Chapter 141 The Irwin Family Will Always Be Your Backer

Lance nodded, "It doesn't matter. I can wait."

He pursed his lips and smiled gently, Lance knew that Krista liked him. He heard clearly what Krista said in the bamboo forest that day.

Krista held back her love to Lance because she was still an undergraduate and was pregnant,

It doesn't matter. He can wait.

Hearing this, Aracely was much more relieved.

"Yes. Nobody knows what will happen in the future. I hope that everything will go well."

Anyway, Kingston was going to marry someone else. Krista would definitely forget him and begin a new life,

Aracely didn't say anything else. She bought some fruit and went back home.

Krista was on the phone with Brittany

Brittany was shocked to know the news.

"Krista, tell me this is not true."

"It is true, Brittany. Kingston and I will never be together."

Krista had to say so or Brittany wouldn't give up.

"OK! I know I can't stop you. So please don't interfere with me if I do something."

Brittany hung up angrily.

Hearing this, Krista felt sad.

Aracely comforted Krista, "Brittany loves you and knows you very well. She can tell that you like Kingston. So she wants to match-make you two."

"I'm so sorry. I let Brittany down."

Her eyes were full of tears but they didn't fall down.

"It doesn't matter. Perhaps it's your destiny."

Krista told Aracely about Luck.

"God! Vivian was such a bully!"

"I understand her worries. I will try to be an overseas exchange student in the second half of the year. At that time, Lucky will go with me."

"Then what if Vivian doesn't let Luck go?"

"If Kingston doesn't help me. Then I'll ask Brittany for help, she will absolutely help me."

She clenched her fists. She would try her best.

Even if Kingston knew about the child, Krista would still save Luck.

Aracely nodded. It was her last resort.

The next day, another news hit City D.

Everyone just spilt the tea on Krista and Lance. And now Brittany held a press conference and claimed to adopt Krista as her granddaughter.

And Nataly, Kingston's mother, also attended the press conference.

In the future, Krista would be the granddaughter of Brittany and Kingston's adopted sister.

Countless media rushed to report the news.

They learned that Krista's mother had once saved Brittany, so Brittany liked Krista very much.

However, no one knew about Krista's marriage to Kingston. It was arranged in private.

Yesterday, everyone could bully Krista.

But today, no one dared to bully her, because the entire Irwin family was her backer.

When Krista heard the news, she immediately called Brittany.

"Brittany ..."

Brittany interrupted her, before Krista could finish her word.

"I can't stop you from doing anything. Neither can you. This is the only thing I can do for you now. The Irwin family will always be your protection even when I am dead."

Brittany coughed.

Krista was heartbroken to hear the cough.

"Are you okay, Brittany?"

"It's not new. I've always been worried about you. You seem to be sensible and weak, but you're stubborn. Your mother entrusted you to me before she passed away. I didn't look after you well. I was worried that if I were to die one day, who could protect you?"

"My sweetheart, who would look after you?"

Chapter 142 Birthday Banquet

"Brittany!"

The only thing that Krista wanted to do was to rush to the old house and lean on Brittany's lap.

Ever since her mother died, it was Brittany who had been filling the void of her heart.

No matter what happened, Brittany would always stand by her side.

She wasn't her biological grandma, but to Krista, she was family.

Krista was more than grateful for Brittany's kindness.

"Alright. Alright. It's easy to get emotional when you're old. Krista, since you've already chosen your path, go ahead boldly. No matter who you choose to be with, I will be happy. As long as you like it and you are happy about it, I'm fine with it."

At this moment, Wyatt took over the phone, "It's time for her to take medicine. I'll have her talk to you later."

"Brittany just had a bad cough. Is she alright?"

"It's fine. She's always sick. I was so angry that I didn't sleep all night after hearing your news. And I held the press conference with Nataly this morning. I'm a little tired. But don't worry, I'll take care of her."

Hearing Wyatt's words, she heaved a sigh of relief.

When Krista returned to school, everyone cast a jealous look at her.

In no time, all the girls in City D envied her.

Kingston left the hospital.

He healed faster than ordinary people. He didn't hurt his bone, so it only took him more than ten days to recover.

Brittany was about to turn 80. As Brittany's daughter-in-law, Nataly devoted herself to preparing the birthday party

She bought an island and planned to take the old lady out to fish and watch the sunrise. She also invited some upper-class families, most of them were close to Brittany.

After all, when Brittany was young, she was the pillar of the Irwin Group.

Brittany was happy and felt better.

Krista also prepared for her birthday early in the morning. The Ortizs and the old lady were on good terms, but Aracely's parents were busy with business in another country. So they couldn't come to Brittany's birthday party.

So Aracely would be there with Krista tonight.

Aracely prepared a loose dress for Krista to hide her belly.

"Are you sure you're pregnant?" Aracely stared at her belly, "What's the difference between your belly and mine after dinner?"

"I asked the doctor. She said that my belly won't show in the beginning. But It will show later. When the baby's seven or eight months old, my belly will quickly get bigger, just like a balloon."

"Fortunately, he's healthy. I don't know if the baby's a boy or a girl. Will the baby look like me or..."

Krista pursed her lips and did not continue.

Aracely immediately changed the topic, "Why don't you ask the doctor if it's a boy or a girl? Is the baby a godson or a goddaughter to me?"

"I don't want to ask the doctor. I don't care if the baby is a boy or a girl. I want to make it a surprise. I love my baby. I just hope my baby can grow up safely."

She gently caressed her belly and placed beautiful hopes on the child.

She just wanted the baby to be safe and sound.

"You shouldn't wear high heels. I have prepared a pair of flats for you. Watch out when you're walking."

"OK, thank you."

They boarded the ship ahead of time. The cruise ship was very big, and there were all kinds of entertainment facilities on the negative floor. The first floor was the banquet hall, and there was a dance tonight. Above was a place to rest. Everyone had their own room. Krista stayed with Aracely.

The guests had already arrived. Krista went to see Brittany first

Everyone congratulated Brittany.

They brought her a lot of expensive gifts.

"What did you prepare for Brittany?"

Krista asked Aracely.

"My parents brought her Ganoderma lucidum. What did you prepare?"

Krista went silent..

Chapter 143 Gift

She knew that this birthday party was extraordinary and that Brittany didn't lack anything.

She studied costume design and specially designed a set of clothes for Brittany. It was a set of costumes.

Brittany loved the play Drunken Beauty. When she was young, she even acted in it. She still kept those photos.

Therefore, Krista stayed up for several nights to make the costume. It had pearls and nephrites inlaid on it.

But the pearls and nephrites weren't of the best quality because Krista didn't have much money.

But she knew Brittany would still love it.

She thought she could secretly give the costume to Brittany. But she didn't expect that they would record everyone's gifts so that the Irwin's could return favors in the future.

They could tell the financial background of every one.

And apparently, Krista's gift wasn't decent enough.

"What happened?"

Aracely noticed that Krista was worried.

After asking several questions, Aracely knew what Krista had prepared for Brittany. She frowned and said, "Why don't we exchange our gifts? I'll tell them that my parents are abroad and I don't know how to choose gifts."

"It's fine. Brittany will understand me."

She signed.

Sandra was also here.

This time, she was no longer a nameless woman. She was Kingston's fiancée now.

She wore extremely tight clothes to show everyone that she was pregnant. They all sent her their best wishes.

There were also quite a few people who tried to curry favor with Sandra. They continuously praised her beauty and that she was a blessed person who could win Kingston's heart.

This time, Sandra also brought a gift. She knew that Brittany loved tea. Since someone had given Brittany expensive tea, she decided to give her an exquisite clay teapot.

"Brittany, this is a clay teapot made by Master Chen Mingyuan. Please take a look."

As soon as she showed the teapot, many people surrounded it.

The teapot was neither round nor square. It was in Master Chen Ming Yuan's style. It was unique and distinct.

The teapot had been auctioned in 2016. A teapot collector brought it. It was difficult to buy the teapot from him. But Sandra did it.

Krista was also a little surprised. She had heard Brittany talk about it before.

If Brittany couldn't even get the teapot, how did Sandra buy it?

Just then, Sandra looked at Kingston and immediately understood.

That was definitely purchased by Kingston.

Everyone understood that Sandra was very important to Kingston.

Brittany liked this teapot very much, but when she noticed that it was gifted by Sandra, she immediately became extremely disgusted and wished she could break it.

Thank you."

Brittany said indifferently. The atmosphere was a little awkward.

Sandra didn't look happy.

When she turned around and returned to her seat, she twisted her feet and was about to fall.

Kingston, who was beside her, hurriedly held her.

She snuggled up to him and slowly stood up.

She looked at Krista and said, "Ms. Compton, Brittany has always liked you the most. May I know what gift you brought?"

All of a sudden, everyone looked at Krista in unison.

Many people were amazed at Krista's beauty. She was so graceful as if she was a hibiscus flower that had just bloomed in the morning.

She didn't wear a lot of makeup. People can tell she had exquisite facial features, and her eyes were delicate and clear. Her beauty was beyond description.

Chapter 144 Two Gifts

She was petite, similar to Sandra. But Sandra was thinner.

And Krista was filled with strength and unyielding.

“Ms. Compton is such a beauty.”

“That’s right. Unfortunately, she was taken by Lance. Otherwise, I would have made her my girlfriend.”

When Sandra heard these people’s words, she was angry.

She wanted Krista to make a fool of herself, but Krista surprised everyone instead.

Krista stepped forward and opened the box. It was the costume from the play Drunken Beauty. There was also an exquisite crown. She did all the decorations by herself.

Making this costume was extremely time-consuming and tiring. Krista’s eyes hurt when she was making it.

“What is this? A costume? Are you insinuating that Brittany is a clown?”

Vivian’s boyfriend couldn’t help but ask.

They let Sandra played the good cop.

“That’s right. The gift is too shabby.”

“This is Brittany’s eightieth birthday. Isn’t it a good idea to give her something like this? It looks so cheap to me!”

People began to gabble.

Seeing this, Kingston frowned.

Krista stood in the middle. She looked so thin and flail.

She wanted to explain, but what people said was too mean.

On such an occasion, people compared each other with their gifts.

Kingston clenched his fists tightly. But he warned himself over and over again not to meddle in other people's affairs.

They were not in a relationship anymore.

But...

He couldn't help but take a step forward. Seeing this scene, Brittany heaved a sigh of relief. She was really worried that Kingston wouldn't come out to rescue Krista.

"Brittany, Krista had prepared two gifts. One was a set of costumes she made for you. I still remember years ago you loved to watch operas. Sometimes, you would put on a costume and act for a while."

"Krista had prepared another gift. It is an embroidery made by craftswomen from Suzhou. There are a hundred thousand blessings on it. She wants you to stay happy."

"Oh? Is that so?"

Brittany said with a smile,

Nataly frowned and whispered to Brittany

"Mom, Kingston gave you the gift i prepared,"

It was sent from Suzhou and it took her a lot of effort along the way.

She wanted to show her filial piety, but she didn't know it would be taken away by Kingston in the blink of an eye.

"I like all the gifts you gave me,"

Brittany smiled

She was happy that Kingston stood out for Krista,

She could tell he still loved Krista,

Later, they displayed the embroidery. It was so exquisite that everyone was amazed.

Everyone praised Krista for her filial piety,

Sandra clenched her fists tightly and gritted her teeth in hatred.

She knew that Krista could not afford anything expensive, so she could only give Brittany a handmade gift.

She wanted Krista to make a fool of herself in front of so many people, but she didn't know Kingston would help her.

She wondered, 'Why would he do that? She's nobody to him.'

'Do Kingston ever consider how I feel?'

She felt extremely bitter.

At the end of the birthday party, Brittany chose Krista's gifts as her favorites.

Krista followed Brittany all the time. Brittany introduced her to everyone excitedly.

"This is my granddaughter. Her name is Krista. Please take care of her."

"She's just a child. I hope you guys take good care of her. Because I love her the most."

Chapter 145 Is It Love Or Not?

"Krista is considerate. Although she is not my granddaughter, she is better than my own granddaughter!"

Krista was touched by these words.

Krista seldom attended these occasions, and soon she was tired. As Brittany was in poor health, and she felt tired too.

Brittany retired to her room, supported by Krista. When she passed by Kingston's lounge, she heard the conversation from inside.

"Kingston, do you care about me? Do you have special feelings about her? I don't believe you are just former spouses."

Sandra said with tears.

"What have I done? Why are you unhappy?"

"Why did you help her out?"

"Because she is a member of the Irwin family now, and she is my mother's foster daughter. If you bother her, you make embarrass the Irwins. Today is Brittany's 80th birthday. I need to make sure that nothing goes wrong in the banquet."

Kingston said word. by word.

"Are you sure you don't have other intentions?"

Sandra looked at him with red eyes.

Hearing these words, Krista felt disturbed for no reason.

She didn't know what she was looking forward to.

Kingston clenched his fists and said firmly.

"No."

Krista, who was outside the door, felt extremely depressed when she heard this.

Her heart was trembling.

Did she disappointed?

But why would she be disappointed? Of course he would say that.

He and Sandra were about to get married. He would not have any feelings for his former wife.

Krista put on a self-mocking smile.

She calmed herself down and strode away.

Inside the room, Sandra could not believe his words, but she had no reason to doubt him. And she dared not to offend him, lest he dislike her.

She burst into tears and hug him tightly.

"Kingston, I'm sorry. I really care about you. That's why I was so emotional. It's all my fault. Could you keep me safe in the future? I'm pregnant now, and I'm always worried ... worried that you will push me away..."

She said with tears. Although his clothes were wet with her tears, he did not show sympathy for her.

He was stunned for a moment and then mechanically touched her head with his hands.

"I have been used to being alone. I am not mindful of the feelings of others, and I will keep it in mind."

"Never mind, as long as you love me."

Love...

What was love?

He did not love Sandra, but he needed to be responsible for her.

He didn't know whether it was love or not.

He hadn't experienced it before, and he felt disturbed.

Kingston was required to attend the banquet, so Sandra went out of the room soon.

Sandra immediately put on a grave face, with her sharp eyes flashing.

She took out a packet of powders from the drawer. If Kingston took it, he would lose his mind. It would make him horny.

She had doubted that Kingston was impotent. Perhaps this could help him.

She could not wait any longer. Although he didn't love her, she would try to have sex with him.

As long as she was carrying his baby, he would not push her away.

Because he was responsible and he would not behave irresponsibly.

He was a conservative in romantic relationships. She needed to have sex with him as soon as possible so that she could be the true Mrs. Irwin.

Her happy life might depend on it.

Chapter 146 How Dare You!

After resting on the cruise ship for one night, they could reach the island the next morning and wouldn't leave until evening.

The island was elaborately decorated by Nataly.

She specially set up a stage in the middle where plays would be performed to celebrate Brittany's birthday.

Outside, the moon gradually rose. Inside, people were singing, dancing, chatting, and laughing with the festive sound of glasses clinking.

Krista went to the empty deck to catch her breath for she wasn't keen on all that excitement.

The sea was cool and breezy, and it wouldn't be cold with a coat.

The large moon bathed the sea in silver light. It was near the middle of the month.

The moon was so big that as if it was within reach.

Krista couldn't help but stretch out her hand to touch its clear radiance.

Right at this moment, the sound of footsteps came from behind.

She turned around, only to find it was Sandra.

She instantly put on a long face.

It was Sandra who teamed up with Vivian to kidnap Luck.

Sandra narrowed her eyes and looked at her fiercely, her eyes filled with displeasure.

"Have you forgotten that Luck is still in my hands? I want you to stay far away from Kingston and never appear in front of him again. Did you take my words seriously?"

Sandra clenched her fists in exasperation.

Krista was irritated by her words.

At the banquet, Sandra deliberately mentioned her gift to attract everyone's attention and intended to embarrass her.

She was always making concessions, but Sandra was aggressive.

"What can you do if I don't do as you say?"

“Believe it or not, I’ll kill Luck.”

“How dare you!”

Krista’s voice instantly became much harsher.

“I do want to protect this baby, but I want to protect Luck even more. If you pressure me, I won’t wait for Kingston to kill the baby. I’ll take care of it myself. I’ve been looking for my younger brother for more than a decade. My mother was calling his name when she died. If you dare to hurt him, I’ll kill you!”

“Kingston may not care about my child. With his particular temper, he won’t tolerate an illegitimate child, so I’ve been wary of him. I have no intention of fighting for the property of the Irwin family. Now I’m also a member of the Irwin family. Even though Kingston doesn’t protect me, Brittany will do. Even Nataly feels grateful to and guilty about me. Do you think she would care about having another grandson?”

“Sandra, I’ll leave at the end of the year. I won’t let Kingston know that I’m pregnant and you must give me Luck. Don’t even think of threatening me with him! If he comes back with injuries or gets worse, I won’t let you go. At worst, a life-and-death struggle!”

Krista clenched her fists tightly, her back straight, and glared at Sandra bravely.

Everyone bullied the weak and feared the strong. If she kept compromising, they would bully her freely for thinking that she was under their control.

She used to be alone.

But now, she was a mother and an older sister. With someone she wanted to protect, she would become extremely powerful!

When Sandra heard this, she was embarrassed with an extremely strange expression.

She originally intended to threaten Krista, while she was the one to be threatened!

She gritted her teeth and wanted to say something, but she didn’t know what to say.

“Krista, I underestimated you.”

She walked forward, staring coldly at Krista.

“I underestimated you too. I thought you just have some petty tricks, but you and Vivian joined forces to kidnap Luck. I don’t know if Kingston knows your true colors, but I won’t stop you from marrying him carrying his kid. Just to be clear, don’t provoke Brittany or Nataly.”

"You can be Mrs. Irwin, and no one will vie with you. But if you hurt someone I care about, then I won't let you off!"

Chapter 147 Sandra Fell into the Water

Although Krista was quite thin, her eyes were full of firmness and coldness and her clothes were swaying in the sea breeze.

Her body seemed to contain endless power!

Finding hard approaches not working, Sandra turned to a soft tone immediately.

"Don't worry. As long as you don't take away Kingston, I won't do anything to you. Your younger brother's treatment goes quite well. If you don't believe me, you can check it."

Sandra took out her phone, which contained a video recently sent by the doctor.

Hearing Sandra's words, Krista instantly got tight in mind.

She hurriedly took her phone and checked Luck's condition.

The doctor took Luck to a pleasant countryside in a warm and nice autumn day.

Luck had a smile that Krista hadn't seen for a long time, and he had a very happy time with some children.

Seeing this scene, Krista finally felt relieved.

She didn't finish the video but Sandra had snatched the phone away unexpectedly.

With her heart trembled, Krista said, "I haven't finished it yet. Can you let me watch more? I'm worried about Luck. Please!"

Because of the heavy missing for her brother, Krista's tone was a little hasty.

"The phone is right here. If you want to see more, take it yourself."

Sandra waved her phone provocatively.

Krista gritted her teeth angrily but could not say no.

That was because she was exceedingly worried about Luck!

She went to get it, but Sandra did not give it.

When the two of them were disputing, Krista heard a thud and Sandra fell into the water.

Sandra kept struggling in the water and shouted for help.

Actually, Sandra knew how to swim, so nothing would happen to her.

She fell into the water on purpose!

Krista hurried to ask for help but disturbed the people in the banquet hall.

Kinston came out firstly, followed by Nataly.

came

After all, Sandra was pregnant with the flesh and blood of the Feng family, her future grandson. How could she not pay attention?

“Hurry! What are you waiting for? Save her!”

Nataly was anxious.

“Kingston, she is in the water. Hurry...”

Krista grabbed his sleeve subconsciously, but Kingston shrugged her off coldly.

Kingston took off his coat and jumped into the sea instantly.

The rest of the professional lifeguards weren't even as fast as he was.

Seeing Kingston's anxiety, Krista got tight in mind.

Soon Sandra was saved by them together.

Kingston immediately took his coat and draped it over Sandra's trembling body, sending her to her room.

Sandra changed into clean clothes but she was pale.

The doctor treated her in time. Fortunately, she was fine.

“How did you fall into the sea?”

Nataly asked anxiously.

With tears in her eyes, Sandra seemed hesitant.

She looked to Krista.

At that time, only Krista and Sandra were on deck.

Kingston asked Quincy to get the surveillance video out.

It was quite clear in the video that Krista made the first move.

Krista saw this, her heart trembled.

Things were not like that.

At that time, she indeed wanted to take her phone, but it was so dim, so many details were quite vague.

According to the general movements, it was indeed her who pushed Sandra.

“Krista, why did you do it?”

Nataly couldn't stop the tremble in her voice, full of surprise.

“Ms. Irwin, please don't blame Ms. Compton. I inadvertently irritated Ms. Compton at the banquet. I apologized to her, but she didn't accept. Then we had an argument.”

“Anyway, it's all my fault. I shouldn't have said too much at the party. I was just curious about Ms. Compton's gift. Ms. Compton, please forgive me.”

“I know. I ruined your relationship, but I really didn't mean to do that. Love comes when it comes. No one can stop it, right?”

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 148

Chapter 148 Such a Bitch

In a few words, Sandra instantly aroused the conflict to its maximum.

Krista was filled with anger and she clenched her fists.

Nataly said, "Krista, if you had any complaints back then, you should have told me. I would help you. Why are you making things difficult for Sandra now? She is pregnant. How can you do such a thing?"

"Nataly, she didn't do it on purpose."

"I know she didn't do it on purpose. But who will be responsible if something happens to you and the child?"

Krista looked coldly at Sandra. It was a pity that she didn't get the Academy Awards with such a good acting.

She even could call white black.

Nataly had always felt guilty about Krista, so she treated Krista as if she were her own daughter.

However, in a few words, Sandra disintegrated Nataly's trust in her.

She had to admit that Sandra was clever.

"Nataly, do you feel guilty about grandma? Back then, grandma chose the daughter of a close friend to be uncle's fiancée. Because of you, Uncle broke the engagement and caused their relationship to be bad. Grandma is still very regretful that she lost her closest friend."

"Why are you talking about it?"

Nataly frowned fiercely.

"You are also full of guilt about that woman. She was the laughingstock of the entire imperial capital at that time, so she had no choice but to emigrate with her family. Will you get to her and beg for her forgiveness like a bitch?"

Nataly was silent, and Sandra also seemed to be infuriated.

Krista was implying that Sandra was a bitch!

"I don't have any complaints about the divorce. Kingston doesn't love me. I respect his choice and hope that he can find happiness. Grandma has always wanted to fix us up, but I refused."

"Besides, I have someone I like now. Do I need her apology? We had a dispute, but I didn't push her. As for how she fell, she knew it!"

Krista didn't show the white feather.

When Sandra heard this, she immediately cried until she was exhausted. She pointed at Krista's nose and said, "Are you saying that I risk my life and the child on purpose?"

"I never said that you did it on purpose. Why did you do this to me? How did I offend you?"

She cried so sadly that she fainted in the end.

Nataly felt sorry about Sandra. Even if Sandra really did something wrong, she would stand on Sandra's side because she cared about the child.

"Alright, I don't want to know the truth anymore. Whether you did it on purpose or not, it happened. Fortunately, the child is fine, so forget about it."

"Get out. I'll take care of her here."

Nataly let them go.

She straightened her back and did not show timidity at all.

After leaving the room, Kingston turned to look at her.

"Did you do it?"

He asked.

"No, I didn't push her!"

"OK."

He nodded slightly and turned to leave.

Krista did not understand what he meant. Did he believe her or not?

Grandma patted her shoulder and looked at her kindly, "Why are you so brave today?"

"I'm not that obedient. If I continue to be tolerant, she will be more barefaced. I'm not afraid of her. If she keeps framing me, I'll teach her a lesson."

"That is my good granddaughter. You has my demeanor."

"Grandma, I have something to tell you."

IS

"Go ahead."

"I want to study abroad. If it goes well, I will leave after the semester. I may not be able to accompany you for a long time."

She was very worried about Brittany's health, being afraid that she would never see her grandma again once she left.

- Hearing that, Brittany was silent for a long time. Tears welled up in her cloudy eyes.

"It's good to go abroad to take a look. If you're unhappy here, you shall go somewhere else to relax. Kingston has no luck to marry you, and so does the Irwin family."

"No, Grandma, I am a member of the Irwin family. I am not the granddaughter-in-law of the Irwin family, but I am your granddaughter, your own granddaughter."

She rubbed her grandma's cheek intimately.

She quickly wiped away her tears. She was afraid if Brittany saw it, they would both drown in tears.

"I know what you're worried about. I'll take good care of myself and wait for you to come back."

"Okay!"

She nodded hard. Her throat was stuck by something like cotton wool, burning and stinging.

Sandra quickly woke up. She was pretending to be dizzy. Otherwise, she didn't know how to end it.

"You're awake?"

Nataly looked at her with concern, "Are you hungry? Do you want something to eat?"

She gently shook her head. Fortunately, Nataly was on her side and could be her support.

"Nataly, I want to see Kingston. Can you let him sleep with me tonight? He has always been worried about the baby and doesn't want to share a room with me, but it's fine to simply share a bed. Nataly, I really need him."

"Child, I understand. I'll ask him to come."

She took advantage of the gap when Nataly was absent and hurriedly put the medicine into the cup.

The effect of this medicine wasn't very strong. It only turned a man so that he couldn't get enough of her.

She didn't want to be noticed by Kingston and affect their relationship.

Very quickly, Kingston arrived and Nataly took her leave.

"Kingston..."

She said softly, her eyes instantly turning red.

"Why did you do this?"

Kingston sat beside the bed. His expression was indifferent, and his voice was calm as never before.

He knew what the woman beside him was like, but he was still tolerant of her for the night they spent together.

He also found a precious gift for her to please Brittany, hoping she would accept her as soon as possible.

But what she did was disappointing.

"What... What's wrong with me?"

Sandra's face was pale and her eyes flickered as she spoke unnaturally.

"Why did you frame Krista?"

"I didn't."

"A liar has to pay the price. Are you sure?"

Kingston narrowed his eyes slightly, his voice carrying a hint of unkindness.

It was as if the temperature in the room had dropped to freezing point. The air froze and the atmosphere became dull.

Sandra was suffocated by the pressure from his.

“Kingston... ..”

She hesitated, unable to say anything.

“Why did you do this?” He asked.

“Why? Don’t you understand? I care about you. Krista is my greatest threat. Brittany and Nataly both like her. She is your ex-wife and has countless connections with you. We only have one night of love. If it wasn’t for this child, would you still be responsible for me?”

“Yes, even if you don’t have a child, the things I promised will not change. You shouldn’t make things difficult for her again and again. You won’t make me hate her, but you will make me hate you.”

“No... Kingston, please don’t hate me.”

She rushed over in a hurry and hugged him.

Chapter 150 Could You Stay and Accompany Me Tonight?

“I did such foolish things because I love you so much. There is no need to target Krista. She loves her boyfriend and they are in a good relationship. But I can’t control myself. My status is so low. I feel uneasy being with you.”

“The doctor said that the people during pregnancy are apt to be sensitive. It’s my fault. Please don’t hate me. I would pay attention in the future.”

Hearing Sandra mention Lance, Kingston began to feel depressed.

He had to face this fact.

Krista and Lance had been together.

This was a happy thing, but why was he so upset?

“Don’t do this in the future. I promise to marry you. If you’re uneasy, we could put forward our wedding.”

“Really?”

"I'll ask my mother to prepare. It will be done. We'll have one terrific wedding."

"Kingston, thank you for understanding me."

She nestled against his chest and secretly sighed with relief.

She thought that she could destroy Krista, but she nearly destroyed herself.

"Could you stay and accompany me tonight?"

Kingston pursed his lips. He always resisted sleeping with Sandra before. But what exactly was he resisting?

In the future, Sandra would spend her entire life with him. They would have their children. Sandra would bring up them.

Sandra was his wife. She would always be there for him.

If it wasn't his constant resistance, she wouldn't be so uneasy.

He should stay here.

"Alright. I'll accompany you tonight."

Sandra was overjoyed hearing this.

Kingston was a little thirsty. He picked up the cup and drank without thinking.

Sandra saw this and heaved a sigh of relief.

She was even fantasizing about sleeping with Kingston. What would that feel like?

Just as she was thinking nonsense, Quincy knocked on the door.

"Mr. Irwin, the group has an emergency videoconference."

"OK. I'm coming." Kingston replied and then looked at Sandra, "I need to deal with some things. I'll come back later."

"No!" Sandra was anxious and she grabbed his sleeve. Her heart was crashing in her chest.

"Kingston, don't leave. You could stay here for a meeting, couldn't you?"

"Mr. Irwin, the directors are urging you. You must take a look at this project personally."

Quincy's voice sounded at this point.

"Maybe I would work late. You are still under the weather. I don't want to disturb you. Moreover, this is a business matter. I must go."

Kingston pulled her hand away and left.

"Kingston."

Sandra helplessly watched him leave.

Why did it happen at this point? Was Quincy deliberately targeting her?

What should she do next?

Although the medicine worked slowly and it was mild, what if he didn't come back in half an hour?

Sandra's heart was burning with anxiety, and every minute passed like a year.

She looked at the time on her phone. Twenty minutes passed. Why hadn't he returned?

She hurriedly went out to find him, but Quincy was outside the door.

"Ms. Hardin, where are you going?"

Kingston was worried about her, so he left Quincy here to take care of Sandra.

"I'm a little uncomfortable. I want to find Kingston."

"You should find a doctor, not Kingston. He doesn't know any medical skills."

Quincy said straightforwardly.

Sandra was annoyed by his words.
