

Chapter 6 Love me

Julia's had a bitter smile: "I won't sign it, unless you agree to my previous conditions... also love me once."

"Julia, if it weren't for you, Lauren wouldn't have been hurt!"

Robert's words were like a dagger, and Julia's heart had long had a thousand holes.

She held back her grievances and looked at Robert's expressionless face, asking him word for word: "Did I force Lauren to marry someone else? Did I force her to divorce? Did I force her husband to beat her? Did I force her to seduce my husband?"

Her words had not yet finished when a slap landed on her face.

Robert used all his strength, so Julia fell directly to the ground. Her ears roared, and she felt the world go silent.

Her reddened eyes looked at him incredulously.

For the first time in ten years, he slapped her, and it was because of Lauren.

Robert's sight rested on the bright red mark on the side of Julia's face, and his right hand trembled slightly.

He avoided Julia's gaze and said in a deep voice: "Even if you don't sign it, I will find a way to make you sign it!"

After he finished the words, he left.

Julia stumbled and got up from the floor, tried her best to hold back her tears, and said to herself: "Do you think Lauren really left because of your betrayal? She did it for power and status. She never truly loved you... How could you not know that?"

...

A few days later.

The news was on the TV.

"Robert Adams, president of the Ace company, rushed to anger for a woman. Recently, the media learned that Ace's CEO, Robert, for the sake of Adam Shaw's ex-wife, Lauren, a victim of domestic violence, used all his power to suppress Adam's company, and sent Adam Shaw to prison... It is rumored that Robert and Lauren were childhood sweethearts, separated for various reasons. Now may the lovers finally become a couple..."

Julia's heart is dead, and her marriage with Robert has always been unknown.

Now, he has gone so far as to tell the whole world that he is with a divorced woman.

She curled up on the couch, feeling her life slowly draining out of her.

The faith that had been sustaining her to live seemed to be almost gone.

In the afternoon, Grandpa Charles came to see her.

His face was full of anger: "He simply has no respect for me. How dare he let the media report such a shameful thing out?"

Julia quietly made tea for him on the side.

The old man noticed her pale face and was a little surprised: "You should take care of your body and rest well."

Julia's hand trembled, vaguely responding, and her heart flooded with bitterness. Even her grandfather-in-law could see that she was not well, while her husband did not notice anything.

Maybe he really doesn't care...

"Lauren is not a good girl, and that Adam Shaw is not a violent man. I investigated them. These four years, she hooked up with every man she met, without repenting. Her husband was driven crazy by her!"

Julia dazedly looked ahead. Even his grandpa could find out the truth casually, while Robert chose to turn a blind eye to it.

"Now that Adam Shaw is broken, she gets off fast and holds onto Robert. Such a scheming woman, I will definitely not let her into our family." Charles added.

Julia did not listen to his later words and suddenly said: "Grandpa, I want to divorce Robert."

The word "divorce" came out of her mouth as if throwing a boulder into a sea.

"What did you say?" The old man was in a state of shock.

Julia knew that he was not only worried about her but more worried about the Smith Group in her hands. The Smith family used to be a rich family, no worse than his today.

Only after the death of her parents, did her company gradually decline, but even so, Smith Group is worth a lot.

"I have transferred all of my shares to Robert, and I am willing to leave him without anything."

The old man heard Julia's words, full of shame, but he did not understand, "Are you doing this for what?"

"All I want, from the beginning to the end, is him..."