Boxer...

[ Host Please confirm your choice as it will be irreversible ]

Just as I was about to say yes, I caught sight of the wall and saw Drogba's big smile as he was mid-knee slide celebration. Right next to him was the back of Man united's number seven celebrating like a king.

That's when I thought I wanted to be like these guys, soaring high on the grandest stage of them all and earning a lot of money doing it. And being a boxer although cool would probably hurt a lot.

"Eva I choose the footballer profession instead, of the Boxer one," I said out loud with conviction in an attempt to convince myself that I was making the right decision.

[ Host, please confirm your choice ]

"I confirm" I answered her almost instantly as if I was on some sort of timer.

[ Ding! The system has been updated into the Football singularity system please open the starter pack ]

'Alright now we talking, Eva let me see that gift pack can't wait to go super Saiyan.' I thought in my head as the excitement of it all was finally getting to me.

[ Ding Host has been granted a one-time free diamond gift pack as a welcome gift ]

[ The pack will draw 3 random footballers above silver rating and grant the host one of their most prominent traits. This pack will also contain a C-grade vitality potion. ]

oh ok, I think I understand what's going on here, it is basically giving me some skill boosts and a bottle filled with alien juice.

[ Dimond pack lets the host select a specific trait/talent from 1 of the 3 ]

Dang, that seems quite self-explanatory, It's basically like drawing a FIFA pack and hoping to get someone good. Eva, please open the gift pack I'm dying of excitement over here.

[ Understood Dimond chest opening ]

Just as she said that my vision changed to that of a dimly lit tunnel as I approached a majestic Dimond encrusted chest lying quietly on a podium.

When I reached it the lid slid open and silver smoke slowly came out as a silver Czech republic flag appeared with a 74 oval rating printed on it. Shortly after the name Tomas Repka appeared for three seconds before the entire card disappeared.

Well, I don't know who Tomas is but hopefully, he'll have a decent trait/talent I can copy. I thought to myself hoping for someone I actually recognize and who is hopefully good.

My attention was drawn to the chest again as the smoke turned golden with confetti flying about in the air as a massive Netherlands flag was floating in the as the music kicked in. Seeing all the fan fair got me excited as I watched a Bayern Munich badge appear on the flag followed by a massive 90 oval rating.

Seeing Robben step out from behind the flag I couldn't hold my excitement as I started dancing on the spot as getting a trait to form him alone basically guaranteed me a decent career in football, plus he's 90 oval in this one.

Just like Thomas Robben disappeared as soon as he came, the chest started vibrating rather violently before taking off into the sky and exploding into bright vibrant colours in all directions.

just as I thought I was being cheated out of my third card the sky darkened as a bright football-shaped spaceship crashed right reform me. Out of the rubble, a tall figure walked out looking unfazed about falling out of the sky as he looked at me with a huge green.

He was dressed in a dark blue Paris jersey from head to toe which made his tall statute seem even more impressive as he was standing there with his arms folded.

Just as I was regaining my bearings at seeing one of the best footballers of the twentieth century I was caught off guard as a throne appeared behind him. 2 lions walked out from behind it as he took a seat with his arms still crossed as a massive Sweden flag covered the sky with a big 92 Oval and the name Zlatan written on it.

Looking at all the craziness that has accompanied Zlatan my worth couldn't help from twitching. 'Eva was all this really necessary?' I asked rather exasperated as it took an extra ten minutes just for him than for the thirty seconds the other two took.

[ I'm sorry host but the player's enormous self-belief has transformed his ego in a way that leaves a lasting impression no matter what time and space he's mentioned in. ] she replied in a rather helpless tone.

'So what your saying is that Zlatan's self-belief in himself has transformed in a way that no matter when his mentioned hell has a lasting impression?' I asked trying to understand this absurdness.

[ Yes host his ego has gotten so strong that even though he's not famous yet in 2008 it has enough power to influence the system to give it extra time to shine. ]

Damm that's some willpower, I hope I gain some of that in the future.

[ Host please select one of the player's specific traits you wish to obtain. ]

'Eva I wish to take Robben's speed dribbler trait' I said with confidence as it would be quite fun to just zoom past players.

[ Host choice has been confirmed ]

[ Reward's: Robben's Speedy dribbler trait ]

[ The speedy dribbler trait allows the host to perform skill moves at his maximum speed]

[ Your left foot will be as dominant as your right foot and move just as naturally]

- note the host will only gain the talent of the traits and will have to work hard in order to maximise his potential in them.

looking at those notifications I was over the moon at the two talents I received from the Bayern long-range assassin. After a minute of celebration, I calmed down waiting to see what other traits I would gain from the other two.

[ Ding Rewords calculated ]

[ Tomas Repka's prominent Arial king talent has been Reworded ]

[ As Tomas has a jumping talent as high as 87 the host will have a high growth rate when it comes to aerial duals. ]

[ Zlatan's prominent flair talent has been Reword ]

[ A Player with this trait will be less likely to make errors when attempting flair moves, A player with this Trait will get the full amount of curl when he takes a finesse shot when the ball is on the ground. ]

The talents of the two of them are beyond my expectations with them my legend will definitely be born.

[ Host, please brace yourself as the talents will fuse with you in 3, 2, 1 ] the calm voice of the system rang out as I braced myself for the pain I would face once again.

I closed my eyes as a cold tingling sensation filled my whole body before focusing on both of my legs as system notification filled my vision.

[ Ding: left foot king trait has merged with the host ]

[ host has gained the new trait of Ambipedal king ]

[ Ding: Host speedy dribbler trait has merged ]

[ Ding: Host body has merged with the trial king trait. ]

[ Ding: Host body has merged with the flair trait ]

[ Ding merging process is now complete please check your status and complete your first quest. ]
