

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 219

His face was emotionless except for anger and hatred. He looked at Emily with red eyes, as if he wanted to swallow her alive.

Emily looked calm, but she was a little afraid.

She was really worried that Jerry would do something extreme after being provoked by her. There were only two of them in the room, and she would be the one who would be hurt.

"Okay, I promise to cooperate with you." As Jerry spoke, he reached out and picked up the wad of money on the table. He patted the money and made a deep sound.

The hatred inside his heart was all triggered at this moment.

He didn't know well about Emily's plan, but all he wanted was to get the money and take revenge on Jonas. Anyway, he was in a terrible situation now, at least it would not be worse.

After the cooperation, Emily didn't say anything but left. After a period of time, Melinda went to the company and prepared to go back to work.

"You do so many things as soon as you came back. You are indeed a capable woman." As soon as Melinda entered the office, she began to inspect the documents piled up in front of her.

It was the situation that had been appearing in the office since Melinda started working for a week.

"I have rested for such a long time." Melinda had too many things to deal with, but she would not force herself to finish them in a hurry, but simply act according to her physical condition.

Instead of working so hard as before, she should rest as much as possible to keep her health.

"Nice to meet you. I'm Melinda Mo." Melinda was working on her desk and picked up the landline phone.

She thought it was a customer or a writer, but she didn't expect him to be her grandfather.

"Linda, your father is sick. You should go to see him." Leonard' tone showed his anxiety. He was naturally worried since it was his child who got sick.

The two of them lived in the countryside. Even if they were worried, they couldn't make it in time. That's why they came to find Melinda.

Melinda's phone was put in a drawer, so she didn't see the phone call when she was doing her work carefully. Then Leonard called her landline phone.

It was that Melinda had called him with the landline telephone several times before, and he had recorded it carefully.

"Dad is sick! Grandpa, I know. I'm going there now." Melinda had not contacted her father for such a long time, afraid that her situation would be known.

She had always failed to know her father's temperament.

"Don't worry too much. He is always healthy." Seeing how worried Melinda was, Leonard could not help comforting her, and also comforting himself.

the more terrifying

people took good care of themselves worry. You have to take care of yourself in the countryside." Melinda realized that she needed talk any more. After hanging up the phone, Melinda went to the office to ask for a leave from her

A City. Even so, Melinda rarely came back place of the house was only seven or eight floors. There was no elevator.

strange place and

When she arrived, she was already panting.

rummaged through her bag for a long time before she found the key. It was not used for a long time and took her a lot of time to open the door. Melinda pushed the door and entered. The you back?" Vern asked, surprised to see Melinda. He didn't tell her about his sudden illness, but his father found on the sofa, and then went to the door to receive Melinda. He came close to her and whispered, are you

She had never could read

I guess I might be lying on the bed." Vern poured a cup of tea for himself and said calmly to Melinda.

for the joke he made come to see you frequently.

felt very sorry for her. He said on her behalf, "Father, Linda has always been thinking about you. It was my fault. I was too worried about her didn't expect that he would scene she saw when she went into the house came to her mind unconsciously, which was that felt warm in her heart, and even liked Jonas more.

what my own child is like," said Vern.

finally got this man's heart.

her father's words, Melinda didn't pretend to be pitiful and expressed her thanks to Jonas.

a little embarrassed and stepped back. While walking inside, she took Jonas's hand and said, "Dad, I hurry? Are you going

She gave a glimpse at

"Why are you here?"

Jonas by the hand and they walked into the guest room where she lived every time she came. The decorations in the room didn't change much, except that the room thought she might have got to the wrong this, Melinda was pissed off. Jonas's words made it look like that she

"We have nothing to do with each other. Why do you come to my father's house?" She gave him a ferocious stare, and then felt that she had been a little tired all the way, so she leaned against was very familiar with the room. Even the dolls accompanying her were already pregnant with my