

Forgiveness 22

Ex husband's Plea for Forgiveness

Chapter 22 Living Together

Luke finally told Melinda that his father was on a business trip. He and his father had been video chatting in the beginning, but since Luke had a bad temper, they had stopped talking altogether. Melinda had been keeping him company and Luke had forgotten about his father.

Melinda was glad about meeting Luke. Otherwise, she would have been lonely in the hospital.

Kent was busy with work and couldn't stay with Melinda all the time.

"Luke, your father must be having a lot of problems to deal with. He perhaps misses you and wants to talk with you. He will be upset if you ignore him," Melinda said.

Luke frowned.

"Really?" he asked, cocking his head to one side.

"Yeah. I think you should call your father and tell him that you miss him. He'll be happy to hear from you."

Melinda smiled. She could understand what Luke's father must have been going through, and she somehow wanted to reunite them.

Luke listened to Melinda and finally called his father. Melinda watched the two of them interact happily with a small smile on her face. Luke had missed his father terribly and his anger disappeared in an instant. He was telling his father about what he had been up to and even mentioned about Melinda.

"Melinda, Dad said that he'd be coming to see me today. He has even brought a toy for me," Luke said, clapping his hands excitedly.

Melinda wished she were a child too. Children led simple lives. They could forgive and forget easily. Life got complicated when you grew up and you had no choice but to survive through the storm.

Luke's father arrived at the hospital in the evening. Although he looked tired, the resemblance between him and Luke was uncanny.

He had brought a fruit basket for Melinda as Luke had been talking nonstop about her.

"Dad, Melinda is a writer too. She is brilliant!"

Luke loved his new toy and enjoyed playing with it. He was explaining about Melinda's short stories to his father, which surprised Melinda a little. She didn't know that he had been paying attention to her all this time.

Jack Zhou was shocked by his son's words. He turned his head to look at Melinda who was smiling politely.

"Miss Mo, what kind of stories do you write?"

Jack Zhou asked.

"I write novels. It's very satisfying to write about people and create a world with words."

She could you published any

Well, I was planning to do it in the beginning. But with my friend's help, I finally gathered the courage to publish my work about her writing journey. He made a note of Melinda's short stories and asked his was soon invited to attend the party. Melinda was finally happy to see good things was casting curious glances at Melinda. He recognized the logo of Grand Culture Company and understood that his dad had been helping lot of ideas in mind. Jack Zhou understood her works and she soon became a popular writer. Luke had been constantly raving about Melinda to Jack Zhou. He realized that Melinda was an honest, sincere, and hardworking woman, and

and appreciation from her fans on thrilled to witness Melinda's success. When Kent praised him, was gradually recuperating. The doctors said that she could go back home, so Melinda finished all the discharge formalities and was ready to leave. But part of her wanted to stay back favorite food, but you should also be a good boy and listen seen Luke throw tantrums at people but he had always the hospital, they became worried about feeding and taking care of Luke. They were especially concerned about how he would react the day off to take care of her. She didn't carry many things, so she packed her things in a small bag, and left

Put your coat and buttoned her coat. The coat was long and came down till her shin. Melinda's cheeks turned red with embarrassment as she tucked her hair behind her ear. Kent

"Thank you, Kent."

waited by the gate of the hospital as her body and Melinda's teeth began to chatter standing by the gate. Her face was pale and her cheeks were red. She was rubbing her hands to warm her body. Melinda looked puny under the enormous coat. Jonas and found that he was looking at Melinda. Anger rose from the bottom of her stomach. She pinched herself so hard that her nails isn't she?"

parking lot. Jonas glanced at Melinda again and saw Kent step annoyed by overprotective. This and smiled. She felt warmer after she got into the car. It had been a long wanted to buy something. Holley saw Melinda and Kent walk out of the mall happily. Kent was carrying the grocery bags don't they? I've never seen Melinda going on in his mind. But Holley knew that men always craved

Jonas hated Melinda, she was his wife once. He was a proud man and hated to see her with another other for a long time. I mean, look at storm in Jonas's heart. His hatred and