

Chapter 2721: Departure

“Even if I die, I will make sure that you suffer!”

The Old Patriarch Ruan rushed forward fiercely, full of spirit energy, as if he wanted to perish with Feng Jiu. However, just as he jumped up and rushed towards Feng Jiu, Feng Jiu’s hands were already clasped around his, while her other hand was on top of his head as she dispersed his cultivation base and severed his tendons.

After all, he was an old man, when he had his strength to support him, he appeared full of vigour, but when his spirit energy was abolished, he aged quickly at a speed visible to the naked eye. Where he once looked about fifty or sixty years old, he now looked like he was in his seventies or eighties. His body was thin and bent over at his waist, while his legs trembled. When Feng Jiu retracted her hand, he fell to the ground trembling.

When the people of the Ruan Family saw this, they were speechless. They stared blankly in shock and disbelief.

“Compared to killing you, I think abolishing your cultivation base will make your life worse than death and wishing you were dead.” Feng Jiu’s voice drifted out faintly. She looked at the two people lying on the ground, and the corners of her lips curled up slightly, then she turned around and walked towards the beautiful woman.

“Madam, I am leaving now. Thank you for taking care of me during this time.” She said in a warm voice, then she took out a box from space and handed it to the beautiful woman: “This is a Nourishing Beauty pill that I have refined, they are a gift for Madam’s birthday! As long as you take this pill, you will be able to remain youthful forever, and your appearance will remain unchanged.”

Upon hearing this, the beautiful woman was surprised and delighted. She stepped forward and reached out to take the box, then she opened it and took a look before she put it away carefully: “Thank you.”

Feng Jiu looked at the reluctant looking Xie siblings and smiled. She took out another bottle from space: “The pills in here are for the two of them. Madam, please keep it safe for them!”

When the beautiful woman heard this, she glanced at Feng Jiu then nodded: “Sure.” She looked at her two children and motioned for them to come forward to thank her.

“Little Jiu...” Xie Shisi was a little sad. She was reluctant for her to leave after all the time they had spent together.

“I will become very strong.” Xie Yutang said, he looked at Feng Jiu seriously and said: “I will definitely become very strong.”

Feng Jiu nodded when she heard this and patted his shoulders: “Practice hard and take care of yourself.” As soon as she had spoken, she took the feather from around her waist and threw it out. As the feathers grew in size, she looked at Silver Ingot.

Silver Ingot seemed to sense what she wanted, and it shrunk from its huge size to that of a puppy and jumped into her arms. It followed her as she jumped up onto the feather from the tips of her toes and sat down.

"Come up!" Feng Jiu looked at her and called.

"Yes, Brother Little Jiu." Ruan Si responded happily and she broke her hand free from being held by her Third Sister. She ran to Feng Jiu quickly and jumped onto the flying instrument, but she didn't dare to sit down. She stood quietly beside Feng Jiu.

"Everyone, farewell." She looked down at the Xie Family below and the Guo Family, then she left with one beast and one person...

Everyone watched in a daze as they gradually disappeared into the sky, it took a long time for them to recover from their daze.

The members of the Ruan Family were taken back, while the members of the Xie Family returned to their Manor. It's just that Patriarch Xie had also followed them inside, as if he wanted to inquire about the whole story...

Chapter 2722: Red Clothes

On the other side, Feng Jiu, who had left with Ruan Si, stopped on a deserted path and said to Ruan Si: "Go down!"

Ruan Si was startled, and couldn't help but panic: "Brother Little Jiu..."

"I saved your life by taking you out of there. If I hadn't given you some advice back then, maybe you wouldn't be in such a tricky situation today. I saved you today because I sympathise with you. But I don't take people I don't like with me. I have done my best by taking you here."

She sat on her feather and said lightly, then she raised her hand and sent her to the ground. She looked at Ruan Si's panicked face and said: "After going through so many things, I think your character has changed. Even if you are alone, I'm sure you will still live well even after leaving those people."

"Brother Little Jiu, I've never been away from home before, let alone come so far away. Now that I'm alone and have no family, where can I go?" She couldn't help but panicked and wondered where she could go.

Feng Jiu took a sip of wine and looked at her leisurely, and said: "Go to the Sect and acknowledge a Master, maybe that is the best way out for you." After she spoke, she took another sip of wine.

"Brother Little Jiu, why don't you let me follow you? I'm willing to be your companion."

"Pfft! Ahem ahem!"

Feng Jiu choked on the wine when she heard this and coughed twice to ease her throat. She glanced at her: "Thank you so much, I don't need it."

Ha! Be her companion, she was a girl herself, what did she need her for?

She frowned, and looked at Ruan Si who lowered her head and said: "If you want to live well, hide your special physique and don't let people know about it. Otherwise, even if you enter a Sect, you will be torn apart if you get discovered."

As soon as she had spoken, her eyes swept across the space bracelet on her wrist and she thought to herself: It seemed that she had kept the items those people gave her close to her body. After all, she knew her clansmen wanted to treat her badly, so naturally she couldn't let the things leave her side.

"Make the best out of it." With that, she retracted her gaze and went in another direction while she sat on her feather.

A few days later, in a forest.

Feng Jiu, dressed in red, reclined on a branch and rested. Her sleeves dangled in midair and swayed gently in the breeze. In the woods, Silver Ingot brought the prey it captured and placed it under the tree, and called to its owner.

"Master, the meat is here, and the branches are ready."

As it thought of its former majestic self, the Wolf King, now it followed its Master to catch prey and pick branches, yet it was unable to say anything.

Feng Jiu, who was up on the tree, opened her eyes and rolled over and came down from midair. Her red clothes fluttered and leaves flew about as she landed. Her figure turned, and her toes landed first, then she stood firmly on the ground.

She reached out and touched the wolf's head, then she smiled and said: "Good job." She carried the prey to the water source, and after she handled it simply, she took it back and roasted it. As the flames blazed up, the crackling sounds from the fire sounded.

Feng Jiu sat cross-legged on the ground as she took out the map and perused it. After she had roughly determined the location, she put the map away. As the scent of the meat spread, a group of fierce beasts gradually surrounded her not far away. However, those beasts didn't dare to go forward and just squatted a hundred metres away looking at the human and the beasts...

Chapter 2723: Monkey Wine

If anyone saw this scene, they would be amazed. The fierce beasts in this place actually surrounded the area and watched, but didn't dare to take a step forward. One of the golden monkeys even jumped up to the tree and swung on the tree vines with a few fruits it held with one hand against its chest, which it threw to Feng Jiu, then it jumped back up onto the tree and blinked at her.

When she saw the fruit that suddenly dropped, Feng Jiu was startled. She glanced at the monkey, then she picked up the fruit and wiped it clean and took a bite. Her eyes narrowed at the sweet and crisp taste of the fruit, and she said to the monkey: "Thank you."

"Squeak, squeak."

The monkey appeared to be very happy and scratched its body in its delight. Then, it jumped up and climbed along the branch and swung away. After a while, it came back with more fruit for Feng Jiu.

"Huh? Different types of fruit? Are there fruit trees here?" Feng Jiu asked in surprise as she looked at the golden monkey squatting at the side. It seemed that the monkey was no longer afraid of her. It didn't leave after it had delivered the fruits, but squatted there and looked at her.

Silver Ingot glanced at the monkey before saying to Feng Jiu: "Master, there is a cliff about five hundred metres away from here. There are some wild fruits growing on the mountainside of the cliff. This monkey has probably gone there to pick them."

"Oh." Feng Jiu nodded, then she put the fruits in front of her and said: "These fruits are quite delicious."

She said to the monkey: "Go and pick some more and I will reward you with a medicinal pill."

As soon as the monkey heard it, it squeaked and ran away and danced on the tree branches screaming. Gradually, it was as if the sounds of monkeys in the forest increased.

Feng Jiu smiled as she took out some spices and sprinkled it on the roast meat. She sliced a piece with a knife and tasted it, then she sliced another piece for the wolf. While she was eating the roast meat, the golden monkey came back. But what was different this time was that it was followed by dozens of monkeys each holding fresh fruit in their arms.

Feng Jiu watched in astonishment as the monkeys lined up to put the fresh fruit down, then walked in front of her orderly and jumped up to the tree and squatted there. Finally, a few stronger monkeys brought a large vat and put it down in front of her. The golden monkey jumped up and down and screamed pointing at the big vat, then looked expectantly at Feng Jiu.

When she saw this, her heart moved, could it be...

She stood up and lifted the lid of the big vat and smelled the strong aroma of the wine wafting out. She couldn't help but take a deep breath and inhaled the strong aroma scent into her body.

"What a fragrant monkey wine!"

Surprise burst into her eyes, and her face burst into a smile. She took a small wine glass out from space, then she scooped a glass of wine and tasted it. The rich spirit energy swayed at the tip of her tongue along with the mellow wine aroma. As she swallowed the wine, a burning sensation ignited in her body.

"It's indeed the highest quality of monkey wine!" She chuckled, then looked at the golden monkey and said: "I was originally only going to give you an ordinary medicinal pill, but since you have brought me such good monkey wine, naturally, I have to give you a decent gift in return."

She thought for a while, then she looked at the golden monkey and said: "How about I help you advance in cultivation?" She chuckled, then took out a medicinal pill from space and handed it to the golden monkey.

Chapter 2724: Forbidden

It was a brown medicinal pill about the size of a finger. Upon seeing this, the monkey hurriedly took it, as if it was afraid of being robbed by others, and hurriedly stuffed it into its mouth.

Feng Jiu chuckled when she saw this, then she stretched out her hand and placed the monkey wine in space. The wine made by the monkeys was something that couldn't be bought outside. This big vat of monkey wine would take many years of brewing before it was ready. Grandfather loved wine, if he saw this monkey wine, he would be very happy.

After that monkey had taken the medicinal pill and swallowed it, it left quickly, as if it was going back to its cave. The group of little monkeys also disappeared soon after.

After the human and beast had something to eat in the forest, they got up and left. The two of them walked forward, and the fierce beasts naturally made way for them. She walked to the cliff five hundred metres away and looked down.

When she saw that the cliff below was filled with mist, and a lush forest was faintly visible. In order to get to her destination, she had to pass through the forest below.

So, she called out her flying sword, then instructed the wolf to shrink itself, and they flew down together. However, as they lowered near the ground and passed through the mist, she faintly felt a powerful restraining force, and she lost control of her spirit energy suddenly, as if it had disappeared, and she lost her balance and fell down.

"Dammit!"

She cursed in a low voice, and amidst the mist, she saw a monkey running along the mountainside and squeaking as the monkey threw down a rattan at her. She immediately reached out and grabbed it to stabilise her falling body. When she looked back, she saw that Silver Ingot had jumped onto a stone protruding from the middle of the mountain about fifty metres below her and it looked up at her.

"Squeak squeak." The monkey squeaked as it sat on the large rock protruding from the mountainside and looked at Feng Jiu.

Feng Jiu glanced at them and said with a smile: "Thank you." Her hand loosened around the rattan, and she slid down using her feet to help her descend.

After about half an hour, she came to the bottom of the cliff. Silver Ingot jumped down and stopped at her feet and said: "Master, are you alright?"

"I'm fine, but my spirit energy seems to be blocked."

She frowned and said, the map hadn't indicated that there would be restrictions in this place. But now that there was, and she was unable to summon the spirit energy in her body. She didn't know if it was just this area, or whether it was the same inside.

“Let’s go!” She said, then patted her robe and walked towards the forest.

Maybe it was due to the lack of sun here, but the forest had a cold air, and there were weeds everywhere. The weeds were about half a foot high and she had to step to the side on the ground to make a path.

A small cyan snake was coiled up on a branch and its tongue slithered out. Its bloodthirsty and ferocious eyes stared at Feng Jiu, then suddenly, it shot out to bite her neck.

Feng Jiu’s eyes narrowed. At some point, her long sword appeared in her hand, and with a wave of her long sword, she chopped the snake into several pieces which landed on the grass. When she saw that the snake’s head was still twisting, her sharp sword pierced into the soil through the snake’s head, nailing the snake’s head into the ground.

She glanced at the snake, then into the forest within the mist ahead, she said to Silver Ingot: “Go into space” As soon as she had spoken, and before Silver Ingot could respond, she had already placed him into space.

When Silver Ingot entered space for the first time, he discovered several contract beasts whose strengths were not inferior to his, and it was startled...

Chapter 2725: Cannibal Forest

Cloud Devouring was lying by one side, and when it saw the silver wolf, not yet contracted by its Master, who had entered, it stared at the wolf for a while until the silver wolf shivered.

It thought that Master only had one contracted beast, so where did all those strange creatures, big and small, come from? Why were they all at Super Sacred Beast level? Hence, when it entered here in its Sacred Beast level, it had no choice but to bow down respectfully and restrain its ferociousness.

It was shocked by the self-contained world and unique pure spirit energy. It greedily breathed in the air inside, but didn’t dare to get too close to those beasts. Instead, it walked over to one side and lay down.

“Hey, newcomer, you’re still not Master’s contract beast yet.” Old White grinned and smiled as it stared at the silver wolf with its eyes. It walked forward step by step, wagging its tail and came to the silver wolf.

“Hey, get up, get up, let’s have a contest.” Old White touched the silver wolf with its hoof and signalled for it to stand up.

“No, you are a Super Sacred Beast, I can’t beat you.” Silver Ingot said cowardly, and shrunk back. Why did it feel just as dangerous inside as it did outside?

“I’m not strong in combat.” Old White said very modestly. But its grin that exposed its white teeth still caused Silver Ingot to tremble.

Feng Jiu, who was outside, didn’t know what they were doing inside. At this time, she was walking through the weeds that were half a person’s height. After she left that place, the restraint on her spirit energy seemed to have lifted, and the spirit energy in her body recovered.

What appeared in front of her was not a weed forest, but a messy forest of towering trees. What was strange was that all the leaves on the trees were red and there were sharp thorns growing on the tree trunks. As she looked around, there was no end to the red.

She had just walked through the forest of weeds and only just gotten an understanding of it. She couldn't see an end to the forest, but was it possible that the mist was blocking her view beyond the mangrove forest? After all, when she looked at the weeds earlier, all she could see were the trees and weeds, but not this strange mangrove forest.

She stood there and didn't move, and she didn't take a step forward, because she had a feeling that if she took a step into the forest, something might change. After all, this place gave her a very strange feeling, especially the sharp thorns on the tree trunks. It made her feel that this place was potentially very dangerous.

After staring ahead for a while, she took out the map and looked at it again. In the corner of the strange mangrove forest, she saw a label.

"Cannibal Forest?"

She murmured softly, surprised. Why was it called Cannibal Forest? Could it be that there were beasts in this forest? Still...

Her expression moved slightly, and her eyes fell on the red bloody leaves on the trees, as well as the sharp thorns on the tree trunks. It seemed that she had to enter the forest to find out why it was called Cannibal Forest.

After she collected her thoughts, she put the map away, then stepped forward. After she had walked about ten metres into the forest, the surroundings were still quiet, with only the slight rustling sound of light wind blowing through the leaves.

However, when she had walked about twenty metres inside the forest, she felt as if something had moved behind her. She glanced back, but it looked the same as before, she didn't see anything different. Until, when she turned around again, she saw the branches suddenly dancing around her.

Chapter 2726: Give Way

The dancing tree branches grabbed at her like ghost claws, and at the same time, the tree trunk opened a big hole, like there was a mouth within the tree, and there were sharp fangs inside it.

"Awooo..."

A ghostly howl that sounded like a cry sounded through the forest, and the dancing tree branches tried to sweep her into the big mouth that was open and oozing blood and juices.

When Feng Jiu saw this, Blue Edge appeared with a flash and she slashed out with her sword. The outstretched branch was cut off and fell to the ground. However, as soon as the tree branch was cut off, new buds grew and rushed out suddenly.

There were too many tangled branches around and their speed was very fast. She was unable to react in time and her foot was tangled and she was hung upside down in the air. The branches below stretched out and wrapped around her.

When she saw that the branches regenerated upon being chopped off, spirit energy surged in her body and she swiped her finger across Blue Edge. A flame burst out suddenly and permeated the long sword. As she swung the sword, the flames burned and the branches stopped growing.

The branch that was wrapped around her foot was about to throw her into the open mouth when she cut the branch that had entangled her foot. At the same time, her hand raised and a flame burst out and headed toward the bloodthirsty mouth below.

“Woosh! Bang!”

She only heard the sound of the flames rising below and a loud noise. The flames burnt the exposed mouth black and the smell of the burning radiated out, accompanied by a stench.

“Awooo...awooo!”

As if it was screaming, the tree gradually withered, and all the dancing branches hung down as if they had lost their vitality.

It made it easier for Feng Jiu to deal with them once she had discovered the fatal points of the trees. In less than half an hour, one by one, the trees closed their mouths and the dancing branches stretched backwards not daring to touch her.

Feng Jiu glanced at this, then put the long sword in her hand away. She flicked her robe and brushed off the red leaves on her shoulders, then she walked forward. The branches that were blocking her way in front automatically made way for her. From the looks of it, the roots of the trees were unable to move, otherwise they would have probably pulled the roots up and hidden away from her.

In the mangrove forest, the red leaves drifted with the wind and fell to the ground. On the path where the large tree had made way for the red figure, the red figure walked slowly, as if stepping on wind. Her robes fluttered lightly and so did her ink coloured hair, like a fairy that had come down to the mortal world. Her back seemed to be integrated with the surroundings and was already as beautiful as a painting...

However, with the arrival of the evening, the gloomy and cold air inside the forest became more and more intense. The ground was covered with red leaves, and wisps of ghosts condensed suddenly and followed behind Feng Jiu but were unable to get close.

Feng Jiu, who had been walking slowly, seemed aware of it. She stopped and looked back, and at the same time, the ghosts hid quickly.

As she looked at the yin qi that permeated through the forest, her eyes flashed slightly and she said coldly: “You better not follow me, otherwise don’t blame me for being rude!”

Her icy voice spread out with a powerful pressure and shook the fallen leaves of the forest. The ghosts who were hiding glanced faintly at her, then retreated.

Chapter 2727: Alone

She continued to walk forward, and as the night fell, she still hadn't walked out of the mangrove forest. So, she found a place and sat down. She lit a fire and rested.

The deep and cold mangrove forest was silent, only a cluster of flames danced about in the forest. Feng Jiu, who was sitting by the fire dressed in red, seemed to be integrated with her surroundings.

A group of people were walking in the forest and vaguely saw the flames dancing in the forest. The leader of the group paused and said to the people behind him: "There seems to be a fire over there. Could someone be sleeping in the forest at night?"

"Who would dare to sleep here? He's really not afraid of death!" The man behind him said and turned his head toward the direction of the flames.

"We've been in this forest for several days and have been unable to get out, tell you what! Let's go and see who that person up ahead is, and see if the opposition knows how to get out of this forest."

When they heard the words of their leader, the people behind him thought for a while, then nodded in response: "Alright." So, the group walked in that direction, and the surrounding leaves automatically avoided them when they touched them. Obviously, they had also been dealt with by those people previously.

Feng Jiu was drinking monkey wine under the tree when she heard footsteps coming towards her. She squinted and looked in the direction of the footsteps. After a while, she saw that there were more than twenty torches moving towards her. At first glance, the jumping flames were like ghosts at night.

She looked that way to those people, so of course they looked the same to her.

When they came towards the flames, they saw the fire burning in the distance, and when they looked again, they only saw the head of a man staring at them. It was late at night, and when they saw him staring at them like that, they were so frightened that they ran ahead to see what was going on and exclaimed.

"What the hell!"

Feng Jiu was startled, she glanced at those people with a strange expression, then she lowered her head and looked at her red clothes and chuckled: "I am not a ghost."

Upon hearing the laughter, the two men were still a little wary. It wasn't until they had looked closely that they saw it was a young man in a red robe. The ambiguity before became clear and there was also relief in their hearts.

"I thought you were a ghost! You gave me a fright when I saw a head staring at us. What the hell." One of the men muttered as he approached and looked at Feng Jiu's body.

"Don't be presumptuous."

The leader of the group shouted with a sullen face and glanced at the young man. The man had wanted to speak, but when he saw her look, he closed his mouth and went back.

The young man looked at the red-clothed boy sitting down and concealed his surprise. He cupped his hands: "Don't take offence, Your Excellency, my brother means no harm."

Feng Jiu smiled and glanced at the young man who spoke and said: "It's fine." She continued drinking and tasted the monkey wine carefully.

Upon hearing this, the young man asked: "Are you alone? I wonder if we can accompany you?"

When she heard this, Feng Jiu raised her brows slightly and looked at that young man without smiling.

Chapter 2728: White Jade Gourd

"It's just me alone, you have a whole team, why do you want to come with me?" She said casually with a smile.

When the middle-aged man heard this, he smiled: "To tell you the truth, we have been trapped here for several days and haven't been able to get out of the forest. When I saw Your Excellency here, I thought that maybe Your Excellency can take us out of the forest."

He didn't hide his intentions, and stated his plans. In his opinion, it was extraordinary that this young man had dared to come here alone. Not to mention that their team was trapped here, and though he was alone, he was idle, so he must have a plan.

Those who could come to this place were no ordinary people. Even if the young man in front of him didn't appear to be very strong, he didn't dare to be careless and offend him easily.

"I see!" Feng Jiu held her chin in one hand and stared at him for a while, then she said: "It's fine for me to take you out of the forest, but it should be beneficial to me too, don't you think?"

Everyone who heard this was stunned for a while. They had never met a young man like this who would ask for benefits. Though they were astonished, when they thought about it, it was actually quite normal.

If he showed them the way out of this hellish place, it only seemed fair that he deserved some favours from them.

For a while, the people behind him looked at their middle-aged leader, as if they were waiting for him to make a decision.

The middle-aged man looked at the red-clothed boy sitting idly and didn't respond directly, but asked: "I wonder, what would you like as a reward?"

"I don't want any gold or silver or jewellery. I can accept any strange things or precious elixirs." She smiled and looked at the middle-aged man as she watched him deep in thought.

The team behind didn't speak, they just stared at Feng Jiu and observed her quietly.

The middle-aged man thought about it and took some items out of space, then he put it in front of him: "Your Excellency, is there anything you like?" It was normal for young people to like strange things, but why did they need precious elixirs? What need could he have for it?

Feng Jiu looked at the things in front of her and saw several elixirs, but they weren't precious or rare. So she only glanced at them, then turned her eyes to those little items.

They weren't little items that were placed in street and alley stalls. In her opinion, those items were more like small gifts, probably things that he wanted to bring home.

While she was thinking, she heard the voice of the middle-aged man.

"Some of these items were things that I collected on my journey, some of them I bought to take home. In fact, I was going to take them home as gifts. It just depends whether Your Excellency likes any of them."

Feng Jiu's fingers swept over the items and finally landed on a white jade gourd the size of a palm. She picked it up and looked at it, finally, she said: "Fine, this will do!" Although the items were ordinary, she liked the white jade gourd.

The middle-aged man couldn't help but be stunned when he saw this and glanced at Feng Jiu with a strange expression. He had found the white jade gourd in the forest, and when he realised that it was a magic weapon, he had cleaned it and prepared to bring it back for his children. He hadn't expected the young man to take a fancy to it.

Chapter 2729: Young Master Jiu

"Sit down! We will leave at dawn." Feng Jiu said. She played with the white jade gourd in her hand and didn't look at them again.

When the middle-aged man heard her words, he waved his hand and gestured to the people behind him to rest here. So, another fire was lit, and one of them also put up a defensive array around them.

"My surname is He, and my name is Shu. May I know how I should address Your Excellency?" The middle-aged man asked, and came to sit by the fire in front of the young boy.

"You may call me Young Master Jiu." Feng Jiu said without raising her head.

He Shu nodded his head upon hearing this: "Young Master Jiu, you're here alone, I wonder where are you headed?"

Feng Jiu raised her eyes and glanced at him with a smile on her lips, and she said: "I'm just walking around for fun."

The entire He Family were startled, walking around here for fun? Who would have believed it? This was not a place for fun, if you weren't careful, you could die here.

When He Shu was about to ask something else, he saw that the young man had hung the white jade gourd he was playing with around his waist and then leant against the tree and fell asleep. When he looked at the tree again, he realised that although the tree had been chopped, it looked like it was dehydrated.

When he saw that the other party wasn't interested in talking, he didn't say anymore but got up and walked back to his group and sat down amongst them. He said to everyone: "Hurry up and rest, there is a long journey ahead tomorrow!"

That night, surprisingly, nothing happened. Feng Jiu opened her eyes in the middle of the night and looked around only to see a few ghosts floating around but didn't dare to approach.

She supposed, with the strength and masculinity of those people, how would a few ghosts dare to come forward?

A good night's sleep, until the next morning.

The fire went out, she simply washed herself with water and adjusted her robes, then she took out some fruit to eat and looked at the He Family. Everyone got up quickly and in a few moments, they were ready.

She raised her eyebrows and when she saw that He Shu had come forward, she said: "Let's go!" She walked in front of them and led the way.

Everyone in the group glanced at her, and amongst them, a man walking behind couldn't help but muttered: "This Young Master Jiu is so young, and his strength is not very strong, can he really get out of this Ghost Forest? He's not fooling us, is he?"

A man next to him smiled and said loudly: "I don't think so, he dared to come in here alone, it's obvious that he is an extraordinary person."

"That's true, most people who enter this place would have died ages ago." The man nodded in agreement. So, he stopped talking and walked quietly behind her, paying attention to the movements around him at the same time.

After walking for two hours, they noticed that the young boy in red clothes in front of them had been eating fruit the whole time. As they listened to the crisp chewing sound, they couldn't help but feel envious.

One didn't come to this place as they pleased, they could only search for wild fruit in the forest, but the wild fruits in the forest were too sour. However, the way the young man in front of them ate the fruits, as if they were sweet and juicy, they couldn't help but swallow from time to time.

They didn't know how long they had been walking, they only knew that the person in front was walking faster and faster, so their footsteps also quickened. In the end, they all seemed to be trotting along. For a while, their attention was only on the red figure in front of them, for fear that if they were careless, the red-clothed boy would disappear.

Chapter 2730: Move The Golden Lotus

Because of this, when she suddenly stopped in front of them, they were all startled and didn't know why, so they asked: "What's the matter? Why aren't we walking anymore?"

Feng Jiu, who was in front, turned around and looked at them calmly, and said with a smile: "We've already left the forest, everyone, you can do as you please." Having said that, she flicked her robe and swept up on her toes away with the breeze, leaving everyone staring wide-eyed in astonishment.

They glanced around and murmured in exclamation: "We've already left the forest?"

"How did we get out? We walked for a few days and we still couldn't get out of that ghost forest, but we got out this time?"

He Shu looked at the red-clothed youth who had disappeared and murmured: "Sure enough, people who enter this forest are not ordinary people!"

No wonder the young boy dared to enter this place alone. This person's cultivation base should be far above theirs! Otherwise, why would he dare to travel alone?

"Well, let's continue our journey." He turned around and said, then continued to move forward with his team.

Feng Jiu went towards the front of the forest along with the wind. She was alone and at ease, she didn't have to wait for anyone. Her speed was much faster than before. Along the way, she followed the directions on the map without taking any detours. After a few days, she arrived at the centre of the island where the Immortal Ascension Ladder was located.

"Is this it?" She murmured softly. Her red figure floated down and she looked at her surrounding environment. She saw mountains and peaks towering high, as if submerged in the clouds.

The place where she was standing was empty, there wasn't even a rock in sight, not to mention trees and the like. However, there was a dark green lake in the middle with smoke curling above the lake. She vaguely saw a lotus flower blooming in the lake.

"What?"

She couldn't help but let out a small gasp as she walked up and came to the side of the lake. The water of the lake was green, the surface of the water was clear but the inside of the lake was dark and she couldn't see the depth of the water. But above this lake were lotus blossoms blooming. The lotuses were golden in colour and its spirit energy condensed. At a quick count, there were nine golden lotuses.

"The multiples of nine? This golden lotus is quite unique." She murmured softly. Her eyes swept over the lotuses and landed on the lotus pods, which appeared to be full of lotus seeds.

"This lake is strange, I wonder if it can be moved into space? To become a scene in my space?" She made up her mind and stared at the dark green lake. She saw that no one was around, so she walked around and checked carefully.

The water source of the lake was probably the geocentric water of the Penglai Immortal Island. If this was the case, it may be difficult to move into space, and the consumption of her spirit energy would be very large. But if only the golden lotus were to be harvested without moving the lake, it would be a waste.

So, she thought about it and finally decided to move the lake into space. Besides, her space was self-contained, even if there was more lake water, it could still accommodate it.

Her heart was decided, and she used her spirit energy as her guide. As soon as she thought about it, the atmosphere around the place suddenly changed, and the water surface of the lake trembled with layers of ripples swaying...

The powerful suction rolled under the lake as she introduced the lake water into the place in space where the lake would be situated, then she moved the golden lotuses into space. However, when she wanted to stop, she found that the lake water was swaying like a dragon's tail, it was so turbulent that the surrounding ground was shaking...
