

Full-Moon 351

Chapter 351 Mother Gebbo

"Let's count them down", Rex mutters while unsheathing his silver sword.

Although silver is not as durable as steel, the silver sword that he's holding is equivalent to a fifth rank sword made of steel that is also strengthened by a Hardened rune.

It's not an exaggeration that this silver sword can clash with a sixth rank sword and not break.

Seeing Rex's aura getting riled up, the remaining descendants on his back frown as they take out their weapons expecting Undead to pop out.

Rex then tossed them each a vial before he said, "Pour that on your weapon"

The descendants look at the white vial that Rex gives before they pour the content to their weapons, it's called Elixir of Light which gives light properties to a weapon.

It only lasts for a couple of hours, and it's quite expensive.

RAARGGH!

KRAAHH

Many screams can be heard around them, Zombies started to crawl up from the ground exposing their hideous faces that can hardly be called humanoid.

This makes the descendants alert,

Death energy swirls around as dozens of zombies crawl up from the ground, their scent that smells like rotting flesh starts filling the air.

Some of them are missing limbs, only a few have their limbs intact.

"I can't, this is too much!", a woman complained as she covers her nose.

The others also cover their nose as the scent makes them want to throw up, it's clear that they don't have that much experience in a battlefield where all kinds of stench filled the air.

For Rex, this kind of smell isn't that bad.

Zombies are a branch of the Undead race, their scent is horrible but Rex has smelled worse.

RAARGHH!

Just after they crawled from the ground, the Zombies instantly dashes towards them like a mad dog pushing and bumping each other without the care in the world.

"Great Spell, Rushing Breeze!", a man chanted as wind mana gather on his hands.

The wind mana turns white after they concentrated on the man's hands, and after the chanting, a powerful breeze of wind instantly covers the area around them pushing the zombies back.

It's like standing in front of a huge fan, the zombies can hardly move forward thanks to the spell.

But Rex found that the wind didn't push him, it only affects the zombies.

After the spell from the man, the woman that complained about the smell suddenly burns with white flame as she started to levitate on the air, "Great Spell, Blanket of Flame!"

SWOOSH!

The ground under the Zombies turns white,

Many of the weaker Zombies fall to the ground and started to get burned into nothingness, not one of them manage to come closer to them thanks to this duo spell.

'Purifying Flame, That's a useful element in fighting undead', Rex thought rubbing his chin.

Since the Zombies that crawl up from the ground are around third or fourth rank, both of them have no problem dealing with them since they both are sixth rank Awakened.

Although they're perfect, Rex glance to his sides and find some Zombies.

From the other side, the Zombies are also crawling from the ground like ants.

The Zombies came from everywhere and some of them manage to rush towards Rex, their screams and roar filled Rex's ears as they ransack everything that block their way to Rex.

But when the Zombies leaped towards Rex trying to reach him with their grasp.

BLITZ!

Black lightning thorn burst from Rex's body impaling five Zombies that leaped to him.

<Killed a peak third rank Supernatural, Obtained 10,000 Exp>

<Killed a mid-fourth rank Supernatural, Obtained 60,000 Exp>

Five notifications appeared on Rex's vision as he killed 5 Zombies, his eyes then flash with black lightning as his body disappeared into thin air.

A moment later,

"We finished this side, I got two dozen of them", the woman said feeling fatigued.

The man that uses the wind great spell before pulls his sword from a Zombies' head before he also added, "I got about a dozen"

Both of them looks to their backs and saw the three other descendants are fine.

The two descendants that are part of the support team and the weakest girl are fine with no scratches, but upon looking at the view beside them the man and the woman widened their eyes seeing many Zombies parts scattered around.

Rex is sitting on a big Zombie with his silver sword stabbed to the ground,

Just from the aura of the big Zombie alone, the two can feel that the big Zombie is at least an early fifth rank, the death energy is thicker around that Zombie.

While the two are dealing with the Zombies from the front,

Rex is dealing with the Zombies that attack them from the back, he manages to take them all down including the big Zombie just before the two finish the Zombies from the front.

It's clear that Rex is way faster and stronger, his expression didn't even change.

But then, "Are you serious?! You could've killed her with that spell of yours!"

"Why are you blaming me? It's her fault for being so weak", a guy replied mocking the weakest girl who is breathing heavily with blue gas coming out of her nose.

Looking at this, Rex frowns, "What happened here?", he asks.

"Fordie use his poison spell and it hit this poor girl, Can't you see she's still a fourth rank? Her element is not enough to block your poison", the woman replied glaring at the blue poison guy angrily.

This makes Rex's expression contorted a bit as he glances at Fordie,

Fordie saw a hostile aura coming from Rex as he glared at Rex, scoffing, "What? Get your lowly eyes off of me, you fucking low life outsider"

Not long after he said that the offensive and defensive teams came back.

Evelyn and the others came back after scouting to only find Rex and Fordie looking at each other with hostility, she frowns upon seeing this scene.

The others are also confused about the situation, they just got back.

With soft steps, Evelyn approach Rex before she asks, "What happened? What did he do?"

Rex didn't answer as he turns his body towards the others,

"It seems Fordie here is still not listening to me", Rex said with a smile.

Although Rex is smiling, the air around them is filled with tension as he continues, "I thought my little display at the banquet shows you all how powerful I am, but it seems Fordie here thinks that I'm a pushover"

The words that came out of Rex's mouth makes the others confused,

But Evelyn can somewhat see when Rex is mad or not, she notices this when Rex meets with Hans before and when that particular smile appears on Rex's face it means that something bad will happen.

Rex glance at Fordie with his smile and said, "I'm going to make you an example"

BLITZ!

Fordie widened his eyes when he saw Rex suddenly turns into a streak of lightning and dash towards him, the ring on his hand glows as a white barrier appear to envelop his body.

'You fool, only attack that is nearing the seventh rank can- HUAKH!!'

While Fordie was grinning thinking that Rex is a fool, the white barrier surrounding him suddenly shatter as Rex's fist which is covered with red force solidly land on Fordie's stomach.

The barrier doesn't even last for a second after getting hit by Rex,

Just for that moment, Rex activates his Alpha Bearing to weaken Fordie and the barrier.

"GRARGH! WHAT?!", Fordie shouted after throwing up a mouthful of blood.

The punch makes his body bends in an arc before he kneels on the ground while holding his stomach, he didn't have the time to activate his elemental aura or his spirit aura.

But even if he did, Devo can deal with it.

Veins started popping around Fordie's head as he feel the pain in his stomach, Rex's punch felt just like being hit by a train making Fordie gasp for air.

Some of his bones broke, that's for certain.

"I was going to teach you a lesson later thinking that if I were you, I'll be thinking about myself. But not only being selfish, but you also didn't listen, and you even attack other teammates", Rex mutters lightly.

Fordie was still on the ground holding his stomach with his reddened eyes,

This happened so fast that the other descendants that are watching this just realized Rex attacked Fordie when Fordie is already kneeling on the ground.

It's totally unexpected, except for Evelyn who saw this coming.

Rex grabs Fordie's face with his hand which makes Fordie's head looks small, he then lifts Fordie off the ground by the head as Fordie tries to break free by punching and kicking Rex's arm.

PSHH!

Blue gas suddenly burst from Fordie's body as he grins evilly, "You dare lay a hand on a poison Elementalist? What a fool", he mocked.

The blue gas started to corrode Rex's hand, even Evelyn was concerned upon seeing this.

As the grin on Fordie's face started to grow wider, Fordie's grin stops when he saw Rex's skin that should've melted completely from his blue poison starts to heal.

It is healing at a rapid pace that even matches the corrosion from Fordie's blue poison.

"I-I'm sorry, I-I-I'll listen to you!", Fordie pleaded when he realized that Rex didn't get affected.

The grip by Rex's hand started to get tighter making Fordie's eyes widen in fear, he's starting to plead and say sorry to Rex but all of his pleadings fell on deaf ears.

With the same smile, Rex then looks at Fordie fiercely, "You're dispensable for my team"

"W-What?", Fordie mutters in fear but he suddenly saw his world swing,

CRASH!

Rex slammed Fordie to the ground as the ground cracked under his might, even the descendants needs to jump away because of the ground shattering.

Because of this, debris shot into the surroundings like a bullet as the slam creates a web-like crack.

The houses in the surroundings also got destroyed because of this,

All of them crumble because the ground just shatters from Rex's slam, and when the descendants look at the scene they were petrified upon witnessing the scene.

The crack spread in a thirty meters radius as Rex planted Fordie on the ground.

"Oh my god!"

"H-He didn't even use his element, What a monster!"

"The raw strength he has is really ridiculous, he's not even an Earth Elementalist"

Many of them mutters as they saw the destroyed ground in front of them,

Rex slowly straightens his back after slamming Fordie to the ground, blood decorating his fingers and face as Fordie lies on the ground hardly moving.

Upon seeing this, Evelyn dashes at Fordie and checks on him.

"He's barely alive, Can't you just hold back a little? It'll be your loss too if he died", Evelyn scold as she supports Fordie up before she looks towards the descendants.

Her eyes then landed on a woman, the woman is the one arguing with Fordie before.

"Morana! Come and heal him quick!", Evelyn shouted.

The woman that Evelyn called Morana froze for a moment, she hesitated for a moment but after getting a nod from Rex she leaped towards them. Morana kneel beside Fordie before her hands started to glow with beautiful blue mana.

'Grace Water Element, what a sight', Rex thought as he looks at Morana healing Fordie.

But amidst healing Fordie's injury, Rex suddenly said, "Don't heal him too much, I'm going to leave him after we clear the Undead here"

"What?! Are you serious?!", Morana exclaimed.

Her body then went stiff after realizing that Rex is looking at her, she puts her head down meekly.

"I'm sorry for shouting at you", she said lightly.

Rex sigh and said, "I don't need people like him, he's just going to get us killed"

After saying that, the other descendants also came closer to him before a muscular man wearing thick armor with a big shield on his hand then asks, "Sir, My brother haven't come back"

Hearing this, Rex also frowns.

"I also don't see Dray anywhere, Which direction did they go?", Rex asks after realizing two of his team member is missing, and one of them is Dray.

Before the man can answer,

BOOM!

A loud exploding sound can be heard from their side,

Rex looks in the direction before he sniffs the air, he then commanded decisively, "4 Pairs and Morana come with me, the others stay here and protect Fordie until we get back"

SWOOSH!

Hearing this, the descendants nodded their heads and follow Rex.

'They must've encountered Mother Gebbo, it should be around the sixth rank but with the death energy here even Dray can't face that thing', Rex thought as he dashes to the explosion sound.

It was not that far, Rex and the others arrived at the scene.

ROAR!!

Rex signaled the others to stop when the creature in front of them roared making the place tremble, he saw Dray standing behind another muscular guy who is a Metal Elementalist.

'It's true, that is the Mother Gebbo', Rex thought.

The Undead creature in front of him is pretty massive, it makes a house look small.

Its body is composed of bones that shaped it weirdly, the creature can hardly be called a skeleton since the opened rib cage on its chest and some other limbs has muscle tissues, and although it has wings the creature is too boney and weird-shaped to be called a skeletal dragon.

Only two legs kept the front part of this Undead creature standing,

The back part from its stomach to its tail is hauling on the ground, it looks bizarre with its thorny skeleton mouth as the creature walks or slithers while keeping its hollow eyes on Dray and the Metal Elementalist guy.

"What should we do? It's only an early sixth rank but it's very powerful!", the guy said.

Hearing this, Dray also gritted his teeth as his eyes widen when he saw the Mother Gebbo start gathering Death Energy, a ball of black energy appears in its mouth and it was getting bigger.

Looking at this, the guy and Dray started running to the side.

The Mother Gebbo has already gathered enough energy before it aims its mouth toward Dray and the guy, it moves its neck around before suddenly,

BOOM!

Death Energy ray shot from its mouth, the ground turns black after getting hit by the Death Ray.

With a twist of Mother Gebbo's neck, Dray and the guy can't outrun the Death Energy Ray as the guy chanted, "Metal Spell, Wall of Steel!"

CLANG!

A wall made of steel sprouted from the ground in front,

BOOM!

"IT WON'T HOLD!", the guy shouted feeling the wall start to make a cracking sound.

It happened instantly after getting hit by the Death Ray even though the guy is just like Dray, a mid-sixth rank Awakened whilst the Mother Gebbo is an early rank sixth.

The death energy fueled Mother Gebbo with power,

Dray is ransacking his brain to escape this situation, if he comes out Mother Gebbo can simply aim the Death Energy Ray at him and he will be burned and die.

Just when the wall is on the brink of shattering,

SWISH!

Dray can see a flash of black lightning before ice sprouted from the ground, both of them got covered by ice before suddenly,

BOOM!

Chapter 352 First Battle For Rex's Team

BLITZ!

Dray saw a streak of black lightning flashes past the Death Ray before ice sprouted from the ground, the ice surrounding him and the Metal Elementalist just like a dome.

"This ice, it's the others", the Metal Elementalist guy said in relief.

If not for the ice dome that covers them, both of them will definitely get hit by the Death Ray.

But right after the ice covers them,

BOOM!

A loud explosion sound can be heard that makes the ground tremble, the ice dome makes a crinkling noise because of the loud explosion sound.

The explosion is so powerful that even Dray who is inside the ice dome can feel the shockwave.

CRASH!

Dray saw a shadow break through the ice dome and crash to the ground beside him.

His eyes then glance to his right and find Rex got planted to the ground, Rex's body is steaming but his clothes are intact which is surprising considering the Death Energy inside that Death Ray.

Some scratches on his face and arms can be seen.

But Dray saw that all of them healed at a visible rate, it just takes a moment until Rex stands up, and all of the injuries he suffered healed miraculously.

"It's quite strong", Rex mutters with a smile.

Dray snapped out of his daze before he asks, "Are you okay? You got hit directly"

The death energy that is still swirling around Rex's energy tries to attack Rex, but Dray saw the death energy leftover can't penetrate through Rex's clothes, 'His clothes, they are battle equipment, high-rank ones at that too', Dray thought.

ROAR!!

The ice dome surrounding them shatter because of Mother Gebbo's roar,

Other descendants are all already beside Rex except for Morana who is standing at the very back, she's the healer of the team, and based on the look of things some of them will definitely get injured.

But instead of a serious expression, Rex has a smile on his face.

His battle intent is riled up as he saw the Mother Gebbo fueled with Death Energy, there's also another thing that makes him eager to fight this Mother Gebbo.

<Sudden Quest!>

<Mother Gebbo>

An enhanced Supernatural, Mother Gebbo has appeared and has the intent to kill the user and the user's teammates. Because of its power, Mother Gebbo has affected all the survivors of the city turning them into its underlings. Kill Mother Gebbo without suffering any casualty, the quest reward will depend on the user's performance.

The sudden quest puts a smile on Rex's face,

Usually, if the system gives him a quest that has a reward depending on his performance, the reward will be rich and thus he will not let this chance go.

Mother Gebbo is eyeing Rex's team warily with its hollow eyes,

Its body then glows with a black aura before noises started to appear from its surroundings.

Evelyn looks around before she saw that other humanoid Undead started to appear in the surroundings, but it was not only Zombies this time.

Undead similar to the little girl undead they met before can also be seen amongst them.

"What should we do? We're surrounded, and it will not be easy to escape with Mother Gebbo's attention on us", Evelyn said from the side with a concerned look.

Dray also agrees, "That creature has the power of a peak sixth rank, it'll be hard to kill it"

"We're not going to kill it, at least not yet", Rex replied.

Hearing this, Evelyn and Dray look at him in confusion.

Without explaining to them, Rex then commanded, "Kill the zombies but don't kill the other undead, avoid the other undead at all costs!"

After saying that, Rex's body then glows with a red hue and black lightning.

Evelyn then saw Rex suddenly hold a vial in his hand,

The vial has a colorless liquid inside of it, a feeling of holiness can also be felt from the vial as Rex breaks the vial by throwing it to the ground in front of him.

Splash!

Right after he did that,

NGINGG!

The ground glows with white light and it expanded throughout the surrounding,

All of the descendants look at the ground and find that the death energy starting to get purified, they can feel it clearly as they look at the liquid that seeped into the ground in front of Rex.

RAARGHH!

KRAAH!

Zombies and the undead started to growl as they felt pained by the bright light.

This includes Mother Gebbo who started flapping its wings to fly, but weirdly enough Rex saw Mother Gebbo can't really lift the back part of its body.

It got stung by the bright light as it wails in pain,

Rex then lowers his stance holding his silver sword before he commanded, "2 Pairs follow me"
BLITZ!

Seeing Rex dash directly to Mother Gebbo,

Evelyn that paired with Vanessa, and Dray paired with the Metal Elementalist follow Rex from behind as the five of them dash towards Mother Gebbo.

Nearing Mother Gebbo, Rex then points with his silver sword,

"You see that orb in its chest? We need to take that from her", Rex said, the other four nodded their heads as they fixated their eyes on the purplish orb inside Mother Gebbo's chest.

SWOOSH!

After the bright light ended, Mother Gebbo recovers but saw Rex is already in front of her.

Rex's body burst with a red hue before he swings his sword at Mother Gebbo's head,

SLASH!

ROAR!!

Because of the slash from Rex, there's a fine white line crossing the side of its face, 'The silver sword cut through its face easily', Rex thought with a smile.

But then he unsheathed back his silver sword, 'I might accidentally kill it if I use that sword'

SWOOSH!

Evelyn and Dray appeared beside Mother Gebbo's two legs like a flash, both of their swords glinting with fire and wind respectfully.

"Disposition of Wind Technique, Circular Compact Arc!", Dray chanted fiercely.

The sword that he's holding turns into the wind, and wind mana gathers on the sword making the sword glow with green light. His white tiger spirit also materializes on the back baring its fangs.

It amplified Dray's aura by a notch making the wind mana he gathers stronger.

Evelyn on the other hand,

Her body started blazing with dark red fire that engulfs her armor completely, her sword was then also coated by dark red fire starting from its hilt all the way to its tip.

"Fire Demoness Art! The Beauty of Hell!"

SWOOSH!

At the same time as her chant, a woman fiery figure appeared behind her.

The spirit that assimilated with her is a fiery woman that has sharp eyes, it gracefully touches Evelyn's back making the fire mana on her sword turn chaotic and stronger.

SLASH!

Both of them slash Mother Gebbo at the same time creating a powerful shockwave.

They swung their sword with all their might, Mother Gebbo's legs got pushed back because of their attacks, and falls to the ground.

If one pays close attention, there's a puddle of magical water beneath Mother Gebbo's feet.

Vanessa also did a water spell, and thanks to that Dray and Evelyn's attack manage to make Mother Gebbo slip and fall to the ground.

BOOM!

A loud crashing sound was produced because of Mother Gebbo's weight.

Seeing that Mother Gebbo fall flat on the ground, the muscular guy, the Metal Elementalist's eyes glint fiercely as his body started to glow with a grey hue.

He leaped to the air as he chanted, "Metal Spell, Dull Spike!"

CRASH!

A square-surfaced thick spike burst from the ground right under Mother Gebbo's chin, it started lifting Mother Gebbo's head setting perfect timing for the Metal Elementalist.

With a glowing grey fist, the Metal Elementalist smiled before he swung his fist powerfully.

BOOM!

Meanwhile, On the other side,

The descendants aside from the ones that are attacking Mother Gebbo are fighting against the Zombies and the humanoid undead, all of them are occupied in their own battles.

Zombies crawl out from everywhere and their numbers are breaking the one hundred marks.

Because of that, the descendants are occupied since amongst the Zombies are early fifth rank ones that are very powerful, especially for an early fifth rank girl who is using her lava spell to survive.

RAARGH!

A Zombie leaped toward the girl right after she deals with another on her front.

She slashes her daggers decapitating the zombie in front of her before her eyes widen when she glances at her back, there's a zombie leaping towards her.

This catches her off guard as she was not ready for a sneak attack from behind,

In desperate measure with the Zombie so close to her, the girl cloaked her body with lava in an attempt to defend herself but she closes her eyes and raised her arms to block knowing that the attack will pierce through.

BOOM!

"KKrghhk!", the girl grunted as she got hit by a dull blade,

Her arms are too high and she got hit since she didn't expect the attack will come to her waist.

The Zombie attacks the girl ignoring the lava that melted its hand, it has no remorse or even the feeling of pain as it kept running at the girl.

But instead of fear, the girl has a shocked expression on her face.

"It doesn't hurt...", she mutters while touching her waist.

Although she might be one of the weakest here, the girl knows her limit and an attack from a peak-fourth rank Zombie that is enhanced by Death Energy would definitely hurt her.

BAM!

The zombie hit her again with the dull sword on her back but nothing happened,

"Lava Magic, Lava Breath!"

SWOOSH!

Her mouth suddenly glows red before she spat lava at the Zombie melting it instantly, she stands up weirdly while looking at her body before her eyes land on Rex.

Rex is fighting with Mother Gebbo with a glowing golden ring on his finger,

The girl even saw Rex glance at her for a moment before he smirks and focuses back on his fight, "He's paying attention to me even though he's in a fight too? He's just amazing"

On another side,

"Fire Demon Art, Ifrit Hellfire Domain!"

Kevin darted his eyes left and right and chanted after seeing so many Zombies surround him, he doesn't have any choice but to activate his fire domain to reduce the Zombies' number.

RAARGHH!

Kraaah!

Many of the Zombies started burning after the ground turns into a sea of dark fire.

The third rank Zombie didn't stand a chance as their entire body instantly melted, while the fourth rank Zombie is also melting but not instantly as they leap to Kevin.

Raarrhh!

Kevin dodges a zombie that leaped towards him perfectly,

But then he saw a humanoid zombie around him, "Shit!", he cursed before he instantly canceled his spell to avoid killing the humanoid ones.

Rex specifically instructed them to not kill the humanoid ones,

After canceling his fire domain spell, Kevin landed on the ground and immediately got jumped by a dozen of Zombies that are opening their mouths filled with saliva.

Kevin's body glows with fire before suddenly,

BOOM!

Dark fire exploded from his body blasting the Zombies around him away like a broken kite.

But then suddenly, a crashing sound can be heard from Kevin's back.

The ground trembles because of this crashing sound as Kevin looks to his back, he saw the Metal Elementalist plant Mother Gebbo's head to the ground making the ground tremble.

Kevin sighs in relief feeling that the fight will be over shortly, but then,

THUD! THUD! THUD!

A rough stepping sound can be heard from his side as he turns his head to the right, then Kevin's eyes widen when he saw a fat zombie is already approaching him fast.

Because of getting distracted, he didn't realize that this fat zombie is after him.

The fat zombie has an unsymmetrical face with a crazed expression on its face, holding somekind of a butcher knife with its intestines dangling from its opened stomach.

BAM!

Kevin got hit since he was caught off guard,

The protective barrier appeared around Kevin's body and protected him, but the fat zombie didn't stop chasing after him while holding the butcher knife up crazily.

Kevin tries to dodge its attacks, but he's not perfect as some hits his protective barrier.

CLANG!

CLANG!

'It's a mid-fifth rank! I can't fight it', Kevin thought as he struggles to break free, the strength of the fat zombie surpasses him even though it should be around mid-fifth rank.

Kevin looks around trying to find help but the others are also occupied.

He realizes that there's not only one fat zombie,

Some other fat zombies just like the one attacking him crawl up from the ground, their bodies are so big that it creates a large hole in the ground.

These fat zombies started rampaging through the battlefield,

No matter if it's another zombie or the other descendants, they attack what they see.

Because of this, Kevin can't quite ask for help from the others, The battlefield is in chaos, and even if he can ask for help the zombies around him block him from the other's vision.

It'll be difficult for the other descendants to even spot him,

CLANG!

The fat zombie landed another attack on Kevin as the protective barrier cracked, he got pushed away a couple of feet because of the attack, rolling on the ground.

But this creates a distance between them,

"Fire Demon Art! Wrath of Hell!", Kevin stands up and chants as his sword turn fiery.

He activates his signature skill without a doubt,

While gritting his teeth desperately, Kevin wanted to swing his sword towards the fat zombie but his eyes widen when he saw the fat zombie's movement.

THUD!

THUD!

Despite the fat appearance, the fat zombie is very agile and fast as it moves its body left and right as if its body is as light as feather.

Before Kevin realized it, the fat zombie is already in front of him.

The crazed smile of the fat zombie makes Kevin's eyes widen, his eyes darted to the fat zombie's hand and saw the butcher knife the fat zombie is holding glows with death energy.

It stopped Kevin's swinging motion canceling the art,

CLANG!

A spark was created from the collision of his sword and the butcher knife, the fat zombie didn't stop as it raises the butcher knife again and swings down powerfully.

BAM!!

CRACK!

The ground beneath Kevin cracked because of the attack,

Even his protective barrier shatter because of the attack, it left him completely open to attack as the fat zombie pulls back its arm with green saliva dripping from its mouth.

Looking at this, Kevin raises his arms to block an incoming attack,

BAM!!

"KRRHK!", Kevin grunted feeling his arms go numb from the punch of the fat zombie, he got sent crashing away hitting a couple of houses on the way before finally stopping.

Kevin falls to his knees as he spits blood to the ground,

Tap!

The crash was brutal and it should break some of his bones but it didn't.

'This gold energy, what is this exactly', Kevin mutters as he saw his body is protected by this gold energy, the attack from the fat zombie that should at least break his arms didn't manage to leave anything besides a bruise.

It doesn't even hurt as he expected.

But while he's looking at the golden energy,

"KEVIN!! WATCH OUT!!", a woman's voice called out to him.

Hearing this, Kevin is surprised as he glances to his left before his eyes widen.

Kevin saw the Mother Gebbo is charging its Death Ray pulling the surrounding death energy, he also saw Evelyn calling for him from the side in a panic.

"Eh?", Kevin mutters, he was dazed by the situation he's in.

Even Rex widens his eyes from the side, he just dashes to the right to avoid the Death Ray to only find Kevin blasted from a house and stop right on the Death Ray path.

Without thinking much, Evelyn dashes towards Kevin madly.

Her eyes turn bloodshot as she gives it her all to reach Kevin,

BOOM!

The ground cracked from where Evelyn is standing, she manages to reach Kevin in the nick of time right before the Death Ray is shot from Mother Gebbo's mouth.

The scarf on her neck started to move, it started coiling around Evelyn.

Kevin and Evelyn are covered by the red scarf as the scarf turns fiery, but the scarf trembles as the Death Ray from Mother Gebbo is nearing them.

'That scarf won't be able to block that', Rex thought as his muscle contracted.

Although he's in mid-air dashing to the right, Rex contracted his muscles with all his might making even his veins bulge with power as his eyes turn fierce.

He fixated his eyes on Evelyn and Kevin as he mutters, 'System, Use Lunar Blessing Storage'

SWOOSH!

Chapter 353 Undead Has Ambition Too

BOOM!

Mother Gebbo got slammed to the ground from the Metal Elementalist punch,

The punch is imbued with earth mana that turns into metal mana, it was a powerful punch that even Rex is quite surprised by the strength behind it.

Rex then look at the four descendants fighting with him in thought,

'Evelyn and Dray are quite fast, they even manage to knock Mother Gebbo to the ground with the help of Vanessa's water spell', he thought.

ROAR!!

Mother Gebbo twists its body on the ground and flicks its spikey bone tail,

Dray saw this as he instantly jumped to dodge it, but Evelyn was not fast enough to dodge the tail sweep but when the tail sweep was about to hit her,

CLANG!

The metal Elementalist landed right in front of her and blocks the attack,

Both of his arms turns grey in color as he blocked the incoming tail sweep, he got pushed a bit but can still withstand the hit giving enough time for Evelyn to dash away.

'He's quite sturdy, his endurance matches mine during the day', Rex thought as he scan the Metal Elementalist guy, he was intrigued by the scene in front of him.

Just like any other branches of Earth-related Awakened,

All of them are known to have strong and sturdy bodies due to their association with Earth Element, and this muscular guy perfectly shows how an Earth Elementalist fights like, they can be called a tanker or protector of the team.

'Adhara and Kyran are fast and hits hard, but my pack doesn't have a support or tanker', Rex thought.

From the fight, he's in right now.

Rex is starting to realize what his pack lack in comparison to this team of descendants.

Although Rex can act as the frontline of his pack, his skill and spell don't really have defensive properties other than strengthening himself.

Protecting the others becomes a difficult thing for Rex, that's why he bought the Tetuka Ring.

His pack really lack a support figure,

Rex glanced to the side and found Morana who is using a spell that summons at least more than a dozen droplets of water around her, the droplets of water then shot to another descendant before all of that descendant injuries got healed.

It's an AoE healing spell, a Great Spell equivalent to Rex's Sky Rupture.

'Hmmm...', Rex hummed on his thought while looking at Morana.

But while he's thinking,

"Watch out! It's going to use the Death Ray again!", Dray shouted after seeing the Mother Gebbo opens its mouth and gathers death energy.

Mother Gebbo is still planted on the ground as the others attacked it from all sides.

Upon looking at Mother Gebbo that is gathering Death Energy crazily, the others jumped out of the way to avoid being hit by the Death Ray.

Even Rex got blasted upon getting hit by it before,

None of them can withstand that Death Ray if even Rex can't do it, so they all jumped away from its head's direction in order to dodge it.

But then suddenly,

BOOM!

Evelyn glances to her side and finds Kevin blasted out of a house before crashing to another house, this happened unexpectedly.

She was stunned for a fraction of a second,

"KEVIN!! WATCH OUT!!", Evelyn shouted before she instantly dashes towards him.

Rex saw Evelyn dashes to Kevin and hugs him before the red scarf around her neck covers their entire bodies, but the Death Ray is nearing them and the red scarf will not be able to withstand it.

'System, Use Lunar Blessing Storage'

<The user's stats has been increased by 80%>

SWOOSH!

Dray and the others don't have the time to help Evelyn as the Death Ray creates a powerful shockwave that pushes them back, they will be too late to help Evelyn.

Evelyn hugs Kevin tightly intending to take the blow, then suddenly,

Under the other's gaze, the Death Ray tilted to the side and missed Evelyn and Kevin just by a couple of inches which surprises them.

They all turn their heads towards Mother Gebbo and find Rex is on its neck

Rex grabs Mother Gebbo's neck with bulging muscles, he squeezes his arms hard and pulls Mother Gebbo's head to the side in order to make the Death Ray miss Evelyn and Kevin.

Since the sun is still shining in the sky, Rex is not as strong.

Like what the system stated before, his default stats only amounted to a mid-sixth rank power and if Rex activates his red force his stats raise to the peak sixth rank.

Mother Gebbo is almost as strong as a mid-sixth rank,

If the Death Energy is not purified then it'll probably reach the peak sixth rank power or even nearing the seventh rank, but thankfully Rex has the elixir on him.

But even without the Death Energy, Mother Gebbo is matching Rex in terms of strength.

It's lacking on the agility part massively but its raw strength is unbelievable, so Rex needs more power to bring himself close to Mother Gebbo and tilts its head away by using Lunar Blessing Storage.

SWISH!!

The Death Ray went on a straight line burning everything that got hit by it,

With the strengthening power from the Lunar Blessing Storage, Rex clenched his arms on Mother Gebbo's head putting every bit of his strength on it.

"Raaargh!!", Rex shouted as he lifts Mother Gebbo by the head.

The descendants who are watching this are stunned including Evelyn and Kevin who just come out of the red scarf, even the Metal Elementalist was shocked to see Rex lifts Mother Gebbo.

After lifting Mother Gebbo including its heavy lower body,

Rex waves his arms and slammed Mother Gebbo to the ground in front of him,

BOOM!

The ground shakes under Mother Gebbo's weight that reaches at least dozens of tons, it got slammed right on its back exposing its chest part where the purple orb lies.

Rex then shouted, "Metal Elementalist guy! Grabs the orb!"

Hearing this, the Metal Elementalist is stunned before he shakes his head and leaps for the orb.

While Rex is holding Mother Gebbo who is struggling to get up, the Metal Elementalist's hand turns into metal and they also got bigger as he reaches for the purple orb.

Rex unsheathed his silver sword and throw it to Mother Gebbo's left-wing,

ROAR!!

Mother Gebbo roared feeling its wing get stabbed by the silver sword, its wing started sizzling.

The Metal Elementalist grabs the purple orb,

And with a pull from the Metal Elementalist, the purple orb got yanked outside as he jumped away to secure the purple orb that is the size of his entire body.

The purple orb sucked the death energy out of Mother Gebbo like a torrent.

It makes Mother Gebbo weak as the Death energy leaves his body, it can only wail painfully while the death energy leaves its body.

Evelyn even almost feel bad for Mother Gebbo,

The pain and sorrow can be heard from its wails before its body become limp.

"Is it dead?", Dray approached Rex as he inspected Mother Gebbo.

But Rex shakes his head and glance at Mother Gebbo, "Nope, it just got weakened heavily by having the purple orb that acts as its power source removed from its body"

"She's as good as dead"

Hearing this, Dray nodded his head but was confused as to why Rex didn't kill it.

"Let me end its suffering", Dray said while approaching Mother Gebbo with his sword.

Rex widen his eyes upon hearing this, he turns his body towards Dray before he grabs his shoulder, "Don't", he said lightly.

Dray tilts his head in confusion, he looks at Rex questioningly.

"As long as you're on my team, big kills such as this Undead will belong to me", Rex continues plainly, he was not going to let Dray steal his Exp.

This makes Dray looks at Rex with a frown, but before he can say anything else the Metal Elementalist guy approaches Rex while holding the purple orb,

He was struggling to approach Rex since he can't see his front due to the purple orb.

Vanessa and Evelyn chuckles lightly when they saw how the Metal Elementalist is holding the purple orb, he's holding the purple orb with two arms and his entire body is blocked.

Rex can't see the Metal Elementalist's face from the front as the Metal Elementalist guy said, "What are we going to do with this?"

But he's facing the wrong way making Rex shakes his head,

"Give me that", Rex said before he was handed the purple orb.

Evelyn on the side then ask while looking at the massive purple orb, "Why did we need to get this purple orb? Does this orb have any hidden benefit?"

"No, I'm going to use it for this", Rex mumbles as steps forward.

He's looking towards the Zombies and the humanoid Undead who are still fighting with the descendants before he shouted, "WHO'S GOING TO BE THE NEXT MOTHER?!"

"Wha?"

"The fuck?"

The others mutter in confusion as he saw Rex holding the purple orb up with one hand.

But their confusion seize to exist when they suddenly saw the Zombies and the humanoid undead turns their attention to Rex, they all instantly stop fighting.

"I know you want it", Rex said with a smile, playing with the purple orb.

RAAGHH!

KRAAHH!

All of them started to run towards Rex crazily,

They're pushing and bumping each other as they fixated their gaze on the purple orb, none of them wants to miss this opportunity.

'Even Undead has ambition too', Rex thought with a smile.

When he read about the Undead on the system, Rex also read that the undead can get stronger by absorbing death energy other undead has gathered by either killing them or absorbing their death energy.

Killing other undead is easier than absorbing their death energy,

But Mother Gebbo is one of the Undead that has an orb that stores its death energy, this makes it easier for other undead to absorb its death energy upon death or a situation like this.

'Since we're at war, the Undead King definitely forbids them killing each other', Rex thought.

Based on the system information about the undead, Rex got a realization when he remember that humans are at war with the Supernatural.

He assumed that the Undead King forbid them from killing each other to become stronger.

The only way an undead can become stronger without stealing death energy from other undead is to absorb death energy, but the process is slow and they need to kill humans to do that.

Now that Rex is standing in front of the army of undead amounting to more than a hundred.

Rex confirms his assumption is true, the undead reaction says it all.

'This is an orb equivalent to a rank sixth undead, they definitely won't miss this chance to absorb it and become a sixth rank undead themselves', Rex thought as he grins nastily.

But that is not the only reason Rex takes the purple orb,

"Look! Something is happening to the undead", Vanessa pointed at a humanoid undead.

The humanoid undead wobbles for a moment, the nape area of the humanoid undead started to bulge before an undead burst from it.

Seeing this, Rex grins becomes even wider.

It's the undead inside them that controls them, Rex is planning to lure them out.

"MORANA! HEAL THE BODIES THAT THE LITTLE UNDEAD CAME OUT FROM!", Rex shouted surprising Morana who is looking at the scene in shock.

Hearing this, Morana glance around and understand what Rex is saying.

She started to chant her spell that summons the droplets of water like before, the droplets then went to the bodies that has already had the little undead removed.

After instructing Morana, Rex puts down the purple orb in front of him.

"Let's end this shall we?", Rex mutters as his eyes started cracking with black lightning.

The descendants saw the air turns cold right after Rex said that, they then looks up to the sky and saw a small dark cloud appear out of nowhere despite the bright sun behind it.

BLITZ!

Rex called out Devo making the black lightning around him blast with more power.

A cloudy spirit appeared behind Rex that emits a powerful suppression, Dray looks at the spirit as his eyes widen in shock which turns into awe after a few seconds.

Even Evelyn is also surprised, this is the second time that they saw Rex's spirit.

But even though it's their second time, they're still mesmerized and surprised by the sheer energy coming from Devo that can suppress other spirits easily.

As for the other descendants that are looking at Devo for the first time,

Their jaw dropped feeling the energy coming from Devo, not one of their spirit can match Devo who is looking at the army of undead with his cold eyes.

RUMBLE!

Rex holds his hands up before two other dark clouds appeared in the sky,

The mana that is gathering on his hands makes the descendants feel heavy, it's simply enormous, the amount of mana that Rex gathered on his hands.

"I wonder if I will level up after this", Rex mumbles,

His body then blasted with black lightning before he chanted, "Great Lightning Spell"

"Sky Rupture Assortment!!"

CRACK

Three black lightning bolt strikes down from the dark clouds that are as thick as a car, it can be seen clearly that the Sky Rupture has become stronger than before.

All of the descendants closed their ears with their hands when the lightning bolt strikes down.

It makes their ears ring madly since the black lightning strike just breaks the sound barrier.

But right after they closed their ears,

BOOM!!

BOOM!!

BOOM!!

The three sky rupture spells strike down right on the army of Undead and destroyed the ground, these black lightning bolts pierce through the undead easily vaporizing their entire body to ash.

Nothing can stand on the black lightning bolts way,

Even the ground was at the mercy of the black lightning strikes, the shockwaves created by the lightning bolt also blasted the descendants away except for the metal Elementalist guy.

But even he got pushed back even though he had already made his body heavier.

After the impact is over and the descendants recover,

Evelyn, Dray, and the Metal Elementalist are the ones that stand up first before they sucked in a cold breath when they saw the aftermath of the Sky Rupture spell.

The ground is sliced open as if a huge knife stabs the ground,

Nothing was left in more than a five hundred feet radius, only debris from the ground and houses was left from the aftermath of Rex's spell.

There's no sight of the Undead anywhere, they all got obliterated by Rex's spell.

"Just what kind of talent does he have", Dray mutters in shock.

The Metal Elementalist also looks at the scene with a surprised look, "I know that he's strong, but this is just ridiculous. Is that really just a Great Spell?"

"I really need to get him", Evelyn mumbles as she looks at Rex standing amidst the destruction.

Chapter 354 Amplified Quest Reward

Evelyn's eyes blaze as she looks at Rex standing amidst the destruction,

Her heart flutters while seeing Rex's wide back and his indifferent expression, she was completely mesmerized by the air of mystery that surrounded Rex.

'I've seen his report, but just how did he become so strong', she thought.

Evelyn then saw Rex walking towards them and stopping right in front of Mother Gebbo, 'Is it because of being a Werewolf? No...there must be something else', Evelyn shakes her head.

While feeling the gaze of the descendants, Rex is maintaining his calm expression.

But this time it's quite hard to maintain his expression as he looks around with a hint of worry, 'Maybe three Sky Rupture at the same time is still out of my league', Rex thought.

Since he got stronger compared to before, Rex tries to use three Sky Rupture at the same time.

His heart is beating so fast because when the lightning bolts strike down, Rex was unable to control the trajectory completely.

That is why one of his Sky Rupture spells landed close to the descendants,

Rex got lucky because the humanoid undead that Morana just healed is far enough from the army of Undead, if not he might just kill a couple of humans which will be his fault.

[You moron, Don't act tough when you just got lucky]

'Shut the fuck up you rattletrap spirit!', Rex cursed feeling embarrassed by his display.

Hearing this, Devo was at a loss for words for a second, [I may be old but don't compare me to humans age, even adding another 20 thousand years to my age I still won't be as a moron as you]

Rex instantly suppressed Devo's consciousness making Devo's voice fade away.

He pulls his silver sword from Mother Gebbo before he walks around Mother Gebbo and stops right beside its head.

Mother Gebbo has become as weak as a baby,

Its head tilted towards Rex weakly, Mother Gebbo growls lightly that surprisingly has a hint of pleading on its tone as if it's asking Rex for mercy.

But seeing what Mother Gebbo did to the humans, Rex didn't have a heart for mercy.

SLASH!

Rex's silver sword cut through Mother Gebbo's head cleanly decapitating it, even with its tough bones Mother Gebbo is still a Supernatural that is weak to Silver.

<Killed an Enhanced Early Sixth Rank Supernatural, Obtained 8,000,000 Exp>

The system gave the notification after Rex killed Mother Gebbo,

After killing Mother Gebbo, Rex looks around and finds that the people that Morana healed are starting to wake up from the influence of the little undead inside their heads.

<Sudden Quest, Mother Gebbo has been completed!>

<Calculating the quest reward...>

While the system is calculating the reward, Evelyn approaches him with steady steps.

"So you use the purple orb to lure that undead out to save these people huh?", Evelyn mumbles as she looks at the people that are back on their own feet.

Rex nodded his head while also looking at the people,

Some of the people have missing parts of their bodies because of the Death Energy possessing them, some lost their eyes, some lose one of their legs, but it's all inevitable.

It's because of the possession of the Undead,

Amongst others, there are some that died even though Morana already healed them to the point that they should live albeit missing a few parts.

But more than half of them has already awoken and healed enough so they won't die,

'Asking Morana to heal them all completely including their missing body parts will be too much, they should be thankful for this much', Rex thought while eyeing the people that are starting to panic about their lost body parts.

Morana still needs to reserve her mana, maybe after finishing the quest she can help.

Especially since Rex just felt powerful death energy just now, it's coming from a couple of miles away from their position but it shouldn't be the seventh rank undead.

Seeing Rex's not paying attention to her, Evelyn sighed as she said, "Thank you"

Hearing this, Rex glance at Evelyn in confusion before Evelyn continues, "If not for you, the Death Ray will hit us and I don't know what I'll do if that happened"

Rex looks at her in confusion, 'She'll not die even if she gets hit by the Death Ray'

But then suddenly, Rex glance to his side and found Kevin that is sitting down on the ground while getting treated by Morana's spell.

"Kevin is the next head of the family, and I love him as much as I love Luke", Evelyn mumbles.

Her voice is slightly trembling as she recalls the Death Ray before, thinking of Kevin getting hurt makes her body jolt, "If anything happens to him, I- I..."

"Nothing will happen to him", Rex intervenes confidently.

Evelyn widen her teary eyes that can be seen through her helmet, she looks at Rex for a couple of seconds before he added, "Nothing will happen to you too"

The words that came from Rex's mouth turned Evelyn's cheeks red,

Rex can't see this through her helmet as Evelyn looks away blushing, she was putting her head down as her heart pounds faster like a war drum.

While Rex on the other hand turns his gaze around, 'I can't let anyone of them die'

'Sebrof will definitely take advantage of the years of serving under the UWO if any descendants die, by the looks of things I think I need more than just the ring', Rex thought.

Because the higher rank family was taken by Gerrard including the more powerful descendants.

The descendants on Rex's team are not as strong, many of them are early sixth rank with a couple that is still in the fifth rank realm and even one of them is still in the fourth rank realm.

Only Dray and the Metal Elementalist guy are in mid-sixth rank.

Evelyn is on the verge of a breakthrough to mid-sixth rank, but she's still an early sixth rank.

While Rex is thinking of how to assure the safety of the descendants, Evelyn on his side is playing with her feet thinking about what Rex said earlier which still disturbs her feelings.

But Rex is oblivious to this as he glances to the left and saw the other descendants.

The Sky Rupture spells of his are surely flashy,

The couple of descendants that are protecting Fordie along with Delta came to them, it makes Rex quite annoyed but he can't blame them.

"You shouldn't come here and just wait there", Rex said while unsheathing his silver sword.

The descendants look at the surroundings in surprise since the battle scars can be seen clearly, they were dazed for a moment before they focus back on Rex.

One of them, the woman using white fire earlier then replied, "It was my suggestion"

"I thought that you guys needed help, we saw the lightning spell the undead use and thought that you need a hand", the woman added.

But hearing this, Rex frowns, 'Undead lightning spell? Is she talking about Sky Rupture?'

"The one that cast them is not the Undead, but it's Rex's spell", Evelyn said from the side making the woman stiff, she was not expecting this.

With a wry smile, the woman then said, "Oh, It's my fault then..."

A moment later,

<Quest reward calculation complete!>

<Obtained 250,000,000 Exp, Essence Bone, High-rank Selection Box, and Revered Lightning Flo>

<Congratulations! The user saved humans possessed by the undead!>

<Reward will be amplified, Calculating...>

<Obtained 1,000,000,000 Exp, Gebbo Bone Essence 10x, High-rank Selection Box 3x, Absolute Hallowed Flo of Lightning>

The system notifications keep popping into Rex's vision, the notifications surprise Rex.

Not only does this is the first time the quest reward has been amplified, but the amount of reward that he got puts a smile on Rex's face.

Before the notification started appearing,

Rex already told the other descendants to recuperate for about ten minutes before resuming their way to the northwest, some of them are tired so Rex decided to let them rest.

It's not their fault though since the zombies' numbers are overwhelming,

Dray, Evelyn, and the Metal Elementalist might just wipe them easily but the others can't, especially since the fat zombie appears which is a fifth rank Undead.

Because of that, some of the descendants sustain injuries.

Kevin also already thanked Rex for saving him from the Death Ray, and Rex accepted it.

Rex is now sitting on the ground while leaning on a house wall, he's quite far from the others since the survivors are hectic but this makes it perfect for Rex to check the items.

He instantly takes the first item from the inventory, Gebbo Bone Essence.

p Unlike what Rex expected of an item called Gebbo Bone Essence, what appeared in his hand is an ampule with a cream substance inside of it.

Without inspecting the appearance for too long, Rex then read the description.

<Gebbo Bone Essence>

The essence is extracted from important bone parts coming from a sixth rank Undead Mother Gebbo. Aside from inheriting the durability of Mother Gebbo's bones, upon consumption, Gebbo Bone Essence will strengthen one's bone structure and even grow additional bones made specifically for fighting. Only Supernatural and Mutated Animals can consume this.

Reading this, Rex rubs his chin in thought, 'Growing additional bones for fighting?'

'What does this part mean?', Rex asks.

<Just like the description stated, upon consuming Gebbo Bone Essence the ones that consume it will have their bones strengthen increasing their endurance stat and also growing additional bones for fighting>

<This varies depending on the one that consumes this, but the bones usually will burst from their bodies forming somekind of natural weapon>

Rex shakes his head upon hearing this,

Although the increase in endurance stat is good, the other effect of growing bones for fighting doesn't sit well with Rex especially since the system said that the bones will burst from his body.

It doesn't matter if he can use the bones as a weapon since it will make him inhuman-like.

'Wait mutated animal? Giving this to Delta might be good', Rex thought, he glance at Delta who is lying on his side while looking in a direction.

Rex followed the direction and find that she was looking at the purple orb,

Since none of the undead manages to reach the orb to consume it, the purple orb is idly lying on the ground where Rex puts it before.

'System, how do I help Delta evolve?', Rex asks.

<Information will cost 10,000 Gold, Do the user want to proceed?>

'Yes', Rex replied without thinking much.

<Mutated animals will increase in strength over time they are living, but this process can be amplified by eating other mutated animals or other enhancement>

Rex then glance at Delta before he thought, 'I'll let Delta eat the purple orb later then'

After deciding to make Delta eat the purple orb, Rex then opens his inventory and takes out the other item that he got.

He's curious about this one since it has lightning on its name,

The item is also another substance inside an ampule that is blitzing with unfamiliar lightning, Rex looks at this with great interest since this might evolve his lightning element.

<Absolute Hallowed Flo of Lightning>

This item is a type of holy water that is merged with an absolute holy lightning remnant for a long period of time which results in this item. This item will give not only holy energy to the one that uses it but also becomes familiar with the Hallowed Lightning element.

Reading this, Rex becomes ecstatic since the description makes it likely for this item to be used in upgrading his lightning into a higher rank element, 'Can I use this to upgrade my element?'

But Rex's ecstatic expression dimmed reading the system's answer,

<There is no listed element that can be produced from applying Absolute Hallowed Flo of Lightning to Black Lightning, the composition of both sides doesn't match>

'Damn, Should I really buy it from the shop?', Rex thought with a sigh.

When Rex was about to check the last item, the system suddenly added,

<Absolute Hallowed Flo of Lightning can be used as an enhancement for evolving Delta>

Upon reading this, Rex glance at Delta in surprise as she too looks at Rex but instead of surprise, she's looking at Rex by tilting her head in confusion.

"Delta, Do you want to match Dray's white tiger?", Rex asks.

Hearing this, Delta's eyes turns bright as she nodded her head repeatedly while wagging her tail like a dog as if she understand what Rex is saying.

With a smile, Rex then stands up, "Alright then, follow me!"

Rex and Delta walk towards the purple orb under the descendants' gaze.

They all are looking at Rex while resting,

Seve is also looking at Rex intently and he smiles when Rex glances at him and meets his eyes.

After arriving in front of the big purple orb, Rex then glance at Delta before he points at the purple orb, "You can eat this, go ahead don't be shy"

Growl!

Delta growls excitedly seeing Rex gives her permission to eat the purple orb.

'How will it fit in her mouth?', Rex thought in confusion, even with Delta's body the purple orb will not fit in her mouth since it's very big.

But before Rex let Delta try, "Here, eat this first"

Rex takes out the ten Gebbo Bone Essence that he got and also the Absolute Hallowed Flo of Lightning item, he signals for Delta to open her mouth and she obediently follows Rex's signal.

Delta opens her mouth before Rex poured all of the items into her mouth,

Upon tasting the item that Rex poured, Delta clamp down her mouth and smack her lips a couple of times, "It doesn't taste good is it?", Rex smiles wryly.

Just from Delta's expression alone, he knows that it doesn't taste good.

Rex then points back at the purple orb before Delta bit through the purple orb.

BITE!

SWOOSH!

Death Energy instantly burst from the purple orb as Delta's fangs tore through it, this happened while the descendants are watching them from the sides.

The Death Energy got sucked into Delta's mouth fueling her with powerful energy.

Even Rex steps back from the ordeal while looking at Delta whose aura is getting stronger by the second, her aura started to near the sixth rank as her eyes turn white.

Aside from the Death Energy, white lightning started sizzling on her body.

It's the energy from the item Rex fed her before, and somehow the Death Energy got turned into holy energy instead after getting exposed to the white lightning.

CRACK!

Delta's eyes turn into white lightning as the ground below her cracked,

Then out of nowhere, lightning mana started to gather around her before encompassing her entire body just like a cocoon.

Rex and the descendants can't see Delta's body anymore,

While witnessing this scene, a smile crept on Rex's face as Delta's aura broke through the early sixth rank mark, 'Now that I think about it, this will definitely help me in keeping the descendants safe', Rex thought.

Although he's wearing the golden Ring of Tetuka,

Rex is still nothing but just one man, and he can't keep an eye on everyone aside from using his senses to feel if someone is in danger.

But with the addition of Delta, his task will definitely get easier.

"This aura that I'm feeling coming from the white cocoon, I wonder what will Delta looks like after finishing her evolution", Rex mumbles excitedly.

Chapter 355 Survivors

Rex smiles while looking at the white cocoon in front of him,

The process of Delta evolving is quite flashy and even the descendants are curious about what she will look like after the evolution, it's not an everyday thing to see a mutated animal evolve like this.

Just from the power alone, Delta should reach around early or mid-sixth rank.

While standing on the side, Rex then asks the system as he touches the white cocoon that feels like a solid object even though it's made of mana, 'How long will the evolution takes?'

<Scanning...>

<Approximately a few hours but it might take the whole day>

'What?! The whole day?!', Rex exclaimed inside his head.

One of the reasons he helps Delta evolve is to help him keep the descendants safe, but if it takes all day he will need to protect the descendants on his own.

Especially the fourth rank little girl that is the most likely to die.

While touching the white cocoon, Rex then thought, 'It's quite sturdy, the fifth rank or even a sixth rank won't be able to penetrate through. I can leave her here for the moment'

He can feel the lightning mana surrounding Delta, and it's quite enormous.

Rex shakes his head as he thought of a solution, he then walks towards the descendants as their eyes land on Rex before checking the time to see if the ten minutes is up.

They have a bit more time but they didn't complain seeing that Rex was about to approach them.

"Alright listen up!", Rex said loudly attracting their attention.

Some of the survivors also look at him from the side but Rex ignored them, their main mission is to take out the five Undead companies and it takes the first priority.

With the five Undead companies still here, the survivors will be in constant fear.

They don't have anywhere to go and the city is already trashed, a roaming undead might just visit this place and kills them all off since they have no Awakened amongst them.

Even the weakest of the weakest Undead can wipe them all out,

Rex gaze at each of the descendants' eyes before he instructed, "We'll start moving now, the location of the five companies of undead are still unknown and we must find them"

"We also need to find the SCO, but they should come from the east"

"So we're going to scout the northwest direction while waiting for the SCO, split into a team of two and if you got lost just go back here in about a couple of hours"

While Rex is saying this to the descendants, one of the survivors, a woman with a missing arm approaches him from the side with a fearful look, "Y-You're going to leave us?"

"Are you insane?! You are from the UWO, you have to help us!", another survivor added.

Hearing this, Rex sighed since he already expected this much, "We have a mission here, this girl right here will be here until we come back so don't worry", Rex pointed at the little Lava Elementalist girl.

Fordie is still passed out and the little girl is a fourth rank Awakened,

Since the city has been cleared from all of the Undead, it should be relatively safe here aside from an unexpected situation.

The little girl was surprised that she got pointed at but she understands why.

Scouting unknown places are very dangerous, and she can't possibly prepare for an ambush from the Undead with her powers even with the battle equipment she's using.

"This little girl?", a man said looking at the little girl up and down.

There's a judging look on his face while looking at the little girl before he added, "Just from her looks alone, she's probably the weakest amongst you. Are you leaving us with just her?"

"What will happen if a strong Undead came?", the woman added angrily.

The survivors started to becker helping the man and the woman, it's quite shocking to see these kinds of people since normal humans usually revered them as a deity.

But nevertheless, the fear of dying overwhelms them more than the latter.

'I really don't like their tone', Rex thought as his expression turns darkened, but he didn't show it clearly since they're normal humans that only did this out of fear for their lives.

Evelyn saw Rex's darkened expression as she was about to intervene.

Although Evelyn trust that Rex is a reasonable person, she's still concerned since Rex is a Werewolf which is a Supernatural species that is widely known for their anger issues.

Some of the terrifying Werewolf has powers that make them stronger the angrier they get.

Evelyn didn't know what kind of Werewolf Rex is, but judging from his strength it's clear that he's not a lower rank one such as Omegas or Betas.

'I need to stop this, he's definitely an Alpha', Evelyn thought as she prepares to step in.

But then suddenly, one of the survivors, a brown-haired woman steps forward.

She then stepped in front of the arguing woman and man and said softly, "We don't need to fight, they have a mission here and we're standing on their way"

"We should be thankful that we're alive"

Hearing this, the survivors snickers but they still shut their mouths albeit reluctantly.

"Thank you for saving us, we hope you can deal with the Undead as soon as possible and know that my prayers are always directed to you", the woman face Rex and said with a smile.

Rex sighs while scratching his head,

His eyes then fall to some little kids that are hiding behind their parents, frowning for a moment Rex then looks at the descendants and points, "You, Metal Elementalist guy!"

"Just call me Tyrice", the Metal Elementalist guy, Tyrice said with a wry smile.

But Rex ignores him and said, "You and your brother will stay here too, and also keep an eye on my pet, Delta"

After saying that, Rex turns back to the survivors again.

"That Metal Elementalist and his brother will be here to keep you guys safe, in the meantime, you should find a place to hide until we finish our mission. There's no more problem with these two right?", Rex said while looking directly at the man and woman before.

Tyrice who heard this then shouted, "TYRICE! MY NAME IS TYRICE!", but Rex ignored him again.

Seeing this, the man and the woman nods their heads.

Tyrice and his brother are muscular, they have dark skin with sixth rank powers.

Both of them are a Metal Elementalist and a Diamond Elementalist respectively, they look reliable since they seem the oldest one here, and also their spells are defense-related so keeping them here will be the best option.

"Alright, let's move out!", Rex shouted.

A moment later,

Rex and the other descendants are dashing through a flat plain,

Before Rex leaves the city, he has already given the Elixir of Light to the ones that still haven't got their weapons cloaked with light elements yet.

It'll be useful to fight against the undead,

"Rex this is bad", Evelyn said from the side,

Hearing this, Rex also nodded his head as he looks at his surrounding, "We're completely out in the open", he mumbles with a worried look.

Rex and the other descendants are dashing in a flat plain,

This kind of terrain is the worst for scouting since any Undead can see them from afar, they might not even realize that they're already spotted.

"Should we make a detour there?", Dray points at a forest a couple of miles from their positions.

Since Eqosa City is built on a hill, the Undead main camp should be in the forest.

Rex can even see Eqosa City on the hill from this position, it looks fine at first but upon closer inspection, he can see that the walls surrounding Eqosa City are in a bad state.

It's the aftermath from the battle that happened here before,

Upon thinking this, Rex shakes his head, "The Undead main camp should be there, it'll be too dangerous if any of you encounter the seventh rank undead"

But Rex can't help but look in the forest direction, he is thinking about something.

Seve and Evelyn saw this expression of his, it's not clear but they can feel that Rex is intending to do something but still deliberating about it.

After thinking for a moment, Rex decided to just keep moving first.

The further they move forward, they started to encounter many human skeletons lying on the barren ground unattended.

It's clear that the fight spread even to here,

Cough! Cough!

Many of the descendants started coughing and becoming nauseous when they smell the rotten and death-like smell lingering in the air, but Rex has to admit that it's quite hazardous.

"Smell this", Rex said taking out a fragrant flower that instantly seeped into the others' nose.

Before coming to this mission Rex already prepared everything that he can think of, one of them is if the descendants can't handle the smell of rotting flesh leftover from the battles here.

The descendants take one whiff of the flower before their nauseousness disappear.

Rex then handed the flower to Dray who is confused while receiving it before he said, "You guys should keep going forward, the Great Barricade is that way so the Werewolf reinforcement should be around there"

"Some Undead companies should be guarding there, after finding cover then you can split up and scout them out. Dray will be in charge until I got back and don't forget to kill any stranded Undead you find"

"Where are you going?", Evelyn asks from the side.

Hearing this, Rex glanced to the forest area on the other side before he replied, "I'm going to check the forest, Gerrard's team should be there"

"Then why are you going there?", Dray asks in confusion.

If Gerrard's team is already in the forest, then there will be no reason for Rex to go there.

They should just find the other companies outside of the forest and just let the companies in the forest be dealt with by Gerrard, but Rex has another reason, "I need to give him something"

"The seventh rank undead, I have a bad feeling from it", he added.

After Rex's persuasion, the descendants finally nodded their heads before Rex gave them a crystal he bought from the system that will send a distress signal to the sky.

It will notify Rex that they're in danger,

But then suddenly,

"Let me come with you!"

"Let me come with you!"

Evelyn and Maurice suddenly said at the same time, they look at each other in surprise before turning their heads towards Rex who is also caught off guard.

Shaking his head, Rex then said, "I'll go alone, it's too dangerous to come with me"

But Rex's eyes then landed on Maurice who seem to want to say something, he was signaling something but Rex still can't bring him there.

Maurice is wearing an eye patch, he follows Rex's command earlier.

Thanks to his bravery in gauging his eyes out with his bare hands, Rex decided to let Maurice heal one of his eyes respecting his courage.

'Does he want to talk about the Platchi Family's decision?', Rex thought.

He then shakes his head, 'I can't let him come with me, I need them to not follow me'

"Just stick with your assigned mission, scout the Undead companies, and don't make direct contact with them just pinpoint their location", Rex said.

He then continues with a serious expression, "Don't die, and make sure to come back if it's already night no matter the circumstances"

Moments later,

Rex just arrived at the forest alone,

The smile on his face can't be contained as he smells the particular scent on the air, 'I can't let them accompany me, this is the perfect chance to raise my level!'

With so many Undead around here, Rex can definitely raise his level a couple of times.

Even with the 1 billion exp that he got from the amplified quest reward earlier, he still needs a bit more to raise his level so he will use this time to grind some exp.

'I'll quickly raise my level before I go to that Delarosa Family', Rex thought.

There's a time limit for completing his Berserk Quest, although it's still long Rex doesn't intend to wait too long since he needs to save Rosie.

Rosie's well being kept bugging his minds lately,

After nearing the particular scent that he's following, Rex stops beside a tree and hides while he opened the last reward he got from the amplified quest before.

'In case something bad happened, Let's check out the box first', he thought.

The High-Rank Selection Box,

Rex has only got two box items from the system, and they're certainly good.

And seeing that this item has a selection on its name, Rex already expected that he will be given a choice to choose from the content of this High-Rank Selection Box.

Thanks to the amplified quest, Rex got three of these boxes.

Rex summons the box from the inventory before a bronze box appears in his hand.

The box is bronze in color with wolf head and moon carvings, it doesn't emit a particular aura but Rex saw that there's a Silverstar symbol just like the ones on Adhara's neck on it.

It's the symbol that Rex decided before making the Silverstar Pack,

"Let's check what's the options", Rex mutters as he opened the box slowly before suddenly,

SWISH!!

White energy escapes the bronze box after Rex opened it, the white energy then gathers in front of him forming three objects with a description from the system below it that makes Rex's eyes widen in surprise.

Rex looks at the three objects before he leans on the tree, "This is..."

Chapter 356 Reckless Kid

Swish!

The white energy that came out of the box and form three different objects in front of Rex, his eyes widen when he looks at the three objects with descriptions in front of him.

"This is... This is a great reward!", he mutters as his eyes turn excited.

Rex looks at the three options in front of him with bright eyes, he glances at the options from left to right as he thought, 'I got three of these boxes, does the reward generated will be random?'

'If they don't then can I have all three of these?'

In front of Rex lies three items,

The left one shows a weirdly beautiful amulet that is shaped like an eye with a dark dot in the middle, it's obviously a piece of equipment but when Rex read the description he finally realizes what this amulet is.

<Amulet of Sorrow>

An amulet that is imbued and worn by Whiro the Wicked Being of Death, this amulet is a seventh rank item that can manipulate the power of sorrow, anguish, misery, sadness, despair, and other related emotions. The wearer can draw power from others' agony.

Gives the user an active skill Malefic and gains a passive skill Torment Sense, wearing multiple items of Whiro the Wicked Being of Death will amplify its effect.

Rex read the description of the amulet and finds that this amulet is related to his Whiro Necklace of Fear, he remembers that Whiro has three items and the other one is this amulet.

'Amplify effect? Then should I test the box by picking this?', Rex thought.

The other two items are sixth rank armor while the other one is an item that gives an absolute exp to his body parts including his claws, eyes, and body.

Out of the three, the one that interests Rex the most is the Amulet of Sorrow.

Without thinking much, Rex picked the Amulet of Sorrow before the other two items disappeared into nothingness as the Amulet of Sorrow glows.

After a flash, the Amulet of Sorrow appeared in Rex's hand.

Upon looking at the Amulet of Sorrow directly, Rex finds that the amulet turns out to be blue in color with a black dot in the middle that makes it looks like an eye. Pale white energy swirls inside the amulet as Rex brings it up to the sun.

The pale white energy adds attractiveness to the amulet as Rex asks the system, 'How do I use this? Do I just need to have it on me?'

<The user can merge it with Whiro Necklace of Fear>

Rex takes the necklace before he brings it closer to the amulet,

As the Amulet of Sorrow and Whiro Necklace of Fear got closer to each other, Rex can see a slight tremble of energy in between the two items.

It's like the energies between the two items are react to each of their presence,

When the necklace and the amulet touch each other, Rex can see both items got enveloped with their respective energies before they merge into one item.

Rex didn't need to wait for too long before the item finished its merging process.

Now what lies in Rex's hand is just a necklace with the Amulet of Sorrow as its pendant decorating the necklace, it's very beautiful even though it should be a wicked item.

<Amulet of Sorrow and Whiro Necklace of Fear have successfully merged>

<Necklace of Despair has been created!>

<Congratulation on merging two items of Whiro the Wicked Being of Death!>

<Wicked Aura and Malefic have been combined into a higher-rank skill, Decimation Fervor>

<Bonus effect from equipping two of Whiro's items, mental stats have been increased by 120 instead of 30, Bleak Sense and Torment Sense area of effect has been increased to 1000 feet>

Reading this, Rex was ecstatic since he just got many upgrades.

Not only did he get new skills but the necklace effect has also been amplified, it increases his mental by 120 instead of the former 30 points which is four times the amount!

It's not a mistake to pick this item instead of the other ones before.

Rex now only needs to get the last item to complete Whiro's set, and he will definitely try and find it at the shop later before he went to the Vampire Territory.

After assessing what he got, he immediately opens the other two boxes.

The items coming out of the box are different every time unlike what Rex has expected, and he picked two items from the options which are a Skill Upgrade Ticket and a skill called Extreme State.

<Extreme State>

Allows the user to put the user's body in an extreme state for five minutes, in this state all of the user's senses will be sharpened and the user will also gain the ability to sense the enemy's weakness. Using this skill will weaken the user for half a day.

Rex was enticed by this skill since it'll be useful as a trump card,

In the future when he will be going to the Delarosa Family, he will need this kind of skill if he encounters a way stronger Vampire either to run or fight.

Although the cost is great, this will be a good skill for desperate measures.

'Let's upgrade the Ruler of the Night passive skill', Rex thought as he open his skill tree and tap the upgrade button on the Ruler of the Night skill.

The Skill Upgrade Ticket is a ticket that allows Rex to upgrade any existing skill,

One of Rex's most valuable skills is the Ruler of the Night skill that has just been upgraded from Creature of the Night, it's the skill that makes him stronger at night.

After upgrading the skill,

Ruler of the Night skill turns into a Supreme Skill, Sovereign of the Night.

Sovereign of the night skill will increase Rex's stats by 200% during his Werewolf Form and 130% during his human form, it's a huge increase from the Ruler of the Night skill.

'This skill is my core skill, I can't believe it can still be upgraded', Rex thought.

Although this skill has been upgraded two times already, there's still the upgradeable sign beside the skill which means there's a higher-level skill than this one.

Rex can't find the end of it, and he can't imagine how much increase for the next one.

Finishing the high-rank box selection that he got, Rex then opens his stats tab to see the increase that he experienced.

<Rex Silverstar>

Pack: Silverstar (2/5)

Level: 41 (2,050,500,000/2,300,000,000)

Race: Royal Black Werewolf

Full-Moon: 29 Days - Wolf Moon

Berserk: 30%

Sanity: 67%

Mental: 315 (+131)

Strength: 670 (+241)

Agility: 416 (+191)

Endurance: 646 (+463)

Intelligence: 743 (+120)

The stats look much higher than before thanks to the equipment that he's wearing, he almost looks like a real seventh rank except for the intelligence part which is still a bit lacking.

After checking his stats, Rex suddenly turns his head to the right,

Because of getting the Torment Sense and the range area is also upgraded, he can feel someone is feeling immense sadness from his side.

'The undead won't go anywhere, I need to check if it's one of the descendants', Rex thought.

SWOOSH!

Taking one last look at the particular smell that he's following before, Rex then dashes towards the direction that emits a very thick sadness aura that he felt.

Rex dashes in the forest like a shadow,

It didn't take long before he can hear someone talking, he was nearing the source of the sadness aura that he felt.

"Are you out of your mind? This is suicide if we go any further, the Undead will notice us and we will instantly die! How can you fight them?!"

"I'm not going back until I find him"

"Leo! Please just listen to me, we can't be here!"

A woman's voice and a guy's voice can be heard quarreling, Rex frown when he heard this as he deduces that it's not one of the descendants, 'Why is a civilian here? Are they asking to die?'

Rex picks up his face before he stops beside a tree,

He can see a guy that the woman called Leo that looks to be around Kyran's age and a woman older than Leo, the sadness came from both of them.

But the thicker one is from the woman,

The guy called Leo has a violent expression power walking with a beaten up sword in his hand, just from a scan Rex realizes that the sword is a rank zero sword.

It doesn't have the durability of a regular sword, and it's on the brink of shattering.

Rex follows the two from the dark, he's following the two of them since they seem to be looking for someone and there's a chance that they know where the battle has taken place.

If that's true then Rex can find one of the Undead companies,

Albeit finding the Undead company, Rex suddenly saw the two came across an undead.

The undead is a colossus skeleton that stands around 12 feet tall, it's towering the two like an elephant making the woman falls to the ground in surprise.

Dark Energy is sizzling around the colossus skeleton,

Bone spikes that sprouted from the colossus skeleton's spine make it looks menacing, its glowing red eyes are like the stare of death in the two perspectives.

Instead of cowering away, Leo holds his fragile sword in front of him steadily.

"LEO! WE NEED TO RUN!!", the woman exclaimed after she snapped out of her daze, the colossus skeleton in front of them is not something normal people like them can fight.

But instead of listening to the woman, Leo stands his ground like a mad man.

'He's going to die, that's a fifth rank skeleton and he's just a normal human', Rex thought as he shakes his head, it's just futile to try and fight the colossus skeleton.

Looking at the two humans, the colossus skeleton faces them slowly.

Leo gritted his teeth before charging like a raging bull, he swings the sword with all his might at the colossus skeleton's shin but it didn't go as expected,

CLANG!

The fragile sword shatters as if it were nothing but a toy sword,

It's already expected since it's a rank zero sword while the colossus skeleton in front of them is the fifth rank, the fragile sword is bound to be broken.

But out of Rex's expectation, Leo's expression didn't change.

Leo then tackle the colossus skeleton's leg with all the strength he can muster, the woman started crying hysterically while witnessing this.

Even knowing that he can't beat the colossus skeleton, Leo didn't stop.

The colossus skeleton looks at Leo with a blank look, it's clear that the colossus skeleton is playing around with Leo as it swats Leo away.

BAM!

"Aaargh!", Leo got swatted away like a bug hitting the tree beside him.

He coughed out a mouthful of blood feeling his bones crack,

The scene in front of Rex shows just how much the difference between a normal human and a Supernatural, and this makes him a little bit pissed.

"Leo please, let's just run...", the woman pleaded.

But Leo stands up in difficulty before he looks at the colossus undead, "BRING BACK BACK MY FATHER YOU DAMN SUPERNATURAL!", he shouted,

His roar is loud despite the blood leaking out of his mouth,

The colossus skeleton heard this but doesn't react, Leo is like a bug buzzing on its ears.

"I SWEAR! I WILL KILL YOU EVEN IF IT COST MY LI-", before Leo can finish his threat, a streak of black lightning went past his vision,

CRASH!

Both Leo and the woman widen their eyes when they realized what just happened.

Rex appeared in front of them like a ghost showing his wide back, the silver sword is unsheathed and it was in his hand with the colossus skeleton nowhere to be seen.

Leo slowly looks down before he saw bones scattered in the surroundings,

It's the carcass of the colossus skeleton that he attacked before, Rex obliterates it with just one swing of his silver sword.

The colossus skeleton that looks like a monster in front of the two crumbles,

It can't even withstand one swing of Rex's attack, Rex then glances at his back and gaze at the two, "Are you stupid? You could've just died there"

A moment later,

"You're saying you wanted to find your dad's corpse and buried him?", Rex asks lightly.

Leo and the woman turn out to be brother and sister, Leo sneaks out of Eqosa City where they live, and goes to this forest in the hope to find his father's corpse.

His sister follows him trying to persuade him to not be rash,

Leo and his sister nodded their heads when they heard what Rex said.

Rex sighed knowing that Leo was not thinking with his head, he's still young and he just did something reckless and would've died if Rex is not here, "Don't throw your lives away"

"Your father sacrifices his life to protect you, and how can you just throw your life like that"

Hearing this, Leo puts down his head while his sister is glaring at him from the side angrily.

Rex rubs his chin thinking about something, he then asks, "You seem to know where you are going, do you know where the battle takes place?"

"I don't know", Leo replied softly.

But then, his sister answered, "I can roughly tell where it is, Why would you ask that?"

"Tell me the direction, and after that, I will take you and your brother back to Eqosa City", Rex replied decisively, he will need every information that he can get.

While he's embarking in the forest,

Rex only met with a couple of corpses around, it's a weird sight for him.

The smell that he's following before surely belongs to the powerful Death Energy he felt, so he assumed whatever that undead was is surely leading a company of Undead.

Based on the UWO, there are five companies of Undead.

If one or two company is guarding the access point for the Werewolf reinforcement, there should be two more companies in this forest. Or at least that's what Rex assumed,

The woman told Rex the direction of the last battle fought,

After remembering the direction, Rex was about to carry both of them back to Eqosa City but was stopped by Leo, "Sir, Can you help me find my dad?"

"It's going to be hard to find him, I don't even know what he looks like", Rex replied.

The location that he will be going to is the place where the humans and the Supernatural clash, there are bound to be many corpses of fallen humans there so it'll be impossible to find a particular person out of the corpses.

With his weirdly smooth voice, "Then take me! Please!", Leo pleaded.

"I can't do that, you'll be in constant danger and I can't protect you", Rex shakes his head.

But unexpectedly, Leo suddenly approaches Rex and holds onto him by hugging his waist.

Rex looks at Leo in surprise and found that he's sobbing, he grips Rex's waist tightly as he said, "Please! I just want to give him a proper burial"

"Leo! Don't be like that", the woman said while pulling Leo away.

But it's futile, Leo is holding onto Rex without intending to let go at all.

Upon looking at this, Rex closes his eyes slowly as Edward's face flashes past his mind making a frown appear on his face.

A system notification appears on Rex's vision as he scratches his head,

"Find I'll bring you, but keep close to me no matter the circumstances", Rex finally said, and this made Leo's face brighten up.

While Rex on the other hand is drained, 'Fuck you, Edward'

Chapter 357 Rex Is Legendary

'Fuck you Edward', Rex cursed inside his head.

If not for hanging around with Edward for quite a while, he will not be this soft to kids but since he's been a friend of Edward for a long time, his traits also got into Rex's mind.

Edward is always soft on kids, he's willing to sacrifice everything to save them.

The fact that Edward took the girl away during the military shows his soft side, if not for Rex and Kyle he might have just been arrested by the military for a long time.

After agreeing to bring Leo, the woman then also said, "If he's coming, I'm coming"

Rex glanced at the woman and saw her determined look, he cursed Edward more in his head before he finally said, "Just keep close to me and follow my orders exactly"

~

Meanwhile, Faraday University.

While walking towards the university entrance, Edward taps his ears a couple of times.

'Who's badmouthing me? My ears are ringing', he thought.

Edward came back with Rex's parents and Adhara's father, he's guiding them into the university making the students glance at them in confusion.

Aside from students, there is no one allowed to enter the university ground.

So looking at three people that are old enough to become one of the lecturers, and also a normal human at that makes them confused.

But seeing Edward is leading them, the students didn't really do anything.

"Mrs. Greene, Why do you look so pale?", Edward asks with a bright smile, he can see that Mrs. Greene is holding onto Robert's hand tightly while walking stiffly.

Even her face looks pale,

With a trembling voice, Mrs. Greene then said, "The students here..."

"They're all Awakened, right? I just feel that us being here are not proper", she added.

Hearing this, Edward frowns as he looks at Robert, and also Russ who has a wry smile on their faces as they feel uncomfortable with so many Awakened around.

They felt lesser compared to these students, and no one can blame them.

Although sector 3 is where other ordinary Awakened lived thus making this sector the highest Awakened count compared to other sectors, it's still only a fraction of the population.

Meeting an Awakened is not a daily thing for normal people, some even saw only a couple a year.

But sector 3E is the most advanced part of sector 3 which is crowded with Awakened, and of course, Rex's parents and Adhara's father are not used to getting surrounded by Awakened.

Especially Adhara's father who came from outside of Ratmawati City,

Since it's urgent, Edward pays a teleportation array to bring Russ here.

"You don't need to feel like that, you're going to be surprised to know that it should've been the other way around", Edward replied with a cheeky smile.

This makes Rex's parents and Adhara's father frown in confusion,

When Mrs. Greene was about to ask Edward what he means by that, a guy wearing the lecturer outfit approached them and stopped in front of Edward.

Edward turns to the lecturer calmly as the lecturer asks, "Who are they? Why did you bring them here?"

"There must be some kind of a mistake, we'll leave immediately", Robert steps up and replied hurriedly, he doesn't want any trouble especially since they're surrounded by Awakened.

But when they were about to leave, Edward suddenly said, "There's nothing to worry about"

"Sir, these three people are Rex and Adhara's parents", Edward introduced with a bright smile, he even steps to the side a bit as a courtesy for the parents.

Upon hearing this, the lecturers' eyes widen in surprise as he bowed instantly.

Although the lecturer's movement is fast, Rex and Adhara's parents can somewhat see the paleness in the lecturer's expression as he said, "I'm sorry for not recognizing"

"What is your visit agenda for today? I can arrange people to take you around", he added.

The super fast change in situation was surreal for the parents, they look at the lecturers with a blank expression before Edward snapped them out of their daze.

"It's okay, I'll be the one to take them around", Edward said rejecting the lecturer's offer.

After saying that, Edward then lead them inside the Faraday University building heading to Rex's room with wide strides.

The parents are still shocked by what they just experienced,

"Did an Awakened just bow to us? I'm not dreaming right, dear?", Mrs. Greene mutters as she looks at Robert in disbelief.

Robert is also shocked, "I-I think he did bow to us, normal people"

While they're discussing the surprising scene they just experienced before, Russ walks to Edward's side before he asks, "Why did that lecturer bow to us?"

"In this university, Rex's name is legendary", Edward replied softly.

He then turns his head towards Russ before he added, "Since your daughter is Rex's girlfriend, no one in this university dare to say anything to you even if you're just a normal human"

"What is that?!", Mrs. Greene exclaimed while pointing at a red crystal.

The red crystal makes their vision reddish, Edward explained the crystal while they make their way to Rex's room where Adhara is in.

Mrs. Green did this a couple of times along the way,

After a moment, they arrived at Rex's room before the parents gasp to see that the room is very different than the rooms they saw along the way.

This one is secluded and the doors are way bigger than the others.

Edward knocks on the door before Stuart opened the door, his eyes then landed on the parents before he bowed slightly after opening the door wide, "Sires, Ma'am, Welcome to Rex's room"

"Thank you...", Robert replied softly before Edward signaled for them to get inside.

Upon entering the room, the parents gasp as they saw the insides are way bigger than they thought, it's almost as big as their house!

It's shocking to see such a magnificent room belongs to Rex,

Stuart closed the door lightly before he steps aside, while Edward looks at the parents with a smile as he said, "This is where Rex lived, and he's living here with Adhara"

"What?! That rascal didn't even tell me!", Russ said roughly.

He then glances at Robert and Mrs. Greene who are also looking at him making Edward who is on the side worried, but unlike what Edward expected they all suddenly laugh heartily.

'I thought they will fight for a second', Edward thought wryly.

While they're laughing, one of the doors on the right is opened as Adhara walks out.

Adhara already heard their laughs as her eyes landed on Russ, her eyes spark before she ran towards Russ and gives him a big hug, "Dad!"

"Oh, you've grown quite well Adhara", Russ joked as he pats Adhara's back.

After hugging Russ until she's satisfied, she then glances to her side as her eyes land on Mrs. Greene and Robert, "M-Mother, Father...", Adhara mutters lightly with a blush.

The redness of her face can't be hidden as it was exposed clearly,

Even Russ was surprised to find her daughter calls another man and woman, Mother and Father.

"My beautiful Adhara, How've you been?", Mrs. Greene greeted sweetly.

Robert also smiles from the side making Adhara even more embarrassed as she replied lowering her gaze to the ground, "I've been great..."

Adhara, Edward, and the parents talk for a moment as they sat on the new sofa.

Because of Rex kicking Ari before to test the Ring of Tetuka, some of the sofas are destroyed but Stuart already replaced them with new ones.

Their conversations started to shift after they did all the pleasantries,

"Are you sure you bring us here just to make us look around? or Did this have something do like last time?", Russ asks with a serious expression.

The last time they're called, Rex is hiding them to keep them safe.

From how he's summoned using a teleportation formation hurriedly like this, Russ suspected that it's not just some simple tour of the university.

Adhara's expression turns stiff but Edward hurriedly replied, "Of course, it's nothing like that"

"Rex wanted to give you guys a tour of the university, it'll be great for the three of you to know how we're living in the university", Edward added with a smile.

Hearing this, Russ squints his eyes while looking at Edward.

He then looks around before he replied, "If that's the case, where is he?"

"Rex is not here right now, he just got a sudden mission from the university so sadly he can't be here to take you around. That is why you guys will stay here for the moment", Edward lied, Rex doesn't want them to know.

It's going to make them worry if they knew that one of the 25 Families might make a move.

But this still doesn't convince Russ, he's still looking at Edward suspiciously but Adhara then added from the side, "Truthfully, I told Rex I want to spend some quality time you guys. The university doesn't allow students to go out easily but thankfully Rex can sort it out and bring you here instead"

"Oh, Honey... I'll visit often if you're lonely", Mrs. Greene replied sweetly.

Russ also sigh upon hearing this as he didn't pursue the matters anymore, this made Edward sigh in relief since he was about to run out of excuses.

A moment later,

Edward was about to leave to pick up Kyran after going to the toilet,

'Thankfully the Atkins didn't intercept me, but why didn't they?', he thought with a frown.

While walking in the hallway thinking, he found Adhara is talking with her father but he can't find Robert and Mrs. Greene anywhere making his heart skip a beat for a second.

He snaps his head towards Stuart and asks, "Where did they go?!"

"They're outside, you don't need to worry", Stuart replied with a weird expression.

Looking at this, Edward hurriedly walks out of the room with wide steps, 'The Reed Family has access to the university, I can't let my guard down', he thought.

Edward looks around before his eyes stopped at a crowd of students,

He approached the crowd of students slowly before his eyes found that Mrs. Greene and Robert are in the middle, they were brimming with happiness as they answered the students' questions.

"Yes, We are Rex's parents!", Mrs. Greene declared proudly.

Hearing this, the students become excited as they realized Mrs. Greene and Robert are none other than Rex's parents.

All of them started to become excited,

"What does Rex usually do at home? Does he really likes to train?"

Mrs. Greene smiles as she replied with immense pride, "Well he's in the military for the most part, but when he did have his leave he really likes to workout"

"What kind of food did he like?"

"Grilled Chicken Breast that I cooked, he really likes that one", Mrs. Greene replied nodding her head.

Robert on the other hand is also asked by the students, "Rex rarely talks but deep inside he's a good boy, he just needs comfort and attention just like any other kids"

Edward looks at this as he shakes his head, "The contrast between them and Rex..."

~

Back to Rex,

Rex leads Leo and the woman as they headed towards the direction where the battle took place.

Along the way, Leo and the woman saw that Rex killed every Undead that he meet without breaking a sweat as if they were nothing but bugs.

His silver sword cuts through the Undead like butter, it's very terrifying.

If any of those Undead broke into their city, the Undead will definitely take hundreds if not thousands of life easily but these Undead are nothing to Rex.

SLASH!

'There are more Undead here, we must be getting close', Rex thought.

But after hacking another Colossus Skeleton, Rex looks around the place before he caught a scent as he said, "You two, cover your nose and stay quiet"

Leo and the woman was confused but they obeyed Rex's order,

Without asking for their permission, Rex carry the both of them with his arms and dash into a direction, 'It should be the place, I can smell the smell of death reeking from this direction'

After dashing for about a minute, Rex arrives at an open space amidst the forest.

There is a river flowing in the middle of the open space,

Just from looking at the place, Rex is sure the battle takes place here since the green grass is tainted with red and many of the trees and grounds around here are destroyed.

The battle scars can be seen clearly, even the river water is reddish.

But Rex frowned when realized something, 'The corpse, there are none here', he thought.

If this place is really the battlefield then Undead and Humans corpses should be scattered here, but even after scanning the place, Rex didn't find any single corpse.

Rex puts down Leo and the woman as he inspected the place,

The open space in the middle of the forest spans about two acres, it's so big and the more Rex investigated the more he's sure that there's a battle happening here.

While he's inspecting the place,

SWOOSH!

"Hmm?", Rex senses something is approaching him before he dodges it.

BAM!

A huge black saber flashes past Rex before stabbing the ground powerfully, the ground trembles for a moment after the saber stabs the ground.

Rex glance at the saber before he looks at his front,

Amidst the tree in front of him, Rex saw an Undead with shiny black greyish full-plate armor staring at him with its white terrifying eyes. It holds a human corpse on its left hand by the head.

The undead's face is a skull and its mouth is wrapped by a red cloth.

Powerful Death Energy swirls around this Undead with blood decorating his armor, without even thinking much Rex knows that the blood is human blood.

The Undead stretches his arm to his front before the saber tremble,

SWOOSH!

Just like a telekinesis ability, the saber that stabbed the ground got pulled by the Undead and went back to the Undead's hand.

"Are you eager to be killed, Humans?", the Undead spoke.

Seeing this, Leo and the woman instantly went to Rex's back.

Just from the presence of the undead alone, this one is way stronger than the Colossus Skeleton.

Rex's expression darkened upon hearing this as his aura started leaking badly, he slowly raises his gaze to meet with the Undead's eyes with terrifying bloodlust.

SWOOSH!

A wave of energy pushes the Undead back which surprises the Undead.

Upon seeing Rex's expression, the Undead flinched for a bit.

It can feel the raging bloodlust inside Rex's body as it started to doubt what it's seeing, "Humans?", he mutters in disbelief seeing Rex's expression that makes him looks more of a monster than itself.

Chapter 358 Feasting On A Reminder

"Human?", the undead mutters as it looks at Rex in shock.

The expression on Rex's face makes the undead flinch since it didn't expect something like a human can emit such terrifying bloodlust, the murderous intent is choking on the undead.

Rex glance at the undead before pointing at it, "You can talk? That's great"

SWOOSH!

Just like a ghost, Rex's body turns into a blur as he reappeared in front of the undead with his murderous eyes still glaring at the undead.

There's a silver sword in Rex's hand as he swings it perfectly,

Slash!

Although Rex is fast, the undead white eyes glow with dark energy as an undead wearing almost the same armor came out from the ground and blocks Rex's attack.

BANG!

The sound of two weapons colliding makes Leo and the woman puts their hands on their ears.

Rex's body glows with a red aura strengthening his silver sword, the silver sword sliced through the undead that burst from the ground easily.

<Killed an early fifth rank Supernatural, Obtained 400,000 Exp>

But thanks to a second window, the undead manage to dodge Rex's attack.

A red energy arc shoot from Rex's silver sword cut dozens of trees that got hit by it, Rex also uses his Force Beam skill during the attack before.

Tap!

"I have a few questions, and you're going to answer them", Rex said demandingly.

With the silver sword lying on his traps, and the murderous look on his face making Rex ten times more intimidating, the undead started to cloak its body with Death Energy.

The Undead then said, "You're not a normal Awakened"

Rex didn't answer this as his body started glowing with intense energy, he was about to dash again but then he saw the undead's attention land on Leo and the woman.

"Oh no, you don't!"

BOOM!

A crack on the ground was made as Rex dashes toward the Undead,

The undead embraces its saber preparing to defend itself from Rex's attack, it gathers death energy to its saber before Rex slashes come,

CLANG!!

A powerful shockwave was created as the grass got ripped from the ground.

Rex is locked in a struggle with the Undead before his eyes widen when he saw the Death Energy start spreading to his silver sword and corrupting it.

The spreading is quite fast and it didn't take long before some manage to get into Rex's hands.

"Fighting the son of death without protection? You're too prideful in front of death!", the Undead mocked after seeing its death energy reach Rex.

The death energy started sizzling Rex's skin,

Rex jumped away feeling that it will be bad if he get exposed to the death energy, he looks at his hands and can see that his skin slowly turns black.

It even manages to tear through his red force, golden energy, and black gloves.

After the skin on Rex's hand turns black, the Undead then chanted with an evil glisten on its eyes, "Canticle of the Dead! Pain!"

DEG!

The black skin that got exposed to death energy burst, it exploded bursting Rex's flesh that is now already turned charcoal black. Veins around Rex's arms turn black as the pain started to kick in.

Even the smell coming from it was dreadful,

The undead laughs hysterically with its baritone voice when it saw Rex got affected by its spell.

"Feel the Pain little one, it'll be the last thing you will feel in this realm"

While watching this from the side, Leo and the woman widen their eyes seeing that this is the first hit that Rex got. Leo shouted in worry, "SIR!!"

Hearing this, the Undead glances to the side.

"Are you seeking death too little boy?", the undead said as its eyes glows again.

Another Undead crawled from the ground, it wanted to attack Leo and the woman who are already hugging each other in fright but they soon realize the attack never came.

When they opened their eyes, they saw Rex's wide back in front of them.

Rex is standing in front of them after killing the undead coming from the ground, his back gives some sense of safety to Leo and the woman as they gaze at Rex's back in awe.

Looking at this, the Undead was taken aback, "How did you escape my spell!"

"Oh, you mean this? I didn't escape it", Rex said while showing both of his hands that are still sizzling with death energy, but there's something weird happening on his hands.

The undead saw that the skin is healing while getting corrupted simultaneously.

Because of this, the skin that should turn black all the way stagnated instead and it didn't spread to Rex's arms just like the undead expected, "You...You're not a normal human!"

"But the pain! Your hands should turn numb right now!", it added nervously.

A smile appears on Rex's face as he waves his hands nonchalantly, "This kind of pain... How should I put it", Rex replied slowly.

"It's pretty weak", he added as he clenched his fists and disperse the death energy.

Compared to the pain that he felt when transforming into a Werewolf for the first time, the torture he got from the military, and even the Sacrificial Energy before this pain indulged from the Undead spell doesn't phase him at all.

It's almost akin to someone pinching him, Rex is not bothered.

Right after he did that, Rex ducked his stance lower holding his silver sword tightly as the muscle on his legs bulged preparing for a powerful dash.

Seeing this, the undead gaze left and right, 'Where will he go this time?!!'

Instead of dashing to the Undead,

SWOOSH!

Rex throws his silver sword instead catching the undead off guard,

But the undead is still a sixth rank Supernatural, its reflex was fast as a skull made of death energy materializes and cracked the ground around it.

The energy coming from the skull is very powerful that blasted Leo and the woman.

Just by looking at the skull made of death energy that is opening its mouth intending to eat Rex's silver sword, Rex is sure that this is a powerful spell equivalent to a Great Spell.

The woman and Leo rolled on the ground a couple of times because of the powerful energy.

The woman hugs Leo's body to protect him from hitting something, both of them stopped after sustaining a couple of scratches on their bodies but mainly on the woman's body.

It could've been worst if they hit a tree or fall into the river,

Looking at this powerful spell the Undead casts Rex dashes and activates his Flash spell.

Even though the speed of the silver sword flying toward the Undead is fast, Rex's movement is even faster as he arrived near the silver sword before it can even reach the death energy skull.

The Undead was shocked by Rex's speed, it didn't expect Rex's speed to reach this level.

Rex smiles lightly after seeing the surprised look on the Undead, he then swings his leg and kicks the silver sword's hilt adding more power to it.

BOOM!!

A whistling sound was heard as the silver sword cut through the air,

"KAARGH!!", the Undead was caught off guard when suddenly the silver sword that Rex kicked pierced through its defensive spell just like butter, it only takes a fraction of a second to arrive.

It stabbed right through the Undead chest penetrating through its armor.

The undead got drawn by the powerful momentum from the silver sword, the silver sword flew far before the momentum stopped when the silver sword crashed into a tree and pinned the undead on the ground.

Sizzling black lightning disrupted the death energy inside of the Undead's body.

Even with all its strength, the Undead can't pull out the silver sword from its chest and instead got burned since it's a silver sword which is a bane for all Supernaturals.

Death energy that is chaotically burst from its body can't overpower the silver sword.

The undead was pinned on the ground helplessly, it can't break free no matter how much death energy it gathers thanks to the silver sword imbued with holy properties.

Before the Undead realized it, Rex had already arrived in front of him.

He stomp the hilt of the silver sword roughly making the undead wail in pain, its body is trembling painfully as Rex said slowly, "Now, Do you feel like answering my questions?"

A moment later,

"Sir! Are you okay?", Leo asked from the back.

The woman also approaches Rex carefully while keeping an eye on the Undead, she seems to still be scared even though the undead is under Rex's foot.

With a calm expression, Rex then said, "You don't have to worry, this Undead is weak"

"Weak...?", Leo mutters in shock.

His eyes then glance at the Undead who is bursting with death energy struggling to break free, the sheer energy coming from the Undead frightens him even though it's not aimed at him.

p The death energy should've harmed him especially since he's this close,

But the holy properties of the silver sword block all of the death energy, none of the death energy can even reach Leo and the woman.

Even then, Leo can still feel the wretched and deadly that will instantly kill him on a whim.

From all of the Supernatural he has seen, this Undead here is certainly the strongest.

Rex puts more pressure on his foot as he glances at the Undead, "Now tell me, What happened to the corpses here? Where did you take them?"

"WHERE IS MY FATHER YOU BASTARD!", Leo shouted clenching his fists hardly.

Looking at Leo, "You want to know?", the Undead replied with an excited laugh.

It then points at the silver sword and added, "If you take this out of me, I'm going to lead you to them. Don't worry, I won't try to run away"

"If you're still doubting me, then just carry me and I'll show you the way"

'A lie?', Rex thought inspecting the Undead.

But since he got a sudden quest from the system before, he needs to know where the corpses are taken to, 'I need to find Leo's father but why is this Undead so excited for?', he thought before he grabs the Undead by the neck.

"Show me the way", Rex said while carrying the Undead by the neck.

He drags the Undead body just like the way the Undead drags a human corpse with his hand before, it's a suitable fit for a disgusting Supernatural like this Undead.

On the other side of Rex's position,

The descendants on Rex's team are dashing in a direction where Rex is told to be the entry point if the Werewolf reinforcement has come, there should be Undead companies guarding there.

Dray and Evelyn are dashing side to side while the others are on their backs,

"Not too long before you, I just did him a favor", Evelyn replied.

Hearing this, Dray then asks again, "I'm just curious, he's not from a wealthy family but he prepared all kinds of items for this mission. His armors, his swords, and even the elixirs that he bought are all high-rank ones"

"Do you know how he gets all of that? It just doesn't make sense", Dray added.

Hearing this, Evelyn also frowns and shakes her head since she too doesn't know where Rex got these kinds of items that even the 25 Families don't have access to.

The cloud of mystery around Rex is too thick for Evelyn to see through,

'Just how did Adhara manage to make him like her? I'm sure if it's about looks, Rex likes my type more than her', Evelyn thought with a frown.

"I can't understand what Rex is thinking, I didn't even know why he separate from us", Evelyn mutters.

Dray thought for a moment putting her fingers on his chin in thought, but then suddenly he realized something, "I think I know why he goes there"

"You know something? What is it?", Evelyn asks curiously.

While looking up to the sky that is already starting to turn golden since the sun is almost drowned, Dray then said, "I think Rex's an ambitious man, he needs the power to reach whatever that he desires. And not only raw power, but also reputation"

"What do you mean?", Evelyn asks in confusion.

Dray then explains, "Just like before, he said to me that he forbid us to kill any powerful Supernatural and leave the last blow for him. If what I thought is true then going to the forest, with his kind of power, I think he's going there to take out a company of Undead by himself"

"You mean he wants to be known?", Evelyn mutters in thought.

But her thoughts were interrupted when a descendant suddenly shouted from the back, "Look there! Smoke!"

"Ger ready, we'll check that out!", Dray instructed as they dash to the smoke.

~

Back to Rex,

Surprisingly, the Undead really did lead them to where the corpses are since Rex can really smell the rotten smell lingering in the air making the air feels spoilt.

"What are they doing with the corpses?", Rex asks with a frown.

But instead of answering, the Undead glances at Rex mysteriously as it chuckles lightly, "I thought I was told to only lead you to the corpses", it said mockingly.

This makes Rex holds the Undead in front of him, "Are you testing my patience?"

"Hold on there, don't kill me. At least not yet", the Undead said making Rex exhale roughly before walking in the direction the Undead said.

As they got closer, Leo and the woman started to smell the spoilt air.

The woman and Leo started to become nauseous again, it was way more rotten than the smell before making them want to vomit.

Even Rex frown when he smells the rotten air,

Slowly walking through the forest, Rex squint his eyes after catching a glimpse of the scene in front of him before his eyes widened in surprise.

Looking at Rex's expression, the Undead laughs maniacally.

The laugh is so loud as if the Undead found Rex's darkened look funny, "Are you afraid now? Did you like what you see?", the Undead said alongside its laughter, "You can kill me now, your expression is worth dying for!", it said hysterically.

Feeling fed up with the Undead, Rex then mutters, "You two, stay here"

SLASH!

<Killed an early sixth rank Supernatural, Obtained 10,000,000 Exp>

Rex killed the Undead by decapitating the Undead cleanly, the undead is still laughing hysterically until its head was chopped off by Rex.

He then throws the Undead carcass to the side before he walks forward slowly clenching his fists.

The view in front of Rex makes his heart quenched in anger, "A reminder..."

"I've been staying in a friendly environment for a couple of months now, How can I forget?"

Rex mutters ridiculing himself as he feasted his eyes on the scene in front of him, his eyes turn bloodshot crazily, "You fucking Undead, I'm going to massacre each one of you"

Chapter 359 Broken

"You fucking Undead, I'm going to massacre each one of you", Rex mumbles with a voice filled with hatred, there's a burning sensation crawling upon his spine wanting to erupt.

Rex is cursing himself in his head while looking at the scene,

Although he didn't want to admit it, he really did go soft and forget this kind of thing.

Forget didn't seem to be the right words for Rex, trying to forget maybe is the right term since what he sees and felt during the military puts a scar on his mental state.

The scene in front of Rex reminds him of the war against the Supernatural,

Ratmawati is like a safe haven where the people there are shielded from these kinds of views, they're living under the protection of the UWO.

It's natural for people from other cities to dreamt of living in Ratmawati City,

This view that Rex is seeing is what they have to suffer occasionally, cities got destroyed on a whim whether it's by Supernatural or Mutated Animals.

Always in constant fear of danger thinking one day the city might crumble.

Rex gritted his teeth as his eyes burned,

In front of him is another open space almost as big as before, but way darker.

There is a huge bridge in front of him connecting two grounds that are separated by a valley, the sound of flowing water gushing can be heard from below.

But the sounds were muffled because of the view across the bridge,

Hundreds if not thousands of rotten corpses of humans are staked by black spears lining up a few feet from each other, the scene spans from left to right leaving no space at all.

It filled Rex's vision with staked corpses,

All of the corpses were staked perfectly the same as each other, they're staked on their mouths.

Some of them wear the outfit from all kinds of military divisions, while some are wearing guilds or even FAA outfits and they're certainly the ones that defended Eqosa City.

Out of all of them, there is one cross-shaped black object taller than the others.

Rex saw that there is five heads hung on the cross-shaped black object with a black skull on top of it, he doesn't know who they are but just by looking at the corpses alone, they are certainly Awakened.

It's suffocating, to see the Supernatural manage to do this again.

The cold wind brushes the entire place making some of the lighter-staked corpses sway, and Rex saw all of them have a weird symbol on their foreheads.

With a heavy heart, Rex asks the system to translate the symbol with heavy breaths.

<Scanning...>

<Translation Complete, Trash of Nature>

Rex grinds his teeth upon reading the system's notification, not only do the Undead cruelly stake each one of them but they also marked them with a despicable symbol.

While Rex is feasting on the scene, light steps can be heard from the back.

Leo and the woman walk slowly from the back as their eyes widen, the disbelief in their eyes can be seen clearly as they saw the view in front of them.

The woman covers her mouth as tears started to roll down her cheeks,

But Leo on the other hand froze on the spot like a statue while looking at the view, his body then moves on its own and runs across the bridge heading towards the staked corpses.

"Wait!", Rex called but fall on deaf ears.

Rex grabs the woman who is already starting to cry before he follows Leo,

Leo ran with all his might across the bridge as he looks around with a desperate look, "Father?", he called out while turning his head left and right.

He kept on running to the sea of staked corpses searching for his father,

"Father! FATHER!", Leo called out checking each one of the staked corpses, even though it's almost impossible to find his father from this many corpses.

He felt a pain in his heart looking at Leo who was desperately trying to find his father, even the woman who he carries on his shoulder kept sobbing non-stop.

'Just how did this happen', Rex thought as he closes his eyes.

This all happened because the Great Barricade got breached, if it's not for that then it's impossible for a Supernatural army on this scale to manage to go through.

Stepping near the Great Barricade will just spill their deaths,

One spell from a ninth rank Awakened that guards the Great Barricade will obliterate all of them in one clean swoop, but the Supernatural outwitted the humans.

Making dummy demons that seems powerful, 'They even said that I'm the one that inspired them'

The Vulvazith winged demon said that the plan to make dummy demons came from Rex, they know about when Rex uses the Invincible item against the Shapeshifter before.

'It's my fault... I didn't expect it to be like this', Rex thought, he feels guilty.

While dwelling in his own thoughts, Rex suddenly saw Leo suddenly stop in front of a staked corpse wearing military clothes.

Just like the other corpses, this man right here is staked through its mouth.

"F-Father...", Leo mumbles as he creeps toward the staked military man slowly, his entire body is trembling uncontrollably as his eyes gaze upon this corpse.

Hearing this, the woman looks toward Leo before her eyes widen.

The woman started struggling to break free before Rex puts her down, she then looks at the staked corpse and her legs feel weak as she falls to her knees.

'Out of all the corpses, they really manage to find their father', Rex thought wryly.

From looking at their expression alone, the corpse is certainly their father.

The corpse is wearing a military outfit and is missing one arm, his eyes are still opened as the Undead didn't have the courtesy to close them, and there's a black dagger still stabbed into his body.

Leo grabs his father's leg with his trembling hand as he shakes his head,

Although he already steeled his will knowing that his father has certainly died, seeing it in person still makes his heart crumbles and no one can blame him.

With determination, Leo grabs the black spear trying to pull it out.

Leo wanted to bring his father down from the black spear, but no matter how much he tries to pull the spear he just can't make the black spear budge from its spot.

He did it desperately giving it his all, but the black spear still stubbornly stabs the ground.

Looking at this, Rex slowly walks toward him and grabs the black spear.

After putting some strength in his hand, the black spear got pulled out off the ground before Rex gently puts down the black spear in respect for their father.

Rex also gently pulls out the spear off of their father's mouth,

Leo is already started sobbing while holding onto his father's corpse, the woman who is kneeling on the side didn't even dare to come close unable to see her father's corpse.

"Why did this happen to us, Why is the world so cruel!", Leo shouted desperately.

He kept on rambling about how unfair the world is as Rex gives him some time to mourn, he sigh before turning to his back, 'I'll check this place to make sure it's safe'

Dash!

Rex leaves the two to mourn their father, he knows how they are feeling.

Although it's been a long time, the time that Rex and Mrs. Greene brings his real parents to be buried still brought a slight pain in his chest, it's a hard thing to remember.

'It's been long, I should visit their graves', Rex thought with a sigh.

Leaving the two, Rex scans the place around and finds that there is only a couple of low-rank Undead roaming this place as he takes care of all of them.

It didn't take long because the Undead is really weak,

RAARGHH!

Rex glances to the side and finds a ghoul is leaping toward him, the muscular build and the bones sticking out of its body puts him in a nostalgic,

Without even caring about the ghoul's attack, Rex just received them calmly.

The ghoul's attack didn't even manage to land a scratch on Rex's clothes, it looks at its claw before intending to run away feeling that their power is too far apart.

It didn't even look back and started running to flee from Rex.

'Even low intelligence Supernatural know when to run', Rex thought.

With a slight dash, Rex appears beside the ghoul before he kicks it right on its ribs crushing its entire body instantly as the ghoul got slammed to the ground.

<Killed a peak rank two Supernatural, 800 Exp>

Rex looks at the dead ghoul as he shakes his head, 'To think that I died because of this thing'

After clearing the Undead around to make sure the two are safe, Rex then went to the cross-shape black object with the five heads hung on it.

From a closer look, Rex saw that turns out it's literally a black cross.

The black cross is as thick as Rex's body and six times taller than Rex, it looks like it is made of black steel as it glistens under the golden sunlight.

After inspecting the black cross,

'It's different?', Rex thought as he saw the symbol on the hanging heads is different.

The previous symbol is marked with somekind of black ink shaped like a withered leaf but this one is different, not only that it's marked with red ink instead, the shape is a devious skull shape with an eye on its forehead.

Rex asks the system to translate this one,

<Translation Complete, Sacrifice for the Origin>

'This symbol is familiar, Sacrifice for the Origin?', Rex thought with a frown.

But then suddenly he remembers something, 'Isn't this the same symbol as the human corpses during the big war in Dwight City? I remember it!'

Back when Rex is still in the Dwight City war,

Rex saw the corpses brought back to be buried have the same symbol as this, all of them have this symbol on their heads which explains why this symbol seems familiar.

During then, Rex didn't think of anything except for humiliation from the Undead.

To think that it's a sacrifice they did for the so-called Origin, "Hmmm, Origin huh...", Rex mutters before he gets back to the two after cleaning the place for about 15 minutes.

Upon getting back, Rex can see that Leo and the woman are still mourning.

Despite the fact that Rex didn't want to bother them in this painful experience, the day is starting to get dark and Rex needs to bring them back to Eqosa City before then.

The Death Energy will be amplified in the night, and the Undead will start to roam.

Many of the Undead are not comfortable walking under the sunlight although it doesn't hurt them, it's probably due to the fact that they're night creatures so they have such a feeling.

"What father? You think so too?", Leo suddenly mumbles.

Rex glance at Leo and saw him talking to the corpse, it's sad to see a kid his age do something like this, even his sister felt pain in her heart seeing Leo like this.

"I want to be with you father..."

Leo then suddenly widen his eyes before he suddenly said, "The other side is better? Is it true?"

The woman looks at Leo in confusion despite her tears, she then holds Leo's shoulder lightly as she whispers, "Let's bury him, let father rest"

But Leo shrugs his sister's touch and holds onto the corpse,

"You want me to go there too father? Okay! I'll go to you", Leo suddenly said making the woman and Rex frown before suddenly,

STAB!

Leo reaches out for the black dagger stabbed into the corpse's chest, he pulled it out and with one swift motion stab himself right in the throat.

Both the woman and Rex widened their eyes as they were caught off guard,

"LEO!!!", the woman shouted in absolute shock seeing the blood flowing out of Leo's neck, it stains her trembling hands in blood as she catches Leo's body.

Rex appeared beside them as he instantly buy a healing elixir from the shop.

"Help him! Please, Help him!!", the woman pleaded to Rex holding onto his arm.

Leo gazes up at the golden color that painted the sky beautifully, a smile crept on his face as he stretches out his arm to the sky, "Father... Wait for me, I'll be there", he mutters silently.

Without wasting any more seconds, Rex immediately pours the healing elixir into Leo's mouth.

"Leo! Leo! Stay with me, don't die!", the woman mutters softly feeling Leo's body start to get weak, the tears coming out of her eyes flooded out as she holds onto Leo.

Rex is also cursing himself for not foreseeing this, 'I'm fucking dumb!'

'Not everyone can cope with something like this easily, How did I not realize this sooner', he thought while helping Leo swallow the healing elixir.

But the system notification makes his body stiff,

<The target has already died, healing elixir failed to work>

The sudden system notification makes Rex looks at Leo with a heavy heart, unknowingly Rex doesn't have the gut to raise his gaze to meet Leo's sister's eyes.

"I'm sorry...", Rex mutters silently turning his head away.

Hearing this, the woman widened her eyes as the tears kept rolling down her cheeks, "It can't be, you're joking right?!", she asked desperately.

But all Rex can say is an apology, he's too late.

Her eyes then slowly gaze at Leo who has already turned pale, the realization makes her body tremble until finally, her tears burst, "No, no, no! LEO!!!", she shouted while hugging Leo's body.

The scream of agony reverberated to the surroundings as she holds Leo's body.

It was a broken view with so many corpses around them, 'This is just one family, and there are at least a thousand corpses here', Rex thought with a darkened look.

Never crosses his mind that another Supernatural almost matches his hatred for Werewolves.

'This is unacceptable, just this once I'm going to go all out. So help me here System', Rex thought as he glance in the direction where the death energy is so thick.

Leo's sister's scream seems to attract the Undead,

But Rex's attention is pulled back to the woman as she said, "Hey... this must be a dream right?", the woman looks at Rex with a broken smile filled with tears.

Seeing the broken look, Rex can't help but smile assuringly.

"It's all just a dream, just rest here", Rex replied softly while hugging her trembling body.

The warmth of Rex's body penetrates through the woman's body, she's sobbing confusedly before suddenly her eyes turn blurry and the world is spinning after Rex hit the back of her head.

After knocking the woman unconscious, Rex stands up slowly with a darkened expression.

He already feels hundreds of presence on his back that are filled with Death Energy,

Rex glanced at them with a contorted look, the dark red Werewolf aura exploded from Rex's body as his eyes glowed with a red hue, "It's good you're all gathered here", he mutters.

BOOM!!

A powerful blast of energy blasted from Rex's body as Devo materializes behind him.

"None of you will survive", Rex added with a fierce glare as his body started making a cracking sound turning him into a monster.

Chapter 360 Undead Struggle

"None of you will survive", Rex said with a fierce glare.

Under the Undead's gaze, Rex's body started to make cracking sounds morphing him into a black-furred monster that is a couple of times bigger than his original size.

BOOM!

SWOOSH!!

The mix of black lightning, red force, and Supernatural energy create a powerful shockwave.

It was devastatingly powerful that even the ground surrounding Rex got peeled off, there is no restraint in Rex's eyes as he glared at the Undead.

Nothing will stop him, the cruelty of the Undead just poked his bad side.

<Transformation Complete>

Rex slowly turns to his back after transforming into his Werewolf form completely, his aura now is akin to a piercing blade that threatens to bend the Undead's legs with just a glare.

Furs were darker than night, sharp fangs replaced his teeth, with two horns sticking out.

<Sudden Quest!>

Obliterate all of the Undead around the user for drawing the user's wrath! An Alpha's wrath must be quenched until satisfaction has been reached!

Time Limit: 1 hour

Quest Reward: 300,000,000 Exp, Kox'rol Core, Rune of Defense

The system gave Rex a sudden quest out of nowhere amplifying Rex's motivation to kill all of the Undead that present themselves in front of him.

More than a thousand Undead gazing at Rex with hostility,

All kinds of Undead creatures just like the zombies, the skeletons, and even liches are gazing at Rex from the direction of the black cross.

'There are at least two thousand of them, this is good...', Rex thought.

Out of all of them, the one that catches Rex's attention is three Undead as strong as the Undead he fought before if not stronger which seems to lead this army of Undead.

The three of them stand proudly in front of the army of Undead,

Rex gritted his teeth when one of the three-strong Undead has a satisfied look on its face when it saw the staked corpses of humans, its eyes even glisten excitedly as if the view is good.

But although the three is strong,

There's still another more powerful Undead than those three, Rex can feel it clearly.

Although it doesn't present itself, Rex can feel the death energy coming from this Undead that is surely watching from the dark, 'It's somewhere there', Rex thought gazing in a direction.

But then, his attention was brought back to the army of Undead.

"Werewolf? Ah, you must be the infamous Alpha", one of the three-strong Undead, this one has a slim body of a human but it consists of just blackened muscle tissues.

It's wearing a black robe shrouded with Death Energy, and its body is glowing with red light.

<Ger Fark>

Race: High Undead

Power: Sixth rank(Mid)

Mental: 389

Strength: 551

Agility: 613

Endurance: 511

Intelligence: 744

Another Undead that is the biggest amongst the three with four arms then also commented, "I was curious about the Werewolf living in the humans' territory, but seeing him in person, he's quite strong I must say"

"But why is his form like that? It's weird", he added with a frown.

Rex's Werewolf transformation is not the same as other Werewolves, he didn't become bigger and monstrous but he becomes more muscular and leaner instead.

He didn't have hunchbacks like other Werewolves, his posture is straight.

No matter how much the four-armed Undead looks at him, Rex's transformation is indeed weird.

Rex also scans this Undead to assess its power,

<Gordoz Sixt>

Race: High Undead

Power: Sixth rank(Mid)

Mental: 471

Strength: 811

Agility: 493

Endurance: 709

Intelligence: 588

Upon assessing both of them, Rex's eyes then landed on the last Undead which is a female undead that looks exactly like a normal human except for its pale skin and death-like energy coming out of her.

Her hair is silvery-white and she's gazing at Rex intently while folding her arms.

Out of the three of them, Rex finds that the strongest one is this female Undead but it didn't come to the point Rex needs to be extra careful from her, 'I'll end them all'

"The sun just drowned...", the female Undead mutters while looking at the sky.

But the female Undead's expression turns into shock as her eyes landed on Rex, the energy coming from Rex instantly turns different right after night came.

<Night time! The user's stats have been increased by 200%!>

Rex shows his sharp fangs with a grin as his aura instantly changes, the night fueled him with power as he activates his Pure Brace of Moonlight Skill.

Because of this, his aura shot another notch making the three Undead step back.

"ATTACK HIM RIGHT NOW!!", the four-armed Undead shouted before the army of Undead rushes toward Rex like a death tide, it felt that Rex becomes too threatening for them.

RAARGH!!

KRAAH!!

The zombies and skeletons came running toward Rex without any fear.

All of their weapons and shields glow with a blue hue emitting ice magic, their bodies and weapons are enhanced by somekind of enchantment.

Just from one look, Rex knows that this is the liches' doing.

'I'll reduce their numbers', Rex thought as his eyes blitzed with black lightning, the ground turns black as Rex uses his Black Field Orko spell.

ZOOM!

BLAST!

Black lightning tentacles burst from the blackened ground killing dozens of Undead with one strike, the army of undead turns chaotic before even reaching Rex thanks to the black tentacle.

Seeing this, the slim Undead's eyes glow with a red hue.

Just right after that, death energy shot to the ground and instantly canceled Rex's spell.

Splash!

"Werewolf using black lightning spell? You really are a weird one", the Undead said while inspecting Rex who is already battling against the army of Undead.

After saying that, the slim undead and the four-armed undead glance at each other.

Without even saying anything, both of them dash toward Rex intending to join the fight leaving the female woman that's a bit shaken by Rex's aura alone.

Rex glance at the slim Undead while clawing the army of Undead,

'His intelligence is higher than me, Let's start with him', Rex thought as he sweep his claw in a horizontal manner killing the Undead around him before he draws both of his swords.

The silver sword and the Amuerus Katana somehow grow larger than before,

It makes both of them fit in Rex's hand perfectly, even now Rex finds that his armor is still wrapped around his body, 'It's a sixth rank equipment alright', Rex thought.

BOOM!

Rex dashes toward the slim and the four-armed Undead that is also heading toward him.

The lower-rank Undead can't even block Rex's body as they got slashed by Rex's swords and also the red force bursting in a circular arc every time Rex swings his swords.

<Killed a peak rank two Supernatural, Obtained 1,000 Exp>

<Killed an early fifth rank Supernatural, Obtained 500,000 Exp>

Not one Undead manage to block him,

Even getting near Rex is impossible for the lower-rank undead, the red force blocks them.

When Rex was about to collide with the two strong Undead, the four-armed Undead dash forward while the slim Undead jumped to the side.

BAM!!

The four-armed Undead already cloaked its body with Death energy but even then,

"What?!", the four-armed Undead exclaimed in shock as he got pushed away, Rex didn't even need to try as the four-armed Undead was sent crashing away.

His eyes then glow with a red hue as he activates his Alpha Bearing skill,

A red wave of mental attack makes all of the Undead surrounding him fall to their knees, only fifth rank Undead can still fight while the others are kneeling on the ground like sheep.

They can't move their bodies, they can only wait for Rex to behead them.

Even the slim Undead was shocked when even itself got affected,

Rex was already ready with both of his swords intending to slice the slim Undead into two, but then suddenly a coffin made of death energy appeared sandwiching him in between.

"Sealing Coffin!", the slim Undead chanted as the coffin entrapped Rex inside of it.

"You're not the only one strengthened by the night", the slim Undead remark smugly but before the slim Undead can even breathe for a second, "Great Spell, Sky Rupture!"

CRACK!

BOOM!

A lightning bolt strikes down from the sky just like a judgment of the sky, it was so fast and Rex imbued spirit energy into it to make the gap between them lessened.

Looking at the lightning bolt, the slim Undead entrapped its body in a cocoon of darkness.

BAM!

The lightning bolt got blocked by the cocoon of darkness,

But Rex already expected the slim Undead can block it as he suddenly uses a thousand lightning thorns skill to break free from the coffin.

The sealing coffin was broken instantly,

Rex then uses Force Beam cloaking his sword with red force as he slashes the cocoon of darkness.

SLASH!

"Wha-", the slim Undead widened its eyes when it saw its cocoon of darkness get sliced through.

Rex was about to slice the slim Undead into two when suddenly, multiple ice barriers appeared on the slim Undead's side to block Rex's attack.

Even still, Rex sliced through all of them easily until suddenly,

CLANG!

The sword momentum got stopped after a weird white barrier appeared, Rex is quite shocked by the white barrier since it's very hard to penetrate even after using 80% of his strength.

He then glance at the female Undead before he gritted his teeth.

Seeing Rex is glaring at her, the female Undead steps back unconsciously in fear.

Without backing down, Rex slashes at the white barrier once again.

CLANG!!

Sparks were created as Rex's two swords tries to break through the white barrier, 'What the hell?! This shouldn't happen, she's just a peak sixth rank!', Rex thought in surprise.

The female Undead shouldn't be this strong,

But suddenly, the four-armed Undead dashes toward him and chants, "Spirit of the Dead! Cloaked Assault!", the four-armed Undead's fists glow with death energy fiercely.

It then swings four of its arms at Rex's swords, a powerful shockwave blasted upon the collision.

BOOM!

Rex's muscles started bulging as he hold onto his two swords,

With the 200% addition of stats, Rex's strength reaches the four-digit mark and it's already equivalent to a seventh rank power.

CRASH!

The four-armed Undead even with its spell didn't manage to push Rex even for a bit, it even has a higher strength stat than the slim Undead but it's still not strong enough.

Rex positioned his hands on the hilt firmly before he puts more strength,
Swish!

The Amuerus Katana and silver sword sliced through the four-armed Undead fists, all of the Undead's fists were sliced into two as it wails painfully.

After slicing through the four-armed Undead's hand, Rex's swords arrived again at the white barrier.

Under the extreme power behind Rex's attack enhanced by the night, the white barrier shatters as Rex manages to slice the slim Undead into two.

With one swift motion, Rex twists his body and slashes the slim Undead's head off cleanly.

SWISH!

<Killed a Mid-Sixth rank Supernatural, Obtained 15,000,000 Exp>

Just like that, one of the three-strong Undead died under Rex's hand swords.

The slim Undead didn't even manage to react to the swiftness of Rex's move, his reflex and agility surpass the slim Undead greatly that even his movement can't be seen.

Death already arrived before the slim Undead can even realize he just got beheaded.

The female Undead that is watching this scene from the side steps back in fear, she saw Rex deal with two Undead with similar strength to her easily.

Even the four-armed Undead is struggling under Rex's foot with his arms entangled.

Rex's swords cut through the four-armed Undead fists slicing them in two, his strength surpasses the four-armed Undead greatly and thus resulting in this situation.

The four-armed Undead is under Rex's mercy,

Watching this while sweating profusely, the female Undead can't believe what she's seeing with her own eyes especially when she saw the two horns sticking out of Rex's head.

Although she already felt Rex's powerful aura before,

The female Undead thought that with the army of Undead, and the coordinated attack by the slim Undead and the four-armed Undead beating Rex is not impossible.

But now the scene in her eyes doesn't match her expectations,

Rex dealt with the army of Undead easily just from one mental attack that disabled almost all of the Undead, he also take down the slim Undead and the four-armed Undead.

He didn't even have a scratch on him, and there's still the horns part.

'P-Prince?! I-I need to flee', the female Undead thought intending to run away.

Rex saw the bleak aura coming from her and already expected what she intend to do, he put some strength on his legs before crushing the four-armed Undead's chest.

He stomps the four-armed Undead again on its head killing it instantly.

<Killed a mid-sixth rank Supernatural, Obtained 13,000,000 Exp>

After getting the notification from the system, Rex saw that the female Undead already opened a dark portal beside her making a grin appear on Rex's face, "Pneuma Spell, Ether Blink!"

~

Delarosa Family Territory,

It's already night with the moon illuminating the sky, many of the Vampires here starting to go out of their homes and make the street bustling.

They're night creatures, so it's not weird for them to be active at night.

"Do you want to come with me? I'm going to buy the Monceray from the shop", a Vampire dressed in plain clothing asks the Vampire next to him.

Hearing this, the Vampire next to him then replied excitedly, "You don't mean..."

"Yeah, I'm going to buy that mutated animal. The ones that possess blood that taste almost similar to humans", the plain Vampire replied with a smile.

"Where did you get elemental stones to buy that? It's expensive!"

But when the plain Vampire was about to answer, his eyes then suddenly saw a carriage with the royal symbol passing the street making the other Vampires kneel on the ground.

In a hurry, the plain Vampire then said, "Kneel quick! It's royalty!"

The carriage walked past the Vampires on the street slowly, it went straight to the castle in the middle of the city under the others' gaze.

While looking at the carriage, the plain Vampire widened his eyes.

"Isn't that the princess? Why is she doing here, did she perhaps come to visit Madam Delarosa?"

"Probably, even Sir Delarosa came out of the castle to greet the princess"

After the carriage stops in front of the gate of Delarosa's castle, just like the others expected, Calidora steps out from the carriage gracefully followed by Lysa and a royal Vampire guard.

Delarosa bowed his body lightly before bringing Calidora inside the castle,

"What do I owe the pleasure for the princess visiting my humble castle?", Delarosa asks with a polite smile after they all sit in the guest room.

Calidora sits on a sofa in front of Delarosa with the help of Lysa,

Issac is also standing beside his father to honor the princess' visit, he's standing with his gaze facing down submissively in front of Calidora.

But Calidora didn't pay it any mind,

With her taunting red eyes, Calidora's expression then turns to worry, "I heard aunt Ana is hurt from fighting the Alpha Werewolf, I came to visit and check her condition"

"Yes, that is true", Delarosa replied with a sigh.

He then shakes his head and continues, "Her situation is getting worst by the day, I don't know what that Werewolf did but her neck condition worsened. There's no bite mark on her neck, it's almost as if she's been poisoned"

"May I see her?", Calidora suddenly asked with a concerned look.

Upon hearing her request, Delarosa immediately stands up and replied politely, "Of course princess, your concern over my wife will definitely bless our family. Please, follow me"

Delarosa leads Calidora into the main bed chamber where Ana lies weakly on the bed.

After entering the room and seeing Ana's condition, Calidora glance back gently and said, "Sir Delarosa, Can you leave us for a moment?"

"Of course, excuse me princess", Delarosa said as he closed the door.

She approaches Ana slowly who is breathing heavily from her blistering neck.

Calidora sits on the edge of the bed while inspecting Ana's blistering neck, even when she turns Ana's head left and right she didn't even wake up as her eyes stay closed.

"This is what you get from taking what's mine", Calidora mutters violently.

While she was looking at Ana with a disgusted expression, her eyes then suddenly saw blood leaking from Ana's neck that emits a powerful fragrance enticing Calidora.

The black patterns appear again on Calidora's eyes as her eyes glow red.

She stretches out her hand and touches the blood leaking out of Ana's blistering neck with her fingers, she then takes a whiff of the blood on her fingers before her cheek turns red.

With one swift motion, Calidora puts her finger in her mouth tasting the blood.

"Haahh...I really miss your blood", Calidora mutters excitedly.

After cleaning the blood from her finger, Calidora's eyes fall onto Ana's neck again before a grin exposing her beautiful fangs appeared on her face.
