

Nico is Forced to Reject Bree

Chapter 32

Bree's POV

I was standing behind a wall of men there to protect and support me. Tyler, Tate, Dixon, Mason, Travis, and Jaden are all in front of me. I watch Nico turn to my voice and I cannot stop the tears that are falling from my eyes. I see him take a few steps towards my voice looking for me and I walked around the wall of men. My brother Dixon, and Jaden walk to the fence with me, and Asher comes with us.

I see Nico look at me and confusion crosses his face, and he turns to look at Shelby standing near the car and then back at me. I know he is seeing two of us, and he doesn't know why.

"Sabrina?" Nico said to me and reached for me. He feels the tingles when he touches my arm and tried to pull me to him, but I stepped back and pulled out of his grasp.

"How is this possible" Nico whispers to me.

"Because you didn't listen to me when I begged you not to come back here. You gave her time to get a potion from a witch because she could not keep you any other way. So, you see me when you look at her, but because it is a spell, I am sure the tingles are not there. You made your choice when you didn't listen to me and came back here. You and she are hurting me much more now that we have been mated. How did you think Asher knew how many times you had had s*x? He isn't a psychic. I told him. I need you to release me from our bond, Nico. I cannot take the pain anymore, and it is causing me a lot of problems. Please let me free Nico. I cannot be with you anymore" I told him.

"I am sorry baby, I didn't know, I need you to be with me. I will get weaker without you. Please just give me another chance" Nico said to me, and I shake my head as I cannot.

"I cannot do that Nico, we are done. I begged you to take me back to my pack and allow Jared and your Gamma to finish this. You wanted to do it, and that is how she trapped you again. You thought I was just paranoid or just jealous, but anyone who encouraged you to not accept my rejection, for me to just be hurt more because the Goddess paired us together, is a malicious and evil person. I have had to bear this for too long Nico and I cannot anymore. Accept my rejection now Nico, we will not be leaving until you do, but I will never be yours again" I told him.

"Please, Sabrina, give me just one more chance. I swear to you I can be the mate you need. I swear it " Nico said to me, and I can see his eyes filling with tears and him reaching through the gate for me, but I will not step forward to allow him to touch me again.

"No Nico, just like you swore to me that you can resist Shelby, that you wouldn't sleep with Shelby. That you were just going to get all the ends tied up and then we would be together. This is the same as me having the feeling that you would sleep with her deep in my gut. I remember me begging you to just take me to my pack, mark me, and stay there with me. It was always you that she wanted, and she has you now. I do not want you anymore. We are done, the bond is causing me pain and I cannot bear it anymore. You made a choice, and you chose your pack, so just keep your pack, and your slut over there, and release me from our bond " I told him.

"Nico, just accept the rejection and let her go. I don't want to die because you wanted your little mate. I wish I had known more about it so I could have had you reject her that first night. I was just mad some kid got you as a prize, and I wanted her to suffer because of it. I was wrong. You need to let her go, and then we can run this pack together as we have for the last 4 years, Nico. Just accept her rejection baby and get this over with. I am quite sure that I can give you an heir, as I made sure that she did extra fertility in the potion, and I should already be pregnant with our child Nico" Shelby called over from the car and Nico growled out his anger and turned to look at her.

I could care less if he is mad at her, she caused this whole thing by being a greedy b***h. I have been the one to pay for their actions over and over again.

"Nico, just accept my rejection so I can leave, we are done here, and believe me when I tell you that if they have to, my family is OK with killing you to break the bond," I told him and Shelby flies over to the gate and tries to hit me through the bars.

"Oh, NOW you have a problem with violence? After you called your men in to try to kill my brother and friends at the gate. It will happen, Nico accepts my rejection, or he dies TODAY. It is a crime to kidnap someone against their will, especially the child or sibling to an Alpha, and even Alphas can be punished for it. You are an i***t Shelby for not realizing that you can't bribe everyone to do your bidding. You can't hold him to you when he belongs to another. Once he accepts the rejection, he will be weaker without me, and I hope that one day he gives you exactly what you deserve for all that you have done to both Nico and me. But I will be moving on with my life and I pray to the Goddess that she gives me a better man for my second chance mate" I told them, and Nico is growling after I mentioned that he will be weaker without me.

"I won't let you go, Sabrina, I need you and I love you," Nico said to me and reaches for me again and I see the gate push out towards me with the force that he is using.

We all heard a shot and hear the air rushing out of the tire on the car they drove to the gate. It was a warning shot and Tate had ordered it. We need to let them know that we aren't playing and for Nico to go ahead and do what I need him to do.

"I don't want to lose you, Sabrina. I will never be the same" Nico told me in a whisper.

"I understand Nico. It was the same thing that I asked you for, for me not to lose you and you to stay with me. But you couldn't do it, and I told you I could not come back from you cheating on me again, no matter your excuse for it. You brought this horrible woman into your pack to play Luna, and you signed a contract to it. That contract is still in effect. You signed up for this and I didn't, please just let me go" I asked him in a low tone. I don't want this to be even more difficult than it already is, I can already feel his pain, and I just want to get out of here.

"You are leaving me here with her then? Do you care nothing for our bond Sabrina? You are just done with me, just like that?" Nico asks me angrily.

"It was always your choice Nico, you made it, the contract, coming back here for Shelby to get her claws in you. Stop stalling and release me from our bond" I asked him.

"Fine, I Nico Hughes, Alpha of the Golden Summit pack accept your rejection, Sabrina Morris of the Stone Moon pack" Nico yells out and then doubles over in pain. I gasp and start falling and Dixon grabs me and pulls me to him to keep me from hitting the ground. I cannot catch my breath and I am struggling to walk. Please, Goddess, protect my baby from what I am going through.

Jade and my mother came up to me and started to check on me and my mom asked me, "Bree, do you feel OK? Is the baby OK?". I shake my head as I am terrified that Nico will hear that I am pregnant and will come after me again. I see them both realize that he is watching us, and they both clam up and help me back to the car. I feel like I will be OK now, and that the baby is OK. But I will have the pack doctor check me out when I get back to the pack.

I stop on the way to the car as I smell something that smells like coffee and clean linen and start looking around. Are you freaking kidding me, now, of all times, I get my second chance, mate? I looked towards the group of men, and I see someone cut from the group and head over to me to take me in his arms. I looked up and saw Travis and his handsome face smiling down at me, and saying, "Mate". He is proud to have me as his mate, but I am almost terrified after all that Nico has put me through. I smiled and nodded at him, but I didn't say, mate. I will need to talk to him when we get back to the pack and make sure that he is OK with wanting me, even though I will be having my first mate's child. I am so scared right now that I cannot even speak.

Does he know? Was he in the group in the meeting room last night? Does he know the whole story and that I am pregnant? I don't know and I am scared that he will reject me. If I lose my second chance mate, I will be out of luck for another mate. I am stressed at thinking that I will be alone for the rest of my life, and then I remember I will be having a baby and I will not be alone. I will have someone to love, who loves me back. I hear a group of people come towards us and see about 8 people almost to the gate, carrying duffle bags and I am assuming that this is Angela and her family. I am glad she will be getting away from Shelby and the evil people in this pack who were willing to go along with Shelby and break the Goddess mate bond, for some money. I shake my head, they don't even realize that she may punish them for their actions by keeping their own mates from them for what they did in treating the mate bond with such disregard.

Nico is Forced to Reject Bree

I look back towards the gate at Nico and he is glaring at me like I caused all of this when none of it has ever been my choice. It was ALWAYS his choice and Shelby's choice. I see Shelby walk up to him and put her hand on his shoulder, he shoves her away. He shifts into his wolf. Now that the bond is broken, it doesn't matter that she seems like she is me anymore. Our bond is no more, and she won't have the benefit of being my doppelganger anymore.

I just want to get back home and have the doctor check me out really quick and I pray that this worked, and I won't feel that horrible pain of betrayal anymore. It was too painful after we had mated, but I didn't want it to cost me, my baby. I feel arms come around me and I feel better, and Travis leads me to the SUV that I was riding in and helps me into it, he buckles me up and then comes around to ride back with me and holds my hand. I feel better with him with me, although I have some trust issues now, that I won't get over super quick.
