

Wife 126

Chapter 126

Clara would become the most beautiful woman at the event if she wore makeup. She might attract unwanted attention and even cause trouble for Evelyn Workplace politics were fierce. Many people had their eyes on Evelyn in her current position.

Clara quickly went downstairs. WwW.NoVELwO©m.cOm

Yohan heard her footsteps and looked up. He saw Clara hurrying down in an elegant dress, holding her handbag.

“Where are you going?”

She looked so dressed up. It was like she was heading out on a date.

Yohan couldn’t help but ask her.

“I’m accompanying a friend to an event.”

Clara didn’t tell Yohan she would also be attending the Morris family’s anniversary gala.

She thought that with so many people at the event, Yohan would naturally be the center of attention as Morris Corporation’s head. He wouldn’t notice someone like her upon being surrounded by business bigwigs.

There was no harm in not telling him.

After all, their agreement stated that they would not interfere in each other’s personal lives.

“Mr. Morris, can I ask a favor from you?”

Yohan’s voice was deep. “What is it?”

“I’ll be drinking tonight, so I can’t drive. Can you have Bruce drop me off somewhere? I’ll take a cab from there’

Yohan frowned. He didn’t like how Clara was being so distant.

He did not answer her but immediately called the guard and said, “Arrange for a car to send Ms. Fowler to her destination.”

The guard respectfully did as he was told.

“Thank you, Mr. Morris. My friend is waiting for me. I’ll Head out now.”

Clara waved goodbye to Yohan and quickly followed the guard outside.

After she left, Yohan turned to look at the direction she had gone. He seemed to be in deep thought. WwW.NoVELwO(r)m.Com

The guard knew that Clara was only familiar with William and Bruce. Since William was Yohan’s driver, he couldn’t be assigned to drive Clara. So, the guard kindly informed Bruce to take Clara out.

Bruce was very willing to do so.

He had found out that Clara was Yohan’s wife. Although Yohan had not made it public, Bonnie had confirmed it. Yohan had not officially told the staff about it, as it was a rushed marriage. The couple also had no feelings for each other.

Bruce treated Clara with even more respect now.

He drove an armored car. After leaving the residence with Clara, he asked, “Ms. Fowler, where are we heading to? The guard told me to take you directly to your destination.”

“The Morris Corporation.”

“The Morris Corporation?”

Bruce glanced at Clara before refocusing on the road ahead.

“Are you going to the gala?”

Clara nodded. “My friend works at the Morris Corporation and holds a mid–level management position. She was given an opportunity to attend tonight’s gala and can bring a guest. She’s single and far from home. She gave me this chance to broaden my horizons.”

“Does Mr. Morris know you’re attending the gala?” Bruce asked.

What would Yohan think if he saw Clara at the gala? wWw.NoV©L©w©(r)©.C(o)m

Other than Morris Corporation’s arch–rivals, major business leaders and celebrities were all attending tonight’s gala. Naturally, there would also be many of Yohan’s admirers.

How would Clara feel if she saw many young women flocking around him?

“He doesn’t know. This is my own matter. Mr. Morris doesn’t need to know about this, just like how he doesn’t have to share his business with me,” Clara answered honestly.

They had agreed not to interfere with each other’s lives.

She intended to stick to that agreement.
