

All the kisses

Lady Elizabeth spent the entire afternoon giving the princess advice on how she could use kisses in her marriage. Abril listened attentively, finding the ways she could use kisses to her advantage quite interesting.

When it was time for dinner, Abril headed to the dining room. Alessandro was waiting for her, but she didn't see Cassian anywhere. She asked, "Where is Cassian?"

"He said he would dine in his room. Apparently, he's very tired, he was training with the sword today."

Abril took her place at the table and said, "I hope he's alright."

"He will be fine, it's just muscle pain. It will pass in a few days, it's been a while since he last held a sword."

"And what did you do today?"

"Since it was a beautiful day, I had breakfast in the garden. Cassian accompanied me, and then we took a walk in the garden until lunchtime. In the afternoon, I was with Lady Elizabeth."

"I see you've had a busy day."

"Yes."

"Tomorrow, I'll have some free time in the afternoon, so we could take a boat ride on the lake."

"There's a lake?"

"Yes, didn't you know?"

"No."

"Have you even seen everything there is to see in the palace?"

"No, I haven't."

"I suppose now is a good time for you to do so. There are many places within the palace that might interest you. There's a lake. I'll show it to you when I can, or you can ask Cassian to do so."

Abril was excited about the prospect of going to a lake. She wondered what it would be like to ride a boat.

Alessandro wanted Abril to be happy in the palace, to feel comfortable and to forget the idea of returning to that small house where she had been living. That's why he wanted to show her how beautiful the palace was.

When they finished dinner, Abril felt her body heavy. She had eaten more than usual and wanted to take a walk before going to bed, but she wasn't sure if Alessandro would agree. Summoning her courage, she asked for his permission.

"I'd like to take a walk before going to sleep, may I?"

"Of course, but not alone."

Alessandro stood up and extended his hand to Abril. "I will accompany you."

Abril took his hand and said, "Thank you."

They walked through the garden bathed in moonlight until they reached a fountain. Abril remembered that in her first year in the palace, she would sneak out at night to cool off.

Alessandro also remembered and said, "I recall that some time ago, I used to see a fairy who would come to this fountain and dip her feet in it."

Abril knew he was talking about her, but she didn't want to admit it, so she changed the subject. "It's a wonderful night, not too hot."

She sat on the edge of the fountain and dipped her hand in the water. Alessandro sat beside her and said, "I'd like to know who that fairy was. Maybe I should order a search for her."

Abril wanted the king to stop talking about that topic. She didn't want to be punished for having put her dirty feet in the fountain. So, she decided to test what Lady Elizabeth had taught her that afternoon. She stood up, positioned herself in front of the king, placed her hands on his shoulders, brought her face close to his, and pressed her lips gently against Alessandro's.

He was very surprised. It was the first time she had initiated a kiss. He wrapped his arms around her waist, pulling her closer, he deepened the kiss. When they parted, he said, "What was that for?"

"Lady Elizabeth told me that if I kissed you without you asking for it, you would like it. Isn't that right?"

"I did like it, so much so that I think I should generously reward Lady Elizabeth for making my wife so proactive."

Alessandro made Abril sit on his lap and continued kissing her. He caressed her cheek and asked, "What exactly did Lady Elizabeth teach you?"

"She taught me that there are many types of kisses and that each expresses a different thing."

"I see. I would like to receive each one of them."

"What?"

"I want each of the kisses, Lady Elizabeth explained to you."

"All of them?"

"Yes, all of them."

"But I don't think I can do all of them."

"I'll help you with the ones you can't do."

"Alright."

Abril kissed him on the forehead, followed by a kiss on the cheek. Then she took Alessandro's hand and kissed the back of it. She returned to his mouth and gave him a long, lingering kiss before stopping. Alessandro asked, "Is that all?"

"The others are more difficult for me."

"Which ones are missing?"

"A kiss with the tongue, another on the neck, and another one..."

Abril didn't want to do the last one. Alessandro was curious and asked, "Which one is missing?"

"Is it necessary?"

"Yes, I want all of them."

"A kiss on the earlobe."

"We haven't tried that one," Alessandro replied with a mischievous smile. "But let's follow the order you mentioned."

"But the others..."

"I'll help you."

Alessandro gave her a kiss with the tongue, then a kiss on the neck that left a red mark, and finally a kiss on the earlobe. He took Abril's earlobe with his tongue and gently tugged it up and down.

A moan escaped from Abril, igniting Alessandro's desire. He continued down, kissing her neck, her collarbone, then returned to her mouth and gave her a prolonged kiss, followed by another kiss with the tongue.

Abril felt a strange heat spreading through her body. His hot mouth burned every part of her skin it touched. Her moans began to escape from her lips. She felt her body light and weak, clinging to Alessandro's neck as he kissed her passionately, leaving her breathless.

Alessandro was engrossed, lost in lust. He no longer wanted to wait, he wanted to make her his, to steal her innocence, to devour her completely. He lifted her in his arms. Breathlessly, she asked, "Where are we going?"

Alessandro smiled and said,

"To put into practice what you've learned."
