

For Dinner 365

Chapter 365: Brother, you really have a bright future!

It's just that she couldn't stand Ian Morris's cowardice.

Now that they've all left.

Cindy felt that it was finally peaceful.

"Brother Adrian!" Wyatt Kirk called out with a playful tone, as if he had accomplished something.
"Sister-in-law!"

Cindy:

She had forgotten that Wyatt was still here.

But what's with him calling Adrian "Brother"?

Are Wyatt and Adrian already that close?

Cindy looked at Adrian in surprise.

It didn't seem like it, but they became friends pretty quickly.

Did they bond over fighting?

Adrian's eye twitched. He asked directly, "Hold on, since when did I become your brother?"

Unexpectedly, Wyatt had a thick face. “Well, I’m already calling Cindy my sister-in-law, right? It would be too distant to keep calling you Master Adrian. And it doesn’t match the title of ‘sister-in-law’.”

“If people hear, they’d think Cindy is indeed my sister-in-law, but she has nothing to do with you. That wouldn’t be good, right?” Wyatt explained. “Isn’t that right, sister-in-law?”

Cindy:

Bro, you have a promising future!

With Wyatt’s shamelessness, the Kirk Family would surely continue to thrive.

Wyatt’s parents can rest easy now.

Adrian:

He couldn’t find a reason to refute this ridiculous excuse.

But this kid seemed to have some insight.

At least he knew to call Cindy “sister-in-law.”

For this reason, Adrian reluctantly acknowledged Wyatt’s call of “Brother Adrian.”

“Thank you for just now,” Cindy said to Wyatt.

She never expected Wyatt to stand up for her.

Though it was clear that Wyatt was helping because of Adrian, he did help after all.

“Hey, that was nothing! You’re too polite, sister-in-law.” Wyatt took out his mobile phone and said, “Why don’t we add each other on Whatsapp? If you need anything, just message me directly. Don’t be a stranger.”

“Even though I’m mediocre and like to have fun, I know quite a variety of friends because of it. Brother Adrian only knows some high-level people, and they might not necessarily be able to handle everything. As for me, I know all sorts of people, from the top to the bottom. Different tasks are more suitable for different people.”

As he said this, Wyatt took out his QR code. “Sister-in-law, do you want to scan me?”

As soon as he finished speaking, Wyatt felt a cold breeze on his neck.

A chilling gaze made his whole body shudder.

Now only he, Cindy, and Adrian were left here.

Cindy was about to scan his QR code with her mobile phone, so the gaze definitely didn’t come from her.

If it was not Cindy, then it could only be—

Wyatt slowly turned his head to see Adrian giving him a cold “hmm.” “Go ahead, why don’t you keep scanning?”

Wyatt shuddered violently. As Cindy was about to scan with her Whatsapp, Wyatt suddenly put away his mobile phone.

Wyatt then said to Cindy, “I suddenly remembered that if you need anything, you can just reach out to Brother Adrian. If you need my help, just tell Brother Adrian!”

After saying this, Wyatt held his mobile phone again and turned to Adrian, "Brother Adrian, shall we add each other on Whatsapp?"

Cindy:

Adrian finally showed a friendly face to Wyatt.

What kind of attitude was it to skip over him and add Cindy's Whatsapp directly?

Wyatt felt so wronged.

He just thought that Cindy wasn't as aggressive as Adrian, so talking to her about things would be more effective.
