Chapter 361 Submissive Undead

Creak...

The door of the master bedroom opens as Calidora walks out,

Delarosa who is waiting for her in front of the door glance at Calidora who has a hint of excitement in her expression but then, Delarosa frown when he suddenly heard a subtle voice.

"ANA!", Delarosa rushed into the room hurriedly.

Upon entering the room, Delarosa's eyes widen as he saw Ana miraculously already sitting on the bed albeit still looking sickly but there are some changes that can be seen.

The blistering neck that she had is not as nasty as before, it's almost as if she got better.

Looking at Ana who is smiling weakly at him, Delarosa glance at Calidora in disbelief as she suddenly said, "I was also surprised when I saw her open her eyes, it's a miracle"

"Your presence is blessed by the Origin, please accept my humble gratitude", Delarosa said.

He bent his knees to the ground gratefully, he was very thankful from the deepest part of his heart since Ana's condition only get worsened by the day.

Even humans blood doesn't help Ana at all and he was desperate.

Delarosa is prostrating in front of Calidora, and this makes Calidora hurriedly help him up as she said softly, "You're one of the royals, there's no need for this"

"Nevertheless, I'm grateful for your visit princess", Delarosa replied stubbornly.

The sight of Ana getting better touch the deepest soul of Delarosa as he added, "If you need anything at all princess, my family swear to help you to the best of our abilities"

A nasty grin appeared on Calidora's face but she turns back to normal almost instantly.

"Anything?", Calidora mumbles softly.

Without any hesitation, Delarosa replied firmly, "Anything, just say the words princess"

"If that's the case, Can you help me with one small thing? I need you to link me to the owner of this blood and after that I want you to locate him", Calidora asks covering her mouth with her other hand to hide her excited smile from Delarosa.

A moment later,

Calidora is sitting in the guest room before she saw Delarosa come into the room.

There's a solid rock in his hand with a red glowing rune on it that seems to hold a magical spell, he then presents it to Calidora before he said, "Princess, this is the thing that you requested"

Hearing this, Calidora takes the rock gently with her slender fingers.

She was looking at the rock with an excited expression before Delarosa added, "The rock will slowly crumble as you're connected to the blood owner, I've put everything in my power into that rock"

"To locate the blood owner's location accurately, princess needs to stall time until the rock crumbles completely. Since I put everything I had into that, it won't take long", he added.

Calidora is smiling excitedly exposing her beautiful fangs hearing this.

She then glances at Delarosa with excited eyes, she then hugs the rock as if it's the most precious thing in the world, "I'm grateful, Delarosa..."

~

Back to Rex,

CRACK!

BOOM!

The female Undead that was about to enter a dark portal to flee from the place suddenly got blasted away after a lightning bolt strikes down from the sky and destroyed the dark portal.

She was thrown away just from the impact of the lightning strike hitting the ground,

After the lightning strike dissipated, Rex's body materializes from the lightning particle before his fierce eyes landed on the female Undead making her crawl back in fright.

Rex is looking at the female Undead as he approached her slowly,

"Please! I'm sorry, I'm sorry for trying to run away... I'm sorry!", the female Undead pleaded seeing Rex is getting closer to her step by step.

The sharp black-steel claws of Rex glisten under the moonlight,

His piercing eyes and monstrous form shaded by the moon on his back increase the terrifying air around him, the female Undead crawls back fearfully before her back hits a black spear with a human corpse on it.

Rex then stops in front of her before he slowly stretches his hand,

Grip!

The female Undead's body is trembling non-stop as Rex grips her neck and lifts her off the ground, his claws even stabbed the female Undead's neck.

"I-I'm sorry...", the female Undead pleaded meekly.

But Rex didn't mind her plead as he said with a cold tone, "You're asking forgiveness after what you did? Do you really think I'll let you slide?"

Hearing this, the female Undead is confused but she still replied, "I'm sorry"

"Not only did you massacre the humans, but you also impaled them and even disgrace them with your filthy symbol. After all of that, you still have the audacity to plead for mercy?", Rex said coldly, he's still burning with anger from before.

The female Undead then replied, "I'm sorry..."

"We don't-" Gasp "have any choice", she added meekly while getting choked by Rex.

Rex frowns upon hearing this, he puts more strength into clenching the female Undead's neck, he then brings the female Undead face closer to his.

The absolute terror is etched on the female Undead's face as Rex shouted, "Lies!"

BAM!

With a swing of his arm, Rex throws the female Undead roughly.

The female Undead hits the trees on the side before stopping, she stands up slowly with her trembling body as Rex approached her once again.

All the other Undead are rooted in their spots, and even some are starting to flee.

But Rex didn't care since they will just regroup with the other company, and he can kill them later after finishing the Undead here, especially this female Undead.

Rex walks slowly toward the female Undead but his eyes widen when he saw the female Undead.

'My throw shouldn't be that hard, why is she not running?', Rex thought.

Despite him giving the female Undead a chance to run intending to humiliate her by chasing her like a wolf hunting a sheep, the female Undead did something unexpected that even Rex finds surprising.

The female Undead is prostrating on the ground as Rex approached her slowly,

"Forgive this lowly and worthless self of mine, M-master...", the female Undead mutters submissively as she puts her head on the ground in front of Rex.

Hearing this, Rex frown as his eyes scans the female Undead once more.

<Gustava Xix Scteztic>

Race: High Undeadlord

Power: Sixth Rank(Peak)

Mental: 409 (-210)

Strength: 603

Agility: 917

Endurance: 676

Intelligence: 1144

Reading the female Undead's stats, Rex frown since her stats are as expected stronger than the two Undead fighting him before.

Her stats even triumph over Rex's default stats, she's very strong.

p But the frown on Rex's face didn't fade as he looks at the female Undead, Gustava prostrating on the ground submissively even after Rex throw her away.

She didn't even use any spells or even try to resist.

At first, Rex wanted to humiliate her by chasing after her when she intends to run away.

That is why Rex threw her away to give her an opportunity to run but instead of running, Gustava prostrates on the ground waiting for Rex to come to her and keep on apologizing.

With her stats especially her intelligence stats,

Rex knows that if Gustava wanted to, she can use her variety of spells to flee and are certainly stronger than his spells even if he also imbued spirit energy.

At the very least she can run away,

Looking at Gustava prostrating on the ground, Rex then thought, 'Why is she not struggling? and what's with her calling me master all of a sudden'

This situation is weird, even Rex feels weird.

'System, Is the Werewolf race superior to the Undead race?', Rex asks.

<No>

<Undead is an entity that can manipulate death and can even use its energy to conjure all kinds of spells, they're an immortal that is very adept in death magic. Werewolves, on the other hand, they're living cursed creatures of the night reliant on the full moon. In a way, Werewolf is inferior to Undead if not for the full-moon>

Reading this, Rex becomes even more confused about the situation he's in right now.

"I-If it will please you...", Gustava suddenly mutters attracting Rex's attention.

Under Rex's very eyes, Gustava started stripping her armor leaving only a black piece of black dress that covered her body under the armor.

This makes Rex even more surprised since she deliberately puts herself in a defenseless position.

She then ripped the chest area open as she added, "You can play with my heart"

The ripped part of the dress exposes Gustava glowing beating heart that can be seen through her pale skin, it's beating roughly almost as if she was not an Undead and a living being instead.

But Rex can feel and hear that the heart is not functioning like living creatures,

Although it's beating as if it's pumping blood through Gustava's body, it doesn't and it pumps death energy throughout her body instead.

'What is that?', Rex thought with a frown.

While showing her beating heart, Gustava turns her head away and closed her eyes exposing herself as she waited for Rex to make a move while biting her lips fearfully.

It's like she's trained to do this, but Rex stands rooted on the spot in disbelief.

He's too shocked about the situation,

"If torturing me doesn't please you then...", tears started to flow down from her eyes as she crawls to Rex's feet and holds it with her cold hands, "you can kill me however that pleases you", Gustava added making Rex snapped out of his daze.

Seeing this, Rex was about to leap away thinking that Gustava might do something.

But his body stopped when he saw Gustava's body is trembling, she didn't even try to attack Rex even though her hands are practically touching Rex's leg.

If the Undead before manages to do this, his skin will be sizzling with Death Energy right now.

Rex then squats down before he grabs Gustava's silvery long white hair and pulls it back, he pulls Gustava's hair to make her look at his eyes, "Krmmp!"

Upon feeling Rex grab her hair, Gustava's body jolted.

"I-I'm sorry...", Gustava mutters softly as she kept her eyes closed still filled with tears.

While holding Gustava's hair, Rex glances back at the staked humans before he looks at Gustava fiercely, "Who instructed you to do this? Who told you to impale the corpses?"

Gustava whimpers lightly as her lips started to quiver,

"ANSWER ME!", Rex shouted in his low-baritone voice with clear anger.

The shout makes Gustava's body jolt before she answers with a trembling voice, "I-It's the commander, h-he said that this will bring the humans' morale down"

"Where is he right now?", Rex asked again but then suddenly,

SWISHH!

A couple of ice daggers attacked Rex from the back, Rex didn't move from his spot even after sensing it as the ice daggers crumbles upon hitting Rex's body.

Not a scratch appears on Rex's body, the ice daggers are too weak.

Rex glances to the back and finds five liches that just used a spell to attack him, he glances at him fiercely before one of them then said, "Let go of her! Take your filthy hands off of-"

CRASH!

Without even waiting for the lich to finish talking,

Black lightning tentacles burst from the ground and impaled each one of them, they all died instantly without even knowing what happened to them.

<Killed an early fifth rank Supernatural, Obtained 500,000 Exp>

<Killed a peak fifth rank Supernatural, Obtained 1,300,000 Exp>

<Level up!>

<Obtained 3 Attributable Stats>

Killing the five liches raised his level to 42, but Rex didn't pay it any attention as he glance at Gustava again, "Let me ask you again, Where is the commander?"

Although Rex already anticipated a more powerful Undead,

The aura that he felt before is gone, he can't feel the death energy coming from that hiding Undead that Rex guessed should be the commander Gustava speaks of.

But when Gustava was about to answer again,

"I'm here..."

Hearing the soft whisper, Rex widened his eyes before he suddenly sense an attack coming from the side, he instantly raises his arms to block the attack.

BAM!

"Krrghk!!", Rex grunted feeling the power behind the attack.

CRASH!

Because of blocking the attack, Rex crashed into hundreds of black spears with corpses on them and destroyed all of them that gets hit by him.

He only stop after got blasted for about 200 feet,

Rex looks at his arms and finds sharp needle-like bones stabbing his arms, he can feel the death energy in them as he pulls them out before his injuries started healing.

After doing that, Rex looks at his front and finds the Undead that he's looking for.

There is a powerful Undead permeating death energy so thick that it looks like a waterfall, its body way bigger than Rex who is in his Werewolf form.

BANG!

From a step of this Undead, the ground cracked under its heavyweight.

Rex stands up while brushing the dust off of him before a nasty grin baring his fangs appeared on his face, but his grin disappears when suddenly,

Swoosh!

Death Energy around the place got sucked into the Undead's head,

Rex looks around the place as his eyes widened feeling that the scale of this Undead absorbing the death energy is no joke, his absorption scale encompasses the entire place.

It's a jaw-dropping scale that makes Rex's senses alert,

The death energy gathers on the Undead's forehead where somekind of black crystal is located, the crystal grows more violent by the second until suddenly,

ROAR!!

BOOM!

A shockwave of death energy exploded from the Undead's body burning Rex's skin.

'What the? It actually managed to push me back even though I'm in my Werewolf form?!', Rex exclaimed inside his head as he tries to resist the shockwave of death energy.

After the shockwave ended,

The Undead breathed a black aura as its eyes landed on Rex while emitting violent killing intent.

Rex's eyes glisten while looking at the Undead scanning using the system, but he sucked in a cold breath when he saw the Undead's stats, 'It's the seventh rank Undead...'

Chapter 362 Absence Of Moonlight Energy

'It's the seventh rank Undead', Rex thought as he look at the Undead's stats.

<Durrant Grimlight>

Race: High Undeadlord

Power: Seventh Rank (Early)

Mental: 611

Strength: 1989

Agility: 940

Endurance: 2011

Intelligence: 1324

Durrant's body is fat and wide making him look huge compared to Rex's lean body, his stomach is a mouth with razor-sharp teeth with turtle shells on his back with deadly spikes covering it.

His form is bizarre, especially the black crystal on his forehead that emits Death Energy.

After scanning Durrant's stats, Rex frown since Durrant's stats almost matches his.

Durrant's stats are the highest ones that Rex has ever scanned, it was even higher than Ana Delarosa whom he fought so desperately with Jarvald and still lost before.

The difference between the two of them are evident,

While Ana Delarosa has a ridiculously high Agility stat, Durrant in front of him has high Strength and Endurance stats which differentiate their fighting styles.

But the difference in overall stats was too much, this Undead right here is very strong!

'He's strong but I'm still stronger', Rex thought as he looks at his stats.

Mental: 321 (+133)

Strength: 2022 (+376)

Agility: 1249 (+275)

Endurance: 1944 (+592)

Intelligence: 743 (+120)

Thanks to upgrading his passive skill into Sovereign of the Night, the increase Rex got becomes a 200% increase which boosted his stats immensely.

Fighting Ana Delarosa right now will be a piece of cake,

Even his Strength and Endurance stats has already reached the 2000 points mark which is insane, and now Rex has the confidence to fight against Durrant in front of him.

"I'm surprised to find that you're a Prince, Who would've thought about such a twist", Durrant said softly after seeing the horns sticking out of his head.

Rex smiles mockingly, "Why? Are you scared?"

"On the contrary, I'm glad to have a chance to kill such a being like you", Durrant replied.

BOOM!

The black crystal in his forehead started to glow with death energy as the mouth on his stomach bares its razor-sharp teeth, Durrant's aura is starting to get violent destroying his surroundings.

But upon seeing this, Rex also didn't back down.

"I'm also excited", Rex replied with a nasty grin, he was looking at Durrant's monstrous aura.

The excited look on his face came out of nowhere when he saw Durrant's emitting a horrifying aura, 'I didn't feel pressured by his aura', Rex thought with a grin.

Back when he meet Ana Delarosa, he got goosebumps just from her presence alone.

Now, when an even more powerful Supernatural emits such an aura that even triumphs over Ana Delarosa, Rex doesn't feel pressured anymore.

It's clear that his power has increased tremendously,

Early seventh rank Supernatural is not an opponent he can't defeat, on the contrary, Rex clenched his hands feeling that he can defeat this monstrous Undead in front of him, "You're going to be the first out of many Seventh Rank Supernatural that I will kill"

BOOM!!

An even more powerful energy blasted from Rex's body,

The death aura coming from Durrant got suppressed heavily by the mixed energy coming from the Pure Brace of Moonlight, red force, and black lightning.

CRACK!

Durrant puts his guard up upon feeling Rex's violent and destructive energy,

Although it's just been a minute since he arrived, the confident and smug air around him dispersed instantly feeling that his aura alone got suppressed.

"Gustava! Stand up", Durrant commanded hurriedly.

Durrant is still looking at Rex warily since even Durrant felt threatened by just his aura alone, he was confident before but not now seeing the sudden shot of aura of Rex.

Even when he landed a solid sneak blow catching Rex off guard,

Rex's reflex is too fast and his senses are sharp, he manages to block a perfect sneak attack imbued with Death Energy from a seventh rank Supernatural.

Durrant glanced to the side when he heard no response from Gustava,

"I need your spells to protect me against this Prince, Go cast a p-", while he's turning his head to the side, Durrant instructed Gustava to use her spells but stopped when he saw Gustava.

Gustava is shaking from her head to toes from Rex's aura,

The Mythical Presence that Rex felt takes effect, and it overwhelms Gustava's entire being.

Durrant glances to the side and finds Gustava is still kneeling on the ground unmoving, she glances at Rex a couple of times but seeing Rex's sharp glare she doesn't have the courage to stand up.

Looking at this, Durrant is starting to get angry, "You are a disgrace to the Undead!"

"She's not a disgrace", Rex suddenly intervenes from the side.

Hearing this, Durrant glanced at Rex smugly before Rex added, "She just realized the difference in power and decided to step aside, unlike you who doesn't have a brain in that thick skull of yours"

SWOOSH!!

Rex dashes like a madman turning into a streak of lightning,

A thundering sound was produced before Rex appeared in front of Durrant with two of his sword, his eyes glisten violently as he swings both of his swords down powerfully.

Durrant saw this as he turns around and crouch anticipating Rex's attack,

His hard shell on the back glows with death energy, there is an uncomfortable feeling coming from the death energy but Rex decided to just go through it.

BANG!

The silver sword and Amuerus Katana hits Durrant's hardshell cracking the ground beneath Durrant, Rex's blow was very powerful that it trashed the surrounding.

Rex's silver sword started to sizzle Durrant's hardshell,

Holy properties and silver sword work perfectly against an Undead like Durrant, but the hardshell is too thick and sturdy and impossible to crack it from one attack.

After blocking Rex's attack, Durrant swings its big arms swatting Rex away.

While twisting his body in the air, Rex suddenly catches a dark rune that appeared in front of Durrant's big mouth on his stomach as he chanted, "Gleam of Demolition!"

NGING!!

Death energy gathers on the dark rune until suddenly,

BOOM!

A Black ray of death energy shot from Durrant's big mouth that is ten or even a hundred times more powerful than the Death Ray from Mother Gebbo.

Rex punched the air with red force propelling his body to dodge the black ray,

SWOOSH!

A straight burnt line spans across a mile was created from Durrant's spell, everything that got hit by the black ray whither and dies.

'Shit, where are they?!', Rex thought turning his head to the side.

Because of the black ray, the ground trembled and the ground started to crack.

The woman and Leo's corpse are still here and Rex forgot about that, the destruction they caused to the surroundings makes Rex worry about the woman.

Scanning the place, Rex saw the woman is lying on the side.

From the looks of it, the woman seems to be fine but she almost got hit by a huge rock that lands right beside her, 'I need to bring them away'

Looking at Rex getting distracted,

Durrant also looks in the direction of the woman before he thought of an evil thing, but Rex soon catches Durrant's scheme as he gritted his teeth.

BLITZ!!

Rex's movement is lightning fast and Durrant was taken aback,

He then points both of his swords at Durrant before he imbued red force into them.

The red force gathers on the tip of Rex's swords turning him into a meteor of red force, he then stabs both swords with all his might, "Force Beam!"

CLANG!!

"RAARGH!!", Durrant shouted since his big mouth just got stabbed.

<The enemy's stats has been decreased by 1%>

A notification from the system appeared in Rex's vision as the Ameurus Katana does its effect, every slash that Rex landed will reduce Durrant's stats.

Slashing Durrant's hardshell doesn't work, it's proven before.

But now that Rex manages to land a solid hit on Durrant's mouth, the Ameurus Katana finally takes effect before flinging Durrant's body away.

CRASH!

Durrant was sent crashing away destroying everything on his path, Rex manage to land a solid blow before Durrant can even turn around to hide behind its hard shell.

But before Rex can even rejoice, "Hmm?"

Rex looks down to the ground when he felt intense mana gathers on the ground, his eyes then widened before he turns into a streak of lightning again heading towards the woman.

SWOOSH!

Without wasting a single second, Rex grabs the woman and jumps high into the air.

CRASH!

Hundreds of black ice spikes blasted from the ground in a mile radius impaling anything that got hit by them, the scale was horrifying and if Rex is late for even a second it'll be bad.

Rex manages to save the woman but then suddenly,

Another black ice spike longer and thicker sprouted from the ground aiming at them, but Rex just like before propel himself while carrying the woman by punching the air with red force.

With his immense reflex, he's able to dodge it perfectly.

But right after he dodges the black spike Rex's eyes suddenly widen when a black ray suddenly arrived in front of his eyes, Durrant's attack was timed perfectly.

Rex's body moved automatically, he hugs the woman before turning his body.

BOOM!

The black energy landed right on Rex's back as he protects the woman, he was blasted away like a broken kite before crashing to the ground roughly making a huge crater.

Throughout that scene, Rex protects the woman.

Even when they crash to the ground, Rex protects the woman by taking the fall with his back.

With Rex's Werewolf form, the woman's body got protected fully since his sheer size is at least three times bigger than the woman's entire body.

"Arrgh!", Rex grunted feeling his back burning with death energy.

The regenerative ability that Rex got started to kick in but the death energy is fighting back, it didn't get easily healed normally putting a pained expression on Rex's face.

'System, Are there any items to bring this woman to safety?', Rex asks amidst his struggle.

<Astral Blanket is recommended in this situation, does the user want to buy Astral Blanket for 200,000 gold?>

Rex didn't care about the gold as he instantly say yes,

After buying the Astral Blanket, he immediately summons it from the inventory before a translucent blanket appeared in his hand.

He then covers the woman's body with the blanket,

The woman's body started to turn translucent after Rex covers her with the blanket, based on the system's description this state is called the Astral state, and during this state, the woman can't be hit with any physical attack but can be touched by specific spells.

But Rex is not worried because the system recommends him this item,

The system is the one that taught Rex about the Undead, so if the system recommends this item then the Undead shouldn't be able to use that specific spells.

As long as the woman doesn't move, she will be in this Astral state.

"I see you have a soft spot for humans, I wonder why?", Durrant said while approaching Rex.

Hearing this, Rex stands up slowly holding back his anger after confirming that the woman is already safe inside this Astral state.

Durrant is amused seeing Rex's trembling body, "You're angry by this marvelous scene"

"Even your killing intent can't be hidden just from seeing the impaled corpses, you're a Werewolf and you must know that this is a befitting punishment for the humans", Durrant added.

But then Durrant suddenly realizes, "Unless, you're not actually a Werewolf. What are you, prince?"

"I've had enough of you, let's end this!"

SHING!!

"What?!", Durrant exclaimed when suddenly a clean straight cut appeared on its stomach, Rex arrived beside him in a blink of an eye without giving him any moment to react.

Rex's eyes flash ferociously as he swings both of his swords,

SLASH!

SLASH!

<The enemy's stats has been decreased by 1%>

<The enemy's stats has been decreased by 1%>

Both of the swords dance along with Rex's arms as if they are one with Rex, the flurry of slashes from the two swords overwhelms Durrant's defense.

"Force Beam", Rex chanted as both of his swords glows with a red hue.

Looking at this, Durrant wanted to turn his body around to hide behind his hardshell but his movement is too slow to anticipate Rex's attack.

STAB!

ROAR!

Durrant roared painfully as he got sent crashing away,

But the attack didn't stop as a lightning bolt descend down from the sky and hit Durrant cleanly, the black lightning mana shouldn't hurt him but Durrant felt an immense amount of pain.

Turns out Rex stabbed Durrant with his swords utilizing the Ether Blink spell,

He then flashes steps again before suddenly appearing beside Durrant who is still crashing away, his body is enveloped with black lightning as he swings his swords again.

BAM!

Rex did it a couple of times decreasing Durrant's stats even further,

SLASH!

He blitzed past Durrant who already sustained numerous injuries across his body, his swords are already stained by Durrant's blood leaving the sharp part of the swords black.

Thud!

"ARGHH!!", Durrant shouted as one of his arms got chopped off.

Dark blood spurted from Durrant's chopped arm, the silver sword sliced through the arm cleanly and kept sizzling Durrant's skin as he held his chopped arm in pain.

Rex turns his body around slowly with a fierce glare, "Do you have any last words?"

Both of his swords glow with red force as Rex tilted his head to the side fiercely, his eyes are burning with killing intent preparing for the final blow but out of nowhere,

"YOU FAKE WEREWOLF!! DO YOU REALLY THINK IT'S EASY TO KILL ME!!", Durrant shouted angrily as his body burst with intense dark energy.

'Let's just end this', Rex thought as he ducked his stance lower.

Rex gathers all of his energy into both of his swords concentrating to the max, his muscle also bulged preparing to dash powerfully but then suddenly,

Durrant's body got overwhelmed with death energy as he points to the sky,

The tip of his finger spawned a black rune as he points to the sky, death energy gathers on the black rune as he shouted crazily, "DON'T UNDERESTIMATE A SEVENTH RANK UNDEAD!!"

"HAARRGHH!!!", Durrant pours all of his power into the black crystal on his forehead.

Because of this, the black crystal got imbued with immense Death Energy that makes it start to shake vigorously pumping death energy as if it's being possessed by something.

Death aura shot to the sky as Durrant's pressure makes the ground tremble,

After gathering enough Death Energy, Durrant looks at Rex crazily as he shouted, "I'm going to show you, how powerful an Undead spell is!!"

BOOM!

"Blockage of the Undead!", Durrant chanted,

DEG!!

Rex suddenly feels a hot burning sensation on his horns and also a painful feeling on his chest, it's like his horns are burned and his chest is stabbed by a sword.

Even his back is still sizzling from death energy, this puts Rex in a grim situation.

The black rune glows with death energy powerfully,

With the continuous death energy pumped from the black crystal, the rune above Durrant slowly grows even bigger.

Durrant then glares at Rex violently, "DEATH MAGIC!! BLANKET OF THE MOON!!"

BOOM!

Rex widens his eyes when powerful death energy shot into the sky turning the already darkness of the night darker, there is a thin dark blanket that covers the entire sky!

It's certainly the spell Durrant just cast,

After the chant, the feeling on Rex's horns and chest gets even stronger.

'What is happening?! I can't breathe!', Rex thought while holding his chest, he's bending his body while gasping for air but he tries to keep his stand.

After the blanket is established, Rex looks up strugglingly before he steps back in shock!

<Undetected Moonlight Energy>

<Sovereign of the Night passive skill has been turned off>

Chapter 363 Blacking Out

'I-I can't breathe! What's happening?!', Rex thought while holding his chest in pain, two system notifications came onto his vision making him straighten his back strugglingly.

<Undetected Moonlight Energy!>

<Sovereign of the Night passive skill has been turned off>

Seeing the sky that is already covered by a veil that makes the night darker, Rex widens his eyes as he can't believe the entire sky got engulfed by the spell that Durrant used.

The scale of the spell makes Rex's expression stiff,

As far as his eyes can see, the sky is covered by this dark veil that not only makes the night darker but also makes the moonlight energy disappear from the air.

It even makes Rex's passive skill turned off because of not detecting moonlight energy.

'This shouldn't be the power of a Seventh rank Undead... this can't be true, right?', Rex thought in disbelief as he can't put his head around the spell that Durrant had just cast.

Because of the dark veil from Durrant's spell,

Rex's power surpasses even Durrant which puts him in the upper echelon of the early Seventh Rank got reduced heavily alongside the deactivation of the Sovereign of the Night passive skill.

He's now nothing but a peak sixth rank if he added his other enhancements,

The current power he has now can't compare to Durrant at all, he realizes that the table has just been turned, and fighting against Durrant right now will only result in him being killed.

"Are you scared now?! Yes, show me your expression!", Durrant said with a crazy grin.

He's looking at Rex instantly that slowly but surely has a hint of paleness in his expression, it's due to the fact that this situation is very, very dire.

Durrant then added with a crazy laugh, "Fear me! Fear me more!!"

Upon hearing this, Rex's eyes landed on Durrant before cold fingers seeped through his body and squeezed his heart feeling that the situation he was in is very dire.

'I still have the bomb!', Rex thought as he takes out the purifying bomb.

Without even wasting another second, Rex slammed the vial to the ground before the ground around them lit up with a bright light.

The holy property started to purify the death energy but then,

SPLASH!

Rex widen his eyes when he saw the holy energy wasn't even able to purify the place as it got overwhelmed by the death energy instead, it's not working as he thought it will be.

Looking at this, Durrant laughs maniacally, "No matter what you do, you will die today!"

"I don't care what the repercussions will be, but I will be doing my race a favor by killing you, a fake Werewolf prince here right now!", Durrant added as his entire body glows with death energy.

While looking at this, Rex is trying to find a way desperately.

But his expression turns paler by the second when any of his plans was eliminated by the dark veil, it's a horrifying spell that puts Rex's back against the wall.

The transferral crystal that Rex used as a last resort,

He wanted to use it to flee the place if necessary but the notification from the system makes the cold sweat on his forehead become even more evident, he was running out of options.

<Any form of transportation is blocked inside the Blanket of the Moon spell>

'What should I do!', Rex thought while looking around trying to find a chance or place to escape, but there was nothing around him except for corpses and trees.

Rex looks at Durrant who was about to dash to him,

But then he suddenly saw the black crystal on Durrant's forehead is cracked, it started crumbling piece by piece as it stops pumping death energy throughout Durrant's body.

Rex realized that the spell is laughably strong, he's even sure that it's not a normal kind of spell and surely there will be somekind of blowback to Durrant.

A massive one at that,

'Although he looks okay, he should be getting weaker by the second', Rex thought.

He then puts his senses to his max as he concentrates on Durrant, he's starting to find hope of a way out, 'I just need to survive this until the spell blows on his face'

Right after Rex thought of that,

SWISH!

BAM!

"HUAAKHH!", Rex spat a mouthful of blood as he suddenly saw Durrant is already beside him.

It happened when Rex blinked but at that exact time Durrant already dashes at him and landed a solid knee right on Rex's stomach, the power behind the attack destroyed Rex's internal organs as he was sent flying away penetrating everything on his path.

CRASH!!

BAM!

Rex's back hits against a tree before bouncing off of it,

'Fuck! That shook my insides, from just one hit!', Rex exclaimed as he puts his hands on the ground, the pain in his body area hurts him to the point of stiffening his body.

Durrant's attack becomes even heavier after the passive skill is deactivated,

The difference in their strength is almost three times the amount now, it's a miracle that Rex didn't die from that attack, 'Hmm, what is this white energy?', Rex thought with a frown.

But he immediately shakes his head and opens the inventory, 'I don't care anymore'

'I want to use Extreme State but it's not going to be good to be weakened for half a day, especially in this kind of situation. Let's just use the invincible item and get out of here', Rex thought as he taps on the invincible item, he was about to use it instantly feeling Durrant is slowly approaching him.

But Rex stopped when notifications from the system appear in front of him,

<Durrant the High Undealord has used a forbidden spell!>

<The Blanket of the Moon spell has attracted Countess of the Dark Luniric attention>

Reading this, Rex frowns as he didn't understand what the system is saying.

Before he can think of anything else,

STAB!

A black ice spike sprouted from the ground impaling straight through Rex's stomach as he got lifted 20 feet off the ground, Rex widen his eyes as he spat a mouthful of blood.

Rex looks down slowly and saw the black ice spike pierced through his entire body,

Aside from piercing Rex's body, there is a white barrier that the black ice spike pierced first before piercing Rex's body but Rex can't think of anything right now.

The realization of getting impaled makes his entire world shook as his vision turns blurry,

'I can't pass out... I'm going to die if I passed out right now', Rex thought trying his best to stay conscious, but the grim reaper's temptation makes his eyes blurrier and blurrier.

Without backing down from the grip of death, Rex gritted his teeth, 'I'm going to live!'

He opens the shop and bought an eighth rank healing elixir,

Rex already bought the healing elixir but his power is starting to leave his body, he summons the elixir from the inventory but he can't raise his hand to lift the elixir as the elixir falls to the ground.

It doesn't matter how much Rex tries, his body is not listening to him.

'FUCK! I CAN'T DIE!', Rex screamed inside his head putting everything he had into one last push, he pushed his body off of the black ice spike before landing right beside the healing elixir.

With the last bit of strength in his body,

Rex manages to bring the healing elixir to his mouth before biting through the elixir, he drinks the content instantly before gulping it all down.

After the content of the healing elixir starts to get to work,

Rex can feel some of his power got back to him, he was not going to let himself be killed by a measly Undead as he brings himself up slowly while glaring at Durrant with bloodthirsty eyes.

Stopping his movement, notifications from the system appears.

'I can't read them', he thought squinting his eyes, his vision is still blurry for some reason.

But right after the notification appears, Rex's eyes suddenly turn heavy making him struggle to keep his consciousness to no avail, 'Am I going to die?!', he exclaimed in his head.

His body feels heavy as he falls to the ground weakly.

Rex's eyelids started to close slowly, the last thing he saw was Durrant approaching him.

But then suddenly, "Eh?"

Rex opens his eyes and finds himself standing in front of Gustava who is shivering under a tree while looking at him fearfully, he looks around in confusion finding this to be odd.

But right after that he then widens his eyes before he grabs his stomach.

'What? How did the wound already heal?', Rex thought while touching his stomach, he just got impaled by the black ice spike from Durrant before.

Even the armor that he's wearing from before is still intact, there's no hole in the stomach part.

He can remember it clearly since it happened a moment ago,

The black ice spike penetrating his armor, the blood that is gushing out of his mouth, the struggle to drink the healing elixir, and even Durrant's mocking gaze.

Rex thought he was gonna die,

The mocking smile from Durrant shows that even Durrant thought that Rex will die from that.

But now, Rex checks his stomach and his entire body to only find that there's no sign of wounds he sustained from the battle before it's almost as if it didn't happen in the first place.

All of the trees that should've been around him were rooted off the ground leaving not even a single standing tree, the sight is a broken terrain as far as his eyes can see.

Battle scars can be seen throughout the place, the battle did happen before.

He's now already in his human form,

Even though he's in his human form, Rex feels completely fine as if he just got to this place.

The battle he did with the Durrant was like a dream, he's still frowning since he's still confused about the situation he's in that just doesn't feel right.

If not for the carcasses around him, Rex might be convinced that the battle is a dream.

Although it's hard to assess the situation around him since the place is destroyed to the brim, Rex found a couple of Undead carcasses around his place.

He even finds the carcass of the four-armed Undead, 'So it's not a dream, then what happens?'

Rex's eyes then landed on Gustava before he squatted down and asks, "What happened here? Where is Durrant? I didn't see him anywhere"

But upon hearing this, Gustava's body becomes even tenser, "I'm sorry, master..."

Hearing this, Rex can only sigh since it's useless to ask Gustava who can only apologize like a robot about what happened during the battle against Durrant before.

Rex wanted to look around but he suddenly just realized that he was holding something.

Looking down at his hand, Rex widens his eyes in surprise.

"Wh-What the heck?!", Rex exclaimed as he threw the thing that he was holding in surprise.

Since he's just very confused about the situation he's in, Rex didn't realize that his hand is holding something and just realized it now when he was about to look around.

Thud!

The thing that Rex holds before rolls a couple of feet on the ground,

"How did he die?!", Rex exclaimed as he realized the thing that he was holding before is Durrant's head, the dark blood gushing out of Durrant's head is still fresh emitting a haunting stench.

He was really surprised to find that he was holding Durrant's head, "What the heck happened?!"

While he's thinking about what happened to him, Rex suddenly got an idea as he asks, 'Devo, Can you hear me? I want to ask you something'

After waiting for a while, Devo didn't answer.

Rex asks for the second time before finally, Devo's voice appears once again, Devo's breaths are haggard as if he just run a marathon.

'Did you know what just happened?', Rex asks ignoring Devo's weird breaths.

Hearing this, Devo then catches his breath before he replied, [I don't know, I was giving you all of the spirit energy that I had but then suddenly I passed out]

'You passed out too?', Rex thought with a frown.

Not long after, notifications from the system started to pop out in front of Rex's vision.

<Sudden Quest Completed!>

<Obtained 300,000,000 Exp, Kox'rol Core, Rune of Defense>

Since Durrant is dead and the other Undead already ran fearing Rex's power, the one that is left is only Gustava who for some reason is staying in her place unmoving.

There's no sign of fighting back or even wanting to escape from Gustava.

But Rex's mind can't think about her as he still wants to know about what just happened to him, 'If just there's someone aside from this useless Undead that witness what happened'

'I remember the system said something about a Countess...'

Rex sigh but then suddenly he remembers something, 'System, show me the notification summary log'

<Obtained 300,000,000 Exp, Kox'rol Core, Rune of Defense>

<Sudden Quest Completed!>

<Killed a Seventh Rank Supernatural, Obtained 130,000,000 Exp>

The system shows Rex the summary of the notifications starting from the most recent one, Rex finds that he indeed is the one that killed Durrant who is a Seventh rank Supernatural.

But then, his eyes landed on the fourth and fifth most recent notifications.

<Does the user allows this?>

<Countess of the Dark Luniric is angry, she requested a moment of possession of the user's body>

'Countess of the Dark Luniric? What is she?', Rex thought.

<The user doesn't have enough gold to access this information>

Reading this, Rex frowns as he didn't expect the information will cost so much even though he still got plenty of gold left from the money Adhara gave.

After thinking for a moment, Rex finally let it go since he can't figure this out.

'As long as I'm alive, I don't mind getting possessed by this so-called Countess of the Dark Luniric', Rex thought before he looks around trying to locate the woman.

He sniffs the air and finds the woman still covered by the Astral Blanket,

Rex sighed in relief after finding that the Astral Blanket did as expected, 'That spell from Durrant surprises me, I didn't even use Decimation Frevor to fight him'

'The scale and effect of the spell caught me off guard', he thought with a sigh.

The Blanket of the Moon is a terrifying spell,

Even the system told Rex that it's a forbidden spell, it's crushing to feel that such a spell can be used by a seventh rank Undead like Durrant.

Since he was just got confident after he stands his ground in front of a seventh rank Supernatural.

Rex got this feeling of confidence that drowns him when Durrant suddenly uses the Blanket of the Moon spell, he was too surprised when this happens.

If he was calm, he could've thought of a way to escape but the spell is too much.

After cursing himself for making a grave mistake almost resulting in his death, Rex's eyes then turn to the shivering Gustava again before he thought, 'Now that Durrant is out of the way, What should I do with her?'

Chapter 364 Obedient Addition

'Now that Durrant is out of the way, What should I do with her?', Rex thought, his eyes landed on Gustava who already collected herself and kneel in front of Rex submissively.

Finding an Undead like Gustava is very weird, Rex never had any experience like this.

Usually any Supernatural if given a chance in a situation like Gustava, they would've run or stabbed him in the back but Gustava on the other hand obediently stays in her place.

Rex sigh before he takes his silver sword and Amuerus katana on the side,

After taking the swords, Rex unsheathed the Amuerus katana before he walks back to Gustava who still doesn't move from her place.

The beating heart on her chest can still be seen right now,

It's as if she purposefully expose her heart like this asking Rex to kill her, but this instead makes Rex hesitant to kill her lest she has somekind of spell that will be activated upon death.

Shing!

Rex turns his body towards Gustava before he points the silver sword at her neck,

He then asks, "The white barrier before..."

"Was it your doing?", he continues as he remembers the white barrier blocking Durrant's black ice spike that was about to impale him.

But since the white barrier is not stronger than Durrant, it fails to block the black ice spike.

Hearing this, Gustava turns her head away avoiding Rex's gaze.

Her expression is quivering showing her hesitant feeling to answer Rex's question, but Rex saw Gustava clench her fingers together before she finally replied, "Yes..."

"Why did you help me?", Rex asks again in confusion.

Rex just killed a company of Undead, even Durrant and the two strong Undead was killed by him whom he thought was close with Gustava.

So following that logic, Gustava should resent him instead.

Gustava bit her lips before she brave herself and look at Rex's eyes, "I don't know..."

But it didn't last long as she averted her gaze again,

"If that's the case, why didn't you run away now? You can still live if you escape from me", Rex said while eyeing Gustava's expression, he was trying to figure out what's her intention.

And upon hearing this, Rex saw a slight change in Gustava's expression.

Gustava glances at the silver sword that Rex is holding, she did it a couple of times to be exact.

Rex puts the silver sword away while looking at Gustava with a frown.

From the way she acted and the change in expression, Rex suspected something, "Do you want me to kill you?", he asks lightly.

Hearing this, Gustava's body went stiff.

After a slight pause, Gustava didn't answer Rex and instead stretches her hands to the silver sword that Rex is holding.

A steaming sound was instantly produced when Gustava touches the silver sword.

But despite the burning pain in her hands, Gustava didn't take her hands away.

Gustava redirected the silver sword that Rex is holding before she stop when the silver sword is aimed at her beating heart, it's clear what she was asking from Rex.

"Why?", Rex asks in confusion.

Although Rex will gladly kill her, he can't deny the fact that he's curious about her.

The only Supernatural that begged to be killed, there's not quite another Supernatural like this that willingly aimed a silver sword at their own weak point.

Without looking at Rex, Gustava then answered, "I made you angry..."

"What? That's your reason?", Rex mumbles in surprise, he was not expecting an answer like this.

Clearing his throat since he just got surprised, Rex looks at Gustava weirdly, 'Did she has a history with a Prince? Did she do this because I didn't torture her earlier?'

Back before Durrant arrive,

Gustava was exposing her beating heart and asks if torturing her will please Rex, at that moment Rex is very angry about the impaling of the corpses.

But he didn't expect Gustava to be actually so obedient like this,

"I'm sorry, please kill me if that will at least reduce your anger. Just take it out on me...", Gustava added making Rex snap out of his daze.

Hearing this, Rex suddenly thinks of something.

The grin on his face shows that he just thought of something great, he then slowly stretches out his hand and grabs Gustava's neck gently.

Feeling Rex's touch, Gustava closes her eyes knowing that Rex will end her.

Rex lifts Gustava off the ground, he saw Gustava is closing her eyes resigning her life to Rex's hand as the grin on Rex's face becomes wider.

Instead of crushing Gustava's neck, Rex suddenly asks, "How many humans have you killed?"

Gustava opens her eyes slowly upon hearing this,

"I-I don't know, but it's many...", she said lightly, the grip on her neck is not rough like before since Rex didn't use much power so she can speak clearly.

Rex's grin turns mischievous as he said, "Since you want me to not be angry..."

"I don't think killing you will just do enough, you need to do way more than that", Rex added making Gustava's expression turns droopy.

"W-What do you want me to do? I'll satisfy you", Gustava mutters obediently.

But the question makes the grin Rex had on his face becomes even wider as he lifts her body in the moon's direction, "You... You're going to be my third pack member!"

'System I want to turn her into a Werewolf, is that possible?', Rex asks.

<Any creature can be turned into a Werewolf, including other Supernaturals>

Hearing this, Rex glance at Gustava who is looking at him with wide eyes, "M-Master, What do you mean by that?", Gustava asks in disbelief.

Rex didn't answer as he shouted excitedly, "BRAND!"

A moment later,

"Hhrgghkk!", Gustava's chest heaved up and down after getting branded by Rex.

She slid down from Rex's hand as the branding process started to take effect, the burning sensation on her neck and Rex's grip can still be felt on her neck.

Gustava is holding her neck while kneeling on the ground,

Her bones started to make cracking sounds, the pain starting to overwhelm her, and when the veins around her body bulged she finally lets it all out by screaming painfully, "AARGHH!!!"

The high-pitched scream reverberated in the surrounding,

While this is all happening, Rex is watching from the side waiting for the process to end.

The brand is located on her neck just like Adhara and it's glowing with blue light, Rex brand Gustava with a Custodian Rune that he bought from the shop.

'Since her spell is around defensive spells, this rune is perfect', Rex thought.

<Custodian Rune>

This rune will amplify any defense-related skill or spell effect adding an extra layer of energy to make them sturdier, a support rune that can help to protect allies from danger. Perfect for Earth Elementalist.

CRACK!!

"ARGHH!!!", Gustava screams once more as she glances at Rex with tearful eyes.

The bones that are moving inside her body are more gruesome than when Adhara and Kyran turn into Werewolf, it's almost as if her entire body was transmorphed into something else.

"Master, Why didn't you just torture or kill me?", Gustava asks with a painful expression.

Hearing this, Rex glance at Gustava before he squats down in front of her with a nasty grin, "You want me to punish you right? Killing or torturing you is not much of punishment since it seems you want me to kill you instead"

"Since you killed many humans, you will repay that debt by killing Supernaturals"

Rex grabs Gustava's silvery white hair cocked it back before he added, "I'm your Alpha now, so you'll do everything that I say with no exception. Do you understand?"

"Y-Yes master, I will be o-obedient", Gustava replied meekly as the process slowly ended.

The cracking sounds started to recede after a bit more than five minutes, but there's not much of a change in her appearance aside from her skin is not as pale anymore.

It's almost as if she's not a living dead, her skin started to turn a bit rosy.

Her eyes are still pure white like a blind person, her skin is still decayed, and sickly as she emits the same dead stench just like any other Undead in general.

<Transformation success! Feed Gustava with the user's blood>

'It's not a drop of blood? Maybe she's stronger', Rex thought.

After saying that and noticing that the process has ended, Rex lets go of her hair roughly before he stands towering in front of her, "Now, Look up and open your mouth"

"I'm going to give you my blood, make sure to not spill any", Rex added.

Hearing this, Gustava positioned her body still kneeling on the ground to face Rex before she looks at him and open her mouth exactly as Rex commanded obediently.

She even takes out her tongue as a precaution,

Without wasting any second, Rex cuts the palm of his hand with the silver sword before he clenched his hand making his blood flow down to Gustava's mouth like a waterfall.

Drop!

'Since she's a sixth rank Undead, giving her more blood is appropriate right?', Rex thought.

The blood kept flowing down from Rex's palm, Gustava drinks all of it carefully fearing that she might spill some of the blood and makes Rex angry.

While this is all happening, Rex notices some changes in Gustava's body.

Rex frowned when he notices more changes in Gustava's body,

The changes make Rex's eyes slowly widen in surprise, the changes are just too much.

Her eyes that should've been all-white slowly turned human-like, it didn't take long for her eyes to turn into sparkling blue color and it's radiating with calmness just by looking at them.

Gustava's skin is not pale anymore, and the Undead stench is nowhere to be smelled.

Even the little things like lips, cheeks, neck, hands, hair, all of these started to look alive again without leaving any trace of her being an Undead before which surprises Rex.

If Rex meets with her in this state before, he won't suspect her to be an Undead once.

<Congratulation on obtaining the third Silverstar pack member!>

<Supernatural Werewolf Achievement has been completed!>

<Obtained 500,000,000 Exp, Unholy Eyes of the Undead>

After the notification popped onto Rex's vision, he puts his hand away as the wounds slowly closed on their own, it's a bit harder to close since Rex uses the silver sword to make the cut.

Surprisingly Rex completed an achievement from the system after Gustava joins his pack.

Gustava closed her mouth after she saw Rex is putting his hand away,

The taste of Rex's blood somehow doesn't taste bad as Gustava savors the taste, she even licked the blood that is smeared on her lips not wasting any drop of blood.

'I gave her three times more blood than Kyran, and it's still doesn't exceed her limit', Rex thought.

Just like he expected,

Since Gustava is a sixth rank Undead she can take more blood than Kyran, Rex didn't put more blood since he's afraid exceeding the blood limit will be bad.

Especially since this is the first time Rex turns another Supernatural into a Werewolf.

Rex looks at Gustava who looks surreal in front of him, he still can't believe that Gustava that is a full-on Undead turns into this somewhat human-like form.

'Let's give her the mark', Rex thought.

Gustava saw Rex approach her and stretch out his hand to touch the middle of her chest, the Silverstar mark on the palm of Rex's hand glows, 'System, Mark her'

Swish!

Unlike when Rex marked Adhara before, Gustava didn't scream and just held it in.

The Silverstar mark is etched right in the middle of her exposed chest, 'That should do it, the Silverstar mark should be able to cover that heart', Rex thought.

Although she looks human-like, the beating heart doesn't and it can be noticed easily

With the Silverstar mark right on the skin above the heart, even if Gustava stripped naked the weird heart shouldn't be seen easily by just anyone.

Now that Rex thought about this, he widens his eyes when Gustava is looking at him.

The rosy expression that she wore surprises, Rex, when she's still an Undead before expressions such as this can't be seen because her skin is decayed.

But now, Gustava is looking at Rex who still has his hand in the middle of her chest.

Since she now become human-like, her breasts that can be seen looks more natural and this somehow makes Rex feel uncomfortable, 'She's very warm it's very pleasant, I can feel the blood coursing through her body. It's almost as if she was brought back from the dead'

While Rex is feeling Gustava's skin, he then widens his eyes, 'What am I doing?'

"Master... What is this?", she asks while looking at the Silverstar mark on the middle of her chest, but Rex found that her voice becomes even softer and gentler than before.

It seems even her voice changed slightly from the transformation,

Rex shakes his head before he retracts back his hand, "That'll turn you into a full-fledged Werewolf, you should be a half-werewolf right now"

After saying that, Rex's eyes glisten as he scans Gustava,

<Gustava Xix Scteztic>

Race: Half-Werewolf - Heart of Black

Power: Sixth Rank(Mid)

Mental: 409 (+210)

Strength: 403

Agility: 647

Endurance: 476

Intelligence: 1144

Reading this, Rex finds that there's a power loss that Gustava experienced turning from a High-Undeadlord into a Half-Werewolf.

'But her intelligence stat is still the same though', Rex thought nodding his head.

While reading the stats, Rex also founds the Heart of Black part beside her power before he asks the system, 'Did she retain some power from being an Undead?'

<Please scan Gustava for further information>

Gustava who is still on the ground while feeling her new body suddenly felt a hand grab her cheek, she looks up and saw Rex standing in front of her with his hand caressing her cheek.

Her eyes turns starry when she saw Rex's expression is not stiff and hard anymore.

Since Rex just turns her into a Werewolf, he can lower his guard because anyone that he turns into a pack member will have some sort of connection with him being the Alpha.

<Scanning...>

Gustava closes her eyes feeling Rex's gentle touch, but it didn't last long.

<Scan complete!>

<Gustava has retained the Death Core necessary for any Undead to turn into a Seventh Rank, the Heart of Black is still beating inside Gustava's body and it will alter the Werewolf race that Gustava will turn into>

'So just like Kyran, she will not be a regular Werewolf?', Rex asks,

<Yes!>

Rex thinks for a moment while rubbing his chin, 'What kind of Werewolf will she turn into?'

'We'll just see when she turned into a full-fledged Werewolf, for now, let's take the woman back first and regroup', Rex looks at the back where the woman is lying unconscious.

With the death of Durrant, the mission should get relatively easier.

Rex glanced at Durrant's head before he suddenly remembered, 'Should I bring Durrant's corpse back so Delta can eat it? I probably should'

After deciding to bring the corpse back, Rex then throws clothes at Gustava.

"Strip your armor and wear that, follow me after you finish changing", Rex instructed before he grabs Durrant's head and proceed to search for the rest of Durrant's body.

Although it should be hard to find Durrant's body in this broken terrain,

With the help of Rex's sense of smell, he follows the same smell coming from Durrant's decapitated head and found Durrant's body almost half a mile from the battlefield.

Rex approach Durrant's body before his eyes widen,

"What happened during my blackout really, this is just something else..."

Chapter 365 Scout Report And Oblivious Tyrice

"This is just something else...", Rex mutters while looking at the carcass.

Aside from the carcass being very far away from the battlefield, Durrant's carcass is surrounded by dark energy that scorches the dirt and trees around the carcass black.

There are three fine cut wounds on the carcass's chest area,

Rex inspected the carcass closely feeling curious about what this Countess of the Dark Luniric is all about, 'This is my claws alright, she definitely took over my body'

'But this...', he thought while looking at the leftover dark energy around the carcass.

Although the dark energy that surrounded the carcass resembles dark mana, Rex can clearly tell that it's not since he already felt dark mana from Kyran before.

This one is even warmer than dark mana, Rex finds it familiar though.

While inspecting the carcass, Rex senses something as he grabs Durrant's corpse, 'They came pretty late, let's just get out of here', he thought glancing to the side.

Just from the aura alone, Rex can already tell who they are.

Rex immediately leaped back after putting Durrant's carcass on the inventory, he landed right beside Gustava who just finished changing into more normal clothes.

Since the place should be trashed, Rex buys her clothes that resemble the survivors.

Gustava is wearing a brown one-piece plain dress that's a bit baggy, Rex also gave her a brown hooded cloak to cover her white hair and face but it seems she's struggling to wear it.

She's looking at the brown hooded cloak in confusion, playing with it,

Rex sighs seeing that she doesn't know what the brown hooded cloak is for, 'She's an Undead alright, It's going to be a pain to teach her stuff will it?'

Even after a moment, Rex face-palm himself when he saw how Gutava wore the cloak.

She wrapped the brown hooded cloak on her neck before she glance at Rex with an innocent look, the scene just makes Rex want to hit her but her innocent looks forbid him.

"Come here, just think of this as a helmet", Rex said.

He takes the brown hooded cloak off of Gustava's neck before he puts it on, Gustava, but after wearing it Gustava still has a confused look as she touches the brown cloak, "Helmet?"

Scrat!

Gustava suddenly ripped the brown cloak accidentally before she immediately kneel, "I'm sorry!"

'This is just great', Rex thought with a sigh.

But he pay her no mind before he said, "From now on, you're not going to harm any humans even the slightest bit. No matter what, I forbid you from harming humans do you understand?"

"Yes master", Gustava replied before slowly standing back up.

From afar, Rex already saw Gerrard's team arriving at the scene and they gasp in shock when they saw the aftermath of Rex's battle with the company of Undead.

Corpses are scattered around, and some of the impaled corpses are still standing.

"I almost forgot, your name going to be Gistella Scteztic starting from now. Remember that because I won't repeat myself", Rex said commandingly.

Hearing this, Gistella nodded her head, "Thank you..."

"Put their heads in this bag, we'll leave right after", Rex instructed, Gistella did what Rex told her before they dashed in another direction leaving the place not forgetting to take the unconscious woman.

Although Rex wanted to just leave,

He was hesitant at first but finally decided to search for Leo and his father's corpse which was thankfully still not far from the place Leo died before.

The guilt is still there, Leo could've still lived if Rex caught on sooner.

That is why Rex brought the two corpses and gives them a simple burial on the side of the place, it's the least he can do for the father and son duo.

After giving them a property burial, the system notification appears.

<Sudden Quest completed!>

<Obtained 400,000,000 Exp and Rune of Despair>

Meanwhile,

"What happened here? Isn't this the seventh rank Undead company?", One of the descendants said while looking at the destroyed place filled with dead creatures.

The air is rotten thanks to the decayed Undead that Rex killed,

Just from mentally counting the Undead around them, they are numbering in the thousands which make the descendants suck in a cold breath, "This surely is the seventh rank Undead company, I remember that bridge we encounter earlier"

"We're planning to take this company the last, but who would've thought someone destroyed it earlier than we did. Is it the Awakened in Eqosa City?"

"It's our luck, I hope they manage to kill the seventh rank Undead"

While the descendants are discussing with each other,

Gerrard looks around with a frown, his expression shows the same confusion as to the others.

But when he's looking around the destroyed place, Gerrard's eyes flash with light mana before he glances to the left seeing shadows leaving the place, "Hmm...", he hummed while looking in the direction the shadows are dashing at.

After looking in the direction for a moment, Gerrard then commanded, "Search for the seventh rank Undead carcass, and see if you can find the ones who did this"

"I want to know who did this", Gerrard added with a calm tone.

One of the descendants suddenly said, "Leader, don't we need to just be thankful for whoever did this that takes care of the seventh rank Undead? It's not polite to search for this person"

Some of the descendants also nodded their heads in agreement,

Aside from being thankful for the person that flattened the seventh rank Undead company, the person should be a powerful one, and searching for this person might not be the right thing to do.

Gerrard's body turns stiff, "That's a good suggestion...", he mumbles.

Hearing this, the descendant that suggested this rubs his nose feeling good for himself as Gerrard turns his body around.

But soon the good feeling vanished when he saw Gerrard's glowing eyes,

The light mana that makes Gerrard's eyes glow added to his vicious expression makes the descendants step back in fear, the hostility coming from Gerrard gives them goosebumps.

"But I don't recall asking for your suggestion", Gerrard added slowly.

After turning his body around completely showing his vicious expression emitting light mana, Gerrard then added, "Should I rip your mouth off of your face or...?"

"I'm sorry! We'll follow your commands", the particular descendant immediately apologized.

~

The night keep on getting late before Rex got back to his team,

Evelyn saw Rex entering the trashed city while carrying a woman and also followed by a hooded slender figure, she immediately alerted the others.

The others are eating their prepared ration before hearing Evelyn call on them.

"Rex is back!", she shouted before approaching Rex.

While the descendants are gathering around, Rex whispers to Gistella who is walking beside him, "Don't get close to anyone"

Gistella nodded her head putting her head down when the descendants approaches,

It didn't take long before Evelyn arrived in front of them, but her eyes landed on Gistella.

Dray soon follows before the others also join in without exception, they all are starting to get worried when Rex hasn't come back even after this late in the night.

Rex himself instructed to get back before night came,

So it's obvious that the descendants are worried that something might've happened to Rex while he was adventuring into the forest where the seventh rank Undead lies.

"Where have you been?! I'm worried", Evelyn asks in concern averting her gaze to Rex.

Rex shrugs his shoulders before he replied, "I got caught up with something, but I took care of it"

After talking briefly, Rex puts down the unconscious woman before he told the descendants to gather around to report their findings.

"So, How was the scouting? Report your findings", Rex said while eyeing the descendants.

Hearing this, Dray stepped up before he reported, "From our scout around the suspected entry of the Werewolf reinforcement, I found one company of Undead lead by a peak sixth rank while Seve found another company about a mile apart from each other"

"Who leads the second company? Did you find the leader?", Rex looks at Seve and asks.

Seve shakes his head with a dejected look before he explains, "Unlike the company Dray found, the company that I found is guarded by many Undead and also surrounded by many traps. The Undead there is somewhat hard to kill even after chopping their heads"

After saying that, Sabrina steps forward and lifts up her robe.

She's showing the wound on her calves which Rex thought to be from a trap they encountered, the wound is already half healed but it's still rotting and black.

The wound is not normal black, it doesn't look like normal wounds one suffers from being affected by death energy,

This one is more concentrated and it's sure to come from a spell.

Morana tried to heal it, but it seems she ran out of mana from healing the survivors so Sabrina's wound only got healed a bit and she seems to still be in pain.

"Traps? Hard to kill?", Rex mumbles in thought.

Although he's still not sure, he already suspected a couple of Undead which he read from the system such as Rusalka, and Abyssal lich, but Rex is still unsure.

He then looks at Seve and asks, "Did you find anything else around that place?"

"Where did you find the company of Undead? What did you feel being there?", Rex added trying to figure out what he was dealing with.

It's better to be safe than sorry, especially since fighting against Durrant.

Even though the UWO told them that there's only one Undead with a seventh rank power in this place, there is no guarantee that another one is not present and hiding in the dark.

They need to be this alert at least, to avoid casualties.

Seve thought for a moment before he replied, "The place is an abandoned city from the Supernatural Emergence, the main camp is in a soccer stadium in the center"

"If you ask what I'm feeling there, I can only say that the air is humid", he added.

Hearing this, Rex narrowed it down to be a Rusalka which is a malicious female entity that is known for her defensive spells and has a ghost-like body. This malicious entity is usually found in murky water like swamps and also likes to eat the souls of the weak-willed.

Considering that the Rusalka is probably sent here, it's a possibility that the Rusalka is camping there even though it's not its preferable place to stay.

But Rex is still not convinced, 'But Rusalka doesn't know any buffing spells'

Seve explained that the Undead there hardly die even after decapitating their head which means whatever Undead leading the company should have a buffing spell, but Rusalka doesn't have any spells like that.

Rusalka is based on offensive spells and trap spells, that is why Rex suspected it to be a Rusalka.

'If the leader is Rusalka, I don't know why there is many Undead guarding her. She can just lay traps around their camp and sent a few scouts to watch for intruders', Rex thought.

The meeting continues as each of the descendants gave their report.

After they all gives their report, Rex thought for a moment before he said, "We'll start early in the morning by taking out the company that Dray found, dismissed!"

The descendants nodded their heads and disperse,

While the other descendants are dispersing, there are four people left standing in their place and all of their eyes are fixated on Gistella whose face is hidden under the brown cloak.

Evelyn squints her eyes while looking at Gistella,

Although Gistella wore a baggy plain brown dress that makes her look somewhat haggard, the curves can't be hidden under the clothes and the others can instantly tell that she's a woman.

'Who is she? She's definitely not normal', Evelyn thought inspecting Gistella.

Seve and Dray on the other hand are looking at the bag Gistella is carrying while Maurice turns his attention to Rex, each of them has something on their mind.

Rex on the other hand is looking at the white cocoon, 'Delta is still not done yet'

Aside from Delta, Rex also saw Fordie from a window tied up inside a house which shows that the descendants' view of him at least improve.

Fordie is also an asshole, so it's not a surprise for the descendants to do this.

After looking around, Rex realized that the others are still standing in their spots, "What are you guys doing? Didn't I tell you to dismiss?"

Hearing this, all of their attention was pulled to Rex.

The sharp glance from Rex instantly shows the others that he doesn't want to answer any questions, they all caught this rather clearly.

But then suddenly, "Who is this? Are you another survivor?"

Tyrice, the metal Elementalist approaches Gistella from the side with a gentle smile, "Miss, It's okay. You're going to be safe here, no need to worry", he said.

"Thank you...", Gistella mutters while slightly raising her gaze.

Although it's just a glimpse, Tyrice was stunned upon seeing Gistella's face as his eyes widen in surprise, "S-So beautiful, how can such a goddess be in this kind of place!", he exclaimed.

Hearing this, the others smile wryly seeing Tyrice doesn't read the atmosphere.

But they also saw a glimpse of Gistella's face, and the word beautiful is an understatement.

Rex is standing beside Gistella while looking at Tyrice with a darkened expression, but Tyrice is oblivious to all of this as his attention is fully on Gistella.

But then suddenly, someone grabbed his shoulder.

Tyrice was about to scold the person grabbing his shoulder, but his expression turns stiff when he saw Rex is the one that grabbed him with a smile on his face.

"R-Rex?", he mutters quietly before suddenly,

BAM!

Rex kicks Tyrice right on his side with a perfect roundhouse kick sending him crashing into an abandoned house on the side, the loud crashing sound attracted the other descendants and also the survivors.

Upon seeing this, Evelyn smiled wryly, "Did you really need to kick him that hard?"

"He's a Metal Elementalist, he will be fine from that kind of kick", Rex replied nonchalantly, he clearly indicate that he doesn't want to be asked from his expression.

But Tyrice is too oblivious to that which makes Rex pissed, 'Fucker is blockheaded'

While Rex is cursing Tyrice who doesn't even move from the rubble, Gistella suddenly kneels beside Rex, "Master... Did I say something wrong?"

"Get up and don't talk", Rex replied coldly upon seeing this.

Gistella stands back up with a trembling body before Rex's eyes fall onto the others who are looking at this scene, he raises one of his eyebrows before Dray steps up.

Dray points at the bag Gistella is holding before he asks, "What's in the bag?"

"I can feel death energy coming from that bag", he added.

Since the situation is a bit weird, Dray decided to ease the tension by asking about the bag that seems to emit death energy.

Hearing this, Rex takes the bag before he throws it to Dray, "Why don't you check it out yourself"

Maurice, Seve, and Evelyn approach Dray also feeling curious about the bag, with one swift motion Dray opened the bag before they all widened their eyes in surprise.

"N-No way..."

"This is not what I think it is right...?"

"Damn!"

Chapter 366 Decision And Late Night Tension

"N-No way..."

"This is not what I think it is right...?"

"Damn!"

All of them mutter in disbelief when they open the bag,

Dray who is the one holding the bag was caught off guard as he lets go of the bag making the content rollout, the others are also in utter shock as they look at the ground.

"Rex, Is this what we think it is?", Evelyn asks with a slightly pale expression.

Hearing this, Rex shrugs his shoulders before he replied, "I met one company of Undead lead by that thing, that is why I'm back late"

"That's beside the point...", Evelyn mumbles lightly.

Even Seve who is still in shock looks at Rex with a complicated look before he said, "This is the seventh rank Undead? I thought you're going to let Gerrard handle his?"

"No... Just how did you do this?", Seve added.

Although they know Rex is strong, and maybe the strongest in the sixth rank realm.

The thought of him fighting against a seventh rank Undead and winning never crosses their minds, seventh rank Undead is can't be easily killed with their variety of spells.

Looking at Rex who is standing calmly, the others become even more surprised.

After fighting a ridiculously powerful seventh rank Undead, there's no sign of pain or injury which makes the others think that Rex killed the seventh rank Undead easily.

But Evelyn on the other side squints her eyes as she looks at Rex's stoic expression.

She felt something is off even though Rex looks calm and collected, she eventually realizes something before her expression becomes softer.

Rex turns his body around, "Go get some rest, we'll move out at dawn"

"Tell the Metal Elementalist guy to keep a night lighter, tell him if he sleeps I'm going to kick him harder than before", he added.

He then left the others that are still shocked about the heads of Durrant and the two strong Undead inside the bag followed by Gistella.

It took about a couple of minutes before the others collected themselves,

Before they thought Rex is a very solid and strong sixth rank Awakened that can suppress other spirits but now, he becomes even monstrous in their eyes.

The descendants then got back to their own places after getting dismissed,

While Rex is walking around looking at the houses here, he then stops in front of a normal-looking house not far from the others before he proceeds to enter it.

The interior of the house is just like any normal house looks,

Rex enters the house and instantly met a hallway with stairs leading to the second floor at the end, he walks along the hallway and saw the living room on the left and the kitchen on the right.

Gistella is walking behind Rex but she notices that Rex is walking weirdly,

The fast but stiff steps make Rex's walk looks weird, and Gistella also finds that there are beads of sweat on Rex's forehead even though the night is cold.

After entering the house, Rex walks into the living room.

But when Rex is nearing the green sofa in the living room, Rex suddenly falls to the ground feeling his legs become weak creating a thudding sound.

He was just a step from the sofa, but he falls before reaching it.

"Master!", Gistella approaches Rex before she helped him to the sofa, she already noticed that something is weird but she didn't expect Rex to fall like this.

While getting helped by Gistella to lie on the sofa,

Rex blinks his eyes a couple of times and finds that his vision is blurry, 'My back is still not healed, but it seems this is not because of the wound on my back', he thought.

He raises his hands and finds that it is very blurry,

Dim lighting inside the house only supported by the moonlight makes the room dark.

The rough breathing sound coming from Rex shows that he is currently weak, the sweat indicates the pain he felt, and the last thing he saw is Gistella's worried face which is covered by the system notifications.

<Drawback of being possessed by the Countess of the Dark Luniric>

<Forcing the user to sleep...>

After the last notification appears, Rex's eyes slowly get heavy as he falls asleep.

A couple of hours later,

Rex's eyes jolted awake but his head suddenly got hit by a powerful wave of headache that make him frown, he touch his head as the ringing sound wailed inside his ears.

"Master? You're awake?", a soothing muffled voice enters Rex's ears.

Hearing this voice, Rex opens his eyes slowly and finds Gistella right in front of his eyes.

The silvery-white hair falls like heaven's waterfall as she looks down at Rex,

Blue eyes that are brighter due to the darkness of the room, and the somewhat worried look on Gistella's face make Rex falls into a state of dream-like vision.

It feels a bit calming for some reason when Rex stares into the blue opened eyes,

Rex also feels a squishy and comfortable thing supporting the back of his head, and after collecting himself he realized that he's lying on Gistella's thighs.

"What happened?", he mutters while getting up.

Hearing this, Gistella replied softly, "You passed out master, your body must be tired"

'Oh right, the drawback. Thankfully it didn't take too long', Rex thought when he look through the window and find that the sky is still dark.

It seems he didn't pass out for too long,

Rex looks down at his body and finds that he's topless with bandages wrapping around his body, he was surprised to see this as he glance at Gistella, "Did you do this?"

Seeing that his body is wrapped in bandages, Rex was caught off guard.

Gistella is an Undead just hours ago, so bandaging should be something that she didn't know just like how she doesn't know how to use the brown cloak from before.

When Gistella was about to answer, "I did it"

Another voice came from the side as Rex's attention got pulled to his right,

There, standing in the border of the hallway and the living room is Evelyn wearing skin-tight clothes instead of armor carrying a bucket of water in her hands.

"Evelyn? What are you doing here?", Rex asks in confusion.

Hearing this, Evelyn smiles cheekily as she replied, "Hiding something like this using that stiff expression of yours? That won't work on me"

Evelyn approaches him before she sits on the ground beside the sofa,

She put the bucket of water beside her before she soaks a white towel in the hot water, then she signals for Rex to tilt his body to the side.

With a sigh, Rex tilt his body before Evelyn started cleaning his back.

The time passes in silence,

Gistella is sitting calmly on the sofa beside Rex while Evelyn is cleaning Rex's wound, but Rex saw Gistella's sleepy expression which makes her shake her head.

"Master... What is happening to me?", she asks in confusion.

Seeing this, Rex frowned for a moment before he realizes what Gistella meant, "You're just sleepy, just close your eyes and relax", he said.

Since Gistella is an Undead once, sleeping is something new for her.

An Undead doesn't require any sleep no matter how tired they get,

Their body will only be weak if they're tired which will make them stop moving, but even in this state, they will not sleep because they aren't capable of sleeping.

Now that Gistella is a half-Werewolf, sleep becomes a natural reaction for her new body.

After doing what Rex said, it didn't take long for Gistella to went into the dreamland as her breathing becomes steady under the moonlight.

Evelyn is looking at her from the side before she asks, "Are you going to explain now?"

"Explain who this woman is? or are we not close enough even though we already slept in the same bed together", she added with a hint of sarcasm in her tone.

Hearing this, Rex scratches his head before he said, "Long story short, she's the newest member of my pack"

"Wait... You mean she already becomes a, you know?", Evelyn asks in surprise.

Rex nodded his head since Evelyn already knows that he is a Werewolf then there's no point hiding these things from her.

It might even become a problem if she doesn't know about Gistella,

The sudden drop makes Evelyn's eyes dart to the sleeping Gistella, but her eyes widen even more when Rex suddenly said, "She's an Undead before, that's why she doesn't know how to sleep"

"You can transform other Supernatural too? How's that possible",

Evelyn is still looking at Gistella in disbelief, although she knows that Gistella is not normal she didn't expect that she was an Undead that is turned into a Werewolf.

"So what is she? a half Undead half Werewolf?", she asks in confusion.

But Rex also frown in confusion, "She doesn't seem to be an Undead anymore so she probably becomes half-human because of me"

"I can't believe it...", Evelyn mumbles in disbelief.

Not long after, a knocking sound can be heard attracting Rex and Evelyn's attention.

Hearing this, Rex and Evelyn look at each other before Rex stands up, and wears his armor again before going to the door.

Before the door is even opened, Rex can already tell who it is.

Rex opens the door and found Maurice is standing by the door,

But when Maurice was about to say something, Rex already signals for Maurice to follow him as they walk to the side of the house silently.

"Are you convinced now?", Rex asks crossing his arms in front of him.

Maurice looks at Rex with a frown before Rex added, "I know Duncan told you to keep an eye on me to see if siding with me really is the best choice, Does the seventh rank Undead enough to seal your decision?"

Upon hearing this, Maurice was silent since Rex seems to know all about his plan.

Although Rex looks to not pay attention, he can sense those who are watching him with his super sense, 'I know why Maurice is watching me from the side, but what about Seve?'

Aside from Maurice, Rex also notices that Seve is keeping an eye on him.

Even when Rex head to this house, he can feel Seve's eyes looking at him from the back.

"Fine, we'll be your subordinate as long as you help our family raise in ranks. My father is ready to push the past to the side and start anew", Maurice replied.

But Rex then asks raising his right eyebrow, "What about you? Are you ready to put the past aside?"

Hearing this, Maurice's expression stiffened as he looks down to the ground for a moment, he then takes a huge breath before he looks back at Rex and nodded his head.

'I did kill his brother, so this is natural. It'll be suspicious if he doesn't act like this', Rex thought.

After Maurice decided to take upon Rex's offer to become his subordinate, a vicious fire orb appeared on Rex's hand out of thin air catching Maurice off guard.

The fiery orb splashes fire around chaotically, it makes Maurice's eyes sparks.

Maurice didn't know why but his inner self is attracted to this orb of fire, the fire mana around him was stirred just from the presence of this fire orb.

"Absorb this orb right now, and you'll find that you made the right choice", Rex said.

Upon looking at the fiery orb, Maurice takes the orb before he looks at Rex and asks again, "What about my mother? What is that mark you engrave on her?"

"All I can say is that if you want your mother to be safe, then be kind to Adhara and Kyran"

A moment later,

Rex walks back into the house and finds Evelyn is already waiting for him at the end of the hallway, she has a questioning look on her face.

The questioning look somehow makes Rex feel weird, "Who is it?", she asks.

"It's Maurice", Rex said before walking past Evelyn.

Rex is intending to rest some more on the sofa before Evelyn suddenly said, "Are you going to rest some more? It's going to be dawn soon"

"Let me get some shut-eye", Rex replied tiredly.

Looking at this, Evelyn sighed before her eyes suddenly lit up, "If you're going to get some rest...", she said while approaching Rex.

Evelyn suddenly hugged Rex who is closing his eyes on the sofa from the back,

Feeling Evelyn's arms wrapping around his neck, Rex's eyes jolted open before he looks at Evelyn whose face is already really close to him, "There's a bedroom on the second floor, shall we rest there?"

~

Meanwhile, Faraday University.

Edward is sleeping on the sofa near the entrance before he open his eyes when he heard the sound of a door clicking, he looks to the side before Kyran popped up from the hallway.

Just about after the sun drowned,

Adhara brought back Kyran from the hospital since Edward got something to do.

Since Kyran came back, he didn't talk or even glance at Edward at all which makes Edward feel something is off between the two of them.

Edward did hurt Kyran using silver, but he was forced to do that.

"Kyran? Where are you going this late at night?", Edward asks with a frown.

There is tension going on between the two of them which makes the atmosphere disturbingly silent as Kyran glance at Edward with cold eyes, he didn't answer and kept walking.

Seeing this, Edward stands up and grabs Kyran's shoulder.

He then asks again, "I ask you where are you going this late? Rex is not here so it's not good to go out alone this late"

Since there is a probability for Atkins Family to make a move,

Going out alone, especially in the middle of the night will put Kyran at risk of getting ambushed or worse, so Edward was not about to let Kyran leave alone.

But then suddenly, Kyran turns his head slowly towards Edward.

Edward's eyes widen when he saw the murderous look on Kyran's face as he glare at Edward, "Take your hand off of me", he said slowly, emphasizing each word he said.

Hearing this, Edward unconsciously retracts back his hand.

After Edward takes his hand off of Kyran,

Kyran kept eye contact with Edward for a couple of seconds as the tension rises even higher, but then his body slowly turns into shadow before Kyran disappear from the place.

This caught Edward in surprise as he never knew Kyran can do this,

Edward only knows that Kyran can blend in the darkness thanks to whatever Rex gives him, but now Kyran literally turns into a shadow and disappear from his sight.

Even Kyran's presence feels lighter than before.

It's almost as if he's not inside the room, if not for the sound of the door clicking then Edward might not even sense Kyran even though he's trained to have higher senses than normal.

"When did he get this ability?", Edward mumbles with a frown.

But Edward quickly shakes his head, "Kyran! Where did you go?", he called.

Kyran didn't answer him which makes Edward grit his teeth, 'I need to find him, just what is he doing in the middle of the night?'

Chapter 367 Metallic Skull Mask

Kyran just disappeared into thin air turning into a shadow, Edward can't track his mana at all which increased the difficulty of finding Kyran tremendously.

The university is silent at this time of the night,

Only a couple of people can be seen sitting around the university while playing with their phones, and their attention was pulled towards Edward who is running left and right.

Although there's tension between the two of them,

Kyran shouldn't have been this reckless especially since he's the one the Atkins family really after because he's always alone, but he should've learned from his mistakes.

But now Edward is having second thoughts, 'There's no way he leaves the university right?'

After searching the entire building without finding a trace of Kyran's presence, Edward ran out to the garden beside the library in the hope to find Kyran.

Now that he knows Rex and the others are Werewolves,

Bathing under the moonlight is also an option, and the place that is secluded enough and exposed to the moonlight clearly is the garden.

"Come on, don't be like this. Where are you Kyran", Edward mumbles in concern.

The garden is devoid of people, only some students are seen inside the library.

Edward glanced to the right before his eyes suddenly landed on a figure by the university building's wall, this figure is squatting in the darkness while looking at the sky.

Seeing this, Edward squints his eyes in confusion, 'Ryze? What is he doing here?'

Instead of Kyran, Edward finds Ryze instead sitting alone in the darkness.

He approaches Ryze who looks to be sighing in the dark before he called to him, "Ryze! What are you doing here all alone?"

"E-Edward?", Ryze mutters in surprise.

Ryze's eyes widen when he saw Edward walking toward him, he unconsciously stands up before he said, "I'm about to go back, W-What are you doing here Edward?"

"Kyran, he disappeared and I'm trying to find him", Edward replied quickly.

Upon hearing this, there's a slight change in Ryze's expression as he looks away dejectedly.

But Edward didn't see Ryze's change in expression as he still looks around trying to find Kyran, he then said, "You go on ahead, I'm going to search for Kyran for a bit more"

"If Adhara asks, just tell her to stay in the room", he added.

Hearing this, Ryze nodded his head before he walk past Edward heading back inside.

While Ryze is walking slowly toward the university building, Edward squints his eyes looking in a direction where he felt unknown energy aimed at him from afar.

The source of the energy is pretty far but Edward can feel it,

'What is this energy? It's too far, I can't locate the source', Edward thought with a frown.

But then suddenly, "Arrghh!"

A wailing sound suddenly came from the side as Edward glanced to his side, there he saw Ryze fall to the ground on all four with a pained expression on his face.

"Ryze!", Edward exclaimed as he dashes towards Ryze.

He touches Ryze's back and finds that his body is shaking, "It burns! It burns!!", Ryze shouted painfully before he falls to the ground weakly.

Looking at this, Edward was confused as to why Ryze became like this.

"What's wrong? Which part is burning?", Edward asks hurriedly not knowing what to do.

With a clear pain inside his hoarse voice, Ryze answered while hugging his own body, "I-Inside, it's burning inside! H-Help me!"

'Did this happen because of the unknown energy?', Edward thought.

He looks in the direction where he felt the energy come from before he frowns, but when he was about to carry Ryze inside.

BAM!

Splat!

Edward widens his eyes when he suddenly felt a stinging pain in his chest,

"What the?", he mumbles in shock when he saw there's a small gaping hole in his chest, the sudden change in situation caught Edward off guard as he looks at the gaping hole in disbelief.

Blood is leaking from the small gaping hole as Edward widens his eyes, 'Bullet?'

Upon realizing that someone is attacking them, Edward immediately activates his black fire as he dashes toward Ryze but another piercing sound can be heard,

BAM!

A flash of light appears in a fraction of a second as Edward looks in the direction of the unknown energy, his eyes widen since the bullet is faster than normal,

But then suddenly,

CLANG!

Kyran appears out of nowhere deflecting the bullet,

Edward saw the bullet clash with Kyran's fingers that already turned into claws, a spark was created before the bullet got deflected and crash to the ground beside him.

BAM!

"Are we getting attacked on the university's ground?", Kyran asks with a frown.

Edward carries Ryze before he replied, "Yes! He's using a sniper, so he must not come from the Atkins Family. I'm going to take Ryze inside, be careful!"

"Don't worry about me", Kyran answered before turning into a shadow.

The balls of the attacker are very big to actually attack an Awakened student inside the university ground, this is something that never happened before in the university's history.

But Edward has different thoughts, 'The principal and vice-principal are not here'

'Only the lecturers are here with only some of them in the sixth rank realm, this is a planned attack but what is this person after?', he thought with a frown.

BAM!

Another gunning sound can be heard as Kyran covers for Edward and deflects the bullet again.

The bullet this time is even faster than even Kyran almost didn't manage to deflect the bullet on time, it's way faster than any gun that Edward has ever seen.

Usually, this kind of gun will create a loud thundering sound,

But this particular gun is no louder than any ordinary sniper, and because of the location of the attacker, the gun sounds even lighter.

After putting Ryze inside the university building,

Edward dashes out again and finds that Kyran is also missing, he was looking at the direction the gun sound came from before he also dashes in the direction.

Meanwhile,

There is a robed figure on top of a building about three miles away from Faraday University.

A huge black sniper rifle is positioned towards the Faraday University building, the figure's eyes are on the scope with steady breathing and firm hands aiming at the target.

It's almost clear that the figure is adept at using a sniper rifle,

The distance between the figure and the target in Faraday University also shows that the figure has a terrifying sight, no normal humans can snipe perfectly from this far.

While eyeing the scope,

After firing for the third time, the figure clicked its tongue before wrapping its equipment by putting all of them in a black bag.

The first shot hit Edward right on his chest but the second and third ones got deflected by Kyran, and now the figure is intending to leave after failing to injure or even kill its target.

While tidying up the equipment, the figure suddenly tilts its head to the side.

BAM!

Just in the nick of time, the figure manages to jump away dodging Kyran's attack.

Kyran punch powerfully where the figure stood just a second ago, the punch landed on the black bag and broke the sniper rifle in two.

The dark mana enveloping Kyran's body emits a horrifying aura,

"You think you can just shoot a few bullets and run away?", Kyran said lightly with his fist still connected to the cracked ground beneath him.

His expression turns devious as he looks at the figure, "I have a few questions"

"But I don't think you will just give in easily, so I'm going to capture you and torture you until you spit out the answer I want", he added with crazed eyes.

Hearing this, the figure stays unmoving on his spot.

Now that Kyran is standing in front of the figure, he can see the figure clearly.

The figure wears a black robe that blended in the darkness of the night covering the figure's body from top to bottom, Kyran can see a glimpse of the figure's arms inside the robe which are wrapped with white bandages.

But the most noticeable distinction is the metallic skull mask covering the figure's face.

Kyran frown when he doesn't sense any mana from the figure,

'How did he dodge my attack if he's not an Awakened? But it doesn't matter, I'm going to catch him', Kyran thought before he suddenly turns into a shadow.

SWOOSH!

Kyran appears from the side like a ghost as his eyes glisten fiercely,

BAM!

The figure manages to block Kyran's punch which caught Kyran in surprise since the figure is not an Awakened, Kyran even felt his fist just hit a solid object instead of skin.

But Kyran's fist landed right on the figure's wrapped arm, so this makes Kyran frown.

After testing the figure's strength, Kyran twists his body and sweeps the figure's legs which caught the figure off guard which can be seen clearly from the figure's stiff movement.

A smile crept on Kyran's face as he cloaked his fist with dark mana and punch the figure again.

CRASH!

The figure was sent crashing into the rooftop entrance destroying it completely, Kyran landed a solid hit on the figure's chest which should have hurt the figure badly.

"Dark Elementalist", the figure suddenly mumbles appearing from the rubbles.

Kyran frowned when he heard the figure's voice that is almost robotic thanks to the mask the figure's wearing, the figure then added, "But what's with the claws earlier? You're not normal"

"Normal or not, that is none of your business", Kyran replied fiercely.

Hearing this, the figure went silent while looking at Kyran with an unknown expression beneath the metallic skull mask.

But upon seeing the red parts on the figure's wrapped arms,

Kyran smiles evilly as dark mana gathers on his hand, he then points his hand to the figure before he said, "Game over, I'm going to have fun torturing you"

Swish!

Dark mana infiltrates the figure's hand which should amplify the pain from the wounds.

The smile on Kyran's face started to get wider but soon stop when he saw the figure is still unmoving from his spot, he didn't even scream even though the dark mana should enhance the pain in his arms greatly.

A red light glows from the figure's hands before the dark mana gets dissipated.

"Hand over Ryze to me or I'll get serious next time. This will not be the last time we meet, I'll be visiting again soon", the figure said lightly, he then dashes away jumping off of the building.

Looking at this, Kyran gritted his teeth, "Oh no you don't!"

SWOOSH!

Kyran jumped after the figure but red energy suddenly shot toward him, "What's this?", Kyran mumbles when his body suddenly becomes heavier as he falls to the rooftop again.

It was bizarre since the red energy suddenly makes Kyran's body feels like a ton.

After getting hit by the red energy, Kyran can only watch helplessly as the figure dashes away leaving him unable to run after the figure.

Not long after, Edward arrives at the scene and saw Kyran kneeling on the ground.

"Are you okay?! Where is the sniper?", Edward asks while approaching Kyran, he was worried when he saw Kyran is kneeling on the ground.

Hearing this, Kyran shrugs his shoulders, "I'm fine", he replied.

Dark mana gathers on Kyran's body and after a couple of minutes, the red energy is finally got dispersed by Kyran and instantly makes his body feels normal.

"What does the sniper wants? Did he tell you anything?", Edward asks.

The figure aimed at them and there's no way that he just did it for fun especially since the figure attacked them on university grounds, if the vice-principal or principal is here then they have legal rights to obliterate the figure that attacked the university ground.

This is why this is one of the reasons the Atkins never attacked them inside university grounds.

Kyran glanced at Edward before he said, "The figure is asking about Ryze, but I don't know what he wants with Ryze"

What the figure wants greatly confused Kyran and Edward.

The two of them frown because no matter how much they think about it they can't find the reason why the figure is after Ryze.

"Let's just go back first", Edward said before they both went back to the university.

After arriving back at the university ground, Edward can find some students and a lecturer are already in the garden since some of them probably caught the gunshots.

Edward explained to the lecturer the actual truth which quickly enraged the lecturer.

When Edward was about to check on Ryze that who left right beside the entrance of the university, Edward suddenly saw Kyran is talking with a girl on the side.

'Isn't that Lisa? They're still talking?', Edward thought with a frown.

Upon feeling Edward's gaze, Lisa instantly lowers her head before she turns around and walks away while Kyran glances at Edward coldly and vanishes turning into a shadow.

~

At dawn the next day,

Rex opens his eyes and finds that Evelyn is standing in front of a mirror on the side, they're both are currently inside the bedroom on the second floor.

About an hour ago Evelyn suddenly asks Rex if he wanted to go upstairs,

But Rex was not about to put himself in the position where he might get tempted, especially since he told Adhara that something like this wouldn't cross his mind during a mission.

Although that is what he already planned, he can't deny Evelyn's request.

While talking briefly at that time, Rex also found that not only does Evelyn realizes that he's in pain she also asks Morana to give her a drop of Grace Water to tend to the wound on Rex's back.

That explains why the wound on Rex's back is better,

Because of that, Rex finally decided to just agree with Evelyn's request on accompanying him to sleep in the bedroom upstairs after she promised that she won't do something to tempt him.

"You promised that you won't do something that will tempt me", Rex suddenly said.

Hearing this, Evelyn looks at Rex through the reflection in the mirror before she replied with a cheeky smile, "I thought you're still asleep, I was about to wake you up after I clean myself"

Evelyn is currently only wearing her top undergarments,

Her lower half is still wearing the same pants but she's only wearing a white bra on her top half.

There is a bucket of water beside her which indicates that she's telling the truth, but somehow the cheeky smile on her face makes Rex think that she know that he was about to wake up.

"Why? Does my body look that good to you?", Evelyn added.

Rex chuckles lightly as he wakes up from the bed, he rubs his eyes a couple of times before he answered, "To be honest, they do look really good"

"Eh?", the sudden answer makes Evelyn widen her eyes as her face turns red blushing.

Her face is so red that she almost looks like a tomato as her hands that are cleaning her body with a towel stopped, "S-Said the person who has a greek god body", she answered timidly.

But what Rex said to her is actually the truth,

The curved lines on Evelyn's body make her body looks very fit and it's clear that she's training hard, her red hair also gives her a feisty look but the expression she wore right now is contrasting with her red hair.

"You know that if I told Adhara that you request to sleep on the same bed with me she will definitely come after you right?", Rex asks while putting on his clothes.

Hearing this, Evelyn glance at Rex before she shakes her head, "Are you curious who's going to win if we were to fight?"

"Personally, yes", Rex replied nonchalantly.

Although he trusts that Adhara will win against Evelyn, there's a feeling that it won't be that easy for Adhara to fight against Evelyn.

They both are also a Fire Elementalist, so Rex is quite curious about the results.

While they were chatting lightly while putting on their armor back, Rex suddenly heard his name called from outside.

"That must be Tyrice", Evelyn mutters upon hearing the voice.

Rex also nodded his head upon hearing this, "Let's go, it's also about time we leave"

Chapter 368 Boasting Power

"Rex!", Tyrice called out while heading to the house Rex is in.

He's not alone, there's Dray beside him who accompany Tyrice to find Rex.

The both of them knock on the house before they open the door, they are then instantly greeted by Gistella standing at the end of the hallway near the stairs.

Looking at her, a smile crept on Tyrice's face but soon fades.

Rex is walking down the stairs already clad in his black armor again while looking at Tyrice, the subtle look makes Tyrice straighten his back unconsciously.

Dray who also enters the room saw that Evelyn soon follows Rex down the stairs.

She's tying her red hair into a ponytail, she hasn't worn her helmet yet and this makes Dray frown for a bit looking at Evelyn so close to Rex.

"Did something happen?", Rex asks approaching the two.

Hearing Rex's voice, Dray snapped out of his daze before Tyrice on the side answered, "I spotted the SCO team entering the vicinity, they should be around here in a minute or two"

"The SCO? Alright, gather the others around", Rex said walking past the two.

After Rex left the house followed by Gistella who sticks to his side, Evelyn was also about to leave the house but Dray suddenly caught her arm.

Evelyn glanced at Dray in confusion, "Dray? What's wrong?"

Dray has a hesitant look on his face, but he eventually looks at Evelyn's eyes before he said, "What were you doing with Rex upstairs? Your armor is loose"

Because of wearing the armor hurriedly, Evelyn's armor is a bit crooked.

"Huh? Dray... I thought we already passed this", Evelyn replied while shaking her head.

She then looks at Dray directly in his eyes before she added, "We don't have anything going on between the two of us, and as for your question, nothing happened between me and Rex"

"And even if something did happen, it's none of your business"

Evelyn shrugs Dray's hand off of her before she proceeded to walk away, while Dray on the other hand is standing still on his spot with a troubled look.

It didn't take long for the descendants to gather around,

Tyrice called on them one by one waking them all up except for Fordie, the descendants are all already standing in front of Rex in an orderly manner.

Rex was even quite impressed, 'Fear is the best chain of command'

During the military, the sergeant major once said that phrase, and based on how the descendants are acting right now it seems the Sergeant major is right.

The others seem to also find out about him killing a seventh rank Undead,

Rex can clearly see the change of air around them, Tyrice or even the others that saw Durrant's head probably told the rest of the descendants about this.

Before Rex says anything, he already told Tyrice to intercept the SCO's team and bring them here.

Although Rex already told the Green Messenger to bring the same amount of people as the 25 Golden Crest Families, he still doesn't know how many black hands were sent here.

Or even which team they are from,

So first Rex needs to meet with the SCO team before splitting them to help Gerrard's team.

"The SCO team will be arriving soon", Rex said crossing his arms in front of him.

He then added, "The timing couldn't be more perfect, I know someone in the SCO team so we'll move after Tyrice brings them here. Just like I said before, we'll attack the company Dray found before the ones Seve found"

While saying this, Rex suddenly realizes something, 'Wait, Why didn't I ask Gistella?'

Rex glance at Gistella beside him before he brings Gistella to the side briefly, he then asks, "You're a part of the Undead before, so you must know about the situation"

Hearing this, Gistella looks at Rex before she nods lightly.

The affirmation makes Rex face-palm himself before he asks, "What is the situation for the Undead? When is the reinforcement expected to come?"

Although she hid it pretty well, Rex saw some hesitation in her expression.

'Well she's an Undead a couple of hours ago, I'm not going to give her a harsh time because of this', Rex thought while looking at Gistella questioningly.

She then finally said, "Durrant has been contacted that the reinforcement is on their way"

"The reinforcement should come by the end of the day, but Durrant already expected them to be late with the humans paying close attention to the stronghold"

Rex nodded his head in acknowledgment, 'they came so soon, but it's fine'

In a war such as this, the leader should always anticipate the worst-case scenario.

Durrant's way of thinking is logical and Rex somewhat has to acknowledge that fact, he then asks again, "How about the two companies of Undead? Who is leading them?"

Under Rex's gaze that emits pressure that makes Gistella obedient,

"O-one of the company is lead by a peak sixth rank, Intuma the Carrion of Dread. But since you even kill Durrant, it's not going to be a problem", Gistella explained.

She then added while looking to the side, "As for the last one..."

A moment later,

The SCO teams arrived at the city Rex and the descendants are currently in,

Rex looks at the team that the SCO sent and finds that there are roughly thirty people, the black hand that is sent comes from the green, red, and white teams.

Each of the teams they represented is distinct from each other thanks to their outfit color.

All of the black hands are strapped in the SCO outfits corresponding to the team of messengers they're a part of and also each of them has a gun on their waist.

Rex saw this and realized that they are the guns the Green Messenger gave him before.

Seeing that each of the black hands has a gun on their waist, it seems the mass production of the gun the Green Messenger invented is going well.

Amongst the black hands, Rex finds Liliya as she walks toward him.

"Took you long enough, are you going to let us take care of the Undead by ourselves?", Rex joked making Liliya who just arrived chuckle.

She then said, "You teleported here, we, on the other hand, need to go by foot"

After exchanging a few words, Rex glance to the back and find two black hands wearing red and white outfit that seems to be representative of the white and red teams.

"Rex, this is the representative from the white and red teams. Fakhir..."

Liliya points at the guy wearing a red outfit that is quite muscular, this guy's body is filled with scars, Rex can see a couple of long cuts on Fakhir's arms.

She then points at the guy beside Fakhir and said, "and this is Velten"

Rex glance at Velten and found that he's the weirdest out of the two, Velten's eyes are calm and collected emitting little to no aura.

The thing that catches Rex the most is the white symbol on Velten's forehead.

It is shaped like a feather with its tail intertwine creating an infinity symbol, it looks cool.

After glancing at the two, Rex scans them and finds that they both have a mid-sixth rank power while Liliya is the weakest having an early sixth rank power.

From the system scans,

Fakhir turns out to have the power of beast transformation, but the system didn't provide what the beast he will turn into but it's surely somekind of a power boost for Fakhir.

While Velten's power is pretty unique, he has weapon creation ability.

Just like Fakhir, the system didn't provide what is the extent of the weapon creation ability Velten possesses but judging from his scrawny figure compared to Fakhir.

It seems Velten likes to do long-range weapons,

"You must be Rex Silverstar, I heard quite a lot about you from Liliya here", Fakhir said with a friendly smile, his smile shows a row of perfectly line teeth.

Velten on the side also smiles faintly, "Care to brief us on the situation?"

About fifteen minutes later, Rex had already briefed them about the situation including the death of the seventh rank Undead and its company.

The company of Undead in the forest is being dealt with by Gerrard's team,

'I probably can deal with the rest of the company that is lead by the peak sixth rank Undead, but the other one might be a huge problem', Rex thought with a frown.

He then glances at Velten, 'I probably need him more than Fakhir'

Four company was left after Rex takes out Durrant's company, and he then finally said, "Liliya and Velten's team will come with me, Fakhir's team will help Gerrard in the forest"

Although they just met, the three of them instantly recognize Rex as the highest command.

There's no clear saying that Rex is the highest in command, but it all just flows naturally especially since they know Rex takes out a seventh rank Undead.

After instructing them, Rex glance to the side and find something interesting.

The descendants and the black hands are glaring at each other as a clear tension rises between them, it makes Rex shakes his head with a wry smile.

It didn't surprise Rex though since he already anticipated something like this.

Even though the SCO and the UWO are about to ally with each other for the better good, the years of conflict they had is embedded deeply.

This can be seen through the youngsters from each side,

"What are you guys doing? Stop glaring or I'll knock your teeth in", Fakhir said to his team.

Velten and Liliya also do the same to ease the tension between them, while Rex only needs to give the descendants one warning look before they averted their gaze from the black hands.

His authority here is already established, and this makes Rex satisfied.

Rex and the descendants coupled with Liliya and Velten's team prepares to leave the city, but just like before Rex has to leave some of them behind.

The survivors already found a place to hide, but some wandering Undead might massacre them.

"I'm so excited! I really want to punch some Undead today!", Tyrice exclaimed, clenching his hands while talking to his brother but this instead caught Rex's attention.

Rex glance at Tyrice and said, "Metal Elementalist guy, you stay here"

"Eh...? WHAAT?!", It takes a moment for Tyrice to process what Rex said before he exclaimed in disbelief, he becomes a lookout while the others descendants rest.

He's even the one that is left behind to guard the survivors while the others scout.

Although staying here in the city with the survivors is the safest place to be, Tyrice still seeks some action but his hope was crushed by the words coming from Rex's mouth.

"You and your brother can stay here, the survivors seem to like you", Rex added.

The excitement in Tyrice's eyes dimmed as his shoulders slouched, without having no other choice Tyrice can only nod his head with a sigh.

Rex's, Liliya, and Velten's team moved out of the city.

They part ways with Fakhir who headed towards the forest to help Gerrard's team while they will deal with the other two Undead companies that Dray and Seve found.

The sun is already up signaling that a new day has begun,

Rex and the descendants coupled with Liliya and Velten's teams are dashing in the direction of the Undead company led by Dray.

One dash from them covers hundreds of feet, it won't take long to arrive at the place.

About half an hour later,

"HUMANS!!", a rough-looking Undead roared while pointing its bastard saber to his front.

This rough-looking Undead is massive towering from the other Undead, it has many heads scattered around its hulking body with red glowing eyes.

Even its bastard sword is very big even seeing it from afar.

All of the Undead under the leadership of the rough-looking Undead that Gistella called Intuma glance to the side after hearing their leader roar angrily.

The liches under the company of Undead are numerous,

They amounted to at least a couple of hundred as they chanted together, it didn't take long before a couple of huge ice swords appear in the sky as the liches chanted.

Seeing this, Velten and the white team steps forward.

Eleven black hands from the white team excluding Velten kneeled with one leg on the ground, they positioned themselves before the white symbol on Velten's forehead glows.

White energy gathers on the eleven black hands before materializing into a gun.

The gun looks similar to a sniper rifle, at least in the design of the gun.

After the black hands grab the gun and aimed at the army of thousands of Undead charging at them, Velten points at his front and signaled, "FIRE!"

SWISH!

BOOM!!

Instead of piercing the army of Undead like a normal sniper rifle,

The bullets that blasted from the guns create a thundering sound, and upon contact, the bullet made of white energy explodes sending dozens of Undead flying from one bullet.

Even fifth rank Undead got killed instantly from the explosion.

BOOM!

BOOM!

Hundreds of Undead fall as the white team rain exploding bullets on them.

Seeing this, the liches didn't sit still as they swing the huge ice swords made from their spells toward Rex and the others.

Liliya and her team move,

About the same number of black hands dashes forward as each of them has a glowing red mark on their bodies, just from a glance Rex already knows that the red mark is Liliya's doing.

CRASH!

The black hands from the green team collided with the ice swords.

With a bit of struggle and thanks to the red mark amplifying their strength, the ice swords shatter from each of their attacks.

After destroying the ice swords,

A huge red mark appears on the ground beneath the charging army of Undead as Liliya's body glowed with a red aura, she points her hand forward before she chanted, "Ghastly Detonation Mark"

BOOM!

A powerful explosion blasted the Undead killing hundreds in one swoop.

The liches saw this coming as they cover themselves with a magic barrier, some of the Undead around them were also protected but the others outside the magic barrier got obliterated.

RAARGH!

GRAAH!

Rex is nodding his head watching from the side, 'Liliya's mark has grown stronger'

Seeing the black hands showing off their powers, Rex cracked his fist as his battle intent riled up, "Are you guys going to stand there and just watch?", he said to the descendants.

"I thought you're a sucker for losing especially against the black hands", he added.

Hearing this, the descendants snapped out of their daze.

Liliya glance at Rex with a smile after blasting the army of Undead,

The smile makes Rex wave his hand as Liliya chuckles, "You guys are making me look bad"

"You're in my team so don't lose out, let's show them what we got!", Rex said before his body turns into a streak of black lightning.

Chapter 369 Leave It To Us

"You're in my team so don't lose out, let's show them what we got!", Rex said while he unsheathes both of his swords.

He then glance at Gistella and instructed, "Protect anyone that you thought is in danger"

Gistella heard this before her eyes glance at the charging army of Undead, there is a hesitant look on her face but she eventually nodded her head obediently.

It's been hours since Rex turned him, her expression can be read easily.

Rex saw through her expression as he looks at Gistella, 'This fight will help her accept the fact that she's not an Undead anymore', he thought while looking at Gistella.

After looking at Gistella, Rex focuses back on the charging army of the Undead.

"Here, use this before you do anything reckless", Liliya suddenly said from the side.

Liliya touches Rex's back before a red mark appeared on his back, a notification from the system soon follows after the red mark appears.

<The user's stats has been increased by 30%>

'Her red mark surely got stronger, the last time is only a 20% increase', Rex thought.

He then nodded his head before he readies himself,

The ground started to rumble as an army of more than a thousand Undead near them, this sight of the charging army of Undead will give nightmares to any normal humans.

Some of the descendants are even shaking, it's a horrifying sight, to say the least.

All of the Undead fixated their eyes on Rex and the others,

Even when their comrade got blasted and got disintegrated into nothing and killed them, the other Undead didn't bat an eye as they kept charging at Rex and the others.

There is only one thing in their minds, and that is to kill the humans in front of them.

Closing the gap between them intending to rip Rex and the other's flesh was all they could think of, nothing fazes them from this thought as it excites them to the core.

And this is why many Awakened fear fighting the Undead,

Aside for them being walking dead with entangled bodies filled with horrifying stench, the more major reason is that they don't feel pain, unlike others.

Stabbing them will not hinder them, they need to be killed properly.

Rex's eyes spark with black lightning as his body turns into a streak of lightning, he's charging to the army of Undead with his two swords spread to the side.

The descendants and even the black hands stopped upon looking at Rex.

Even in front of the mighty army of the Undead, Rex charges straight on without any hesitation.

There is no hint of fear in his eyes, Rex charges through the Undead like a cutting edge sword piercing through the army of Undead mercilessly.

SWOOSH!

Rex and the army of Undead collided but the ones sent flying away were the Undead, Rex on the other hand kept charging forward knocking any Undead that meets him.

The Undead that got hit by his silver sword or even Amuerus Katana got sliced in half.

But hacking the Undead one by one will take too much time, the two swords Rex is holding start to glow red as Rex imbued them with red force.

Instantly after that,

The Undead that has a power below the fourth rank was neutralized as they can't move their bodies, the presence of the red force paralyzed them.

Added with the Alpha Bearing skill, the lower rank Undead has no chance.

SWISH!

Rex swings both of his swords in a horizontal manner sending two arcs of red force.

The two crescent arcs made of red force destroy any Undead that got hit by them, every time he swings his swords many Undead die.

<Killed a mid-third rank Supernatural, Obtained 7,000 Exp>

<Killed a peak third rank Supernatural, Obtained 20,000 Exp>

<Killed a peak fourth rank Supernatural, Obtained 150,000 Exp>

Dozens of notifications appeared in Rex's vision as he hacks through the army of Undead, the system makes the notifications smaller and even puts them on the bottom left of his vision.

This greatly helps Rex lest his vision is covered by the notifications,

While hacking through the army of Undead,

KREEE!

A whinny sound can be heard attracting Rex's eyes to his side, Rex spins his body killing the Undead around him in a circle before his eyes land on the Undead approaching him.

There is about six Undead riding an Undead horse covered with black armor.

He scans this arrival of Undead cavalry before he realized that they're all fifth rank Undead, their red glowing eyes are glaring at Rex from under their helmet.

Seeing them charging fiercely knocking the Undead that stands in their way,

Rex can't help but clenched the hilt of his swords tighter feeling excited about the fight, but before he can do anything four silhouettes appear from the side.

The four silhouettes appear in front of the Undead cavalry,

"Wind Disposition Technique, Compact Strike!"

SWISH!

Dray with a body covered with violent wind appears from the side before stabbing one of the cavalry charging at Rex, the Undead got impaled as it falls from the Undead horse.

But this didn't stop,

A womanly figure clad in armor with a fiery woman spirit behind her also appears from the side, just from a glance Rex can tell that she's Evelyn.

Evelyn appears above the rest of the Undead cavalry,

Her sword is chaotically blazing with dark fire, the fire mana imbued on her sword becomes even heavier as she chants, "Fire Demoness Art!"

"Blazing Destroyer!"

CRACK!

Evelyn swings down her sword heavily with all her might, the sword slashes down and destroys the ground beneath the Undead cavalry.

BOOM!

After destroying the ground, the fire mana explodes sending the Undead cavalry flying away.

Seve and Maurice also appear beside Rex with their weapons in hand, their expression was that of an excited one since they don't want to lose out to the black hands.

"Don't worry about the small fries", Seve said while fending off the Undead approaching.

Maurice who is also doing the same added, "We'll clear a path for you, the most powerful one is that huge Undead over there", he hacks through the Undead around them easily.

He has only one eye because of the other night,

Attacking from his blindspot is supposed to be effective but turns out it's useless instead, the Undead that tries this meets Maurice's sword.

Rex glances to the side and finds Intuma glaring at them from way back.

Evelyn and Dray also landed beside Rex before Evelyn said, "Just leave this to us"

"You just have to take out the leader", she added.

"Alright, I'll follow your lead", Rex replied as a smile appeared on his face, the descendants are starting to look like a real team thanks to the black hands.

The four of them are all from the offensive team,

While Morana, Sabrina, Vanessa, and coupled with the others are fighting alongside the black hands, this just shows that the descendants are aware of the battlefield.

Cutting through the Undead suits the offensive team like them very well,

But although it suits the offensive team, the rest of the offensive team aside from the four beside Rex is not charging here too since the defensive and support teams also need some covering.

After Rex said that, the five of them dash through the army of Undead.

They are in a square-shaped formation as they penetrate through the army of Undead heading to Intuma at the back, Rex is in the middle while the others are protecting him.

Evelyn and Dray are in the front clearing the path while Maurice and Seven cover their rear.

With this kind of formation and how the efficiency they all are in doing their roles, it didn't take long for them to reach Intuma which had already set its eyes on them.

ROAR!!

Intuma's roar reverberated in the surrounding making the descendants frown.

A shockwave of death energy was created from the roar hurting Rex and the others' ears while the Undead around them also roars excitedly as if they got rejuvenated by the roar.

After the roar, Rex saw that the liches are blocking their way.

An ice wall sprouted from the ground blocking their way as the liches do their spells, the wall is thick and sturdy with many Undead guarding it.

There are even around four dozens of Undead cavalry guarding the wall,

Looking at this, Evelyn and Dray's bodies are glowing with their respective mana as their spirit appears on their backs making their mana way stronger.

Both of them jumped intending to clear the path with their spells,

But then, Rex suddenly spots another lich that is taller and bigger than the rest in the middle that is emitting death energy stronger than the other liches.

There is a couple in fact located in the middle of the hundreds of liches,

Rex already scans these bulkier liches and finds that they are an Elder Lich which is a higher form of a lich, and they have a sixth rank power.

The elder liches chanted a spell before the Undead cavalry's aura shot up a notch.

The sudden change in aura surprises both Evelyn and Dray who thought clearing a fifth-rank Undead cavalry will be as easy as before, but it seems that is not the case this time.

Because of the momentum, Evelyn and Dray already descend down.

An impressive amount of mana gathers on their swords as they swing down their weapons with all their might, but eight Undead cavalries face their attacks at the same time.

Each Evelyn and Dray was intercepted by four Undead Cavalry each.

Maurice and Seve also act fast, they saw this coming as they both dash to help Dray and Evelyn but the other Undead cavalries also reacted fast.

Another four Undead cavalries intercepted Maurice and Seve stopping them.

CLANG!

Powerful shockwaves were created from the collision sending the Undead cavalries and also Evelyn, Dray, Maurice, and Seve crashing away.

BOOM!

They all crash to the ground creating four distinctive booming sounds.

Rex saw this all happening before he glance at the Undead cavalries to only find that their stats have been boosted nearing the early sixth rank, some of them even break through the sixth rank.

'Those elder lich needs to be handled first', Rex thought.

Just from their spells, the Undead cavalries' power was enhanced greatly.

If the elder liches are left alive then they will be a hindrance when Rex will fight Intuma, the peak sixth rank power of Intuma will be enhanced greatly by this.

Unlike Vampires or Werewolves, the Undead doesn't get weak under the sunlight.

They only thought of the sunlight as a bother but it didn't affect their power at all, so the only difference in fighting the Undead during the day or night is the sun's distraction.

It is not as effective as fighting Vampires or Werewolves during the day.

But if Rex had to choose, fighting them during the day is better.

Although the sunlight didn't weaken them, it's annoying for them which will hinder their battle intent greatly and can be exploited.

That is the good side, but the bad side is that Rex only has peak sixth rank power.

Aside from him, there are no other descendants or even the black hands that have peak sixth rank power that can help him fight Intuma.

The stronger ones are in Gerrard's team,

So if Intuma was enhanced by the elder lich then Rex might be in trouble, he can't fight Intuma at that state so Rex needs to aim at the elder lich first.

Rex glances to the side and found that the others are hurt from the attack,

They didn't have too severe injuries thanks to the Tetuka Ring but they're hurt nevertheless, the others need at least a moment before going back into the fight.

'It looks like I still need to do something', Rex thought while readying himself.

While he's preparing himself to kill the elder lich,

Rex suddenly felt a crushing aura coming from the side that surprises him, he snaps his head to the side and find Evelyn already standing with her body covered with dark fire.

Upon seeing this, Rex widens his eyes since Evelyn's aura is different than before.

"Stop! I told you to leave this to us", Evelyn said.

She then glances at Rex before she added, "You only need to fight that Undead", she points at Intuma who is watching from behind the ice walls.

This makes Rex frown as he heard what Evelyn said.

Her aura attracted the elder lich and also the Undead cavalries, and Rex can't blame them since Evelyn's elemental aura is way different than before.

Without wasting a second, the Undead cavalries leaped at her.

The death energy around their bodies is creeping onto their weapons, and all of the Undead cavalries were about to slash at Evelyn who is emitting a crushing aura.

Even the Elder Liches chanted another spell as Evelyn's legs got wrapped with ice snakes.

Rex gripped his swords tightly as he lower his stance, he was about to dash to help Evelyn in concern but then suddenly,

"Fire Demoness Art, Cacophony of Fire"

BOOM!!

A powerful fire blast exploded from Evelyn's body pushing the leaping Undead cavalries back, the explosion was so powerful that even the lower ranking Undead got burned into ash.

The ice snakes wrapping her feet were also disintegrated,

Even Rex was pushed back from the explosion, it caught him off guard.

Rex saw the fiery woman spirit behind Evelyn start crying, he then scans Evelyn's stats before his eyes widen when the intelligence stat of her is soaring higher.

This never happened before since Rex has never seen something like this,

The intelligence stat even broke the 1000 mark and keep increasing, this surprises Rex even more since it almost reach Gistella's intelligence who is a peak sixth rank.

After noticing the weird increase in intelligence,

He then saw the Undead cavalries' heads start burning from Evelyn's dark fire, she didn't stop there as she chanted another spell, "Wave of Dissonance!"

RING!!

Another powerful wave of fire exploded from Evelyn's body followed by a ringing sound.

The fire wave went past through Rex's body as it didn't hurt him or even the other descendants, but the Undead cavalry's heads that got hit by the fire wave exploded killing them instantly.

SPLAT!

All of the Undead Cavalry dies from Evelyn's spell,

Rex looks around in shock since not only the Undead Cavalry but the Undead around him were also wiped out entirely by Evelyn's spell.

But that wasn't the thing that surprises Rex, 'Sound magic?! How did she...'

Just from the way the Undead heads exploded is not something a Fire Elementalist can do, the ringing sound from the fire wave was the one that caused this.

Rex is looking at Evelyn with utter shock, he was in a state of disbelief.

Evelyn is standing firmly on the ground with a blazing aura surrounding her, the spirit behind her is also emitting the same aura making her look fierce with the dead Undead carcass around her.

'There's no way right? She can't be a dual Elementalist right...?!'

Chapter 370 Intuma The Carrion Of Dread

'There's no way right? She can't be a dual Elementalist right...?!'

Rex screamed inside his head while looking at Evelyn whose expression turns fierce, the blazing dark red fire around her body splashes to the surroundings violently.

This is the first time Rex saw something like this,

Although it's been not too long since he became an Awakened, he never heard of an Awakened possessing two elemental affinities just like what Evelyn did right now.

Evelyn's sudden burst of power greatly surprised Rex,

Rex who was about to dash to help her caged his intention to help, it seems Evelyn doesn't need his help in fighting against the Undead cavalry and the Elder Liches.

After killing the Undead around her,

The fire mana gathers on under Evelyn's feet before she suddenly leapt into the air.

Boom!

All of the Undead look up to Evelyn whose body blazes with dark red fire, even more, the fire swirls around her body like a coiling snake creating a spiral around her.

The spirit behind Evelyn started chanting using an unknown language,

Upon seeing this, Rex can feel spirit energy aside from fire mana gathering around her body, 'This spirit energy... It's the first circle of Pneuma Spell', he thought in surprise.

Rex can feel the spiritual energy gathering as Evelyn prepares her spell,

Although the Pneuma Spell that she's using right now falls to the first circle unlike Rex's ether blink, this is still the first time Rex saw someone using Pneuma Spell aside from him.

The compatibility of Evelyn and her spirit must be very high to be able to do this.

[Hoo, She has a decent spirit], Devo suddenly praised inside Rex's head, and this surprises Rex since Devo usually only talks badly about other spirits.

Like Dray's spirit, for example, Devo suppressed that spirit for a simple reason.

He said that Dray's spirit is annoying, and Rex needs to warn Devo just to stop Devo from suppressing Dray's spirit further.

So hearing Devo praising a spirit is a shocking event, 'Why do you say that?'

[I thought I'm mistaken but it seems I guessed it right. That spirit came from the Exalted Fire Fiend race, it's a pretty decent race that is on the good list of my race], Devo explained.

Hearing this, Rex was even more intrigued.

Rex can't help but asks, 'How old is that spirit of her? Is it any good?'

[Probably around in the upper half of the four thousand years old, pretty strong for the current state of the human race], Devo replied after sensing the spirit's energy.

'Pretty strong?! That's like the strongest aside from you?', Rex thought in surprise.

Based on the spirit that Rex meets from the other families including Dray from the Burton Family, there are hardly any spirits above the one thousand year mark.

So Rex found it surprising for Evelyn to get such a powerful spirit,

After the spiral around her body merge with the spiritual energy, the dark red fire's aura got amplified bursting with a powerful flame that makes the surrounding turns reddish.

Evelyn right now looks like a fire goddess as her entire being is covered with dark red fire.

Back when Adhara did a similar spell that makes her afloat in the air, she also looks like a fire goddess too but her looks lean to the burning jealousy of a goddess.

Just like her element's nickname, the Fire of Jealousy.

While Evelyn on the other looks more intimidating, her fire looks like it came straight from hell.

After the dark red fire burns the brightest as it is at its peak,

She glances at the ice wall and also the elder lich with burning eyes before she started to descend, she spins her body as the dark red fire turns into a spiral fiery drill descending from the sky.

It makes her look like a meteor engulfing the surrounding in flames.

Looking at this, the elder lich and also the other liches gather their ice mana amassing it before a giant shield-like coffin made of ice appears from thin air to block Evelyn.

Rex is watching this from the side as the ground trembles under their mana.

Even his skin started to get scorched from Evelyn's spell, it almost felt like he was inside an oven, 'Wait! The others are still here!', Rex thought as he glance to the side.

But right after he glances to the side, a white energy barrier covers him.

Maurice, Seve, and Dray who already recovered from the attack also got covered by the white barrier, even Rex felt that his body is burning.

They are the closest ones to Evelyn so they felt the effect more than the others.

Rex glances to the back and saw Gistella's hands glowing with white energy, she uses her protection spell to shield Rex and the others from Evelyn's Pneuma Spell.

"Hellfire Meteor!"

BOOM!!

A powerful shockwave blasted to the surroundings as Evelyn collided with the ice coffin, the tip of the meteor drill focuses on the center part of the coffin trying to push through.

Hundreds of Undead in the surrounding got blasted by the shockwave,

Rex saw them sent flying away because of the shockwave, an Undead cavalry was also sent flying away and even hit the white barrier surrounding Rex.

Upon closer inspection, the Undead cavalry's armor is melting because of the shockwave.

CRACK!

The ice coffin started cracking under the pressure from Evelyn's spell, and it didn't take long before a shattering sound can be heard as the meteor drill pierced through.

KABOOM!

SWOOSH!

Gistella's protection barrier cracked upon getting hit by the explosion,

Debris such as rocks, dirt, and others was blasted turning into bullets, this makes Rex's vision covered as he got protected by the white barrier.

After a moment, the explosion receded as the battlefield was covered by smoke.

The white barrier surrounding Rex disappears after the explosion ended, Rex looks around in worry, 'Are the others okay? That even cracked Gistella's protection barrier', he thought.

Glancing to his side amidst the smoke, Rex can see the others are recovering.

The smoke slowly dissipates and Rex saw Evelyn standing on two feet, blood can be seen on her arms as her armbands broke because of the collision.

Evelyn is breathing roughly amidst the carcass of Undead,

Parts of her body got frozen in ice because of the collision, but she should be okay.

Rex widen his eyes when the smoke finally got brushed by the wind, he saw the ice wall shatters as the liches bodies were scattered lifeless around.

He even saw a couple of dead elder lich on the ground,

The pneuma spell is very powerful that even the elder lich succumbs under its might, Evelyn turns her body around towards Rex before a smile appears on her face.

Seeing this, Rex shakes his head as to how stubborn Evelyn can be.

If only Evelyn let Rex deal with the liches then she doesn't need to sustain these injuries, she looks beat up but she still has a bright smile on her face.

But then suddenly, Rex widen his eyes in surprise,

Right beside her is an elder lich that should've been dead, but Rex saw the elder lich moves as it gathers death energy on the tip of its index finger intending to cast a spell on Evelyn.

Since Evelyn is facing Rex, she didn't see this happening behind her.

"NO!", Rex shouted as he dash with all his might.

He activated his flash spell intending to knock Evelyn out of the way, but Rex soon realized that he will not make it in time as he chanted, "Force Beam!"

BOOM!

Rex punches the air sending a red force beam toward the elder lich,

The red force beam flies to the elder lich even faster than Rex's movement, and before the elder lich can finish the spell,

BAM!

SWIT!

Rex's force beam landed right on the elder lich's head as the elder lich's head disappear from its place, its index finger was also shot by something dissipating the gathered death energy.

Upon seeing this, Rex stops as he felt relieved that the force beam arrives first.

Evelyn saw this happening as she glance to the back, she widen her eyes when she realized that the elder lich was about to kill her from the back.

But Rex also notice something pierced through the wind and cut off the elder lich's finger.

Rex glance to the back and finds Velten holding the pistol the Green Messenger gave, it's clear that he's the one that shot the bullet at the elder lich's index finger.

The accuracy that he has was impeccable, to actually hit his mark from quite far away.

Using a pistol with no scope nonetheless,

But then the ground suddenly shook as Rex snap his head towards Evelyn, there he saw Intuma running towards Evelyn with bloodthirsty eyes.

Intuma was enraged when it saw the liches die in front of its eyes,

ROAR!!

Evelyn was about to leap away but she found that Intuma is way faster than her, she can't escape from Intuma's charge especially since she just used the Pneuma Spell.

The bastard saber was raised high as Intuma intend to slash Evelyn,

Looking at this, Evelyn closed her eyes since she can't dodge the attack before suddenly,

CLANG!

THUD!

Intuma was pushed back before its bastard saber can even reach Evelyn, a voice then seeped into Evelyn's ears, "Open your eyes, you're okay"

Hearing this, Evelyn opened her eyes slowly before she find Rex standing in front of her.

Rex's wide back is facing Evelyn which gives her a feeling of comfort and protection, his back is like a tall wall that shields her from the incoming monster.

After pushing Intuma back, Rex turns his face to the side exposing a slight smile.

"You keep your words by clearing a path for me, now I'm going to keep mine so let me handle this", Rex mutters feeling a bit impressed by Evelyn's feat.

Usually, he doesn't like stubborn people,

Seeing this side of Evelyn somewhat impressed him, this stubborn side of her is not that bad.

Evelyn nodded her head as she stands back up, "Okay, I'll leave this to you"

She then dashes away after saying that leaving Rex and Intuma face to face alone, there are no more Undead in the surroundings because of Evelyn's pneuma spell.

The army of Undead has decreased tremendously,

"Now that there's no one standing in our way", Rex mutters before glancing at Intuma.

Intuma's glowing red eyes are filled with bloodthirst wanting to rip Rex to shreds, even the other heads around its body are glaring at Rex with horrifying bloodthirst.

But this doesn't faze Rex as he looks at Intuma calmly,

He then asks while putting the Amuerus katana on his traps with a grin, "I'm collecting Undead heads, will you be so kind as to gift me your heads?"

"You have many of them, I'm sure giving me one will not be a problem", Rex mocked.

Hearing this, Intuma slammed its bastard saber to the ground angrily before he replied with a nasty smile, "Are you tired of living, human? Why don't you give me your head instead?"

"If you don't, I'll squash your puny body with my bare hands", Intuma added.

The crazed smile on both of their faces increases the tension between them.

Rex and Intuma are keeping eye contact, none of them back down from the intense stare.

The wind gently brushes their bodies, the air is filled with a mix of a burning smell and the smell of rotten carcasses of the Undead.

It's like they're both engaged in a staring contest,

The one that breaks the eye-contact first will be the loser, but not only the one that breaks the eye contact is the loser but this will also signify the start of their fight.

After a moment, Intuma can't hold eye contact as its vision is filled with Undead carcasses.

Especially since there is a crazed smile on Rex's face that looks as if it was mocking Intuma, there is not one human who died from their exchange but thousands of Undead die instead.

It's clear that the Undead is being overwhelmed right now,

The black hands and the descendants are still fighting as Rex and Intuma face each other, and this sprouts a chill on Intuma's spine before Intuma finally snapped.

ROAR!!

With its humongous body, Intuma dashes toward Rex in anger.

Intuma held the bastard saber high with its muscular arm, death energy is gathering on the bastard saber making the bastard saber glow with a dark hue.

Seeing this, Rex also dashes forward imbuing his swords with red force.

CLANG!!

Both of them are locked in a standstill as they both gaze at each other fiercely, Rex's swords and Intuma's bastard sword are shaking while they try to overpower each other.

"Don't be angry that much, you'll meet your minions soon enough", Rex said.

He then twist both of his swords making the bastard sword slammed the ground,

With the decisive movements of an expert, Rex appears on Intuma's right before he swings his swords aiming at Intuma's waist.

But then suddenly,

CLANG!

Intuma's movement was fast as Intuma parried Rex's attack while moving in an unnatural manner, its head didn't even turn to see Rex.

Only Intuma's arm moved to parry Rex's attack,

'How did it block my attack? I'm sure that is its blindspot', Rex thought with a frown.

Then he saw the head on Intuma's back glance at him, and just from that Rex realizes why, 'Those heads, its vision is basically 360 because of those heads'

It seems Intuma's vision is linked with the heads all over its body,

Thanks to this, Intuma has a perfect vision that can't be ambushed even from the back.

SLASH!

Rex dodge Intuma's attack by tilting his body to the side, the both of them then started exchanging slash after slash relentlessly.

Their arms are blurry which shows how fast they are exchanging blows,

Blows after blows were parried or dodged, the ground around them got destroyed from each of their swings creating a powerful gust of wind that pushes the approaching Undead back.

None of them can even near Intuma and Rex as they exchange attacks crazily,

During this exchange, Rex frown when he realized that he can't reach Intuma's body with his swords thanks to the heads that are watching every inch of his movement.

But Intuma manages to land a few blows at Rex which shows the battle experience it had.

Even Intuma's reflex is as fast as him which greatly surprises Rex,

"If that's the case, let's see you keep up with this!", Rex shouted as his eyes sparkled with black lightning, a rumbling sound can be heard from the sky before suddenly.

CRAACK!!

A lightning bolt strikes down from the sky as Rex disappeared from his place.

Looking at this, Intuma was surprised before it looks up to the sky feeling there is something hawking from the sky.

But less in a blink of an eye,

Intuma widened its eyes when it suddenly saw a thick black lightning bolt descends from the sky, it didn't give Intuma any time to react as the lightning bolt arrives,

SLASH!

"RAARGHH!", Intuma roared as it got slashed by Rex's swords.

Rex manage to slash Intuma with both of his swords from its chest all the way to the thigh, it was pretty deep as it spilled black liquid.

<The enemy's stats has been decreased by 1%>

The Amuerus katana takes effect sapping Intuma's power,

Seeing that the spell is effective, Rex did it a couple of times slashing and stabbing Intuma's body like a madman.

Ether blink is too fast for Intuma to dodge,

Roar!!

Intuma growls angrily feeling its skin got sizzled by the silver sword, it then slash down with a wide swing making Rex smirks, 'There it is, you let down your guard'

SLASH!

Rex dodges the wide swing and slashes Intuma's armpit intending to chop its arm off.

But to his surprise, Intuma's bones are very sturdy that even the silver sword didn't manage to cut it off with one powerful clean swing.

ROAR!

Another powerful roar imbued with death energy escapes Intuma's mouth,

'Shit! That's more powerful than I imagine', Rex thought as he covers his ears, the heightened hearing of his becomes his downfall as the roar shook his eardrums.

Rex has heard of Intuma's roar before, but he's quite far.

Now that he's directly in front of Intuma, the roar almost shatters his eardrums.

Upon focusing back on the fight after the roar, Rex widened his eyes when the bastard saber is already right in front of him.

BAM!!

The bastard sword landed right on Rex's stomach sending him crashing away,

BOOM!

Rex's body got slammed to the ground a hundred feet away as he throws up a mouthful of blood, it was a direct attack and the air in Rex's lungs got forced out.

"Arghh!", he grunted while covering his stomach.

The wound on his back that he got from Durrant is also throbbing, the situation is not good.

But Rex saw that there was a protective white barrier blocking the attack, it lessened the impact of Intuma's strike greatly.

It was nonother than Gistella's spell,

Rex glanced to the side and found Gistella is paying her attention to him while fighting the Undead, and just from her spell alone, Rex didn't regret one bit of making her one of his pack.

After catching his breath, Rex stands up strugglingly.

Intuma is dashing towards him with immense killing intent as Rex exhales harshly, 'If only someone can fight alongside me, it's sure going to be easier taking it down'

But right after Rex thought of that,

ROAR!!

A bolt of white lightning flashes past Rex's vision before hitting Intuma,

Upon getting hit by the white lightning, Intuma was pushed back even though it has its guard up while receiving the white lightning.

Rex widens his eyes before a smile creeps on his face, 'Just about time'
