

FMH Marriage 701

Chapter 701: Of Course, You Can

Ning Xi frowned. "Our child really didn't mention about this to us."

The teacher sighed, "Then, it's probably because the child didn't want to trouble you both and intentionally did not inform you...I wanted to call the both of you yesterday to ask, but that child is really too mature. He even took the initiative to tell me not to call, in fear of disturbing the both of you..."

"Sigh, as busy as one can be, one can still spare some time from an afternoon, can't you? I pondered for quite a while and decided to still make this call, hoping the both of you could consider it. This is, after all, Lu Qingyu's first parental activity since attending our school!"

Ning Xi's eyes were tearing up listening to what the teacher said.

Yet, after Lu Tingxiao heard the teacher's words and expression of feelings, he felt completely different from Ning Xi...

It was true that Ning Xi was very busy recently, but he remembered that he had not been too busy these past few days.

Why didn't Little Treasure tell him?

Perhaps the little guy thought that if Auntie Xiao Xi could not make it, his biological father didn't have to come to since there wouldn't be any difference...

"Teacher, I understand, it's our fault. We have been too distant from our child in terms of interaction. I'll go over this afternoon. As for my husband, I'll ask him in a bit, and we will try to go over together," said Ning Xi.

"That would be great. We actually requested the parents to prepare and make their own outfits and props, but since it is too last minute for the both of you, our school has ready-made ones you can use," reminded the teacher.

"Okay, thank you, Teacher Wang!"

On the side, Lu Tingxiao quietly listened to Ning Xi mention "Lu Qingyu's mother" and "my husband". He felt like deciding to let Ning Xi pick up this call was an accurate one.

After she finished the call with the teacher, Ning Xi quickly asked him, "Lu Tingxiao, are you free this afternoon?"

"I have a department meeting, but I can let Lu Jingli chair it on my behalf." The wife had already spoken. How could he not make time?

“That’s great then! The both of us will go together!” Ning Xi suddenly hesitated.

“Wait...can I go?”

Because she was too worried about Little Treasure earlier, she had just taken on the identity of Little Treasure’s mother. Now that she had calmed down, she could not help but feel that it was not appropriate. After all, she was only dating Lu Tingxiao now.

Lu Tingxiao looked at her lovingly and said, “Of course, you can.”

Ning Xi seemed to be scorched by his gaze and she coughed slightly. “Right, before I go to school I need to get some things from the apartment. If it was any other function, I wouldn’t be confident, but this is a masquerade ball, which is completely my forte! I have many outfits and props at home, and they’re all ready-made!”

...

At Regal Riveria Hotel.

Ning Xi was turning her house upside down. She had many items for dressing up, but it was not too easy to find something that could fit a family of three.

The three of them could dress up as different characters, but that would not be special. She wanted to take on a more unique theme.

While Ning Xi was looking for the props and outfits, Lu Tingxiao called Lu Jingli.

The moment the phone got through, Lu Jingli anxiously answered, “Hello, Bro, it’s ten minutes to the meeting. You’re not planning to miss it, are you?”

Lu Tingxiao replied, “Yes, I’ll let you chair the meeting.”

Lu Jingli was speechless.

Chapter 702: Boss, Carry Me!

“Okay, okay...I knew it...have you settled your matters?” Lu Jingli asked with a certain tone.

When he saw Hongda Estate’s shares drop drastically, he already knew that his brother had personally gone to save the wife. Was there anything that could he not solve?

“Mmm.”

“Hmm, is Xiao Xi Xi especially touched? The both of you are in the honeymoon phase of your relationship. Are you definitely going off to spend some quality time with each other?” Lu Jingli teased.

Lu Tingxiao shortly replied, “No.”

“Eh? No? No quality time with each other? Then, why aren’t you coming back for the meeting?” Lu Jingli was very shocked to hear the answer. He was not used to his brother not publicly displaying his affection for Ning Xi.

In the next moment, he heard his brother say, “Little Treasure’s school has a parent-child activity.”
Lu Jingli was shocked. What!?

Damn it, this trio’s quality time is much more lovey-dovey than just the two of them!

This was only the second day of them dating but they were already going to participate in a parent-child activity.

Indeed, this was still his biological brother...

“Ah! Found it! This one will definitely be awesome!” The house rang with Ning Xi’s overjoyed voice.

Lu Tingxiao hung up and looked up to see Ning Xi carrying a red cloth in her hands with another two grey furry items on top of it...

“What are you preparing?”

“I’m keeping it a secret first. You’ll know then, hehe...” Ning Xi chuckled mysteriously, then said a little uncertainly, “I’m just slightly worried that you won’t be willing to wear it later...”

“I will.”

“Really? You said so! No matter what I prepare, you’ll be willing to wear it?”

“Mmm.”

“Okay! Big Boss, even you’re giving it your all! Let’s fight for the first place! Earlier, Teacher Wang sent me the activity details. The first place will get a super huge prize! How exciting!”

...

At the school.

When Ning Xi and Lu Tingxiao rushed to the school, they noticed that the other children’s parents had all arrived. There were people dressed up as various characters: some lions, tigers, dinosaurs, princesses, Cinderella, Spiderman, and Ice Queen...

Ning Xi stood in the colorful crowd to look but she could not find Little Treasure...

Ning Xi tiptoed, hoping to see better. “Eh, where’s our Little Treasure? Lu Tingxiao, do you see him?”

Lu Tingxiao used his privilege of height and skimmed the crowd, then said, “Little Treasure isn’t here.”

“Eh? He’s not? Where did he go then?”

Teacher Wang, who was not far away, rushed over when she saw the two of them standing at the gate. “Mister Lu, Madam Lu, you’ve come!”

Even though he had only seen them once on the child’s first day at school, they were just too eye-catching, thus she recognized them right away.

“Teacher Wang, sorry we’re late. Where’s Lu Qingyu?” Ning Xi asked worriedly.

“He’s reading in the classroom! I haven’t told him that you would come. He’ll definitely be very happy when he sees you!” Teacher Wang smiled broadly.

“Thank you, Teacher Wang, we’ll go over now!”

...

When they left the event venue, Ning Xi impatiently hurried faster and faster.

Lu Tingxiao reminded her helplessly, “Slow down, you still have an injury on your leg.”

“But I can’t wait anymore!” Of course, she would not listen to his advice. When she thought about baby Little Treasure sitting alone in the classroom, she wished she could put on a pair of wings and fly over.

But she knew the limits of her own leg. If she walked faster, her wound would definitely not be able to handle it...

A bright idea hit her. She turned around, opening up her arms towards Lu Tingxiao and said, “Boss, carry me!”

Chapter 703: I’m Avenging My Son!

Lu Tingxiao was dumbfounded by the sudden happiness that surged through him.

Ning Xi did not care about being shy and urged him, “Quickly! Little Treasure is waiting for us!”

Lu Tingxiao picked her up gently.

It was the right decision. Although Lu Tingxiao was not all that fast, his legs were long, so he walked much faster than her.

There were not many people around, which explained her bold behavior.

Ning Xi looked around, then she spotted the classroom entrance...

They saw a little boy and a teacher standing in front of the entrance, seeming like they were arguing.

The teacher was in her twenties and she was scolding the little boy, “Sun Zhuangzhuang! How could you lock the door?! Lu Qingyu is still inside!”

“Teacher! Lu Qingyu didn’t change into a costume!” The boy’s face was chubby, his cheeks were puffy and almost covered his slitted eyes. He wore a black bear outfit, probably cosplaying a bear from a recent popular cartoon animation.

“I know. Because his parents aren’t here yet!” the teacher patiently explained.

“He did not put on his costume, so he cannot play with us! I’m going to lock him up!” the little boy yelled.

“You can’t just lock him up because of a reason like that! Good children can’t be mean to others!”

As the teacher was trying to convince the little boy, he stomped his foot on hers and screeched, “You witch! You dare to defy me?! I’m going to ask my dad to punish you!”

The boy was still a child, but his body was stout and he was much stronger than other kids, so his stomp must have caused some damage.

The teacher felt a sharp pain in her foot and cried out, “Sun Zhuangzhuang, how can you kick people?”

A big-sized man quickly came over. “My son, why are you here?! I’ve been looking for you!”

As he saw his father, he spoke in his loud voice, “Father! The teacher hit me! She hit me!”

“What? Who dare to hit you?! I’m going to kill them!” The man looked buff and his eyes were ferocious.

The young teacher was terrified but she explained carefully, “Mr. Sun, I didn’t. How could I hit children? Your son insisted on locking another student in the classroom. I tried to convince him not to but he’s not listening, and he even kicked me...”

Instead of scolding or punishing his child, the father laughed. “Good! Good kick! You’re the star of our Sun family! Only we can bully others, no one can bully us!”

The female teacher looked pale and kept quiet even though she was angry. She tried to suppress her urge to cry...

“What the heck?! A man bullying a weak lady and acting all high and mighty?” Ning Xi almost wanted to attack the man with her fists.

Most importantly, the bear kid was trying to lock Little Treasure in the classroom!

But she was still held by Lu Tingxiao, so her whims failed...

“Lu Tingxiao, don’t stop me! I’m avenging my son!”

Chapter 704: My Son Is Handsome!

“Don’t act rashly.”

“I’m not! Lu Tingxiao, I’m going to make him beg for forgiveness even with just one foot of mine!”

Lu Tingxiao sighed helplessly. He had to be careful with her even if it was just a parent-child activity in school. If he did not hold her back, she would act like a wild horse without restraint...

The child and his father went away, leaving the teacher weeping.

“Teacher, are you alright?” Ning Xi went up to her and gave her a tissue, her eyes flashing with anger.

“Ah! You guys...are Lu Qingyu’s parents, aren’t you? He’s been waiting! I’m alright. Did you guys see everything just now?”

The teacher was afraid that the parents would have a bad impression on the school, so she quickly explained, “Please don’t mind it, this parent is just a special case. Most of the parents from our school are well mannered!”

This teacher had been protecting Little Treasure, so Ning Xi did not blame her. “It’s alright. We understand that there’s always someone like them around.”

But the incident just now worried Ning Xi a little. Was Little Treasure being bullied in school?

According to his personality, he would not say anything even if he was bullied...

The teacher could take a stab at Ning Xi’s worries as well. She quickly told her, “Lu Qingyu is adapting well to the school. Although he doesn’t talk much, many children like him and he’s especially popular with the girls!”

Ning Xi’s eyes shone. Little Treasure was popular with the girls?

That was a surprise!

But, well, it was her handsome son after all! It was normal for him to be popular!

“This Sun Zhuangzhuang is a famous troublemaker. His parents don’t care either and us teachers are troubled when facing him...but we’ve been observing him closely, please rest assured...”

The party was going to start soon, so after a short chat with the both of them, the teacher left to finish the preparations.

By the first column near the middle and right beside the window, there was a small shadow sitting by himself.

The snowflakes outside matched his ice-cold face, just like his father’s.

He was holding a big book and was totally immersed in his own world. What happened outside just now was unable to upset his small, pure world.

“Little Treasure...”

With a gentle call, his invisible barrier was broken and his eyes slowly came back to reality...

Little Treasure was surprised. He sat up straight and lifted his head up from the book, looking at the direction of the voice.

Aunty Xiao Xi!

Obviously, he totally ignored his father.

The little guy blinked and did not move for a few seconds. After he was sure that he was not hallucinating, he left his book on the table and ran...

“Little Treasure...I’m sorry...” Ning Xi’s heart was at ease as Little Treasure ran into her arms.

Chapter 705: My Wife Is The Best

“Little Treasure, I know that you kept this matter hidden from us because you didn’t want to trouble us, but no next time, alright?”

Little Treasure nodded obediently.

“Okay, it’s almost time now, let’s get changed!”

Ning Xi was still a little worried about Sun Zhuangzhuang. She wanted to ask Little Treasure if he was bullied in school, but the party was already starting, so she suppressed her urge to ask for now.

However, it was still bothering her, so she had to think of something...a once-and-for-all plan so that Little Treasure would never be bullied in school...

After they were done changing and they entered the hall, Ning Xi suddenly remembered something. She looked at the little bun and spoke to him, “Little Treasure, I’ve forgotten to tell you something...”

Little Bun blinked with suspicion.

Ning Xi coughed and then looked at Lu Tingxiao. “Um, well...let me think how to phrase this...”

As she was thinking how to break the news to him, Lu Tingxiao interrupted, “Aunty Xiao Xi is now my girlfriend.”

Little Treasure tilted his head and looked confused.

He was not familiar with the term “girlfriend”. All he knew was that if Aunty Xiao Xi became his father’s wife, then she would be his mother.

Lu Tingxiao explained, “‘Girlfriend’ means that Aunty Xiao Xi is like half of your mother.”

Ning Xi was speechless by his explanation. Was it even appropriate?

Nevertheless, the explanation was effective for Little Treasure’s understanding. His face brightened up and he glanced at Ning Xi, seeking for confirmation.

Father could not be trusted!

Ning Xi did not want to disappoint the little bun. “Your father is...sort of right. That’s what it kind of means! For your sake, when appearing in school, I’ll be your...one whole mother!”

“One whole mother”...she was confused by her own phrase.

But the little bun was smart. He understood and nodded.

“Alright, then let’s have fun!” Ning Xi held their hands, holding two fluffy paws and flanked by either of them.

The moment they stepped into the hall, everyone went quiet. All of them were looking at the entrance.

Ning Xi wore a cute puffy skirt with a big red hood over her head. She also had a small basket on her arm, obviously taking on the role of Little Red Riding Hood from the classic fairytale story.

As for the buns beside her, both of them wore fluffy grey suits with bushy tails and sharp ears attached to the suit. Even their eyebrows were colored grey with eyebrow pencil...

The tiny wolf was cute while the large wolf was handsome and the Little Red Riding Hood looked beautiful. The three of them instantly became the center of attention.

The parents were all not professionals, so make-up for them was just simply drawing some lines on their faces. Some of them even wore fake outfits made of paper.

Ning Xi was the real professional. She was strict with her props and costume; even all the fur on the wolf suit looked real.

Ning Xi grinned as she saw everyone’s gaze on them. She whispered to Lu Tingxiao, “Did I overdo it? I feel like some advanced player bullying newbies...”

“My wife is the best.”

Ning Xi coughed, this guy was getting into his role real quick! Wouldn’t being Little Treasure’s one whole mother mean she was his wife?

Chapter 706: Just Too Cute!

“You’re really great as well! How cooperative! I didn’t expect you’d really wear it...”

Ning Xi tried not to laugh at him as she pinched his wolf ears. “You’re really cute!

His boss aura was all diminished...

Lu Tingxiao looked at her helplessly. “Do you think I’d let anyone see me in this?”

“Alright, alright! I know it’s a big sacrifice for you...”

As she was talking to Lu Tingxiao, she realized that Little Treasure was pulling her skirt. He was staring at her with a little disappointment in his eyes.

“What’s wrong?” Ning Xi asked.

Lu Tingxiao glanced at his son and reminded her, “His ears.”

“Huh? What happened to his ears?” Ning Xi then remembered. She laughed and touched the little bun’s wolf ears. “Little Treasure looks really cute as well!”

The little bun was enjoying the moment with Auntie Xiao Xi. Oh, it was Mother Xiao Xi now! He felt truly satisfied.

“Are you hungry? There are some desserts. I’ll go get you some!”

Ning Xi went to the dessert counter happily. Just as she was about to get a brownie, she felt a huge nudge from behind and she was pushed to the side. The kid who had bullied Little Treasure earlier, Sun Zhuangzhuang, grabbed a few cakes and stuffed them into his mouth.

Not only that, he took all the other cakes and put them into a big bag he brought...

Some parents were voicing their dissatisfaction. “Hey, whose kid is this? Look after him! He’s taking away all the food. What are we supposed to eat?”

“He’s my kid. What’s wrong?” A chubby woman sauntered over as she looked at her son dotingly. “The food here is meant to be eaten. There’s no rule about how much one can eat! My child is strong, of course, he needs more!”

“He shouldn’t take that much. There are around twenty pieces. Can he finish all of it?”

“It’s none of your business. Aren’t you ashamed to argue with a little kid for just a few slices of cakes?”

“It’s not about the cakes. Your child...”

Some parents were still trying to reason with her. The child’s father went up and glared at them with his ferocious eyes, so everyone just kept quiet and let it be...

The incident passed quickly. The teachers then arranged many activities including singing, dancing, and interactive games. Everyone was having lots of fun.

For the final agenda, they were going to select the best costume of the night.

As expected, Ning Xi and her two buns emerged as the winner, their number of votes leading the way.

Lu Tingxiao had already made such sacrifice. It was only worth it if they won the prize!

“Congratulations to Lu Qingyu and his parents! All three of them look really cute tonight! They make us realize that even wolves in fairytales can be cute as well! Our prizes are cute too. What could it be? Let me reveal it to you!”

There was a large box on the stage and the teacher untied the knot.

Among the crowd, Ning Xi was even more excited than the children. She was really looking forward to it.

The box was opened and in it was an enormous fluffy bear, even bigger than Ning Xi.

Ning Xi's eyes shone. "Wow! It's so cute!"

Little Treasure saw the big bear and Mother's happy face, so he felt giddy with joy too.

Lu Tingxiao looked at their beaming faces and touched the fur on his outfit, feeling that it was all worth it.

Chapter 707: Little Treasure, Take Good Care of Mother!

When they had received their prize, the teacher smiled and said, "Okay, our parent-child activity today has come to an end. All the other children can also redeem their little prizes from me!"

The children cheered and walked over to get their present one by one...

Because he had parked further away and it was cold outside, Lu Tingxiao let Ning Xi and Little Treasure wait in the activity hall while he went to drive the car over.

"I'll be back very soon. Be good, don't run around." Without a doubt, Lu Tingxiao was not saying this to Little Treasure, but to Ning Xi.

Ning Xi pouted as if she was being treated like a child. "I know, it's only a few minutes. I won't fly to the sky."

Lu Tingxiao was speechless. Not only was there a possibility of that happening. In fact, it was very huge.

"Little Treasure, take good care of your mother."

Little Treasure nodded seriously, indicating that he would.

Ning Xi looked at the father and son, tongue-tied.

Lu Tingxiao reminded her to behave again several times before leaving.

Ning Xi picked up the big bear and found a chair to sit down with Little Treasure, obediently waiting for Lu Tingxiao.

"Little Treasure, are you happy today?"

Little Treasure's eyes shone as he nodded. Happy! Today is the happiest day of my life! Auntie Xiao Xi is already half his mother, and they even won a super big bear.

The little guy did not care much about the countless toys at home, but now he hurled out his little hand to pat the gigantic furry bear all around, endlessly showering it with his love.

Ning Xi took the opportunity to dish out some motherly advice. "Baby, did you know? The best things come from your own hard work!"

...

While the mother and son spoke, the initially cheerful activity hall suddenly rang with a piercing cry.

“I don’t want this! I want the bear, I want the bear, I want the bear!!!!”

They saw that that little bear child, Sun Zhuangzhuang, had started to throw a tantrum again. He threw the present given by the teacher and cried while looking and pointing at Ning Xi’s big bear. It did not matter how much the people around coaxed him.

Not too far away, Ning Xi was speechless by this scene. Why did he want the bear? He was already a bear himself...

Even though she was not happy with the child, she did not want to ruin the good mood today. Plus, she had promised Lu Tingxiao not to do anything unruly, so she continued to talk to Little Treasure and ignored what was happening.

In the end, she had not looked for trouble, but that child’s mother approached her herself.

That woman walked to the front of Little Treasure and said, “Um, whoever’s child this is, can we do an exchange? Give this bear to my son!”

Ning Xi was so angry she almost laughed out loud. “Why would I?”

Theirs was a first-grade prize!

“Can’t you see that my son’s already crying so hard?” the woman said with a matter-of-fact tone.

“What does your son crying have to do with us?”

“Why are you so rude? My son’s already crying so hard, don’t you have any sympathy at all?” the woman yelled.

“Sympathy? This little punk wanted to lock my son in the class earlier! You want me to pity him?” Because Little Treasure was beside her, Ning Xi suppressed her anger and touched his head to console him.

“The children are just messing around. You’re an adult. Do you have to be so calculative with children when it comes to such petty things?”

Ning Xi scoffed, “Are you also going to use the excuse that ‘the children are messing around’ when he kills people one day?”

While Ning Xi was distracted by speaking with the woman, her child suddenly shoved her with his head. There was a line of bookshelves behind Ning Xi and she bumped into them, causing them to fall like dominoes...

Chapter 708: Let’s Fight! If You Win, I’ll Give It To You!

Instantly, the entire line of shelves started to wobble. When she saw the shelves were about to topple, Ning Xi went pale and quickly picked Little Treasure and hid. At the same time, she used the big mother bear to block the books that were falling all around and so, did not get harmed by a close shave...

In the next second, a loud crash was heard and the bookshelves came falling down.

Everyone gasped in fright.

“Oh my...” God!

Ning Xi hugged Little Treasure and suppressed herself very hard to not blurt out curses in this holy ground called “school”. Her sharp gaze found the child dressed in the bear costume and the woman.

When she saw Ning Xi glaring so antagonistically, the woman quickly put her child behind her and demanded, “What are you doing? You want to hit a child!? Everyone, come look! This evil woman won’t even let go of a mere child!”

With all the commotion going on, all of the parents crowded around and looked on with resentment.

“Why is it this family again?! How unruly!”

“Exactly, the last time Sun Zhuangzhuang borrowed the Transformers toy my husband had bought for our child, it was never returned. I looked for her to discuss the issue, but she just said it was lost. She did not even offer to compensate and said I was overreacting!”

“If that woman had not moved so quickly, those huge shelves would have toppled onto her and caused severe injuries! In fact, there was a child with her too! That bear child is already acting like that at such a young age, I’m afraid he would grow up to kill someone or something!”

“He’s too unruly now! Can’t the school manage him a little?”

“How can they manage him? If you manage a child, people would say that he’s just a kid and that it’s normal to be slightly naughty. The school can’t chase people away for such a small matter, can they?”

...

Facing all the parents’ and teachers’ condemnations, Sun Zhuangzhuang’s mother was not remorseful at all.

“How strong can my son be? He only pushed her lightly. She herself wasn’t stable and so, bumped into those shelves! Besides, they aren’t injured. What are you people mumbling about?! Trying to bully us mother and son, now, are you?”

As she spoke, the father in the bear suit who had left earlier returned. When he saw the crowd around his family, he immediately roared, “What are all of you doing?”

“Husband, you’re finally here! These people are bullying me and our son! That woman is holding onto a grudge because of something small. She fell by herself yet she blames it on our son! These people are all on her side!” the mother in the bear suit turned the facts upside down, causing everyone to look at her in disgust.

“Father! Bear! I want the bear! I want!” When Sun Zhuangzhuang saw his father arrive, he became even more overbearing and immediately wanted to snatch the prize from Little Treasure and Ning Xi.

Ning Xi instantly smacked the little boy’s hand that had reached over to claw the bear. She had not used much force, but the boy started to cry at the top of his lungs as if he had been tortured by her.

Sun Zhuangzhuang’s mother started to coax her baby boy and talked about going to the hospital.

The child’s father immediately took on a violent stance and said, “You witch! How dare you hit my son?! Are you looking to die?”

Everyone present was worried for Ning Xi. The teacher had run to get the security guards.

“Mother! I want! I want! I just want that bear!” Sun Zhuangzhuang continued to shout throughout, and it was so noisy that everyone’s head was about to explode.

“You can let my son have this bear and I’ll forget about this!” the woman said with an expression that indicated that she was at a disadvantage.

All the parents on the sidelines were advising Ning Xi kindly, “Forget it. How about you just give them the bear? You won’t be able to fight your way out of this. Don’t be at a disadvantage in the end...”

Ning Xi looked at the parents gratefully, then looked at the child’s father who was staring at her furiously. She said with a calm gaze, “You want this bear? Sure, let’s fight. If you win, I’ll give it to you.”

Chapter 709: Beat The Crap Out Of You

Sun Zhuangzhuang’s father scoffed with a laugh, “What? A fight? You’d better reconsider, seeing how your husband has such a skinny build. He might not be able to even take a punch from me!”

Ning Xi glowered at him. While Lu Tingxiao was the type who look slimmer when clothed and muscular if he took off his clothes, he was nothing like this man in front of her who looked like a big lump of disgusting flesh!

The child’s mother went along as well. “Your husband sure is unlucky to marry someone without a brain like you. I think you guys should get a divorce as soon as possible!”

Ning Xi looked at the time impatiently and said between gritted teeth, “Enough talking. Are we fighting or not?” If not, Lu Tingxiao would be back soon!

The child's father replied, "Of course! But can you make the decision for your man? What if he disagrees?"

Ning Xi raised her eyebrows in question. "Did I say that my man will be the one who'll fight you?"

"Then, what about the fight? What are you playing at?!" raged the man.

Ning Xi led Little Treasure to sit down nearby. "My dear, close your eyes and count to 100 before opening them again."

Little Treasure was worried about his mother, but he trusted her and closed his eyes obediently.

Ning Xi kissed Little Treasure on his cheek, then she turned around and looked at the child's father defiantly. "I mean...I'm fighting you."

"You...? Hahahahaha..." The man guffawed as if he had just heard the world's best joke.

The parents and teachers around were confused as well.

"Is this lady crazy?"

"Who knows?! What is she trying to do?"

"Where's the security? Why aren't they here yet?! Things are getting out of hand!"

Ning Xi had no time to lose, so she taunted, "Well, I've been trained in kung fu ever since I was a child, Mr. Sun. Are you afraid of me? If so, then apologize to my son and get lost! Stop wasting my time!"

"Me? Afraid? Okay, everyone's witnessing this. I'm not bullying you, you're the one looking for trouble!" The man was totally fired up and his ego was sky high.

The onlookers looked at Ning Xi as if she was mentally not right. Earlier, they were worried for her, but now, it seemed like she was not sane...

Trained in kung fu since she was a child? With her cute looks, was it just some self-defense skills she had picked up?

The man shrugged off his jacket and all his big muscles were flexing through his black tank top. "Everyone else, back off. I'll not be responsible if I accidentally injure anyone!"

Everyone quickly backed away at his warning.

The man got into his fighting stance, then he kept on shuffling his feet. To everyone watching, he seemed experienced in boxing.

"Please calm down, Madam Lu! You can't do this! Come back! What if you're hurt?! How can I explain this to your husband?! Mr. Sun, stop it, okay? We'll give you another big bear!"

The teacher tried to persuade the two adults and failed. Eventually, she put her effort into calling the security guards and contacting Lu Tingxiao.

“Get her, Father! Beat her up!” yelled the child.

“Haaa—” roared the man, launching into his attack.

Everyone’s hearts lurched in their throats...

Ning Xi did not move. Only after the man headed towards her did she use her injured leg as her support and pivoted her other foot to attack like an arrow.

Bam! No one saw what actually happened, but in the flash of an eye, the man’s huge body lay sprawled out on the floor, a bloody tooth clattering a short distance away from him...

Everyone was speechless.

She had executed a one-hit KO move.

The moment Ning Xi had kicked the child’s father, Lu Tingxiao received the teacher’s call, so he quickly returned...

...just in time to see his wife almost kill a man, even though she had promised to wait for him obediently...

Chapter 710: Is This How You Make Your Husband Obedient?

Ning Xi returned to Little Treasure and told him to open his eyes.

It was true that her skills were not as good as they were before, to the point that she could not even defend herself against Third Senior Sister’s attacks, but it was still easy enough for her to handle someone without any real martial arts skills.

She saw through his sloppy footwork and knew that his muscles were just for aesthetic purposes. From her knowledge, she also could guess that they were formed in a short period of time with the assistance of steroids.

But the teachers and parents did not know all of these, so they were all shocked.

“Ahh...Little Red Riding Hood is so cool!”

“The Little Red Riding Hood defeated the bald man!”

...

Everyone closed their open jaws as they heard the children cheering.

“Oh...oh my God! She’s so powerful! Just one kick from her made him fly away!”

“Didn’t you hear that she has trained since her childhood? Of course, she’d be stronger than him!”

“I thought she was just kidding! Who knew she’d be this good?!”

“I was wondering how strong this mister could be, but he turned out to be just a show. One kick from a woman and down he went!”

“Hahaha...you’re right! That was so pleasing to watch! I bet he’ll be embarrassed to show up at the school again!”

...

“Dear! Dear, are you alright?! You damned woman, you dared to beat my hubby up!” Sun Zhuangzhuang’s mother started to make a fuss.

“Oh, I’m just a weak little girl. How much strength could I have? We were just fooling around. Do you need to be this worked up?” Ning Xi acted innocent and purposely imitated her victimized tone.

“You...don’t you dare go away! I’m calling the police! I’m suing you for battery!”

“Oh, what are you going to tell the police? That a little girl defeated your buff hubby with a kick? Do you think they’d believe you, or me?”

“You...you...”

Looking at the pitiful state the man was in right now, the teachers were hiding their grins, but the parents totally lost any sense of coolness and they all gathered around Ning Xi to ask her all sorts of questions.

“Madam Lu, you’re really powerful! How did you become this good? Did you learn from the Shaolin temple?”

“You’re really great! That was so satisfying! He totally deserved it!”

“That’s right! But we were all shocked just now and we were so worried for you!”

“Wow, you’re good! Is this how you make your husband obedient?”

...

Ning Xi felt proud listening to all the praises being spouted out. She felt like she was some heroine who saved the people from evil forces.

She did say earlier that she would beat the crap out of him!

While she was enjoying her smug moment,, she felt icicles piercing her from her back...

She looked back at the entrance to see Lu Tingxiao’s face as dark as the bottom of a burnt pot.

That expression! She was doomed! He had definitely seen everything!

Quickly, Ning Xi gathered her skirts and went up to Lu Tingxiao. “Dear, you’re finally here, I’m really scared...he was bullying me...”

Everyone was speechless to see her actions. Where had their heroine gone to ?

Lu Tingxiao looked at the girl and narrowed his eyes. “You...”

“It’s my fault! But I really did listen to you and I waited. I tried to hold back but he was asking for trouble, you can ask Little Treasure...”

Where did the obedient husband go? It seemed like the roles had been reversed...

Little Treasure nodded in agreement to become his mother’s witness.

Lu Tingxiao stared at his son. He had promised to look after his mother, but now he was totally on her side. Lu Tingxiao realized he could not rely on his son anymore ...
