My Flirtacious Husband (Genevieve and Armand)

Chapter 1341 Not Hurt Each Other Anymore

Sally paused for a moment, then said with a clear and crisp voice, "I attended a military academy, so no one dared to pursue me. I have no idea what it feels like to receive love letters and roses."

As for why Armand was angry, she couldn't possibly know.

Genevieve said, "Even if Ethan wasn't by your side back then, with your skills, no one would dare to chase after you. For others, falling in love takes time, but for you, falling in love could cost a life."

Sally couldn't help but laugh.

The staff at the holiday resort brought the barbecue equipment, along with various types of meat and vegetables, to the courtyard where Armand and his friends were staying an hour early.

The courtyard has a natural hot spring, so it's not very cold.

Armand put on his apron, took out the meat from the box, and cut it into pieces before marinating it. Soon, he would skewer the pieces for grilling. Cooper, having nothing else to do, came over to help him.

Upon hearing this, Armand paused his work and furrowed his brow, "Who?"

Silas had died long ago, and it was Sally's gun that had taken his life. However, Zephyr was afraid that if the Carlo family found out, chaos would ensue. In Lostaria, the news was tightly sealed.

In Chanaea, it was initially Armand who had sealed the news.

Aside from the deceased Zephyr, only a few of them present knew about Silas' early demise.

Sally crossed her arms, standing there with an icy demeanor. "I asked around and found out that Silas had previously sold a batch of weapons to a certain faction working with Kille. They used those weapons to fight another faction, which almost led to their complete annihilation. Their territory was swallowed up, and they probably hold a grudge against Silas because of this."

However, they knew of Silas's reputation and didn't dare to provoke him. Later on, the Lostaria Mafia was wiped out by the police, and those from the rival factions wanted to take this opportunity to seek revenge on Silas.

Armand felt somewhat relieved and said indifferently, "If they're just seeking revenge on Silas, there's no need for us to interfere."

Cooper was also a bit worried, "Could they trace it back to Genev?"

"No, not many people know about Silas and Mia's past." If it weren't for Zephyr using Mia as bait, Silas wouldn't have come to Chanaea in the first place.

In the evening, the holiday resort would set off fireworks at scheduled times, and the children's amusement park was also great fun. After having a barbecue, Amanda couldn't wait to drag a few people out to play.

Armand had some matters to attend to, so he didn't go.

When Genevieve returned around nine o'clock, she was already completely exhausted.

After playing all day, the little ones were completely exhausted. They took a bath and went straight to bed. Cooper and Sally also returned to their bedroom on the other side of the courtyard to sleep.

Genevieve entered the bedroom and saw Armand standing by the table, putting something into a shopping bag.

“Mando, are you going out again?”

“No need to go out.” Armand looked at her drooping shoulders from exhaustion and chuckled a bit. “I'll accompany you to the hot spring for a bath, so you can sleep better later.”

Genevieve let out a hum, reaching out her hand toward the man. Armand bent down and picked her up.

It was almost ten o'clock, but the courtyard was still very warm, with warm yellow lights lining the path to the hot spring. As it was a private courtyard hot spring, the mist made the surroundings hazy and dreamy.

Chapter 1344 The Heartbreaking Struggle

The next morning, Armand and his companions took the children to a strawberry farm near the hot spring village.

Rows of strawberry greenhouses are situated near the highway and close to the hot spring holiday resort. Coupled with the large, juicy, and sweet strawberries, and the fact that it's the weekend, there are quite a few tourists coming to pick strawberries.

A few little ones each carried a small red basket, happily hopping and skipping into the greenhouse.

Amanda picked a huge strawberry, wiped it on her clothes, and then took it to Genevieve and the others.

Picking one here and there, running back and forth, like a busy little bee.

Armand was originally a bit of a neat freak.

Genevieve tends to let the children be more carefree, allowing them to do whatever they want, which leaves him feeling quite exasperated.

"Mando, don't make that face," Genevieve couldn't stand seeing him so worried about the children's hygiene. "The boss already said the strawberries haven't been sprayed with any chemicals, so they're safe to eat even without washing."

She handed the freshly picked strawberries to the man, "Try these, they're incredibly sweet."

Genevieve asked Cooper to take the children to eat first.

She had just unscrewed the cap of the mineral water and taken two sips when Armand's call ended.

Genevieve curiously asked, "Was that a call from your boss?"

"No," Armand replied, taking the water bottle. The two of them headed to the dining room together.

In the afternoon, as everyone packed up their belongings and ended their delightful weekend, they returned to Swallow Garden. Armand asked Genevieve, "Do you remember that time we met Scarlett at the restaurant?"

"Remember," Genevieve leaned against the kitchen counter, teasing with a smile, "your childhood friend!"

Armand said, "She studied performing arts at Bellridge University and wanted to enter the entertainment industry after returning to her country. However, the resources in Xedells' entertainment industry are too limited."

Genevieve understood, "So she wants to enter the mainland's entertainment industry?"

"Mhm." Armand looked down at Genevieve. "She called me this morning, hoping to join Genevieve Orsi Productions."

"Let's go," Genevieve answered crisply.

After waiting for a while and noticing that she didn't ask anything else, Armand raised his eyebrows and said, "Don't you have any questions for me?"

There are many male players in the circle.

When it comes to female players, no one can surpass Charlotte. She possesses wealth, intelligence, and beauty, and is especially skilled at charming and flirting with others.

Even though she changed boyfriends like changing clothes, she was always wholeheartedly devoted to each one during their relationship, never playing with two at the same time. That's why none of her exes ever badmouthed her after breaking up, and many of them still couldn't forget her.

Others were taken aback, their expressions seemed to say, “I can't believe you two used to be in a relationship.”

Indeed, Zander was her ex-boyfriend, and Charlotte had no reason to deny it. She placed her Birkin bag on the nearby sofa and tied up her red hair with a hairband.

As she lifted her hand, the loose sweater sleeve slid up, revealing a beautifully slender wrist.

Charlotte placed one hand on her hip, her gaze arrogantly sweeping over the people before settling on Zander. "Pick someone who can actually fight. If I win, we'll go to the private room next door and talk for ten minutes."

Charlotte said, "Eighty percent of Ingenuity Entertainment's performance in the past two years was contributed by Yvonne."

"But all the company's best resources were invested in her alone."

"Zander, let's stop trash-talking," Charlotte leaned back and sneered coldly. "You think I can't find out? A shareholder from Ingenuity Entertainment took a liking to Yvonne, but she wasn't interested."

She also knew that she had offended the director, and there would be no opportunities for her to shine later on. That's why she didn't renew her contract with Ingenuity Entertainment.

Yvonne is the cash cow of Ingenuity Entertainment.

Effortlessly allowing her to terminate the contract and join another company was not something Ingenuity Entertainment was willing to do. That's why they later imposed sanctions on Yvonne.

Before Zander could speak, Charlotte said, "I figured your company was planning to take advantage of this time to have Yvonne shoot those sleazy ads, completely ruining her reputation, so that by the end of the year, she'd have nowhere to go even if she wanted to leave Ingenuity Entertainment."

However, Yvonne is not just a pretty face; she is incredibly talented in acting and also quite beautiful.

"You know, entertainment news changes every day. Today's big event will be overshadowed by another scandal tomorrow."

Charlotte instantly understood what he meant, and the words "Are you sick?" almost burst out of her mouth.

Zander emphasized to her, "Don't worry. I just want to have some fun for half an hour, all right? I'll have someone bring the contract over, and Yvonne can be released from it tonight."

“Other than coming to me, you won't be able to get Yvonne's contract termination from any other Ingenuity Entertainment executives.”

Although Charlotte said that entertainment news changes every day, the news that has happened cannot be erased. If the people at Ingenuity Entertainment tarnish Yvonne's reputation, it would take a lot of effort for them to build her back up.

Charlotte had been a receptionist before, so her pride had long since worn away. In order to achieve her goals, what did a little self-sacrifice matter!

In the end, she agreed, but emphasized, “If I say it's not okay, you can't use it.”

“Great!” Zander's eyes sparkled with excitement.

Not long after, the waiter came in carrying a small wooden box. Zander opened the box and took out a bundle of hemp rope, using it to bind Charlotte's hands behind her back.

Chapter 1349 Someone Is Truly Fortunate

Charlotte couldn't care less about anything else, as she was worried about Zander's life and death.

Fortunately, a waiter came over to check on the situation. She asked them to call 911 and help untie the rope on her hands.

After taking the person to the hospital for a check-up, the doctor said that two teeth had fallen out, but there was no damage to the face.

As soon as Zander woke up, Charlotte immediately apologized to him.

Zander lay in the hospital bed, struggling to speak. "If I weren't your ex-boyfriend, I'd think you hired someone to beat me up like this. Are you dating Jerry?"

"Charlotte said, "We broke up a while ago. He just came to make a fuss because he thinks the breakup fee was too low."

Charlotte promised Zander that once he gets better, she would play with him again.

Zander didn't hold her back, and had someone bring Yvonne's contract over. This time, the penalty for breach of contract was reasonable. Charlotte immediately had someone take it to Yvonne's residence for her to sign.

Genevieve considered herself more beautiful than Scarlett, but she had to admit that her figure was not as good as hers.

Charlotte said, "It couldn't be Mr. Faulkner, could it?"

Genevieve hummed and handed the photo back to her, "This woman is Mando's childhood friend, and I heard her family has a deep connection with the Faulkner family."

Charlotte's face was full of shock, "Then why did you sign her?"

"Mando asked me to sign it."

Charlotte looked at Genevieve with a puzzled expression, seemingly not understanding her mysterious actions.

Genevieve leaned back in her chair, casually saying, "Didn't you mention that men are into this type? She should be able to make a name for herself in the entertainment industry pretty quickly. As long as she can make money for me, that's all that matters."

"Genevieve, you're so open-minded." Charlotte gave Genevieve a thumbs up. "If it were my boyfriend's childhood friend, I would tear her apart."
