Chapter 1351 Loving His Occasional Dominance And Overbearingness

Charlotte knew about Camilla, who joined Genevieve Orsi Productions last year.

In the past six months, she has successfully introduced a rising star in the entertainment industry.

Camilla is almost forty, but her youthful, doll-like face makes her look much younger. She's from the Bay Area and speaks with a gentle, soft, and sweet voice that men find particularly appealing.

Charlotte feels that her coquetry skills are not as good as hers.

Charlotte was taken aback for a moment, then angrily exclaimed, "I didn't even reject him, and he dares to not want me?!"

"He has the status to choose his own agent," said Genevieve. "When his agent was transferred to handle other businesses, several agents in the company were fighting to represent him, especially Camilla. They practically knocked down my office door trying to get to him."

Rather than spending time cultivating newcomers, agents prefer someone like Jerry, who is handsome, has great acting skills, and has won countless awards.

In a movie with a budget of tens of millions, their commissions as agents would be quite substantial.

Camilla's face turned pale with anger, but her voice was gentle and coquettish, "I like to do things personally, what's wrong with that?"

"He's one of my people, there's no need for you to get personally involved." Charlotte snatched the powder compact back and handed it to the makeup artist nearby. "You go take care of your own people personally!"

Camilla asked, "When did Jerry become your subordinate?"

Charlotte felt goosebumps all over her body from the disgusting nickname, and her face darkened. "This morning, Ms. Rachford personally handed him over to me."

"What abilities do you have?" Camilla scoffed, giving Charlotte a once-over.

I've been in Jadeborough for several years now, and I'm familiar with most of the high society here, including the Benson family. Ms. Benson, all you do is indulge in food, drink, and entertainment, and toy with men. Do you really have any substance? Don't think we don't know. If it weren't for Ms. Rachford pulling strings, would you have even gotten into Genevieve Orsi Productions?

"Didn't you just go through the motions during your initial interview?" Charlotte scoffed. "You got into the company smoothly thanks to your good relationship with Mr. Dixon. He even treats you so well that he doesn't let you train new employees."

Chapter 1353 What Do You Amount To

Joash saw the two women arguing fiercely, worried that they might start fighting in front of the photographer. He quickly stepped in and positioned himself between them to prevent any further escalation.

Joash squeezed a smile onto his slightly chubby face, "Ladies, could you please stop arguing?"

"You all want Jerry, but there's only one of him. You can't just split him in half and each take a share, can you?"

"Would this work? There's a charity dinner in mid-December. Ms. Burton and Ms. Benson will each prepare an evening gown. Whoever's gown leaves Jerry in awe will become Jerry's manager."

After Joash finished speaking, he looked at the two of them, waiting for their opinions.

Camilla readily agreed, "Sure."

Charlotte knew that Camilla was keeping a close eye on Jerry. If Jerry insisted on having Camilla as his agent again, her struggles would be in vain.

After all, with Jerry's status, he gets to decide which agent he wants to work with.

"Fine," Charlotte finally agreed, staring at Camilla. "But when the time comes, don't be a sore loser if you're willing to bet."

Charlotte chuckled and looked at Camilla with her arms crossed, "Just now, someone said they had a great relationship with the director of 'Adam's Garden.' But in the end, they couldn't even get a guest spot."

"Charlotte, don't you dare laugh at me," Camilla gritted her teeth and glared at her. "The secretary is just humoring you. Do you really think Mr. Xanders has time for you?"

As a result, the very next second, Charlotte's phone rang.

Charlotte knew that her family was now bankrupt and couldn't offer any benefits to others. So, how could anyone possibly help her easily?

She had called Andrew simply because she didn't want Camilla to feel smug.

Charlotte wasn't sure what the other person would say, but under Camilla's urging, she answered the phone.

Kieran Sampson's polite voice came through the loudspeaker, "Ms. Benson, Mr. Xanders has greeted the producer of that variety show, but the guest spots are full. Mr. Brody Lohan will be having dinner at Jazona Clubhouse tonight. You can go and talk to him then, mentioning President Xiao's name should work."

"All right, thank you for your help."

After hanging up the phone, Charlotte looked provocatively at Camilla and said, "See? Mr. Xanders spoke to the producer on my behalf, and they didn't hang up on me without a word."

Camilla was so angry that she couldn't speak.

Chapter 1355 Having A Great Time

She remembers that Jerry likes this type of coffee.

Jerry didn't even glance at her as he walked straight past her and sat down in the chair. He didn't bring his own personal stylist, instead opting to use the one provided by the magazine company.

As he was taking photos, the two makeup artists went to work on styling another artist.

Jerry called out to Joash, "Come help me remove my makeup."

Joash let out a soft "oh" and went over to the counter to find the cleansing cream. Just as he picked it up, his calf was kicked, causing him so much pain that he almost cried out.

He looked down at Jerry, who was sitting quietly in the chair, his expression indifferent.

Joash recalled the recent quarrel between Camilla and Charlotte. He was watching the commotion from the sidelines when Jerry kicked him, prompting him to quickly step in and break up the fight.

Charlotte slammed the cleansing cream onto the table, standing up straight and confronting him, "Do you want to argue with me? Even for my own benefit, I would never sell my body. It's because of him..."

Although Charlotte was a bit fickle, she had an open and honest relationship with each of her exes.

What's wrong with lovers enjoying intimate moments together?

Her boyfriend devoted time to accompany her and pamper her, while she provided him with financial support. Throughout their relationship, she was wholeheartedly committed to her boyfriend, and when they broke up, it was clear and amicable.

Both sides are putting effort into this relationship, which is a far cry from the differences between being a sugar baby or a client.

Facing the man's mocking gaze, she didn't continue speaking.

She really hates that look in his eyes!

Charlotte was furious and resentful, speaking bluntly and without restraint, "What right do you have to look down on me? Weren't you the one who used to be with me for money, offering your body in exchange?"

Joash, standing far away, felt relieved that the photographer had left early. Otherwise, if these moments were captured and shared, it would be a disaster.

He quickly took out his earphones from his pocket, put them on, and started listening to music, no longer paying attention to their conversation.

Chapter 1357 Realizing He Is Angry

When Kieran called back, Charlotte knew that it was Brody and Andrew who had told her to come here.

This is a trap that Brody set for himself.

She didn't want to lose face to Camilla, and she also wanted to secure a guest spot for Jerry in "Adam's Garden." So, she had no choice but to walk into this trap.

As everyone was chatting, the door to the private room opened again. Charlotte paused for a moment when she saw the man being led in by the waiter.

"Jerry, come here," someone called out as they stood up to greet him.

After listening to a few lines of conversation between that person and Jerry, Charlotte found out that he was a producer from a certain company. Jerry's next film would be produced by their company, and there was also an investor at the table.

That producer is a regular here and knew that Jerry was dining here, so he asked the waiter to invite him over.

After chatting for a short while, someone began to toast Charlotte. She smiled and clinked glasses with them. Once she sat back down, she took this opportunity to bring up a matter with Brody.

Brody suddenly asked, "Lottie, how did your dad's overseas investments break the funding chain?"

In the next moment, Jerry pulled back his coat, not allowing her to slip in.

"Why are you being so stingy? I'm cold." Charlotte followed, hugging her arms. She pouted and said, "I came to see Mr. Lohan to help you get a guest spot on that variety show."

Jerry said sarcastically, "I think Ms. Benson isn't so foolish that she can't tell the difference between 'an ambush dinner' and a regular meal."

"I know, but what can we do?"

Charlotte thought Brody would just say a few dirty words to embarrass her, but she didn't expect him to be so disgusting!

Charlotte clung to Jerry's arm, coaxing and praising him, "I'm so fed up with Mr. Lohan, I just want to smash a bottle on his head. Jerry, your actions just now were so cool and manly!"

"I noticed you haven't touched your fork. Do those dishes not suit your taste?" she asked. "How about we go for some seafood stew instead?"

Jerry didn't say a word, he just coldly pried her fingers open.

Outside the alley, Joash, who had received the notice earlier, parked a black Mercedes-Benz by the roadside, waiting. Jerry opened the passenger seat door and climbed in.

Charlotte hurried over, gripping the car window, "Jerry, I was wrong this morning, and I apologize to you. It was you who started the sarcasm, and I got angry and snapped back. I didn't mean to belittle you."

Chapter 1359 I Will Ruin You

Charlotte watched in astonishment as the Mercedes-Benz drove away, feeling both angry and wronged. She complained that Jerry was so rude; even if she had been too blunt in the morning, could he really just leave her by the side of the road?

Charlotte was freezing and quickly jogged to the parking lot by the roadside to find her sports car. Once she got in, she finally started to feel much warmer.

She had just tossed her bag onto the passenger seat when her phone, which had bounced out, lit up.

The phone call was from Jessica. Without waiting for Charlotte to speak, Jessica could hardly conceal her excitement as she whispered, "Lottie, Mr. Gaudette is dead."

Upon hearing this, Charlotte froze in surprise.

As soon as Joash drove the car into the underground garage of the apartment, Jerry's phone lit up.

He rubbed his tired eyes, and upon seeing the caller ID, his gaze dimmed slightly. Then, he answered the call and held the phone to his ear. After a moment, he responded with a faint "Mm-hmm."

After hanging up the phone, he said to Joash, who was about to get out of the car, "Take me to the airport."

Sebastian was scolding Jerry when a man with a cellphone in hand walked into the living room.

Sebastian took the phone and put it to his ear.

The other person didn't know what to say, which made his expression soften quite a bit. He spoke gently, "I didn't scold him, I just chatted with him for a bit, and I'll be back soon."

After hanging up the phone, he didn't even glance at Jerry and strode away.

Only when the footsteps behind him had faded away did Jerry let out a cold laugh and stand up from the ground. Casually wiping the blood from the corner of his mouth with his thumb, he too left the living room.

Outside, Jesse was waiting.

It was him who picked up Jerry from the airport and brought him to the mansion. Afterward, he stood by the door, listening to the conversation between the two people inside.

Jesse followed closely behind Jerry, remaining silent as they walked out of the mansion.

Both of them got into the car, with Jesse taking the wheel.
