

Chapter 369

Luck nodded and watched Kingston carry Krista.

Krista felt a little uncomfortable and moved in Kingston's arms. Her face was pressed against his chest. She felt his strong beating heart and slept soundly.

When she got home, she still didn't wake up. It had been a long time since she had slept so well.

She didn't know that so many things had changed.

She slept soundly and didn't have dinner because she ate a lot at noon.

She didn't get up until the next morning.

She opened the curtains and intended to breathe in the fresh air on the balcony. But she was stunned when she saw the view downstairs.

She saw a bridge, a pond, and birds.

She rubbed her eyes and felt that she was dreaming.

She quickly went downstairs and saw a small pond with mulberry trees around and fish inside.

Over the pond was a small bridge. Not far from the bridge was a small pavilion with tables and chairs.

Looking around, Krista saw many kinds of flowers, such as roses and jasmine. They were so beautiful.

The courtyard had been carefully decorated. Although there were many things, they were harmonious. It was like a landscape painting.

"Do you like it?"

Kingston said gently.

"What ... what is going on?"

Krista looked at him in surprise. Her eyes were full of joy.

Yesterday, it was a lawn. But it totally changed in such a short time.

"I will try my best to satisfy your needs. It's a little different from what you want and I can't completely satisfy you. But I think you will like it."

"Yes, I like it very much. Thank you."

She said gratefully.

She played in the courtyard for quite a while before going to eat breakfast.

"Kingston, I want to go out to work. I don't want to be here and do nothing."

"Alright."

He agreed because he was afraid that she would be bored.

"Don't help me. I want to try to get a job by myself."

In the past, Lance had prepared everything for her and didn't ask her for opinion.

Lance created a brand, contacted clients, and gave her inspiration for design.

She was pushed by him and did not know her own strength. Now she wanted to rely on herself.

"Okay, but no matter what happens, you have to tell me. You are not alone in City D. I'm always by your side."

When she heard this, her heart trembled.

He was always by her side.

She quickly ate some food and didn't respond.

She had sent resumes online before. Several good companies asked her for an interview. And she planned to go and have a try.

The interviews were successful and she picked a design company with a good development prospect.

She was a novice, so she had to do it from the beginning.

She did nothing related to design. She only did some trivial work.

Her senior was called Lily Nash, who was 30 and single. Lily was devoted to her career and hoped to be a famous designer.

She was the core of the team and she was the most capable designer in the company. The boss supported her and the other employees also followed her.

Among domestic companies, MY was one of the best. Every year, in the fashion design competition, MY won first place.

It worked with many brands. Every year, its products were popular.

"Is this your design draft?"

Lily came out of the office with a document in her hand. It was Krista's resume which included a design draft.

"Yes, what's wrong?"

"Nothing. You have great talent. Keep working."

Lily did not say much. In fact, she was a little unhappy.
