Fortune Chapter 33

After walking into the villa, even the calm-minded Ye Qing was amazed by the layout and style of the place, after strolling inside, she said she liked it equally, and repeatedly crossed Ye Han would find the place, finally Ye Qing went to set up the room for two people, while Ye Han came to the balcony on the first floor and looked towards the villa opposite, because when he came in just now Ye Han found that the owner of the villa opposite was also there.

In front of the door of the villa opposite to Ye Han, there was a Beetle parked, the price was just around 100,000, living in such a mansion, but driving a car that did not fit this villa, this made Ye Han a bit curious, what kind of person was the owner living in the villa opposite?

However, after observing for a while, Ye Han still did not guess what kind of identity the owner had, after thinking about it, Ye Han still dialed Lin Baimo's phone number and asked him to come over for a get-together in the evening. new home.

Finally, Ye Han tried to contact Zhao Hengtian, whose legs and feet had not yet fully recovered, and Ye Han was not sure if he could come, but to Ye Han's surprise, Zhao Hengtian was already able to walk, and as long as he did not exercise strenuously, there was no major problem.

After giving notice to all the people he knew, Ye Han also participated in setting up the new home. The two of them worked together and finally finished setting up everything at 3pm.

After sweeping around the market, Ye Han returned with a big bag of stuff, including chicken, duck, fish and meat, and even more seafood, and of course, wine was a must, but all Ye Han bought was red wine.

"Little Han, are you tired, Sister will carry some for you." Seeing Ye Han carrying a big bag of stuff, Ye Qing was a bit distressed.

"Not tired, sis, I'll be home soon, besides this little thing can't be difficult for a big man like me." Ye Han grinned, but at that moment, a woman came running behind the two of them, the woman was wearing sportswear, her hair was tied up, Ye Han looked back and immediately found that the woman looked familiar, it seemed that he had seen her somewhere before?

The woman also found Ye Han carrying a large bag in front of her, and her eyebrows were immediately furrowed, Ye Han did not recognize her, but she recognized Ye Han.

Ye Han didn't think about anything else, he had already arrived home, opened his room and walked in, Yan Lingjiao frowned when she saw that Ye Han had actually walked into the villa next to the one she lived in; "This rogue lives here too?"

In fact, the villa next to Ye Han was where Yan Lingjiao lived, although she was only a police captain, she came from an unusual background, and this villa was bought for her by her mother.

Inside the room, Ye Qing drove Ye Han, who didn't know how to cook, out of the kitchen, cooking was a woman's job, and Ye Han, a man, naturally couldn't get involved.

The more he looked at her, the more he felt that he had seen this woman before, and after thinking about it, he remembered who she was.

“Oh, so it’s Inspector Yan, what a coincidence, you live here too.” Ye Han was lying on the balcony, showing a smile that he thought was sincere as he looked at Yan Lingjiao, there was a police officer living next door, he didn’t want to offend, it was best to have a good relationship.

“Rascal.” Yan Lingjiao said with a cold face and continued to practice her military fist.

When Ye Han heard this, he was not happy and leapt down from the balcony on the first floor; “I say, Officer Yan, you are a police officer, you have to produce evidence to call me a rogue, we are at least neighbours in the future, we have to help each other out, if you are prejudiced against me because of what happened last time, I am here to apologise to you.”

“Hmph, I don’t need you to apologize, aren’t you very capable of fighting, try to receive a few moves from me.” Seeing Ye Han roaming over, Yan Lingjiao turned back and kicked towards Ye Han, this kick was so tigerish and powerful that it would not be a problem to break a small tree the size of a bowl.

Facing Yan Lingjiao’s attack, Ye Han didn’t dare to be slow, he also kicked out in the air, with a bang, their right legs clashed together at the same time, then they landed, Ye Han retreated one step, while Yan Lingjiao retreated two steps, then he looked at Ye Han with grave eyes, he hadn’t seen him for a few days, Ye Han’s strength was already a line stronger than when he was at the police station.

“Haha, Officer Yan, your strength is not bad, but it seems to be a bit less than mine.” Ye Han grinned, during this period of time he had been studying the Ghost Valley Medical Scripture while cultivating, and the internal energy in his body had indeed become a few points stronger.

“Come again!”

When Yan Lingjiao was in the Special Forces, all those men who were stronger than her at the beginning were surpassed by her one by one. When she saw Yan Lingjiao attacking again, Ye Han did not move in place, and used his splitting and drilling fists in succession, their fists and kicks went back and forth, like a real-life martial arts movie.

However, Yan Lingjiao’s strength was still inferior to Ye Han’s, and every time she clashed with Ye Han, she could not get the upper hand. The two of them sparred for five or six minutes, and Ye Han became more and more energetic, his body technique and fist technique were united.

Probably because she felt Ye Han’s aggressive gaze, Yan Lingjiao, who was already angry in her heart, became even angrier.

At this moment, Yan Lingjiao and Ye Han clashed and finally landed on the ground with a beautiful backflip, however, without waiting for Ye Han to continue his attack, a black pistol was already aimed at Ye Han.

Seeing this scene, Ye Han was dumbfounded and immediately raised his hands, saying; “Officer Yan, we’re just exchanging words, you’re not as skilled as others, so there’s no need to be like this, right? Besides, why is a girl always pulling out a gun, this action should not be allowed, playing with guns, that is a man’s patent.”

“Shut up, if you dare to say one more word, I’ll blow your head off.” Yan Lingjiao was furious, why was this bastard’s speech so annoying, but on the contrary, she could not really do anything to Ye Han.

Hearing these words, Ye Han honestly shut his mouth, it was hard to refuse a beautiful woman's request, and it was even harder to refuse a gun-wielding beauty's request, in case Yan Lingjiao, this iceberg police girl, had a shiver in her hand and really accidentally fucked him with a gun, he wouldn't even have a reason to complain when he got to Yama's place.

At this moment, the sound of a car horn sounded outside Ye Han's villa, and the fat man Tang Haibin was already yelling outside the gate, yelling for Ye Han to open the door for him.

Seeing Yan Lingjiao leave, Ye Han laughed bitterly, there was a police girl living next door, was this good or bad? The point is that this iceberg policewoman's prejudice against him seems to be getting bigger and bigger.
