Chapter 211 She Promises Lance

He was a designer, and his right hand was very important to him. The loss of his career was irreversible.

If he still lost Krista, then he really wouldn't make up for the loss.

After Aracely left, Lance was the only one in the long corridor.

But at this time, a coquettish man suddenly came out of the empty room next to him.

Ryan put his hand on Lance's shoulder, making Lance come back to his senses. He pushed Ryan away in disgust, but Ryan shamelessly put his hand on Lance's shoulder again.

"I think what she said was correct. If you still don't seize this opportunity, then you really have nothing to do."

"Do you dare to guarantee that you really did not have any selfish motives for saving her? Don't you want her to be moved by your sincerity? Lance, you also saw the situation at the hospital. The police department, the embassy, and the branch companies of the Irwin Group all helped and sealed off the entire hospital. Ordinary people can not make such a big scene."

"You should understand the importance of power now. Can you still bear to refuse something that belongs to you? As long as you agree, your status is no worse than Kingston! You also have enough strength to challenge him, how about it?"

“Shut up.”

Lance looked at Ryan in disgust.

“I said I won’t go back. Don’t say anymore!”

After that, Lance left without looking back.

His heart was in complete chaos!

Krista was almost recovered after a few days in the hospital, but Lance stayed in the hospital for another month for his hand had to take continuous rehabilitation training by the best doctor.

Dr. Huff was dead, and his wife and children had also disappeared without a trace.

There was also a recording in Krista’s phone and she had specially found a lawyer to analyze it, but it was not enough to be the exact evidence.

But now, it was basically done by Sandra and her sister. She also sent the news back to City D and asked Wyatt to make follow up plans.

When she got in the car, she saw Lance habitually open the car door with his right hand, but after finding that his fingers were weak, his face showed a sense of defeat, which disappeared quickly.

But it still deeply stung Krista’s heart.

‘If not for me, Mr. Hamm would not have become like this.’

Lance quickly opened the door with his left hand and let her sit in the passenger seat. Her thoughts fell straight to his injure, which made her feel even more guilty.

“Mr. Hamm ... I have to leave Phelan City.”

Krista mustered up her courage and said.

“Back to City D for the sake of Brittany, right?”

“Yes...”

“When you go back there, you will see Kingston again, right?”

She was silent for a long time before nodding.

“Where your heart is ... who is it?”

Lance could no longer deceive himself because Krista’s heart was clearly not on him.

“I don’t have ... anyone I love. Mr. Hamm ... you still have feelings for me, right? Then, let’s become official boyfriend and girlfriend?”

“What did you say?” Lance was a little surprised and looked at her blankly.

Hit by a pleasant surprise, he did not calm down for a long time.

Krista gathered her courage and said, “Mr. Hamm, are you willing to be my boyfriend?”

Lance came back to his senses from the surprise and knew that she said it because of guilt.

‘But it doesn’t matter, the days in the future are so long, I will have a chance.

He had always been refused and had no chance at all. Now ... he finally had a chance..

“You, are you serious? Won’t you regret?”

Lance was overjoyed and held her hand tightly.

She instinctively wanted to pull it away but held back.

She wasn’t willing to lie to Lance either, “I admire Mr. Hamm...” Her gaze fell on his arm, and there was also deep guilt.

“I know ... I haven’t done enough yet, but I will work hard to just put you here.”

She pointed at her heart and stared at him, “I don’t know if Mr. Hamm dislikes me. It’s not my first time. I also had a child and divorced...”

Before she could finish her words, Lance moved forward and kissed her.

She was frightened, her cheeks flushed but she did not push him away.

Lance didn’t make any more excessive movements, only pressing his lips against hers, not taking a step further.

His original intention was to block her words.

They soon separated, and he felt a little awkward.

“Don’t say that. I will only cherish you more. I will treat you well.”

“When I come back from City D this time, let’s be together forever in Phelan City, okay?”

She wanted to stay away from that sad place.

Chapter 212 To Slap Sandra

“Alright, I will accompany you wherever you want as long as you are by my side. How about I go back with you? The sisters are full of schemes. I am afraid that you will be bullied.”

“No, I can deal with it this time. You, on the other hand, have to insist on rehabilitation training without any delay. I hope that when I come back, your hand will be a little better.”

She looked at his right hand with self-blame. She owed too much. The only one she could repay was herself.

Aracely was right that Mr. Hamm was good enough.

She should not stop in the past. She could look back in the past, but she definitely ... could not go back.

Lance sent her to the airport, “Call me when you get there. Call me if you need anything, okay?”

“I will.”

Krista stepped onto the return journey alone.

Instead of returning to the old mansion, she went straight to Sandra’s residence.

Sandra was still living alone outside without any status or wedding.

“Ms. Compton?” The people in the villa were a little surprised to see her.

She went in without a word and the servants could not stop her.

“Ms. Compton, it’s so late now. Ms. Hardin just finished coaxing the child and is tired to rest. Why don’t you come tomorrow?”

As if she couldn’t hear, Krista pushed aside the servants and opened the door.

There was the smell of milk in the room, and beside the big bed was a cradle bed. There was a white and tender baby.

The moment she saw the child, her gaze softened. If her child had not died, would it be like this?

She retracted her gaze and let out a shaky breath, “Where’s the maid? Take the child away.”

She was afraid that the child would be scared.

The maid quickly carried the child away.

Sandra also woke up and looked at Krista with a puzzled look.

“What are you doing here? You are breaking into a private residence.”

Without a word, Krista rushed over and pulled Sandra off the bed.

She raised her hand high and heavily fell down, bringing with it a strong wind as she ruthlessly slapped Sandra on the cheek.

“You dare to hit me?”

Sandra was stunned and kept fighting back, but Krista’s thin and weak body burst out with astonishing ferocity.

‘She had killed Grandma who loved me most.

‘With Grandma, I felt that I had a home.

‘Now, home was gone.

‘All of this was thanks to her.’

She raised her hand and slapped again.

Sandra kept struggling, but she could not resist at all. In the end, she could only call for help.

“You bunch of trash, what are you all standing there for? Hurry up and pull her away.”

“Who dares to touch me?”

She snapped and looked coldly at the servants who were ready to move.

11

When everyone met Krista’s cold gaze, they all felt some hesitation.

There was no light in her eyes that were cold like ice,

“I am the

of the Irwin fam

conference and the birthday banquet. Everyone in City D recognizes my identity. As servants of the Irwins, who take the salary of the Irwins, do you not approve?”

“Krista, who do you think you are! I am Kingston’s woman. I gave birth to the first grandson of the Irwins. You dare to touch me.

Before Sandra could finish her words, Krista slapped her again.

Her cheeks were full of palm prints and swelling up, making her pathetic and ridiculous.

“What? The woman of Kingston? Have you been recognized? Did he give you a wedding or a marriage certificate? To say the least, I am Kingston's ex-wife! Sandra, I don't care how you used to make a fuss and play tricks!"

"But you can't hurt the person I love the most! From my younger brother Luck to Grandma, you murderer, I won't let you go!"

Chapter 213 She is the Murderer

"Krista, you are slandering me. Do you have any evidence?"

"No, but I know it is you. That is enough!"

Krista rode on Sandra and slapped her, venting her anger and sadness.

"Grandma would never come back, but the murderer was at large.

The maid was afraid that things would get out of hand and quickly informed Kingston.

Soon his car stopped downstairs of the building. Quincy came down first and opened the door for him.

Kingston coughed violently a few times.

His body bent down and his face was red as if he was in great pain.

"Sir, in fact, Ms. Compton won't really do anything to Ms. Hardin. You have no need to be here. There were many side effects from the car accident last time. The doctor told you to rest well. It's midnight..."

"I know she won't do anything to Sandra. I just ... haven't seen her for a long time."

He continued to breathe heavily and only got out of the car after a good while.

When he reached the door, he suddenly stopped, "Is my complexion normal?"

"Yes, it's okay."

"That's good."

He breathed a sigh of relief and pushed the door open.

"I haven't seen her for a long time. How is she now?"

The servants did not dare to do anything to Krista, but they also could not allow Sandra to be beaten. After all, they were all sent by Kingston to take care of her. If anything happened to Sandra, they would be responsible.

Even so, Sandra had suffered quite a few injuries.

She was beaten to have blown nose and swollen face, with her hair messy and her clothes broken.

"Mr. Irwin came!"

The servant shouted.

When Sandra heard the sound, she cried and rushed into Kingston's arms.

“Kingston, you have to protect me! Krista rushed in to beat me without any clear reason. Look at my injuries, Kingston...”

Krista rolled up her sleeves and stood a distance away.

She had used quite a bit of her strength, and her forehead was dripping with sweat.

She and Kingston met eye to eye.

The air seemed to freeze at this moment, and time did not flow away.

It had only been a month since she last saw him, so why did she feel as if it was a lifetime ago?

He was standing in front of her, a few steps away, but they seemed to be separated by the Milky Way.

She clenched her fists and released them, showing her anxiety. Her full focus was on Kingston.

She was not afraid of his questioning.

She didn't do something wrong.

Kingston looked at her, ‘She is thinner.’

He felt sorry for her thinness, and wanted to hold her tightly in his arms. But all he could do was to suppress his feelings.

“You..” His throat seemed to be blocked by something. He exhaled a mouthful of turbid air and said, “Why did you fight?”

When Krista heard this, she raised her hand and pointed at the woman who was acting weak in his arms.

“She is the murderer who killed Grandma!”

She really regretted having divorced Kingston when she was pregnant with his child.

If she had been Mrs. Irwin till now, would Grandma not die?

She really did not expect this seemingly gentle and kind woman to have such a vicious mind!

“I didn’t!”

Sandra denied flatly as she looked at Kingston with tears in her eyes, “I know that Brittany doesn’t like me. I have never had much contact with her. Also, the hospital can prove that Brittany’s death is due to the decline of her liver function. She died of normal illness.”

“I really don’t understand why Krista would slander me and hit me indiscriminately. Kingston, you must help me!”

Sandra grabbed his clothes tightly and cried.

Chapter 214 Turn the Facts Upside Down

“Stop! Kingston, you are definitely not a fool and will not be toyed with by others. Do you really see her true face?”

“Krista, shut up. Don’t try to hurt my relationship with Kingston anymore!” Sandra was afraid that if she continued to speak, it would shake Kingston’s heart. She hurriedly said, “I understand why you did it!”

“In the past, when Brittany was alive, she only doted on you. She tried so hard to make you the adopted daughter of the Irwin family. Now, Brittany passed away from her illness, who could not protect you anymore. You regret having divorced Kingston, right?”

“That’s why you gave me this kind of baseless accusation. You just wanted to drive me away. Let me tell you, I and my son will not leave Kingston. I will not let a narrow-minded woman like you come back.”

“If you wanted to fight for it back then, you could have come openly and I would have given up my position. But now, I have already given birth to my child. If we leave Kingston, we won’t be able to live. I won’t leave. I will fight you to the end!”

Sandra spoke righteously to turn the facts upside down, making Krista a narrow-minded and meticulous person.

Krista only felt it laughable.

“Her ability to turn the facts upside down did not decrease in the slightest:

“My goal has never been Kingston, nor is it the glory and wealth that the Irwin family brings.” Her gaze shifted from Sandra to Kingston, and her throat seemed to be stuck with cotton.

When their eyes met, Kingston’s heart trembled violently.

Vaguely, he seemed to be losing something.

They are getting farther and farther.

“Lance and I have decided to get married, and we will be together forever. You thought me wrong. I already have someone in my heart.”

When Kingston heard this, he only felt countless thin needles ruthlessly pierce into his heart, the pain making it hard for him to breathe.

“I love Mr. Hamm. I want to be with him for the rest of my life. No one can stop us.”

These words were for Kingston.

She owed Lance too much, and now was the time for her to repay.

Sandra didn’t notice the difference in Kingston at all. She was searching for words to defend herself.

“Then ... then you accused me of killing Brittany. Where is the evidence?”

“I don’t have any evidence, but I know it’s you.”

“Krista, don’t you have any shame...”

When Sandra heard this, she heaved a sigh of relief in her heart. As long as Krista did not have any evidence, it was good. It seemed that Vivian dealt with it very quickly and had already turned it over.

She was just about to continue, but was interrupted by Brittany mercilessly.

“That’s enough.”

He said in a cold tone.

The air seemed to be about to freeze together.

“Kingston?”

“Stop here. Krista, since you have no evidence, you can’t accuse Sandra.”

“Kingston! I can’t find any clues now because I have no power or influence! But if you make a move, you will definitely be able to find clues. I don’t believe that they can deceive all”, said Krista.

“Kingston, believe me ... I really didn’t do it. She is slandering me.”

Sandra sobbed.

Kingston closed his eyes heavily and embraced Sandra in his arms. When he opened them again, there was no warmth.

His eyes seemed to be covered in ice as he watched Krista.

His nails pierced deep into his palm.

She and Lance.

No matter how he tried to stop them

Chapter 215 She Doesn't know

“Krista, enough. I believe in Sandra. Tonight, you should not be here. Do not be unscrupulous just because you are the adopted daughter of the Irwin family. Quincy, send her away.”

“Kingston, are you out of your mind? Grandma's death has something to do with Sandra. Do you think I will talk nonsense about Grandma? Go and check it out, can you...”

“Send her off!”

However, Kingston refused to listen to her and directly asked Quincy to send her away.

She stood there in a daze, feeling as if she had fallen into the abyss.

Ever since she learned that there was a secret behind Grandma's death, she had been investigating. Even when she was finally locked up in the morgue to wait for death, she had never felt the despair at this moment!

She thought that at the very least, Kingston believed in her. Even if he didn't completely believe her, he would naturally investigate the matter when he got puzzled.

However, he was so protective of Sandra and trusted her unconditionally!

What else was there to talk about?

“Ms. Compton, it's late. You'd better go back to rest early.”

Quincy was polite to her.

She looked at Kingston, her dry and pale lips quivering. She wanted to say something more, but the moment she saw Kingston move sideways slightly, her heart ached.

She hung her head dejectedly and left.

In Kingston's peripheral vision was her thin figure.

After she left, Kingston began to cough.

So violently!

“Kingston, what's wrong?” asked Sandra.

He covered his mouth and coughed for a while before straightening up and putting his hands behind his back.

“It's late at night. You should rest early.”

“Aren’t you going to stay with me? Look at how badly Krista beat me up. I really feel wronged...”

“I am too busy. I will come to accompany you.”

“You haven’t come to see me for a month. What are you busy with...”

Sandra muttered, but there was nothing she could do.

She could not keep Kingston at all.

Kingston returned to his car and slowly opened his palm.

There was blood.

In the mirror, he saw his pale face and red eyes. He was no longer calm and composed like before. Now he was in a sorry state.

In his mind, the words that Krista had just said continuously echoed.

‘She and Lance would be together forever, and would not be separated by anyone.

‘She said it to me.’

‘I eventually missed her.’

‘Once I missed her, I would never have a chance.’

When he thought of this, he felt a sharp pain in his heart.

He couldn’t help but cough again.

Blood spilt out. Under the moonlight, he looked particularly cold.

He returned to the villa and soon Quincy returned.

“Mr. Irwin, I have already sent Ms. Compton to the old mansion. Wyatt will take care of her. Don’t worry.”

“Go investigate Grandma’s death.”

“Mr. Irwin ... you believe in Ms. Compton?”

Quincy was stunned. He couldn’t understand why Mr. Irwin said so at that time to make Ms. Compton disappointed.

The distance between them had been getting farther, and now it became even farther.

“If this was really done by Sandra and her sister, they would definitely be on guard if I said I would investigate. It would be difficult to find clues. We can only get a breakthrough when they are relaxed.”

“Got it. I’ll get someone to do it right away. But Ms. Compton ... how to explain it?”

“No need.”

“Mr. Irwin...” Quincy couldn’t stand it anymore, “you clearly did so much for her, why didn’t you mention? If it wasn’t for your intervention, how could their rescue have gone so smoothly? You also wanted to go over, but you met with a car accident halfway. And you hasn’t been completely recovered yet.”

“Ms. Compton doesn’t know! All she knows is that it was Lance who saved her at that time, not you who was so worried even in a distance.”

Kingston had clearly done the most and had taken the most crucial step!

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emi issmx Chapter 216

Chapter 216 How About Giving Up

‘If it wasn’t for Mr. Irwin who noticed the abnormal and informed Aracely, how could the hospital be locked down in the first place?’

‘After giving all instructions, he directly used the private plane because he couldn’t book the nearest plane ticket’

‘However, there was a car accident on the way.

‘To keep the Irwin family stable, he ordered to stop all media from releasing news as if nothing had happened:

‘When Mr. Irwin woke up, he did not receive Krista’s thanks. All his efforts seemed to disappear without a trace:

And only Aracely and Lance were by Krista’s side, where was Mr. Irwin’s place?’

He originally wanted Kingston to take the initiative to call, afraid that Lance would erase his credit, but Kingston refused,

As for the reason, he didn’t need to ask...

Kingston felt that there was no need to ... He disdained to tell others what he had done. He had always been cautious and unknown towards Krista...

But such people were often the ones who suffered the most!

“Mr. Irwin, tell her!”

“So what if I tell her? Lance lost a hand for him. She has someone in her heart, so she wouldn’t care about what I did. Besides, only did that for Grandma who adored Krista most when she was alive.”

“Mr. Irwin...”

“That’s enough. You may leave.”

He said tiredly.

Quincy left helplessly.

He closed the door and took a deep look at Kingston who was a little weak.

‘How long was Mr. Irwin going to deceive himself? He was clearly moved by Krista, but due to the heavy responsibilities and rules, he did not dare to admit it.

Who knew how hard it was for Kingston to endure?

Krista returned to the old mansion, but she could not fall asleep.

She went downstairs and looked at Brittany’s old armchair, which Brittany used to love the most, with a teacup beside it.

The scenes of the past appeared in her mind, as if Brittany had not left yet, drinking tea and listening to music, talking and laughing with her on the chair.

Her tears fell uncontrollably.

She curled up into a ball, leaned against the chair, and closed her eyes.

The entire old mansion was filled with the aura of Brittany.

When Wyatt saw that the lights in the living room were still on, he couldn't help but come down to take a look.

Seeing Krista leaning against the armchair, he felt heartache.

He took the blanket and gently draped it over her without waking her up.

His withered hand trembled as he touched the teacup.

“Do you see how much this child misses you? You didn't dote on her for nothing. If you are in heaven, help this child and let her suffer less.”

Krista stayed at the old mansion for a few days and looked for all sorts of opportunities.

She even went to Dr. Huff's original hospital to investigate the records of his medication.

If Kingston refused to help her, then she would investigate it herself and bring the evil people to justice.

Wyatt felt very distressed about Krista's tiredness when he saw her get pale and thinner.

“How about giving up?” he said, choking.

“What did you say?”

Krista looked at him in shock, not daring to believe that these words were actually from Wyatt.

I want

a good life instead of that the murderer is Sandra with h sister.

She will also pay the price. She will never step into the Irwin family in this life and have any recognized relationship with Kingston.”

“This is her retribution, and she will suffer for it. And Krista, you should also start a new life. Brittany has already left, and I am also old. I hope that you will be safe and happy, and I know what you have experienced in Phelan City. I am afraid of you...”

Wyatt wanted to say something but hesitated.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 217

Chapter 217 The Hardin Family Was Screwed

Krista realized that he cared about her safety.

It was just...

There was a heavy price to pay. Sandra was still alive, but Brittany would never come back!

“Uncle Wyatt, want to try it again...” she said bitterly.

It was difficult for her to find evidence without Kingston’s help.

But she would never give up.

“Kid, you are a bit bullheaded.”

“I regret telling you this. You wouldn’t be suffering if you didn’t know that.” Wyatt said with a sigh.

“Uncle Wyatt, it’s not about you...”

Krista went to hug him tight. She didn’t want Wyatt to blame himself.

She was happy to do anything for her grandmother.

She regretted tolerating and not divorcing Kingston.

So, she let Brittany down and indirectly caused her death.

Even if Krista could bring Sandra to justice, she would feel guilty for the rest of her life.

Even so, she pulled up together. After all, there was a fierce battle welcoming her every morning.

She went out happily every day but came home exhaustedly.

Three days later, in Sandra's villa.

Sandra held her baby in her arms. Her child was skinny and looked very tiny, perhaps because of the premature birth.

She didn't know why the baby suddenly cried like crazy. No matter what she did, her baby didn't stop and screamed even louder.

Sandra furrowed her brows, and she was running out of impatience.

Anyway, this was not her baby. The baby's cry upset her every time.

She wanted to throw it away and end this suffering life many times.

The nanny was nervous. "Ms. Hardin, maybe I can have a try."
"What did you call me?"

Sandra glared at her in anger.

The Nanny lowered her eyes in fear and shouted, "Ms. Kingston..."

"Off you go. This is my son. Would he hate me? I can do better. Leave me," she said irritably.

She wanted to be close with the baby and rose to a higher position by taking advantage of him.

But with the current situation, it was difficult for her to have a baby with Kingston.

At this moment, familiar footsteps came from behind.

“Kingston?”

Sandra turned around and looked at him excitedly.

She immediately tossed the baby into the nanny’s arms and ran towards Kingston.

He barely came these days. The last time when Sandra saw him, Krista was there and made a fuss.

“What a surprise, Kingston! It’s almost lunchtime. I’ll make them cook your favorite food.”

“So, what’s my favorite food?”

Sandra suddenly lost for words.

His question got her.

It seemed that there wasn’t anything Kingston like.

Actually, there was. It was just Kingston had been suppressing his nature and hid his needs. So, it wasn’t easy to find out what he would like.

As time went by, he almost forgot that he had something he cared for and loved most.”

But at this moment, he knew he would never be with the person he loved the most.

“Kingston, let’s eat together,” she said awkwardly.

“I’m sorry, no. Vivian is dead and confessed what you did before her death. What else are you trying to say?”

Kingston threw a stack of photos at Sandra’s face.

Sandra’s heart skipped a beat. She bent down and picked them up with trembling hands.

She slumped to the ground and was scared out of his wits after seeing those photos.

One of the photos showed Vivian’s face before her death.

She drowned, and her body was swollen and rotted after soaking in the water for many days.

Sandra was so scared that she quickly threw the photos out. Suddenly, she glanced at some of the remaining photos.

The Hardin family... was screwed.

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emi issmx Chapter 218

Chapter 218 You Want the Child Rather than Me?

With bankruptcy and suicide of her parents, Vivian lost everything overnight.

Not only that, her boyfriend was also not spared.

The matter of Krista being kidnapped and sold before was also investigated thoroughly.

All the people involved ... died a violent death.

“Kingston ... You... Listen to me...”

Sandra quickly reacted and crawled to Kingston’s feet, grabbing his trousers.

“Kingston, I was forced. You know ... I am just the illegitimate daughter of the Hardin family. Vivian has always controlled me. She asked me to do many things. Kingston, believe me. I was forced...”

“So, you had no choice but to murder Krista and Grandma? You didn’t want to kill them?”

“L... She was speechless.

He pinched her chin. She was in great pain and looked up at Kingston.

It was an extremely cold face with no trace of warmth in his eyes. He looked at her as if he was looking at a stranger, cold and emotionless.

She still remembered how worried he was when he first found her.

When he found out that she was pregnant, he said in a deep voice, “I will be responsible for you.”

All of this seemed to have happened yesterday, so clear.

But now ... all of them were gone.

‘Why!’ ‘What exactly did I get by doing so much?’

“Sandra, is this your true face? Selfish, hypocritical, vicious, narrow-minded ... In order to become Mrs. Irwin, you don’t hesitate to pay any price, right?”

“Kingston...” She choked and cried, “I just want to take back what I should have. What did I do wrong? You promised me that you would let me become Mrs. Irwin. Why didn’t you fight for it for me at all? You once said that you would marry me, but you went back on your word. You didn’t want to marry me at all.”

“Is it because of Brittany’s last words, or is it because you didn’t want to marry me? From the moment I gave birth to the child until now, did you come to see me and the child?”

She broke free from his hand and snatched the child from the nanny.

It’s Krista and Kingston’s child.

“Kingston ... Did you take a closer look at this child? Look at how much he looks like you. Did you take pity on me for the sake of the child?”

When Kingston heard this, his gaze gently fell on the infant.

The child was still crying, which made him nervous and sorry.

He could not help but clench his fists.

This child could always make his heart soften. His eyes were as clear and bright as a deer.

However, it was really unfortunate for the child to have such a mother.

“Sandra, you killed Grandma. We are impossible. As for the child, I will raise him well.”

“You want the child rather than me?”

Sandra stared at him with wide eyes.

“Put down the child.”

Sandra suddenly laughed wildly.

“He only wanted his and Krista’s child. I was nothing.”

Since she couldn’t use this child to get the last mercy, then what did she want this child for?

She suddenly became fierce and raised the child high above her head.

When Kingston saw this, he was so nervous.

“What are you doing?”

“You want this child? In your dreams! Kingston, you are an idiot, the world’s greatest fool!”

She shouted loudly and used all the strength to throw the small baby on the ground.

Chapter 219 Kidnap Krista to the Car

Kingston ran desperately towards the kid.

Suddenly, a loud noise came.

He felt heavily to the ground and hurt his back.

The kid in his arms was safe and sound. Only the people around him were in a mess.

“Sir!”

A servant quickly helped him up, but he couldn't move a bit.

Kingston nervously looked at the baby, who had stopped crying. It seemed like he did not know what had just happened.

He was crying and kicking in Sandra's arms a few hours ago, and at this moment, he was as adorable as a kitten, blinking his big and black eyes at Kingston and biting his fingers.

It might be the first time the baby looked closely at his father.

It was also Kingston's first time to be so close to his baby.

Kingston was afraid that he would become softhearted towards Sandra because of this baby. That's why Kingston had turned blind eyes to him for months.

“Bad news. Ms. Hardin is running away.”

Sandra took the opportunity to escape when people were in a chaotic situation.

“Go and grab her!”

Kingston shouted angrily, regardless of his pain in the back.

Sandra was already in the car. The navigation constantly reminded her to slow down the speed, but she ignored it and stepped on the gas.

She called the last songbird she had.

“Tell me where Krista is now!” she yelled.

The informant positioned Krista’s within minutes.

“She’s in the city hospital.”

Sandra got there as fast as she could. Krista came out as Sandra arrived.

Sandra sneered, thinking, “Here you are. Well, it doesn’t take too much work.”

She got off the car and called out to Krista.

Krista balled her fist when she recognized it was Sandra.

“Oh, Sandra.”

“You must resent me so bitterly now. Do you want to tear me up when you know that I killed Brittany? Let me tell you something.

I put poison into Kingston's food. He must be dead if I don't save him."

"What?"

Krista's heart jolted when she heard that.

"Krista, you're such a hypocritical liar! Aren't you with Lance? How come you worry

Women's intuition was always correct. Sandra knew that Krista still loved Kingston, so she had been preparing for a race with Krista.

It seemed that Krista was Sandra's lifetime enemy!

In Sandra's view, either she or Krista should disappear from the world.

"What are you planning? You're going to stop that."

"Get in the car, and I will take you to a place. I'll tell you how to save Kingston when we reach there."

"How old do you think I am? Three?" Krista said and stayed alerted.

"It's up to you. Kingston might be dead. I can poison your grandmother without leaving any trace, so I don't mind adding one more to the death list. You can gamble it on me or send Kingston to his grave!"

After that, Sandra pretentiously got in the car.

That put Krista into a difficult position.

She knew Sandra was evil, and maybe Sandra was lying or had set up a trap.

Her mind was clear, but at this moment, her emotions overcame rationality.

“Why not let it ride? What if it’s true?” Krista thought.

Krista was intelligent, but she would make silly decisions sometimes.

She clenched her fists and finally got in Sandra’s car.

Sandra stepped on the gas pedal and drove away fast.

As she saw the scenery outside passing by quickly, Krista grabbed the handrail in fear.

“Sandra, are you crazy? Do you want to kill yourself? Why do you drive so fast?”

“Yes, you’re right!” don’t care if I die here, and I knew there was no turning back. Why would I kill Kingston? I was still hoping to marry him?”

“Then what do you want from me?” she growled.

“Kingston betrayed me. He said he would trust me but secretly investigated the Hardin family and me. Now the Hardin family has been on the decline, and Vivian is dead. The next one will be me!”

“Really?” Krista was stunned.

It turned out that she got him wrong.

She thought that Kingston ruthlessly turned blind eyes to Brittany’s death and rashly trusted Sandra.

It turned out that she got him wrong.

Kingston had been secretly investigating the truth in his way.

Krista wronged him.

“Are you happy now?”

Sandra looked at Krista through the rearview mirror with a pair of wicked eyes and cracked a horrible smile.

She looked like a different person. At this moment, Sandra was like a vicious snake.

“Well, of course.” Krista retorted shortly, “Where are you taking me to now?”

“Well, I’m taking you to the hell!” Sandra growled..

She expected that Krista would be scared and panic, but she guessed it wrong.

Actually, Krista had already prepared for the worst since she got in the car.

She had been burying her mind into the case all these days.

But she didn't do it just for her grandma. Krista didn't know how to manage the rest of her life.

Her child and grandma were dead, and she married Lance out of guilty, not love.

Lance knew that, but he lied to himself.

Krista used to live a muddle-headed and miserable life, and she didn't want it anymore.

So it was time to finish all this.

Suddenly, she remembered that today was her birthday!

A year had passed...

It was just a year, but she felt like a lifetime.

Krista put through an ordeal a twenty-year-old girl should never go through.

“Aren't you afraid of death?” Sandra felt she was coming here for nothing, and it made her feel sick.

“You’re scared.” Krista said calmly.

“You...” Sandra was too angry to say anything. Krista was right. Sandra was a bastard who couldn’t change her fate.

She had to sleep with men to earn her living.

She once lived in the most chaotic slum, and she was supposed to blossom like a flower when she was nineteen.

But she had no choice. Kingston was her silver lining.

It was Sandra’s only light in the dark, and she just tried her best to grab it.

She thought it was nothing wrong with that.

Sandra was on the verge of tears and stared angrily at Krista with a pair of red eyes. She had prepared a bigger surprise for Krista.

“If I say, your child’s death is not an accident. Can you still stay cool?”

“What are you talking about?”

“drunk driving? Premature labor? Ridiculous! These are parts of my plan! I prepared the car, and I bribed the nurse to strangle the baby alive!”

“They even took a video for me. The little cheek turned green and purple suddenly. It must be painful to run out of fresh air, right? He was screaming and crying. I guess he was calling his mother for help.” Sandra laughed hysterically. Finally, she was satisfied when she saw the pain and astonishment on Krista's face.
