Chapter 471 Prince Of Werewolf The Maniac

KABOOM!

"What is that? It feels weird...", a Vampire looks up seeing a red aura shooting at the sky.

Another Vampire sitting beside him also looks up before a frown appears on her face, "It feels like a Werewolf Aura, but why is a Werewolf doing in the Delarosa Family's territory?"

"Let the Delarosa deal with it, we should leave their business alone, Izora"

The Vampire that is called Izora doesn't budge still inspecting the sky, he frowns while looking at the powerful beam of red aura shooting at the sky. For something like this to happen, the Werewolf should be very strong.

But his eyes then widen in realization seeing a spark around the red aura, "That's not just a Werewolf aura, that's a King aura! Praise the Origin, what have the Delarosa Family done!", Izora exclaimed standing up from his seat.

With an urgent expression etched on his face, Izora looks at the Vampire beside him.

"Gather those who are in the sixth rank and above realm, we're going to the Delarosa Family's territory to check what's happening!"

Seeing that the Vampire is unmoving, Izora shouted commandingly, "Right now!!"

"Yes, sir!", the Vampire replied before hurriedly running outside of the bedroom.

Izora then looks back at the sky with a frown, he sprouted his wings that are dark red in color before he fly out of the window. Looking at the red aura direction, Izora sucked in a cold breath realizing that it was near the heart of the Delarosa Family's territory.

"Something bad is going to happen, I can feel it"

~

Completely red, everything around the place is completely red.

The heavy beads of water falling down the sky are red, the thunderstorm clouds are red, and even the air is completely red ever since Rex's kingly aura shot into the sky. It was like being inside of hell where every corner of the place is blood red.

Rex's kingly aura that shot to the sky dye the moon red resulting in this effect.

Even Calidora can't help but be surprised seeing the entire place red like this, she gazes at Rex who is standing on his spot while gazing at her with his red eyes. But there are some things that Calidora realized.

The way Rex gazes at her is different, it's like a completely new person is gazing at her.

Rex usually gave her a look of disdain or even disgust that somehow makes Calidora happy since he's actually paying attention to her, but the one that is gazing at her makes her unhappy. It's like being gazed at as an ant, completely nothing in his eyes.

But just as she thought of that, Rex suddenly disappears from her vision.

Calidora's eyes enlarge seeing the sudden disappearance, she covers her body with the blood barrier instinctively. She turns her head left and right trying to find where Rex is, but her expression can't hide the excitement even though Rex is not his usual self right now.

While looking around, she catches a glimpse of a shadow in the sky making her look up.

In the sky Rex's body is rained down by the red water that doesn't seem to make his jet-black furs wet, he is also shadowed by the red moon that looks identical to a Blood Moon. His horns are resonating with the red moonlight like a receptor to amplify his strength.

Because of his resonance horns, Rex's power increases as time passes by which slowly overpowers the blood energy coming from Calidora.

Calidora saw Rex's claws are gathering the red moonlight energy.

Pulsating in each second as more red moonlight energy gathers on his claws, the power also rises by the second. It comes to the point where Calidora feels suppressed by the power of Rex's claws.

Rex is looking down on Calidora from the sky, his eyes then glisten before in the next second.

Slash!!

Almost as fast as the speed of light, Rex descends down from the sky before swinging his claws and going past Calidora. It happened so fast that makes even Calidora widen her eyes realizing that she can't react to Rex's movement.

Just after she realized that a huge cut on her stomach appears.

The huge cut almost sliced Calidora's body into two, it comes from Rex's claws that not only sliced through her blood barrier like a hot metal but also cut her body easily. But the cut instantly clotted and healed before Calidora turns back to see Rex.

She saw Rex is already right in front of her before she chanted, "Blood Magic, Blood Double!"

Rex who tries to grab Calidora's neck grabs nothing but blood as her body turns into a puddle of blood, she then reappeared on the side not far with her creepy smile. But that creepy smile didn't last long when Rex has already reached her.

'He's so fast! I can't keep up!'

With his claws, Rex grabbed Calidora's neck before slamming her down to the ground.

The ground cracked under the strength behind the powerful slam Rex did. Calidora recovers from the attack and saw Rex give her a smirk, she then grips the red cutlass tightly before thrusting it at Rex.

But to her surprise, the red cutlass got parried easily.

After parrying the red cutlass, Rex then started pounding and clawing Calidora relentlessly making the ground trembles from each attack. It's a complete beatdown.

The shockwave from each attack makes the others look at Rex in fright.

If even one of them got hit by an attack from the current Rex, their body will instantly explode.

It was brutal and very hard to see as blood started to decorate Rex's face the more wound inflicted on Calidora's body, chunks of her flesh go torn by Rex's attack. She can't even breathe under the barrage of attack.

Calidora got utterly dominated beneath Rex, utter domination.

She can only put the red cutlass in front of her occasionally while receiving the attacks from Rex. Even in his current state, Rex's battle instincts are still there. Every time Calidora manages to block his attack using the red cutlass, he swipes the red cutlass away before resuming.

One might think it's not practical to just make Calidora let go, but this just shows that his fighting instinct is engraved into his muscles.

As Calidora received more beating from Rex, she can feel that Rex's power has become way stronger. Not stopping at that, Rex stepped on Calidora's stomach making her grunt before he grabs both of Calidora's wings.

Rex then tear them off like tearing a thin piece of paper, blood gushed out from the torn wings before he threw them to the side.

"Blood Magic, Carnage Festival!"

All of the blood in the surrounding that comes from her started to levitate and turn into sharp needles, they all then shot at Rex like bullets but upon hitting Rex's body not a single one of them manage to pierce his skin.

Each one of the blood needles splashes back into blood upon hitting Rex's body.

Rex didn't even bother looking at the blood needle as if they are nothing, an Awakened in the seventh rank can probably be pierced by those blood needles but Rex treat them as if they were nothing but puddles of blood.

But even with the injuries sustained by Calidora, she already healed most of them.

Nothing was left even the fatal ones regenerate quickly as if they were light wounds. Calidora's eyes then flash rumbling the entire place, she activates her Vampiric Eyes, and swings the red cutlass but got blocked by Rex.

Even though he managed to block it, the attack still pushed Rex off of Calidora. She then flaps her wings and stands back up recovering her position.

Rex blocks the red cutlass with his arm and finds that even in his current self, his arm got sliced and leaked blood. During that exchange even the red cutlass manage to absorb some of his blood, this shows the power of the red cutlass being an Origin weapon.

After managing to recover her standing, Calidora's eyes look at the red cutlass.

There's a swirl of blood on the tip of the red cutlass that should've been Rex's blood, it creates a circle of blood the size of a golf ball. Calidora then puts out her tongue and licks the blood ball before she gulps it in delight.

Her satisfied look can be seen clearly etched on her expression right after she drinks that blood, she's intoxicated by Rex's blood as if it was alcohol.

"Let's keep going! Give me more of your attention!!", Calidora exclaimed excitedly.

Upon hearing this, Rex's aura exploded roaring to the sky while crazily scratching his chest with his claws. It's like he's being possessed by a demon, he did this while looking at the red moon as if he was communicating.

As if he's asking for permission, Rex then looks back at Calidora before he rushed at her.

Rex rushed at her but not in a dignified way but more animalistic, he dashes at her on all four. His fangs are exposed while fixating his eyes full of bloodlust on Calidora.

Seeing this, Calidora swipes the red cutlass a couple of times.

Powerful red slash shot at Rex from each slash she did with the red cutlass, but all of them doesn't even manage to slow down Rex's movement. It manage to wound Rex, but it healed instantaneously.

Roar!!

Rex leaped at Calidora who welcomed him with a wide slash of the red cutlass.

The wide slash hits Rex's shoulder but under Calidora's surprised eyes, the red cutlass that pierced through Rex's skin got slowly repelled back. It surprised her since this red cutlass is not just a cutlass but also an Origin weapon.

Hitting the red cutlass with his terrifying claws, Rex manages to get it out of the way and hugs Calidora making the both of them fall down to the ground.

While gritting her teeth, Calidora tries to break free but Rex's grip is impeccable.

Opening his mouth widely, Rex bites Calidora's shoulder tearing through her strong pale skin and also crushing her bones easily. He bites off a huge chunk of flesh before swallowing it in delight, but it didn't stop there.

Rex kept biting Calidora's flesh like an animal while the others are looking at this from the back.

The others already recovered not too long ago and they saw the devastating fight between Rex and Calidora, each of their attacks sent a powerful gush of energy which makes them unable to get even close.

Seeing Rex munching on Calidora makes Adhara frown, "We need to snap him out of this!"

"How?! Even Calidora who is way stronger than us got overpowered like that, what if Rex suddenly turns to us if we get closer?", Kyran replied hurriedly, he's worried that although they're in the same pack Rex will not recognize them.

Judging from how it looks, he definitely won't recognize them even if they try.

But then, Evelyn shows her palm to the others that have the white wolf-head with a glowing purple dot on the forehead, "I think I can stop Rex...", she mutters hesitantly.

With the symbol appearing out of nowhere, it's clear that it must have something to do with Rex. It won't appear out of the blue without a reason. Since Rex right now is in his berserk state, it became obvious why this white wolf-head symbol appears on him.

Some of the questions inside Evelyn's head are how to use it? will it really work? and why she's the one that got this? but she didn't know the answer to them.

Hearing this, the others glance at the symbol before they all frown.

All of them has the same thought as Evelyn as the symbol looks to be related to Rex's state right now, but they can't even approach Rex much less brings Evelyn to him. The blasting energy from the clash between Rex and Calidora is too powerful.

Back to the fight,

Calidora struggles once again beneath Rex, many parts of her body got bitten off by Rex.

Even her shoulder part has no more skin and flesh, her bones are even visible. Their fight is brutal and hard to watch as blood and flesh splattered everywhere. Rex's mouth is already filled with blood, he kept on ripping Calidora's body trying to overpower her heal.

If she was not protected by the curse linking them, she will probably be dead over a thousand times. Even the most powerful regeneration in the world won't survive Rex's attack.

Just like a hungry beast devouring its prey, Rex treated Calidora as food.

Gritting her teeth, Calidora gripped her red cutlass tightly before she swing it aiming at Rex's neck trying to severe it. But under her surprise gaze, Rex caught it with his bare hand.

The sizzling sound coming from his blood sucked into the red cutlass didn't even bother him.

With a menacing growl right in front of Calidora's face, Rex twists the red cutlass taking it out of her hand. He then grabs the hilt of the red cutlass before stabbing it into Calidora's chest.

Stab!!

"Harghh!", Calidora shouted as her Vampiric Eyes turns purple once again.

She's looking at the red cutlass stabbing her chest in utter shock, but Calidora soon recovers from her daze opens her mouth, and bites Rex's leg. She sucked as much blood as possible satisfying her thirst.

But Rex laughs maniacally with his baritone hoarse voice before stomping at Calidora's head.

BOOM!!

Calidora exposes a smile with blood flowing down her mouth despite the pain around her body, it's almost as if she likes the pain or probably like the pain inflicted by Rex.

After laughing at his contentment, Rex grabs Calidora's head powerfully.

Using the muscles in his arms he slowly pulls Calidora's head while she's still smiling disturbingly, and after a jolt from Rex's hand.

Splash!!

Calidora's head got severed cleanly before Rex throws it to the side roughly.

It rolls a couple of yards before stopping.

Rex then looks back at the red moon and howls in triumph which manages to shake the entire place once again, he then stopped the howl turning his body back slowly. His red eyes landed on the others making them step back in fright.

It's not the look that Rex has ever given them, and it's scarier than being chased or attacked by Wesley Atkins that they have experienced before, an eighth rank Awakened.

After making eye contact with the others, Rex's eyes fall onto Evelyn.

There's a savage look on his face when looking at Evelyn, and just as Evelyn steps back in fear Rex glanced in another direction sniffing the air. The aura coming from him is menacing making the others frozen in place.

In just a moment, Rex gallops in all four to a direction leaving the others.

Just like a ghost in the night, Rex disappears from their vision in below a second. But not long after, a powerful howl reverberated again from the direction he left in.

Chapter 472 Chaos Ensued

Rex gallops like an animal leaving the others behind without even looking back.

Although they're troubled to see Rex being berserk like this when he's always composed and collected, thankfully he's in the Supernatural territory so they don't need to hurry and stop him. Letting him take out some steam is an option to calm him down.

But just as they thought of that, Gistella looks at where Rex left off in fear.

"W-We need to stop master! He's going to kill all of them!", Gistella exclaimed from the side, she then gets on Delta before waiting for the others to get on too.

Adhara, Kyran, and Evelyn look at her in confusion.

Evelyn is the first one to speak up, "I might be able to stop Rex but why the rush? We better off let him loose for now and help him after he calmed down a bit", she said nonchalantly. It's the Supernatural territory, so it's alright.

"There are Civilians! We must stop him!", Gistella rebutted hurriedly.

Hearing this, Adhara widen her eyes in surprise, "Civilians? I forgot about the humans captured there, we have to make sure they don't cross with Rex. Let's go!", she added before signaling to Evelyn to get on Delta.

Kyran and Adhara are in their Werewolf form and they will run on their own, they're weight will slow Delta down if they decided to jump on her.

Just after Evelyn gets on Delta, her body started to blitz with white lightning before she ran in the direction Rex left followed by Kyran and Adhara. They dusted the place fearing Rex will rampage not only the Vampires but also the humans there.

Unknown to them, Calidora's eyes flash as her head slowly got pulled to her body.

While the others are running at where Rex has left, Kyran frown remembering the path Rex is heading is not deeper into the Delarosa Family territory. Rex is heading out.

"I thought Rex went to the other Vampires", Kyran mutters in confusion.

Hearing this, the others also slowly feel troubled about where Rex is going. But their negative thinking was instantly deleted when the ground that is glowing with a sliver of redness dimmed down entirely.

The ground turns normal again, it makes all of them stop in their tracks.

While looking at the ground that has no hint of redness again, Adhara widens her eyes when she realized what Rex has done, "N-No way... Did he just cut down the blood tree?"

"I-It's quite far, there's no way he already reached there right?", Evelyn also added whisperingly.

All of them felt a cold wind brushing their hearts upon realizing this.

Just a bit before when Rex wanted to cut down the big reddish tree in the Pale Red Crossline, Gistella told him not to since the tree is linked to the Vampire King's blood energy. King Solomon's energy.

But seeing the ground dimmed like this, it's clear that the tree got wounded or even cut down.

If Rex really did cut down the big red tree that pumps the ground in the Delarosa Family's territory full of blood energy, then King Solomon will know that someone did this. The King of Vampire is a ninth rank Awakened, they're not his match.

Even for Rex who is in his berserk state, the others are not confident Rex will be able to take on King Solomon if somehow he manages to come here.

"He's changing direction, he's now heading that way", Kyran said pointing to his left.

After cutting down the tree to reduce the power of the Vampires around here, Rex went in another direction which should be where the real Delarosa Family's territory lies. Not just a territory made of blood illusion by Calidora.

Without wasting more time, the others immediately ran after Rex.

Now that he just cut down the big red tree then there's a more urgent reason for them to snap Rex back out of his berserk state, meeting King Solomon will be a death sentence to them. Calidora is already strong enough, they can't begin to even imagine how strong is King Solomon.

Following Rex's aura that is evident to them since they're his pack members, the others try to keep up but Rex is too fast for them. His speed is ten or even a hundred times faster!

It was akin to chasing a rabbit while they themselves are turtles.

Even with them not being able to keep up with Rex's movement that can cover a couple of miles in one leap, they try doing other things that might help. They try communicating with Rex through telepathy but don't get an answer.

"This is bad... We need to get there even faster!", Adhara mutters biting her lips.

For King Solomon to notice that they're here, it's basically a race against time. They don't know how long it will take for King Solomon to reach here, and even if he doesn't go here he probably sent a couple of powerful Vampires to check it out.

Growl!

Delta growls lightly showing that she's already giving it her all, she already gallops with every ounce of strength in her body but Rex is simply too fast.

But while running, Gistella suddenly feels something.

There's a burning sensation inside her throat from the overwhelming feeling she's currently feeling, she's worried about the civilians there. Rex might kill anything his eyes land on, and that's going to be a problem.

Gistella touches her throat which is starting to feel itchy, but she can't quite scratch the itchy part using her hands. Under the intense amount of emotion, she finally lets out a howl that sounded really sad and gloomy.

Just after she did that, Kyran also feels the same itchy feeling in his throat. He too started to howl almost identical to Gistella before both of them got enveloped by the moonlight.

Adhara and Evelyn look at this in surprise while still running,

Not long after they both got enveloped by the moonlight, their bodies slowly turns translucent before they finally disappear from the place, "Where did they go? What happened?", Evelyn exclaimed in surprise.

"I don't know", Adhara replied but both of them then looks to their front.

Although they're still quite far away from Rex, they suddenly can feel Gistella and Kyran's auras just beside Rex. It looks like they're teleported there using unknown methods.

"How did they get there?", Adhara mutters in confusion.

But she soon shakes her head and glances at Evelyn and Delta who are also looking at their front sensing Gistella and Kyran's aura there, "Let's pick up our pace!"

Swoosh!

Blitz!

Adhara's body got imbued by wind mana amplifying her speed even more while Delta exert more white lighting trying to add his speed further, the three of them travel following the edge of Avonlet River.

Meanwhile, Kyran and Gistella open their eyes.

The moonlight brings warmth to their bodies before they got teleported away, both of them don't know how they did that but the feeling of wanting to meet with Rex makes their throat itchy which results in that howl.

Immediately after they got teleported, screams of pain and agony filled their ears.

Pale-skin people are scattering around in terror as their homes got destroyed, some of their homes got destroyed leaving only black dust, and some are on fire. But no matter where Gistella and Kyran look, everything is in chaos.

Vampires, they're in a city full of Vampires.

But many of the Vampires are hurt, limbs are missing, and some are even dead.

Kyran widens his eyes since this is the first time he had ever actually been inside a city of Vampire, he saw many Vampires holding their children and running out of the city.

There's no definite direction they're going, they're scattering all around the city.

On that note, there are also opposites happening. Children holding their dead parents crying, sobbing, and calling for their parents' names. The place is in total chaos.

Gistella who is also seeing this scene slowly turns pale, as a former Undead she knows that these running Vampires are civilians. They're the part of Vampires that has made an oath by the Origin's name to not fight, and that oath cannot be taken back.

Even if they wanted to, they're unable to literally fight despite being stronger than normal humans. It's quite a complicated process for a Vampire or even other Supernaturals to become a Civilian.

Many other Vampires that have wings are flying above them heading in a direction.

"Look! That must be where Rex is!", Kyran pointed in the direction the flying Vampires are heading, they all are wearing battle armors trying to buy time for the Civilians to flee the city.

But Gistella didn't pay attention, "W-We need to help the Civilians get out"

"Civilians? Where?", Kyran asks looking around hurriedly, but he can only see Vampires around him. There's not even one human that he can find, human prisoners of course.

Soon Kyran realized what she meant, "Wait, we're not talking about the same Civilians are we?"

"These Vampires are civilians, they had made an oath to the Origin. They can't fight!", Gistella replied in worry, she looks at the crying Vampires that are mourning the death of their children, friends, and even parents. She felt pain looking at the civilians that got hit by the collateral damage.

Hearing this, Kyran slowly glances at Gistella with a cold and dark look.

Azure blue aura started to steam all over his Werewolf body while he looks at Gistella, he saw the worry in Gistella's beautiful face and can't help but feel angry, "So what if they're Civilians? The Supernatural doesn't show mercy to us so why would we need to show them mercy?"

"Our main objective here is to find human prisoners while waiting for Evelyn to stop Rex, not helping these bunch of Supernaturals that deserves death"

Hearing this, Gistella's crystal blue eyes widen in surprise.

"B-But they ar-", before Gistella can even reply, she restrains herself from saying more seeing the murderous look on Kyran's face.

One is a former human while the other is always been a Supernatural.

Their differences are evident even from this exchange alone, and since Rex has told Gistella to protect humans she can't help but looks down. She's on Rex's side now, she can't bear to pay the price of making Rex angry.

After seeing the submissive behavior from Gistella, Kyran scoffs but then suddenly,

BLITZ!

KABOOM!

A powerful back lightning strike descend from the sky rumbling the ground beneath them, dozens of winged Vampires got blown away as their bodies were charred by the black lightning strikes that definitely come from Rex.

"I smell humans scent from there, let's go", Kyran said before dashing away.

Gistella stands rooted on her spot for a couple of seconds seeing the crying and wailing Vampires that got hit by the collateral damage, but she can only turn her head away and follow after Kyran.

A moment later,

Kyran and Gistella arrive in front of a pit that is curving down to the ground like a bowl with many humans chained in the middle. The pit itself is at least the size of a soccer field, it's very big and the humans in the middle of it are at least about a thousand or maybe more.

There are many human prisoners, and only two Vampires are guarding the place while another two are taking the humans away bit by bit putting them inside a carriage like an object.

Seeing this, Kyran's eyes glisten, "I'll get the humans that are being brought away"

"Okay... I'll defeat these Vampires and save the human prisoners inside the pit", Gistella added before they both nodded their heads and Kyran disappear into the shadow.

After Kyran left, Gistella fixed her eyes on the two Vampires.

Since the situation is dire, these Vampires seem to be not stronger than the fifth rank realm. Their auras are feeble but compared to the human prisoners, these Vampires are still practically invincible.

Gistella looks at both Vampires that are still oblivious to her presence.

With a deep breath calming her riling emotions, her expression turns cold before she then dashes at the two oblivious Vampires.

~

"What is that Lightning Strikes? Are they being attacked?"

"It must be an Awakened!! We're saved!!"

Hearing the noisy chatter from the group of human prisoners, the two Vampires glared at them baring their fangs, and shouted, "Shut up human or I'll drain your blood!"

"It's not an Awakened, pray that we win because if not you all will be Werewolves' food"

The human prisoners turn pale upon hearing what the Vampire said, it's one thing to get their blood sucked by the Vampires and it's another thing to be eaten alive by the Werewolves. At least if it's the Vampires, they're still fed to keep their bodies generating blood faster.

Not a good choice but it's the better choice, Werewolves on the other hand are beasts.

If they were to be captured by the Werewolves that are walking savages, they will be nothing except for a day's worth of food. There's no chance of survival, not in the least.

Light of hope disappears from their eyes again.

The desperation of these human prisoners can be felt clearly from how they react to the tiniest bit of hope, god knows how long they have been here. If not for their aura, one might mistake them for Vampires because of how pale they are from the lack of blood.

Just as they slumps back their body in helplessness, a blue barrier suddenly appeared.

All of them saw a blue barrier covering the entirety of the human prisoners, this makes the guarding Vampires frown in confusion but then suddenly, "What the- Arghh!!"

"Bastard, who are you?!", another Vampire shouted seeing his friend get flung away.

Gistella suddenly appears catching both Vampires off guard before she slams her shield on the first Vampire she saw, it sent the Vampire crashing away like a bullet before he stops after slamming the edge of the pit powerfully.

Her cold eyes then glance at the other Vampire on the other side.

With a wave of her hand, the Vampire got entrapped inside a blue barrier. The Vampire tries to hit it a couple of times using his sword to no avail, and after another wave from Gistella's hand, the barrier condensed before crushing the Vampire's body.

Splat!

Upon seeing this, the human prisoners look away from the gruesome scene.

But after the gruesome scene is over, they all look back at the woman that killed to powerful Vampires in their eyes easily. It was a devastatingly beautiful woman. in fact, her crystal blue eyes are unmatched in terms of beauty.

Seeing that Gistella in human form, their eyes lit up excitedly.

Each one of the human prisoners numbering in the thousands widens their eyes, and soon the light of hope returns to their eyes, "We- We're saved!!"

Chapter 473 Human Prisoners And Hatred

"We- We're saved!!"

Just like seeing the prophet or even the angel sent by gods, the human prisoners celebrated by punching the air and even started jumping in delight while looking at Gistella. She has become a savior in their eyes.

Even with the choking air around here with occasional screams and explosions, these people are excited enough just from Gistella killing the Vampires guarding them.

If they even try to get out of here on themselves, many of them will probably die.

But from this alone Gistella can feel and gauge their desperation from being slaves to the Vampires, it's sad seeing these people behave like this.

"Can you help us beak the chains? We won't ask for much. Just that, please", one of the human prisoners, a man in his forties with haggard clothes said pleadingly. Some of the others also ask for the same thing backing the man up.

Hearing this, Gistella paused for a moment before she shifted her eyes to the middle.

In the middle of the pit lies somekind of glowing rune that is surrounded by a bubble of blood energy. The chains chaining the human prisoners are connected to this bubble of blood energy, and it seems their blood will automatically get absorbed into this bubble.

But there's some kind of a mechanic here, there's a limiter on the blood suction so it will leave enough blood for the human prisoners to stay alive. The brutality of blood magic.

Looking at this, Gistella approaches the bubble under everyone's gazes.

All of the human prisoners make way for her with reverence inside their eyes just like seeing a holy being, they mistaken Gistella for an Awakened but she doesn't need to clarify this to them.

Upon reaching the bubble of blood energy, Gistella fixated her eyes on the glowing rune.

The glowing rune turns out to be amplified by many other smaller runes creating a formation, Gistella needs to destroy the four smaller runes before destroying the core rune in the middle.

She's a former Undead, after all. A race heavily invested in formation and magic.

Cloaking her hand with energy, Gistella's eyes flash before she thrust her hand into the bubble.

Just like any other defensive formation such as this, the bubble of blood energy creates a strong propelling force to force Gistella's hand out of it. But her eyes glow brightly thrusting her hand deeper into the bubble of blood energy.

After a bit of difficulty, Gistella manage to reach one of the smaller runes and destroyed it.

"Rrghh..", Gistella grunted pulling her hand out of the bubble of blood energy, she manage to destroy one of the smaller runes but the propelling energy is very strong even for her.

Pssh...

Her hand is steaming because of the blood energy, some of her skin even got burnt.

Looking at Gistella's arm which has its skin burnt, many of the human prisoners are worried but they kept silent. Their only chance of leaving this place is if Gistella manages to destroy the formation, if not then they will not be able to escape.

Rumble!

Hearing the sky rumbling, Gistella looks up before her expression turns pale.

With nothing but a glance at the sky, she realized that the sky is rumbling probably because of Rex's spell. The air turns cold in an instant which makes her grits her teeth, she needs to pick up her pace in freeing these human prisoners.

Riling her blue energy like this, Gistella then covers her arm with bronze scales.

The system even put Gistella's bloodline as a Werewolf Fiend in the top most of the Battle Prowess Hierarchy due to its talent to be strong, this shows the potential held by a Werewolf Fiend just like her.

Gistella thrust her arm once again into the bubble of blood energy.

Unlike before, her arm pierced through the bubble of blood energy easily. Even the propelling force from the formation resisting Gistella's arm is not as powerful as before, this makes Gistella easily destroy another smaller rune.

In a couple of seconds, she also manages to destroy another one leaving one left before the main rune in the middle to destroy the entire formation.

Splash!

The human prisoners looking from the side were excited seeing Gistella breaking the last smaller rune, her arm was about to reach the main rune in the middle but then suddenly,

Deg!

"Arghh!", the Bronze Scales covering her arm suddenly disappeared.

Due to exhausting the negative energy from Durrant's corpse, the Bronze Scales got canceled mid-way leaving her arm vulnerable inside the bubble. The burning feeling becomes even stronger making Gistella grit her teeth, her body even froze for a moment to get used to the pain.

Giving it her all, Gistella forces herself to reach the main rune to destroy it. Her fingers manage to touch the main rune, she then uses her blue energy to stab the main rune.

Stab!

Powerful blood energy riled and gathered from the hole Gistella made on the main rune, it seems it was about to be destroyed so she retracts back her arm. But contrary to her expectation,

"What's happening?!"

"M-My blood! It's getting sucked violently!"

"Oh, no! Make it stop!"

Hearing the cries coming from the human prisoners and seeing that their blood got sucked by the chains around them rapidly, Gistella looks around and finds many of the human prisoners are slowly falling to the ground weakly.

Gistella was aghast upon seeing this scene,

She then looks back at the bubble of blood energy and finds that it's started malfunctioning, the main rune is not about to be destroyed but malfunctioning instead.

Without wasting any more seconds, Gistella's body glows with her blue energy.

If this goes on the entire human prisoners that are numbering in the thousands will die because of her not finishing the main rune, she will be blamed if that were to happen. Even now the casualties are rising as they got their blood sucked rapidly.

Thrust!!

"Rggrhh!", Gistella thrust both of her hands cloaked with blue energy.

But the moment her hands cloaked with blue energy touched the bubble of blood energy, her hands got propelled away. The bubble becomes even stronger! It's feeding off of the human prisoners' blood instead of storing them.

While she's starting to panic, one of the human prisoners, a woman looks at her.

The woman touches Gistella's shoulder lightly with her fragile and thin hand before putting on the brightest smile, "Take your time, don't hurt yourself in the process. We're going to be alright"

Hearing this, Gistella looks at her before her eyes widen.

Despite telling her to take her time, the woman's face slowly becomes even paler by the second. Her legs even started to tremble slowly being unable to support her own weight because of the formation sucking her blood through the chains.

Gistella's face darkens, she looks at the bubble of blood energy again with determination.

Aside from helping these human prisoners, she needs to break the chains faster if she even wants the chance of helping the Vampire civilians. Humans are still the priority, so she needs to do this fast.

Her blue eyes flash before she stabs the bubble of blood energy with more power, even the friction caused by the collision hurts her, but she kept going. Slowly her hands penetrate through the bubble, and she positions her grip better before spreading the bubble open.

It's slowly opened under Gistella's power, her eyes flashed in excitement seeing the bubble is already opened enough. Now she needs to be quick and destroy the main rune.

Out of nowhere,

Crack!!

Gistella looks up and saw dozens of sky-black lightning strikes descend down thunderingly, she widen her eyes feeling the power coming from the sky-black lightning strike.

The protection barrier she created to shelter the human prisoners will not block it.

But with the bubble of blood energy already opened like this, if she lets go then it will close again adding more casualties. Then again, if the sky-black lightning strike hits the crowding human prisoners then the casualties will also increase.

"KYRAN!! HELP!!", Gistella finally shouted desperately.

Upon hearing this, Kyran tear through the shadow just beside Gistella before he jumped to intercept the sky-black lightning strike. With the black spear in hand, Kyran's eyes glow with dark elements before he chanted, "Pneuma Spell! Piercing Black!"

Swoosh!

KABOOM!

"AAAHHH!!!"

A huge explosion was created after the black spear and the sky-black lightning strike collided, the shockwave makes some of the human prisoners shout in fright.

Thankfully Kyran arrives in time, if not then these human prisoners will die.

But before he can even go to Gistella to help her destroy the bubble of blood energy, a shadow suddenly appeared in the sky. Kyran looks at the shadow and realized that it was Rex holding two Vampires in his hands.

With a flex of his arms, Rex throws both Vampires to the pit hitting Gistella's protection barrier in the process destroying it instantly before the Vampires got planted in the ground.

BOOM!

Rex then landed just beside the Vampires that are planted inside the pit, not far from the human prisoners that seem to be better after Gistella manages to destroy the formation.

They all then slowly stand up weakly, but their expression turns pale seeing Rex.

Just like a devious Werewolf that comes from the bottom of hell, Rex's body is still cloaked with a raging Kingly aura with the red full moon symbol on his forehead. His savagery instills fear and terror in the hearts of the human prisoners that has just been freed.

It gives them a cold chill creeping down their spines, absolutely terrified.

"Mother! Father!"

A boy's voice can be heard from the side, Kyran and Gistella look in the voice's direction before they saw a Vampire kid screaming at the top of his lungs.

Without even caring about the situation, the Vampire kid runs at the two Vampires beneath Rex.

Seeing the Vampire kid running at them, both Vampires that should be the Vampire kid's parents widen their eyes, "Don't come near here! Run!", the father shouted forcing himself up while blood gushing out of his mouth.

The mother also tries to stand up but she can't, multiple bones inside her body are broken beyond measure all due to Rex's might.

Ignoring his parents' warning, the Vampire kid runs at Rex.

While running at Rex who has a devious smirk on his face while looking at the Vampire kid glaring at him with tears, the Vampire kid's body glow with blood energy.

But since he's nothing but a kid, the blood energy only amounted to early fourth rank.

Rex turns to face the running Vampire kid with an amused smile, the Vampire kid then uses the blood energy that cloaked his fist and punches Rex with all his might.

Seeing this, the human prisoners were surprised that a Vampire kid manage to emit such a horrifying aura since they're still normal humans. But the moment the Vampire kid's fist landed on Rex, nothing happened despite the blood energy riling the tip of his fist.

It was like literally seeing a baby punching an adult, but this baby is a Vampire.

"Arghh!", the Vampire kid got slapped away by Rex, crashing a couple of yards to the side.

Even using all of the blood energy that he can gather into one single punch, exhausting his body entirely. The Vampire kid didn't manage to even scratch Rex, he was not even disturbed by it and even look at the Vampire kid as if he was an ant.

"My son!", the mother shouted upon seeing this, her heart broke seeing her son get hit.

The father on the other hand also widen his eyes in shock seeing his son get hit, he then glared at Rex murderously, "You monster!! He's a kid! King Solomon will not let this slide!!"

Hearing this, an evil baritone laughs escape from Rex's mouth.

Although Gistella and Kyran have been with Rex for quite some time, especially Kyran. They never heard Rex laughs like that. It's even rare to find Rex laughing but surely not this disturbing.

Rex stopped laughing not long after, he looks at both Vampires beneath him before suddenly.

BOOM!!

Both of the Vampires got pierced right on their stomachs with Rex's claws, they vomits a mouthful of blood with their eyes widen. It happened too fast, and they didn't even react to the sudden attack.

Surprisingly, both Vampires didn't die.

Kyran who just watched and stood on the side looks at this and finds something is a miss, with the energy coming from Rex infiltrating the Vampires body they should've died.

But somehow it got stopped and the wounds are not fatal enough to kill the.

He then soon realized that it was not that Rex's aura got stopped by the Vampires, but Rex stopped it intentionally to let the Vampires suffer, 'Is this really Rex?'

"No!! Don't kill them!", the Vampire kid shouted rushing at Rex again.

With tears gushing out of his red eyes, the Vampire kid kept hitting Rex on his legs since Rex is towering over him. The Vampire kid kept punching and hitting relentlessly even knowing that it has no effect, even the human Prisoners that are already slowly stepping away feels a little bit bad for the Vampire kid.

Rex looks down on the Vampire kid, he ignores the Vampire kid and started hitting his parents repeatedly making the Vampire kid wail miserably trying to stop him.

No matter what he does, the Vampire kid can't stop Rex at all.

"Do... you get it now?", a haunting voice escapes Rex's mouth while he looks at the Vampire kid that has already exerted every ounce of power inside his body.

Fallin to the ground weakly while still in tears, the Vampire kid mutters, "Please... stop"

Hearing this, the smirk on Rex's face becomes even wider. Gistella who can feel the immense bloodthirsty coming from Rex wanted to say something, but she can't mutter any words. Rex's presence terrified her so much.

But the next split second, right in front of the Vampire kid's eyes.

Rex grabs both of the dying Vampires lifting them up by their necks before turning to face the Vampire kid, the smirk on his face got even wider making the Vampire kid even paler looking at his helpless parents under Rex's mercy.

In the split second after that,

CRUNCH!

Without any hint of mercy, Rex bites off both of the parents' heads bursting their heads with blood. Rex munches on the heads like it was a treat with fresh blood flowing out of his mouth.

"NOO!!!", the Vampire kid shouted helplessly.

Kyran and Gistella watching this are very surprised, the act Rex did is very ruthless that it manages to even surprise both of them. It brings Rex's ruthlessness to a whole new level.

The scream from the Vampire kid reverberated to the surrounding like a siren of sadness.

But Rex ignores the cries of the Vampire kid and started laughing maniacally, every capable Vampire inside the territory is no more. Corpses of thousands of Vampires decorated the entire city, only a handful manage to escape.

Inside this city of Vampire, only the Vampire kid that is crying is left from the massacre.

Alone and scarred without any hint of mercy, this is the glimpse of payback to the Supernatural that is fueling the anger inside of Rex. Fulfilling his hatred to the utmost limit.

Chapter 474 Last Piece For Completing The Supernatural Radar

Rex's mansion, Sector 2 Ratmawati City.

Edward is sitting in the training room beside the mansion with surrounded by a blue barrier that is shot by somekind of robot arms from the ground, it envelopes him inside this square-shaped holographic barrier.

But from a closer look, it's not a holographic barrier but an actual barrier. A physical one like the one that Gistella made.

Since he had played a huge role during the Atkins Family takedown, not only does Rex gives Edward a spirit to assimilate with to reach the sixth rank but this one is as strong as Devo. It's an ancient spirit with an age of around ten thousand years.

Edward is skeptical at first, but seeing the actual spirit deletes his doubt away.

Almost like his brain is a computer, the word doubt was erased completely from his brain. The spirit that is called Sentine the True Fire Sentinel, Sentine's fire power matches perfectly with Edward's dark fire.

Rex asks the system to find a matching spirit for Edward and finds this.

With how the robot hands project the holographic barrier are blitzing with electricity and even twitching a bit, this shows that Edward has just gone through the assimilating process. Opening his eyes, Edward clenches his hands a couple of times feeling the sixth rank realm.

Now that he already reached the sixth rank, he can now feel and control spirit energy.

The feeling brought by the spirit energy from Sentine is like a raging fire, powerful but warm to the touch. Controlling the spirit energy is also easy, their compatibility is impeccable.

"I reached the sixth rank...", Edward mutters with a blooming smile.

Playing with the spirit energy that is a bit reddish in his palm, Edward then started imagining the surprised look on his Uncle and Zelene, "They will be shocked knowing this..."

But just as he thought of that, the door into the training room opened abruptly.

Edward looks in the door direction and finds a man with a tiger tattoo on his right arm walking inside. From a glance, Edward recognizes who he's. The leader of the Disaster Squad, Tandu.

Walking inside with an arch back, Tandu saluted before he said, "Edward, it's happening again"

"Ryze? Did the others see him?", Edward sent a series of questions with a worried look, it's been the fourth time in the last couple of days. It's even getting more frequent lately which troubles Edward.

Hearing this, Tandu shakes his head, "Yes, it's Ryze. And no, the others didn't see him do that"

"I already make sure the others are not going to the back of the mansion. Considering they're busy with the maids and training, they certainly don't know what's happening to Ryze", he added.

Edward nodded his head before standing up and turning off the holographic barrier.

But just as the holographic barrier disappears, Tandu can feel the changes in Edward's aura which has become more blazing and also sharper. Just like standing near a bonfire, the heat even permeates through the air and can be felt directly.

Looking at him, Tandu then asks whisperingly, "Did you reach the sixth rank already?"

"Yeah, I'm surprised that the barrier made by the robots can withstand that power. But I'm glad it did or the entire mansion will be destroyed", Edward replied before glancing back.

Although Rex has already given some things to suppress Sentine's power for when Edward decided to try assimilating with him, it's still astonishing that the holographic barrier can keep the leaking energy to a minimum.

With that, both of them left the training room and went to the house in the back garden.

Upon reaching the house in the back garden, Edward and Tandu look at each other before they walk to the house's doorstep. They pass through somekind of barrier, and instantly after that, they can feel the burning and steamy air.

It's like walking into a sauna but this one is way worst, each breath is like a sharp burning thrust to the lungs making it uncomfortable to breathe here.

Edward opens the door and is immediately greeted by Ryze lying on the bed.

But Ryze's chest is heaving up and down and his body is drenched with sweat, even some of his occasional breath has some spark of fire in them. Ryze opens his eyes slowly upon hearing the door is opened.

Looking at Edward getting inside, Ryze holds his burning chest and mutters painfully, "Edward, he's at it again. He keeps on talking inside my head, make it stop!!"

Edward approaches Ryze and sits on the edge of the bed in worry.

For the last couple of days, the dragon inside of Ryze, Zadress Lord of the Red that has been devoured turns out to still have its presence inside Ryze. Almost like a spirit but not quite. It keeps on harassing Ryze telling him something like burning the house down or even burning Tandu and Edward who occasionally went to check on him.

It's like a parasite living inside of Ryze, but he can hear this parasite's thoughts that filled his head with these voices. Sometimes, these voices are accompanied by what's happening right now.

Zadress will increase Ryze's body temperature to the point of boiling, and through a couple of tries, they are finally able to find a way to suppress Zadress somehow.

Edward puts his hand on Ryze's forehead before he injected his dark fire mana into him.

This is the only way that they can suppress Zadress, by overwhelming him with fire mana that engulfs his speck of consciousness. It's like endurance fighting, and with the current Zadress, he can't win against Edward in terms of Endurance.

But that only lasts for half a day or a little bit more, so Edward needs to do this occasionally.

After engulfing Zadress' consciousness with his dark fire mana for ten minutes or so, Ryze passed out and at that moment Edward stop giving him more dark fire mana.

"Poor boy, to actually turn into a Supernatural like this", Tandu commented from the side.

Hearing this, Edward stands up before he sighs, "There's no other way, Rex is forced to do this so that the dragon will not break free of the seal. Many will die if that dragon breaks the seal, so Ryze regretfully needs to be the new seal until we find a way to suppress the dragon"

That is the story Edward comes up with as an excuse for Tandu, and it works.

Tandu is the only one who knows about Ryze's condition in the Disaster Squad simply because he's the most reliable out of all of them, based on Rex of course. But even though he's reliable, Edward must be careful with his story.

With the years spent in the military, every military personnel is engraved with this hatred for the Supernatural because of fighting multiple battles in the front.

Although Tandu doesn't look like it, he's only acting this way because it's forced.

If he knew that for example, Rex is a human that has turned into a Werewolf. Tandu will not hesitate to report this matter to the FAA, UWO, or even SCO. Ryze is made a victim which he is but Edward amplifies it so that it's acceptable for Tandu even though he has already turned into a Supernatural.

Dragonman to be exact, Heavenly Dragonman.

'Rex needs to take care of this. It'll bring more trouble if Ryze is kept in this condition, he's unstable', Edward thought before standing back up.

Glancing at Tandu on the side, he then said, "Let's let him rest"

After saying that, Tandu nodded his head before they both left the small house.

Just when they walked out of the small house to let Ryze rest, the only woman in the Disaster Squad, Christine is standing in front of the small house surprising the two.

"Christine, What are you doing here?", Tandu steps in front and asks.

Hearing this, Christine squinted her eyes seeing Tandu and Edward walk out of the small house sketchily but she didn't question it, "There's someone asking for Rex. I believe he's from the SCO, someone called Prof. K?"

"Prof. K? Alright let's greet our guest", Edward replied before striding into the mansion.

Inside the lobby just beside the huge door of the mansion, Prof. K is sitting leisurely with his legs crossed on the sofa. The black outfit he's wearing alongside the crow mask makes him stand out with the red and brown theme of the mansion's interior.

Like darkness that seems unhindered by the surrounding colors.

While approaching Prof. K, Edward squints his eyes feeling the weirdly subtle aura around Prof. K. But this makes him even more alert, sometimes the silence is the deadliest of them all.

'He's one of the messengers of the SCO', Edward thought before picking up his pace.

Upon reaching the guest room, Edward steps into Prof. K's vision but Prof. K didn't even look in his direction. Prof. K kept looking straight to the front while sitting leisurely, the mask makes it hard for Edward to gauge his talk opponent since he can't see Prof. K's face.

Tandu and Christine are already standing behind Edward like a soldier, unmoving.

At least with the two of them standing behind Edward like that, Edward will look presentable when talking with Prof. K that looks to be an anomaly and mysterious.

Someone that is using a mask like this is the most pain to deal with in a cold conversation, but Edward needs to say something first, "Prof. K, I'm Edward. Rex's best friend. I hear from Christine over here that you're searching for Rex"

"Yes, Where is he?", Prof. K replied shortly without turning to Edward.

Seeing this, Edward was a bit annoyed but he kept a polite smile on his face, "My apologies but Rex is currently not around, maybe you can tell me the matters and I will rely on the matters to Rex once he's back"

"Either way, I thought you can contact Rex through your crows. I'm surprised to see you here", Edward added politely.

Prof. K then finally turns his head to Edward and asks, "How do you know that?"

Hearing this, Edward almost choked realizing that Rex being a part of the SCO is supposed to be a secret between him and the SCO. Bead of cold sweat starting to grow and fall on his forehead, and the expression that can't be seen through the crow mask doesn't help either.

It increases the suspension and nervousness Edward felt, but he still tries to keep his composure.

But soon Prof. K shakes his head, "He probably told you since being a Green Messenger himself, I won't pursue this matter. But I do want to give a task for Rex and the Green team"

"Please tell me, I will definitely tell Rex about it", Edward replied before sitting on the sofa opposite Prof. K, Tandu and Christine also follow and stand behind the sofa like two bodyguards with stern faces.

Exchanging his crossed legs, Prof. K then said, "Rex might tell you this, but I've been working on a project to make a device that can detect Supernaturals on a wide scale. Supernatural Radar"

"The UWO has helped this project a lot, and we just need one final piece to finish it"

Hearing this, Edward was interested but also frowning at the same time. He doesn't know how to feel knowing about this news. This device will certainly help Humanity to tackle future infiltration from the Supernatural, but on the other Rex and the others will be threatened.

They will not be able to stay in the human territory anymore, at least not in Ratmawati City.

Prof. K tilts his crow mask a little before he added, "We need high-rank Shapeshifter to complete the device, their body structures, aura, skin, and even DNA change alongside their shapeshifting. So we need a live powerful Shapeshifter, around peak seventh rank or even eighth rank to be precise"

"The King specifically asks for the Green team to get it, so tell that to Rex"

Edward listen to what Prof. K is saying before he nodded his head, they were missing the final piece to finish this groundbreaking device.

"I understand, when Rex got back I will tell him about the task. Please, rest assured", Edward replied assuringly. But in his mind, he's thinking of how Rex will react to this.

After Edward said that, Prof. K then stands up, "Alright then, my business here is done. Goodbye"

Since he's thinking, Edward was late to respond to Prof. K's bids of goodbye. When he raises his gaze, Prof. K already turns into green smoke before disappearing from the place.

"What a mysterious man, I'm afraid that he might still listen to us", Tandu said from behind.

Hearing this, Christine also nodded her head in agreement making Edward smile wryly. He doesn't disagree with the both of them, Prof. K might also be listening right now since he can come and go turning into that green smoke.

Clapping his hand, Edward then turns to both of them, "So, How's the squad's progress?"

The Disaster Squad has been training aside from fooling around since Rex left with the others, they're accustoming themselves as new Awakened. Their powers are rising fast, so it's a little bit overwhelming for them since they don't know anything about being a real Awakened.

But when Tandu was about to answer, the door suddenly got knocked again.

Hearing the knock, the three of them glance at the door in confusion. Edward steps to the door waving his hand when a maid was about to open the door for him.

After opening the door, Edward widens his eyes seeing the man in front of him.

"S-Sir Sebrof!"

Chapter 475 Contribution To The War

Edward steps away from the door upon seeing Sebrof standing in front of the mansion's doorstep, he was surprised to see such a political figure visiting the mansion. No one in the entire Ratmawati City doesn't know who Sebrof is.

The man in front of him is not only a ninth rank Awakened but also the top president of the UWO making him the most influential and powerful person in the whole of Ratmawati City.

For many, looking at him up close is a blessing.

Without minding Edward's reaction, Sebrof walks inside the mansion before scanning his eyes around the mansion in interest, "I see Rex changed the mansion quite a bit, is it the throne?"

"Y-yes!", Edward replied stutteringly.

Even Tandu and Christine on the back widen their eyes upon seeing Sebrof. Despite being in the frontline and fighting the Supernatural as a military squad, they know this person that brings the air of absolute authority.

This just shows how influential and known Sebrof as the president of UWO.

After entering the mansion, Edward then hurriedly points at the sofa before he said, "Sir Sebrof, please have a seat and tell me the purpose of your visit", he also didn't forget to signal the maid to bring them some drinks.

Hearing this, Sebrof nodded his head and sat on the sofa.

Edward sits opposite Sebrof with a polite smile on his face trying to not make himself look bad in front of such a powerful person, he then opens his mouth, "Let me introduce myself, my name is Ed-"

"Edward Rearta, working as a medic military personnel since early teens by the urge of your Uncle I believe. Met with Rex and also Kyle during a classified mission to destroy a Ghoul's Den and becomes the heroes of Dwight City. You've been Rex's best friend ever since"

"Yeah, I know who you are Edward", Sebrof added squinting his eyes.

Upon listening to Sebrof spreading out his entire history in a couple of seconds, Edward feels his throat dry but he kept the smile on his face, "What can I help you with sir Sebrof?", he asks.

"I'm searching for Rex, call him here", Sebrof replied taking an envelope from his suit pocket.

But even after a moment of waiting, Sebrof saw Edward didn't move a muscle and gives him a wry smile instead. This makes Sebrof frown, "Where is he? This matter is urgent"

"Rex is currently away dealing with some pressuring things, in the meantime, I'm responsible for the Silverstar Family until he's back. So if you don't mind sir Sebrof, what is this urgent matter you speak of?", Edward replied professionally.

Although he looks serious and calm right now, he's cursing this day.

Waking up this day he thought that it'll be a great day since it was the day he will reach the sixth rank realm, but who would've thought two major figures came to visit today. Both have urgent matters to tell Rex, and he's the one bearing all the burden right now.

Sebrof went silent for a moment, but he eventually sigh.

Putting the clean white envelope on the table in front of him, Sebrof then pushes the envelope towards Edward's table side making Edward looks at the envelope in confusion, "Inside there is an official issue for the Silverstar Family to contribute to the war"

"Contribute?", Edward mutters questioningly.

From the wording of Sebrof's sentence is already giving off a not-so-good vibe, and Edward catches this instantly, especially by saying something like an official issue and contribute.

Sebrof leans back on the sofa before he explained, "As the newest member of the 25 Golden Crest, the Silverstar Family is obligated to send some of their family members to contribute to the war.

Exchanging the former Atkins Family spot has heavy responsibilities, and it's all due to the Silverstar Family"

Hearing this, Edward was at a loss for words but he quickly open the envelope.

Upon reading the envelope, Edward looks up at Sebrof with a frown, "500 fourth rank Awakened, 100 fifth rank Awakened, 10 sixth rank Awakened, and 1 seventh rank Awakened?"

"I'm sorry sir Sebrof but for the current condition of the newly establish-"

Before Edward can even finish talking, Sebrof already cuts his sentence and said nonchalantly, "Atkins Family is the top ten families, the Silverstar Family inherit that place and also its responsibilities"

"This much is non-negotiable, you either send the requirements or get revoked from the 25 Golden Crest. Of course, if that were to happen your beautiful mansion in sector 2 here will be confiscated by the UWO", he added hinting something.

Although Edward has never experienced talking with such a high-caliber man, Sebrof hints at it so clearly that even Edward understands instantly.

Sebrof basically said they didn't meet the impossible requirement, they will be forced to move.

Moving out of sector 2 is not a good option with the current tension between the Silverstar Family and the other families, Rex will be forced to stay here guarding his parents and other important people.

It's clearly shown that Sebrof is making them difficult, and Rex will not like this.

After saying that, Sebrof stands up buttoning back his fancy suit, and said, "If the core members of the Silverstar Family are willing to be sent to the battlefield then the requirements are not necessary, but picking the other option is also not bad. In fact, it's better than fighting on the frontlines"

"And what option is that, sir Sebrof?", Edward asks with a different tone.

Meeting with Sebrof firsthand makes him excited since he's a powerful person and many wanted to meet, but realizing his personality makes Edward lose all respect for him.

With a slight smirk, Sebrof then replied, "The other option is....:"

"Rex working under me of course, becoming an affiliate to the UWO and we'll help him reach the ninth rank realm. He said it himself that he has the potential to reach the ninth rank realm, and we have the resources to help him. That is a way better option don't you think?"

It makes Edward's face darkens upon hearing this, just like hearing about his parents' death.

But Sebrof didn't care at all as he excuse himself and left the mansion with wide strides, not even waiting for Edward to see him off or anything. Totally giving no face for Edward or even the Silverstar Family as a whole.

"Even Aldo has better manners than him", Christine looks at the door with a snort.

Tandu also nodded his head before he glance at Edward who is staying at his place in thought, "What are you thinking? I think you should notify Rex about this, he'll deal with that man"

"No...", Edward mutters with a frown.

Putting his clasped hands in front of him in thought, he then stands up with the envelope in his hand before he heads to the stairs, "I'm going to handle this myself", Edward said with a hint of sharpness in his voice.

~

Meanwhile, Back to the Delarosa Family Territory.

Adhara and Evelyn are nearing the actual Delarosa Family territory as they can already see a city in the far distance, they alongside Delta picked up their pace upon seeing this.

But when they are near, they saw a shadow leaping into the sky holding two Vampires.

Without even needing a second look, both of them realized that it was Rex covered with his kingly energy and still in his berserk state. Rex throws the two Vampires to the ground, and the impact can even be felt all the way on their spot.

It makes the ground tremble because of that, but it seems Rex is busy dealing with the Vampires as he doesn't realize Adhara, Evelyn, and Delta are heading toward him.

Or he simply doesn't care enough and wants to vent his bloodlust instead.

"We need to get there quickly or the civilians will be killed with that much power coming from Rex", Adhara mutters picking up her pace.

Hearing this, Evelyn also nodded her head while looking at the symbol on her palm.

The closer she got to Rex the hotter the symbol becomes, it makes her even more sure that she's the only one who can stop Rex right now. But somehow this makes her happy, 'I don't know what this symbol is, but I hope it means something', she thought secretly.

But just as he thought of that,

Swish!

Without even sensing the attack since it was so fast, Delta got hit from the side by somekind of weapon that catches all of them off guard. Adhara stopped and looks at Delta who got plunged to the side in surprise, "Delta! Evelyn!"

Adhara then went to them and finds that Delta got hit very hard. The side of her body is caved in and from touch, she can feel that Delta's ribcages are broken because of that hit.

Thankfully, Evelyn doesn't get hit as she only falls down alongside Delta.

Both of them looks up and saw a rotating weapon flying in the sky before it turns back and went to the attacker's hand, there are three Vampires with one of them holding a metallic sharp boomerang that hits Delta.

Upon seeing these Vampires, Adhara and Evelyn's expressions darkened.

From the blood aura they emitted and from how they dressed in such a fancy black and red robe, it's clear that they are from another Royal Family of the Vampire kingdom. Out of the three of them, the big Vampire in the middle is giving off the most threatening aura.

This big Vampire is at least eight or nine feet tall, he's a giant with long white hair.

Holding a mace that is the size of Adhara's body which should also be a powerful weapon, the red eyes typical of Vampires, and even a red triangle symbol bearing so much blood energy on his exposed chest.

Overall this Vampire must be the leader of the three, definitely in the seventh rank realm.

The big Vampires' sharp red eyes landed on Adhara before a frown can be seen on his face, it's probably because Adhara is in her Werewolf form, "Which family are you from? and why are you attacking the Delarosa Family?", he asks.

"Shouldn't you ask first before attacking us?", Evelyn replied angrily.

If these Vampires are not searching for a fight then they should've asked first instead of attacking first, it's common knowledge and these Vampires failed even to do that.

Adhara stands up baring her Werewolf form before she said, "Leave, this is not your problem"

"Werewolves stepping inside the Vampire territory without permission IS our problem, so call for your Alpha and let me have a word with him", the big Vampire said squinting his eyes warningly.

Cracking a smile, Adhara then mutters, "Our Alpha?"

"If you're searching for him, then he's right there. You're welcome to talk with him", Adhara points at the Vampire city that is currently burning from Rex's havoc there.

One of the Vampires with the boomerang then said, "Father, let's kill them now!"

"They attacked Delarosa Family without even notifying King Solomon or even other Royal Families, this is basically a declaration of war!", the Vampire exclaimed.

But this makes the big Vampire glare at him, "That's bold words, don't speak it lightly"

Hearing this, the Vampire with the boomerang grits his fangs grudgingly while glaring at Adhara. The big Vampire then glanced back at Adhara and said, "What's your problem with the Delarosa Family?"

"They kidnapped one of ours, so we destroyed their city in return Adhara replied mockingly.

Although it's not like her to mock or even taunt the Vampires like this, the fact that they attacked Delta and hurt her badly and also Rex's emotion that she can feel clearly somehow makes her a bit temperamental.

It's like the anger inside of Rex is crawling to the other pack members, and from the look of Evelyn, it seems she's also affected by this.

The big Vampires squint his eyes before he realized, "You're not from the Werewolf kingdom"

"You work with the stray Prince in the human territory!", the big Vampire points at Adhara and exclaimed in realization, his aura then turns fierce realizing that they're attacked by a pack of unknown Werewolves not associated with the Scarlet Banes Kingdom.

With a quick movement, the big Vampire dashes at Adhara holding the mace in hand.

Seeing this, a smile appears on Adhara's face before she also dashes toward the big Vampire with the Duality Daggers in her hands. But she was surprised to see Evelyn also dashing at the big Vampire alongside her.

CLANG!!

Their weapons clashes against each other creating a spark and also a powerful shockwave.

But the struggle they entered shows that the big Vampire is quite stronger than them. With the blessing of the Wolf Moon both of their powers reaches the early seventh rank realm, and now this big Vampire matches the both of them easily.

It's clear that this big Vampire has the power in the mid-seventh rank realm or higher.

Exposing a huge grin on both of their faces as if they're excited to fight the big Vampire, Adhara and Evelyn's body slowly gets engulfed with their own respective fires. Adhara burns with violet flame while Evelyn burns with dark red fire.

The powerful heat that comes from the two of them raises the surrounding temperature, and even the big Vampire frown upon seeing this, "Fire elements? Both of you are shamans?"

"No... you're no shaman... just what are you? How in the Origin's name do Werewolves able to use fire element?!"

Upon hearing this, the grin on their faces bloomed even wider. In a union, the both of them then replied baring the full might of their auras, "We..."

"We're the Werewolves of the Silverstar Pack!"

BOOM!

Chapter 476 My Betas

BOOM!

The big Vampire got pushed back from the colorful fire expression that exploded from both Evelyn and Adhara's bodies, their already strong physical properties got enhanced by mana and also spirit energy simultaneously.

Both of their powers sky-rocketed surprising the big Vampire and the other two Vampires.

For them, it was basically a surreal scene where two Werewolves are doing fire magic which should be impossible. Each of the Supernatural races is connected to specific energy.

Moonlight for Werewolves, blood for Vampires, nature energy for Elves, and others.

These energies they are associated with are the foundation of their core power as Supernatural, it's inherited from the Origin as the base of their power.

So it's natural for them to view Adhara and Evelyn in absolute shock since Werewolves can only get their power from the moonlight energy, and the shaman is the only one that can harness that moonlight energy to cast spells.

But this is not moonlight energy, these are fire mana.

With a ground-breaking aura, Adhara stares at the Vampires with blazing purple eyes.

The duality daggers she's holding are also coated with purple fire and wind mana respectively, they enhanced Adhara's power even more. Every spell she uses will be increased in power output by 50%, it's an astronomical amount.

If known by the public, even the top three families will be tempted to steal them from Adhara.

Evelyn also didn't lose out as she bears the full might of her dark red fire and also her sound mana. The sword in her hands is cloaked by dark red fire but beneath that outer layer of fire, the sword looks to be blurry.

Not because of the fire cloaking the sword, but it's almost as if the sword itself is vibrating rapidly making it hard to perceive instead of a blur.

Seeing both Adhara and Evelyn preparing for a fight, the two Vampires make a move.

One of the Vampires that has wavy short white hair holding a boomerang looks at Adhara and Evelyn with hostility, the blood aura around this Vampire is thick almost like the big Vampire.

While the other one is almost the same size as the big Vampire, but its hands are sharp claws, they're not regular claws but charcoal steel-like claws that look very sharp.

All of them are on a staredown waiting for any of them to make the first move, but the anger within Evelyn and Adhara that they got from Rex forces them to make the first move.

Swoosh!!

Just like two jets of purple and dark red fires, Adhara and Evelyn dashes toward the Vampires.

While running at the Vampires, Adhara summons five concentrated fire scimitars that are hovering around her like a shield and as for Evelyn, she went past Adhara and jumped to the sky with her sword gathering as much fire mana as she can.

Their spirits appeared on their backs amplifying their power even more.

"Fire Demoness Art, Blazing Destroyer!"

Crash!

Evelyn swings down powerfully with her blazing dark red sword, the ground was utterly destroyed but the Vampires manage to dodge the attack rather easily.

Giving a scoff, the Vampire holding a boomerang intends to attack.

But just when his blood energy is riled up and he was about to throw the boomerang, "Hmm?", the Vampire looks down to the ground and finds the entire ground is filled with fire mana. It envelopes the surrounding half a mile coming from Evelyn's sword.

Looking at this, the big Vampire swiftly grabs the Vampire holding the boomerang and jumps.

BOOM!!

The ground exploded with dark red fire sending scorching rays of fire, the heat and explosion are devastating that even the splashes of the fire got to them who are way up in the sky.

Just before they can recover, a purple fire scimitar is already swinging down on them.

Cloaking his mace with blood energy, the big Vampire swings at the purple fire scimitars shattering them easily. He manages to shield the Vampire holding a boomerang, which is his son from the attack.

But after doing that, the father and son duo suddenly heard a wailing scream.

"Raarrghh!! Linzite!!", the other Vampire shouted in pain.

While the father and son duo only deals with two purple fire scimitars, the other Vampire got hit by the three other scimitars slamming him to the ground. Adhara then uses her wind mana to amplify her speed and reaches the separated Vampire in a blink of an eye.

The Duality Daggers cloaked with Linzite then stabbed through his chest cleanly.

Rex has already given them a vial of Linzite each from the bucket that Kyran created, it proves to be useful as the deserted Vampire's wound didn't get healed because of the Linzite.

A smirk appeared on Adhara's face,

Swoosh!

The big Vampire didn't sit still and he reacted very fast. Sprouting his black wings on his back baring his might, the big Vampire then dive down intending to save the deserted Vampire.

But when he was about to reach Adhara, a circle of fire suddenly appears.

"Fire Maelstorm!"

Adhara chanted creating a circle of purple fire around her and the deserted Vampire, and when the big Vampire was about to reach her the entire ground exploded with a purple fire vortex engulfing the two in flame.

It makes the big Vampire hesitate for a moment, he soon collected himself.

Since the purple fire vortex is not as powerful as he initially thought, the big Vampire barge through the purple fire vortex but only finds the deserted Vampire's chest is ripped open.

After the purple fire vortex disappeared, the Vampire with a boomerang widen his eyes.

The big Vampire becomes visible after the purple fire vortex, he's standing beside the deserted Vampire that is lying on the ground with his chest ripped open. His heart got taken killing him instantly.

Out of nowhere, Adhara still in her Werewolf form reappeared again beside Evelyn.

Her right hand is bloodied and seems to be holding something. Without even needing to look closer, the Vampire with a boomerang knows that it's the deserted Vampires' heart.

With a savage smile, Adhara then crushes the heart splattering it into a blood puddle.

Even after she did all of that, the big Vampire kept looking at the dead deserted Vampire. It's shocking to see one of his best men get killed just like that, by a group of Werewolves that are not even a part of the Scarlet Banes Kingdom.

Blood energy started sizzling around the big Vampire's body like a bubble underwater.

Just in the next second after doing that, the Vampire with a boomerang then throws his boomerang filled with blood energy powerfully, "Blood Magic, Blood Amplifier!", Adhara and Evelyn are already on the big Vampire's back with their eyes blazing with their own fires.

Killing the easiest one gives them a huge edge, and they manage to make the fight even.

It's not really even since this big Vampire is a problem, clearly he's the strongest one out of all of them. For some reason, he seems to be holding back. But seeing the deserted Vampire is dead changed his mind.

Adhara and Evelyn swing their weapons but find they don't manage to land a hit.

The thick blood energy around the big Vampire is like a barrier itself protecting him from attacks, and right after they did that, "Royal Blood Magic, Blood Frenzy!"

Boom!

Both of them got pushed back when the big Vampire's body exploded with blood energy.

Jumping back a couple of times to recover from the momentum, Evelyn somersaulted before her eyes fixated on the boomerang heading towards her, "Fire Demoness Art! The Beauty of Hell!"

Clang!

With a swing of her sword, Evelyn manages to parry the boomerang to the side.

But the boomerang bounces off of the ground before heading back to the Vampire, it's like somekind of telekinesis that linked the boomerang to the Vampire.

After parrying the boomerang, both of their eyes landed on the big Vampire.

Even though before his blood energy is already powerful enough and thick, this time the blood energy he emits becomes absolutely horrifying. It's like he brings a sea of blood energy that drowns anyone nears it, and this makes Evelyn and Adhara frown.

Holding their weapons tightly, they then saw the red triangle symbol on the big Vampire's chest glowing brightly just like an energy source.

"Now you've done it... I don't care about the Prince anymore", the big Vampire mutters.

The devious red eyes are glowing ever more brightly than before as he stares directly at both Evelyn and Adhara, he seems to be getting serious. Not playing around anymore.

Boom!

With almost a nimble unseeable movement, the big Vampire vanishes from his spot.

Adhara and Evelyn look up seeing the big Vampire already above them swinging down his big mace filled with blood energy, they both raise their weapons trying to block the attack.

Clang!

Bam!

Unlike before when both of their strength is equivalent to the big Vampire.

Now the power from the swing of the big Vampire brought them to their knees as they block the attack, even then the bulging muscles on the big Vampire's arm push them down even further cracking the ground beneath them.

Almost having no time to breathe, the other Vampire appears on their backs.

Adhara saw the other Vampire was about to throw his boomerang again, she grits her teeth and tilts the mace of the big Vampire. With quite a bit of a struggle, Adhara manage to make the mace falls down to her side before she jumps and landed a solid kick on the big Vampire's chin.

This gives Evelyn enough time to roll away from the mace, her eyes then blaze just right before the Vampire threw the boomerang at her.

"Fire Demoness Art! The Beauty of Hell!"

Slash!!

Evelyn slashes down the boomerang with all her might propelling herself into the air.

Upon looking at this, Adhara was about to jump away since Evelyn is riling up her spirit energy intending to use her Pneuma Spell. But she got slapped away by the big Vampire.

Bam!

"Raawr!", Adhara got sent crashing away from a swing of the big Vampire's arm.

Seeing Evelyn was about to attack the Vampire with her Pneuma Spell, the big Vampire flaps his wings before dashing at Evelyn to intercept her. But even with the big Vampire aiming at her, Evelyn can't stop mid-way.

The fire demoness spirit behind her started to cry before Evelyn spins her body turning into a dark red meteor, "Pneuma Spell! Hellfire Meteor!", she finishes her preparation just when the big Vampire is in front of her.

"Blood Magic! Mace Rocket!"

BOOM!

"Waarghh!", contrary to their expectation, the Pneuma Spell got obliterated completely.

With nothing but a swing of the big Vampire's mace, Evelyn got blown away instead even with her body cloaked with her Pneuma spell. Blood gushed out of her mouth as she crashes to the ground roughly.

Upon seeing this, Adhara widen her eyes in worry, "Evelyn!!", she shouted.

But Evelyn struggles to stand up as she coughed out blood a couple of times, the attack from the big Vampire hurts her so much. Blood energy is infiltrating her body.

Adhara then glares at the big Vampire baring her fangs at him.

In the next second after she did that, the big Vampire blurred and appeared just in front of Adhara before he punched her straight on her face making her bounce off the ground in pain.

The punch is so hard that the solid sound reverberated to the surrounding.

"Hmm... you've prepared yourself well but not enough", the big Vampire said looking at his hand that is steaming after punching Adhara's face, her body is covered with Kinzite because of the breathing technique she practiced.

Adhara's muzzle makes a cracking sound as she got crashes away because of the punch.

Even though they're amplified by the Wolf Moon's blessing gaining 60% of Rex's power and stepping into the seventh rank realm, the big Vampire shows that he's way stronger than an early seventh rank realm.

At the very least he now has the power of a peak seventh rank.

With still the explosive blood energy around him, the big Vampire then walks over to Adahra who is just like Evelyn coughing blood weakly. The attack from the big Vampire rattled her head.

"Father, just kill them quickly, and let's move to the city!", the other Vampire shouted.

Hearing this, the big Vampire kept approaching Adhara with killing intent, "She killed Jasper, I'm not going to let her die easily. That's not painful enough for what she did..."

"Civilians are still there, we need to help them!", the other Vampire added in worry.

The big Vampire doesn't seem to heed the other Vampire's suggestion as he stands beside the kneeling Adhara who is still coughing blood weakly. With hateful eyes, the big Vampire raises his mace slowly intending to smash Adhara.

BAM!

Adhara holds her arms in front of her and blocks the mace trying to crush her.

BAM!

Without giving any rest, the big Vampire hits Adhara again with his mace almost breaking her arms. They even made cracking sounds. The big Vampire did it enough to hurt Adhara but not completely killing her, he still wants her to suffer.

But when he was about to swing down again, "Hmm...?"

Out of nowhere, the big Vampire got hit by something sending him crashing to the side before he growls angrily with his glowing red eyes and stops himself from crashing any further, "Who dares land a sneak attack on me?!"

Just as he shouted that he suddenly widen his eyes when he can feel an ominous aura from his back, something is standing on his back staring at him.

Feeling the immense power coming from this creature on his back, the big Vampire gulps.

"Vampire... Profanity...", a low baritone sound came from the big Vampire's back.

Without even glancing back the big Vampire knows that the creature behind him is bigger than him, and also more monstrous than him. Even its sound makes the big Vampire's body stiff.

Soon, that trembling baritone voice mutters again, "You risk life to venture your claws on my Betas..."

Chapter 477 Stepping On Vampire's Pride

"You risk life to venture your claws on my Betas..."

Just like getting his lungs squeezed tightly by an invisible force, the vibrating voice that comes from the creature's mouth has some kind of authority in it even for a Vampire like him.

Something irresistible, a force that the big Vampire has nothing to defend against it.

Gritting his teeth, angry from the sense of inferiority brought by the creature behind him. The big Vampire's blood energy went havoc, he then swing his mace drilling with blood energy that is so suffocating.

Evelyn looks up and saw Adhara is still lying on the ground but slowly getting up.

Confirming that Adhara is okay, her eyes then shifted to the side. where she saw Rex standing behind the big Vampire with eyes filled with killing intent.

She saw that Rex's body is still covered with the red kingly aura, but what caught her attention the most are his horns which are now turned completely red. Completely filled with red moonlight energy to the brim.

But even then, the blood energy coming from the big Vampire is still present and strong.

After seeing the big Vampire swing his mace powerfully towards Rex, Evelyn turns her head away and closes her eyes fearing that something might happen to him. The time when Rex fought the seventh rank beast in the canyon crossed her mind, and this made her unable to see the scene.

BOOM!

A powerful shockwave exploded upon the mace hitting Rex, the shockwave is so catastrophic that it peels the ground that it went past. Everything got ripped from the ground.

When the shockwave receded and the place becomes clear again, Evelyn opens her eyes.

Slowly her eyes adjusted to the surroundings and finally saw Rex still standing tall without even moving an inch from his spot, the mace of the big Vampire hits him right on his arm but it did absolutely nothing.

Even the big Vampire widens his eyes in utter shock, "Impossible... this is impossible..."

The mace doesn't manage to leave a dent on Rex's body as it doesn't even manage to pierce the kingly aura around him. Rex looks down on the big Vampire with his cold red eyes, his movement is slow as he reaches for the mace.

Using his big claw, Rex grabs the mace with his hand and gripped it.

For comparison, the mace is just as big as Adhara's body, and the width of the mace's base is at least as wide as two basketballs. But even then, Rex's claws still look big despite that.

He didn't have difficulty holding the base of the mace as a whole with his claws.

Krrkkk...

Under the pressure of Rex's grip, the mace started making cracking noise unable to sustain his grip. The big Vampire was utterly stunned, he knows that the Alpha here is strong but not only as it turns out to be a Prince but the Alpha also had a King Mark.

Something only a very gifted and powerful Werewolf possesses.

In this current time, King Baralt is the only one possessing a King Mark. But this Prince from the human territory in front of him also has a King Mark.

Cracking a devious grin, the mace shatters into pieces.

Just as that happened, Rex immediately grabs the big Vampire's face disrespectfully before throwing him to the side sending him crashing away like a jet.

Before the big Vampire can even stop the momentum, his eyes enlarge.

That is because he already saw Rex descending from the sky with his claws burning with red moonlight energy, and the big Vampire can only raise both of his arms to block.

KABOOM!

"Raarghh!", the big Vampire shouted in pain.

Even with his guards up, Rex's attack crashed his blood barrier instantly before clawing both of his arms. It was so powerful that the claw only manage to stop after hitting the big Vampire's bones and even cracking them.

It caught the big Vampire off guard how powerful it is, he realized that Rex is stronger.

But somehow the pride of a Vampire inside of him as a superior being makes him unwilling to give up, his eyes glisten with a red hue, "Blood Magic, Body Rush!"

Just like a nimble eel, the big Vampire pushes Rex's claws and jumped back.

"You filthy Werewolf, how dare you lay a hand on the head of the Izora Royal Family! I will show you the consequences of offen-", before the big Vampire, Izora can even finish his sentences.

Out of nowhere, Rex blurred before suddenly reappearing in front of him.

Rex did the same as before, he grabbed Izora's face but instead of throwing him, he slammed Izora to the ground powerfully. Evelyn helped Adhara just in time before the slam that cracked the entire place as if the ground is not hard at all.

With his current state, Rex is in a whole new realm than everyone here.

After slamming Izora to the ground without him having any chance to retaliate, Rex stepped on Izora's face completely disrespecting Izora in all regards.

Everything he had as a Vampire.

A ruthless creature that drinks blood, beauty beyond comprehension, blessed with powerful spells, and even perceived itself as a superior race. All of that is trampled.

Izora's pride as a Vampire got humiliated by getting stepped on his face by Rex.

"Vampire... Royal Family...", Rex mutters staring at Izora who is trying to break free from the step to no avail, he then chuckles mockingly before he added, "Weak and feeble creatures, inferior..."

Just after Rex said that,

BOOM!!

A powerful surge of blood energy gushes out of every part and every pore of Izora's body as his wrath exploded, the words coming from Rex's mouth touch Izora's fragile ego as a Vampire, "WEAK CREATURES?! THAT'S THE LAST TIME YOU STAIN THE VAMPIRE RACE!!"

"Don't underestimate the Vampire Royal Family!"

KABOOM!

Even more powerful energy exploded from Izora's body, "Royal Blood Magic, Absolute Frenzy!"

Swish!

Not only does Izora's blood energy become even thicker which is now akin to a crushing force, but the veins beneath his skin are also starting to glow with a red light. Izora now looks completely berserk pushing himself up from beneath Rex's feet.

"RAARGHH!!", Izora pushes himself up with all his might trying to fight Rex's stomping feet.

Evelyn and Adhara saw this from the side and they can't help but be amazed by seeing a powerful Royal Vampire underneath Rex's feet trying so hard to get up, but Rex is all smiles.

He's smirking while looking at this as if this scene is amusing for him.

After seeing the fight, both of them glance to the side and finds the other Vampire standing rooted on his spot with a fearful look on his face.

But they don't blame him since even themselves are terrified of Rex.

BOOM!

Rex's smirk grows even wider when he saw Izora slowly widen his eyes in utter disbelief, even with the power he's emitting right now that is not surprising if it even reaches the eighth rank realm, he can't do it.

Izora can't get up from the ground no matter what, he's pinned by Rex's feet.

It's totally unbelievable, all of his pride was washed away and exchanged with fear.

Izora realizes that he absolutely can't overpower Rex in terms of raw strength to free himself from Rex's feet even though physical prowess is the forte of the Izora Royal Family. Their ability to use Blood Frenzy makes them terrifying Vampires in close combat.

Everyone fears them for this ability, but under true power, he can't do anything.

"Weak... Creatures...", Rex said again scarring Izora's pride for life.

Having no other option to beat Rex, Izora's eyes glow before he becomes nimble again and eel through Rex's unmovable feet, "Blood Magic, Body Rush!", he managed to free himself thanks to that one spell.

Looking at Rex with utter fear, Izora wanted to flap his wings to leave.

But when his feet just left the ground, he tries to fly away but his leg was caught by Rex first. With a swing of his arm, Rex slammed Izora back to the ground once more, "Rarghh!"

"Befoul my Betas have consequences...", Rex glares at Izora baring his fangs.

Hearing this, Izora also bares his fangs and retaliated, "You're the one that attacked us first, your action is declaring war against the Vampire! Killing me will just make it worst!"

"Just like you said, some things have consequences!", he added.

Rex paused for a second looking at Izora, this made Izora breathes easier.

But his expression turns to darken once more when Rex whispers with his terrifying low voice, "Consequences doesn't apply to the strong..."

After saying that, Rex started clawing at the defenseless Izora putting everything he had to defend himself from the attacks. But every blood energy he musters got clawed away, soon his flesh started flying everywhere getting torn by Rex's claws ruthlessly.

p It's very hard to look as Izora got completely dominated under Rex just like he dominated Adhara under him pounding her with his mace.

The scene of Rex completely butchering Izora is grotesque and very hard to watch.

Rex's claws tore everything that Izora uses, and even his face becomes entangled and hard to look at after just one swipe from the claws. The overbearing blood energy starts to dwindle with each attack until it becomes more feeble than even Delta's aura who is hurt.

"Don't kill my father!!", Izora's son shouted from the side seeing his father's state.

Hearing the meek voice of an ant seeping through his ears makes Rex glance to the side slowly, his red eyes make Izora's son frightened. It's not that he himself is a coward, but his instincts are telling him to run away.

With a hardly audible voice, Izora said weakly, "R-Run..."

Rex looks back at Izora before a devious grin appears on his face, "Father...?"

Evelyn who is looking at this suddenly realized the smirk that she knows exactly what it means, it's the smirk that Rex uses every time he wanted to do something ruthless and unforgiving.

Out of nowhere, there's an impulse that made Evelyn stands up and run toward him.

"No... Don't! It's not safe to be near him right now", Adhara held Evelyn's arm,

Upon hearing this, Evelyn saw Rex open his mouth intending something evil before she glance at Adhara in worry, "You remember what Rex said in Emham Forest right? When Gistella tries to eat that guy's corpse?!"

"I know but you're going to put yourself in danger, wait for Kyran and Gistella", Adhara replied.

But Evelyn pushes Adhara's hand away with a determined look, she believes what she's doing is right, "Rex will regret doing that, I need to stop him and you shouldn't stop me"

After saying that, Evelyn stands up and looks at the symbol in her palm before she ran to Rex.

Meanwhile, seeing Rex was about to bite his father's head off.

Izora's son riled up his blood energy activating his royal blood magic before he dashes at Rex intending to save his father, but with nothing but a flick of Rex's arm Izora's son got sent crashing away like a broken doll.

Completely weak and helpless in front of true power.

When Rex was about to resume what he was doing, he suddenly saw Evelyn is already jumping at him trying to reach him with the white wolf head symbol in her palm. She uses Izora's son as a distraction to get close.

Evelyn is trying to grab Rex's head where the red full moon mark, King Mark lies.

But just as her hand is nothing but a few inches away, Rex suddenly caught her by the neck with his other hand stopping her leaping momentum. He then growls dominantly while staring at Evelyn who is trying to appease him from this berserk state.

If Rex's consciousness is still there, then he would've wanted to be appeased from this state.

Unfortunately, Evelyn thought that there was still a speck of Rex's consciousness here. But there is not. The one in control, the one holding the steering wheel inside Rex's head is not himself but someone else.

Someone that is more ruthless and more diabolical than himself, someone that Evelyn and the others don't know at all!

Rex looks at the white wolf head symbol on Evelyn's palm before he looks back at Evelyn with his piercing eyes, the grip on her neck becomes tighter even sparking blood flowing down the corner of her mouth.

"Don't... I am the Alpha. Obey...", Rex said looking directly into Evelyn's eyes.

Just like that, Evelyn's body and senses got engulfed by the authoritative aura of an Alpha forcing her to be obedient and listen to Rex. It's hard to explain, but it's like her instincts are tampered with.

But then out of nowhere, Rex let go of Evelyn and Izora seeing another figure lunging at him.

Parrying the figure's attack, Rex growls menacingly looking at Calidora who already recovered from her head being decapitated by Rex. She looks around the place and even the burning city before she glared at Rex, "Your attention is for me! Attack me!!"

"Don't kill the civilians, you're not allowed to do that!", she added angrily.

Rex smiles brutally upon hearing this before he replied slowly, "You're late... I ate them all!"

"W-What...", Calidora widens her eyes in absolute shock.

Her eyes that are already purple slowly turn into red once again activating her Vampiric Eyes, her aura starting to havoc while she glared at Rex, "Royal Blood Magic, Royal Aura!"

SWOOSH!

Evelyn who is near them suddenly feels a sense of inferiority.

Almost every being of her becomes humble, it's not that her power got taken or reduced but it's more like she doesn't have the will to harm anything or anyone under this aura.

But Rex didn't sit still as he roared powerfully shattering the ground around him.

The powerful royal aura that is coming from Calidora's body got destroyed almost completely, she was flabbergasted seeing how easily Rex canceled her Royal Blood Magic!

It's the Royal Blood Magic of King Solomon himself but got canceled easily!

Just as Rex was about to engage in a fight with Calidora again intending to rip her head again, a ray of golden light suddenly blasted Rex sending him crashing away to the side.

Seeing this, Evelyn and Calidora turn their heads to the side before their eyes widen.

"Elves...?"

Chapter 478 Royal Black Prince

"Elves...?"

Looking at least a hundred Elves lining up neatly commanded by a woman with pointy ears, she's wearing a blue elegant dress pushing forward followed by the Elves arranged in a formation behind her.

Evelyn looks at this and finds the Elf leading this legion is very powerful.

The bearing she brought even feels etiquette and graceful that of a noble family of the Elves, her eyes are bright golden matching her blazing golden hair with a sword in her hand. Only the handle has a physical form while the blade itself is made of golden energy.

Upon seeing the arrival of the Elf, Calidora's eyes flashes as she jumped toward the Elf.

"Greeting to Queen Shanaela", Calidora greeted politely landing beside Queen Shanaela.

She then looks at Queen Shanaela before she asks, "Why are you here?"

Hearing this, Queen Sahnaela glances at her gracefully before she shifted her elegant eyes back to where Rex got blasted, "I made a deal with your father. Never mind that, Is that the Red Prince that is linked to you?", she asks with a worried look on her face.

"How do you know about that?", Calidora looks at Queen Shanaela in confusion.

But seeing that Queen Shanaela doesn't want to answer and the situation is not fit for discussing something like this, Calidora then nodded her head, "Yes... I thought the curse will make me always equal to him but it seems not"

"It shouldn't be like this but somehow he manages to bypass that curse", she added.

Queen Shanaela kept looking at where Rex got blasted waiting for him to come out from the dust, he should crash just by the Avonlet River from that attack.

Hearing what Calidora said made her glance at her in surprise, "That's not possible"

"Eternal Curse between you and him is unbroken, even the Witches will find it hard to break the curse. There must be something wrong, or he might have a witch behind him", she added.

Upon hearing this, Calidora shakes her head.

"That's the point, I know the curse is unbroken and mother told me that every time someone tries to tamper with the curse I will know. But now, I didn't feel anything. Almost as if that Werewolf is not the one bound to me, just like fighting someone else"

Albeit confused, Queen Shanaela looks at Calidora's hands before she asks, "Where is the Blood Devourer? Why don't you use it to fight against that Prince?"

"It's going to make him even angrier if I use the Blood Devourer, I've put it away", Calidora replied. Just as they converse a little, a shadow with a pair of red eyes emerges from the dust.

Rex comes out of the dust with his piercing bloodshot eyes scanning the Elves that dare to attack him, the Elves are lined up in a square formation with the back casting a protection spell while the middle is holding a bow and the two front rows holding a sword and a shield.

It's the infamous Divinity and Vengeance battle formation of the Elves.

"Red Prince of the Werewolf! Please stand down, we do not wish to continue this meaningless fight!", Queen Shanaela declared loudly with her somewhat authoritative but also smooth voice.

She sounds like a cherry, her voice contains sweetness but at the same time strict.

But just as she said that Rex didn't comment and just dashes forward to attack, the King Mark on his forehead glows brighter as he dashes like an animal toward the legion of Elves.

Upon seeing this, Queen Shanaela's expression darkens.

Pointing her golden sword at the charging Rex, her eyes then glows with a golden hue making them even sharper before she shouted, "Warriors! Fire!!"

Swoosh!

Green nature energy gathered before the Elves send a volley of arrows.

While the arrows filled with nature energy are heading towards Rex making a whistling sound, the arrows merge into one turning into one huge ray of nature energy that is radiating with a power stronger than that of Izora's blood energy.

It's the mix of hundreds of Elves' nature energy including Queen Shanaela.

Seeing the coming ray of nature energy, Rex didn't pay it any attention and just keep sprinting straight with a maniac smile. But upon colliding with the ray of nature energy, Rex widen his eyes when he got pushed back by the attack.

The ray of nature energy didn't hurt him too much as the scorched skin that got hit instantly healed, but it still pushes him back.

Grinding his razor-sharp teeth, Rex kept trying to approach the Elves' legion.

But every time he got close or even use his sky black lightning spells and Pneuma spell, Rex got hit by the Elves' barrage of arrows. Normally, these weakling Elves are not going to keep up with his speed but Quene Shanaela can.

Her golden eyes are locked onto Rex navigating and commanding the Elves' legion behind her.

Even though she looks to be confident facing the berserk Rex with his red kingly aura, Queen Shanaela notices that every time Rex got blown away he came back stronger. It even comes to the point where the ray of nature energy is only able to push him back a couple of feet.

Just from this alone, Queen Shanaela realizes that it's the King Mark of the Blood Moon's power.

While this is all happening, Rex forgot about Izora and his son. Izora's son slowly crept toward his father before grabbing him and dashing away leaving the place without the others noticing.

"Give up Red Prince, you will not be able to reach us. This is a meaningless fight, please leave the Vampire territory before the situation escalated even more", Queen Shanaela shouted again.

She needs to stop this if not Rex will get too strong for her.

On the side, Evelyn who thankfully manages to go back to Adhara is looking at this scene.

Although she got stopped once by Rex since he's extremely fast and his reflex is insane to even manage to intercept her advancement coupled with a diversion, Evelyn is still unwilling to give up.

She will wait for a perfect moment to swoop in and appease Rex using the symbol on her palm.

Out of nowhere, Kyran and Gistella finally arrive here.

They came out of nowhere and landed just beside the still regenerating Adhara and Evelyn. Upon noticing their arrival, Evelyn then asks angrily, "Where have you been? If you were here we can turn Rex back to normal!"

"I'm sorry Evelyn, but the situation in the Vampire city is not that good", Kyran replied.

Hearing this, Evelyn looks at Kyran questioningly, "We manage to save the human survivors but how should I put this... Rex ate every Vampires he met leaving only a handful of kids, we fear that the Vampire kids will attack the human survivors that's why we're late"

"W-What...?! Rex ate the Vampires?!", Evelyn exclaimed in shock.

She can't believe what she was hearing.

Rex told them directly that he doesn't want to fully be a Werewolf that eats humans to be stronger or even for fun, it's a taboo for him which is why he's quite angry seeing Gistella attempt to eat the guy's corpse.

So hearing that Rex ate the Vampires is quite shocking, it shouldn't happen.

Looking back at the berserk Rex that is grinding his teeth while glaring at the Elves and also Calidora, Evelyn mutters in her heart, 'Rex... Snap out of it'

"Red Prince! Calm yours-"

Before Queen Shanaela can finish, Rex already growled angrily, "I'm not the Red Prince!!"

"So what are you then, Prince from the human territory?", Queen Shanaela asks with a frown, she's confused as to why calling Rex the Red Prince makes him angry when Rex literally had the King Mark of the blood moon on his forehead.

Without answering Queen Shanaela, Rex then smirks, "You're quite patronizing for a lesser race..."

"I'll take up your challenge little gold Elf...", Rex replied before the kingly aura around him slowly got dimmer and dimmer, it come to the point where the kingly aura only cloaks his body like a red blanket.

Almost looks like a normal elemental aura that a first-rank Awakened can do.

Looking at the kingly aura getting dimmer and even King Mark slowly dimming down, Queen Shanaela can feel a bad feeling about this. Calidora also shares the same feeling, the reddish place because of Rex's kingly aura started to turn normal.

Everything around the place turns normal as Rex deactivates his kingly aura.

But not long after, a subtle black aura started sizzling around Rex's body giving off completely a different vibe than the red kingly energy. The red sky from the blood moon slowly turns darker making the night even darker.

It made Calidora, Queen Shanaela, and even the hundreds of Elves look up to the sky.

Not only does the sky get darker and the full moon also gets darker, but the air of this night becomes colder and this shivering cold air comes from Rex's body. He emits a bone-chilling aura that pierces Queen Shanaela's skin seeping into her bones.

Rex completely gives off different energy from the hostile and aggressive red kingly energy.

Slowly the sizzling black aura started to become even stronger cracking the ground around Rex, King Mark on Rex's forehead slowly contorted as the blood moon slowly fades from its red color and turned black.

Upon seeing this, Queen Shanaela's lips started to quiver in terror.

The Elves' legion behind her was surprised to see Queen Shanaela's fearful look as they have never seen this look on their queen's face, it's absolutely shocking to see her express this fear.

Even with Demelza barging into their territory, Queen Shanaela handled it with a calm expression.

But the expression she's wearing right now, pale face, quivering lips, and even slightly trembling body show the absolute terror she's feeling while looking at Rex. The other Elves were confused about why she was this worked up, even Calidora is confused.

Although she's also surprised feeling the different air coming for Rex, she's young and doesn't know much if not for her mother Queen Nezera telling her things.

"What is it? Why are you so scared?", Calidora asks starting to panic.

Even though she will probably not die with the Eternal Curse binding her to Rex's soul and body which makes her unkillable, the terror in Queen Shanaela's face makes her nervous.

Stutteringly, Queen Shanaela steps back while looking at Rex with a pale face.

Pointing straight at the King Mark on Rex's forehead that is slowly turning black, Queen Shanaela then mutters with a trembling voice, "H-He's not a Red Prince..."

"T-Two King Mark... He's the Royal Black Prince!!", Queen Shanaela shouted in fear.

Hearing this the Elves behind her jolted in surprise as they too feel an overwhelming fear upon hearing the nickname Royal Black Prince, an entity that they didn't even think existed.

Calidora also finds this nickname familiar, "Royal Black Prince? I've heard of it"

"It's a myth... I can't believe it really exists. Royal Black Prince, the ancient record stated that this Prince is the Origin's favorite for being able to be accepted by multiple full moons. It has been said in some writings that Royal Black Prince was even able to be accepted by all full moons making him the pinnacle of Werewolves!"

The sudden information makes Calidora snaps her head back to Rex.

BOOM!

Rex's body explodes with a black kingly aura as the King Mark on his forehead turns black, he then raises his eyes to meet Queen Shanaela exposing his devious smirk.

Upon seeing this, Queen Shanaela instantly takes out a green orb.

"We need to get out of here. Calidora, take my hand quickly!", Queen Shanaela stretches her arm and Calidora didn't even hesitate and reaches for it.

Queen Shanaela's eyes widen when she saw Rex had already headed toward her.

Under everyone's very eyes including Adhara and the others who are watching the fight from the sidelines waiting for the right moment to intervene, they saw Rex dashing toward Queen Shanaela but something weird is happening.

Rex's movement looks to be slow but his entire body is blinking fading in and out of their eyes or even their dimension, it made him look slow but actually quite fast.

Every eye that landed on Rex can't seem to focus on him, it's like he brings a disturbance.

Without wasting any time dwindling around, Queen Shanaela wanted to teleport away activating the green orb with her nature energy as their bodies slowly covered with green energy.

Upon seeing this, Rex picked up his pace making his movement astonishingly fast.

Just when Calidora and Queen Shanaela were about to be teleported away, Rex cloaks his claws with black energy before stabbing Queen Shanaela right through her stomach.

But immediately after that, both Queen Shanaela and Calidora got teleported away.

Realizing that their queen has abandoned them to be food for the absolute monster of a Prince in front of them, the Elves started to break the formation and run away in fear. They didn't even wait for another second and just runs away.

Although a bit annoyed, Rex howls triumphantly before chasing the Elves.

What happens after that was an absolute massacre.

Using his movement that is now becoming terrifyingly fast, Rex clawed and bite each one of the running Elves killing them all instantly. In just a blink of an eye, dozens of Elves died under his claws and still rising.

Disappearing and reappearing all over the place, Rex becomes an absolute ghost.

Every attack the Elves throw at him, Rex's body fazes through dimension making the attack hit nothing but air. This puts the Elves even more desperate as they got slaughtered like a bunch of helpless normal humans getting sliced by a sharp sword before getting eaten.

"W-We need to stop him...", Evelyn mutters grudgingly.

Hearing this, the others seem to hesitate but they know that Rex never wanted to do something like this. Their expression then turns determined before they all nodded their heads.

Meanwhile, in a place far away from the Delarosa Family's territory.

Green light enveloped the entire place scaring the mutated animals around before Calidora and Queen Shanaeala appeared, they got teleported away from Rex.

After they fully materialize, Queen Shanaeala falls to her knees holding her stomach.

"Are you okay?!", Calidora kneels down and holds Queen Shanaeala's body.

Looking down to her stomach where a nasty claw wound burning with black energy is sizzling her skin, Queen Shanaeala coughs blood a couple of times. On her fair and smooth skin, the color of the blood becomes even more red and evident.

Shaking her head, Queen Shanaeala then strugglingly stands up, "I'm okay..."

"We need to report this to your parents, the Prince you're linked with is not just a Red Prince. He's a Royal Black Prince and this might be catastrophic if that Prince is not associated with anyone or worst, he's actually associated with the Humans..."

Chapter 479 Not The Real Rex

SHING!

"Help!!"

"Akkhh!"

"Rarghh!"

Rex blazes through a dozen running Elves in a blink of an eye slicing all of them, his movement is so fast that he already slashed them before they can even realize they're slashed. Their bodies got sliced into three parts, the three parts of meat slid off to the side turning an arc of Elves' bodies into nothing but piles of bloodied meat.

It's completely baffling to see those sixth-rank and even some seventh-rank Elves got killed.

Not even their armor, flesh, and even bones can stop the advancement of Rex's sharp claws cloaked with dark moonlight. The claws slash through them like butter, completely easy"

Meanwhile, the others are looking at this scene from the back.

Even if they wanted to stop Rex from massacring the Elves and eating them, it's impossible for them to intercept him. It's bizarre to look at how fast Rex has become, his body is blinking and blipping around the place.

This allows him to shorten distance so fast for the eyes can see.

If not for Rex still recognizing them as his pack members, they wouldn't be still standing here. All of them will die without even realizing they got killed if Rex really wanted to.

Gistella who looks at this frown, "I thought master is the Red Prince..."

"This is not the ability of the Blood Moon, this is the ability of the Dark Moon. How did master get accepted by two full moons like this?", she added with a trembling voice. Gistella knows these things because she's a Supernatural from birth.

From how she knows many things, she probably also lived or birthed in the Beginning Era.

Hearing this, Adhara who is slowly standing up after her wound healed looks at Rex massacring the Elves non-stop with bloodshot eyes that seems to be very excited from how his pupils contracted, "How can we stop him...?", she asks.

But all of them frown as they don't have a clue how to stop Rex.

The symbol on Evelyn's palm should be able to appease Rex from this berserk state, but the problem is how to intercept or even stop Rex and give enough time or distraction so Evelyn can touch his forehead.

It's literally impossible to do that, Rex is in a different league.

While they're thinking of a way on the sidelines, Adhara suddenly saw Rex bites off the last Elves chewing its body in delight. Blood decorated his fierce sharp fangs making him look even more menacing, but then Rex's attention suddenly shifted to the burning city.

Rex seems to sense something, his body then phases again heading to the burning city.

Just in a blink of an eye Rex suddenly disappears from his spot and reappeared above a house in the burning city, it caught the others off guard since it was so fast. The distance from where they are standing to the burning city is still a couple of miles.

But with just one phase or blink, Rex already reaches the burning city without breaking a sweat.

"Let's follow him first and wait for the right moment", Adhara commanded.

Hearing this, the others nodded their heads before they all dashed towards the burning city following Rex who seems to catch or sense something.

After arriving at the burning city, the others stopped in the middle near the pit.

They then look at the far distance sensing Rex's aura passing the burning city and heading in a direction, this made Adhara looks at Kyran, "Did you sense anything from that direction?"

Kyran looks in the direction that Adhara refers to before he jumped on a roof of a house.

Upon getting a clearer view from the highest building around here, Kyran saw that the back of the burning city turns out to be a dead forest decorated with dead red trees with no leaves. It covered the entire sight in redness.

Focusing his senses, he then realizes that there's a flying Vampire running away.

Although Kyran can see the flying Vampire clearly, the distance between them is enormous.

Realizing who the Vampire is, Kyran went back to the others before he said, "I believe it's Ana's husband, Rex is after Ana's husband that should be running away from him"

"He's heading deeper into the Vampire territory, heading to the capital", Gistella added.

Hearing this, Adhara was put into thoughts thinking of a way they can intercept Rex. But after a moment, she suddenly got an idea, "Kyran, did you just see Ana's husband there? Is there another Vampire with him?"

"No, Ana's husband is flying away alone. No other Vampires", Kyran replied.

Adhara nodded her head, she signals the others to gather around before she explains her plan, "So here's what we're going to do..."

A moment later,

A spark of a powerful surge of energy exploded a couple of times in the far distance, this surge of dark energy belongs to Rex, and as for the red energy belonged to Delarosa who seems to be running away after knowing his entire city is destroyed.

Everything got engulfed in flame from Rex's might, nothing was left except for young Vampires.

These young Vampires are the testament and also the tool of Rex's revenge on the Supernatural, for killing his parents and drowning him in the world of hatred and violence. Something someone his age shouldn't feel and those feelings are brought to the surface by the Invincible Apparation.

Some of the forgotten heat of hatred was brought back, and he's on his rampage right now.

Adhara and the others saw these huge blasts and shockwaves of powerful energy, they realized that Rex and Delarosa are already in the fight. But with Izora lost to Rex miserably, Delarosa will not do any better.

Looking at Kyran, she then asks, "Did you sense him yet? I bet he's hiding somewhere"

"Wait a minute, let me try something", Kyran replied before kneeling on the ground, he then closed his eyes. In front of the others' eyes, while Kyran's focused on his spirit energy his shadow expand and went straight to the side stretching so far away.

It looks like somekind of a spell, but all of them felt Kyran is using his spirit energy the most.

From the looks of it, Kyran should be using another Pneuma Spell.

Adhara and Evelyn who are looking at this were surprised to actually find Kyran possessing two Pneuma Spell in his arsenal, but they then remembered that Kyran is a dark Elementalist. His temperament is also cold-blooded so it's not a surprise if the darkness supports him.

After a moment, the shadow came back and Kyran opened his eyes.

There's a slight glow of dark energy in his eyes but it soon fades and his eyes turn back to normal, "I found him, he's running away and he seems to be wearing a piece of equipment that helped suppresses his aura. Follow me!"

On the other side of the place,

A pale-skin man wearing quite a fancy outfit is running through the dead red trees as fast as he can without looking back, the powerful blasts and shockwaves make his body jolt every time it resounded.

With sharp fangs and red eyes, this pale-skin man is definitely a Vampire.

Cold sweat is decorating the Vampire's face and even drenched the fancy royalty red well-embellished tunic, it hugs the Vampire's body tightly because of the wetness. But this Vampire didn't care and just keep running with a fearful look.

A golden earring is glowing on the Vampire's right earlobe, it should be battle equipment.

Judging from how fast the Vampire is running, and having no actual wings shows the Vampire is not that strong even though he looks to be from the royal family of Vampires.

Not long after, the Vampire arrived at a deserted well.

The well is misplaced in a place with no life around and surely no water underground, but there is red water that filled the well to the brim almost leaking. Upon arriving at this well, the Vampire wasted no time jumping into the red water.

But when he was about to jump, he looks to the back sensing a couple of auras.

Immediately after sensing the aura, the Vampire's fearful look becomes even more evident. Even his teeth started to chatter as if he were in a cold place, but all of this comes from the cowardliness and fear inside his heart.

Not wanting to wait for the auras to find him, the Vampire gets inside the well.

As if the red water is somekind of magical water, the Vampire's body vanishes just like that after submerging in the red water filling the well.

Just a moment later, four figures landed near the well.

"Where is he? I don't sense anyone here"

"That's weird, his scent disappears right around this place. He should've been hiding here somewhere, let's check around"

The group of four wanted to disperse to the surroundings.

But before they can even try to look around to search for the person they were looking for, a devastatingly beautiful woman with silvery hair holding a shield stopped them, "I think I know where he is", she said while looking at the well.

Hearing this, the other three also looks at the well in confusion.

The silver-haired woman then approaches the well filled with red water, she dips her index finger into the water before drawing something on the well with that water. While she was doing this, the other three waited on the back curiously.

Not long after, the silver-haired woman steps back after she finished drawing on the well.

She draws somekind of an unknown letter on the well using the red water filling the well. After doing that, the silver-haired woman then points her index finger at the letter.

Bluish energy gathered on the tip of her index finger and in the next moment,

Swish!

The bluish energy shot toward the letter the silver-haired woman draws like a bullet, but instantly after that, the letter glows brightly before the red water splashes vomiting out the Vampire that hides inside the red water.

With a surprised look, the Vampire raises his gaze realizing that he got forced out.

"How did you do that?", a Werewolf amongst the group of four asks the silver-haired woman.

Still looking at the Vampire whose face slowly becomes even more terrified by the second, the silver-haired woman shrugs her shoulders, "Undead is superior in terms of magic research, this kind of thing is child's play"

"Okay... What should we do with this little Vampire right here", the Werewolf asks again.

Then a woman on the side looks at the Vampire with a probing gaze, she then flick her fingers before she said, "He's bait, so why not hang him on the tree?"

"B-Bait?", the Vampire mutters with a shaky voice.

Hearing this, the woman that suggested the idea smiles even wider, "Of course, your father will be dead in just a moment so we're going to use you as bait. You're willing right?", she asks but the Vampire knew that he can't refuse that question.

With no chance of escaping, the Vampire gulps harshly in helplessness.

Another moment passed,

By this time the moon is already at its peak signing right in the middle of the night, and the shockwaves and sounds of battle have receded for a couple of seconds. It has become dead silent, there are no sounds after the battle.

Out of nowhere, a shadow descended down from the sky cracking the ground.

A Werewolf with a dark full moon symbol decorating its forehead landed before scanning its piercing eyes around the place, powerful pulses of dark moonlight energy is emanating from this Werewolf's body bringing pressure unlike anyone has ever seen.

This Werewolf is, of course, Rex.

Many wounds are covering Rex's body but got healed almost instantly. In his hand is the half-dead Delarosa who has many gruesome wounds across his body, spanning from broken bones to gruesome claws wound.

Blood energy is trying to heal the wound desperately, but the dark moonlight energy coming from Rex doesn't allow it to do anything.

Rex looks around before his eyes land on a Vampire hanged on a tree.

With a glance, Rex recognizes the Vampire to be Issac, Delarosa's son. Issac is hanged by his neck using a blue energy string, and he can't do anything to break free from the blue string.

Upon looking at Rex, Issac's face pale in absolute fear.

It's like looking at the reaper of death himself right in the eyes. Every sense and every fiber of his being are screaming at him to run, to get as far away as possible from this monster in front of him. For a Vampire that is called a monster by many, referring to Rex as a monster is something ironic.

The emotion of fear that Issac is feeling right now is overwhelming, he has never felt or even believe that he can feel such a strong amount of fear of an entity. What he's feeling right now is experienced by many humans during the Supernatural Emergence.

"You cowardly insect, it finally comes down to you...", Rex mutters with a huge smirk.

Hearing this, Issac feels his entire body shiver. Soon his eyes land on his father that is literally being held by the neck helplessly, it brings an imminent amount of fear.

During his whole life, his father is a figure that he looked up to.

Not only does Delarosa is the one that brings his family into the Vampire Royalty, but he also tolerates the cowardliness of Issac no matter what. Sometimes he's harsh but Issac can feel the deep love coming from his father.

Seeing his father like this is heartbreaking.

The powerful shelter his father provides that is unbroken got destroyed just like that, Rex literally breaks and stomps everything related to Vampire dignity and pride.

But Rex's attention then turns away from Issac, "Come out... no need to hide from me"

Just after he said that Adhara and the others come out from their hiding.

Looking at his Betas that are the ones that captured Issac makes Rex nods his head, "I praise you for your work, but I can handle this myself. Go and devour the remaining Vampires and come back here"

"No... we're here to stop you", Adhara steps in front with an unyielding expression.

Upon hearing this, Rex glanced at Adhara before out of nowhere he raised Delarosa and bites his head off killing him instantly in front of Issac.

"FATHER!!!", Issac shouted in absolute shock.

Even the others were surprised to see this, this Werewolf in front of him is really not Rex.

After doing that ruthlessly, Rex throws Delarosa's headless corpse before he fixated his eyes back at Adhara, "Get out of my way, or I'll make you..."

"Give the control back to Rex!! I don't know who you are but you need to bring Rex back!"

Hearing Adhara yelled at him makes Rex's face darkens, his aura riled up while his eyes are turning savage by the second. But then suddenly, Evelyn steps forward, "Please, just let Rex back"

Rex's eyes shifted to Evelyn, his eyes then look at the glowing white wolf head symbol on her palm. Although it's very brief, Gistella saw Rex's face soften, "Do not fret, I will let Rex back. So obey and step aside"

"How can we trust you?", Adhara asks again seriously.

Feeling a bit annoyed by Adhara's intrusive tone, Rex's eyes spark before he then replied with the same baritone voice, "Who you're talking to all this time, it's not the real Rex..."

"What do you mean by that?!", Adhara is starting to get angry.

Sensing the anger within Adhara makes Rex gives a sharp glare at her forcing her to calm down, but Rex soon shakes his head and said, "Move aside. After I kill and eat that Vampire, I will let Rex back"

Without having no other choice, Adhara and the others move to the side.

But when Rex was about to approach Issac, he suddenly turns his head to the side sensing something. The dark kingly aura around him started to become havoc, Rex takes a deep breath before in the next second,

ROAR!!

Rex roared powerfully which even makes the ground tremble, his roar even creates a sonic wave that destroys the red trees in the direction his muzzle is facing.

This caught the others off guard as they covers their ears in reflex.

Not long after Rex roared, a powerful howl from afar replied to him making Rex sneer in contempt. As if nothing happened at all, Rex turns his attention back to Issac again but out of nowhere, a gentle hand touches his forehead making his eyes widen.

Evelyn takes advantage of the momentary gap when Rex is distracted by that thing.

It should be another Werewolf judging from the howl, and the roar Rex did shows that the Werewolf needs to be addressed. This opens a gap for Evelyn to sneak closer, and because of that, she manages to touch the dark full moon symbol on Rex's forehead.

"You...", Rex mutters in disbelief.

But soon his expression turns neutral, and the white wolf head symbol in Evelyn's palm started glowing with a purple light enveloping both of their bodies, "He's really weak...having such a disobedient Betas..."

Chapter 480 End Of The Rampage

Evelyn manages to finally reach the King Mark on Rex's forehead.

The purple dot on the white wolf head symbol started to glow even brighter suppressing the King Mark that is trying to counter using dark moonlight energy, but purple gas-like energy slowly oozes out of the symbol on Evelyn's palm encasing Rex's body.

Rex falls to his knees gripping the dirt with his claws powerfully.

Veins started popping on his arms as he somewhat tried to resist the purple gas-like energy, and under that energy and struggle, his red eyes slowly started blinking from red to purple.

But Evelyn frowned when Rex's consciousness tries to fight against her, it was not his real consciousness but the berserk one that kept fighting back. Rex started shaking his head trying to undo the calming feeling that got instilled into him by the purple gas-like energy.

With this retaliation, his eyes started dominating with red color again.

Rex started pushing himself up from the ground resisting the purple gas-like energy, "Everyone... h-help me restrain him!", Evelyn looks to the others asking for help. At this rate, Rex will not be able to be appeased from his berserk state.

Upon hearing this, the others didn't sit idle and immediately went to help.

Splashes from the leftover kingly energy are still there as Rex tries to resist the purple gas-like energy temptation, this forces Gistella to cover them with a bluish barrier while she grabs Rex's left arm.

Adhara went over to the side and grabs Rex's right arm while Kyran went downwards and hold Rex's legs trying to force him to kneel again, but even then Rex is still very powerful.

They all were forced to activate their respective energy just to hold him in place.

With the coordination of the four of them, Rex falls to his knees once again growling angrily. Even under the purple gas-like energy his berserk side is still very much conscious and tries to break free.

Evelyn grits her teeth as she focuses all of her attention on the symbol.

Out of nowhere, simple yet powerful urges started to rise up from within. Evelyn felt these urges that force her to act, she follows the urges that guide her to embrace Rex's head. The simple movement makes the purple gas-like energy even stronger.

Soon Rex's eyes completely turn purple, the berserk side succumbs to the purple gas-like energy.

After staying in this position for almost five minutes straight, Evelyn saw the purple gas-like energy slowly vanish as Rex's pupil contracted. Rex's eyes turn normal again as he blinks a couple of times. Upon seeing this, Evelyn who is still hugging Rex's head in her embrace widens her eyes, "Rex?! Is it really you?", she asks excitedly.

Hearing this, the others loosen their grip realizing that Rex has already ceased resisting.

They all let go of Rex's body including Evelyn.

Rex who is still on his knees thrusts his claws into the earth's surface powerfully while gritting his sharp teeth. Without even letting him breathe, his body slowly changed back. His teeth even make a boney-cracking sound showing how hard he's gritting.

Under the other's gaze, the muscles and bones underneath the skin are starting to move unnaturally.

"Grarhkk!", he grunted in pain with bloodshot eyes trying to hold onto the pain he was feeling.

While looking at Rex struggling to turn back to his human form, the others were surprised to see the painful look on his expression. It's something unfamiliar to them, Rex rarely shows any kind of painful expression.

Having a high tolerance for pain, it's surprising that Rex is wearing such a painful look.

This just shows the level of pain he's currently feeling, whimpers and low grunts of agony filling the entire place while Rex's body slowly turns back to his human form. Even his eyes started to be watery making the scene hard to look at.

Blood starts to ooze out of his bloodshot eyes and also his nose and mouth.

Droplets of blood started to drop down to the ground from the painful pressure his body is currently going through, Evelyn and Adhara looked away upon seeing this scene.

After a long dreadful two minutes of transforming back, Rex finally turns back to normal.

Rex's body is drenched in sweat while he looks down to the ground supporting his body with his hands, his breathing is deep and rough as he tries to compose himself. Arching his body back, his eyes then met with the others.

"Wha... What just happened?", he asks with tired breaths.

From the moment the little version of himself took control of his body as if he has multiple personality disorder, he doesn't remember anything except the darkness engulfing him.

Even now his body is shivering from the cold of the darkness but is slowly getting better.

Looking at the others that are gazing at him with a complicated look, especially Adhara and Evelyn. Rex looks around and finds a headless corpse of a Vampire beside him, it made him frown since this Vampire corpse's energy is radiating powerfully.

Just from its aura alone, this Vampire should be in the upper echelon of the seventh-rank realm.

But soon Rex is attracted to the sobbing noises coming from a hanged Vampire on the tree, his eyes squinted before he realized who the Vampire is, "Issac... Then that means this corpse is Delarosa", he looks back at Delarosa's corpse.

Although he doesn't know what happened, he's very sure that he's the one that caused this.

Out of his pack members, there is not one of them that can match Delarosa in a fight. Without a doubt, it seems the other part of him is the one that did this, 'Invincible Apparation huh...'

Rex slowly stands up under everyone's gaze before he frowns tasting iron in his mouth.

Then suddenly Rex widen his eyes before turning his attention back to Delarosa's corpse again, he then realized that the iron taste must be from him biting Delarosa's head. If it's not that, it's the only thing that can explain why Delarosa's head is gone.

Of all the possibilities, him eating Delarosa's head is the highest chance.

'I did it... I've held out for quite long but I know this day will come sooner or later', Rex thought with a helpless expression, he clenched his fists realizing that he just become an actual Werewolf.

From the start of him being a Werewolf, he never ate anyone.

No matter how much his animalistic instinct tries to tempt him to eat someone whether they are humans or Supernaturals, he held on hoping to cling to the last strand of humanity inside of him.

But the longer time passes by, Rex realized that this day will come either way.

When Gistella tries to eat Ari's corpse being influenced by the approaching Wolf Moon, Rex realized that his dream of still being human is numbered. At that exact moment, he accepted that he will eventually succumb to the animal side of him.

There's nothing he can do to prevent that.

Rex exhales a deep breath before his eyes turn cold, he then looks at Issac and approached him.

Taking the Silver Eye out of the inventory, Rex gripped the silver sword tightly intending to finish Issac off. Despite the confusion he's feeling from getting his body taken over, Rex knows what he must do.

"How dare you destroy everything I have! You're a monster!", Issac shouted.

Upon hearing this, Rex sneered finding what Issac said really funny. His expression then turns neutral again before he gently touches Issac's cheek using the silver sword, a steaming sound was produced as Issac's cheek got burned by the silver sword.

Issac bit his lips with a desperate look, but he knows that he won't escape this one no matter what. Even if he did, there's nothing left for him in this world.

Not only his parents but even his city is destroyed completely.

"For someone who has lived hundreds of years, you must know Werewolf's natural instinct. When you did them wrong, you're going to be hunted for the rest of your life. So don't act as if you don't know", Rex mutters before slowly stabbing the silver eye into Issac's chest.

When the tip got stabbed into his chest, Issac's body tensed with his eyes bulging.

The burning sensation in his chest started to spread as his skin got scorched by the silver eye. With a powerful thrust, the silver eye stabbed Issac's heart. Issac gave Rex one last look before the silver eye robs the life out of his eyes.

With the notification from the system, Rex pulled out the silver eye slowly.

Spraying Issac's blood to the ground by swinging the silver eye, Rex turns back to face the others but when he was about to open his mouth his vision suddenly flooded with notifications from the system.

<Kaiser of the Scarlet Garland is displeased with the user's Impiety!>

<Blood Moon Quest - Commitment has been adjusted>

<New Blood Moon Quest - Absolute Devotion>

For betraying the Kaiser's generous gift of the Blood Eye's power, the Blood Moon quest difficulty has tampered to the utmost limit. Choices require finesse and betrayal awakens the dark evil of the full moon's path. In order to be accepted by the Blood Moon, the user needs to sacrifice those who are dear.

Sacrificial Count: 0/2

Upon seeing the rows of notifications from the system, Rex can't help but frown.

The first half of the system's notifications are good since he got an enormous amount of exp and also a new skill, but then the last half makes the frown on his face even more evident. It's because of the entities that are being brought which he doesn't know anything about.

Countess of the Dark Luniric, he heard of that before when he's fighting Durrant.

But for the Kaiser of the Scarlet Garland, he absolutely has no clue about it just like the Countess of the Dark Luniric. It puzzles him as to why the system brought these entities and what these entities have to do with him.

'Choices? What choices?', Rex thought in confusion.

From what he grasped from these notifications from the system, the Countess is pleased by him because of something he choose while the Kaiser is displeased. Something tells him that the two have some problem between them, but Rex doesn't know why.

Rex scans through the notification before his eyes fall to the new Blood Moon Quest.

While rubbing his eyes trying to make sure what he's seeing is right, his eyes widen realizing that the new Blood Moon Quest asks him to sacrifice those who are dear to him.

'2 sacrificial counts... Is it talking about mother and Robert? No Way!', Rex exclaimed.

Although the new blood moon quest is vague and indirect, the two sacrificial count makes him think about Mrs. Greene and Robert instantly. No matter what, Rex will never sacrifice those two, especially Mrs. Greene who basically takes him under her wings.

But then, Rex suddenly remembered, 'I still have the Blood Moon Essence...'

'Let's use that to finish this damned quest so I can get the King Mark', Rex decided that he will use the blood moon essence, he was about to take it from his inventory but he suddenly sensed a figure approaching them.

Almost instinctively after sensing the figure, the others went and stand beside Rex.

The violent and ancient aura can be felt clearly coming from the figure approaching them. Whatever this figure is, it has an aura that Rex or the others have never felt before. It's not even an exaggeration if this particular feel eldrich.

Kyran who also sensed this went and blend with the darkness, he disappeared from the place.

Swoosh!

Out of nowhere, the figure show himself in front of Rex and the others' eyes.

Rex frowned seeing the Werewolf in front of him, his eyes were also attracted to the side feeling another aura nearby. But his eyes then went back and moved to the big Werewolf standing in front of him that doesn't emit any particular suppressing aura.

In fact, the Werewolf has quite a weak aura. Around sixth rank realm maybe, 'But why are my senses screaming at this Werewolf even though his aura is weak...', Rex thought with a frown.

Although Rex is standing strong in front of the Werewolf, in reality, he's really tired.

The transformation of the Invincible Apparation sapped all of his stamina making his body very weak and heavy. Feeling the uncertainty of the situation, he even already bought an item from the system and readies himself to activate the Invincible item in case the Werewolf attacked him.

Something about this Werewolf is not right, Rex then decided to scan the Werewolf.

<Arnulf the Special>

Race: High Werewolf

Power: Peak Sixth Rank - Eldrich Werewolf

Mental: 7131

Strength: 17490

Agility: 11900

Endurance: 15171

Intelligence: 5478

'He's only a peak sixth rank, the others can handl-', before Rex can even finish his thoughts, his eyes landed on the Werewolf's stats.

Even though this Werewolf in front of him has a peak sixth rank power, the stats this Werewolf possesses shock, Rex, very much and he can't help but widen his eyes. For a Werewolf of his caliber to have such high stats is weird, it's absolutely baffling for a peak sixth rank Supernatural to possess such stats.

After his attention shifted from the outrageous stats, Rex's eyes then finally landed on the name of the Werewolf. His expression turns serious upon seeing the Werewolf's name, It's the Werewolf Jarvald is talking about...'

'Arnulf the Special...'

While he's realizing who the Werewolf is, Arnulf gazes at Rex before a confident smirk appears on his face. It's a horrifying smirk that exposes his gruesome vile fangs, "Greeting to the Prince, forgive this old one that doesn't heed your warning earlier..."
