Chapter 118

Chuck picked up his phone upon hearing the notification. www.NoVeLs.com

His phone slipped out of his hand.

He quickly picked it up again, carefully examining the message to confirm it was from Yohan.

Chuck didn't reply to Yohan right away. Instead, he took a screenshot and sent it to Mandy.

Then he recorded a voice message for Mandy.

"Mandy, look at this message Yohan sent me! You'd better go outside and check if the sun is rising from the west today. It's such a rare sight to see him feeling guilty!"

Mandy called Chuck immediately after seeing his message.

"Make sure that Yohan doesn't find out you took a screenshot, I can see that he trusted you so much that you were the first one in his mind to seek help from. But you didn't help out, instead you shared his texts around and laughed at him! He's so unlucky to have a friend like you!"

After that, she chuckled, "I feel he and Clara have something going on. Wait and see; he'll understand what love is all about in under six months."

"Six months? I thought it would take a year. He's not in love yet; he's just feeling guilty. He thinks he upset someone, and that's why he's asking me for advice," Chuck said.

He understood his friend well. Yohan was currently feeling purely guilty.

Mandy didn't want to argue with him.

Although she had a somewhat masculine personality, she was still a girl. She would have a more delicate perspective.

Yohan had offended many people, and there were plenty of people who were mad at him; did he care about them?

Perhaps he didn't love Clara now, but since she was in the position of his wife, Clara was special to Yohan. And because she was special, he would pay her more attention. Upsetting Clara would bring him guilt. "Chuck, I'm busy, so I'll hang up now. I'll see you tonight Mandy excused herself.

She had to attend a banquet at Morris Corporation that evening. Although she disliked attending such events, she felt she had to show up since Yohan had sent her an invitation and Chuck had asked her to attend.

She wanted to support her two good friends.

"Alright, you focus on what you're doing. I'll reply to Yohan and give him a nudge. We may be able to attend a wedding soon," Chuck joked.

After ending the call with Mandy, Chuck wanted to respond to Yohan but noticed that Yohan had retracted his message.. www.NoVeLs.com

Chuck smiled and whispered, "Good thing I took a screenshot."

He sent Yohan a message.

"Did you call Clara crazy to her face? Of course, she's upset. Even if she were truly crazy, she wouldn't admit it. The best way to fix this is to apologize directly. Then, give her a bouquet or a gift as compensation. Clara is good-natured; as long as you apologize, she'll forgive you quickly," the message

Chuck sent several messages to Yohan but was ignored. He wondered if Yohan would take his advice.

On the other side, Yohan stared at the messages Chuck had sent. After a period of contemplation, he glanced at the woman still admiring the scenery, and unexpectedly realized how beautiful her profile was. www.NoVeLs.com

Perhaps Yohan had been looking at her for too long, so Clara felt she couldn't pretend not to notice.

She turned around, meeting his dark eyes, and smiled brightly. Her smile was radiant like the sun in the sky.

"Mr. Morris, I feel like I'm being stared at," she teased. "If you have something to say, just say it. Don't look at me like that; I may think you fell for me."

Yohan maintained a stoic expression and replied, "Dont worry, I will never fall in love with you!"

"And about last night... I'm sorry."

Yohan stood up and walked out of the pavilion after saying that.
