

Found Pregnant After Divorce by Emiissmx Chapter 6

Chapter 6 Transfer of Property

Back then, Rashad Compton was a son-in-law of the Compton family by adoption. Krista's grandfather saw that he was honest and truly capable, so he helped him all the way and even married his only daughter to him.

However, after Krista's grandfather died, Rashad revealed his wild ambition. He took away the property of Krista's grandfather and changed his surname to Compton. He also brought back his mistress Zaniyah Brennan and illegitimate daughter Siobhan Compton.

Rashad forced Krista's mother to divorce, making her sick.

During her mother's hospitalization, Zaniyah took Krista's younger brother out shopping, and her younger brother got lost.

Zaniyah had insisted that her younger brother lost his way, but who would believe it?

Her younger brother, who was two years younger than her, disappeared just like that.

Her mother was so sad that she finally decided to divorce her father, and her custody was granted to her mother.

Last year, her mother was terminally ill and knew that she was dying. She no longer wasted her medical expenses and found the Irwins.

She accidentally saved Kingston's grandmother. Kingston's grandmother granted her a wish, saying that she could ask her for help if necessary.

The only wish of Krista's mother was that after she died, Krista could live a peaceful and healthy life.

Her mother wanted Kingston to marry her, so that she could become a young mistress of the Irwin family, and no one would bully her.

The Irwin family did as promised. After her mother passed away, she married Kingston.

Her own family had ignored her for many years, but the moment they found out that she married into the Irwin family, they came to ask for her mother's medical expenses.

At that time, Krista was young and Kingston was abroad. She did not have anyone to support her, nor did she dare to turn to Kingston's grandmother. She was afraid that Kingston's grandmother would find it annoying and drive her out.

The Comptons took away all of Krista's betrothal gifts. They knew that Kingston did not take Krista seriously. Since they couldn't make any profits, they did not care about Krista for the past year.

Now that Krista met Siobhan again, she didn't want to argue with her.

Krista wanted to leave, but Siobhan grabbed her clothes. She subconsciously covered her belly with her hands.

Seeing this, Siobhan smiled coldly, knowing why she did this.

Siobhan forcefully pulled her into the car. There was nothing she could do about it.

She was brought to the Comptons'. Rashad and Zaniyah were both happy and angry when they saw her.

"I heard that you and Kingston were divorced?"

"This doesn't have anything to do with you,"

Krista replied impolitely with a cold face.

She crossed her arms on her belly and looked at them vigilantly.

"You must be feeling bad. Your mother passed away. You are a Compton. Move back, and we can take care of you.

You must be tired today. Have some tea to moisten your throat. I've had your room cleaned up. It's decorated as you like. Go to see if you like it later."

Zaniyah smiled and brought a cup of tea to Krista, but Krista still wore a cold expression.

"Since when did you know what I like?"

"Krista, you are being rude to my mother! In the past, you had the Irwins as your backer, but now, you have nothing! Why are you so arrogant?"

“Siobhan, be nice. She’s your sister. We’re family.”

“No, we are not. I have to go to school. I don’t have time to talk with you.”

After saying that, Krista was about to get up, but Zaniyah stopped her and slapped her face.

“Bitch! Who do you think you are? You don’t drink the tea I serve? This is what you deserve!”

Zaniyah splashed the tea on Krista’s face. Her cheeks were burning with pain, and she was dizzy.

Zaniyah took out a contract, which stated the transfer of property.

“Sign it or I’ll break your leg!”