

Forbidden Love

Episode 2

The next day, when I woke up, I got down from my bed, went on my knees and said my morning prayers. You already guessed what I did next, I reached out for my phone from under my pillow, but I couldn't find it. I rolled my eyes.....

I rolled my eyes.....

knowing that my sister probably took it since she already told me she would always use my phone to play games. "Esther!!! Esther!!!" I yelled out my sister's name as I went into the sitting room to look for her. I didn't know my mum was sitting down on one of the couches so I continued yelling.

"so you cannot greet abi", my mum said.

"oh! mummy, sorry. I didn't know you were here. Good morning!" I greeted.

"Ehen, morning! why are you looking for Esther like this" she replied.

"I don't know if she took my phone"

"E biago ozo!(meaning: you have come again in Igbo language) If you guys like, don't get ready for church. I and your father will leave without you people and you'll have to trek, so if you like, get ready, if you don't like, don't get ready" My mum said and exited the room.

I left the sitting room as well and headed for the kitchen. That was when I found Esther using my phone with Frank. I quickly went to them and grabbed it from her hand. They both growled, but I scolded Esther for not asking me for permission before taking it.

"Na because say you don get phone now, that's why pesin no go hear word" Frank said.

I looked at him with an angry look and left the kitchen as Esther followed behind. We went to our room to prepare for Church and not long after, we were ready. We could hear the horn of our dad's car signaling for us to come outside so we could go to Church. I put my phone into my Church bag as I always called it and left the room with Esther.
