ran several hundred meters to the other side yelled out.

“Milord, it looks like the entire area is covered in lava. But where did this lava come from? Could it be that there is a volcano underground?” One of the knights doubtfully said.

The golden armored knight flicked the lava off his sword and stared at the large piece of land in front of him.

This section of the area was extremely large.

It should be at least a kilometer long and several hundred meters wide.

However, the ground in this section was different from the others.

It looked extremely obvious because the color of the rock ash was very deep and was even lower than the ground next to it.

After further observation, they found out that the surrounding land was normal. Only this specific area was covered in lava!

Some of the knights had already attempted a few things. They discovered that the lava wasn't particularly deep.

After some time, the temperature started dropping, the magma cooled down and slowly turned into a hardened rock.

This meant that there was no volcano below.

That's right, it didn't look like there was a volcano underneath them!

"Milord, did you notice anything?" A knight asked him.

The golden armored knight frowned while many possibilities flashed through his mind.

However, what was worrying was that every possibility he imagined was terrifying.

After a moment of silence, he spoke, "Even though I'm not a magus, my Divine Armor still managed to capture subtle magical fluctuations here."

At this point, his voice suddenly became grave, "According to what I know, this might've been a battlefield. From the signs, this land was created by a magus' magic attack!"

Magic!

The golden armored knight's words caused a commotion among the group.

"Milord, with such a large area, what kind of magus can attack like this?!" One of the knights couldn't believe this explanation.

Although they had participated in many wars, nearly none of them had seen such a high level of magic!

Even the most powerful temple mages in the kingdom might not be able to do something like this!

The large-scale magic that he had seen many mages cast together didn't have such a wide area of impact, nor was it this powerful.

In an instant, the golden armored knight's eyes suddenly widened as he thought of two words.

"A 'Forbidden Spell!'" He quickly spat out the only possible explanation to it.

Upon hearing it, the entire knight squad exploded, they quickly chattered amongst themselves.

A Forbidden Spell!

These knights didn't know all that much about the magician's levels, this was especially so for the high-level magicians.

Most of them only knew that Sixth Rank Magicians were called Magi.

Then what was a Seventh Rank magician called?

They had no idea.

However, they all knew what a Forbidden Spell was.

In the stories of the legendary heroes on the continent, the word Forbidden Spell was always mentioned.

This represented supreme, terrifying, and destructive power.

Of course, they didn't know what level the Forbidden Spell represented.

But they only needed to know that these two words were extremely terrifying.

For a moment, all of the knights backed away, afraid that the horrifying magus was still nearby.

"Don't move forward! Let's retreat! This is no longer a place that we can touch!" The knights immediately made a decision and started withdrawing from the area.

Even though they were unwilling to admit it, they had indeed been scared away!

In reality, they weren't the only ones who were scared. When they brought this information back to the city, many people from the Human Kingdoms to the west of the Misty Mountains were frightened.

Because of the fire, some of the Human Kingdoms had started planning out things regarding the Orcish Kingdoms in the east.

But now, any semblance of an idea heading towards there was completely extinguished.

The first reason was that the miasma forest in the Misty Mountain Range hadn't been completely burned away, even if they sent an army, they would still not be able to pass.

The second was that the information brought back by the knight squad was too shocking.

After all, when the flames were burning for a month, the Royal Family had also sent a large team of birds to check on the situation.

However, the small flock never returned.

With these two things combined, the information they received was enough to make the Human Kingdoms not dare to act rashly without knowing the truth!

Yes, that bird squad was indeed destroyed by Lin Yan.

The reason was very simple.

They tried to pee on a burning flames!

Of course, Lin Yan was the burning flame they wanted to piss on!

If they didn't dare to do such a thing, he would have never incinerated them!

Chapter 32: A Miracle Road! The Fox Clan is developing!

Chapter 32. A Miracle Road! The Fox Clan is developing!

Five days later in the Fox tribe, the first batch of cement was finally produced by Lin Yan.

Before transmigrating into this world, although Lin Yan was only in his twenties, not only did he succeed in his business, he also didn't give up on his studies.

He was a standard academic nerd!

With that said, he was familiar with the manufacturing process of many industrial products.

This naturally included how to make cement!

For non-industrial societies, the biggest problem was the high temperatures required for forging and burning.

The ores which were needed to make cement, such as limestone, coal ash, and iron powder had already been procured by the Fox Tribe through Lin Yan's instructions!

Before he transmigrated, the creation of cement would have needed professional equipment to be made.

Even if Lin Yan possessed Divine Abilities, he wouldn't be able to create such devices.

Thankfully, he didn't need any of that specialized equipment.

That's right, he was a flame here!

As a flame, he could easily solve the problems regarding high temperatures.

With just his new body alone, he solved most of the problems in stuff like these.

In a specially built manufacturing workshop, a few Fox people packed the concrete in wooden boxes and carried them out.

Both Ming Ying and Qing Ling looked at the blackish-gray thing with curious eyes.

Even though the Fox girl, Qing Ling, had already received Lin Yan's enlightenment and understood the usage of cement, she still couldn't help but be amazed.

While heading to a nearby road they were preparing to build, she had a few of the Fox men carry this large amount of cement.

Then, while under her commands, the men started mixing sand and stones.

When the first batch of cement mixed with stones was poured out onto the road, it attracted the attention of countless Fox people.

After the new road was successfully watered, Qing Ling and Ming Ying simultaneously cast fire magic. By doing this, the cement road solidified even faster.

After half a day, the cement road had finished hardening.

Although it couldn't bear too much weight, there weren't any problems having people stand on it.

While seeing such a smooth road develop right before their eyes, all of the Fox people cried out in alarm.

Some of the Fox people couldn't bear to step on it and squatted right outside of the road. They carefully used their hands to feel this "Miracle Road".

That's right! These people had never seen such a smooth and even road.

It was even better than a paved road!

Moreover, the hardness was quite good so they didn't need to be worried about the wind and rain ruining this marvelous creation.

This type of paving was something that even humans couldn't possess, right?

The Lord of Flame was a truly powerful God!

This simple path had caused all of the Foxes present to shout the "Lord of Flames" name. Their belief in Lin Yan had deepened even more.

After the experiment was successful, Lin Yan transmitted some of the key points to Meng Ying and Qing Ling through enlightenment.

In the future, both of them would be in control of things.

To them, what they needed to do wasn't a difficult task.

They didn't really need to work hard.

After all, they only had to use magic to heat things up.

With both of their cooperation, they would use the instructions from Lin Yan to heat up coal to its required temperature.

Ultimately, they weren't at a high enough rank to do it themselves yet.

In addition, this process could continuously improve their magic proficiency.

A magus needed to increase his spiritual power through meditation. The higher his spiritual power was, the higher his magic perception would be.

However, Magi (6th Rank Magus) could also improve by repeatedly training.

In fact, some of the magic apprentices were also sent to do this.

This was a very good way to increase the control of their magic.

Moreover, he could produce cement in this way. It was killing two birds with one stone!

The Fox Race had begun developing by leaps and bounds.

The Miracle Wasteland and potatoes solved any food shortage they would've normally encountered.

As for the iron and coal in the Misty Mountain Range, they were continuously mined and refined, producing an endless amount of iron.

About half of the iron was turned into production tools.

The other half was used in the creation of weapons.

Although Lin Yan didn't give Qing Ling a clear signal, the latter had already decided to develop her armament.

She wanted to conquer more tribes and find more believers for her God! She wished to spread the glory of the Lord of Flames to all of the Orcish tribes.

Chapter 33: Eruption!

Chapter 33. Eruption!

As the Fox Clan was developing, quite a few devout members had left their homes and went to explore other Orcish tribes.

In the Orcish countries, the Fox Race was considered to be a relatively weak race.

To the east of the Fox Clan was a stronger Orcish tribe.

They were the Centaur Race.

To the south of where the Fox Clan had lived was a more powerful Orcish tribe.

It was because the Orcish tribes around the Fox Race were too powerful that their territory was so small.

Lin Yan had originally planned on using the Fox people to directly go to the other Orcish tribes so he could burn their totems.

However, something unexpected happened to the Misty Mountain Range!

A volcano erupted on the north side of the Wilderness!

Back when the forest was burning, Lin Yan had already discovered where the volcano was.

However, at that time, the cone-shaped earth was an indicator that it was the shape of a volcano, there was no movement at all. At first glance, it looked inactive.

He didn't expect it to erupt so quickly.

Lin Yan pondered for a moment before deciding to take a look.

Within the Misty Mountain Range, a Fox man guarding the mine arrived under the erupting volcano, he then started praying.

Through the prayers, Lin Yan opened the passage of the line of faith and arrived under the volcano.

The Fox-man warrior was completely unaware of what just happened.

Lin Yan floated up along the wind.

Since the volcano wasn't all that large, it didn't erupt with much momentum.

However, its lava still flowed all over the ground.

Lin Yan quickly arrived at the mouth of the volcano and threw himself into the lava.

"I'm barely getting any energy points?" Lin Yan muttered to himself.

It wasn't as bad as he expected it to be.

Although the temperature seemed to be very high, Lin Yan barely got any income from it.

This was quite normal.

As long as Lin Yan slightly raised his temperature, he could easily melt the ground under him and turn it into lava.

This was the same equivalent as burning stones.

What kind of energy could he earn by doing such a thing?

He could earn something, yes, but it would be very little.

Burning stones wasn't enough for Lin Yan to make ends meet.

Otherwise, if he wanted energy points, he could've just burned the ground, right?

However, the lava in the volcano had an energy that Lin Yan could take. But since it was too little, he didn't take this matter seriously.

"Let's go take a look in the lava."

Since he was already here anyways, Lin Yan decided to dive in and take a look at what was happening below.

After slowly entering, he disappeared into the lava.

Inside, Lin Yan activated his Eye of Detection skill. With this, there was no need to worry about his vision.

The crater had a passage made of lava.

However, the pathway wasn't wide.

Lin Yan continued diving down the tunnel.

After carrying on for almost a thousand meters like this, the surroundings began to widen.

Nevertheless, Lin Yan continued diving down.

He was indeed curious about what was beneath the volcano.

Before transmigrating into this world, he was previously a human being and this was something he had never done before.

Now that he had turned into flames, he could simply take a look and sightsee for a bit. What if he found something good at the bottom of the volcano?

Even after Lin Yan went down a few thousand meters, there was still a lot of lava below.

"This volcano shouldn't be large." Lin Yan speculated.

After spending quite a bit of time, he had been diving for more than ten kilometers now. All of a sudden, he became cheerful.

"So this is the magma chamber!" Lin Yan exclaimed to himself.

At this moment, Lin Yan felt an unusual fluctuation.

“Eh? There’s something in the volcano!”

Chapter 34: Devouring the Lava Fire! The Dwarf Loli!

Chapter 34. Devouring the Lava Fire! The Dwarf Loli!

Lin Yan quickly rushed over.

Then, he saw a string of small flames burning in the magma.

These strings of flames were different from those that occasionally appeared in the crater.

Flames that occasionally burned in the volcano’s mouth were ignited after some of the fuel in the magma had left oxygen.

But within the magma, there was no air.

However, just like Lin Yan, the small flame started to burn in the lava.

There was another flame in the lava!

Moreover, it seemed like this string of small flames contained quite a lot of energy.

Of course, it was far from being comparable to Lin Yan.

“According to the system’s new instructions, Evolution Points can be obtained by devouring other flames. Is this one of them?” Lin Yan murmured to himself.

Other flames naturally didn’t refer to ordinary flames, but rather, special ones.

There were many types of special flames in the Continent of Gods. These flames would naturally be created in random environments. They were quite rare and they could only stay in the environment that they are formed in!

The small flame in front of him was indeed one of the special flames he could consume.

Without any hesitation, Lin Yan pounced forward.

Even though the little flame didn’t have its own consciousness, but when it sensed Lin Yan approaching, it actually knew that it should try to escape.

However, how could it escape from him?

Lin Yan successfully swallowed the small flame.

The small flame couldn't muster any form of resistance against Lin Yan.

【You swallowed the Lava Fire, Evolution Points +1,000.】

The system notification resounded out.

It was actually worth 1,000 Evolution Points!

Lin Yan had also gained over ten million energy points.

This harvest was even greater than when Lin Yan's burned the wasteland!

"Let's look around the area to see if there are any other flames." Lin Yan joyfully said to himself.

With this objective in mind, he started moving along the magma chamber.

This volcano was indeed small.

Since the magma chamber was located more than ten kilometers below the Misty Mountain Range, it wasn't that large.

Lin Yan searched the place for a long time but he didn't find a second lava fire.

Just as Lin Yan was about to go up and leave the volcano a small opening suddenly unfolded beside him.

The magma was already under pressure in the first place, otherwise, the volcano would not have erupted.

As soon as that small opening showed itself, copious amounts of magma flowed out under the pressure.

Being the curious fire he was, Lin Yan entered the small crack.

The lava flowed into a narrow passageway and continued for dozens of meters.

Then, it flowed out from a small square door.

After that, Lin Yan heard clanging noises.

He activated his Eye of Detection and found that he was in a spacious hall.

In this unknown area, there were a large number of furnaces and iron weapons.

To his surprise, this was an Iron Smelting Hall!

In the main hall, a large number of short people were busy working away.

Despite being very short, they all swung their hammers with gusto.

On the wall, a large amount of magma flowed out from the small door and then it flowed into a huge pool.

“They can’t be dwarves, right?” Lin Yan muttered to himself.

He never would have imagined that there would be so many dwarves in the depths of the Misty Mountains next to the magma chamber!

These dwarves seemed to be using the lava bank to build weapons!

“Hurry up and move all the Fire Crystals up. Let’s see if we can attract the fire in the lava. Melting this meteorite will depend on our success!”

At this moment, a crisp voice sounded out.

A little Lolita walked up.

No, she didn’t look like a little loli.

A little loli wouldn’t have such a fiery figure.

Chapter 35: The Dwarven Queen!

Chapter 35. The Dwarven Queen!

The rest of the Dwarves looked rather crude. The Dwarf loli however was an exception.

Not only was her face rather good-looking, but her body was also quite hot.

Considering that she was a dwarf, she shouldn’t be called a little loli, she only looked like the part...

Although her height was only around one or two meters, her body ratio looked natural and perfect. The clothes she wore made her look mature, she was also wearing a hat and a cloak.

Upon closer inspection, she had a bit of a Queen’s aura to her demeanor!

Under her command, a box of red stones was carried up.

They raised it towards the side of the lava pool.

Silence permeated the area as the dwarves quietly waited.

Ten minutes later, one of the dwarves broke the quiet air by speaking up, "My Queen, could it be that the Misty Woods Dwarves lied to us? This volcano isn't that big in the first place. There might not be a Lava Flame inside."

So the dwarf loli was indeed the Queen of Dwarves.

However, she only seemed to be the Queen of a certain dwarf tribe.

The Queen of the Dwarves raised her eyebrows and said, "They lied to me? They dared to?!"

"My Queen, the melting point of this Heavensfall meteorite iron is too high. I'm afraid that we won't be able to melt it like this," a female dwarf opened her mouth. "Since the Lava Flame isn't coming out either, why don't we go to Lava City instead? The lava giants there might have a way to do so."

The Dwarven Queen shook her head. "Let's wait for a bit longer!"

Thus, the group waited in silence for another twenty minutes.

"It seems that the Misty Woods Dwarves have lied. Let's go find them and settle the debt."

After having said this, the Queen of the Dwarves then left the area with a dozen Dwarves.

As Lin Yan was listening to their conversation, his heart skipped a beat. While these dwarves weren't paying attention to their surroundings, Lin Yan gathered his energy and quickly floated onto a torch held in one of the dwarf's hands.

The Continent of the Gods had quite a few underground races, Dwarves were one of those who could live above and below ground.

Now, an underground society appeared in front of Lin Yan!

The Queen of Dwarves led a dozen dwarves with her to find another dwarf.

"There's no way! As long as you're willing to part with the Fire Crystal, a Lava Fire will definitely appear."

They were on the verge of fighting.

In the end, the two Dwarven tribes arrived in the hall near the volcano's magma chamber. After the experiment, the Lava Fire never came out.

Considering that the Lava Fire was devoured by Lin Yan. It would be strange if it actually showed up!

The other dwarf couldn't understand what was happening.

"If you return my money to me and give us a mining cart, I'll pretend that nothing happened." The Dwarven Queen extended her open palm and said.

With how things went, the dwarf could only obediently return the money.

After they were done, another dwarf led the Dwarven Queen and her group to a deep tunnel.

A small group of dwarves brought out an iron ore cart. The Queen of the Dwarves nodded with satisfaction and jumped up into it first.

The cart's speed wasn't slow at all as it headed towards Lava City amidst the ear-piercing sounds of friction on the tracks.

A few dwarves who were riding it held on to their torches and on one of those torches, Lin Yan was hidden in its flames.

By being in the underground world, one couldn't feel the passage of time at all.

At the very least, in Lin Yan's mind, around half a day had probably passed before he realized what was happening.

Very soon, he arrived at an area filled with lava.

At a distance away, there seemed to be some stone buildings.

"We are now at Lava City. My Queen, shall we head straight to the Lava Lake where the Lava Giant is located?" A female Dwarf suggested.

The Dwarven Queen nodded in agreement.

Now that they had a plan to follow, the group jumped off the mining cart and walked on a small path that was headed towards a huge lava lake.

Chapter 36: Roaring Lava Giant!

Chapter 36. Roaring Lava Giant!

There were many paths in the magma-covered area.

After quite a while, the dwarves arrived before a huge lava lake.

Not all areas around the lava lake were stable.

Even though a few spots on the ground seemed to be even, but once they were stepped on, it was very likely that they would directly fall into the lava.

While moving carefully, they made their way towards a stone plaza in front of the lava lake.

The Dwarven Queen took out a Fire Crystal and threw it into the lava lake.

The melting point of the Fire Crystal seemed to be very high since after falling into the lava lake, it didn't melt. Instead, it sank into it.

Not long after, something in the lava lake started to growl.

Within the red magma, bubbles began showing up.

All of a sudden, the lava shook violently. A giant with red flames burning all over his body suddenly stood up.

The giant was at least ten meters tall. Compared to it, the dwarves that were only a little over a meter tall were like tiny toy soldiers.

Now that the giant was standing up, the flames on his body began to slowly extinguish.

Because there was still a large amount of magma on its body, it continuously flowed down and fell into the lava lake.

"My Queen, the Lava Giant is so big!"

The female dwarf seemed to have never seen a Lava Giant before. Upon seeing such a huge Lava Giant right in front of her, she couldn't help but widen her eyes.

The Fire Crystal which was thrown by the Dwarven Queen was still in the Lava Giant's hand.

After looking at it, it placed half of the fire crystal into its mouth. With a *Kacha* sound, half of the Fire Crystal was bitten.

Then, he started chewing.

“Who threw this? It tastes good, give me some more.”

The Lava Giant leaned forward and looked down at the dwarves.

Because it moved like this, the lava on its shoulder fell, scaring the dwarves into retreating. They were afraid of being scorched by the lava.

The Dwarven Queen suddenly clapped her hands. Behind her, a few dwarves carried a large chest.

The Lava Giant stared at the chest with anticipation in its eyes.

When the Dwarven Queen opened the chest, it was filled with Fire Crystals!

After seeing the numerous Fire Crystals, the Lava Giant’s eyes widened.

“Speak, what do you need?” It was clear that the Lava Giant was anxious to obtain the Fire Crystals.

The Dwarven Queen took out a large piece of silver iron while saying, “As long as you help us melt this meteorite iron, all of these Fire Crystals will be yours.”

“Heavensfall Iron? Let me see.”

After the Lava Giant extended its hand, the Dwarven Queen threw the meteorite iron over.

The Lava Giant took the meteorite and bit it into its mouth. After sniffing it, it placed it into the lava lake to soak it.

After doing so, it looked at the unaffected meteorite iron and threw it back to the Dwarven Queen.

“This is something from the Heaven Realm. I can’t melt it.”

Halfway through his sentence, he saw the large chest of Fire Crystals behind the dwarves. His eyes looked back at them. “But if you give me that box of Fire Crystals, I can try doing it.”

But the Dwarven Queen wasn’t stupid. She responded immediately, “I won’t disturb you any longer, we’ll find another way.”

With these words, she turned around and tried to leave.

This piece of iron was too miraculous... Even after being soaked in lava, it was not hot at all!

No wonder even the Lava Giant was helpless against it.

The Dwarven Queen couldn't help but feel disappointed. Now that the Lava Giant couldn't do it and the lava fire couldn't be found. She could only find another way.

Just as they were about to leave, the Lava Giant suddenly jumped out of the lava and ran behind the dwarves while roaring, "You all woke me up from my slumber! One Fire Crystal isn't enough compensation. Give me another ten then I'll let you all go, if not..."

Before it could finish its sentence, a small flame abruptly floated onto its body. And then, it started to burn!

"Yi! Who set me on fire! You dare to set me on fire? Don't you know that I'm not afraid— Ah!"

Halfway through the sentence, the red flame ignited on its huge body with a boom.

"Ahhhh!"

The Lava Giant howled in pain.

Chapter 37: The Transformation of Flame Layers!

Chapter 37. The Transformation of Flame Layers!

Nearby the lava lake, the lava giant's agonizing roar rang out, "Ahhh! Who sent down such a terrifying flame? How is it able to burn my body?!"

The lava giant was completely stunned.

As a 'Lava' Giant, it had lived in the lava lake for a very long time now. One had to know that ordinary lava had a temperature of over a thousand degrees. The depths of the lava lake had an even higher temperature!

Thus, it was true that it said that it wasn't afraid of flames.

Even flames that could easily melt steel could not melt its body!

Even the Lava Fire in the lava bank couldn't do anything to it!

However, the flames that flew to it had rapidly damaged its body!

The lava giant was panicking!

At the same time, it had no idea where the flames came from!

“Could it be that this flame was descended from the Gods? No! Please don’t kill me! I’m willing to submit to you! Great God of Flames, I, Deku, am a fifth rank lava giant. I am willing to become your faithful follower!”

The Lava Giant begged for mercy.

It didn’t know which God had created the flames, so it simply called the God, “Flame God “.

Not long after it implored for forgiveness, the flames on its body paused.

Once it noticed this, the Lava Giant quickly crawled on the ground and continuously begged for sympathy.

However, after a short moment, the flames had once again begun to burn violently.

The enormous lava giant was burned to ashes by the flames.

【You have burned a Lava Giant, Evolution Points +5,000.】

The system’s notification sounded.

【You’ve obtained enough Lava Energy. The system has already analyzed the energy structure of the Lava Fire. You can spend Evolution Points to rearrange the fourth flame layer, enabling them to possess the characteristics of Lava Fire. Do you want to modify it?】

The system’s voice sounded again.

This was also the reason why Lin Yan decided to burn the fifth rank Lava Giant to death.

On one hand, he could earn quite a lot of Evolution Points and Energy Points.

On the other, after burning the Lava Giant, Lin Yan could begin transforming his fourth layer.

Normally speaking, there were only three layers of flames.

Starting from the core going outside, they were: Flame Heart, Inner Flame, and Outer Flame.

However, on Lin Yan’s system panel, he had eighteen layers.

However, apart from the three main layers, the rest of the fifteen layers were merely for show.

The fifteen layers were outside of the outer flames, it was no different from his outer flames.

However, Lin Yan now knew the reason for these extra fifteen layers.

The innermost flame was his True Core.

As for the fourth layer of Lin Yan's flame, it could analyze the characteristics of some of the flames that he had devoured. Then, it could transform that specific layer into another special flame.

This transformation wasn't a fusion.

No matter how special the flames were, they weren't as godly as Lin Yan's. There was no need to fuse them.

However, these special flames had their own uses.

For example, some flames were pitch-black and could burn one's soul.

There were others that were white and could be used to heal people!

In fact, there are even flames that could speed up a person's cultivation!

When Lin Yan swallows new flames, the system would analyze their characteristics.

After that, he could begin to modify them. After Lin Yan received his third layer, the other fifteen layers he had not used yet could form characteristics of these new flames.

Like this, Lin Yan's flames would have more functions now.

Of course, his first three layers were still the core of his body.

Whenever Lin Yan burns something, other than the three layers of fire in his core, the other layers of fire could be used differently.

Lin Yan didn't hesitate and chose to.

【Deducting 1,000 Evolution Points, the fourth layer of flames is being rearranged.】

The system's voice rang out.

【The transformation has been completed. The fourth layer has successfully acquired the characteristics of lava.】

The system's voice sounded again.

Lin Yan's flames had now undergone a new transformation.

A layer of even redder flames appeared outside his 3rd layer.

If one looked carefully, they would be able to see four layers within Lin Yan's flames.

However, Lin Yan gently tried storing his new layer and found that his fourth layer of flames had disappeared. He looked like an ordinary flame if he did this.

After Lin Yan released the fourth layer again, his flames looked completely different now.

At the side, a dozen dwarves were shocked by the sudden change as they stood there with a blank expression on their faces.

Lin Yan didn't notice them as his attention was still on the system panel.

Chapter 38: The Dwarven Queen's Decision!

Chapter 38. The Dwarven Queen's Decision!

He wanted to know the purpose of this new layer of Lava Fire!

【Host: Lin Yan

Flame Core Level: Level 7 Heavenly Flame

Number of fire layers: 18

Maximum temperature: 4,500 degrees

Evolution Points: 1,280

Energy Points: 3,250,000,000

Current income: 0 Points/sec

Current consumption: 100 Points/sec

Skill: Berserk Burning, Eye of Detection, Continuous Burning.

'Heavenly Flame' Characteristic: Lava Fire

Resistance: 35% Water Resistance, 5% Ice Resistance

Item: Virtual Godhead

Others: None】

After spending the Evolution Points that Lin Yan had just obtained, he quickly rose to Level 7 Heavenly Flame.

The number of fire layers he had was still eighteen, it didn't increase.

After devouring the Lava Fire and burning the Lava Giant, his Energy Points had broken through the three billion points mark!

The biggest change he noticed was that a 'Heavenly Flame' feature was added to the panel.

There was also an additional option in his skills, 'Continuous Burning'!

Lin Yan quickly understood what the characteristics of the Lava Fire were.

The most important thing to note was that the Lava Fire, when burning or melting objects, would have difficulty and energy consumption reduced by several times!

The Lava Fire had even given Lin Yan's flame a continuous burning skill.

The effect of this skill was that Lin Yan only needed to lightly sweep through a place and the flames in that area would continue to burn.

If he were to burn the enemy, even if it didn't take their lives, he would still be able to set his opponent on fire for a long time.

It was the equivalent of sustained damage.

Lin Yan understood the purpose of his Lava Fire and closed the system panel.

Even though the Lava Fire wasn't too pleasant to Lin Yan, this trip was still very rewarding!

Now, he learned that he could still modify the rest of his fourteen layers of flames.

However, he still had to encounter special flames before he could work on them...

"I should check if there are any other Lava Fires in the lava lake."

After Lin Yan finished burning the Lava Giant, the entire ball of flames floated in the air and poured down into the lava lake.

After Lin Yan left for quite some time, only then did the dwarves close their mouths.

“My Queen, was I mistaken with what I just saw? The Lava Giant was burned to death by the flames!” A female Dwarf said in a daze.

The Lava Giant was simply too powerful when compared to themselves.

According to the Lava Giant’s words, they learned that it was a fifth rank Lava Giant.

A fifth rank Lava Giant’s combat strength was quite formidable.

Moreover, its body was resistant to many spells, and it was only slightly afraid of Water Mages.

Otherwise, even an Absolute Ruler or a sixth rank magus on the battlefield wouldn’t be able to do anything to it.

Against a Lava Giant, only a Grand Knight’s physical attack would be effective.

However, right now, the fifth rank Lava Giant was burned to ashes!

The Dwarves were utterly shocked!

Were Lava Giants afraid of fire?

If water was used to kill it, then these Dwarves wouldn’t be as shocked.

Even if a sword was used to kill it, they wouldn’t have been as stunned!

But now, the Lava Giant that had been born in the lava had been burned to death by fire! It had even turned into ashes!

This was extremely frightening!

“My Queen, did you hear what it said? The Lava Giant mentioned that it was the flame of a God. That flame is too terrifying! Even the Forging Gods of Graycastle has never had such a terrifying flame.”

Another female Dwarf spoke.

“The God of Forging.”

Hearing these names, the Dwarven Queen shook her head.

In the past, her father believed in the God of Forging. However, the God of Forging had never brought her father good luck.

Otherwise, she wouldn't be the Queen of her tribe right now.

The Dwarven Queen walked over to the ashes of the Lava Giant. She stood there for a long time before gritting her teeth. She had finally made a decision.

Soon after, she arrived in front of the lake and quietly waited.

She wanted to wait for the flame to come out and take this opportunity to communicate with the God.

She knew that this was only a slight sliver of hope she was holding onto.

However, as long as she could obtain the help of this God who had such terrifying flames, she would be willing to sacrifice her most devout beliefs!

Chapter 39. The Tenacious Dwarven Queen!

The Dwarven Queen had been waiting near the lava lake for a long time now. However, she had not seen the ball of flames come up.

"My Queen, when will the God's Flames return? Why don't we leave first?" A female Dwarf worryingly said.

The Dwarven Queen shook her head and continued to wait at that spot.

Just like this, she continued waiting by the lake for an entire week. Despite her efforts, the flame didn't show any signs of returning.

"My Queen, how about we leave first?"

That female Dwarf who was with the Dwarven Queen came to ask her again.

The Dwarven Queen responded, "I'll wait a bit longer."

"I understand."

The Dwarven Queen's current state of mind was difficult to comprehend.

Time passed by and she held on, patiently anticipating the Flame's arrival.

The temperature in this area was extremely high, the air was also hot, and quite a few poisonous gases were floating around.

However, the Dwarven Queen probably knew a bit of magic that could isolate the poisonous gas.

If a person lived underground for a long time, they would have already adapted to the environment anyway.

Since the Dwarven Queen insisted on doing this, the other dwarves couldn't just leave her be.

Every day, the Dwarven Queen would have a meal in the Lava City. After resting for two or three hours, she would continue to stay by the lava lake.

The other dwarves could only take turns in protecting her by patrolling around the place

"The Queen is truly persistent," a female Dwarf voiced out her thoughts.

"That's right. The powerful Gods don't care about the beliefs of one or two tribes after all. They're even less willing to waste their Divine Power in communicating with mortals. If this is the flame of a powerful God, then the Queen wouldn't be able to do anything other than try to have her sincerity touch it," another female Dwarf spoke.

"It would be great if this God was willing to help the Queen. Soon, the eight Dwarven tribes will be meeting at Greycastle. If the Queen can forge the most powerful weapon, she might be able to reunite the eight Dwarven tribes into the Iron Castle Kingdom!" One of the other female dwarves couldn't help but reveal a trace of longing.

In front of them, the Dwarven Queen was still standing beside the lava lake. She looked at the fiery water and silently persevered.

She was indeed really persistent.

That little loli's face was filled with determination.

The sun and moon continued moving outside, and in the blink of an eye, another seven days had passed.

The Dwarven Queen had been waiting here for almost half a month now. And yet, the lava lake remained the same.

The only living being who lived here in the past was the Lava Giant.

But now that the Lava Giant was turned to ashes by Lin Yan, there was no one else inhabiting the area.

At the very start, just the fact that the lava lake was able to give birth to a Lava Giant was already considered quite good.

However, now that it died, this turned back to an ordinary lava lake.

Only the bubbling magma resided in the lake.

“My Queen, you’ve already been waiting for half a month. The God’s flames must have left! Let’s go back!” One of the female dwarves advised her.

The Dwarven Queen shook her head. “No, I’ll wait.”

After seeing that she was still persistent, the female Dwarf couldn’t help but shake her head and sigh.

In her eyes, the God’s flames had long disappeared.

The Queen was merely wasting her time here.

She wasn’t the only one who had these thoughts as the other Dwarves all had the same notion.

However, if the Queen was willing to wait here, there was nothing they could do.

In the blink of an eye, another week had passed. The Dwarven Queen had been waiting there for more than twenty days now!

Despite her efforts, there was no sign of movement in the lava lake.

Not only did the female Dwarves come to advise her, but the Dwarven Queen’s other subordinates also tried changing her mind.

No matter what they said, the Dwarven Queen remained unmoved.

She insisted on waiting!

Finally, another week passed. The Dwarven Queen had been waiting by the lava lake for a full month!

Judging from her expression, she seemed to be prepared in leaving.

The female Dwarves couldn’t bear to watch anymore. All of them prepared to drag the Dwarven Queen away from this area if she insisted any further.

Boom!

All of a sudden, a ball of flames suddenly appeared within the lava lake!

The appearance of this flame caused the surrounding dwarves to freeze!

“It came out!” The female Dwarves were shocked. The appearance of the flame completely exceeded their expectations!

The Dwarven Queen’s face, which was filled with determination, suddenly burst into a brilliant smile.

Then, she slowly bowed down.
