Chapter 461 Link Between The Werewolf Prince And The Vampire Princess

Gistella was stunned as the others except for Rex are looking at her weirdly.

This makes Gistella looks at each of them in confusion before looking at Rex, her eyes seem to be asking Rex why is everyone looking at her like that since she didn't do anything.

It's like being stared at like prey by Kyran, Adhara, and Evelyn.

At first, Gistella is minding her business maintaining the barrier to protect the survivors but in the next second the fight between Adhara and Evelyn suddenly stopped before they both turn their heads slowly to look at Gistella with a hint of hostility.

Both of them don't understand why, but there's suddenly a sudden change in Gistella.

Even Kyran who is passively watching the clash between Adhara and Evelyn on the side also looks at Gistella with a weird look, he felt this weird feeling too.

"What did I do wrong?", Gistella asks meekly while stepping back.

But instead of answering Gistella, the others' started to steam with their own respective aura as if they were looking at an enemy that they wanted to tear down. It's the feeling of inferiority, the three of them feel suppressed in front of Gistella.

Rex looks at this with a frown before he suddenly realized, 'Is this because of the new feature?'

Since the Pack Hierarchy Feature has been unlocked, Gistella is occupying the number 1 spot in the Battle Prowess Hierarchy ladder because of her bloodline as a Werewolf Fiend. It gave her the benefit of the first rank causing a slight change in her aura.

<Pack members have recognized Gistella's superior standing>

Unlike Rex who doesn't feel anything as he can see their rank through the Pack Hierarchy ladder, the others don't experience it the same way he did. Gistella's aura becomes suppressive to them, the others instantly recognized that she's the number one Werewolf in their pack just below the Alpha.

Because of that, Gistella becomes the main target they need to take down.

For a Werewolf pack, the hierarchy is based on the power of the Werewolf and if not for becoming an Alpha and being recognized, a powerful Beta will be challenged repeatedly by other Betas just so they can get closer to the Alpha.

It's the way of their instinct, and this new feature mimics the actual behavior of Werewolves.

As they all have turned into Werewolves, they have the nature of wanting to get closer to the Alpha, and Gistella who is recognized as the first is in the way of that, creating this situation.

Rex looks at the others before shaking his head, "Drop this now, we'll settle this after Rosie"

Hearing Rex's authoritative command, the others retract back their auras instantly, obeying Rex's command before they put their attention to Rex, "Evelyn, you remember the secret passage from before right?"

"Yes, I remember", Evelyn replied nodding her head.

Although the situation has already calmed down, Adhara seems to still be pissed off at Evelyn.

But looking at Rex's serious expression, she refrains from saying anything more and focuses on the task at hand, "We're going there again, lead the others with Delta. I'm going to go on ahead"

Evelyn nodded her head before Rex glanced at Delta,

Delta has already recovered from her weakened state and now is also already finished eating the Undead carcasses inside Rex's inventory, she's noticeably gotten stronger judging from her aura that is getting closer to the seventh rank realm.

She's not quite there yet, but nevertheless, she got stronger.

<Delta - Silverstar Wolf>

Race: Stalwart Lightning Wolf

Power: Sixth Rank(Peak) - Hallowed Lightning

Mental: 351

Strength: 745

Agility:1121

Endurance: 788 (+100)

Intelligence: 490

Although the increase in stats is lacking compared to what Rex expected, he didn't complain since by the end of him saving Rosie she will definitely reach the seventh rank realm. They will be traveling in the Supernatural territory after all.

Rex already planned mentally to divide the Supernatural they kill to Delta and Gistella.

Both of them will be benefitted greatly from devouring the Supernatural carcasses, as for the others, Rex will let them focus on being an Awakened and evolve their bloodline instead.

'Devouring Supernaturals will definitely make us stronger but...'

His eyes then darted to Adhara remembering the early days when she turned into a Werewolf, Edward finds her eating mutated animals like a beast and it troubles him until now.

It's still etched in his mind, and Rex can't really shake this troubling feeling.

'I don't want them to do that, we will become exactly like them if we do that'

After seeing that the others are already back to normal and hop on Delta, Rex dashes away heading to the black maple tree where the secret passage lies.

With his current speed, it didn't take long for him to reach the black maple tree.

Just as the last time he was here to get Adhara's spirit, the place is still the same but the scent of death and blood from before is already gone, devoured by the mutated plants around here.

Some changes can be seen, Rex saw that there are mutated plants floating on the murky water. From a glance, these mutated plants look like water lilies with a red flower above them. These mutated plants are not here the last time.

Rex scans these mutated plants and finds that it's birthed from the Werewolves' blood that spilled from that night when the Awakened in Eqosa City ambushed the Werewolf reinforcement.

Unlike other mutated plants, these water lilies only contain medicine for Werewolf wounds.

Without waiting any longer, Rex jumped onto the black maple tree before he plucks one of the black leaves of the tree. It's the same as before, whirlpools started forming around the murky water and it didn't take long before the murky water got completely drained exposing the underground passageway that Rex used before to get to the Supernatural territory.

'I hope the Cessation Knight hasn't blocked this route yet, but I doubt it', Rex thought.

Since this underground passageway leads to a cave that is near where the Cessation Knights are camping, it's hard to believe that they haven't found this passageway.

After the passageway opened, Rex jumps into it and travels through it to check.

Meanwhile, the others are slowly traveling through the desolate plains to give Rex some time to check on the secret passageway.

"So tell me, How did Rosie got kidnapped exactly?", Evelyn asks curiously.

Evelyn along with the others are currently mounting Delta while they traverse forward not too fast and not too long, she knows the way to the black maple tree so she can lead the others.

With Kyran and Gistella here, Rex is confident that they will be fine.

They both are a great combination, one is able to sense really well while the others can use protection spells really well, nothing should be able to harm them except meeting a mid-seventh rank or higher.

Hearing this, Adhara turns her head away not intending to reply.

Seeing this Adhara is reluctant, Kyran finally answered, "That day after we finished exploring a hidden place inside a cliff and got out, we suddenly got ambushed by two Werewolves that wanders inside the human territory aiming for Rex"

"I don't really know why but those two Werewolves called Rex a prince. Then we got ambushed again by Vampires, we fought with them but got knocked down by a royal vampire before Rosie even got there"

Adhara sighs as she added, "That Vampire is the one that kidnapped Rosie, I think I heard Rex mention her name... Ana Delarosa",

Upon hearing this, Gistella looks at Adhara in surprise, "Ana Delarosa?"

Since Gistella is once an Undead, she probably knows all of the major structures inside of the Supernatural circle such as the important figures of each race just like Ana Delarosa.

"You know about her, Gistella?", Adhara asks from the side.

"So that's how...", Evelyn mutters in thought hearing Gistella's explanation.

Hearing this, the others glance at Evelyn wanting her to elaborate further but she suddenly frowns, "But wait... Does Ana have a daughter?"

"No, she has a son called Issac", Gistella replied in confusion.

The others are intrigued seeing that Evelyn knows something they don't, Rex hardly talked about anything aside from what he wants them to do so this is intriguing for them. Even Adhara doesn't know much, she only comforts Rex when he's down low.

While remembering that night, Evelyn then explains.

"When Rex and I tried to kidnap Hans' son, a female Vampire that has weird eyes contacted him through a blood mirror showing Rosie chained behind her. I thought that she's from the Delarosa Family, but if Ana doesn't have a daughter then it's probably not"

"I remember this vampire taunted Rex repeatedly, and I believe Rex called her Calidora"

Adhara and Kyran widen their eyes upon hearing the first part.

For as long as they remember, everyone that taunted Rex is either already dead or already paid the price of offending him which established his ruthless and menacing demeanor in the 25 Golden Families.

Sometimes they forget about it, but Rex is really ruthless if need to be.

Rex really hates the Supernatural, they all know that. But knowing that a Vampire taunted him, Adhara and Kyran's skin crawl as they can't even imagine what Rex will do to her if he finally meets with this Calidora.

While on the other side, Gistella is also surprised but not because of the first part. She's surprised because in the latter part when Evelyn mentions the Vampire's name, Calidora.

"C-Calidora?!", Gistella mutters in shock.

The name Calidora surprised Gistella as she didn't expect the Vampire that contacted Rex turns out to be her. Seeing the surprised look on Gistella's expression is pretty rare considering she hardly reacts, the others glanced at her questioningly. Her reaction shows that she knew this Vampire called Calidora.

"You know her, Gistella?", Adhara asks curiously.

Even Delta who is lightly running towards the black maple tree got distracted hearing their conversation, at this point, even Adhara and Kyran realize that she really understood what they are saying somehow.

But their attention then went back to Gistella again.

Remembering the name Calidora that every Supernatural knows as the daughter of King Solomon and Queen Nezera, she then explains with a stern look, "I'm once an Undead before master turned me into a Werewolf like right now. No Supernaturals that don't know about Calidora Silvan Boldirra exist, the princess of the Vampire Kingdom"

"The name Calidora recently becomes a talk amongst the Supernatural races, despite the Vampires trying to keep it a secret we find out that Calidora has reached a terrifying level of power for her age and also evoked the powerful curse called the Vampiric Eyes of Terror, it's the second time a Vampire evoked this power in such a short amount of time"

"Vampiric Eyes of Terror is a sensitive ancient curse, it will make a Vampire obsessed with someone or something through an unknown method even to the Vampires"

"I've heard of that before, I forgot from where", Adhara mutters in thought.

She found the terms familiar before she finally remembered, "I think I saw the Vampiric Eyes in the museum near Faraday University, yes, I believe I saw them there"

"You mean Ludris? He's the other wielder of Vampiric Eyes of Terror but got killed because he went berserk, it's a shame for the Vampire that he went berserk if not he will be the next ninth rank Vampire", Gistella added.

Hearing this, the others felt their skin crawl.

The Vampiric Eyes of Terror can make a Vampire reach the ninth rank is a scary thing, even an Awakened needs an immense amount of talent, hard work, and also luck to even have a chance to reach the ninth rank.

For such a power to be able to make a ninth-rank Vampire is certainly horrifying.

"I know of that too, have you read the Crimson Massacre incident?", Evelyn asks.

Kyran who doesn't know anything about this becomes even more curious, he felt a bit left out since this has something to do with Rex, "What is the Crimson Massacre incident?"

"It's an incident where Ludris went berserk in pursuit of a human woman that spark this Vampiric Eyes of Terror, he stops at nothing to reach for this woman. Many high-rank Awakened died that day, and even an Awakened as strong as an eighth rank died that day, that is why it's called the Crimson Massacre", Evelyn explains.

Hearing this, Kyran nodded her head repeatedly.

But then all of them frown as they don't get one thing, "Why is Calidora taunting Rex? Have they even met before?", Kyran thought out loud.

"Now that you said that, what is Calidora's purpose? If we're going to the Vampire territory, then there's a huge chance we will meet her later so we need to at least know what is her goal", Adhara also said in thought.

Evelyn is also trying to think of a reason for Calidora who is a Vampire to aim at Rex who is a Werewolf, they even live in different parts, one is in a Vampire territory and one in the human territory.

She then glances at Gistella, "What else do you know about Calidora?"

"Although I don't know how powerful Calidora currently is, she should be around the sixth rank right now since before she got the Vampiric Eyes of Terror I believe she only has fourth rank power", Gistella replied.

But as they are talking about this Calidora, Adhara suddenly thought of something.

She remembered the day when Delta's behavior becomes weird, she also remembered the story of the woman's friend that is pursued by Ludris inside the museum.

Pieces by pieces she started to put it together inside her head,

'Nose bleed...? Does that mean Rex already met with this Vampire before?', Adhara thought.

During that day when Rex's nose bled, after being told by Liliya about his nose bleeding Rex instantly activates his power in reflex which means that she already met with Calidora.

Just as she thought about that,

"There's a rumor back then state that Calidora manage to evoke the Vampiric Eyes of Terror curse because of a Werewolf inside the human... territory...", Gistella's voice becomes slower and slower as she also realized the link that the others also realized.

Hearing this, the others look at each other as they also realized the same thing.

Adhara and Kyran especially are the ones that are realizing this more than the others since they know that Rex is cursed by something from Jarvald and Vivian, and from this alone they can conclude that it has something to do with Calidora.

But just as they realized, Delta finally arrives at the black maple tree.

All of them gaze at the black maple tree and find Rex is already waiting for them there, he leaped and approaches them with steady steps, "We need to take a detour, it's blocked"

Instead of reacting, the others are looking at Rex blankly.

'The Vampiric Eyes of Terror is caused by him!'

Chapter 462 Everpurple Conifer Forest

Rex is sitting on one of the black maple tree's trunks while waiting for the others.

With his current speed, traveling the underground passage only takes no more than half an hour but when he reaches the end of the passageway it's blocked by rocks and also subtle energy. He already scans the energies and finds that it's a spell that is linked to an Awakened that blocks the passageway, and if he forces through it then the Awakened will know.

Because of that, he needs to go through the normal route that will take them a bit of time.

After waiting for a moment, Rex saw the others approaching.

Leaping through the murky water and landing on the ground, Rex slowly approaches the others before pointing in a direction, "We need to take a detour, it's blocked"

Rex takes out a map from the inventory before he added, "It'll delay us for a day"

"But if we move fast enough we can go through the Everpurple Conifer Forest, it's another shortcut that if we manage to go through there then we're only delayed by half a day. We really need to pick up the pace, we need to go through Everpurple Conifer Forest before the Mutated Bug Wave occurred"

While explaining his plans, Rex glance back at the others, "The Mutated Bug Wave is not going to kill us but there are many of them, it'll delay us longer if we rea-"

Rex stopped mid-sentence when the others are looking at him blankly.

This makes him tilt his head in confusion seeing each one of them is looking at him weirdly, even Delta is also looking at him with weird eyes, "What's wrong?"

"Did something happen?", Rex asks again while facing them.

But Adhara is the one that quickly recovers, she then shakes her head and replies hurriedly, "Nothing...where are we going again? Everpurple Conifer Forest right?"

"Yeah...", Rex mutters still in confusion.

About a couple of hours later, Rex and the others went through a grassland but the grass is not lush green but instead dark purple and seemed poisonous.

They took this route since there will be no hindrance to their path, the grassland gives off a fragrant scent despite its looks but this further shows that these grasses are poisonous. Going through here will make their journey unhindered by the abstract terrain of the normal route toward the Great Barricade so they decided to take a detour here.

With an item from the system, Delta can travel through this poisonous grassland easily.

Delta becomes faster than before thanks to absorbing the corpses, her body eludes white lighting that even covers the others as she dashes in a straight line through the grassland. It didn't take long for them to stop at the end of the grassland.

In front of them lies hundreds of thorny lush trees that are reaching high to the sky.

Each one of the trees in front of them is like a skyscraper that makes them look very tiny in comparison, the width of the tree is at least house-size and looks very strong and sturdy.

"This should be Everpurple Conifer Forest", Rex mutters from the side.

Just like the names of the forest, not only do the trees in front of them has purple leaves but they also have thorns. The tree trunks, branches, and even some of the leaves are filled with thorns, and the ones that are not covered in thorns are crawling with mutated bugs.

From what the forest looks like, it's clear that no one ever went through this forest. This forest screams death to whoever decides to embark inside of it.

Only the most stupid of people will go through this forest that looks extremely deadly and filled with mutated bugs, but since Rex and the others are racing against time and also Werewolves they will be fine going through this forest.

Evelyn on top of Delta then looks at the forest in front of her with a frown, "Is there no other way around? This doesn't look safe"

"Why is my feeling telling me that going there is a bad idea?", Kyran also added from the side, he looks up to the tall trees and even finds some huge bugs the size of himself crawling on them. The mutated bugs make Adhara and Evelyn shiver in disgust.

Rex smile wryly as he also didn't expect this forest to be this bad, "Let's just go through here, if we go back we'll be delayed by 2 days", he said before Delta dashed inside the forest.

Just even after a couple of minutes of going through the purple forest, Rex and the others have already encountered many problems. Everything inside the forest is trying to kill them. Literally everything inside of the forest.

Mutated bugs, trees, the air, the dirt, and even droplets of water are trying to kill them.

But such a harsh environment is where Gistella's protection power comes to play, she covers Delta's entire body with her energy and also creates a barrier above them so the toxic droplets of water will not hit them.

Aside from that, Rex also gave them a couple of elixirs for the toxic air they were inhaling. It will at least last until they got out of this forest.

Rex starts to praise himself for turning Gistella back then instead of killing her.

Her protection ability is not only useful in combat but it also can be useful in places like this, 'I really did make the right choice', Rex thought while looking at Gistella.

PSHHH...!

"Delta, jump!", Kyran exclaimed when he sensed something shot at them.

Upon hearing Kyran's warning, Delta jumped and dodged a purple liquid that came out of nowhere. She's already alert ever since stepping into this forest, so she manages to dodge that.

While Delta is leaping away, Kyran jumps out of the barrier with his body cloaked with darkness.

The black spear in his hand got imbued with terrifying spirit energy and dark mana, he then throws the spear with all his might aiming at a mutated plant on the side.

Stab!

It happened swiftly and the mutated plant got stabbed right in its mouth.

Rex looks back and saw a big plant that got impaled by Kyran's spear, he scans it and finds it to be a sixth-rank mutated plant that has its entire body shaped like an earthworm's mouth with razor spiral teeth. It's the one that spits the purple liquid to attack them sneakily.

Since the entire place is filled with smokey purple mist that clouded the entire forest, this mutated plant that also has the same purple color can camouflage in this kind of terrain that even Rex can't sense fully.

Only Kyran can sense this mutated plant and warn Delta to dodge the attack.

The purple liquid that the mutated plant shot hits a tree beside them before letting out steam and blending with the air, everything inside this forest is extremely dangerous.

After killing the mutated plant, Evelyn praised, "You have really good senses"

"Kyran here is our eyes and ears, his senses are extremely sensitive even beating mine", Rex said before he glance at Kyran that got back on Delta, "Put your senses to the max, we'll need it", he instructed.

Seeing Kyran nod his head, Rex then looks back at Evelyn and Adhara.

"Can you two light up the path in front, we're almost blind in here. Your fire can provide shadows in the mist if anything tries to attack us", Rex added before Adhara and Evelyn did just that.

Swoosh!

Both of them conjure two basketball size fireballs to their front.

Thanks to the two fireballs that light up their front, the travel through the forest becomes easier as every mutated bug and even mutated plant that moved can be seen through their shadows.

It's relatively become easier to go through the forest.

But after about thirty minutes, the mutated bugs that attacked them are starting to get more frequent and they're coming by the two instead of one at a time like before. It has been going on for two minutes now.

Slash!

Rex fires a lightning strike into a flying mutated beetle killing it instantly.

Dozens of black lightning tentacles came out of the ground and grab every mutated bug that are trying to get close to them, and with a pulse of lightning, all of the mutated bugs got paralyzed.

Just like Rex, the others are also doing the same as they take down the mutated bugs.

"These bugs are not strong but there are many of them, it's increasing by the minute!", Adhara complained after burning a mutated mantis with a flick of her hand.

Hearing this, Evelyn then asks, "Is the Mutated Bug Wave starting?", just like Adhara, she too is killing the approaching mutated bugs that emerge from beyond the purple mist. Only Gistella is the one focusing on the barrier so none of the mutated bugs will reach them.

Rex also frowns as the swarm of mutated bugs clearly indicates that the wave is starting.

Since he suspects that the passageway is already blocked by the Cessation Knight, he already prepared an alternative route and also consult Duncan about this.

Realizing that Rex wanted to go through the Everpurple Conifer Forest, Duncan told him not to since the place is literally a dead zone and feared even amongst the sixth rank Awakened. Higher rank Awakened tends to avoid it too.

But any other route will take longer, this one is the fastest aside from the passageway.

After Rex pressed further wanting to go through the forest regardless of how many fear to go through it, Duncan finally gives in and tells Rex about the Everpurple Conifer Forest that will host a Mutated Bug Wave nearing midnight.

Looking at his phone, Rex finds that it's already eleven at night.

"Delta, move faster! The Bug Wave is starting", Rex commanded while pointing forward, Delta complained with a rough growl but she increases her speed anyway.

Rex and the others travel through the forest picking up their pace.

From the map that is in Rex's hand, they should be near the end of the Everpurple Conifer Forest but out of nowhere, a notification from the system took his attention away from the map.

<Debilitate Purple Water has been detected near the user's location!>

Upon reading the notification from the system, Rex frowns, 'What is that for, System?'

<The Debilitate Purple Water is one of the components to make Argent Debilitate Liquor, one of the requirements to finish the Blood Moon Quest - Commitment>

<Does the user wants to be led to the Debilitate Purple Water?>

'Show me where', Rex thought after deliberating for a moment.

Just after he thought of that, a hologram red arrow appears in his vision pointing to the northwest and fixating on a direction as Delta moves through the forest with her giant leaps.

Seeing this, Rex then said, "Delta, go there first!"

Hearing this, Delta looks in the direction Rex points at before she dashes there, 'If it's easy to get then I will get it, if not then I'll just save Rosie first before coming back here', he thought before Delta take a sharp left.

The others saw the sudden change in confusion, "Shouldn't we go straight?", Evelyn asks.

"You said that we need to get out of here before the Mutated Bug Wave, why are we going that way?", Adhara added seeing that a dozen of mutated bugs are on their backs and increasing.

Without turning back, Rex then said, "I'm checking something, it's not going to take long"

Although they still questioned Rex's decision, they didn't voice it out. After going northwest for about three minutes, the hologram arrow disappeared slowly before a notification replaced it.

<The user has arrived!>

Rex looks around the place after the system's notification, he looks around but only sees purple mist and trees the same as before, but as Delta walks around the place he suddenly saw a tree that looks different than the other trees.

This one is not as tall as the other, it's the size of a normal tree which makes it looks like a dwarf tree contrasting the other trees that are like skyscrapers.

"Get closer to that tree", Rex said before Delta approaches the tree with light steps.

It's not that Delta can't just dash there since they're in a hurry, but the ground around the tree is not dirt but it's something else. The ground still looks like dirt but it feels slimy and watery, this made Delta becomes cautious since everything inside this forest is probably poisonous.

While approaching the tree, the others are also looking at the dwarf tree.

But seeing that the mutated bugs are going to swarm them if someone didn't try to save them off, the others jumped down from Delta's back intending to face the swarm of mutated bugs.

Each of them is cloaking their bodies with their respective elemental aura while looking at the buzzing flying and crawling mutated bugs that are nearing them, they seem to be attracted to Rex and the others.

Preparing herself, Adhara holds both of her Duality Daggers and shouted, "Don't be long Rex!"

"It's going to become way worst if we stayed any longer", she added.

Not long after Adhara shouted that the first mutated bugs collide with Gistella's barrier, Adhara and Evelyn started to attack them with their fire spells. With Gistella's ability, they can attack the mutated bugs while inside the barrier. Their attacks can go out but the mutated bugs can't go in.

Gistella holds onto the barrier before Kyran gets into his battle stance, "I'll be going out, I can't help you guys from the inside", he said before he went outside of the barrier and started brawling with the mutated bugs.

"Be careful!", Adhara shouted from the side.

With that, the four of them engaged in a fight against the swarm of mutated bugs while waiting for Rex to finish whatever he was doing.

Meanwhile, Rex approaches the tree with a cautious gaze.

Even if the tree looks harmful even after seeing it up close, the experience he got from traveling through this forest puts him in a state of suspicion even if he saw a normal rock in this forest. The forest is just that deadly, everything in here is able to kill.

Rex scans the tree before he finds that it's the same as other trees here, only way shorter.

Upon nearing the dwarf tree, Rex gets off Delta's back. His eyes then landed on a puddle in front of the dwarf tree inside some kind of natural container.

After scanning the water, it turns out the water is the Debilitate Purple Water.

From a glance the Debilitate Purple Water doesn't look anything special, he then reads the description from the system.

<Debilitate Purple Water>

Water that is created from the death of a seventh-rank mutated tree and constantly exposed to toxic air, the water turns purple from the constant exposure to toxic air. The water contains toxins that can weaken anything that drinks it gradually over a span of time. One of the key components to make a Debilitate Argent Liquor.

Rex's eyebrows creased in confusion upon reading the description, "Why is the Blood Moon Quest asking me to search for something like this, I don't get it", he thought before he slowly approaches the water.

Just as he was about to put his hand in the water to store it in the inventory,

Swish!

A vine that came from the dwarf tree suddenly attacks Rex, he retracts back his hand instinctively when he saw the vine coming. It was very fast and it tries to snatch Rex's hand but failed.

"What the hell was that?", Rex mutters in surprise.

After failing to strike Rex's hand, the weird vine went inside the small tree again.

This makes Rex steps back a couple of steps before he crouches down, he looks at the bottom of the small tree and finds a small hole there just by the base of its trunk.

It looks like an ordinary hole but since he just got attacked, it certainly contains that thing.

Rex tries to peek into the small hole but still keeps a safe distance from the hole in case the vine attacks again, he then saw a glimpse of the vine inside the hole before his eyes glisten.

<Virulent the Curator of the Purple Forest - Enhanced>

Race: Etheote

Power: Seventh Rank (Middle) - Deadly Toxicity

Mental: 3001

Strength: 5933

Agility: 2412

Endurance: 2500

Intelligence: 4154

Upon seeing the vine's stats that turn out to be somekind of a creature, Rex steps back in surprise as he didn't expect that whatever the thing that attacked him had mid-seventh rank power!

'It must be sleeping, but its body sensed me somehow', Rex thought while stepping back.

Although the Debilitate Purple Water is very near just within his reach, knowing that there's a powerful creature guarding it makes Rex wipe the thought of taking it now.

Even if he can beat it, he will need time to take it down.

'I don't have time now, I'll get it later', Rex thought before slowly stepping back.

Delta who is not far from him also kept still the moment that vine suddenly appeared, and after mounting Delta, they immediately went to the others who are still fighting the mutated bugs.

Right now, the mutated bugs are at least in the hundreds.

They all are swarming the place like ants, but thanks to two Fire Elementalist which are Evelyn and Adhara, they manage to stave them off rather well as fire is very effective in this kind of situation.

Of course, all of that will change if they met with that mutated plant inside the small tree.

"Let's go!", Rex shouted attracting the others.

After seeing that Rex is already mounting on Delta signaling to them to leave, the three of them stave off a bit more of the mutated bugs before they all leaped onto Delta.

With all of them on board, Delta rushes again to exit this damned purple forest.

Chapter 463 My Future Spouse

Delta gallops through the forest nimbly with the mutated bugs behind her.

She picks up her pace, even more, when the Mutated Bug Wave finally started. There are not only a couple of hundreds of mutated bugs but there are thousands of them that look like a black tidal wave following them from behind.

Rex remembers that Duncan told him that this Mutated Bug Wave attacks everything alive.

Every time nearing midnight, the tall mutated trees inside the Purple Conifer Forest will emit an alluring scent that will wake every mutated bug and also makes them aggressive and hungry. It's not that they're actually hungry, but the scent makes them feel like they are hungry.

Because of this weird alluring scent, the Mutated Bug Wave appeared.

All of the mutated bugs that are very toxic create a couple of swarms with each containing as many as three to five thousand mutated bugs. They explore the entire Purple Conifer Forest in search of any other living beings that dare to enter the forest and eat them.

Since this place is very dangerous, people avoid it but not mutated animals.

They don't know the horror of the Purple Conifer Forest and sometimes ran inside to hide from other predators, but that is the wrong choice that will cost its life. But even if some of the mutated animals are killed here, there is no sign of their carcasses here as the mutated bugs eat them and grind their bones.

"Master... I-I can't hold it much longer!", Gistella shouted.

Gistella is starting to struggle to hold the barrier covering them since some of the mutated bugs are strong even with the help of Rex's Black Field Orko spell, but she held on as the exit is near and just within their reach.

Not only her but Evelyn and Adhara started to struggle too as their spells are not as effective.

It's all thanks to the stronger mutated bugs that tanked the spells sent by Adhara and Evelyn for the other mutated bugs, and this proves to be difficult.

Rex then imbued his lightning mana into Delta as he shouted, "Come on Delta! Faster!"

BLITZ!

Like a flash of white lightning, Delta roared feeling the lightning mana filling her with power before she puts everything into one last dash.

Roar!!

Swoosh!

They all burst out of the purple mist exiting the forest just enough before the mutated bugs can catch them, Delta's claws screeched the ground stopping her dashing momentum while turning to look at the back where the mutated bugs stopped mid-tract.

Many of them make weird noises in anger while looking at Rex and the others, not one of them is intending to leave the forest.

"Phew... that was close", Adhara mutters from the side.

The others looks at their back and saw the mutated bugs started disappearing into the purple mist again, they all sigh a sigh of relief before they look at their surrounding. Just like before, the other side of the Purple Conifer Forest is also a grassland.

But there's a flowing river that can be seen in front that is definitely toxic too.

After recovering, Rex then looks back at the map in his hand before he points in a direction, "Delta keep moving that way, the Great Barricade should be that way"

Hearing this, Delta growls lightly before she resumes their journey.

Meanwhile, Delarosa Family Territory.

One can see many torches lit up the entire village with many pale skin Vampires dancing and laughing happily while taking a cupful of blood inside a barrel and drowning themselves in it, they seem to be celebrating.

This is village-wide as each of the Vampire residents is celebrating.

Even the street in front of the castle has been decorated with red carpet with a very long table with many barrels for the Vampires resident to enjoy, Delarosa, Ana, and even Issac are sitting on a stage with three fancy seats on it.

"Praise the Origin!"

"The Origin has chosen us, Vampire, to be the strongest race! There's no other explanation!"

"Yes! Our Origin is the kindest!"

Many of the vampires cheered and laughed as they drank the content of the barrels happily, they brought their spouses with them to enjoy the celebration, and they didn't even care when some of the barrels spilled because of the ruckus crowd.

While looking at his people, Delarosa smiles in delight.

"I can't believe the Origin gave us his Cutlass", Delarosa mutters while shaking his head in excitement, he leans back on his chair while sipping blood on his glass with a satisfied expression.

Hearing this, Ana also blossomed with a smile, "With the Origin's Cutlass, Blood Devourer. Only the Werewolf that has awakened their Prince can resist us, the other races won't stand a chance. Not even the Demons."

Ana right now is already recovered from her wound, but there's still a blistering scar on her neck. It seems even the regenerative ability of a Vampire can't heal her wound fully.

Delarosa scoffed upon hearing this, "The Werewolves will destroy themselves, they won't stand a chance against us. Although we surpassed the Demons' power with the Origin' Cutlass, that blue demon is something we need to be wary of"

"I don't remember him back in the Era of Might, is he really a part of the Demon race?"

The matter of discussion makes a frown appear on Ana's face as she also remembered the blue demon that helped King Solomon take down the Great Barricade, the blue demon is very mysterious.

But just as they thought about that, Issac from the side said, "Mother, Father..."

"Just go play with that spouse of yours, there's no need to ask for our permission. You wouldn't even be interested in this kind of talk anyway", Delarosa said before Issac can even say anything.

Issac's expression darkened upon hearing this, but he eventually nodded and left.

The celebration continued as the Vampire's residents becomes even drunker in blood, a group of three male Vampires on the edge of the red carpet is currently conversing with each other before one of them bumps into someone.

"Huh...?", the Vampire looks back before his expression turns ashen.

In his back stands a woman strapped with a red ancient cutlass that is staring at the man with her red eyes, the look from the woman makes the Vampire feels an insurmountable amount of pressure before he instantly kneels down.

Many other celebrating Vampires saw the woman before they all instantly bowed down.

Just like a meeting a saint or some sort, each one of them not only kneels on the ground but also puts their hand on their chest in reverence and respect for this woman.

The woman then started advancing toward Delarosa and Ana who are still sitting.

But immediately after they noticed the advancing woman that eludes a powerful blood aura with a blood-red cutlass strapped on her waist, both of them stands up from their seats and even descend down from the stage humbly.

"Long live the princess..."

"Long live the princess..."

Every vampire started muttering lightly while bowing to the woman.

From what the Vampires here said, this woman that has arrived at the Delarosa Family core territory is none other than Calidora, the princess of the Vampires.

Calidora laid her beautiful red eyes onto Delarosa and Ana,

Each step that she took is light but filled with power silencing the crowd of Vampires that is celebrating the success of the Chosen One's ritual, she becomes even more revered since she just received the blessing from the origin.

Inside the Vampire's residents' eyes, Calidora is akin to a Prophet.

After reaching in front of Delarosa and Ana, both of them bowed slightly before Delarosa asks politely, "Princess, I thought the King and Queen are also celebrating. Why are you here?"

"Isn't it impolite for you to leave the King's castle in such a joyful time?", Ana added.

While they both are questioning Calidora's visit since the King and Queen are celebrating the success of the ritual of the Chosen One and also for receiving the Origin's Blessing, they both then frown when they realize the armor Calidora is wearing.

Calidora is wearing her royal black and red armor,

She wore a short black cuirass that covers her breast area but exposed her toned and pale stomach, there's a red skull in the middle of the cuirass signing the royal symbol of the King's family.

Both of her arms and knee-down are covered with black and red armor, and the band of black steel plates decorated with black veils that has the same red skull on it covered her waist.

The outfit Calidora is wearing shows that she's prepared for combat and this confused both Delarosa and Ana, this is their territory so it's weird to see her wearing armor. This somewhat makes them feel nervous.

Hearing this, Calidora smiles excitedly and exposes her beautiful fangs.

She then slowly rest her slender hand on the Origin's Cutlass strapped on her waist making Delarosa and Ana gulp, "I have permission from my parents to visit here, so you two don't need to be so worried about it", Calidora said.

"May I know why visiting our territory specifically?", Delarosa asks politely.

But the smile on Calidora's face becomes even wider before she looks to the side to the far horizon, her Vampiric Eyes then activated showing the black pattern before she replied with her body slightly trembling in excitement, "That's because my future spouse will arrive here..."

"F-Future spouse...?", Delarosa and Ana mutter in utter shock.

~

Back to Rex,

Rex and the others reach the Great Barricade, they arrive near the hole that Rex used back during he, Evelyn, and Dray went to the Supernatural territory to search for Adhara's spirit.

It's the only place that they can use to go to the Supernatural territory.

Anywhere else aside from this secluded hole on the Great Barricade will make them meet with the military and even the Cessation Knight. Even though Rex has an influential family right now, the procedure will drag time so he decided to just go through here.

While on the back of the galloping Delta heading to the hole, Adhara unconsciously holds onto Delta's body tighter and so does Kyran whose breath becomes heavy.

The hole is not that far anymore, just a couple of leaps and they will reach it.

Evelyn who saw their tense expression chuckles as she remembered the first time when she went through this hole with Dray and Rex, she also has the same expression as the both of them since going out of the Human territory is very terrifying.

Even for the second time like right now, Evelyn still feels her heart thumps faster.

"It's going to be fine, just stick with Rex and we're going to be fine", Evelyn said trying to comfort Kyran and Adhara, they both heard this and nodded their heads.

After Delta went through the hole and step outside, the air instantly feels different.

This change in the air was not an actual change but it was the feeling that Adhara and Kyran felt that changed, they are now not in the human territory anymore but in the Supernatural territory instead.

Dangers are bound to happen here.

While looking at the complete death plain in front of them, Adhara shakes her head remembering that this place was once a place filled with humans.

But now it becomes a barren land, completely devoid of life.

Rex looks back to the others feeling the need to check the others, he finds that as expected Adhara and Kyran seem to be nervous. He said with a serious expression, "Kyran, keep your senses sharp all the time. We're going in for a wild journey"

Hearing this, Kyran gulp as his hand noticeably trembles alongside the spear he's holding.

Kyran remembers the day they met with the Vampires, he remembers the one that is called Ana Delarosa. The way that Ana played with them as if they were nothing, and even Rex himself got taken down even though he's fighting alongside Jarvald.

It's still crystal clear inside his head, Kyran remembered her devious smirk too well.

Seeing Kyran dazing while his body trembles, Rex sighs, "Don't worry, if you're too scared to move just stick with Gistella. She will definitely protect you"

Kyran glanced at Gistella and finds her smiling assuringly, this calmed him down a bit.

After the others are ready, Rex signals Delta to dash through the dead plain to avoid being caught by the people that are guarding the Great Barricade.

While dashing through the dead plain, they enter a forest on the right.

Adhara who has her hands on the Duality Daggers at all times then saw a big structure not far from the Great Barricade, she looks at the structure in confusion, "Is that a scouting post?"

"Yes, we need to stay silent", Rex said before Delta deactivate her white lightning.

Since they have an enhanced vision, they all saw that there are Supernaturals on the scouting post and it seems they are a Succubus and a Shapeshifter. The others held their breaths as Delta went through the forest silently.

It's not that they unconsciously held their breath, but they held their breaths purposely seeing that there are two Supernatural on the scouting post that has seventh rank power.

Eyesight and senses are Werewolf's advantage, but detection still goes to the Shapeshifter. Slowly inching to pass the scouting post, Rex then whispers, "Kyran, Can you scout the front?"

But just as he said that Rex remembered that Kyran is pretty nervous right now.

When he was about to tell Gistella to try to scout the front, Kyran steeled his will before he replied albeit nervously, "Okay, leave it to me", Kyran then blend into the darkness and disappear.

The reason Rex tells Kyran instead of the others is because only Kyran has little to no presence that even Wesley can't sense, so these two Supernaturals on top of the scouting post shouldn't be able to sense Kyran. Even the Shapeshifter.

With Kyran scouting the front, he can check if there are other Supernatural in front.

Rex scans both Supernaturals at the scouting post before he frowns since those two Supernaturals have seventh rank power, one is an early seventh rank Succubus while the other is a mid-seventh rank Shapeshifter.

But Rex is not too worried about them, he just doesn't want to fight here.

After Delta sneakily walks through the forest, Rex widens his eyes before he opened the inventory. He then takes out the Astral Blanket.

"Keep your eyes on them, if any of them looks this way don't move", Rex instructed.

Upon covering their bodies with the astral blanket, their bodies can become translucent. Aside from that, their auras will also become subtle but they can't move to activate this effect. With the addition of Gistella's energy, their presence becomes even fainter.

As they are already halfway passing the scouting post,

The Succubus slowly looks in their direction making the others instantly halt their step including Delta, their bodies become translucent while the Succubus stare at their spot.

Each second that passes makes their hearts thump faster especially Adhara and Evelyn.

It feels like an eternity to wait for the Succubus to look away, but eventually, the Succubus looks away before they started to move again.

Kyran pops a couple of times from the darkness to tell them where they should go.

Unlike before when Rex visited the Lightless Marsh with Liliya, there are Supernaturals roaming the place which should be avoided if they don't want the two seventh-rank Supernaturals to notice them infiltrating.

Thanks to Kyran, they are able to avoid the Supernatural that guards the forest.

After they manage to pass the scouting post and are at a safe distance, Kyran got back on Delta before Rex compliments him, "Good job Kyran, I'm impressed", he whispers.

"Good job, Kyran!", Evelyn and Adhara also added.

But while they're praising Kyran, Rex looks at a particular tree that is darker than the other.

Upon looking at this, Rex frowned in thought. He finds this familiar. In fact too familiar but he can't quite put his finger on it, this particular darker part of the tree makes him weirded out.

While he was thinking, the others didn't notice him frowning at all.

Kyran darted his eyes to the right before he saw a small creature the size of a moth is looking at them from the side, he was about to attack it but he was too late.

Screeee!!

Chapter 464 Handy Illusion

Screee!!

Rex and the others jolted their heads to the side hearing a screeching light roar coming out of nowhere, the roar is high pitched and it's very loud like an alarm ringing.

Just a couple of seconds ago, Kyran noticed this creature but he was late to attack it.

The aura coming from this small creature is feeble almost like the aura of a normal ant, even Kyran doesn't sense it first because of its light aura. Upon looking at the small creature that looks to be a humanoid but its size is very small just like an insect, Rex instantly realized the creature is a dark pixie.

Back during his time in the military and even during his last mission of locating the Ghoul's Den, Rex has dealt with Dark Pixies many times. Dark Pixies have a humanoid body with pointy ears, their eyes are completely dark and they have moth wings.

They're not threatening at all, in fact, they're very weak. No fighting power.

Out of all the times Rex dealt with Dark Pixies, the strongest one has peak second-rank power. But the Supernatural used them as an alarm. They scattered the Dark Pixies in their crucial territories. Since Dark Pixies have a very small body and feeble aura it's hard to spot them, they make a perfect warning alarm if an enemy is approaching.

'Fuck! I should've realized it sooner!', Rex cursed himself inside his head.

Out of all the things he did lately, this is the dumbest one by far since he should've realized it sooner even since he saw the darker part of the tree.

As he already dealt with Dark Pixies many times since he's a part of the USSR, he's already taught that Dark Pixies although small they can be spotted easily. They have one fatal flaw and that is everything they touch becomes darker in color.

No matter what they touch, everything becomes darker in color.

Imagine seeing a normal tree and seeing one of its branches are way darker color almost black than the other, it's relatively easy to spot something like that. If there's a weird darker part, it's already clear that there's a dark pixy standing on that part.

On top of that, Dark Pixies have worst eye-sight than humans. They can only see 30 to 40 feet in front of them and also have a narrow vision, their eyesight is very bad.

Because of that, for a trained soldier like him spotting Dark Pixies should've been easy.

Rex got careless since it's been a while since he met with Dark Pixies, he's been dealing with humans lately and got rusty. Now, one Dark Pixy notices them first and sends out an alarm.

The dark pixy's scream makes Rex jumps out of the Astral Blanket and land on the side.

"Leave this place, I'll take care of this swiftly", Rex said before his aura started to rile up like a devastating engine, he then glares at the Dark Pixy with a hint of anger. But that anger is more like a disappointment to himself.

In a flash, Rex closed the distance in a fraction of a second before grabbing the dark pixy with his hand. The dark pixy can't do anything at all as Rex squeezed it to death.

<Killed a first rank Supernatural, Obtained 30 Exp>

Rex reads the notification before he clicks his tongue in displeasure, to think that he actually got careless and let a first-rank Supernatural notice him first. What a blunder.

After doing that, a couple of roars can be heard heading toward them.

From roughly calculating how many times Kyran told them to take another route, the roaming Supernaturals around here should be more than a dozen. Coupled with the two powerful Supernatural on the scouting post that is already gone, it's going to be a problem if they alert the others about their presence.

Looking at this, Kyran then landed beside Rex, "I'll help", he said decisively.

Rex nodded his head while looking at Kyran before Adhara said in worry, "Shouldn't we fight together? It's going to be faster that way"

"No, we shouldn't. Both of them can kill them silently, while our fire will just like fireworks and attract more Supernaturals", Evelyn replied from the side. The two of them are Fire Elementalist, and at night they're akin to a torch in the darkness.

Hearing this, Adhara looks at Rex before he gave her a nod.

Although unwillingly, she then turns her head away knowing that it makes sense before she signals to Delta to leave the place. They should get away from here and find a safe place.

"Kyran, take care of the others. I'll deal with these two", Rex instructed.

Rex sounds calm but Kyran can hear a hint of annoyance in his tone, it's because of the Dark Pixy that he didn't manage to notice. Two powerful auras are heading towards them from the front, and with that Kyran turns into the darkness again and disappear.

Since the two powerful Supernaturals have seventh-rank power, Rex will deal with them.

"It's been a while since I turned, let's end this quickly", Rex mutters before his eyes glow red, his body slowly gets bigger as his bones started cracking lightly.

Just a moments ago,

Screee!!

"Hmmm?", A succubus on top of the scouting post glance to the side upon hearing the screech, her expression then turns into a frown when she realized that it's one of the dark pixies.

On her side, there is a shapeshifter that has all of its skin completely white. The shapeshifter has the curves of a woman but she has no face or even any features whatsoever, but she's covered by armor that is the same color as her skin.

The shapeshifter then said with a haunting voice, "Humans..."

After the succubus and the shapeshifter looks at each other, both of them jumped down from the scouting post and headed in the sound direction.

While the succubus uses her demonic wings to head there, the shapeshifter's body slowly becomes invisible as she falls to the ground. Both of them reacted to the screech very fast and their movements are also fast showing their alertness and seventh-rank power.

Not long after, both of them are nearing the place but the aura they felt is weird.

The succubus descends down from the sky landing just beside the invisible shapeshifter that is slowly materializing, "Is it really humans? It doesn't feel like humans"

Hearing this, the shapeshifter shrugs her shoulders before they decided to continue walking.

After cutting down the bushes using her arm that can be turned into a sword, the shapeshifter leads in front as she's stronger than the succubus. Both of them then stopped when they slowly saw a furred figure looking at them with its red eyes.

"Werewolf...?", the Succubus mutters in confusion.

But just as they stepped out of the bushes standing in front of the Werewolf, the shapeshifter's body becomes stiff as she clearly felt that this Werewolf is not normal.

Shapeshifters don't have eyes but it doesn't mean they can't see, the Shapeshifters can perceive their surrounding just as well as eyes but use energy instead. It works like echolocation but she's using her own energy by permeating it to the surrounding.

Using that, the shapeshifter can clearly feel the two horns on the Werewolf's head.

"A Prince?!", the succubus exclaimed in surprise.

Rex is now already in his Werewolf form while looking at the two Supernaturals with his red eyes. There's no expression on his face but his eyes follow both Supernaturals' movements.

He just stood there watching their movement, and his eyes scare the two Supernaturals.

While gazing at the two Supernaturals that are in the seventh rank realm just like him, Rex slowly activates his Mythical aura that makes the Shapeshifter and the Succubus felt suppressed. It's like standing in front of a King, their body trembles on its own.

At this moment, Rex's stats looks like this.

<Rex Silverstar - Werewolf Form>

Pack: Silverstar (4/5)

Level: 48 (2,447,500,000/17,000,000,000)

Race: Royal Black Werewolf

Full-Moon: 9 Days - Wolf Moon

Berserk: 72%

Sanity: 35%

Mental: 407(+357)

Strength: 5232(+1220)

Agility: 4863(+1122)

Endurance: 4527(+1321)

Intelligence: 2843 (+120)

From the addition of the Sovereign of the Night that amplifies his stats by 200%, Rex's stats look ridiculously strong matching that of a mid-seventh rank easily. He might even be comparable to the upper-echelon of the mid-seventh rank realm.

If he were in his human form, he only got a 130% increase which puts him equivalent to early to the general mid-seventh rank but now he's way past that. Rex's Werewolf form is way stronger than his human form.

Aside from that, gaining the Light Element also amplifies his intelligence.

Since Rex has only reached the third rank in his Lunar Light element, the changes are not much but it'll get way higher when he reached the sixth rank and assimilate with a light spirit.

"What is a Prince doing here?", the Shapeshifter mutters in confusion.

Hearing this, the succubus kept her senses wrapped around Rex before she suddenly widens her eyes, "I know you...you're the Prince in the human territory! Red Prince!"

"Oh? You know of me?", Rex mutters curiously.

Although he already knows that all of the Vampire and some of the Demons are aware of his existence, he didn't expect that the Succubus also knows of him. He thought that the Vampire and the Demon are hiding that fact.

But it seems he already became famous here, "What are you going to do then?"

"We don't want any fight, you can just pass and go to the Werewolf territory if you want. We will not stop you your highness", the Succubus replied not intending to fight at all. Even the Shapeshifter also doesn't seem to want to fight.

Rex's expression turns fierce the next second as he tilts his head.

His body glows with red steam before he exposes his sharp fangs and said, "Who said that you can tell me what to do?", his eyes flashed with black lightning right after saying that.

BLITZ!

Without giving them any chance to reply, Rex uses his Flash spell to close the distance.

At this point, his speed is ridiculous as not even a spark of black lightning can be seen. Rex is so fast that he appears and reappears as if he shifts through dimension.

The Shapeshifter widens her eyes, she can't react to Rex's movement.

Since the Shapeshifter is the stronger one amongst the two, Rex decided to kill the Shapeshifter first. But when his hand was about to reach her neck intending to kill her instantly, purple energy stopped him in his tracks.

It's not that the purple manages to stop him, but it makes himself stop his body.

"Charm Spell, Soothing Desire..."

Rex looks to the side and saw the Succubus is activating her power, her eyes then suddenly flash with a purple light that catches Rex off guard.

Swish!

But using the bit of his consciousness, Rex tried to forcefully grab the Shapeshifter but missed. All he grabbed is air, the Shapeshifter already created a distance.

This is not as expected, the Succubus surprisingly manages to stop him.

Even though the disparity between their physical stats, the Succubus is way superior in terms of mental power. Because of that, she manages to stop Rex. It's his first time fighting a Succubus, and there must be a reason why they are one of the higher-rank Supernatural.

Just after the succubus stopped Rex, the Shapeshifter makes a move.

The Shapeshifter's hand transforms into a very sharp big blade imbued with Supernatural energy, she then turns invisible and before Rex can react he already got cut right on his right waist.

Slash!

A thin cut appears on Rex's waist but it almost healed instantly,

'I feel dizzy... that thing the Succubus did must be a mental attack', Rex thought with a frown, he looks around and finds that his vision is clouded with purple mist. This blocks him from seeing their attacks, he even feels dizzy for some reason.

For the Succubus race, their mental power is really high.

They are adept at using a wide variety of mental attacks, it has been said that they're a nightmare to fight for someone with a weak will and mental stat. Charm Magic is their expertise just like she did right now.

While looking at the dazed Rex, the Succubus then chanted, "Mind Magic, Deepest Fantasy!"

Swish!

After the Succubus chanted that, she started to emit purple energy that brings a soothing feeling and even a very fragrant scent. Rex instantly smelled this scent because of his enhanced smell, he looks up before his eyes widen.

In front of him stand Gistella, but she's completely naked while slowly approaching him.

The sight mesmerized Rex as he was rooted on his spot.

She looks absolutely tempting with her silvery hair and crystal blue eyes that gaze at him seductively. Rex has seen a glimpse of her beauty but not to this extent, it's hauntingly charming that makes him unable to look away.

On the outside, Rex's eyes turn from animalistic red to purple.

The Succubus scoffed before she looks at the shapeshifter on the side, "I thought it will be a lot harder, but this Werewolf Prince is nothing much..."

"Be careful Elinaya, if he got out of that then we're going to be killed", the Shapeshifter added.

Hearing this, the Succubus called Elinaya chuckles sweetly before approaching the dazed Rex. She stands in front of Rex before she grabs his throat with her purple claws with a smirk.

When she was about to crush Rex's neck, she stopped, "It's a shame that we can't kill him"

"Or else I can toy him to death", she added with a pitiful smile.

The shapeshifter slowly came out of her invisibility before she looks at Elinaya and said, "Let's just go, tell the others to also step back. We will let the Prince of Werewolf pass our post"

But right after she said that,

STAB!

"HAARGH!",

Hearing the squeal makes Elinaya who was about to leave snap twist her neck and look at the Shapeshifter, she widened her eyes in horror seeing that the Shapeshifter got attacked out of nowhere. But the red fierce eyes make her body freeze in fear again.

The Shapeshifter looks down in utter horror seeing a claw penetrate through her stomach, she can see her insides got stabbed out by the claws forcefully before she got lifted off the ground.

Rex kept eye contact with Elinaya while lifting the Shapeshifter off the ground brutally.

His eyes are glowing with an unnatural red light, Elinaya then looks back at the other Rex who is still under her influence with a frown, "H-How comes there are two of you...", she mutters in confusion.

"That's just an illusion, a lunar illusion", Rex cracks a devious grin.

Just as Rex said that the other him that is under the influence of Elinaya slowly turns into blue light particles before turning into nothingness, it's his Lunar Dust Illusion Spell.

This caught Elinaya in surprise as she didn't expect this at all, "A Shanman?!"

After seeing the despair in Elinaya's expression becoming even more evident, Rex's grin becomes widens before he looks at the Shapeshifter that is still under his mercy. She tried to stab Rex by turning her body into spikes to no avail.

Rex's hand is rock steel and nothing that she tried makes him budge.

With a slow movement, he then stabs his other hand into the Shapeshifter's body as she started screaming in pain. Her scream seeped into Elinaya's body realizing that she was nothing, under the Mythical Aura she was nothing but an ant.

Not deserving of power, not deserving to live any longer.

Splash!

Black blood burst into the surroundings as Rex completely ripped the Shapeshifter that is a mid-seventh rank Awakened using his bare hands, the Shapeshifter didn't stand a chance.

<Killed a mid-seventh rank Supernatural, Obtained 412,000,000 Exp>

Under Elinaya's gaze, the Shapeshifter got killed by Rex brutally as she get ripped into two.

"H-How...", Elinaya mutters before fear starts to grip her body.

Although she's already scared from Rex's display of aura and his blazing red eyes before, now Rex's red eyes become even more terrifying which makes her body completely frozen.

Even though she has wings, she can't muster any strength to fly away to escape.

Rex with his bloodied claws then slowly straighten his back before looking at the Shapeshifter's carcass that got split into two, "What did you say earlier? Oh, yes..."

"I believe you said that I'm not much, right?", he added before glancing at Elinaya.

The subtle glance makes Elinaya's entire body shiver in utter terror as Rex makes light work even the Shapeshifter who is more powerful than herself, it slowly comes down to her that she won't be able to escape this place alive.

Raising both of his bloodied claws, Rex then said, "I'd like to see you try doing what you did again to me...the real me"

Chapter 465 Plead Gone Wrong

Rex stretches his arms to the side with his claws dripping with the blood of the Shapeshifter, there's a taunting smile on his face while he looks at Elinaya.

With quivering lips and trembling body, Elinaya can't mutter any words much less move.

Since the one that got influenced by her power was an illusion that only has 40% of Rex's power, Elinaya's senses are alert not because of Rex's power but because of the Mythical Presence. This makes him able to look as if he's very fast in front of the two.

In reality, It was the Mythical Presence that made them sloppy in reacting.

But even with the Mythical Presence, Elinaya manages to react fast enough to stop the illusion's movement and puts it under a spell. She becomes cocky and upon seeing the real Rex, her entire being shook as if she was looked down by a monstrous creature.

Even calling Rex monstrous should be an understatement, he's more than monstrous.

Seeing that she doesn't do anything but tremble on her spot, Rex walks slowly towards her. With each step, his aura becomes heavier and heavier. It didn't take long before Elinaya's legs becomes jelly making her slide to the ground.

Stomp!

Elinaya looks up as Rex stands towering in front of her.

The Silver Eye slowly appeared in Rex's hand, he takes the silver sword he bought out from the inventory. A blue light slowly cloaked the Silver Eye while Rex his eyes on Elinaya. A subtle trembling sound can be heard, the Silver Eye started to be cloaked with Lunar Light.

If she made any sudden move then her head will roll to the ground.

With the addition of light mana into the Silver Eye, this weapon becomes a Supernatural slayer. Light element has holy properties that hurt nocturnal creatures like most Supernatural, it's one of the reasons why Rex choose light as his second element.

But when Rex positioned the Silver Eye holding it with both arms intending to kill Elinaya, she suddenly snap out of her daze and shouted, "Wait! Don't kill me!"

"Why would I do that?", Rex replied with a scoff.

Elinaya saw the Silver Eye imbued with Lunar Light mana and feel its energy, she won't be able to survive a swing of that sword. She will instantly die. Upon looking back at Rex, his expression clearly shows that he doesn't have the slightest bit of showing mercy.

She then quickly added lest Rex strikes her, "I can be your Luniera!"

"Luniera?", Rex mutters in confusion.

Upon seeing Rex lower down his sword in thought, Elinaya then added again trying everything she can to stay alive, "I know that you're a new Prince so you might not know this, Luniera is a Prince's mistress when the Luna is unable to satisfy the Prince or having other troubles. Werewolf Prince and Succubus has great relation, many of the Princes has at least one Succubus as their Luniera"

"How about it? I can satisfy your lust whenever you want in exchange for sparing my life. I know you haven't met your Luna yet, so this is a win-win", she added.

Rex looks at Elinaya with a blank expression

Elinaya tries to show off her seductive body for Rex. As a Succubus, she inherently has a very tempting body that of a vixen. Every inch of her is made to satisfy a man's dream and of course, suck the life out of them.

Her wings even flap gently with her rosy face gazing at Rex expectantly.

But at the next second,

Stab!!

Rex thrust the silver sword into Elinaya's stomach with one clean motion, dark smoke started coming out of her stabbed stomach. Her eyes widen when she feels a slight pain in her stomach, she looks down before she realized that she just has been stabbed.

The lunar light mana seeped into her body, it started hurting a little at first but in the next second, "RAARGH!! TAKE IT OUT!!", Elinaya shouted, her body feels like its on fire.

Without even a hint of empathy, Rex stabbed the sword deeper.

Elinaya wanted to grab the Silver Eye to stop it but she can't even get her hands close enough to it, her hands can only tremble while she looks at the Silver Eye stabbing deeper into her.

After the entire blade of the sword is embedded into Elinaya, Rex grabbed her head ruthlessly.

"Did you really think you filthy Succubus can take advantage of my lust? You ask for mercy but you still try to exploit me?", Rex mutters while glaring at Elinaya with his red eyes.

Elinaya looks at Rex with a painful gaze, "I-I'm not... T-Tryin to exploit you"

"Still, I'm not interested. I got plenty already", Rex replied with a grin. After saying that, Rex then looks at the silver sword that is still stabbing her.

"If you want to live then you will lead me to Delarosa Family's territory", Rex said coldly.

Hearing this, Elinaya grits her teeth powerfully. Her veins slowly turn black and are visible from the outside thanks to the Silver Eye, it restricted her power like a seal that keeps on burning her body endlessly.

Although with extreme difficulty, Elinaya replied, "Y-You're going to kill me either way"

"Well, It doesn't matter whether you believe me or not. I don't mind killing you right now, it's your choice", Rex said nonchalantly, he doesn't care which one Elinaya chooses. He has a map, but he only marks the territory just like what the Vampire that Kyran tortured before said.

Rex doesn't know the exact location of the Delarosa Family territory, being led by Elinaya that certainly knows the place will make him reach the place faster.

"So, Elinaya... Which one will it be?"

Meanwhile,

Kyran is on top of a tree branch hiding in the darkness with his black spear in hand.

The black spear is a weapon that has been given to him, Rex said that the black spear is called the Spear of Pain. Kyran feels that despite the size of the black spear he can swing it effortlessly, he even feels like he can swing it faster than his dagger before.

Aside from that, not only does the black spear compliment his spirit and dark element, but it also has an additional effect. Each time the same opponent got hit by the Spear of Pain, the pain inflicted will always increase.

No matter if Kyran manages to stab through them with the black spear or even a light cut, everything will be stacked and the pain will increase exponentially.

While hiding on a tree branch, Kyran sensed three Supernaturals approaching.

From the aura these three Supernaturals emitted, they're only in the fourth rank. Way weaker than Kyran. Even the current Ryze can take care of these Supernaturals without any prior battle experience since he had already turned into a Dragonman.

After a moment, two burly horned creatures followed by another burly bloated creature appear.

Kyran looks at these creatures and realized that two of them are minotaurs judging from their buffalo-like horns and brown fur, while the other one is an Ogre that is holding a big tree trunk.

The three of them head to the Dark Pixy sound direction.

But just as they started to near the direction of the Dark Pixy's screams, black energy flew past them before out of nowhere the three of them falls to the ground roughly.

Swiftly, Kyran swings the black spear in a crescent manner cutting off their legs.

This happened so fast that they doesn't even feel any pain from their severed legs yet, when their pain receptors were about to work Kyran already flashes again and killed the three of them by slashing their necks.

Immediately after that, Kyran rolls to the side before a huge club lands on the ground.

Another Ogre appeared but Kyran already sensed it way before it manage to even sense Kyran, he stop rolling before he throws the black spear powerfully.

Swish!

Crack!

The black spear pierced through the Ogre's chest before pinning it on a tree.

Because of the disparity in their strength, Kyran killed four Supernaturals easily. Not only does his power is in the sixth rank realm, but his senses are too sensitive to get ambushed.

Just after he killed the Supernatural, Kyran glanced to the side sensing something.

Raah!!

Out of nowhere a Supernatural in a ghostly form appears from thin air and attacked Kyran, but he's too alert to get ambushed. Kyran turns his hands into claws before his eyes gleam like a predator.

Using his claws, Kyran swiped the astral creature dispersing it instantly.

Not long after, a dozen of these Astral Creatures appeared from all sides trying to attack Kyran but his reflex is too insane as he clawed each one of them nimbly. His movement is near perfect thanks to his senses, even an attack from his back got dodged easily.

This makes Kyran seem to have an eye on the back, but this is purely using his senses alone.

Raah!

Kyran clawed another ghostly creature before he straighten his back when he realized that there was none left, he was about to take his black spear but he suddenly sensed an object on his back.

Swoosh!

Even without looking at the object, Kyran knows that it's an arrow.

His eyes glint fiercely turning around in a blink of an eye, the arrow that is imbued with weird dark brown energy is heading towards him but he manages to catch it.

On the tree branch that is not far from him, there is a hooded creature with a bow.

Without a pause after catching the arrow, Kyran spins his body following the arrow's momentum before he threw the arrow right back to the hooded creature.

Upon seeing this, the hooded creature widen its eyes before the arrow stabbed its forehead.

Thud!

The creature's body falls to the ground with a thud after getting an arrow piercing in the middle of its forehead, Kyran swiftly takes care of the Supernaturals here. Each of his attacks almost seems scripted, he knows everything that was about to happen.

He takes the black spear that still pins the Ogre on a tree before he looks at the hooded creature, it's a Dark Elf but it's no match for Kyran.

"It's finished, let's go back to Rex", he mutters to himself but then suddenly,

Kyran sensed another creature behind him but this one's movement is very fast, it already stands behind him even before he manages to turn around.

His heart thumps faster feeling that this one is different.

Swoosh!

Using all of his power, Kyran swings his black spear to his back trying to hit whatever the thing behind him was but his black spear was stopped with a touch of its hand.

This utterly shocked Kyran, it scares him a bit.

"Kyran, it's me..."

Hearing this, Kyran realized that it turns out to be Rex in his Werewolf form.

The alertness he felt since he's inside the Supernatural territory makes him think that every time he sensed someone should be an enemy, he's too alert to realize that it's Rex.

Rex slowly turns back into his human form while holding Kyran's black spear.

"You scared me!", Kyran said while retracting back his black spear, and this made Rex chuckles seeing that Kyran's face is very pale because of his sudden arrival.

After calming his drumming heart, Kyran then saw Rex is holding something.

But he soon realized that Rex is holding the Succubus he saw before that is guarding the scouting post with the Shapeshifter, he's holding her by the head like a trash bag with the Silver Eye still stabbing through her stomach.

Even Kyran finds that Elinaya is in agony judging from her popping veins that are black.

She even moans in pain every time Rex's hand moves, but Rex doesn't seem to be bothered by this as he ruthlessly holds Elinaya by her head, "I got us a guide"

"The others should be that way, let's go", he added before dashing in a direction.

Hearing this, Kyran was stunned for a moment, 'A Guide?', he thought. But he soon shakes his head and went after Rex fearing that he will be left alone here.

After reuniting with the others, they resume their journey to the Vampire Territory.

Pale Red Crossline is a place that marks the start of the Vampire Territory that leads to Delarosa Family territory, it's marked with a huge reddish tree from its trunks all the way to its leaves that weirdly enough contain blood. At a glance, it looks like an ordinary conifer huge tree, but it's clearly not.

The tree's roots can be seen from above inside the ground, it's completely red and filled the entire ground in a couple of miles radius. Even Rex and the others can see that the roots have blood flowing in them, it's weird.

Almost as if the roots have the anatomy of a human.

"Yuck... This is really weird", Evelyn mutters while looking at the ground.

The ground they're standing on is surprisingly squishy unlike actual ground, it feels like walking on a giant marshmallow. But when she puts just a bit of pressure on the ground using her feet, the roots in the ground break, and the ground started to bleed.

Adhara and Kyran also try it themselves and just like when Evelyn did it, the ground bleeds and it emits a horrifying amount of blood energy that can be felt directly.

Only Gistella doesn't seem to be surprised by this.

"What a thick blood energy, this tree is the source of it", Rex mutters with a frown.

Hearing this, Elinaya who is still dragged by Rex then said strugglingly, "Of course, this is their territory", from this alone Rex realized that it's going to be harder to fight a Vampire in this kind of terrain, but he's not that worried.

But then Rex suddenly wanted to try something,

Letting go of Elinaya, Rex approaches the big tree before he takes out the Silver Eye again. He looks up to the huge tree that is as big as the trees in the Purple Conifer Forest, and with a deep breath, Rex activates all of his buffs and tries to cut down the tree.

Clang!

To Rex's surprise, even with the Silver Eye, he can't cut through the tree trunk at all, "Hmm... Should I try using with Linzite", Rex thought out loud while looking at the tree

"Don't do that, the tree is covered by King Solomon's energy", Gistella suddenly said.

Hearing this, Rex turns to look at Gistella in confusion before she explains, "If master use Linzite to cut the tree down, master will definitely be able to at least wound the tree. But if the tree is wounded, King Solomon will know about it and they will know we're here"

Although it's a shame that Rex can't cut this down, he only shrugs his shoulders.

'We have Linzite and even the breathing technique, their advantage will be lessened. We'll leave this tree alone', Rex thought before they resume the journey.

Their journey takes hours and they reach their destination in the afternoon.

Rex and the others finally reached the Delarosa Family's territory under the guidance of Elinaya and also the map in case Elinaya tries to bait them into a trap, but it seems that is not the case.

Just like the Vampire that Kyran tortured said before, the Delarosa Family's territory lies through the Avonlet River. In front of them lies a river that should be the Avonlet River, but the river is way bigger than Rex originally thought.

Even from afar, Rex can already sense a couple of Vampires inside traditional houses.

Compared to the houses inside the human territory that is very modern and classy, these houses are traditional houses that are taken straight from the medieval era. Despite their intelligence matching humans, Humans still excel in other parts.

Since the sun is still out, the place is deserted with the Vampires avoiding the sunlight.

After looking at the houses with Vampires in them, Rex looks at the far horizon before he saw a castle that is visible even though it's at least more than a dozen miles away.

It's very big, and Rex is sure that is where the Delarosa Family is located.

"Now spare me, I won't do anything, please!", Elinaya pleaded to make Rex and the others look at her coldly, they're at war after all and compassion doesn't have any room in this current time.

But when Rex was about to kill her, he suddenly realized something.

The edge of Rex's mouth slowly quirked up into a smirk as he said, "You've been restless the closer we got to the Vampire's place, I thought nothing of it but it seems I know why..."

"It'll be bad if you're seen in the Vampire's territory, am I right? You're trespassing their territory"

Chapter 466 Delarosa Family Territory

"You're trespassing their territory...", Rex mutters with a grin.

Humans have conflicts with each other from different interests, or even hatred and anger. But at most these conflicts developed for 30 or 40 years maximum. The Supernaturals, on the other hand, have conflicts too but their conflict runs deeper than humans. They're different races, after all, and have been living for thousands of years.

They are bound to have deep conflict, even though they worked together now to face humans.

Elinaya closed her mouth trying to remain calm but her expression told Rex what he needed to know, he then grabs Elinaya by her neck before looking at the others, "Follow me, we're going to that castle over there", he said pointing at the huge castle.

Hearing this, the others that are still on top of Delta nodded their heads in understanding.

Using the same method as they travel here before, Rex and the others travel through the Delarosa Family's territory using the cover of the Astral Blanket. It's a convenient item.

Delta walks through the place silently trying not to alert the sleeping Vampires.

Barren land is all there is to see, only a couple of mutated plants can be seen sprouting here. But they are all red in color. The sound of wind whistling and creaking the old wooden houses makes this place a deadland.

Nocturnal creatures such as the Vampires have some trouble doing their activities under the sunlight, regular Vampires or what they called civilians don't have the equipment needed to sustain the sunlight like the fighting force of the Vampire Kingdom.

Rex and the others are still on the outskirts of the territory, only weak Vampires should reside here and the sunlight makes them tired. Kyran peeped inside and finds that there are coffins inside each house which should be where the Vampires sleep.

Blood filled the air and the place is entirely silent. Creepy is the word to describe the place.

Only the occasional sound of splashing river water can be heard aside from the sound of the wind, if the flowing river sound is gone then even a pin dropping will be loud. It's too silent just like in a city of the dead.

Swish!

Delta stopped moving when she heard flapping sounds from above.

All of them looks up and saw three Vampires flying above them that seems to be heading in the castle's direction, these Vampires are sixth rank Vampires and they have wings and can travel under the sunlight.

They fly through the peasants' territory before disappearing into somekind of invisible barrier.

"If Rosie is brought here, will she even be alive?", Evelyn whispers lightly.

Hearing this, Adhara slaps her thigh while giving her a warning look.

Evelyn was confused as to why she gives her a warning look like that but she soon saw Rex glancing at her sharply, this makes her swallow back her words before giving a wry smile.

Feeling the tension in the surrounding, Adhara then asks, "Rex... Will you also be turning Rosie into a Werewolf after we save her?"

"Of course, she's been through a lot for me although a mistake. But yeah, I'll turn her. She really wants to become a Werewolf, so I'll give it to her", Rex replied while still looking around carefully, there's no guarantee that they won't be caught by the Vampires through unknown methods.

It sparks some changes in Adhara and Evelyn's expressions but they didn't voice their thoughts.

After passing the medieval-style houses, Rex and the others arrived at a cliff.

The cliff is about four or five miles away from the blood tree before, the other ground on the other side of the cliff is noticeably higher than the one they are on. A bridge can be seen connecting the two grounds.

Light voices can be heard as they got closer to the cliff, it is supposed to be whispering and moaning sounds that should come from the bottom of the cliff. But this makes them even more alert instead as the sound becomes more evident the nearer they get.

"Wait here, I'll go check what's on the bottom of this cliff", Rex said.

Even though Kyran has a very light presence that shouldn't be able to be detected by any Vampires here, the day is still sunny and open so there's no darkness that he can hide into.

Buying an elixir from the shop to cover his aura, Rex chugs it in one go.

When he was about to jump out of the Astral Blanket, Adhara holds his arm and looks down. She then finally raises her head showing her worrier look and said, "Be careful..."

"I will", Rex nodded his head before turning his eyes away.

After seeing that there are no Vampires that seem to be awake, Rex got out of the Astral Blanket before he dashes to the side and hides behind a house on his right. He sticks to the wall of the house while checking the surroundings. He saw nothing except for the devoidness.

Nodding his head, he was about to check the cliff but stop just beside a window.

His eyes unconsciously look inside the house through the window and find three coffins inside the house, the coffins look like any other coffin with a black exterior. While looking at the coffins, Rex notices one of the coffins' edges is dented.

It can't be called a dent because it's not like a dent made from hitting something, but it's like the coffin is made of blood energy and someone forgot to finish it.

'Hmm... Is that how they get stronger? Sleeping inside a coffin made of blood energy?'

'Must be...'

After checking the inside of the house, Rex dash to the cliff revealing himself in the open before he jumps into the cliff. It was sudden and the others widen their eyes in surprise upon seeing this, they thought Rex would just look down to the bottom of the cliff not jump into it.

Contrasting to what the others expected, Rex jumps into the cliff before he turns his hand into claws. He stabs the cliff's wall to stop himself from falling before he looks down.

It's better to hang inside the cliff like this than to stand in the open where anyone can see.

Looking down to the bottom of the cliff, Rex finds that the cliff is not deeper than he initially expected. It's at least five hundred or six hundred feet deep.

But soon Rex's expression turns into a frown when he saw the scene below.

At the bottom of the cliff Rex saw about a few hundreds of humans that seem to be sleeping with their eyes red, it seems they are under somekind of mind control resulting in them in an absent state.

Some of them are crying while some of them are moaning.

'They're under a dream spell it seems, are they the livestock for feeding the Vampires?', Rex thought but he soon shakes his head since with this many humans, there's no way they can feed all of the Vampires in this territory.

It's too few, so it must be only for the higher-rank Vampires.

After inspecting the humans that are captured by the Vampires at the bottom of the cliff, Rex's eyes suddenly got attracted to some creatures that seem to be guarding the humans.

These creatures are traversing and inspecting the humans in case they woke up.

Rex finds that these creatures look like K-9 dogs, but their bodies are way bigger almost as big as Delta. Furs darker than black, blood dripping from their mouth that housed their sharp fangs, and crystal red eyes that are redder than magma.

They bring along a red mist that covers their body every time they move, only when they stand still can Rex see the entirety of their bodies. It's weird and menacing at the same time.

<Bloodhound Vampires>

Race: Sub Vampire - Blood Beast

Power: Sixth Rank (Mid) - Red Mist

Mental: 312

Strength: 681

Agility: 656

Endurance: 450

Intelligence: 730

From the stats of these blood creatures, turns out they are a Sub Vampire. They even have power in the sixth rank realm which is excessive if they're just trying to guard the humans, but Rex can only shake his head and went back to the others.

Getting back on Delta, the others looks at him in anticipation.

"What's down there?"

"What do you see? Is it humans?"

Hearing their series of questions, Rex sighed before he replied, "Yes it's humans but we can't save them until we found Rosie", he then tap on Delta's back signaling for her to leap to the other side of the cliff to resume their journey.

The answer doesn't trouble the others at all since they all know why Rex said that.

If they were to save the humans right now, the Vampires might be alerted of this and they will know Rex and the others are infiltrating. Aside from that, there's a chance that Rosie is here and Ana will definitely know why Rex is here.

She might bring Rosie away just for the sake of not being retrieved back by Rex, or if Rosie is not with her. She will notify other Vampires that had Rosie to warn them of Rex.

The Delarosa Family is one of the Royal Vampire Families, and they're certainly not dumb. If Rex has the gut to infiltrate their territory then they definitely know he's confident, and as a Prince of Werewolf, they will definitely take the cautious route.

It won't be surprising if the Delarosa Family asks for the Izora Family for help which should be bordering their territory on the other side of Avonlet River just like that Vampire told Rex.

While Delta jumps over to the other side of the cliff, the others look down and saw the humans. It's regretful that they can't help these humans now but they need to be alert. No matter what, Rosie is the priority.

Looking at Rex's back, Adhara bit her lips as she know when Rex started to be in this hurry.

Although she doesn't really hear the conversation from the start or even there when Rosie's parents visit, Adhara hears from one of the maids in the mansion that there are guests that just came and talked with Rex.

They're asking for Rosie and they seem to be feeling very worried.

Adhara heard this from the maid after Rex walk past her ignoring her completely to get ready. From this alone, she knows that Rex is also worried for Rosie who is in the hands of the Vampires.

Mother's intuition is a powerful omen, and Adhara knows Rex believes this saying too.

'I also have a bad feeling. I hope Rosie is really okay, or else... I don't know how he'll react', Adhara thought while looking at Rex's back.

After landing on the other side of the cliff, Rex and the others frown.

They frown because the other side of the cliff is where the invisible barrier start, it's not a barrier that can block them but it's a barrier that literally blocks the sunlight. Everything they see now is shrouded in darkness as if it's already night.

Aside from that, the air also instantly changed.

Not that the air literally changed but their feeling changed. As if something is gripping their body, and the blood energy in here is also thicker. Way thicker compared to before.

Upon looking at their front, Rex and the others find that the houses here are different.

The houses here are still medieval-style buildings but they are all mansions instead, every mansion takes a huge chunk of land, and the Vampires' aura inside the houses is stronger.

Rex and the others look around before Delta suddenly leaps to the side and hides.

She reacted like this because there are a couple of Vampires that are walking around unlike before, there's no sunlight here so the Vampires can move around freely. Roughly counting, there are at least a few hundred Vampires here.

"Let's advance with caution, this place is crawling with Vampires", Rex said.

With that, Delta slowly heads to the castle direction that is now near. The ground here is made of black stones that are different than the dirt before, and after getting deeper they find that the Vampires here are drinking and laughing.

Almost as if they're celebrating something, a special occasion or some sort.

They look like celebrating an occasion because they're holding cups in each of their hands while conversing and laughing, but some kept their reserve and prayed instead. Vampires pray differently than humans, they clasp their hands and pray to a red symbol they made using blood from what it looks like instead of praying to the gods above.

Rex and the others are sneaking through the place, and none of the Vampires notice them. With Ana Delarosa a seventh rank Vampire, there should be no Vampires here stronger than her.

Half an hour passed and Rex frowned when he saw a red carpet filling the street with a huge and long table on it, they are already nearing the castle's entrance guarded by two sixth rank Vampires.

"Are they celebrating?", Adhara mutters from the side.

Rex nodded his head since he also thought of the same thing, especially with the red carpet and long table that are laid out in front of the castle. This screams celebrating.

The majority of the Vampires here are sixth rank, there are only two seventh rank Vampires.

While inspecting each of the Vampires here, Rex then thought of a plan and said, "We're going to get inside the castle first and hopefully not get caught, I'm going to Ana straight while you guys will be guarding the entrance of her place on that floor"

Rex points at a tower of the castle that he felt to be emitting a powerful aura, it must be either Ana Delarosa or her husband. He needs to only be careful of Ana's husband since he doesn't know how powerful he is.

After pointing at the tower, Rex then looks up to the sky.

Even though the place is covered by the barrier of darkness, the sky can still be seen from inside and Rex saw that the sun is about to drown, "Night is near, perfect timing"

"There are the guards guarding the entrance, how will we deal with them?", Evelyn asks.

Hearing this, Rex didn't reply as his eyes landed on Elinaya. The glance gives Elinaya goosebumps as she instantly knows what Rex is thinking, "Don't... please...", she pleaded.

But her expression turns into a stern one, and her chest then expands alongside her taking a huge breath.

Rex saw Elinaya intending to scream to alert the Vampires, she wanted to take them down with her but Rex has already covered her mouth with his hand. His eyes then glisten fiercely before he smirks, "You're going to be our little distraction okay?"

After saying that, Delta moved nearing the entrance while Rex kept covering Elinaya's mouth.

It doesn't take long before they arrived just beside the entrance, Rex's eyes are already fixated on the Vampires guarding the entrance, 'Although it feels too easy, there are no Vampires here that can threaten me so it's fine...'

With that in mind, Rex grabbed Elinaya's head before he positioned himself to throw her outside of the Astral Blanket. He then takes out the Silver Eye that is still stabbing Elinaya's stomach.

Elinaya widens her eyes shaking her head desperately trying desperately to tell Rex no.

But Rex only smirks before he threw her powerfully sending her crashing into a mansion that is the nearest to the castle, she shot like a bullet destroying the entire mansion.

BOOM!

Right after that, all of the Vampires' attention went to the destroyed mansion.

Rex and the others fixated their eyes on the Vampires guarding the castle's entrance, and when they saw those Vampires dashed to the mansion, "Delta, now!", he whispered.

Hearing this, Delta focuses her strength on her legs before she dashes into the entrance.

With the distraction from Elinaya crashing into the mansion, they manage to get inside the castle and this cracks a smile on Rex's face, "Ana Delarosa! You're dead today!"

Chapter 467 Delarosa Castle

Inside the tower, Ana is currently sitting in her bed-chamber while looking at the glass in front of her absent-mindedly. The glass is still full of blood, she hasn't touched her drink at all.

Ana is sitting on a chair with a couple of scrolls on the table that hasn't been opened yet.

Her white curly hair falls down to her front as she leans her head on her hand, her other hand which is decorated with black fingernails reaches for her neck before she hisses in pain. The wound on her neck still pains her even though it's noticeably better.

Slowly her hand reaches for the drink before she drinks it carefully.

Pssh...

"Rrghh...", Ana grunted feeling the blood that flows down her throat burns her neck, the wound he received is very inconvenient located on her neck.

Only the burning sound and the sound of her drinking can be heard inside the bed-chamber.

Inside the bed-chamber is not luxurious like what the humans had in the current times, maybe if this bed-chamber is in the early millennia then it can be considered luxurious. The size of the master bed is very big taking a huge chunk of the bed-chamber and also covered with wrapped veils.

There's a treasure chest just on the foot of the bed, a couple of furniture such as cabinets, tables, and chairs. Golden ornaments that bring the luxury taste to the bed-chamber and also a big open window beside the bed.

Ana is facing the wall with the bed on her back, she seems to be tired laying her head on the table. But her eyes soon glisten feeling a cold wind brushing on her back.

With a slow movement, Ana raises her head from the table and straightens her posture.

Her eyes glow with a red hue while looking straight at the black stone wall in front of her, she then glances to the side without turning back before she mutters, "I didn't expect your visit, you highness"

On her back is a man standing in the window while looking at her silently.

The presence of this man makes Ana gulp harshly disregarding the pain in her neck, it's like a devil looking at her from the back. But the devil bore evilness to anyone, unlike this man that seems to bore violence, hatred, and anger to her specifically.

Rex stands in the open window while looking at Ana.

He doesn't answer for a good ten to fifteen seconds turning the silence inside the bed-chamber into deadly silent, the tension inside the room reaches its peak.

"I believe you have someone that belongs to me...", Rex mutters with his red glowing eyes.

Ana carefully stands up from the chair before turning back to face Rex, she now realized the disparity between their strength upon looking at Rex directly. His body seems to contain destructive energy that can explode at any moment.

It's like standing in the presence of King Solomon, the air chokes her.

The worry and scared expression she once saw on him is nowhere to be seen, his face is only plastered by a cold brutal look gazing at her like she's food. Like a cold-blooded beast that hasn't found a meal in years.

Even standing in front of Rex brought a huge amount of pressure onto her body.

Mythical Aura is leaking out of Rex's body showing Ana that he's a Prince of Werewolf, the Silver Eye in his right arm is also emitting energy that puts Ana's senses on alert. Supernatural Slayer, she can feel the power of the Silver Eye.

"She belongs to the Vampires the moment she's bo Ana replied.

But just as she blinks, Rex suddenly already standing in front of her towering over her easily. His dagger-like eyes are staring at Ana full of killing intent, "I'm not playing games, Ana. Where...Is...Rosie?", he said emphasizing his question.

The meek and submissive aura coming from Ana is way off the mark since the last time Rex saw her, he became so strong since the last time they met.

"Don't worry, I'll tell you where she is", Ana replied calmly, in fact, too calm.

Seeing Ana's expression that turns into a stoic look makes worry creep into his heart, he can see how calm Ana is for his sudden appearance inside her bed-chamber. It's almost as if she knows that he will be here.

'Something is wrong... How are you guys there?', Rex thought.

With the addition of the Pack Hierarchy System, Rex can now use telepathy on Gistella, Adhara, and also Kyran who occupies the first to third rank of the Battle Prowess Hierarchy.

Through telepathy, Adhara then replied, 'Most of them are only early and mid-sixth rank'

'I'm fighting one right now. It's easy dealing with them, we'll probably get to your floor in a minute or so. Just wait for us', Kyran's voice rings in Rex's head before he nodded his head.

<Sovereign of the Night Passive Skill has been Activated!>

<Increase all stats by 200%>

Ana widens her eyes when she suddenly feels a spike of Rex's aura that amplifies his already terrifying aura twofold, it shook her but she realized that it was already night and Rex has just received the blessing of the moon.

She quickly collected herself before she said, "Follow me..."

Hearing this, Rex frowned seeing the nonchalant behavior. Ana even dares to turn her back on him which is a power move on its own, and this further develops Rex's weird feeling about the situation he's in.

'Let's see what this is all about, I doubt she will really lead me to Rosie', Rex thought.

Exiting Ana's bed-chamber, Rex follows her on the back while still keeping his alertness at its max. She leads Rex through the empty hallway heading to the stairs leading down.

While walking on her back, Rex finds that Ana is stronger than she was before.

<Ana Delarosa - Enhanced>

Race: Ancient Vampire - Queen

Power: Seventh Rank (Early) - Blood Fighter

Mental: 511

Strength: 1737

Agility: 2739

Endurance: 1611

Intelligence: 966

'Vampires here are enhanced because of that tree, she almost double in power', Rex thought with a frown, he's not worried about himself but about the others instead that are fighting below and taking care of the other Vampires.

But with Gistella there, they should be okay fighting these enhanced Vampires.

After thinking briefly, Rex refocuses on his situation before he turns the ground in the surrounding black. There are many doors here in the hallway.

He activates his Black Field Orko spell just to check if there's anyone behind these doors they are passing that is waiting to ambush him, but it seems there is not. Rex finds no one inside these doors even with the use of the spell, it's completely empty here.

Not long after, the both of them arrived in front of a big entrance.

Rex already senses two powerful auras standing beside the big entrance, taking a turn her then saw two Royal Vampire Guards that have an early seventh rank power. This makes him frown but in the next second,

BLITZ!

Brak!!

The ground trembles as Rex use his flash step and stab both Royal Vampire Guards right on their chest using the Amuerus Katana on the left hand and the Silver Eye on the right hand.

But unexpectedly, both Royal Vampire Guards turn into blood energy and dissipated.

Rex looks at this with a frown finding that they're nothing but an illusion, a blood illusion to be exact and it feels familiar. Even the notification from the system doesn't appear meaning that they're indeed an illusion. He straightens his back slowly before glancing at Ana on the back.

"You're being paranoid, they're only blood clones. I'm leading you to Rosie, there's no need to be alert", Ana said before walking past Rex and heading to the big entrance.

Hearing this, Rex scoffed, "What games are you playing?"

Just after he said that Rex suddenly feels something flowing down his nose, this made him touch his nose in reflex before he feel the tip of his finger in contact with a liquid.

With a frown, Rex looks at his fingertips and finds blood there.

The blood makes him grit his teeth realizing immediately what this means, 'She's near... I need to wrap this up before she came here with her Royal Vampire Guards', Rex thought before looking back at Ana that is already in front of the big entrance.

It's not that Rex is afraid of her, but she can't be killed right now.

As long as the curse still attached them together he won't be able to kill her even if he tries anything, even back then during their conversation through the blood mirror. Rex remembers that she initiate a quest from the system.

Super Berserk Quest to be exact, but it got immediately denied.

From this alone, Rex knows that whatever he does to her she won't die at his hands. Every time the system gave a quest, it identifies the possible solution Rex can do to complete the quest. It doesn't matter how hard to finish the quest, as long as there's a way then the quest is valid.

For the system to retract back the quest means that there's no way of completing the quest that the system was about to issue, and Rex knows that the quest is to kill her.

"Games? Then see for yourself...", Ana replied before she push the door open revealing its inside. The room turns out to be a throne room where a powerful Vampire is sitting on the throne, this Vampire had a peak seventh rank power.

<Delarosa Garth - Enhanced>

Race: Ancient Vampire - King

Power: Seventh Rank (Mid) - Blood Fighter

Mental: 1112

Strength: 10911

Agility: 8266

Endurance: 9933

Intelligence: 3288

Upon seeing this Vampire that seems to be Ana's husband, Rex frown as he realized that this Vampire has upper echelon mid-seventh rank power. He immediately steadies his breathing and activates the Vampire Bane Breathing Technique.

Instantly after that, his body got covered with Kinzite in case Delarosa attacked him.

But looking at Delarosa doesn't last long as Rex's eyes was attracted to a chained person below his throne, this woman is chained on all of her limbs while looking down weakly.

Just from the curly brown hair, Rex widens his eyes, "ROSIE!"

BOOM!!

Rex's aura blasted the surroundings cracking the ground beneath him and even making the entire castle tremble but from the outside, the castle doesn't look like anything happened at all. That is because there are a couple of runes that Rex bought from the shop just to make the illusion of the castle.

So no matter what happened inside as long as they don't leave the castle's territory, the castle will keep on looking normal from the outside.

Feeling the shattering and destructive energy that is coming from Rex's body makes Delarosa laughs excitedly, he can feel even his bloodline tremble in front of Rex's aura that contains mythical energy as a prince.

Not only that, his aura starts to get stronger by the second as Rex activates his Pure Brace of Moonlight skill, and red force while glaring at Delarosa.

Ana who feel the boiling anger and power coming from Rex sneakily went to Delarosa's side.

"Let her go, and I'll give you a swift death!", Rex mutters threateningly.

Hearing this, Delarosa snickers while looking at Rex in amusement, "I wonder what kind of Prince that appears inside the humans' territory will be like, but you're more Werewolf than many others. I'm impressed...", he praised.

Rosie who has her body very thin and frail moved after hearing Rex's voice.

She slowly raises her gaze, the power inside of her now is weaker compared to even a normal human. Rosie needs every inch of strength that she had just to raise her gaze. And after she manages to see Rex albeit blurry, her eyes start to get rejuvenated with life.

A crooked smile appears on Rosie's face, "Rex...", she mutters softly.

The soft voice that escaped Rosie's mouth seeped into Rex's ears making his body boil more in anger, his wrathful eyes look at Rosie who has bite marks on her neck. Even her body is not the same way that he remembered.

Even though Rosie is already a thing of the past, Rex can't deny that she's the first one to know about him being a Werewolf and even accepted him.

If he wanted to be honest with himself, the moment he saw Rosie that day in the Nokas Mall he falls for her beauty almost instantly. Her beautiful face, her hazel eyes coupled with her curly brown hair, and the tempting figure makes everything about her gorgeous.

But that woman that he saw in the Nokas Mall is nowhere to be seen, her hair is messy and shriveled, her hazel eyes are not bright anymore, and her body is thin almost like a corpse.

Rex grinds his teeth in anger before his body slowly makes cracking sounds.

Under Delarosa and Rosie's gazes, Rex slowly turns into his Werewolf form amplifying his mythical presence by a notch and also his suppressing power. The thirst for blood he's currently feeling right now is the most he has ever felt in a long time.

It's a miracle for him to maintain his absolute consciousness despite the feeling inside of him. The feeling of wanting to tear Delarosa and Ana right now is at its peak.

If not for the Berserk Quest having already been initiated to kill all members of the Delarosa Family during the day Rosie got kidnapped, the Berserk Quest might even turn into a Super Berserk Quest instantaneously.

"Wonderful... Such a marvelous sight", Delarosa commented.

Seeing a human turning into a Werewolf for the first time greatly pleases his curiosity, but Ana who is just beside Delarosa then approaches Rosie before she grabs Rosie's face and points it at Rex, "Look! Your lover is here to rescue you"

"GET YOUR HANDS OFF OF HER!"

BLITZ!!

<Blood Moon Blessing!>

<Bestowed Blood Abridge Thirst Skill!>

Just like before, the Blood Moon gave Rex its blessing in accordance with his anger.

Devo appears after a spark of sky black lightning blasted beside Rex, his power raises according to Rex's power which puts him also in the mid-seventh rank realm.

While this is all happening,

The others arrived on the floor after clearing the Vampires below, all of them including Delta saw Rex riling his entire aura in front of two Vampires with one woman chained below the throne.

"Is that Rosie?"

"It must be, she's alive!!"

"Master..."

"We need to help Rex!"

Each one of the voiced out their thoughts while looking at this scene. The sight of Rex being very angry instills anger into their own body too, it's like Rex's emotion is resonating through them.

But when Rex's eyes glisten, his trembling body suddenly stopped.

The anger he felt instantly stopped as his wrathful eyes turn into a shock instead, he looks at Rosie in disbelief before out of nowhere the Silver Eye appears in his hand again. His eyes flash fiercely before he arrives in front of Rosie in a blink of an eye.

Ana widens her eyes upon seeing Rex suddenly dash toward her.

Delarosa who is on the back didn't sit still and activate his blood aura, but he was surprised to find that he was unable to use his blood aura. It's like the friction of energy that suppressed his blood energy inhibiting him to communicate with it.

But he still dashes to save Ana despite his movement being sloppy thanks to being unable to use his blood aura. Delarosa got blocked by Devo who slammed his body filled with lightning to him just enough to give time for Rex to thrust his Silver Eye.

Stab!!

"Haarghh!"

Under the others' surprised gaze, the Silver Eye stabs into Ana's heart.

The shocking part for the others is not the fact that Rex attacked Ana, but Rex thrust the Silver Eye through Rosie's chest first just to reach Ana on her back. It was done swiftly and this catches all of them off guard.

With how weak Rosie's body is currently, that stab surely killed her instantly.

Rex ignores Ana who is stunned in her place looking at the Silver Eye stabbing her, he looks at Rosie instead with a vicious expression, "I can see through your deceit"

"Calidora..."

Chapter 468 You Belong To Me

"Calidora..."

Rex mutters while pushing the Silver Eye deeper, he's looking straight at Rosie who got stabbed alongside Ana Delarosa with the Silver Eye. The hateful look is evident inside his eyes. A look that shouldn't be directed to someone like Rosie.

It's even more surprising to see that Rex came here to save Rosie, but he stabbed her instead.

Rex can't quite see Rosie's face clearly since she's looking down to the ground weakly, but a smile soon blooms on her face. This smile looks diabolical and her body slowly emits red energy, steaming blood energy.

This steam of blood energy is even stronger than Ana's, thoroughly shocking everyone.

Upon seeing this, the others that can feel the thick blood energy coming from Rosie frown.

Although it's not clear what happened right now, why Rex attacked Rosie, and why Rosie is emitting such blood energy, one thing is for sure. There's something wrong with Rosie.

"Did she turn into a Vampire...?", Evelyn utters with a frown.

But the other didn't reply as they fixated on the scene in front of them, they saw Ana Delarosa pull herself off of the sword while still grunting in pain. She bit her lips so hard and falls down to the ground after she manage to step back freeing herself from the Silver Eye.

Even with the Silver Eye pulled out, the wound on her chest doesn't heal at all.

Sizzling white smoke can be seen coming from the wound that makes her very weak, the silver and the light mana slowly corrode her entire body like maggots eating away a corpse. It can be seen through her pale skin around her chest turning black by the second.

Delarosa that got pushed by Devo saw Ana slowly writhing away, his eyes widen. He instantly pushes Devo away and went to Ana and embraces her corroding body from the wound.

"Ana... My dear!"

Using his hand to supply blood energy into Ana's body to make the wound on her chest recover, Delarosa finds that his method is not working at all. In fact, the blood energy even accelerated the spread of the corrosion making it spread even faster.

Fear and Sadness slowly overwhelm Delarosa as he shed a tear while looking at his dying wife.

The corrosion from the wound on her chest travels so fast that in mere moments, the corrosion already covers Ana's entire body turning her skin black. It didn't take long before a notification from the system appeared in Rex's vision.

<Killed an Early Seventh Rank Supernatural, Obtained 180,000,000 Exp>

Rex didn't bother looking at the notification as he kept his eyes on Rosie. Slowly, Rosie raises her gaze to meet with Rex's showing the black pattern inside her red eyes.

It makes the frown on Rex's face become even more evident as this confirms his suspicion.

After mourning the death of Ana for a moment, Delarosa raises his gaze before glaring at Rex. He doesn't know what Rex did but he never has expected that he can cancel all blood energy like that, Ana has told him about it but he's skeptical since a Werewolf or even any other race wouldn't be able to do something like that.

But his skepticism cost him his wife, and the anger toward himself is slowly rising inside of him but more importantly all of that anger is slowly directed at the one that did this. Rex.

SWOOSH!

"RAARGHH! YOU KILLED MY WIFE!!", Delarosa roared with tears falling down his face.

The full might of a peak seventh-rank Vampire is exposed as the King symbol on the back of his neck glowing brightly with blood essence, it manages to bypass the Blood Moon's blessing and activate his blood aura.

It was so fast that Adhara and the others' skin crawls, Delarosa's movement brought chills to their spines. It was faster than even a fraction of a second.

Just as Delarosa was about to strike Rex with all of the power he had, Rosie who is still being stabbed by Rex glanced to her side seeing Delarosa was about to hit Rex. Her eyes then sparkle with suppressing energy stopping Delarosa in his tracks.

"Princess!! He killed my Wife!!", Delarosa rebutted angrily with his eyes glowing red.

Delarosa tries to break free from the energy stopping him in tract to no avail, he's helpless.

Hearing this, Adhara and the others widen their eyes as they heard what Delarosa called Rosie. It makes them all confused but they heard Rex call her Calidora instead of Rosie.

Even though it's been so long since they saw Rosie's face, they didn't forget Rosie's face.

Adhara, Kyran, and Evelyn know who Rosie is since they have met with her at the university, only Gistella doesn't know Rosie. She has never met her even once because of her getting kidnapped before Gistella even attack Eqosa City.

With that out of the way, they all will not mistake how Rosie looks.

The woman that Rex stabbed has the same face and features as Rosie, but there's something weird about her. It's clear that this woman is not the actual Rosie, it can't be.

"Leave this to me... Delarosa", Rosie replied sharply.

Before Delarosa can even rebut again, Rosie's eyes flash with a red light making even Rex and the others closed their eyes for a second. Upon opening their eyes back, they saw Delarosa is already standing straight while looking at Rosie.

Rosie's eyes sparkle again while looking at Delarosa, "I said, leave"

Under the gazes of Rex and the others, Delarosa who is very angry from the death of his wife surprisingly nodded his head and walks over to the door. Adhara and the others step to the side while looking at Delarosa warily.

Adhara notices that there's a mindless look on Delarosa's face.

'It's mind control, he's under hypnosis', she thought while looking at Delarosa.

If this Rosie can even mind-controlling a Vampire in the seventh rank realm then it really is not Rosie, and there's only one explanation for who this woman is. Calidora...

The name itself brings a chill to the others especially hearing what Gistella said about her.

Not only does she the princess of the Vampires, the daughter of the King and Queen of the Vampires. But she also possesses a curse that can make a Vampire reach the ninth rank.

Rex moved the Silver Eye deeper into Calidora but there was no reaction coming from her.

Seeing this, Rex was stunned since the Silver Eye should work very well against Supernaturals. Not only the Silver but also the Lunar Light that he imbued into it, even Ana didn't escape the stab to the heart by the Silver Eye.

But Calidora that took the shape of Rosie tanked that easily and doesn't even seem disturbed.

Knowing that the Silver Eye is not working unexpectedly, Rex was about to pull the Silver Eye out and jump away but Calidora stopped him.

With her somewhat smooth hands, Calidora embraces Rex's face dearly.

Even the others slowly rub their eyes refusing to believe what they were seeing, Calidora not only embraces Rex's face with her hands dearly but there's something in the way she looks at Rex. Longing.

"I've been waiting for you... My Prince", Calidora said with her sweet voice.

Rex soon snap out of his daze before pulling out the Silver Eye and jumping away, he landed just in front of the others while looking at Calidora warily.

He touches his chest with his hand while gritting his teeth, 'Is this somekind of spell?'

Although he never felt something like this before, not to Calidora at least. Rex feels a warming sensation in his chest from Calidora's touch, he loathes himself for feeling such comfort from her touch. It sickens him.

Looking at Rex touching his chest with a disgusted look, Calidora giggles sweetly.

Under Rex and the others' eyes, Calidora's body that takes Rosie's form slowly got engulfed with blood energy before her true self is revealed. She steps out of the blood energy hovering around her exposing her black and red battle armor with a red skull symbol in the middle.

Rex's eyes glisten upon seeing this battle armor and finds all of them are a piece of battle equipment that is in the seventh or eighth realm.

The terrifying beauty that she possesses even for a Vampire's standard is haunting, her jet black hair that seems to absorb the light, and also her red probing eyes with black patterns in them are a sight to see. It shows the ancient curse of a Vampire.

The Vampiric Eyes. The Eyes of Terror.

Aside from Rex, the others feel a suppressing aura coming from her as if they're standing in front of a pure-born queen. It's like standing in front of Rex that is in his Werewolf Form.

Because of that, Adhara and Kyran turn into their Werewolf form.

It happened instinctively as they feel greatly threatened by Calidora, their bodies moved on their own triggering their survival instinct from Calidora's threat. The armors they're wearing got stripped off except for their weapons in their hands.

This sudden change surprises Gistella and Evelyn.

Since this is the first time they saw both of their Werewolf forms, it's a natural reaction for them. Adhara has the more generic Werewolf appearance but with a powerful aura while Kyran's Werewolf form has azure furs.

Both of them are already turned into a High Werewolf which is why they are able to turn into their Werewolf form without the help of a full moon.

Evelyn can't help but marvel at the two that have their aura spiked very much that she realized that she became the weakest person in this throne room, Kyran and Adhara surpass her power during their Werewolf form.

While looking at Calidora, Rex's expression turns hideous.

It's only because of the system that he manages to discern that Rosie that is chained in front of him turns out to be a fake, it's Calidora in disguise using an unknown method.

Rex grits his teeth while looking at Calidora who is giving him a teasing smile.

"Do you really think I will not notice your pitiful disguise?", he asks while squinting his eyes, Calidora is unkillable and he knows this very well so he needs to extract information.

With Calidora being here, it becomes multiple times harder to save Rosie.

One of the major factors for that is that Calidora can't die, and Rex doesn't even know if he can restrain her so he can search for Rosie. It's a bit tricky but he has taken down Calidora before.

But upon looking at Calidora's stats, Rex clenched his jaw, 'How did she become this strong?'

<Calidora - Enhanced>

Race: Mythical Vampire - Teen Vampire(Queen)

Power: Seventh Rank (Early) - Eyes of Terror

Mental: 1080 (- 300)

Strength: 7010 (+550)

Agility: 8467 (+600)

Endurance: 7611 (+1000)

Intelligence: 6444

The stats description beside Calidora makes Rex suck in a cold breath as she's very powerful rivaling even his own power, without his amplification skill he might not be a match for Calidora who is not only enhanced but also reach the seventh rank realm.

Her stats are too high for an early seventh rank, it's weird to see her so strong like this.

Not only that, but the battle armor that she's wearing also contributes a bit to her stats. For how long they are apart, Calidora's rise in power is as terrifying as Rex's. If not identical.

Calidora exposes her beautiful fangs with a grin before she swept her Vampiric Eyes onto the others, she looks at Gistella, Evelyn, and Kyran, and she looks a bit longer at Adhara. It makes Adhara uncomfortable as her eyes are very much terrifying.

Even a seventh rank Vampire falls under her eyes' control.

Subconsciously Adhara and the others averted Calidora's gaze lest they got under her mind control, it'll be bad for Rex if that were to happen since they will become a burden.

"You... You need to die", Calidora points at Adhara full of killing intent.

She tilts her head a little while pointing her index finger filled with blood energy at Adhara. Just like Delarosa who manages to actually activate his blood energy despite the Blood Moon blessing, Calidora seems to also be able to do that.

With the blood moon blessing broken, Rex is unable to have any advantages against Calidora who seems to be immune to all things. It's like she's gifted.

The symbol on her back is activated and this must be how she bypasses the blood moon blessing.

Swoosh!!

A wave of blood energy exploded from Calidora's body as her majestic wings appeared on her back, the aura she possesses becomes very suppressing that the others almost got put down to the ground. But not one of them surrenders to the suppressing aura.

All of them stand on their spot while glaring at Calidora filled with hostility.

Being suppressed by Calidora's aura will only give her a boost of confidence while dwindling Rex's, so they tried to resist the heavy pressure on their backs desperately.

Not wanting to let his pack be suppressed by Calidora's aura, Rex bares his fangs before his aura also exploded exposing the full might of a Prince of Werewolf and also an Alpha. Not only does he let his Mythical Presence ooze out of his body, but he uses everything in his arsenal to counter Calidora's blood energy.

BOOM!

Both energies clash against each other like a collision between two erupting tidal waves.

Everything around them turns into blood energy making the others widen their eyes in surprise, the Vampires outside are not real. Everything that they saw while slowly heading to the castle is not real, it's only a facade made by Calidora's blood energy.

Adhara and the others look around and find that the entire territory that is supposed to be Delarosa Family's territory is gone exposing the barren land with no buildings to see.

The scale of Calidora's blood energy surprises them so much that they were stunned.

But what is the most surprising is not the scale of Calidora's blood energy that can even replicate an entire Delarosa Family's Territory, the most surprising this is that none of them realized that they're inside an illusion of blood energy.

Not even Kyran sensed this which is very terrifying.

CRACK!!

The energy coming from Rex and Calidora cracked the entire ground far wide and even pushes the others back, their scale of energy is way more destructive than the clash between Adhara and Evelyn before.

Back then she only destroyed the ground in a couple of miles radius but this time the ground as far as the eyes can see is completely scarred and destroyed by their energies.

Rex takes out the Amuerus Katana in response to Calidora cloaking her hands with claws made of blood energy, he's holding both swords ready in his hands. She was about to make a move.

With his senses on full alert, Rex looks at every inch of Calidora's body with his sharp eyes.

After a slight twitch of Calidora's blood claws,

KABOOM!!

It's like teleportation, Adhara and the others almost didn't notice anything before they suddenly saw Rex and Calidora already clashing against each other. Rex saw Calidora dash in Adhara's direction but he manage to intercept her.

With two swords clashing against Caldiora's blood claws, Rex glared at her in erupting anger.

"Attack me!! Why did you attack her?!", Rex shouted grinding his teeth in anger.

Hearing this, Calidora cracks a mocking grin before she replied with her Vampiric Eyes glowing more brightly, "She needs to die, I can smell your scent from her the most. She's your mate isn't she?"

"Nobody can touch you... You belong to me!!"

Chapter 469 Invincible Apparation

"Nobody can touch you... You belong to me!!"

Calidora looks at Rex crazily while declaring that he's hers to the others.

The black patterns inside of her red eyes slowly rotate before flashing red light, Rex suddenly felt dazed for a moment because of this and this allows Calidora to tilt her blood claws making Rex's attacks slam to the ground.

With a maniac laugh, Calidora then kicks Rex away and pounces at Adhara with her claw hand stretched forward.

It took her not even a heartbeat to close the distance between her and Adhara, she smiles even wider when she was about to grab Adhara's face who can't even react. But just as she was about to grab her face, a bluish barrier block her hand.

But the barrier didn't last long as Calidora manage to tore through it with her blood claws.

During that moment of Calidora destroying the barrier with her blood claws, Gistella already reacted fast. She jumped between Calidora and Adhara and tries to block Calidora's attack using her shield. She also creates a blueish protective barrier again knowing that Calidora is very strong.

CLANG!

A metallic sound can be heard as Calidora's blood claws just like before tore through both protective barriers Evelyn created, even her shield got thrown away from her strength. But Gistella instinctively activates her bronze scales that cover her arms.

While gritting her teeth preparing for the impact, Gistella stands in front of Adhara before crossing her arms in front of her to block Calidora's attack.

BAM!

Gistella got blown away upon contact with Calidora's blood claws, she shot like a bullet crashing away without a hint of stopping. It doesn't matter if Calidora's momentum got slowed down by the protective barrier she destroyed before.

Calidora's power is rivaling Rex's so Gistella still got blown away.

Her effort however has already borne fruit as Kyran already holds the black spear ready in his hand, he's already on Calidora's side with his black spear cloaked with the dark element. In a fraction of a second, the black spear slowly got imbued with spirit energy.

The muscles on his arms bulge before he chanted, "Pneuma Spell! Piercing Black!"

SWOOSH!!

With every ounce of strength Kyran had, he throw the black spear powerfully. The black spear is cloaked with dark elements and spirit energy that spiral through the entire spear, it focuses all of its power on the tip of the black spear amplifying its penetration power.

Calidora who was caught off guard didn't manage to react as she got hit by the black spear right on her stomach, it pushes her back a couple of steps.

Before she can even stop the black spear, Rex already arrives beside her.

Kyran's pneuma spell surprised him since he didn't know that Kyran is able to do that, but he quickly recovered. Rex's red eyes create a line of red light because of how fast he was moving, he appeared beside Calidora with his claws imbued with corrosive energy by activating the Claw of Tormentor skill.

Slash!!

It was so fast that Calidora just realized that Rex is beside her before she got hit.

The Claw of Tormentor clashed against the blood barrier that she just activated, her wings are starting to dye the surrounding in red but Rex didn't stop there, "Rraarrghh!!", he roared before a red crescent moon appears on Rex's forehead.

Immediately after that, Calidora can feel the increase in strength.

BOOM!

Calidora was sent crashing away destroying the already cracked ground in the process, she spins mid crashing before stomping her feet on the ground trying to stop the momentum.

With Rex's strength, she got sent crashing away half a mile before finally stopping.

After managing to stop the momentum of Rex's attack, Calidora raises her gaze before her red eyes dilated seeing Rex and the others charging at her with killing intent. This brought a very wide smile to her face as she spread her arms to the side, "Come! Focus on me more!!"

AOUUU!!

Rex howl powerfully using the Silverstar Howl skill, and the others feel their body rejuvenated with power as their eyes glow in their respective colors. But their animalistic desires are amplified by this howl, even Delta got influenced.

On the side of this, all of them also got stronger while fighting as a pack.

It's because of the Pack skill that made them stronger if fighting together as a pack, and also the blessing of the Wolf Moon has arrived in the nick of time.

<Wolf Moon Blessing!>

<Bestowed Unified Pack Hunters skill!>

<Unified Pack Hunter>

The Wolf Moon is all about hunting in a pack, every member of the pack must be of the same strength to be efficient in hunting. Unified Pack Hunter will give a temporary boost of stats making each and every member of the pack has 60% of the Alpha's power!

Thanks to the blessing of the Wolf Moon, the others feel their power increase so much in a span of a second bringing them to 60% of Rex's power.

It makes each one of them have the power of a seventh rank.

Calidora noticed these changes clearly as the others feel even more threatening than before with the exception of Delta, even Evelyn who is riding Delta got this boost of power from the Wolf Moon's blessing.

"Ether Blink!"

BLITZ!!

Upon a light chant, Rex's body disappeared after a black lightning strike hits him before he reappeared above Calidora with his claws cloaked with the Claw of Tormentor skill.

Rex then swings down powerfully meeting with Calidora's arms that try to block his attack.

BAM!!

Sparks and shockwaves from the attack blasted the surroundings as even the debris around got bounced off the ground, the clash between two entity that has the power in the upper echelon of the mid-seventh rank is very destructive.

Nothing got spared from their clash, "Where is Rosie?!", Rex shouted angrily.

"You have to beat it out of me if you want to know where she is!", Calidora replied before she shifted her center of gravity and flaps her wings pushing Rex away.

Without a pause, Calidora saw a purple fire line that circles her on the ground. This happened while she was clashing with Rex and she didn't realize this circle of purple fire.

"Fire Maelstorm!!!"

Before she can react again the ground around her exploded with a purple fire vortex that engulfs her, it's Adhara who did this. Her eyes are burning with purple fire and the red serpent spirit is coiling on her back amplifying her strength.

She stretches her arms to the side gathering wind mana before she directed all of the wind mana she gathered into the Fire Maelstorm, it becomes devastatingly stronger because of that. But Calidora who is inside the purple flame scoffed as this level of fire hardly scratch her.

Just after she thought of that, Calidora suddenly sensed something.

Calidora looks in a particular direction still engulfed in Adhara's spell, she feels her hearing senses got blocked by something and she realized that it's a sound spell. When she was about to cancel the sound spell blocking her hearing a light flash appears out of nowhere.

The light flash turns out to be a flash of white lightning that burst from the outside to inside the purple fire vortex. Delta who is activating her white lightning and also covered by dark red fire from Evelyn to shield her from Adhara's fire bursts into the purple fire vortex.

With burning eyes, Evelyn riding on top of Delta then chanted, "Pneuma Spell! Hellfire Meteor!"

Roar!!

BAM!

Delta engulfs with Evelyn's Pneuma Spell charge directly at her headbutting her with her head, the concentrated combination of power between the two sends Calidora outside of the fire vortex. But she's still smiling.

Their combination of attack and their senses as Werewolf creates a synchronization.

It's like their instincts are linked into one single unit. Adhara's purple fire vortex that surrounds Calidora in flame, added with Evelyn's sound spell to cripple Calidora's hearing acts as a perfect cover for the final strike.

Kyran also didn't sit still as he use his dark element to manipulate Calidora's senses just after she got blasted out of the purple fire vortex.

The combination between Evelyn and Delta is not the final attack, they just wanted to occupy Calidora while Rex is up in the sky with Devo chanting a spell. It's a plan devised by Rex through telepathy resulting in this opportunity.

After seeing that Calidora got sent crashing out, Rex and Devo's eyes flash with black lightning.

Pulling every lightning mana in the surroundings and even changing the weather to rain, Rex and Devo then point at Calidora with their body emitting a horrifying amount of sky-black lightning mana.

"Ultimate Spell! Sky Imprisonment!!"

BLITZ!!

CRACK!!!

Eighth dragon-like lightning strikes descend from the sky like the judgment of the lightning god heading toward Calidora way less than a blink of an eye, their roars mixed with the sound of lightning creates a deafening sound.

It's like the entire world is shaking under their might, and two of these dragon-like black lightning strikes bite each of Calidora's limbs fiercely.

Not stopping there, Rex turns the ground around him black.

Dozens of black lightning tentacles sprouted from the ground holding Calidora on the ground adding an extra layer of restriction, no one in the mid-seventh rank realm or even peak realm will be able to escape from these.

Rex is quite sure that she won't be able to escape this, one Sky Imprisonment can only be broken by those who have intelligence way higher than him. Calidora doesn't have that.

Much less two Sky Imprisonment Spell directed at her.

Boom!

After strapping Calidora to the ground completely immobile because of the spells that are currently on her, Rex lands on the ground beside Calidora with his dagger eyes.

If he can't kill Calidora then he will restrain her just like this.

Calidora is restrained by the dragon-like lightning strikes, black lightning tentacles, and also the numbing senses from Kyran's dark element. Her eyes and nose are covered by Kyran's dark elements.

Rex is satisfied enough since this is a good amount of protection.

Even Calidora who is technically very strong will not be able to escape this, at least that's what Rex thought anyway while looking at this.

The others approached him from the back including Gistella.

With the bronze scales that are covering her arms, she manages to block Calidora's attack before without any major injuries. Just some bruises and she even already recovered from them.

Squatting down beside Calidora, Rex then asks, "Where is Rosie?"

But upon hearing this, Calidora started to laugh hysterically despite the situation she was currently in. The maniacal laughs reverberated to the surroundings irritating Rex very much.

In a fit of anger, Rex took both swords out of the inventory.

He then stabbed the Silver Eye onto Calidora's right wing before stabbing the Amuerus Katana on Calidora's left wing. The personality and temperament of Calidora have really made Rex pissed off, his anger is also amplified because he can't do anything to her.

Not until he finds a way to undo the curse linking them both.

After doing that, Rex then stomps Calidora's chest ruthlessly putting more power by the second before he asks once more, "Tell me... Where, Rosie, Is", he said emphasizing each word.

Rex's stomp didn't even stop her maniac laughs as her eyes slowly glow red brightly.

Under everyone's gazes, Kyran's dark element that is numbing her senses got shrugged off easily. Her sharp red eyes then looks at Rex with the same maniac smile before she finally said, "Do you really want to know where Rosie is?"

"I'll tell you, but I'm warning you...", Calidora said, her maniac smile turning into a teasing one.

In the next second after catching Rex and the others' interest, Calidora then added before looking at the raining sky, "Your fragile heart will be broken!"

BOOM!

Rex and the others looks up before they all leaped away.

All of them saw a red object falling down the sky like a meteor before striking the ground beside Calidora, the shockwave and debris flew to the surroundings like bullets forcing Rex and the others to cover their faces with their arms.

After the shockwave and debris, Rex and the others recover and look at their front.

They saw a red cutlass that is stabbing the ground just beside Calidora who is still lying on the ground emitting a choking amount of blood energy. It's so powerful that even Rex feels even himself got suppressed by the blood energy coming from the cutlass.

It's clear that the blood energy from the cutlass is not normal, this one is way more powerful.

Under everyone's gazes, the red cutlass started to levitate.

<Warning!>

<Origin's Presence has been detected!>

Just after the notification from the system, the blood-red cutlass moved and slash the dragon-like lightning strikes and also the black tentacles easily like cutting butter. It manages to cut through each one of them easily and cancel them.

After that, they saw Calidora slowly standing up with the help of the blood energy. She raises from the ground as if she's being revived from death.

But in this scene, Rex's eyes fixated on one thing only.

He can't help but look at the red cutlass that the system said to bring the Origin's Presence, the red cutlass gives off a scent that is very familiar. Almost as if Rex has smelled it before.

Calidora grabs the red cutlass before she embraces it with great pleasure.

The sight of this makes Rex widen his eyes as the familiarity of the red cutlass becomes even more evident, and his already rough breathing becomes even heavier. His pupils dilated while looking at the red cutlass in Calidora's embrace.

"You want to know where Rosie is right?", Calidora suddenly said lightly.

<Warning! Berserk Stat has reached 80%!>

With a slow and mocking movement, Calidora looks at the red cutlass with her red eyes. Her teasing smile that exposes her fangs makes Rex's heart thump faster.

"Meet my new weapon, carved and made from the blood and soul of the Chosen One"

<Warning! Berserk Stat has reached 90%!>

Calidora grabs the red cutlass before she raises it up giving a nice view to Rex and the others. Adhara and Kyran slowly also widen their eyes realizing what Calidora is trying to say, they unconsciously turn their heads to look at Rex and find his aura becoming even sharper.

"Rex! Calm down!!", Adhara shouted from the side knowing full well what was about to happen.

But her shout went to deaf ears as Rex started to grind his teeth and even growled menacingly, his body started to tremble while his red eyes are still fixated on the familiar red cutlass that leads to only one definite conclusion.

Seeing Rex's expression, Calidora becomes ultimately excited.

Even she started breathing heavily in excitement while looking at Rex's expression, she then declared loudly, "That's right, my dear Alpha! You're too late!!"

"You want to meet with Rosie?! Well here she is, she's in my hand!"

<Awakening the Invincible Apparation...>

Chapter 470 Invincible Apparation (2)

Just before, the cryptic night in a place full of Vampires delights me. The night was crystal clear without the dark shade pillows of cloud blotting the starry elegance coming from the dotted light ornaments of the sky.

It was the perfect night to take revenge and save the woman who was not close but somewhat sit in the corner spot of my heart, the first person that accepted me.

Thinking back, this night is the same night as the night where I met this woman. I still vividly remember the way she sat beside her parents looking at me curiously with her hazel eyes. Even if I'm unwilling to say this, her face and figure attracted me at first sight. Gorgeous.

An untainted goddess that took an interest in a mortal, such an occurrence is rare.

Soon I find that this goddess has a bad temperament, we didn't get along almost instantly but she helped me when this being, curse, or even karma hit me that night like a heavy truck.

I went berserk, It was the first time I turn into this creature.

A creature of violence that wants nothing but to kill anyone and anything its unholy eyes landed on. I turned into a creature in a world of people that hates this creature. Moreover, I deeply loathe and hate this creature I turned into.

Many share my experience, but what they did to my life is still etched clearly in my mind.

But somehow instead of reporting me or even killing me, this woman accepted me with her own agenda in her mind. The fear in her eyes quickly disappeared, only excitement while looking at the new me.

We developed unexpected feelings for each other like two radical people that are blind to the difference between them. That came to an end when I felt bitter and used, I end our relationship one-sidedly for my own motives. My purpose in the bonus life I've been given.

I ended it, but it's not because of my purpose. No.

It was all because I feel weak around this woman, the same weakness that I feel that day when my parents were killed by a creature that I turned into. Helpless, desperate, and weak. I feel all of that around this woman over the fact she used what I turned into as leverage over me.

That is the real reason I left her, the real reason why I don't want to be near her.

Life played me when somehow this woman turns from using me into liking me, or even more than that. But even then, the same feelings are still there sticking to her no matter what. I can't do anything, I have to reject her.

As time passes by, I realized that I'm running from my fear.

Feeling the same weakness, helplessness, and desperation that I feel that night when my parents died. It scares me, but I know I need to overcome them somehow. But just like before, life played me again when I realized it too late.

That woman got kidnapped by Vampires and this time, she won't stumble back into my life.

Believe me, when I say this. I'm very strong. There's none in my peers that can rival my strength, I'm the strongest thanks to the curse within me. But during that time, when that woman got kidnapped I feel a sense of loss and weakness.

It's not the same as the feelings that woman brought to me, but even more.

Something that can be felt but not explained with words, the feeling of weakness drowns me in the pitch-black depth that proves that woman's strength once again. Not physical strength, but her strength.

She's weaker than me. But even with the power I had, I'm still saved by her.

That woman succeed in saving me in the direst times when the odds are stacking against me, and that made me think of the night when my parents died by that diabolic creature's claws.

I always blame myself for a lack of power, but that woman helped me without power.

Can I really do something that night?

Is there really a way to save them that night?

If even she can save me without power, shouldn't I also be able to save my parents?

All of these questions are spinning inside my head making me hesitant to take action, even with the problems that arise I could've done something to find that woman. No matter how small, it might make a difference.

But this hesitation inside of me stops me from taking action, thinking of excuses of why I can't.

That changed when that woman's parents come to visit me, they make me realize what I'm doing right now is simply egotistical. I know that I need to save her as soon as possible.

She doesn't teach me much. But still, she showed me that the other side of me, the one that is filled with violence, hatred, and death are not so bad and is a part of me. She even wanted to turn into a creature like me, it shows that she looks at my other side the same.

It doesn't matter what I've become, I'm still me. That's what she taught me, and that made me easier to use this power.

No matter the motives at first, she still accepted me as what I turned into.

She's a thorn but a part of my life...

I need to save her...

But I was too late...

I was too late to save Rosie...

Now she's in front of my eyes still looking gorgeous like the first time I saw her, but she's radiating with something that isn't her. Levitating on the air and taking the shape of not her actual body but a weapon.

My eyes slowly widen when I look at her state, even when she cuts the spells I cast and also the swords, I didn't budge my eyes. It was just like the first time seeing her, gorgeous goddess with a bad temperament.

I keep looking at her, disbelieving of what I'm seeing.

"You want to know where Rosie is right?"

"Meet my new weapon, carved and made from the blood and soul of the Chosen One"

"Rex! Calm down!!"

An excited voice came from a Vampire that is holding Rosie in her hand, the voice that is definitely trying to initiate me slowly fades away and muffled. I can't hear them anymore.

Other voices can also be heard but all of them are numb.

My ears can only hear their muffled sound, and even if my eyes can see the hologram notifications, everything is a blur. I can't really hear or even see well anymore.

I can feel my heartbeat rising, I can feel my adrenaline-filled blood coursing in my veins are pacing madly, and I can feel the other part of me that's violent, diabolic, and ruthless knocking on my heart. Seemingly asking me to let it inside, let it take control.

Telling me to just let go of the steering wheel, and let it deal with the problem at hand.

It brings a relentless amount of bloodthirst, and I don't want to let go of the steering wheel. Something so diabolical shouldn't be let take control, but the constant beckoning weakens my grip on the steering wheel.

Just like being a mountain and the active lava inside is asking permission to erupt.

Have you ever felt the anger, sadness, and all other mixed emotions seeing your parents die?

If you have then times it by ten.

You have no idea the feeling I'm feeling right now, and it's getting stronger by the second. The knocks. It must be an illusion, but I'm sitting inside a black room holding a steering wheel. There's a door on the side that is being knocked on repeatedly.

Knock...

Knock...

It started lightly at first, but soon the knocks are getting louder like a drumming sound.

Knock!

Knock!

Feeling the other side of me slowly breaking down the door trying to reach me, I shudder. Finally, it manages to bust the door's lock making it creak and opened a little. It made my breath feels heavy from the amount of bloodthirst coming from the other side of the door.

Yes, me. I was overwhelmed by the bloodthirst from the other side of me.

Bead of cold sweat starting to decorate my face as I look at the gap on the door waiting for whatever is on the other side to enter, but it's without a doubt something diabolical. Something that's not supposed to be inside here with me.

It's not the Werewolf part of me, this one is scarier.

Soon, I saw the creature on the other side

It was me... It was the little me peeking through the gap in the door with red eyes.

There's a saying that said, unlike love that gets stronger over time, Hatred dwindles over time either being absent from the moment, death of the person, or even erased away by others.

From what I'm seeing, it seems it's true.

I can feel in my entire being the amount of hatred coming from the little me, what is left of that hatred is nothing compared to what it was. I can't even believe it myself, it's haunting and evil.

Creak...

With light steps, I saw the little me open the door and slowly approach me.

I unconsciously gripped the steering wheel stronger seeing the little me walk over bringing a shadow of dark red hatred behind him, there's no emotion on his face. Blank, completely blank.

When the little me was just a step away from me, he slowly raises his gaze to meet mine.

A gaze that even I feel fear, and I didn't realize it but the little me's hand is already holding onto my hand on the steering wheel. With its red eyes, the little me then whispers deviously, "Let go..."

What came from the little me's mouth is not my voice, it's hard to explain it. All I can say is that it's evil, I have never sounded like that in my entire life.

"You've become weaker, let me take control..."

Although I didn't want to let go, I can feel my grip loosen on its own.

My vision is starting to get blurry but I saw a glimpse of the darkness beyond the door pulling my body into it. Without having any strength in my body, I helplessly let myself get pulled by the darkness while looking at the little me putting both of his hands on the steering wheel.

"Just sleep... there's no need to worry..."

Those are the last words I hear before my vision turns black, and I lost consciousness.

Meanwhile, back to reality.

Calidora is laughing maniacally seeing Rex's expression that turns blank while looking at the blood-red cutlass she's holding, she can't wait to see Rex put his all into this fight.

Even her wings flapped excitedly waiting for Rex to burst that will come at any moment.

The others on the other hand are looking at Rex warily as they can feel the air around him slowly changes, Adhara looks at Rex with worry. Rex's emotional aura that should've been dark red is already turning darker almost nearing black.

'I've never seen him this angry before...!', Adhara thought with wide eyes.

Out of nowhere, Devo came out from Rex's shadow before he looks at the others, "You all need to get out of here if you don't want to die, I can hear his thoughts and he will explode at any moment"

"What?! I refuse to leave him like this!", Adhara exclaimed wanting to go to Rex.

But Kyran grabbed her arm stopping her on her track before he shakes his head, "He's going to go berserk, can't you feel his emotions? Rex is unstable!", he warned sternly.

"I don't care!! I need to snap him out of this!", Adhara replied stubbornly.

Delta and Gistella are not moving on their spot as they are stunned by the air around Rex's body that is unlike any others before, it made their legs shake uncontrollably. The air around him alone is enough to make the strongest-willed soldier fall to their knees in fear.

On the other side, Evelyn is looking at her hand in confusion.

Although the situation is starting to escalate with Rex being in a trance just nearing the explosion point, Evelyn feels a burning sensation on the palm of her hand. It's burning even more powerful before a symbol slowly appeared on her palm.

"What is this...?", Evelyn mutters while looking at the symbol.

It takes the shape of a white wolf-head with a glowing purple dot in the middle of the forehead, she's frowning while looking at this but her eyes then shifted to Rex, "Does this has something to do with his state?", she mutters lightly.

Just after she mutters that,

Calidora stopped laughing when she suddenly saw a change in Rex's expression, the blank expression he wore slowly turned into a smirk instead. His aura also completely changed, it's like he turned into another person.

With a slow movement, Rex shifted his eyes toward Calidora.

There's a subtle dark reddish smoke that Rex's body emits slowly creating a steaming sound, he straightens his back before the red crescent moon on his forehead turns into a red full moon. It's not the Berserker's Curse Skill anymore, it's clearly something else.

Rex's body was slowly covered with dark red line markings that is pulsating in the same beat as the red full moon that glows every ten seconds.

Alongside the changes that happened to Rex's body, the moonlight from above slowly nourishes the dark red smoke hovering around his body. It amplifies Rex's power more and more as time passes by, it came to the point where the others felt tiny beside Rex.

Even Calidora's expression changed when she feel how powerful Rex become, all that because of realizing Rosie is dead. But soon her expression becomes excited again.

"King Mark!!", Calidora exclaimed before laughing hysterically with her glowing Vampiric Eyes.

Just as she said that,

KABOOM!!!

Rex's kingly thick aura shot to the sky while he lets out a long and powerful roar, even the cloudy sky that is still pouring down rain started to turn red including the droplets of water.

"Waahh!!!"

All the others got blasted away rolling endlessly under the kingly thick aura.

The roar trembles the entire place like an earthquake and the aura shatters the ground around them like a piece of glass being trampled on, Calidora already activates her power but even she got blown away by the aura.

It was so devastating that the entire place as far as the eyes can see got quaked and scarred.

After the long and powerful roar and also the kingly aura receded, Rex walks out amongst the utterly destroyed place while looking at Calidora that is struggling to stand up.

His body now completely emits a King's aura and is also accepted by the blood moon.

With nothing but a glance, Calidora realizes that Rex's eyes changed.

It's clear that Rex is not his usual self, or rather... someone else is using his body.

<Invincible Apparation has been awakened!>

Rex's growls vibrate the entire place like a loud bass amplified by a speaker, every step he took is like a shattering attack powerful enough to topple nations. His sharp eyes then look at Calidora before in the next second he disappeared from where he stood.
