

Full Marks Hidden Marriage: Pick Up a Son, Get a Free Husband

Chapter 29: Soon-to-be Lady Boss

So what?!

Ning Xi choked, feeling speechless, “Big Boss Lu, do your employees know that you’re using your company’s people to help artistes from other companies?”

They evidently did not; this famous makeup artist had definitely never heard of her considering how unknown she was.

She really wanted to kneel to Lu Tingxiao.

Golden Age Entertainment was one of the subsidiaries of the Lu Corporation at the very least!

Although Lu Jingli was managing Golden Age now, the boss behind the scenes was the Lu Corporation’s Lu Tingxiao.

The Lu Corporation began to get involved with the entertainment industry five years ago and bought over Golden Age Entertainment, creating an entertainment empire. They were even able to compete directly with the oldest, leading company in the industry, Starlight Entertainment.

From this, you could see how fierce the competition was between the two companies, their employees- from artistes to managers to assistants, makeup artists and stylists- could never mix. If there were artistes from both companies present on the same set, there would definitely be some sparks flying.

Lu Tingxiao looked at his watch, “The minivan is at the door, you can do your makeup and styling on the way there and you’ll make it in time. It’s up to you whether you want to go or not.”

Ning Xi was so conflicted that her intestines started to hurt, but she still gritted her teeth, “I’m going!”

Since Lu Tingxiao wasn't bothered about it, then she wouldn't care about it either!

Seeing that Lu Tingxiao had followed along, she was surprised, "You're going too?"

"Who else is going to drive? Little Treasure wants to stay a little longer with you as well." He was using that matter-of-fact tone again, as if whatever he said was truth and she was only asking silly questions.

Little Treasure nodded vigorously.

"Okay..."

In the end, all four of them got on the minivan, together with the stylist Arthur.

Lu Tingxiao didn't even change out of his clothes, he continued driving in his casual homewear while Ning Xi and Arthur sat in the back, with Little Treasure watching them curiously as he sprawled over his seat.

Arthur carefully looked over Ning Xi once, his gaze showing great appreciation, "This lady has perfect features and amazing skin, I don't need to do much. I'll just put on some light makeup. What occasion are you going to today, miss? I need to choose the right clothes for you."

"Uh, it's just an opening ceremony for a movie..."

Ning Xi was deathly afraid that she would get beaten up if he found out that she was from Starlight. Luckily, Arthur didn't ask much, he only nodded to show that he understood and continued to do her makeup.

When they were close to the location of the opening ceremony, Ning Xi had been fully made up from top to toe, they had grasped the timing very well.

Lu Tingxiao stopped the car, then turned to look at the woman behind, with his arm on the back of his seat.

"How is it?" Ning Xi asked, a little nervous.

"Not bad."

It wasn't easy to get such a compliment from someone as taciturn as Lu Tingxiao. Furthermore, Little Treasure was tilting his head and looking at her with an awestruck expression.

Ning Xi was suddenly brimming with confidence and she hugged Little Treasure apologetically, "Darling, I'm so sorry I couldn't keep my word, but auntie promises you that I'll quickly return to accompany you after work!"

Little Treasure hugged her for a moment before reluctantly letting go and waving goodbye, knowing that she was rushing for time.

Looking at the pair of father and son behind her, Ning Xi's heart was filled with warmth...

After battling like a lone soldier for so long, it was the first time she had had such a warm feeling.

Since Ning Xi had left, the driver's position was naturally left to Arthur.

Arthur could no longer hold back his nosiness and carefully asked as he drove, "Boss, who was that lady just now? Is she one of the new recruits of our company? How come I haven't seen her before?"

Damn! Their big boss actually had a woman at his side, this was mind blowing news!

Lu Tingxiao supported his chin, answering leisurely: "An artiste from Starlight."

Arthur: "..."

In an instant, Arthur looked as sour as if he had eaten a lemon.

Big boss! You actually let me style an artiste from Starlight!

Why is our boss working for the other side!

Even our second young master doesn't date anyone from Starlight, okay?

If the person sitting here had been the second young master, he would have let loose a string of ranting.

However, this was the great evil king Lu Tingxiao...

He could only hold it in, not even daring to let out a single peep of complaint even if it killed him.

Something else that he couldn't say out was, that unknown Starlight artiste wasn't going to become their soon-to-be lady boss, right?

After all, this woman was even able to win over the little prince.

She definitely wasn't simple...

Chapter 30: Opening Ceremony

At the opening ceremony of 'Land Under Heaven'.

The cast and crew members were all assembled, lights were flashing one after another, and there were numerous media outlets there. There was even a huge group of fans in the outer ring who had come after hearing the news.

Most of the media outlets were surrounding the female lead, Ning Xueluo, and the male lead, Zhao Sizhou.

One of them was the shining star of Starlight Entertainment while the other was the famous star who had won an Oscar. The pairing of a suave man with a beauty naturally drew the attention of everyone.

"Xueluo, we all know that this is your second time acting as a couple with Sizhou on screen, would you also give your heart to a man like Sizhou in real life?"

"Haha, Sizhou is indeed attractive, but that won't happen! I don't have any space left in my heart for him!"

The media was clamouring after hearing so.

Ning Xueluo had publicly announced that she had a boyfriend a year ago. Various people had gone digging for insider news and found out that her boyfriend was actually the son of the Yifeng Corporation's CEO, Su Hongguang. He had both status and money, and even had good looks to boot- everyone had been filled with envy.

Although the fans had been upset, fans were not as averse to marriage these days as compared to the past. Most fans even hoped that their idol would find someone good to marry.

Ning Xueluo's popularity had not declined in the slightest after revealing that she had a lover. Conversely, she had maintained her popularity with topics like 'Handsome and rich boyfriend' and 'Winner at life'.

Zhao Sizhou, who was at her side, was good at following up. He immediately held his chest as if his heart hurt, "Miss Shangguan, how heartless of you, this king has already given you everything along with my heart!"

The female lead that Ning Xueluo was acting as this time was a girl called Shangguan Yingrong, while Zhao Sizhou was acting as a prince.

Hearing so, the reporters laughed along and teased Zhao Sizhou with a warm air.

Other than the actors for the male and female leads, the actress for the supporting female lead was the one that everyone had their eyes on. A crowd was surrounding Guo Qisheng.

"Director Guo, where's the actress for Meng Changge? Will she be here today?"

"Of course."

"Is it true that you rejected Jia Qingqing because she wasn't beautiful enough when she came to audition for this role?"

They were clearly out to cause trouble by asking such questions.

However, Director Guo was an old hand, he spoke smoothly, "We do have a high standard regarding looks for a role like Meng Changge, but appearance is only one of the criteria we use to judge suitability for the role. There was no problem with Jia Qingqing's appearance, but she did not match what we were looking for in terms of feeling!"

"We've heard that the one playing Meng Changge is a rookie? Since Meng Changge is such a demanding role, suddenly choosing to use a rookie for this, will she be able to completely fulfill the expectations?"

What was wrong with the reporters today, had they not given enough 'bonuses' to them? Their questions were clearly out to attack them, and were even focused on the supporting female lead.

"For that question, please wait until our movie is out, just wait and see!"

The reporters were still unwilling to let go of the question and asked aggressively, "Director Guo, is the actress for Meng Changge prettier than Jia Qingqing?"

Haven't they said enough!

Yes! She's more beautiful than Jia Qingqing!

So what if she's a beauty of a hundred years? Wait till all of you see Ning Xi, let's see if you still dare to praise Jia Qingqing's looks!

"About this, they all have their own merits... you'll know once she's here..."

Guo Qisheng was starting to get annoyed by all these questions. At this moment, glancing over the heads of all the reporters, he spotted someone appearing at the start of the red carpet. He was stunned for at least three seconds before he regained his senses, and he smiled as he said, "Well, look at this, speak of the devil!"