

Full-Level Rich Daughter Makes a Strong Comeback

Chapter 11

Waking Up

“Old Master, you’re awake.” The driver wept for joy.

The old man did not know what had happened. He only remembered that he suddenly suffered from angina. Before he could react, he lost consciousness.

“Old Master, it was this little girl who saved you.” The driver pointed at Ye Leng’an and continued, “She gave you an unknown pill and you woke up.”

When the old man woke up, the driver’s attitude changed for the better. He did not expect that such a young girl would actually be able to save the old master. Moreover, the old master’s condition seemed not to be that bad.

Remembering how he treated her just now, the driver apologized, “I’m really sorry that I did you an injustice just now.”

He felt scared after it was all over. If this little girl had not saved the old man because of his attitude, he would have borne the blame.

The old man followed the driver’s gaze to glance at Ye Leng’an, and then he stopped for a moment.

She looked very young but was in the best part of her life. She had bright eyes and white teeth, looking incredibly beautiful. Even though she was just standing there, it was impossible for others to ignore her presence. Most importantly, the invisible aura she emitted was really powerful.

She was definitely not from an ordinary family.

Although he didn’t know what had happened, according to what the driver had said, he knew she must give him some medicine. He was feeling good now. He could even say that he had never felt so relaxed before. search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Ever since he had heart problems, he always felt as if there was a huge stone pressing on his chest. Sometimes, he even had difficulty breathing. Since he was old, the hospital did not advise him to have surgery. Usually, he could only rely on medicine to slow the progression of the disease.

Though he just had a heart attack, he felt so relaxed after waking up. So, the pill he took was definitely not simple.

"It's good that you're fine." Ye Leng'an nodded. "But you'd better go to the hospital for a checkup."

She was still very confident in her own medicinal pills. However, she also knew that others would definitely have doubts about her.

"Thank you so much for today." The old man stood up with the help of the driver. "I would have died here without you. What's your name? I really appreciate your help."

"I helped you because you deserved it. You are a good person." Ye Leng'an gave him a nod. "Good people will be blessed."

Hearing Ye Leng'an's words, the old man paused for a moment. Clearly, he did not expect Ye Leng'an to give such a reply.

"Anyway, you saved my life," the old man said. "I hope you can give me a chance to repay you."

"I just held your disease at bay today," Ye Leng'an said. "It is not worth mentioning."

"You mean..." The old man had a vague guess in his heart, but he still could not believe it. "Can you cure me of my disease?"

Although he couldn't believe it, he still retained a grain of optimism. No one wanted to be sick and linger out his life, and he was no exception. Even if he had a huge fortune, he had never had a comfortable day since he fell ill.
