Chapter 23 Go to the Irwin Group Unexpectedly

Krista rushed to the studio. She saw the police had detained Donna, and Marley was there, too.

Donna looked depressed and lowered her head. And Marley finally took back her silk scarf.

The police checked the surveillance video of the underground garage. The evidence was conclusive. Donna was a vain person. She wore the scarf to attend the meeting of classmates. But the scarf was damaged and Donna was unable to deliver it on time.

As a rookie, Krista was still in her internship. So Donna decided to set her up.

The policeman said, "Now the truth is clear. The stolen item is valued at up to 20,000. So what Donna did is considered a crime."

Marley looked at Krista embarrassingly, "Ms. Compton, I'm really sorry. I sincerely apologize for treating you so badly last time. I hope you will forgive me."

Then Marley bowed to her in public and apologized.

Everyone was shocked.

Marley had always been arrogant and looked down on people like them. But today she spoke in an earnest tone.

Krista was also flattered.

"It doesn't matter. I'm glad the misunderstanding between us is resolved."

The rest of her colleagues persuaded Krista to stay and accused Donna.

However, when Krista thought of what they had done that day, she couldn't help but feel a little disappointed.

They retreated from their earlier positions so quickly. Was this the rules of the office? They intrigued against each other, flattered superiors and bullied inferiors.

Although Krista really needed a job, she still refused to stay here.

Krista followed the policemen downstairs and said gratefully, "Thank you. Otherwise I would have been wrongly accused. However ... I didn't call the police at that time. How could you intervene in the investigation?"

"An anonymous person gave us evidence, so we could start to investigate. Maybe that person is your colleague who thinks you are innocent."

Krista nodded. Not everyone would support Donna, she thought.

After the case was entirely cleared, Krista heaved a sigh of relief and was in a much better mood.

Krista still hesitated.

Keely was a little unhappy because Krista wouldn't help her with such a tiny little thing.

"Do you want to do it or not? Everyone is busy. You are the fastest to finish because you have fewer tasks."

Krista found that she could not refuse her.

She just needed to see Quincy. Maybe she wouldn't see Kingston, Krista thought.

Chapter 24 Sexual Harassment

Krista had no choice but to agree and went to the top floor after Keely handed over her work to Krista

In the elevator, Krista felt so nervous when she saw the number on the elevator's screen changing.

Fortunately, the door to Kingston's office had always been tightly closed. The room next to it was secretary's office, and its door was open.

De

Quincy was a little surprised when Krista knocked on the door.

He immediately stood up with a slightly respectful attitude.

"Ms. Compton? Why are you here?"

"I'm here to take your measurements," she said, pointing to her name tag.

11

"Oh, I see. Then you go ahead."

"Let's measure your shoulder first..."

When Krista was recording the measurement, the phone rang. Then she heard Kingston's cold voice.

"Quincy, I need you in my office."

"Yes."

Quincy immediately answered. Then he looked at Krista apologetically

"I understand it. Work is the most important thing. You should go. I'm free now and I'll wait for you here."

FIT

"You can go to the rest area where snacks, tea and magazines have. You won't feel bored there. And you can leave if I don't come back in fifteen minutes. I'll go to see you next time to get measured."

"It doesn't matter. This is my job. You can go to work now."

Krista walked to the rest area, picked up a clothing magazine and read it carefully.

Half an hour later, Krista finished reading it. But Quincy hadn't come out yet.

At this moment, another secretary led a man in.

"Mr. Welsey, Mr. Irwin is still busy. Please wait here for a moment."

"Okay."

Krista had met Ray Welsey before in the restaurant.

Obviously, Ray also remembered her because Mr. Irwin had saved her.

"It's you!"

Ray leaned over in surprise and sat very close to her in an instant. Then Krista kept away from him awkwardly

“Are you here too? Are you Mr. Irwin’s girlfriend? I heard that he has been fascinated by a girl recently. Is that you?”

“No. Don’t misunderstand it. I don’t know him.”

“But why did Mr. Irwin save you?”

“Perhaps it’s just a coincidence.” She prevaricated and lowered her head guiltily.

Ray thought for a moment. He heard that Mr. Irwin liked a sickly beauty who always went to hospital. But Krista’s skin was rosy and young. She looked very healthy.

‘It was a good thing that she wasn’t Mr. Irwin’s girlfriend’, Ray thought.

Ray had noticed her last time in the dining hall. She looked soft and beautiful, especially with her bright black eyes, which were as clear as flawless glass.

Ray was so close to her that he could smell the faint scent of jasmine on her body.

Krista was dressed in a white T-shirt and jeans, like a fresh blooming flower. Ray was sure that she was still a virgin.

He was so excited that he put his hands on her legs.

Krista was shocked and immediately stood up. She frowned at him.

“What are you doing?”

“Are you an intern?” Ray looked at her name tag and said with a smile, “It is very hard to be an intern. You must do all the dirty work and get very low salary. Why don’t you come to my company to be my secretary? I’ll pay you 50,000 a month. You don’t need to do anything because your pretty face will improve the corporate image.”

He couldn’t help but stretch out his hand to touch her face. But Krista forcefully knocked it off.

“Well, you really have a hot temper. I like it.”

His smile was a little indecent.

Ray continued to approach, and Krista quickly retreated.

Chapter 25 Mr. Irvin, Watch Your Behavior

“Stop it. This is the Irwin Group! Don’t go too far.”

“But you’re not working here. Mr. Irwin couldn’t care less. I know who you are and where you work. I can always find you. It’s pointless for you to resist!”

“You ... are outrageous.”

She was so angry that she grabbed her bag and was about to leave but knocked into someone strong on her way out.

She felt pain and frowned. It hurt so much.

She looked up and was shocked to see Kingston’s cold face.

“Mister, Mister....”

She stammered, unable to utter a complete sentence.

Kingston looked stern with his eyes blazing with anger.

His entire body emitted a murderous aura that sent chills down her spine.

“Mr. Irwin, here you are.” Ray smiled and said, “I’ve modified bits of the cooperation plan we talked about last time and brought the contract for you to sign. The workers are all waiting for it. In the entire City D, there’s no better construction team than us...”

Sale

“What?”

Ray froze.

Krista was also very puzzled.

wa

“Get lost!”

He shouted coldly, showing no mercy.

Ray was baffled. Why? The cooperation had been going well.

Was it something he did?

Seeing that Kingston was about to leave, Ray anxiously stopped him, "Mr. Irwin, what did I do wrong? Why did you cancel it all of a sudden?"

Hearing this, Kingston stopped and turned to Krista.

"Did he just touch you with his dirty hands?" Watch Your Behavior

"How do you know?"

"Which hand?"

"What do you want?"

"Answer, which hand?"

"Probably... his right hand." She hesitated and said.

"Quincy, break his right arm."

"What?"

Krista was shocked. There was no need for such a big fuss.

And it was not worth it for him to lose a partner right now.

Before she tried to say something else, Kingston took her to the president's office.

He shut the door and took off his coat and threw it on the sofa. He pulled the tie around his neck with one hand.

Then he unbuttoned the top two buttons and swallowed.

He felt inexplicably irritated.

He was especially upset earlier at the door when he heard that bastard's dirty words. He wished he could kill that scum.

Now he stood in front of the floor-to-ceiling window and took deep breaths to calm himself down.

Behind him, Krista was at a loss. She fidgeted with her clothes and said, "Mr. Irwin, I really appreciate your help. You've been a generous ex to me. However, you shouldn't make hasty decisions on business matters. It's a great loss to lose a partner."

"If it is because of me, I would feel guilty. Don't act on impulses."

"Why are you defending a man who insulted you?"

He frowned and said unhappily.

"I'm not. I'm only thinking of you. It's not easy for you to run this group. There's no need..."

Before she could finish her words, Kingston turned around and stared at her with his beautiful eyes.

Her mind instantly went blank and words got stuck in her throat.

He approached her step by step.

What was he doing?

She was so frightened that she moved backwards and reached a corner, with no way to escape.

She quickly lowered her head and looked at the ground, not daring to meet his eyes.

"Mr. Irwin ... please watch your behavior."

Chapter 26 An Unspeakable Scene

"Didn't you come to take the measurements?",

"Right."

"I have heard of Lance Hamm, a visiting professor in the department of fashion design. One of the best designers in the country. I would like him to make a suit for me too. Take my measurements."

She was extremely shocked at his words and raised her head to look at him.

When their eyes met, he saw a pair of extremely beautiful eyes, which seemed to contain a galaxy.

There was light in her eyes that could pierce through all darkness and illuminate the way forward.

“Why? Can’t I place an order?”

“Yes, you can. I’m sure Mr. Hamm would take it. Then let me... take your measures.”

Why did he suddenly change the topic to clothes?

Forget it, she should better get it done fast and leave. Kingston was a clever businessman and always discreet with his decisions. He must have made other plans that she should not interfere.

She quickly took out her tape measure and notebook and started her work.

She had to measure his shoulder, neck, arm, waist, hip, crotch and leg length that needed her crouching down.

She began to feel something wrong as she measured his waist.

She had been used to these kind of body contacts, but now... she felt unnatural because everything seemed so erotic.

Then she had to measure his crotch and hip...

Just as she was doing her work free of dirty thoughts, the office door was opened.

Quincy’s voice came, “Sir, I’ve done...”

Before he could finish his words, Krista was shocked by another man’s presence and lost her balance and fell forward.

Quincy thought he had seen something unspeakable

“Sorry.”

He slammed the door shut.

Kingston’s face darkened.

Was she doing this on purpose?

Krista hurriedly straightened herself and did not dare to look up at Kingston at all. She was sure that he looked bad.

She could feel his glare.

After it was done, she heaved a sigh of relief and said, "Alright now. Mr. Irwin, I'll leave now if you don't need anything else. I have to take measurements for Mr. Fischer now."

Hearing this, Kingston frowned.

He couldn't help imagining her squatting to measure Quincy's hip and crotch...

Had she done this to all her clients?

He suddenly felt short of breath and extremely uncomfortable. But he couldn't tell why.

"You can go back directly, he will measure it himself and tell you the data."

"He's not professional."

"Huh?"

He raised his tone.

Kingston stared down at her and she shut up in fear.

Forget everything she said.

She hurriedly took the toolbox and ran away.

Kingston was sitting in front of the computer desk, feeling uneasy when Quincy knocked on the door and entered.

He looked at him guiltily, "Sir, I should have knocked before I entered just now. You can take away my bonus."

"I'll cut your annual leave."

"Sir..." Quincy wanted to explain but quickly decided against it. He would risk losing his whole leave.

"I received news this morning that Ray's construction company is facing problems and this deal could help them out. But they will definitely cut corners to save the cost. The project this time is a children's amusement park. If anything happens, our group will be pushed to the forefront of public criticism."

"In addition, this unknown company has only existed for five years, but it is reliable in terms of management, materials and personnel. It's just too little-known."

"Let them have the project. Keep an eye on it. There mustn't be mistakes."

"I see, sir... Shall Mrs. Compton take the credit this time? In a way, she helped us end the cooperation with Ray. We should thank her sometime."

Quincy suggested carefully.

He would always be on Krista's side if he had to choose between her and Sandra.

After all, she had been Mr. Irwin's legal wife for a year. If it weren't for Sandra, Kingston would not have divorced her.

Hearing this, Kingston frowned.

Krista's little face appeared in his mind. She was wearing no make-up and her eyes were clear and bright.

Chapter 27 You're Not That Kind of Girl, Are You?

"I'll think about it."

LI

"Then I'll go down first."

Quincy didn't dare to say more.

After Krista returned to the studio, someone from the Irwin Group soon called her to confirm the delivery date. (This novel will be daily updated at)They also said the suit must be sent over by the person responsible for the order.

They were asking Krista to send the suit over.

"Who is it? She's so great that she even gets Mr. Irwin's order! The studio has just opened and we are going to tailor a suit for Kingston, the number one plutocrat in City D. We need to spread this out. More people will know our studio!”

“Heavens! Did I hear it wrong? Mr. Irwin from the Irwin Group? He is tall, handsome, and outstanding in all aspects. He is also a double-degree doctor!”

“Who made it? She’s the hero of our studio!”

They were having a d heated discussion.

Keely stood out. She was a graduate student, and Lance was her mentor.

She was at a higher level than others present. She was also very talented and professional. Therefore, since Lance was not here, what she said was the most persuasive.

She said unwillingly, “It’s Krista.”

“Oh my God! Krista, you are so brilliant!”

“How did you do it? Hurry up and tell us.”

TIL

“Keely, did Mr. Hamm say anything about how much Krista can get from the order? Please tell us.”

“Yes, she can get 100,000 from it.”

Everyone was extremely envious when hearing this. They were all students. Suddenly, if a hundred thousand was smashed at them, they would probably go crazy.

Keely hated Krista so much that she gritted her teeth. Her family was not rich, so she had been working her way through college

Originally, she should be the one who went to take the measurements.(This novel will be daily updaed at) If it weren’t for the fact that something happened at school, she wouldn’t have given the task to Krista.

She didn’t know why Krista could be so lucky that she even got such a big customized order.

It was fine that she lost hundred thousand. Besides, Mr. Hamm was very fond of Krista because of this. He even said that he would hold a celebration banquet for Krista as a reward.

She looked at Krista’s smile and felt even more ironic. She was clearly showing off.

Keely went back to her seat angrily.

Seeing that everyone was so happy, Krista offered to treat them to a cake.

The moment she got the money, she immediately paid 20,000 back to Aracely and ordered a takeout.

Later, the cake was delivered to Keely.

TITUTI

“Keely, please take this.”

“You’ve got a hundred thousand, but just buy a cake of fifty? So stingy!”

Keely’s tone was weird. The expressions of other students weren’t quite good.

“My life is rather difficult. I can’t afford a more expensive one.” She said apologetically.

“Keely, Krista bought this for us. Moreover, money didn’t fall on her for no reason. It is not easy to get this order.”

Others spoke up for Krista, which made her feel warm,

“What are you guys talking about? I was just joking. Krista is really amazing. That’s Mr. Irwin! But I’ve heard that most girls can trade sex in order to sell products. Krista, you shouldn’t be such a girl, right?”

Once she said this, everyone began to look at Krista suspiciously.

After all, she was not outstanding amongst these people, but her face was pure. (This novel will be daily updated at)Her face was in a standard oval shape, which made her look like an infant. She looked so exquisite that she seemed to be a gift of God. Every feature on her face was perfect.

Even if she wore cheap clothes, she didn’t look vulgar at all. She was clean and cute, making people pleasant when they saw her.

This order was worth tens of millions.

She could get at least 100,000 from it.

Could it be that Krista went to the president’s office and did something with the president?
