

Forgive My Ex-husband Chapter 264

The sun was pouring down the whole room. Melinda covered her eyes with her hands and sat up on the bed, panting.

She looked a little dazed, thinking that she seemed to have fallen asleep with the company of Jonas. It was rare for her to sleep so peacefully since she was pregnant.

The corners of Melinda's mouth could not help smiling. She gently placed her fingers on her lower abdomen.

'Baby, do you like your father?'

Melinda began to think about the question while asking her child. After a short while, she realized that she might have thought too much. Shaking her head, she walked out of the bedroom.

Someone was busy in the kitchen. Melinda thought it was the servant. Then she found it was a man's figure. Her eyes widened and she was surprised to find that it was Jonas.

There was a blanket on the sofa. Melinda wondered if Jonas had slept at home yesterday.

She truly had no memory about all these.

Jonas prepared bone congee for her. There were many pickles made by the servant at home. He just needed to put them on the small plate.

"You are awake." Hearing the sound, Jonas turned his head and saw Melinda stare blankly at the blanket. He woke up early, but he was afraid to wake up Melinda, so he didn't put the thing back.

Jonas had a thorough understanding of Melinda's routine from the servant. When the breakfast was ready, Melinda just woke up, and the time was just right.

Every time Melinda saw Jonas like this, she wanted to make fun of him. She couldn't help but laugh, and her heart was soft again.

Jonas rarely cooked, but he could only cook a few dishes. But this congee he cooked was well learned.

After Melinda went to wash her face and rinse her mouth, Jonas put all the things on the table and waited for her to have breakfast.

Although Melinda had imagined how Jonas looked when she was taken care of by Jonas, she was still not used to it.

But they had a good breakfast together.

After the meal, Jonas had to take the initiative to send Melinda to work. The filming had been on the right track. Melinda had to adapt the novel.

It was the first time for her to do such work, and she asked many people about it. Elmer also arranged someone to take care of it with her.

Melinda had a lot of things to deal with recently. When she returned to the company, she first sorted out the draft, and used all her spare time to modify the script.

and it was impossible to shoot all the scenes in the TV play, so it needed to be deleted. Each story and each scene that Melinda wrote was cherished by her. She felt novel had to be adapted. According to would only make those who gossiped his ex-wife. These days, he found that Melinda had been very preoccupied pressure on yourself. Have a good rest." Victor handed the coffee to Melinda. In fact, he was surprised at the beginning when he heard that she was going

Otherwise, it would have been very difficult for Melinda to cooperate with to change the script to cooperate with the well-known scriptwriter.

the world, and someone

"Mr. Cheng, thanks."

with a smile. At this time, she was also grateful. Fortunately, her work did not have so many strict requirements. Otherwise, if she just went to work formal with me. We are already friends. Besides, you are a popular star now. It's natural that I should be nicer to you," Victor said jokingly. Melinda's novel was to be made into a TV play, but they hoped to have a connection with Melinda, so that they could pretend to be

She had been doing her job well.

agree?" Melinda also joked.

her leave application was also taken into consideration, so agreed immediately, "Okay, but you should not forget me

Victor agreed

said Melinda. Without any delay, Victor went a short while, and Victor had brought a cup of coffee to her. As a result, the employees of the company statement that "you should not company, and did not the novel communication at the beginning but the common intrigue in the society now.

and she was still that she couldn't get the heroine and had lost face in front of Melinda. The director was hard to deal with and she wasn't sure who was Jonas, but this way would definitely in her and also give a role to her. But those people were not time, Emily received a call from the mistake, but the person at the other end lot to you in front of Elmer. He happy to pass on his words for the director. He thought bottomless, she had a way out. It would be the best if she could get on the side of the line. At last, he said that Elmer would contact her and tell her to be prepared. Otherwise, such a good opportunity would be that's enough. It's

I'll treat you