Chapter 161 What Are You Thinking?

He's generous enough to allow Aracely to come and go freely.

Lance was kicked out of the hospital.

"Kingston! Don't go too far! When she was your wife, you didn't show her affection! Now, she is only the adopted daughter of the Irwins, yet you care so much about her! If you had paid a little more attention to her in the past, she wouldn't be like this now!"

Lance's words went straight into his heart like a sword.

He's right.

If he had cared about her a little more back then, they would not be in this impasse where neither of them could find a way out.

Kingston narrowed his eyes and gave Lance an icy cold gaze without saying anything.

Lance wanted to rush forward, but was stopped by Quincy.

"Mr. Hamm, stop. I don't want to hurt you."

After all, Lance was only a frail scholar. He already bruised his face when he resisted Quincy.

"I'm her boyfriend now!"

"From now on, you're no longer her boyfriend. I don't want you to be together."

"You! Kingston, you've gone too far! Is this the demeanor of the successor of the Irwin family? You are so narrow-minded and malicious! What on earth do you think of Krista?"

At first, he was so indifferent, but now, he was overly concerned.

What was Kingston thinking?

"Quincy, take care of it. I don't want to see him near the hospital again."

"Yes, sir."

After saying that, Kingston left without a backward glance and did not answer his question.

He was also asking himself.

'What do you think of Krista?'

He wanted her.

But he couldn't. So he did everything he can to make sure that she wouldn't leave him. It was good to be able to see her every day.

He would find the right man for her, but it can't be Lance.

Lance tried hard but couldn't get into the hospital.

Fortunately, Krista called him and told him that she was fine.

"It's good that he didn't give you a hard time."

"Mr. Hamm, don't worry about me. I'm fine now. Don't confront Kingston. He's quite different now."

Krista couldn't tell what exactly the differences are, but his change was quite terrifying.

"Don't worry, I'll find a way to take you away!"

"Mr. Hamm, I have already caused you a lot of trouble. Thank you for helping me all the time. I can't cause any more trouble. I'm really afraid that Kingston will hurt you!"

She was afraid that she would drag Lance into endless trouble and ruin his reputation.

This child was not his at all, yet he's taking all the responsibility. Her heart was filled with guilt.

"Don't worry about me. I won't let you stay with him for long!"

Lance said word by word.

Krista wanted to dissuade him from kicking against the pricks, but Lance hung up the phone.

"Krista, I have something to do here. I'll hang up now."

Lance's tone was somewhat wrong.

She nodded.

After he hung up the phone, Lance looked at the car at the curb.

It was Ryan.

He pretended not to see him and walked away directly, but Ryan followed him in his car.

He poked his head out and said, "You are in trouble now, right? I can help you!"

"I don't need your help!"

"You are no match for Kingston as a professor. You are just risking your neck. However, you can change your identity..."

Before Ryan could finish his words, Lance turned around and look at him. Then he said coldly, "I won't go back. Don't waste your time on me. I will always remember what they did. If possible, I wish I could kill them!"

"But they are..."

"Shut up, I don't want to hear that!"

Lance is a gentle person, but every time Ryan mentioned this, he would become angry and agitated.

Ryan could only give up.

He stopped following him. He gaped after Lance and looked at the hospital behind him.

"Oh, that's life. Everything changes. Lance, I don't want you to compromise, but I also hope that you will."

Ryan said enigmatically.

"How's Mr. Hamm?"

Aracely asked.

"I'm afraid that he will act recklessly. Kingston is a different man now. I'm a little worried."

"That's true. His sudden appearance at the hospital today also surprised me. He used to be well-mannered and wouldn't bully the weak like this. Moreover, he's so cold now. What happened to him?"

"I don't know either."

Krista was at a loss.

"Luckily, his request wasn't still reasonable. He wanted me to break up with Mr. Hamm. After all, Mr. Hamm and I were just pretending to be a couple and now we can end this as we wish. Mr. Hamm hung up before I could tell him but he would be happy to know. He took the fall for me, and I feel extremely guilty."

"In the future, I will not let him down. I will work hard to learn to design well, and then I will work for his design studio to repay his favor."

"Are you sure that Mr. Hamm will be happy to know?"

Aracely hesitated.

"Won't he? No one needs to lie anymore. Moreover, this is bad for Mr. Hamm's reputation. It makes me very guilty to drag him into trouble without his permission."

"Did it ever cross your mind that Mr. Hamm keeps helping you because he likes you?"

Krista was stunned as she stared at Aracely with her eyes wide open, unable to utter a word.

She never thought about that.

Mr. Hamm likes her? That's impossible.

As gentle and kind as Mr. Hamm, he deserves a brilliant girl.

"No, that's impossible ... Are you joking with me? Aracely, this is not funny at all."

"You idiot. You didn't know that you like Kingston until I told you. And now you still need me to remind you that Mr. Hamm likes you? He's so good to you. He is hustling every day to help you. As a designer, of course he cherishes his reputation. But he admitted that he's the father of the baby without hesitation. Can't you tell from all this?"

"You silly. Lance likes you!"

Krista was shocked.

Mr. Hamm likes her.

How's that possible?

She, she, she ... she was pregnant with someone else's baby!

"No, it's impossible. I'm bearing someone else's child. No man can't put up with this, right? Furthermore, Mr. Hamm never told me..."

"Maybe he didn't say it explicitly. Maybe he expressed it indirectly. You didn't notice at all?"

"..."

Krista was speechless and didn't know what to say.

She found this hard to accept. It would be better that if Lance regards her as a talented student.

If so, she could work hard and repay Mr. Hamm's kindness.

But now ... she seemed to owe him even more.

"Mr. Hamm deserves someone better. Why does he like me?"

Krista had no confidence in herself.

That's also why she didn't think that Kingston will like her so she never tried.

It was the same with Mr. Hamm.

Chapter 163 She's Just a Cautious Person

Aracely Ortiz was so angry that she knocked on her head, "Krista! There is no such thing as being worthy in love. Furthermore, it is not up to you to decide whether you are worthy or not. It is up to Lance Hamm.

"Krista, I really hope that you would be in a relationship with Mr. Hamm. Kingston Irwin is not worth it, who is already going to marry Sandra Hardin but also is tangled up with you. What exactly does he want to do?"

"Aracely, my mind is in a mess ... I... I want to have a think alone."

"Then think about it yourself. Think about Mr. Hamm's dedication to you during this period of time. Aren't you touched at all? Don't you want to give him a slightest response?"

"You're carrying someone else's child, but he loves you both and treat you so well. Don't tell me ... you're not tempted."

"Aracely..."

"Well, alright, I won't talk anymore. Calm yourself down."

Aracely Ortiz did not continue and turned to leave.

At this moment, Krista's mind was in turmoil.

She had always felt that Mr. Hamm was out of reach and his girl should be a gentle lady from a noble family with outstanding talent.

But now she knew that Mr. Hamm might like her..

No, no, there must be something wrong.

Unable to accept such a thing, she hugged herself tightly in embarrassment, and brainwashed herself that it was Aracely Ortiz's nonsense.

But, what if ... What if it was...

Then Mr. Hamm's care for her could not be calculated.

It was hard to repay the favor if there were emotion involved.

She thought that she could work to pay off her debts, but now...

She was going to give herself to pay her debts.

Aracely Ortiz did not show up until dinner time. Seeing Krista still curled up, Aracely understood that she had not figured it out at all.

Krista has a high IQ in her studies.

But emotionally, she was as dull as a lump of wood.

"Can't figure it out?"

Krista shook her head pitifully.

"I still love Kingston."

Aracely Ortiz remained silent without any response.

Then she sighed and said, "But he doesn't belong to you anymore."

"I know ... but I can't decide my emotions. I can't just love whoever I want. I can't control myself..."

"Aren't you attracted to Mr. Hamm?"

"I'm touched, but not flipped."

"Ah ... What should I say about your action of putting all eggs in one basket? If you were given another chance, would you pursue Kingston Irwin?"

"I..."

She really didn't know how to answer for a moment.

Probably not.

That's her personality

The experience of her mother had always been a shadow of her childhood.

Her mother's humble love brought herself a miserable end.

So Krista had always been very careful to guard her heart, not daring to love easily, and also afraid of being loved.

She didn't know if there was true love in this world, or ... there were total schemes?

She didn't dare to fight and take the initiative.

She had always told herself that it was her own business to take a fancy to others, so she didn't need his response. All she needed to do is to be calm and do her best.

She was just a very cautious person!

"Alright, I know..."

"I understand your past and why you treat your feelings like this. You are not confident in yourself and are not sure of others. You are actually very good, and have a soft heart beyond imagination. You are kind and beautiful, pure and sincere, and I am happy every day with you," Aracely said as she hugged her gently.

"You can make me relax and simply live a good life every day. Krista, Brittany Roach and I like you for a reason. And you deserve the love from anyone."

"Don't let your family background and your parents affect your judgement of your feelings. Their single example doesn't mean you will repeat it."

"Krista, I know that I can't convince you for a while, but it doesn't matter. No matter what you choose, I'll stand with you. If you don't want a man, then I will support you. But, please don't deny yourself. You're fine ... You're really fine..."

Aracely's words hit her in the softest place of her heart

There was someone in the world who loved her deeply. It was friendship.

That person was Aracely Ortiz.

Chapter 164 Wishful Thinking

"Aracely, thank you for staying with me ... and never giving up on me."

"There are many people who haven't given up on you, like Brittany Roach. Actually, I feel that she understands you as I do."

"But ... but I'm not good at it myself. I will work hard to stand at their heights, and I won't feel inferior anymore!"

"I believe you can, and I'll accompany you!"

She believed that Krista could do it.

She seemed weak, but she never gave up on the search for a better life.

She didn't give up on the child.

She didn't give up on the long-lost younger brother.

She didn't give up on costume design.

And also she didn't give up on the love for Kingston Irwin.

Though it is hard to express this love and have a result.

But she was so stubborn in love.

Aracely only hoped that Krista would be good. Even if there was no man by Krista's side in the future, she would stand with her all the time. At worst, they would be unmarried and take care of the child together.

There was nothing serious about Krista's illness. She recovered after two days in hospital, and had to go back to class.

She had always been thinking about Lance Hamm in a bad mood.

She hoped that Lance Hamm wouldn't like her, but if he did, she really didn't know how to deal with it.

Lance Hamm would also call her and send her messages, which made her heavy-hearted.

"What did you eat for lunch? You need to eat more. You're too thin..."

"Mr. Hamm, do you have a feeling for me?"

She pinched her phone nervously and asked with a trembling voice.

She was extremely tense.

And so was Lance Hamm.

Is it finally the time to say it out?

"I like you and you like me. Isn't this the best outcome?"

"1... I like you?"

Krista was stunned.

When did she show that she liked Mr. Hamm?

Did Mr. Hamm misunderstand something?

"Didn't you like me early on?" Lance Hamm frowned slightly.

"No... why do you think so?"

"That day in the school bamboo forest, someone confessed to you. You said very clearly that the person you like ... is me. However, because of my status, you dare not express it ... Isn't that so?"

Lance Hamm's voice became subtle.

He was actually worried.

Could it be ... that he had misunderstood something?

Krista thought for a long time before she remembered that time.

"You ... You were also in the bamboo forest?" She asked in a shock.

"Right."

"I'm sorry, Mr. Hamm. I... I just..."

Krista didn't know what to say for a moment.

When the senior confessed to her, she said that she already had a sweetheart.

The senior guessed it Lance Hamm, and she was too lazy to think of another name, so she took the opportunity and successfully rejected him.

She never thought that Lance Hamm would be there at that time. No wonder he misunderstood when hearing these words.

Hearing her apology, Lance Hamm's mood fell into the abyss.

Could it be ... that it had been his wishful thinking for so long?

He couldn't hear Krista's words clearly.

He even lost his composure and hung up the phone.

It turned out that she had never liked him from the beginning to the end. No wonder she didn't have any reaction when he had tactfully expressed his feelings for so many times.

She only had the relationship between teachers and students rather than men and women!

Instead, he had fallen in love step by step...

How could it be?

In the end, was it just his own wishful thinking?

Lance Hamm's emotions collapsed.
