Chapter 201 Start Over

“I’m fine. Don’t be too sad. Brittany has been gone. You should stay strong.”

“For Brittany, I’m not a qualified grandson. I seem to have never listened carefully to her.”

If he listened carefully, he and Krista would not become like this.

“No, you have always been the best grandson in Brittany’s heart. She is proud of you! Every time she mentioned you, her eyes would beam with joy. And her friends were so envious of her.”

“Not only did she acknowledge you, but she has also acknowledged Nataly a long time ago. It’s just that she would not admit it. Every time she called you, she would tell you everything about me and ask you to come back for me. In fact, it was her who missed you and wanted you to come back.”

As she spoke, she looked at Brittany’s portrait, and she couldn’t help but cry.

Kingston felt heavier and full of self-blame.

“Kingston ... Can I stay here to accompany Brittany?”

She asked nervously. After all, he was the legitimate heir of the Irwins, and she was not.

“Sure, she loved you the most when she was alive. You are just like her granddaughter.”

Krista breathed a sigh of relief.

She had always been afraid of the ghosts, but now she was not afraid at all.

If possible, she would rather see Brittany’s ghost right now.

She choked, her eyes moist and her throat hot, as if there were thousands of words she wanted to say, but she could not say a word.

She didn’t want to act too fragile in front of Kingston. She clenched her fists tightly, trying to hold back her tears.

Kingston was deeply touched.

She was so weak that it seemed like a gust of wind could blow her down. He wanted to go forward and hold her tightly in his arms.

Krista was extremely sad. In addition, she had not yet recovered. Suddenly, she felt dizzy and staggered backward, about to fall to the ground.

She thought that she was going to hit the floor but fell into a warm embrace in the end.

She couldn’t see anything for a while.

Kingston supported her to the sofa, and then gently touched her head. She was still having a fever, but not serious.

Her little face was pale and she looked so fragile.

Up until now, they had not spoken to each other properly.

“How are you?”

“I’m fine. Thank you.”

She said politely.

Kingston felt so disappointed.

She was sitting opposite him, just a step away.

However, he felt there were so far away from each other now.

“I ... I’m tired. I’m going back to rest.”

She said in a hoarse voice, about to leave.

Suddenly, he heard Kingston say something.

“That child ... you are still young. You can start over.”

He wanted to console her, hoping her not to be too sad about the child, but he couldn’t say more.

“Yes... I’m still young and I can start over. I heard that you and Sandra had a son now. You have a family now. Congratulations.”

Then she ran away.

Her mind was a mess.

Kingston looked at her leaving. He subconsciously wanted to catch up with her, but he didn't.

He clenched his fists tightly, his nails digging into his palms.

He suppressed himself hard.

On the day, the coffin was going to be buried.

Wyatt asked Krista to hold the urn and walk in front.

She felt the urn was so heavy.

Her face was pale.

It was early in the morning. The cold wind blew by her clothes and hair.

After everything was done, she stood in front of the tombstone for a long time.

“Child, it's time to go back.”

Wyatt looked at her and felt very distressed.

“Wyatt, you guys can leave first. I want to stay with Brittany for a while.” Her voice was hoarse as she coughed.

She had not yet recovered, and she often had a low fever at night.

Her body was getting thinner day by day, and the baby fat on her cheeks was now gone.

The bright girl was gone.

People only knew that she had lost her dearest grandmother.

But Aracely and Kingston knew that she had also lost her own kid.

Chapter 202 Something Strange

Wyatt looked at Krista, who was haggard, and then looked at the portrait on the tombstone, sighed softly, and turned to look at the people.

“You can go back first.”

Aracely said, “Krista, do you need me to accompany you?”

“No need. Just go. I’ll go back by myself later.”

“Then ... alright.”

Aracely had to agree.

They left soon. Krista stood in front of the tombstone, her tears welling up to block her vision.

She gently stroked the photo and felt so sad.

Suddenly, footsteps came from behind her. Wyatt returned.

“Wyatt?”

She quickly wiped her tears off her cheeks. “Why are you back? Didn’t you leave with them?”

“There are some things that I need to say.” Wyatt’s expression was solemn.

“What’s the matter?”

“Brittany’s health has been in a poor condition. She needed medicine to maintain her health. She had an examination and discovered the problem of liver failure, but its speed was slow and was not life-threatening. I didn’t think much when she died. But ... when you were sick, I called Brittany’s doctor. The doctor had been serving in the old mansion and was Brittany’s exclusive doctor. He was basically available all the time. But when I called him this time, I found that he actually resigned and returned to his hometown.”

“Your situation was urgent, so I called another doctor, but the more I thought about it, the more uneasy I became. So I sent someone to investigate it. Then I found the doctor and his family suddenly immigrated. That was strange! So I did a stricter investigation.”

“I wanted to check the medicine Brittany had been using, but I found that there was nothing left. All the medicine left had been dealt with properly. So, I was even more suspicious...”

Wyatt could not continue.

Krista immediately asked, “Wyatt, are you suspecting that someone murdered Brittany?” “Well...” Wyatt let out a long sigh and said, “I don’t want to think this way either, but ... I have to investigate it carefully. I don’t want too many people to know about this, because I’m afraid someone will leak the information.”

“You should tell Kingston. If that’s true, Kingston can find the doctor out!”

She said anxiously.

“Mr. Irwin really puts me in a difficult position. Brittany was kind to everyone. But there is only one person ... who has the most reason to kill her!”

Krista suddenly figured it out..

The person was ... Sandra!

Brittany hated Sandra the most when she was alive. And Brittany had tried so hard to stop Kingston from marrying her.

When Brittany passed away, the person who would benefit the most was Sandra, because she could finally become Mrs. Irwin.

However, she would never expect that Brittany had already left a will.

If Kingston insisted on marrying Sandra, he would be expelled from the family and no longer be a descendant of the Irwins, much less the successor of the Irwin Group!

“Where did the doctor go?”

“He went to Phelan City and found a job in the city hospital.”

Hearing this, Krista frowned. “Well, we should not maliciously speculate about others, but if Brittany was really murdered, then I will definitely not let it go. After Brittany’s funeral, I will immediately return to Phelan City. Let me investigate this doctor!”

“Don’t interfere in this matter, Wyatt. I will contact you if I have any information. I must let the murderer pay for it!”

She clenched her fists tightly. She looked frail, but at this moment, she was so determinant

It would be OK if Brittany had just died of normal illnesses.

However, if Brittany had been murdered, she must let the murderer suffer!

Chapter 203 Can’t Get Away With Him!

Wyatt nodded, this matter had been kept in his heart.

He could only tell Krista. The others couldn’t interfere this matter.

After the funeral, Krista did not linger in the City D and directly returned to Phelan City.

Even Aracely didn’t understand why she was so eager.

Because she was constantly rushing about, her condition of body became more serious, and she immediately went to the city hospital in Phelan City.

As she received the treatment, she kept asking around for the new Chinese doctor.

She heard that his wife and children came here first, and they were probably here for more than a month before he came.

Originally, the position of the city hospital was very tense, but this doctor did come in with a recommendation letter. Of course, his strength was also very strong. He had already performed several operations here, and he had done very well. Many people were convinced.

She learned from others that this doctor had a good character and was kind to others. He also actively taught new people some experiences. Many nurses and interns were willing to be assigned to his department. Krista also couldn't understand. Could such a person, the white-clothed angel, really be the murderer who killed Brittany?

But no matter what, she had to understand.

She went to the pharmacy to get the medicine. She was walking in a daze and did not pay attention to the front. In the end, she bumped into someone's back.

With a bang, he was in so much pain that he frowned.

“Dr. Huff, are you okay?” The surrounding people exclaimed.

“I’m fine. This patient, are you alright?”

He asked kindly.

Krista raised her head and met his eyes. Dr. Huff looked very shocked, but he quickly regained his calm.

“Ms ... Ms Compton?”

He couldn’t believe what he saw, and he looked extremely unnatural.

Krista had an idea in her heart. Brittany’s death was related to this Dr. Huff.

Dr. Huff was Brittany’s exclusive doctor and they rarely met, but they also knew each other.

That was why he was so flustered when he saw Krista. After all, Brittany loved Krista the most when she was alive.

“Dr. Huff, you came to Phelan City? Aren’t you in the capital?”

She pretended not to know anything and said in surprise.

“Yes... Not long ago, my son came to study abroad. As parents, we could only follow the child. So I applied for a transfer with the Council, so I was here. Why is Ms.Compton here? Are you not feeling well?”

“I have a cold and my body is weak. There is nothing wrong with it.” With that, she coughed twice. “If there’s nothing else, I’ll leave first. I won’t disturb Dr. Huff.”

She turned and left, disappearing from his sight and returning.

She hid in the dark and observed Dr. Huff.

Dr. Huff asked the intern beside him to leave. Trembling, he took out his phone and dialed a number. It was unknown what he said to the other person. He was terrified, but in the end, he became helpless. He looked pretty sorrowful.

In the end, he put down his hand and staggered away.

it be that he was calling the mastermind

at night she was tired

Seeing this, Aracely immediately touched her forehead and she had a fever again.

“You have gone to the hospital a lot of times. I haven’t seen you getting better. You have a fever every night! You stay at home and I will take care of you. I will buy whatever medicine you want.

“No, I have to go to the hospital .....

“What exactly have you been busy with all this time? Krista, can’t you even tell me?”

Aracely looked at Krista sadly.

Chapter 204 Clues on the Phone

Krista pursed her lips, hesitating to tell Aracely.

What if someone was behind Dr.Huff? What if the person who secretly made the mess was Sandra, just as Wyatt suspected?

The Hardin family was quite famous upper class in Phelan City. What if this thing got Aracely into trouble?

“Krista, you know what I hate the most about you? You always bear things alone! And you always push others away when they want to help. Not all things you can do it on your own, but you pretend to be strong and suck it all up!”

“I thought we were friends! Friends are willing to share. Why you can’t do that for me?”

“But this isn’t something nice to share...”

Before Krista could finish her sentence, Aracely interrupted, “So what? I don’t want to see you bear all things alone!”

Aracely knew that Krista had been living a tough life, so she wanted to help her.

Krista was as weak as a kitten. She had been through lots of things lately: losing her son and then her grandma.

She was sick as hell at this moment, but she didn’t want others’ help.

Anyone who saw her would show pity and sympathy.

“Aracely...” Krista looked at her pitifully and sobbed,
“Grandma...was persecuted to death perhaps.”

“Did Sandra do that?” Aracely immediately said.

“Do you think so?”

“Who else could it be then? The old lady is kind and makes no enemies. Sandra is the only person who might have a conflict with her!”

“She and Vivian are two nasty pieces of work. We’re in Phelan City, and I don’t want to bring you into this. I can handle it alone... I don’t care if I die, but you can’t...”

Krista had lost her son and grandma, and at the moment, her brother and Aracely were two important persons to her.

If she had an accident and died, Aracely would help her care for Luck and treat him like her own brother. Krista believed that.

“Bullshit! Krista, I know what’s in your little brain! You want me to take care of your brother if you die, right? No way! That’s your brother, and you have to take care of him. Otherwise, I’ll throw him on the street and let him be a tramp or an orphan whatever.”

“Aracely, I know you won’t.”

“Well, I will, so you’d better be alive. If Sandra did that, she would definitely leave a trail! Now that you have clues let me help you.”

“But...”

“No but! Tell me what you have found out. I’m smart and got lots of friends, so I’ll be a good helper! Don’t you want to revenge for your grandma and put the murderer into justice?”

The final sentence strongly tapped Krista’s heart like a hammer.

She had to find out the truth and not let the old lady die unknown.

“Aracely, there must be something in Dr. Huff’s phone!”

“Okay, then I should get his phone first!”

“Tomorrow, I plan to sneak into his office again. He drives people away and makes the phone call alone as soon as he sees me today. So, he must hide something in the phone! Plus, you can start with his wife and kids, also his reference. Who is behind him?”

“We can’t rush on this. You should have some rest first. I’ll do that tomorrow morning, and you go and take his phone, okay? But be careful.”

Krista nodded hard.

The next day, Krista went to the hospital for the admission procedures. She planned to stay in hospital this time. Krista quickly changed into a blue and white striped hospital gown and wore a mask. She pretended to take a leisurely walk, pacing back and forth in the corridors.

Krista was looking for Dr.Huff's office. He had an operation at two in the afternoon, and the phone was banned during the surgery. He must leave it in his office,

Aracely knew some hackers, so she would be able to get what she wanted!

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 205

Chapter 205 Evidence Is Clear

Krista closed the office door and fumbled around.

She checked drawers, pockets, and briefcase...

Suddenly, the phone rang somewhere under a pile of medical records.

Krista quickly picked it up and saw a familiar name as she slid it open.

“Vivian!’ Does she collude with Dr. Huff?’

Krista muted the phone and put it into her pocket. Someone was approaching as she was about to leave.

Her heart jolted when she saw Dr.Huff coming back through the window on the door.

* The patient's family shifted the operation to someone they trusted most, so Dr.Huff was available at the moment.

Krista had nowhere to run, so she hid in the cabinet.

Dr. Huff searched his phone as soon as he came in, but he couldn't find it.

He was wondering if he left it in any ward outside. Suddenly, he noticed that his drawer was half open.

Could it be possible that someone come to the office?' He suspected.

His heart did a flip. There were too much private data on his phone, including the secret!

A ringtone came behind him as he was going to check security tape.

It was Krista's phone ringing at this moment.

Aracely was calling her.

It was so embarrassing!

Before Krista could fish out her phone, the wardrobe door suddenly opened. They looked at each other, and that became weird and creepy.

"Ms. Compton, what are you doing here?" Dr. Huff asked sulkily.

Krista was struck dumb and couldn't make up an excuse at this time.

"Did you take my phone?" He questioned.

“What? What’re you talking about?”

“Don’t play dumb with me. Give it back. Did you hear me?”

Dr. Huff lowered his voice, his eyes turning red and wide open as if a beast on the verge of its collapse.

It was too late to hide anything.

“What’s in your phone? What is your relationship to Vivian?”
Krista asked.

Dr. Huff trembled when he heard this.

‘Krista knew it!

He looked at Krista in panic, his fingers trembling.

‘She knew it eventually!

Dr. Huff turned around and propped his hands on the writing-table, looking sorrowful.

“I thought ...it was perfect. I strictly adjusted the prescription. Even a veteran doctor couldn’t find any trace! How did you know that?”

“I didn’t know that, but you help me a lot! You run away quickly, so I guessed you must have something to do with the case!”
Krista gritted her teeth angrily once she thought of her grandma’s murder.

“...I prepared it well around. I took the hospital’s offer and transferred to another place. How can you figure it out? Forget it! It doesn’t matter. I’m not going to argue that!” Dr.Huff murmured like someone cast a spell on him.

“Why did you do that? Why? Grandma is so nice! How can you do that?”

“I had no choice. She made me! She...she kidnapped my grandson! He is still young, but your grandma is old and out of shape. She won’t have many years even if I don’t kill her!”

“What? Did the Vivians force you to do so?”

Krista secretly reached into her pocket and pressed the recording button.

Dr. Huff’s every word could be a powerful testimony in the future.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 206

Chapter 206 Telepathy

Dr. Huff let out a long breath and said, “That’s right. They conspired together. First, they kidnapped my grandson, and then took my wife away! I resisted. I knew that Brittany was kind and nice to me. But I had no choice. If I didn’t do as they said, they would ruin my family.”

“So, you did something to grandma’s medicine, right? Do you have any transaction records with Vivian?”

“No. Nothing. They are very thoughtful and do things flawlessly. I also want to find evidence. Otherwise, I wouldn’t have come to this point, making so many mistakes!”

“So many mistakes. What does this mean?”

When Krista heard this, she frowned and was a little confused.

Dr. Huff let out a sigh and turned around.

He stared at Krista with his cloudy eyes.

She was startled and instinctively retreated to the door.

“Do you know that Vivian asked me to kill you? I am still hesitating. Why did you force me? Why!”

“Since I have already committed a capital offense, then ... I am not afraid to do more. If you want to blame someone, blame yourself for meddling in other people’s business. How good would it be if this matter dies out! Go to hell!”

A sinister expression appeared on Dr. Huff’s face. He quickly rushed towards Krista. The needle with anesthetic was in his sleeve.

Krista wanted to escape, but it was too late.

She felt pain in her neck. All the anesthetic was injected.

She became unconscious and closed her eyes. She didn’t even have time to call for help.

She fell to the ground. Dr. Huff hid her. He quickly found a trash can with waste drugs and threw her in.

But the hospital strictly controlled abandoned drugs and needles to prevent criminals from stealing and putting them into the market.

Dr. Huff hurt Krista. It was spontaneous. But he could not send her out.

He didn't dare to use needles in the hospital. He had an important meeting later and could not be absent.

He thought about it and decided to put Krista in the morgue.

Normally, no one would come here. It was in low temperature, so she would freeze to death in a few hours.

Every day, it would have dead bodies with no one to claim them in the hospital. They would be dragged to the crematorium, get burned, and be thrown into the sea.

He planned to wait for Krista to freeze to death. Then he would put her in the car and send her to the crematorium.

Then, no one would know that he had killed someone again.

Dr. Huff placed Krista's body in the cramped space and then fiercely closed the door.

With vicious eyes, he had no conscience.

In City D.

Kingston was in the middle of a meeting. Suddenly, he felt heartache.

It was so painful that his face turned pale.

“Mr. Irwin?”

“Mr. Irwin?”

The surrounding people looked over. They were worried about Kingston’s physical condition.

Kingston frowned and said, “The meeting ends. All of you can leave.”

The directors left one after another. Only Quincy didn’t leave.

Quincy looked at Kingston with concern, “Mr. Irwin, are you not feeling well? Do you need a doctor?”

Kingston could not answer for a moment. Everything was normal before. He had never had angina.

He felt a lot of pain just now as if he was losing a very important person in his life. And once he lost, he would regret it for the rest of his life.

He thought of Krista. He didn’t care about his physical condition at all. He only wanted to contact her and know if she was alright.

Chapter 207 Something Happened to Krista

He immediately called Krista, but the phone was turned off and no one answered.

His face became serious and called Aracely instantly.

It was quickly picked up.

“Where’s Krista ?”

He immediately asked.

“I ... I don’t know. She can’t be reached on the phone. I’m also looking for her everywhere.”

Aracely said anxiously and she was driving quickly to the hospital.

She had investigated the residence of Dr. Huff and his family. It was indeed suspicious because they could not live in such a high-end residential area with their ability.

She also specially hired a hacker to hack into the surveillance system in which she saw a person who looked very much like Vivian. However the person was obviously cautious so that one can only see her side profile instead of her whole face.

Moreover, it was difficult to recognize her true appearance as she wore a cap every time she went in and out, so Aracely did not have concrete evidence.

But it was right to start with Dr. Huff as Krista speculated.

She called Krista as soon as she finished, but Krista was somehow unable to get through.

It was already turned off when she called again. Krista would never hang up her phone, much less turn it off and lose contact.

The more she thought about it, the more uneasy she felt. She guessed something must have happened to Krista, but she never expected even Kingston would call her too.

“What did she do? Why can’t I contact her?”

“Kingston ... I’ll tell you the truth. Krista thought that there was something strange about Grandma’s death and traced a suspectable doctor. The doctor immediately moved to Phelan City after Grandma passed away. We acted separately today, but I couldn’t contact her after finishing.”

“I have a feeling that something seems to have happened to Krista.”

She said the words difficultly.

Her heart trembled and she was willing this was only her wild guess.

But now the situation was obviously not optimistic.

“Go and find her first. If you have any news, contact me immediately.”

“I will.”

After hanging up the phone, Kingston immediately called the person in charge of the branch company in Phelan City and asked him to rush to the hospital as soon as possible to investigate something available.

“Who else in the Phelan City can help?”

“Sir, I have checked the entry record. Dr. Huff is indeed suspicious. And two days ago, Lance also went to Phelan City to participate in an event. He should still be there now as his return ticket is tomorrow.”

“He...”

Kingston gritted his teeth as he was not in Phelan City at this moment and he could not keep an eye on the progress of the matter.

Although he did not like Lance very much, he knew Lance loved Krista deeply. Lance would definitely do his best than anyone else when something happened to Krista.

He could even beg Lance humbly as long as Lance could save Krista.

He immediately called Lance without hesitation.

Lance answered though surprised.

“Kingston?” He was a bit confused.

“Something happened to Krista. The place where you participated in the event was close to the capital hospital in Phelan City. You might be the one closest to Krista.”

“What?”

“Search every corner of the hospital. Krista is in danger!”

Quincy had already gotten the surveillance video of the hospital at the first time. Kingston carefully looked through it, but he did not find anything suspicious.

Dr. Huff was still in the hospital!

It was so convenient for a doctor to kill someone.

By poison, by a scalpel, he could kill people by any form.

Right now, every minute counted as it was a struggle against the god of death!

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 208

Chapter 208 Save Her

*I'll be right there!"

Lance said anxiously. In the end, he still could not ignore Krista's matter. As soon as he heard her name, he could no longer be calm.

Lance hung up and rushed to the hospital as fast as he could.

Kingston even directly turned to the embassy and used all his connections and resources.

The hospital was quickly sealed off, making all related people nervous.

Dr. Huff sensed that something was wrong and immediately contacted Vivian.

“It seems to have been exposed. What should we do?”

Dr. Huff really did not expect that Krista would make such a big scene.

Those who didn't know what was going on would even think that some princess had gone missing in the hospital and were searched with all their might.

“How could this be?” Vivian frowned, feeling a little uneasy.

“How would I know? What should I do now?”

“Is Krista dead?”

“I don't know. She should be dying?”

“Tell me fixed result. I want to make sure her death now! Hurry up and kill her. I will settle your families down. As for you, kill yourself when necessary! Otherwise, your families will die with you!”

This was the trick that Vivian often used.

Those who died were unimportant people. From beginning to end, her hands were clean.

Her intelligence was not something an idiot like Sandra could compare to.

She had even thought of how to take the place of Sandra.

When Dr. Huff heard this, he knew that he had reached his end.

He still had to eat his own fruit.

But he had no choice. There was no turning back. He could only do his best to protect his families.

He picked up the pair of scissors on the table and hid it in his sleeve.

The rest of the people went downstairs in panic, waiting to be interrogated and examined. Only Dr. Huff walked in the opposite direction, heading to the morgue that no one cared about.

At this moment, the morgue was as quiet as the underworld.

He stood in front of a cabinet door and mercilessly pulled it open. He saw Krista, whose face was deathly pale from the cold.

He did not determine whether she was dead or not, which was also not important.

He gripped the scissors tightly, then used all his strength to stab it down.

The sharp scissors sank into the flesh and blood with a heavy sound.

Blood quickly spilled out.

The hot drops fell on Krista's cold little face!

Lance endured the intense pain in his right hand and pressed his left hand against Dr. Huff's neck.

Dr. Huff wanted to stab again, but it was too late. He was thrown to the ground by Lance.

“Krista!”

Lance didn't care about his wound and was even more worried about Krista.

The rest of the people also came to the morgue. Dr. Huff knew he had no chance and chose to commit suicide.

He used the bloody scissors to stab himself in the throat and died with his eyes wide open.

In the beginning, he went the wrong way.

But he didn't have a choice...

A wrong start could not lead to a right end.

“Save her, save her!”

Lance shouted madly, his eyes red.

“Krista, no, you can't die!”

The medical staff moved Krista out and used physical methods to warm her body.

Time suddenly became incomparably long and torturous.

Krista seemed to have had a very, very long dream where she had been extremely tired because of a long-time walking with no way to turn back.

Finally, there was a glimmer of light in front.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 209

Chapter 209 It Is All My Fault

Krista suddenly appeared at an intersection.

The surrounding cars and people all stopped.

It seemed that there was an accident.

Two cars crashed into each other fiercely. Their fronts were deformed and the glass shattered,

Someone was inside the car.

But she could only see the blood on the ground flowing out of the car.

She wanted to get closer and look more carefully, but the people around her were bustling, instantly pushing her to the outermost area.

At this time, an extremely familiar voice came from behind, constantly calling out her name.

“Krista, Krista, wake up.”

This was Aracely’s voice.

“Krista! Don’t die.”

This was ... Mr. Hamm’s voice!

“They are looking for me ?

She glanced at the abandoned vehicle and decided to leave.

She slowly opened her eyes. Her body felt heavy and her head hurt.

“Krista, you’re awake ? Doctor, doctor...”

Aracely shouted excitedly.

The doctor quickly came over and checked her to confirm that she was fine.

“Great, Krista, you scared me to death.”

“What happened to me ?”

You were locked up in the morgue by that bad doctor. He actually wanted to freeze you to death. How wicked!”

“It’s good that you’re fine. It’s enough that you can wake up now,” said Mr. Hamm,

Only then did Krista notice that there was still someone on the other side of the bed.

“Mr. Hamin!”

She saw that Lance’s right hand was wrapped in gauze, which was dyed red by blood.

“I’ll go downstairs and buy you something to eat. You must be hungry after lying down for so long, right ?

After that, Lance stood up and left.

“Mr. Harm’s hand?” She was stunned.

“Krista, you really have to thank Mr. Hamrn! If it wasn’t for him, you really would have died! Dr. Huff rushed to the morgue and wanted to kill you. It was Mr. Hamm who rushed over regardless of the danger and saved you by taking the cut for you!”

“Do you know ... Mr. Hamm’s right hand is crippled. In the future, not to mention driving, he might not even be able to write or press the mouse. His important meridians had been cut without cure.”

“Like you, he is a designer. He needs to draw manuscripts with his right hand. Now ... his right hand is crippled.”

Aracely said in a deep tone.

Aracely originally wanted to mention Kingston, but thinking that Kingston seemed to have done nothing, she did not say anything.

She did not know that Kingston had thoroughly investigated the surveillance, and turned to the embassy and the police to seal the entire hospital.

Kingston did not say anything.

He could only see that Lance had rushed over and saved Krista’s life.

And Lance had lost a right hand!

When Krista heard this, she felt breathless as if a heavy boulder had been pressed down on her heart.

She had always felt that she owed Mr. Hamm a lot, and it was already very difficult to repay it, but she did not expect that the debt she was carrying now was even heavier.

Soon, Lance came up with something to eat.

“L... I’ll go to the canteen to find something to eat. I don’t like the food you bought. Give it to Krista.”

Once she left, the atmosphere in the room instantly became heavy.

Lance instantly realized that she knew everything.

“I’m sorry ... I told Aracely not to say it because I don’t want you to be guilty.”

He said gently.

When she heard such gentle words again, she couldn’t stop her tears from falling down.

“Mr. Hamm, I’m sorry. It’s all my fault. It’s all my fault...”

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 210

Chapter 210 Keep It a Secret

Seeing her crying so sadly, Lance was moved.

He stepped forward and gently held her in his arms. His large hand gently touched her hair.

“I should be the one to apologize for I have filled you with guilt. You have never asked for anything from me. It is all because I am willing to do it.”

“Unfortunately, I was unable to stop Dr. Huff from committing suicide. Aracely and I went to the community where he lived, only to find that his families had already escaped. It will be very difficult to catch them again. Krista, you’ve lost the clue you made great efforts to.”

He knew what Brittany meant to her and understood everything she did.

He was just feeling sorry for her.

and weak shoulders.

When she heard this, she shook her head frantically. She wanted to say something, but she couldn’t say a word.

She even wondered if she was born to be a trouble maker, or why the people around her were suffering in succession.

Krista cried uncontrollably. Lance didn’t say anything and just stayed by her side.

Later, the nurse came in to give her the injection and medicine. When the medicine worked, she became faint.

Lance came out of the room and bumped into Aracely.

She had returned very early, but she didn't want to disturb them.

“Is Krista alright?”

She asked.

He shook his head, “Didn't I tell you not to say it? You know what kind of character she has. You will only let her be full of guilt. How can I face her in the future? I did all this willingly. Even if my right hand can't take the brush for the rest of my life, I have no regrets. Why do you have to add to her guilt?”

“Mr. Hamm, do you love Krista or not? Do you want to get her or not? Although the feeling of guilt is not love, it is a great opportunity. Don't you want to take this opportunity to be with Krista? You obviously can't let her go, can't you?”

Lance was touched when he heard this.

It was true that he could not let her go, but... Was he going to use such despicable means?

It was not because of love...

It was because of guilt ... all sorts of emotions.

This love, was it still pure?

But was it possible to make Krista fall in love with him?

He fell into deep thought.

“Mr. Hamm, this might be your last chance. Do you really want to miss it?”

Lance was hesitant. He had to admit that he was tempted.

He had always boasted of being a gentleman, but now he had to use this method to get the woman he loved?

“By the way, Mr. Hamm, how did you get here? It seems like you already know what happened in the hospital?” Aracely seemed to have thought of something and asked suspiciously.

“It was Kingston who asked me to come. He knows that I am closest to the hospital.”

“It’s him?” Aracely was complicated.

What exactly is going on with this Kingston? When he and Krista were legally married, he did not pay attention to Krista at all

“However, after they had divorced, they had more interactions.”

“The way Kingston was doing things now was simply unfathomable!

“Keep it a secret. Just say it a coincidence. Every girl likes the story of a hero saving a beauty. Mr. Hamm, cherish this opportunity. Otherwise, your hand... will really be sacrificed in vain.”

Aracely said earnestly.
