

Forsaken by my Mate

Chapter 16

Nico's POV

She knew I was watching her, and she turned her back to me. I could still see her at least. She isn't eating or drinking anything, and I am worried. I can feel her anger through the bond, and I was relieved when Jaden told me that he was able to lose the men following him and be able to stop and get her some food. I was looking forward to checking back in with her later after I got all my paperwork done, but when I pulled the camera back up, it was covered with some kind of goo, and I couldn't see her anymore.

I knew Jaden was there so I mindlinked him and told him that the lens needed to be cleaned off. Jaden linked me back that I needed to just give her some time, as she was upset. I asked him to go and check on her, as I was worried about her, and five minutes later I got the news that I was praying for, Sabrina was in heat. I need to get to her now. I told him that I would be there in 30 minutes. I was not going to take a car, I was just going to run straight there so I wouldn't be followed to where she was being kept. I let my Gamma, James Herrington, know that he would be in charge for the next four days, as I had something important come up that I had to deal with. I climbed over the south wall and then stripped on the other side, packing my clothes and shoes I had been wearing into my backpack so I could carry it in my mouth, and I took off to go to the house.

I am thrilled that tonight I will get to be with my beautiful little mate. The thought of finally being with her spurs me on, as I run faster and faster to get to her, and I am glad I am covered by the dark as my large black wolf continues to go as fast as he can to my mate. I didn't want to drive as I could have led Stone Moon, or Shelby's people right to her, and I don't have time to fight them right now. All I can focus on is getting to Sabrina and holding her, and hopefully her allowing me to mate her.

I get about a mile out and I link Jaden again that he needed to open the garage door so I could enter. The door was open when I got there and I headed straight into the house, not even phasing back into my human side, just moving around in circles outside her door on the second floor. Jaden closed the garage door and then come up with the key to let me into her room. He gave a low laugh at my excitement at being allowed into her room. He opened the door and let me in, and then I heard the door being closed on the door, to allow us privacy. He linked me outside the door one last time before he left, "She is not happy at you taking her, she hasn't been eating, and you need to not hurt her any more than you already have. She feels the pain of betrayal, and if you decide to mate, or mark her, that pain of betrayal will only increase. Do not sleep with her, unless you are completely done, or have a way out from under Shelby. Sabrina is my Luna, and I can't stand by and let you knowingly hurt her, even if you are my best friend"

Tam both pleased that he loves her enough to know that she is his Luna and that he will protect her with his last breath, but she is my mate, and I need her. I know I need to get this fixed, but her heat supersedes everything else. I am done with Shelby, and I refuse to sleep with it again. We will get this straightened out, my people safe, and then she can just have the empty compound to do with as she please will be open at that point too. I feel a little guilty about losing my family's pack, but this is the choice I have to make. I cannot keep it without Sabrina. Hopefully, Asher and his father will be able to get my people settled at other packs safely, and I would never tolerate Shelby again, but that is a pipe dream. Maybe we can get my people moved out in the time frame that she is gone. But in my opinion, that she will be there and giving me grief for one last stand but thank the Goddess that will be the last time I have to deal with her.

yet. I won't push, I will do as Jaden asked and wait for her to decide that she does want to mate me, and I can just sleep in the same bed with her today. I go over to the shower and start the water to get it hot for me.

I get the water to the right temperature and slip under the nozzle and let the water run down my body as I get some of the body wash from the bottle. Jaden had set the items up and he had bought what he used, which was the liquid Dial soap. I washed quickly and then washed my hair and glanced over at my mate who was still laying her head back on the ledge of the tub. She was still asleep, so now was a suitable time to take care of the issue I was having from smelling her aroused scent.

I braced my arm against the tiled wall and got some more body wash to make sure that this goes quicker, and she is less likely to wake up before I get it done. I start stroking my ck up and down slowly at first, and then I realized that I could get this done quicker looking at my mate as her being in the tub in her PJs had rendered them transparent now and I can see her beautiful body in the tub. I look at her perky breasts with the dusky nipples showing through the sheer fabric and I get ever harder as I continue looking at her and I start moving my hand faster.

I have never been this hard before and I know it is because I am with my mate, and I continue to imagine what I will do to her when she allows me to finally mate her. I imagine laving her breasts and sucking her nipples into my mouth, giving both breasts equal treatment, and bringing her to the brink, before letting her come back down again frustrated and aroused by my ministrations to her. I will bring her up to climax again, before letting her come back down as I continue to work her into a frenzy.

I want to feel her nails digging into my shoulders as I enter her and hear her scream my name out as she comes. I want to taste her sweet essence when I taste her sweet pussy and have her cum on the tip of my tongue. There is so much I want to do to my sweet mate, that I have no idea where I really want to start. I close my eyes and continue to stroke myself until I feel the stars burst behind my closed eyes as I stream rope after rope of cum onto the shower wall. I almost can't catch my breath with how hard I came right then. I bring my breathing back down to normal and go back under the showerhead to rinse myself back clean again.

Sabrina's scent in the room is almost overwhelming now as I turn around to look at her again and see her looking right at me, and I knew she saw me cumming in the shower. I turn the water off in the shower and grab the towel hanging on the hook on the wall next to it as I slowly dry myself off and look directly at her while some of the rivulets of water track from my wet hair, and down my body.

I see her eyes following the droplets as they go down my shoulders, onto my chest, and then track down my solid 8 pack and they go further down my body, I move the towel away from myself as the droplets continue on down my body and watch as she continues to follow it down and see my dick, which is already growing again as she looks at it before looking down my corded thighs and down to my

Calves. From her location, she cannot see any further down than that, but I can tell from her scent getting strong that she likes what she is seeing Traise it over my head and use the towel to dry my hair off and I see her looking at my biceps as I continue to show her all my best attributes in an effort to get past the wall that she has built up against me. Yes, I totally f'd up. But that doesn't mean that I don't want to be with her for the rest of my life. I am willing to become a warrior, instead of an Alpha just for her. I will give my life up to protect her, as I have never loved anyone more than I love her. I watch as she stands up in the tub, with her body on display for me through her wet and now sheer clothes, and thank the Goddess above again for my mate.
