Chapter 1073 We Are The Same

Right then, Sally turned around and informed, "My men have found out that the biological research lab's backer is in Lostaria. Coincidentally, I'm going to escort Mr. Gordon to Lostaria to deal with some matters. Since Mr. Gordon is going to be there for two weeks, I'll have time to check on the backer."

Cooper had told her long ago about the people who contacted Jerry, looking for the rare blood type. After all, it was more efficient to have one more person on the mission.

He just never expected Sally's men to have already located the backer when there was no progress from his side yet.

Cooper frowned. Before he could say anything, Sally had walked over, stood on her tiptoes, and hugged him, planting a kiss on his lips.

Just like that, the sexual desires he had been suppressing were triggered, and he lowered his head to kiss her back.

Sally was usually cold and assertive, like a rose with thorns. However, she was quite flexible in bed and went along with whatever Cooper wanted.

As a man, it was only natural for him to be satisfied by how submissive she was.

When they were done with their business in bed, Cooper carried her to the bathroom and took a simple shower before placing her into the bathtub filled with water. Following that, Sally lay her head on his chest, revealing the side view of her gentle-looking face.

Suddenly, Genevieve felt a small pair of arms wrap around her leg.

When she lowered her head, she saw a little kid in suspenders, looking barely one year old. A pacifier dangled from her mouth while her eyes were adorably wide.

Asel grinned at Genevieve as she stretched out her arms, wanting Genevieve to carry her.

Genevieve was stunned for a few seconds before turning her head to stare at Armand. Her surprise overwhelmed her anger. "There's another one so young?"

"She's not my child." Armand carried Asel and explained, "She's my friend's child. Since he doesn't have time to take care of her, he left her with me."

Genevieve still looked suspicious. "Does both he and his wife not have time?"

"Aunt Jojo went overseas for work," Amanda replied to Genevieve's question. "Asel cries if she can't see her mommy. However, she rarely cries if she's with us."

Genevieve believed it immediately after hearing what Amanda said. "Do you want to go out and play? I'll bring you to the amusement park, okay?"

"Yahoo!" cheered Amanda.

Just as Genevieve was done tying the ribbons around Asel's hair, Amanda dragged a boy wearing a T-shirt and a pair of cargo pants down.

Exuding a cool aura, the boy looked very similar to Armand.

Exclaiming how cute he was, Genevieve pulled him into her arms and kissed him. She could not help but ruffle his hair when he saw how it was as curly as Armand's.

She even said to Armand, "After seeing your son, I finally believe that you didn't perm your hair."

Armand was amused to hear that.

Although it was already autumn in Jadeborough, the sun was quite hot that day. Hence, Genevieve made the kids wear caps to keep the sun out. After that, Armand drove everyone to the amusement park.

Genevieve played a nursery rhyme in the car and led the kids in singing it. The children's joyful voices flooded the car.

When Genevieve noticed Armand glancing over at her occasionally, she grabbed his arm when the traffic light was red. "How's that? I have the potential to be a mom, don't I?"

"Yeah." Armand's fingers brushed across her cheek as he chuckled. "You probably won't be stressed even if you have to take care of five or six kids."

Meanwhile, Charlotte was lounging on the couch lazily and playing with her phone, an arm propping up her head.

When she saw that Genevieve still had not replied to her after ten minutes, she could not help but lament, “Now that she's got children, she's spending all her time on them.”

She could not understand why Genevieve would punish herself by having kids.

Not only would Genevieve have to give birth to them, but she would also have to accompany them everywhere too. Having to spend most of her time on her kids, she would not have time for her own life.

On the contrary, Charlotte led a carefree life.

Charlotte tapped on Instagram and scrolled through it aimlessly. She was filled with envy when she saw her friends posting their travel pictures or showing off their bodies.

Although she wanted to go overseas too, she had lost the bet with Jerry the previous time. Hence, he called the shots now.

Furthermore, she had refused to accept her defeat and secretly wore a revealing outfit to eat crayfish with Genevieve in the countryside back then. That made Jerry extremely furious, so she did not dare to provoke him again.

Suddenly, Charlotte spotted something in a picture.

Something she said seemed to have triggered him as Timothy looked even grimmer. "Get lost if there's nothing else!"

Charlotte scowled, feeling like she was on the verge of cursing at him.

However, she held herself back and did not pursue it further with Timothy. She stood up from the couch abruptly and said, "If you're in a bad mood, why are you venting your anger on other people? You must be out of your mind! I'm sure that Johanna went out to play by herself because she couldn't stand your horrible temper."

With that, she spun around and left.

Just when she reached the door and was about to leave, Timothy grabbed her wrist. "Who told you that Jojo went out to play? Was it Genevieve?"

Charlotte answered, "I saw Johanna."

Timothy's breath hitched when he heard that. Gripping Charlotte's wrist tightly, he stared at her intently and asked, "Where did you see her?"

Charlotte inhaled sharply, feeling like he was going to snap her wrist. Suppressing her urge to burst into a fit of rage, she warned, "If you don't let go of me, I'm not going to tell you."

Genevieve laughed and curiously asked her, "Why a duck and not something else?"

"That's because the principal keeps chickens and ducks," Amanda muttered. "I've seen the ducks at the principal's place, and they're so white and cute. I want one."

After a moment, the girl added, "It's fine if you and Daddy aren't free. It'll be the same if Mr. Sullivan comes with us instead."

"If a duck is what you want, a duck is what you'll get. I'll always have time for you." Genevieve then turned to Armand and said, "Mister Busy, will you be free on Wednesday?"

Armand smiled, a soft look in his eyes. "I'll always be free wherever you want to go."

"Yay!" Amanda cheered.

When Asel, who was drinking milk, saw Amanda cheering with her arms raised, she lifted her small hand and waved too. Both girls were beaming.

A wave of melancholy washed over Armand when he saw how happy Asel was.

Chapter 1079 Sports Day

On the morning of Wednesday, Genevieve put on a set of sportswear and went to the children's school to attend the sports day with the two children and Armand.

The event only started in the afternoon.

After they arrived at the school, they accompanied their children in the morning exercises before visiting the swimming complex, sports stadium, cafeteria, and other facilities. Around ten, they then went to the classroom to watch their children attend their classes before listening to them sing songs about their parents.

Many parents outside shed tears when they heard their children sing songs about them, and they were busy snapping photos of their children.

Genevieve adjusted the sunglasses on her face and whispered to Armand, "I never had any kind of family activities when I was still studying. Schools nowadays really have all kinds of fancy stuff, huh? Say, some parents won't be able to make it for today. Won't their children be really sad?"

Like the other parents, Armand was filming his two children too. When he heard Genevieve's question, he said, "Family sports day like this isn't something that happens every year. There's no way a parent won't be able to take time off no matter how busy they are. If they're not here, that means they don't care about their kid."

Chapter 1080 Taking Genevieve Away

After the sports day ended, the two children went to school as usual, and Genevieve and Armand returned to work as well.

In the morning, Armand went on a business trip, so Genevieve was the only one in the office.

While dealing with the documents from the Department of Public Information, she encountered Sean's name. Thinking about the things that happened while Sean was by her side made a look flash past her eyes.

Right then, the phone she left on the table lit up.

It was a message from Charlotte, saying that she had something to talk to Genevieve about, as well as an invitation to have barbeque at noon.

Lunchtime was longer for Genevieve that day, so she agreed to it.

When lunchtime came, Genevieve drove to the barbeque restaurant that Charlotte had suggested. It was not crowded in the store, and she spotted Charlotte by the window seat right away.

Genevieve walked over to take a seat opposite her and put her bag on the couch near the window.
