Chapter 871 Lacking Money

Genevieve glanced at the black screen and turned to Steven. "Jerry's looking for me. He said he's going to pick me up at the hospital in ten minutes."

He nodded. "Should I accompany you, Mrs. Faulkner?"

"No need." She thought if Armand had borrowed Jerry's identity twice, it meant their relationship was pretty good.

After she had changed her clothes, she received a message from Jerry saying that his car had arrived at the northern exit. So, after she left the inpatient department, she headed to her destination.

Upon arriving there, she saw a black minivan sitting at the side of the road.

It was as though the people in the car also saw her because the door opened. A tall man with an extremely attractive face and a pair of dazzling eyes was sitting inside.

She took an additional glance at him.

Upon noticing the look in her eyes, Jerry chuckled. "How about you come closer to my face and take a good look at who I am?"

The moment he spoke, Genevieve was able to tell who he was. She entered the vehicle and sat next to Jerry.

As she tidied her hair, she asked, "Why are you looking for me?"

"I want you to sign a contract with me." He went straight to the point.

That dumbfounded her slightly before she returned to her senses and raised her voice. "You're Charlotte's ex-boyfriend. If I do that, what do you think she'll do? Are you crazy or am I?"

Jerry took out two cans of sparkling water from the

"That's not good enough," Genevieve spat. I still remember how Charlotte came all the way to Baykeep to find me when she thought I had an affair with Jerry.

Jerry propped his chin with his hand and stared at Genevieve. "If you sign a contract with me, your company may still rise from the dead. If you don't, it may be gone tomorrow."

She was puzzled. "You and I aren't familiar with each other. Why are you helping me?"

I owe your man a very big favor." His eyebrow raised. "Also, because you're rich, and I need money."

if Armand hadn't been spotted by Charlotte when he was using Jerry's identity to find me that night, she wouldn't have gotten so angry that she broke up with Jerry.

Chapter 872 Apologize To Sally

"What?" Genevieve thought she heard Bertilla wrong and stopped walking. "Why would my brother be sent to the police station?"

"He opened fire at General Loake's daughter..." Bertilla replied.

Steven told Cooper what happened to Genevieve last night. However, Armand didn't tell Steven the whole truth, so Steven thought Sally was the one responsible.

Everyone knew Sally had been attacking Specter Corporation and Genevieve lately. So, when Cooper heard the news that Sally had almost killed Genevieve, he was livid.

In the morning, he sneaked into the underground parking lot at Sally's residential area. She was able to take him down with her skills, but she was still sent to the hospital because she fainted after she was shot in her right shoulder and lost too much blood.

Gerald, upon learning the news of his daughter's assault, was furious. Additionally, Cooper was in illegal possession of a gun, so Gerald wanted the police to press charges against Cooper.

Since Gerald was the one giving the orders, it was likely Cooper would be executed.

That news sent a chill down Genevieve's spine. She quickly hung up the phone. When she saw Jerry's car was about to leave, she stopped it.

Jerry opened the door, letting her in. Then, she hurriedly said, "Go to the police station."

At that moment, there was a paparazzi loitering around Twilight Tower.

When they saw Genevieve exiting Jerry's minivan and then back into his car a few minutes later from afar with

Chapter 873 He Must Bear The Consequence

Genevieve lowered her voice. "I'm sorry."

"Are you done?" After Sally pressed on her tablet, she uttered plainly, "If you are, get out."

Genevieve stood silently for a moment before saying, "If you let my brother go, I promise I won't show up in front of Armand again."

Since Armand had received Ethan's heart, it meant he must take over Robert's position in the future and care for Sally. Once he started working in a government building, the chances of them meeting in the future were few and far between.

If she didn't beg Sally for mercy, it was likely Gerald would execute Cooper tomorrow.

Lastly, it was because of her that Cooper did such an impulsive thing.

Sally turned to her with a cold and merciless look. "Too bad you're too late. This morning, Armand came to find me. He told me he wouldn't marry anyone else except for remarrying you. He's willing to throw away his life for you by trying to return Ethan's heart to me. Even if you don't show up in front of him in the future, he'll still come and find you. I won't be able to stop it, and I won't do anything to you again."

The only thing she wanted was for Ethan to stay by her side, alive. Thus, she mustn't allow Armand to die.

"If I let you take a shot at me, will that be enough to quell your anger and for you to let him go?" Genevieve proposed.

Sally suddenly sneered, "You're a very strange person, Genevieve. I heard he killed your parents. Why are you risking your life to save the man who should be your arch nemesis? What you are doing is making me think that you're stomping on Armand's effort."

No explanation was given by Genevieve as she said, "If that's not enough, you can fire at me twice."

"If anything happens to you, Armand will come knocking on my door. I can't let that happen." Sally's tone was cold as ice. "Cooper has the

“Mrs. Lebon.” Genevieve relaxed when she saw who was in the car. When she accompanied Cooper to visit Landon's place last time, she met his wife.

Chapter 874 Your Mom Could Be My Aunt

“It already sounds painful just by listening to you describing it. If I were you, I would also want someone to be with me during the extraction process,” Genevieve said.

The two women continued chatting away for the rest of the journey.

When the car was almost reaching Twilight Tower, Renee looked at Genevieve's side profile and could not help but ask, “Genevieve, do you have a picture of your mom from when she was a child?”

“Why do you ask?” Genevieve was puzzled.

After a brief moment of hesitation, Renee decided to tell her the truth. “When I first saw you at my house back then, I had already noticed that you look very much like my aunt. As you know, my aunt has gone missing since she was six.”

“Ah,” Genevieve exclaimed. After a long moment of silence, she finally returned to her senses and replied, “Maybe we just look alike, and there's nothing more to that...”

“No.” Renee shook her head before replying, “Not only do you resemble my aunt, I always get a strange feeling when I see you. My gut feeling tells me that it is related to my aunt. I did share my suspicions with Yuvan a while back, but he told me not to continue looking into the matter. However, I got the same strange feeling when I saw you again this time.”

Renee paused and showed Genevieve a picture saved on her phone. “This was taken when my

The elevator door opened on the floor where the production company was. However, Genevieve closed the door at once and pressed the button to the first floor. She hurried out of the elevator when she reached the lobby and made a call.

"Ms. Rachford," Bertilla answered after just one ring.

"Go to my brother's office now and check his computer to see if there are any photos of me from when I was a child. Also, send me the address of my grandparents' old house in the southern district." Genevieve spoke quickly.

Chapter 875 A Special Photo

"Who are you looking for?" the woman asked, looking slightly surprised to see Genevieve.

Genevieve saw the woman taking out her keys from her pocket and guessed that she might be the housekeeper.

"Mia is my mom. I just want to take a look at my grandparents' house," Genevieve replied before showing the woman a few photos of her and her mother.

After verifying Genevieve's identity, the woman appeared to be more relaxed and opened the door for her to enter.

Genevieve got to know that the woman's last name was Roberts and that her mother had worked for the Quinn family previously. After the death of Old Mr. Quinn and his wife, Mrs. Roberts' health condition deteriorated and was no longer able to look after the property. As such, she ended up moving in with her brother. Mrs. Roberts and her family were currently living in the old bungalow as her son was studying in the area.

Mrs. Roberts' entire family stayed on the first floor. She had been taking good care of the property over the years and did not allow anyone to go upstairs to the second floor.

After knowing that Genevieve was there to look for her mother's belongings, Mrs. Roberts took Genevieve upstairs to the second floor.

Genevieve searched her mother's old bedroom and found a photo album which was kept in a drawer.

a tool to pry open the lock. When she looked through the album, she saw that there were no childhood photos but only a few photos of her mother as an adult.

Just then, one special photo caught Genevieve's attention.

It was a photo of a man who was dressed in a black shirt rimmed with gold threads. He was leaning against the couch in a relaxed manner and had an imposing presence.

The man had well-sculpted features and a pair of deep-set purple eyes. He was cocking his eyebrows and had a cigarette in his mouth as he smiled at the camera.

The subtle smirk on his face, combined with his attractive features and refined appearance, added to his allure.

Genevieve felt slightly perplexed after hearing that.

Chapter 876 A Loss Making Deal

The taxi stopped by the roadside near the building. Genevieve took the elevator and arrived at the restaurant in a short time. She looked around and found Yuvan sitting by the window.

Yuvan wanted to stand up as soon as she saw Genevieve. However, Genevieve waved her hand, hurriedly walked over, and sat opposite him.

"Have you ordered?"

"Not yet." Yuvan handed the menu to her.

The waiter walked out after taking their orders.

Genevieve took a sip of the lemon water and asked, "How is it?"

Yuvan pushed his phone to Genevieve and sighed. "I almost sacrificed myself just to get this recording. This is really a loss-making deal."

After listening to the recording, Genevieve smiled.

It just proved that her suspicion earlier was indeed correct.

Genevieve quickly sent the recording to her phone and asked the waiter to bring them a bottle of wine. After letting the wine breathe, she poured a glass for Yuvan.

Yuvan smiled. "Sadness is written all over your face. I can see it as soon as I saw you."

Genevieve pursed her lips embarrassedly and smiled. "I have nothing to give you. What about money? If you need investment for your gallery in the future,

"Sure. I'll keep that in mind." Yuvan did not reject her.

Chapter 877 You Would Better Come

"Sylvie has attempted twice to forge the DNA test result. So, I'm very cautious this time. I asked my professor's husband to find someone to do this DNA test. Dr. Lawson had been a private doctor for my grandpa for about three years," said Yuvan.

Genevieve was a little disappointed by the DNA test result. However, as she thought further, she felt it was right. When she compared her childhood photos with Juliana, she did not feel that they looked alike too.

Her mother was also the only daughter, and the hospital had the information.

"It seems that Juliana and I just look alike and nothing else." Genevieve returned the phone to Yuvan.

"My grandpa likes you very much and has treated you as his own granddaughter. He has been waiting for you to read to him. Besides, I don't mind having another sister," said Yuvan.

"Forget it. After all, we're not really blood-related. How can you simply take me as your sister?" Genevieve shook her head, smiling.

Genevieve added, "Why don't you give your dad a call right now? General Loake is very angry. I'm afraid that he will use his power and execute my brother at the police station."

"Okay. He should be free by now." Yuvan picked up his phone from the table and called his father.

When Genevieve just sent the recording to Timothy, she received a call from Charlotte.

"Hello..."

Charlotte started screaming at her angrily, "Genevieve, I want to kill you! I work so hard for you, and you date my man?"

Genevieve's ear was almost deaf when she screamed. "I wanted to call you this afternoon, but something urgent came up..."

"What was so urgent? Did you guys go to the hotel?"

There was a thumping sound from Charlotte's side as if she was kicking something. "No wonder I felt that the perfume smell on your body was so familiar. So, you were the one that he kissed at the bar that day! You're such a b*tch!"

I'm unable to tell you clearly over the phone. Can you wait for me at the Imperial Club? I'll be there in fifteen minutes."

"You'd better come. Otherwise, I'll make you die miserably if I find you tomorrow!"

exciting headlines to catch the eyes of the readers. The headlines read: Real estate tycoon, Mr. Benson's daughter's ex-boyfriend is now the new love of Genevieve. Jerry Pann used his body to win a chance to make a comeback.

Genevieve was speechless when she saw that vulgar headline.

No wonder Charlotte was so mad at me just now. She shouldn't be so angry just because Jerry is going to sign under my company. She must've seen the news. I just went through life and death yesterday and have not even returned to my senses yet. Now I have to deal with all this nonsense. What have I done to deserve all these?

Chapter 878 I Am A Playgirl

Genevieve pushed open the door and entered the room. The mess in the room was clearly seen under the bright light. The crystal coffee table that was worth more than ten thousand shattered on the ground.

Genevieve saw Charlotte sitting on the couch. She was wearing an off-shoulder dress and high heels. Her beautiful face was full of gloom.

Charlotte was typing on her phone. When she heard the footsteps, she immediately looked toward the door and glared at Genevieve.

If eyes could kill, Genevieve would be dead by now.

"I knew that you two had an affair when I looked at the surveillance camera that day, but you refused to admit it! When the f*ck did you two get together? You'd better give me an explanation! But no matter what you say, I will never forgive you!" Charlotte said coldly.

Genevieve did not answer her in a hurry. Instead, she rang the service bell and asked someone to come in to clear the broken glasses on the floor. Then, she walked to the bar and poured two glasses of brandy.

She walked over to Charlotte again and handed her a glass of brandy.

Charlotte sneered and took it.

She froze and stared at Genevieve with wide eyes, shocked.

Chapter 880 I Want You All To Myself

Genevieve left with an expressionless face. When she met the manager on duty in the corridor, she instructed him to deliver some wine and some fruit to Charlotte's room.

Genevieve added, "Tell them that police often come for inspection recently, so they have to behave."

The manager nodded.

When Genevieve arrived at the elevator and was about to press the button, the elevator opened slowly in front of her. There was a person standing inside.

She stopped breathing for a second when she saw Armand. For some reason, her eyes turned teary.

"Don't you want to come in?" Armand held the door for her when he saw that Genevieve stood still and did not go in.

Genevieve pursed her lips, walked in, and stood behind him.

Armand let go of his hand and let the elevator door close automatically. "I had a meeting in Feston. Jerry told me that you're at the club, so I came to pick you up right after the meeting."
