

Gacha 1051

Chapter 1051 - Lake Inside A Mountain

"Fufu, you look good." Silvia chuckled when she saw Axis with new clothes. They had been trying several clothes already to see which one suit him the most. However, Axis seemed to have no interest in clothes, so Silvia and Alex decided on his clothes.

As for where the money came from? It was obviously from the gold coin Alex had. Although he couldn't show the identification proof, he still got enough money to cover up their expenses for a month. And the Gold Coins were nothing in his eyes, so it wasn't a loss.

After getting the clothes, Silvia asked, "Do you think we should go separate ways? I am planning to check the medicine in this world while you are searching for treasures, right?"

Alex nodded. "I don't really mind, but I feel bad because—"

Silvia covered his mouth gently and shook her head. "It's fine. You don't need to think about me. Having you as a boyfriend is enough for now, so I don't wish for more because we need to make a stronger bond that can't easily get destroyed by a simple misunderstanding. That's why..."

"I understand. Let's go with it. However, there should be a time where we spend together in this world. It's not like you are planning to use every second to study, right?" Alex smiled.

"Fine. We will have a vacation somewhere."

Alex then asked the staff near them. "Excuse me, how many days in this month again?"

"It's thirty-two days."

"What date is today?" Alex asked embarrassedly.

The staff thought that Alex must haven't gone out too often because of work or something to the point he couldn't remember the date. She took a look at his beautiful wife and a small kid before shaking her head in disappointment. "6th."

"I see, thank you." Alex scratched his head helplessly.

The staff looked away. She just couldn't believe that someone as handsome as Alex would be this careless with his wife and kid.

Alex smiled and returned to Silvia. "How about we do whatever we want until next month. I will find you again on 1st next month."

"Sure." Silvia agreed.

Alex then waited until they settled everything and left the mall.

"Hmm..." Alex narrowed his eyes. "You felt them?"

"Yes. I thought they were normal customers, but it seemed they were not."

"Indeed." Alex thought for a moment. "Let me handle this."

"I understand."

"How about we go to the nearest mountain? I think it's a good place for our holiday. I will survey the area first today after checking in the hotel." Alex smiled.

"That's a great idea. Let's go then." Silvia agreed without hesitation.

They then walked the street. When Alex saw a hotel, he pulled Silvia and went in.

"Can I help you?" The receptionist politely greeted them. Luckily, there seemed to be only one receptionist currently. Usually, there should be one or two more, but they seemed to have a break or go to the restroom. Either way, everything worked excellently.

"Is there any empty room for three?" Alex asked.

"Yes."

"I will have that one then for one night." Alex smiled.

"I understand. I would like to ask you to leave your ID Card first and proceed with the payment."

Silvia knew that they didn't have an ID Card, so she quickly used her needles to control her for a few seconds to deal with all the necessities. Of course, he gave the money. He only used her ID Card to register him.

After getting the key, Alex led them to the elevator and opened the room.

"Alright. I need to get going. With the security here, I doubt that they will try to come for you. Just stay here for a few hours and everything should have been resolved." Alex assured her.

"Yes. Don't need to worry about us." Alex smiled and left the room.

He secretly went to the top floor to see where the nearest mountain was. After that, he baited all the undercover people by walking with a clueless expression toward the nearest mountain.

One of the undercover people called someone on his phone. "Young Miss, we have found him."

"Good." The Young Miss in his mouth was none other than the green-haired woman earlier. Next to him was a young man with the same uniform as her. "Young Master Li, I need your help to teach this guy a lesson. He shamed me and even forced me into this state. I will marry you if you can bring him to me so I can kill him myself. How about it?"

"Hahaha! I will show you why people call me a genius." The young man laughed as he rose from the couch. The woman he had troubled with was in trouble, so this would be the best chance to show her his good side.

Suddenly, her grandfather came into the room and watched everything happen earlier. He gnashed his teeth and shouted. "An! What the heck are you doing?"

"Grandpa. He did all this to me and you didn't want to take revenge? Am I really your granddaughter?"

The grandfather gritted his teeth. "You don't know anything. Ah, it seems to be the end of my Xi Family."

"Grandpa! You—" The woman shouted. "I will let you see that he is just acting big. Young Master Li is the best of the younger generation. You always want me to be his wife, right? Now I have given him a chance, you are trying to stop me?!"

The grandfather gritted his teeth and left in anger. However, deep down, he was filled with regret as he muttered in sorrow. "Ah, I have really spoiled my granddaughter too much to the point she is beyond redemption. That person is not something you have ever seen before...I need to do something."

While the grandfather tried to do everything he could, Alex was walking toward the nearest mountain nonchalantly as if he never knew that there were many people tailing him.

Alex climbed the mountain that only needed fifteen minutes to climb and found a giant lake inside the mountain's mouth.

"Hmm..." Alex narrowed his eyes. "This is interesting."

Although it was faint, he could sense Divine Energy permeating the lake. When he activated his Spirit Eyes, he saw something with Divine Energy.

"Hmm?" Alex tilted his head before finding someone on the edge of the crater.

He was bald and wore an orange and red uniform. On his forehead were a few dots. His appearance was like that of a senior monk that seemed to have served the monastery for decades.

"Amithaba. Nice to meet you, visitor." The old monk bowed his head politely and asked. "Are you on vacation?"

"Not really?" Alex shook his head.

"I see... I don't know why but I have a bad feeling that will happen to you. I don't mean to curse you, but every time I go here, I can somehow see someone's karma. Your karma is neither good nor bad, but at the same time, they are bountiful. You must have done many things in your life."

Alex waved his hand, telling him it wasn't a big deal. "So, may I know why Elder thinks this way?"

"I am not too sure myself, but I believe in one legend. According to the legend, there is a green dragon living in the lake, but no one can find him, so it's never been proven."

Alex thought for a moment and recalled what he saw with his Spirit Eyes. The Divine Energy was weak, but he could see it had a shape. And it was quite long too, so Alex believed that it came from the dragon.

He thought, 'Why can a Divine Rank Beast stay in this world?'

[I am afraid that this beast has a pact with the World's Will. And with how weak you the dragon is, he must have no strength to leave this world.]

'Well, I can just ask the dragon for that.' Alex stared at the monk mysteriously before asking a weird question. "What if I tell you the dragon does exist in this lake?"

The monk's expression turned serious. As much as he didn't want to trust this young man's word, he didn't know why but his words carried so much persuasive power. Along with his serious expressions, he simply couldn't brush his words away easily.

"Amithaba. That is indeed a dream come true."

"You are really a good person despite having that power in your body." Alex smiled. "Please continue being so."

"You know?" The monk was surprised and observed Alex more.

"Yes. No need to observe me." Alex shook his head before turning around. "It seems there are people who want to accompany me... Old monk, I don't mean to be rude, but I have two things to say. First of all, I would like to ask you to not interfere with this matter even if you want to stop what I am doing. Second, I will grant your wish after everything is over."

"Amithaba. May I know how many people you have killed?" The old man shivered when he sensed a little bit of Alex killing intent that leaked out of his eyes.

"It's better you don't know. I have been trying to do good to match the bad things I have done." Alex shook his head and walked forward.

In front of him were thirty people in black suits. All of them had good body build.

However, Alex also saw someone walking behind them. He wore a white uniform as he glared at Alex. He couldn't contain his excitement to see how he beat Alex and got married to the woman he loved.

"Hear me, puny human. Feel honored that you shall be my sacrifice to get the Xi An's heart. You—"

"Alright, you don't need to tell me more. I already understand what happened." Alex cut his sentence and sighed. "I have warned them to not do anything, but it seems Axis's wish needs to become true as soon as possible."

Before the so-called Young master Li could say something, he released his killing intent, enveloping all of them, including the old monk. However, he didn't do like what he did to the old man's bodyguard. He gave them a breather while saying. "You are being used...You know."

"I haven't tried to not offend someone, but it doesn't mean that they can think lowly of me. Yet, they used you to catch me...This is laughable. After feeling my killing intent, if you still desire to defeat me, feel free to do so. As for those people with the suits, I know that you are paid for this. If you want to leave, it's better to do now because I guarantee that today will be the day you die." Alex calmly looked at those people.

The Young Master gritted his teeth. There was no way he would have given up after getting so close to his goal. He shouted. "I am the son of Grandmaster Li. I will show you the strength of Martial Arts."

Alex ignored him and looked at the bodyguards. "This is your last warning."

"I am sorry, Young Master Li. I can't do this! I don't know how many people he has killed, but it is no less than a thousand." A few bodyguards ran as fast as they could.

"What?!" The Young Master gritted his teeth and ordered. "Kill him!"

All the bodyguards charged at him while sweat covered their bodies.

"I see..." Alex sighed. "That's your choice. I hope that you don't need to endanger your life for money in your next lives."

Alex gently waved his hand, but his Sword Qi and Sword Intent swept the area, cutting all the bodyguard heads in an instant.

The old monk opened his eyes wide as he couldn't understand what Alex just did. The same applied to the young man. He never saw something like that even from his father despite him saying he had shown everything to him.

Before focusing on the young man, Alex turned his head to the lake and said, "Hey, buddy. I know that you have sensed my killing intent too. How about you come out?"

As if answering his request, a figure emerged from the water as it floated in the air.

The old monk dropped on his butt as he recalled what Alex said earlier.

I will grant your wish...

Chapter 1052 - Divine Punishment

The young man was too shocked when he saw a dragon. His body refused to move even though he wanted to leave immediately. This was the first time he saw a dragon, but he was sure that a creature like this was far stronger than him.

The dragon that emerged from the lake had white skin on the inside, while the scales were mostly green.

However, Alex could see the huge disturbance in his Divine Energy and asked. "You are injured?"

"I have never thought that I can meet another God Rank Expert in this world. I don't know why you can hide your power, but I have certainly sensed your Divine Intent. May I know your title?" The dragon politely asked.

"How about you answer my question first and I will answer your question? The old rule." Alex narrowed his eyes.

The dragon thought for a moment and nodded. Even though he could feel that Alex's strength was below him, he still had no strength to defeat Alex, so it was better to solve this whole situation peacefully.

However, to the two people besides them, this was the one that almost took their lives with just how shocking this matter had become.

God Rank Expert?

Divine Intent?

God does really exist and he has descended?

And what about the dragon?

It was also considered Divine Being.

The young man looked at Alex with fear as he thought, 'Did I just offend a God? This is not the matter of mortals anymore... That bitch! If I can leave this place alive, I will kill that b*tch.'

"Yes, I was and am still injured. Back then, I fell into this world after roaming to many worlds. However, I knew that my existence would bring so much evolution to the world, so I made a pact to let me stay in this world. Unfortunately, this world didn't have enough energy to let me recover, so I thought I would stay here until the end of my life. In other words, it is my retirement place."

Alex nodded in understanding and answered his question. "I have no definite title, but the closest one to me is Gacha God."

"I see. It's a pleasure to meet you, I am known as Green Divine Dragon."

"May I know about your pact?"

The dragon nodded. "You should know that there is a chance that a Divine Herb can appear even in a world like this, right?"

"Yes."

"I planned to use it to recover, but it seemed to not possible. After waiting for five hundred years, I haven't gotten anything that can heal my injury. As for the reason why I can stay in this world...If a Divine Herb can be here without interfering with the world, why can't I?"

Alex thought for a moment. "I see. Unlike the Spiritual Energy, we can stay here as long as we don't have too much Divine Energy."

"Exactly." The dragon nodded. "This is not a question, but a request. May I ask you to bring me out of this world, so I can recover in another world?"

"What can you offer?" Alex asked.

"I am not very sure. I don't search for treasures or anything, so I don't know what I can give you." The dragon shook his head. "If you want something, I can help fulfill your desire."

Alex used his Spirit Eyes and asked, "How about having a contract with me?"

"A contract? You should know that it's not an easy decision, right? For us, a contract is a sacred thing that can't be decided easily as it will bind two parties together."

"Of course. I know that your strength is Rank 3 God. However...What about this..."

Alex's Pure Fire soared to the air as it turned into a fox. That power quickly suppressed the dragon's fire element.

Alex looked at this hundred meters long dragon and asked. "This is not an ordinary one."

"I am afraid it's still not possible. It's truly a blessing to have a master who has a Pure Fire, but that is not enough."

Alex smiled. The fox shrunk and turned into animal parts on his body as Alex used the Elemental Suppression to another level.

"!!!" The dragon widened his eyes. "What is this power? I can't even move my body? Even facing a Pure Fire, I can still move my body, but in front of—"

Before he completed his sentence, he remembered what Alex said earlier. "You...You..."

Alex smiled. "You seem to have recognized this flame. I would like to ask you again, what do you think about a contract?"

The dragon narrowed his eyes.

"I don't really mind if you don't want to. Just promise me to never tell or give a hint about my existence. Besides, my wife is the Celestial Fox and her fire has reached the same level as mine. I can't promise you that you will reach that level, but you will surely become far stronger in the future." Alex smiled.

The dragon closed his eyes. "May I know why you want me?"

"There is no particular reason. You are strong, so I want you."

"I see. The same reason, I guess." The dragon thought for a moment. "I can offer you a life and death contract, but I would like to state two conditions."

"Sure."

"First. I don't want to be only a sacrificial creature."

"At that time, you are already like my family. I better fight until I die than sacrificing my family."

"Then, I would also like some freedom. I have a wish, so I don't like being bound every single second."

"You have your own freedom. Even the other contracted beasts have their own desires and I have no intention to stop them, but I would like you to lend your strength when it's necessary."

"In that case, it's settled." The dragon bowed his head as the two seemed to connect their energy, forming the contract.

On Alex's back, a pair of dragon horns appeared on top of Sherry's fox symbol, but no one saw it yet.

At the same time, the dragon felt his body was connected to Alex's Pure Fire and enjoyed the baptism inside his body.

"It seems like you need to have a deep sleep." Alex observed the dragon's body with his Spirit Eyes. "If you want, you can turn smaller and hide inside my pocket or my Pure Fire. I am sure that most of your physical injuries will be healed by that time. You can then take your time to heal your inner injuries."

The dragon nodded before turning to the monk. He stretched his hand to the monk and gently tapped his forehead with the tip of his claw.

The forehead suddenly glowed and turned into a dot.

"You have been here for ten years, hoping to see me. This is a reward for your perseverance. I know that you have your own religion, so I don't need you to respect me or anything. This is a bit of my energy that will protect you until you die. If you really want to pay me back, you may live your life according to your teaching. That's all." The dragon's gentle voice touched the monk's heart.

"This..." The old monk gasped. "I understand. To think that at this age, I would have actually met a celestial being. I wish to meet the God I believe in, but it seems I don't have the chance in this life. However, I would still follow your word because even if I can't meet my own God, other people might see him in the future. I will offer the last bit of energy that I have to go out of the monastery and spread the love."

The dragon nodded and turned to the young man next to Alex. "Master...Do you want me to kill him?"

"It's fine." Alex shook his head. "He still has his use. You should recover first."

"I understand." The dragon shrank and entered his body. He hid inside Alex's Pure Fire like what Sherry and the others did in the past.

When everything finished, Alex turned to the monk. "Will you judge me for what I have done earlier?"

"Amithaba. Mortal laws are not qualified to judge a being such as you. This puny monk would like to apologize if I have offended you in any way." The monk shook his head. "Besides, rather than dying here, it's better to spread love and happiness to the world. Thank you for teaching me this, I would have lived my life to the fullest."

Alex touched his forehead and used his Pure Fire to burn anything that wasn't supposed to be there.

"With this, you shouldn't fall sick anymore. Treasure your life, Old monk."

"Amithaba." The monk politely bowed to him.

Alex then turned around, walking toward the young man.

"I didn't know your holiness's status. Please forgive this insignificant human. I—"

"Enough. I have given you the choices, but you don't treasure it." Alex shook his head. "Show me the way to the so-called Xi Family."

"Ye-yes." The young man repeatedly nodded while thinking that a Divine Judgment would soon fall.

Alex didn't forget about the corpses. He snapped his finger as his Pure Fire burned the bodies and evaporated the corpses.

The monk and the young man were shocked when Alex only burned all the things related to the humans he killed. No grass or any other things were harmed by the flame.

The bloodied ground had returned to its former state as if nothing happened.

They truly believed that Alex was indeed a God.

"Show me the way." Alex then narrowed his eyes, pressuring the young man.

"Yes, yes." The young man quickly guided Alex down the mountain. Since Alex didn't say anything, he didn't dare to get the car that brought him to the foot of the mountain. He simply rushed to the Xi Family, hoping to not be acquainted with them anymore.

It took them an hour to reach the Xi Family, but both still had a calm face as if the journey was nothing tiring. However, if one took a closer look, the young man had a stressful expression.

"Xi An, you b*tch. Come here now!" The young man shouted in front of their garden.

The moment all the people in the house heard that, they came out of the house. It turned out that only two people were left in this house. Even Alex's Spirit Eyes told him so.

"Haha! You are back. I will torture you first and have you fixed this arm of mine. After that, I will make you feel dying is better than living." Xi An laughed uncontrollably.

However, the old man seemed to have found something between the young man and Alex. He mysteriously asked, "Killing is against the law..."

"Shut up, you old man." The young man snarled. "Mortal laws are not applicable. You have invited the wrath of God, you should—Ah!"

Alex's Pure Fire burned him into nothingness. Even his ashes had been burned. "You said too much. I didn't promise you can live too."

"!!!" Xi An widened her eyes when she saw the young man died. Meanwhile, the old man sighed. "I had expected some things after the first meeting, but it seemed I underestimated the whole situation. Luckily, I have forced all people in the house and out here. This lowly one would like to ask your holiness to limit this matter to this lowly life because everything happened due to me."

"You are always too late to act." Alex shook his head and snapped his finger. His Pure Fire burned the house down in two seconds until nothing left. No one could even see how the flame devoured the house, but the old man perfectly understood what kind of being he had offended.

"Yes. Even so, there is no grandfather who would like to die after watching his granddaughter die. So...This lowly life will offend your holiness once again even if it means I need to go to hell." The old man smiled and took a step forward, trying to protect his granddaughter.

Alex snapped his finger again and burned him in an instant, not letting him feel pain when he died.

"Ah... Thank you for your last goodwill. This lowly one regrets everything he has done..." The old man sighed and finally disappeared to nothingness.

"You-you-you-you—" Xi An looked at Alex with fear. She had many thoughts in her mind, but Alex didn't even let her think and kill her. "I have no time to deal with you."

This would lead to many stories because the old man's left a will for all his sons and daughters, saying that everything was his fault and not to seek anything from it, especially revenge.

The media would keep showing it to the masses for a long time, but everything would result in the same conclusion...

At that time, Alex had no time to see what kind of thing the media told the people, but it surely went all over the world. He didn't realize that he actually left a legend that might never disappear for thousands of years.

The legend about Divine Punishment.

Chapter 1053 - News

"We now want to talk about what happened to the conglomerate Xi Family that has suddenly disappeared from the trace of this world. We invite a host from the military," said a host to the man beside him with a serious expression.

"Thank you for inviting me here, I am honored to talk about this."

"First, do you have a thought about this matter?"

"Of course, not only the police but the military also helps the investigation. Unfortunately, we couldn't find any clues this whole time and the reason why the house can disappear in a single day. From the eye witness, they pass the mansion in the morning, and it's still there, but when they return in the afternoon, everything has gone."

"People believe it as a Divine Punishment. Do you believe it as well?"

"Of course not. I admit that this is rather magical, but I don't want to say it's a Divine Punishment. We already have a group of scientists to find any clue to prove it, so we need more time for the investigation because this is the first time an accident like this happens in the world."

"There is also something I have heard before. In the past four weeks, there was an increase in magical things happening lately. The first one would be regarding the Xi Family, which seems to be the start. According to the Xi family's remaining members, they don't want to disclose it because of family reasons. Does the army happen to know something about this secret?"

"We have tried asking them a few times, but unfortunately, there is nothing that can lead us to the culprit."

"If this is a Divine Intervention, wouldn't it be rude to call such a being a culprit? Besides, there are many people that have started praying and believing that God has descended upon us to correct many things."

"There is no proof about that. We can talk about other religions. They at least have the most basic proof, which is their "bible," so we couldn't say it's such."

The host remembered something. "I believe we have a few living proofs. For example, the X Country's Princess said she saw someone riding a dragon to travel the sea and help her when they are stuck in a storm and a few others that have spread all over the internet."

"As I said before, there is no proof. If you want to talk about it, please give us the proof. If we just believe in people's statements, it will become a complete mess."

"But the reason they couldn't give any proof was the fact that their phones or cameras got destroyed automatically the moment they tried to take a picture of him. Doesn't this mean that God will only show himself to those he has chosen?"

As the debate between the reporter and the military guy continued, the one who created this whole mess, Alex, was leaning on his beach couch while enjoying the cool breeze and the clapping sound of the breaking wave. He wore only a trunk and sunglasses, sitting comfortably under an umbrella.

Next to him, Silvia was laughing when looking at the news with her tablet that she bought from the money she got from helping people. She wore a white bikini that complemented her grey hair.

"This is really hilarious. I mean, you can be considered a God and they are not wrong for that, but the military guy is so adamant about it having no proof."

Alex looked away, embarrassed. "I met too many people while searching for treasures. It's true that I can find many legends and treasures all over the world, but it has become too much."

"So, did the princess want to marry you or something? Hmm, marrying a God..." Silvia smirked, planning to tease him about it.

"No. That girl was weird."

"What weird? There is literally an article about how she adores and worships you."

"No, no. Do you know what she said to me for the first time?"

"What?"

"Give me your seed."

"Pfft." Silvia laughed out loud.

"Enough. Lin Xingzhi had laughed too much to the point she made a story about it and bothered me for three full days." Alex twitched his eyebrows. "That's a nightmare."

"True. For you, it's a nightmare. For the people in this world, it's like a dream comes true." Silvia laughed.

"So, what happened to Axis?" Alex glanced at her with a serious expression.

"Nothing happened." Silvia tilted her head in confusion. "Why? Do you find something weird in his body?"

"No, no. Why is he not playing around?" Alex pointed his finger at Axis, who was sitting on the side, reading a book.

"Why do I need to play around? It's better to study, so I can get closer to my goal quicker."

"You should know how to relax too, Kid. The stress will slowly pile up, so it's best to enjoy every vacation like this from time to time." Alex shrugged.

"I feel more comfortable reading a book than playing." Axis shook his head.

"Look. What happened to this kid? Did he use the wrong medicine?" Alex glared at Silvia.

"Pfft." Silvia laughed. "I didn't do anything. When I was teaching him, he got too absorbed into something and became like this the next day."

Alex shook his head helplessly. "How about we play? I have a game for you."

"I am sorry, Mister, but I should focus on training and study first."

"Then, you can consider this a training. How about it?" Alex smirked. "I can show it to you."

Axis tilted his head in confusion.

"Do you know how to defeat the strong when you are weak?"

Axis thought for a moment. "A strong Martial Art, Poison, Curse, and Assassins."

"Ahaha... That's certainly right, but you might not have it when you fight the strong. Hence, I am going to teach you the fifth way. It's control."

"Control?"

"Yep. For example, I have a fire element. If I control it to burn my opponent's attacks, I can at least weaken it to a certain level where I can destroy the attack before it reaches me. Or I can concentrate my power at one point to break through something."

Axis finally understood and nodded. "Control, huh."

"Yes. Today's training will be in the form of playing." Alex waved his hand as he used his Spiritual Energy to lift the sand, shaping them into a sandcastle. "This is control. I want you to make a sandcastle with your Spiritual Energy, not your hands. Can you do it?"

Axis thought for a moment and nodded. "I will try."

"Now, go!" Alex smiled as he managed to influence this kid.

Suddenly, a golem made of sand punched his castle as Silvia's voice resounded in their ears. "What did you teach my student?"

Alex blinked his eyes a few times when he saw his castle got obliterated by that punch. Luckily, he had sunglasses, so no sand came to his eyes from the collision.

"I am just teaching him how to get stronger. Besides, if he can control his Spiritual Energy, he can perform all your skills better, no?" Alex snorted as he had seen how Silvia treated someone. Everything was related to the control of her energy, so it was indeed good training where you could also play with it.

"It's true, but..."

"But what?!" Alex summoned the same golem as her and punched her golem's stomach, destroying it.

"You..." Silvia clenched her teeth as the sand beneath Alex's golem rose to the air, slicing his golem.

"Do you want to fight?" Alex twitched his eyebrows.

"Hmph. You will lose." Silvia harrumphed.

The two began their fight while Axis could only shake his head and began making his own castle, which was significantly smaller than them. He realized that despite having the same amount of energy, their control was far better than him, so he decided to follow Alex's instructions.

Just like that, the three spent the remaining days on a deserted island, far from the civilizations. Even with the world being in an uproar, everything should begin to settle down after leaving this world.

There might be more stories to tell, but nothing concrete would happen again.

Before leaving this world, Alex got a message from Lin Xingzhi.

[I have actually gotten something for you.]

"Hmm?" Alex narrowed his eyes.

[It's related to the bats you found.]

"What happened? What kind of bat were they?"

[We still can't understand them, but we have made sure that they are artificially created. After we have gotten more information, I think we can deduct what it is... For now, everything is only a hypothesis.]

"At least you have a guess, right?"

[Yes. Do you remember why almost all God Kings died at the hand of the people from Earth?"

"No. You never told me about it other than their power came from the so-called secret weapon."

[Exactly. What I want to say is that.]

"They are related to the beast?" Alex narrowed his eyes.

[I am afraid yes. I have a few samples that my father froze in a certain place, so I want you to bring them for me.]

"Your Father?" Alex widened his eyes.

[As you know, my father told me all his possessions in his inheritance place, but he told me to only bring something I need from there and only come there if I want another thing. And my father is one of the people who see the future prediction, you know.]

"!!!" Alex gasped. "Your father knows something?"

[I am not sure, but there is a possibility.]

"So, you want me to get it for you?" Alex narrowed his eyes. "If this is an inheritance palace, wouldn't it make you the best person to go there?"

[Yes, but I believe there might be benefits if you go to that place. Of course, I will be accompanying you.]

"If you are coming, then I don't really mind. When do you need it?" Alex asked.

[Now?]

"Will it take too long? If yes, then I will grab Letizia and the others first."

[You can bring them with us. In fact, I am going to their place right now. Meet me around that planet.]

"Alright." Alex nodded.

[See you later then.]

Alex then thought for a moment and looked at Axis and Silvia. "I wonder if you don't mind another trip?"

"I don't mind." Silvia shrugged. "I don't have anything to do anyway."

"As long as it doesn't mess with my study schedule." Axis nodded in agreement.

"Your disciple has become a nerd..." Alex glanced.

"But he will be a handsome man in a few years. And this type of guy is popular among the women, you know," said Silvia nonchalantly as if she didn't mind his development.

"Okay, let's go to meet my disciple and wives first before finding Lin Xingzhi."

"What? Are we going to meet her?" Silvia drew a gasp.

"Yes, why?" Alex tilted his head in confusion. "You don't want to meet her?"

"Of course, I would love to meet her, but I wonder if it's alright..." Silvia looked down.

"It's fine. She has been talking about you a lot." Alex shrugged and snapped his finger. After checking their expression one more time, he activated the Teleportation Array.

It didn't take too long until they reached the Sword Pavilion. After thanking for taking care of the three, Alex brought them outside the planet, where he found Lin Xingzhi with Zark waiting for them to arrive.

Silvia still hesitated to meet this brown-haired beauty. Before she was Alex's wife, she was also a God King. With Silvia's current status, she thought she should talk politely.

However, before anyone could react, Lin Xingzhi already grabbed Silvia's boobs, examining them.

"Hmm...I thought you used your skill to increase the volume, but I was wrong."

"Wha—" Silvia shivered, not understanding what was happening.

"Say, is there a medicinal technique that can enhance one's sensitivity like they were on the drug but without it? It's not for us, but for him." Lin Xingzhi smirked, planning to bully Alex with it.

"..." Alex twitched his eyebrows when he heard it as he pondered whether letting the two meet was a correct choice or the worst possible decision.

Chapter 1054 - Time God

"Say, what do you think about the combination of this and this." Lin Xingzhi was still talking with Silvia while showing her two books. The first book was none other than Lin Xingzhi's p*rn book, while the other one was a medical book.

Silvia narrowed her eyes, thinking about it seriously.

"Master. What are they doing?" Rose tilted her head in confusion.

"No need to pay attention to them. My smart teacher becomes an idiot when she is talking about this topic." The one who answered was Axis.

Rose already saw him, but she didn't know about him. "Ehm, may I know who this is, Master?"

"Silvia's student, Axis. He is good and well mannered, but you can say that he loves studying more than any of you." Alex shrugged.

"My name is Axis." He politely bowed his head to Rose and the others.

"Nice to meet you, I am Rose Skewes. I am Master Alex's disciple."

"I am Letizia La Scola...Or maybe Letizia La Sirius. Nice to meet you."

"Evelyn."

Alex nodded as he kept using his Teleportation Array while talking.

Surprisingly, it took him a day before he reached the place.

"This is it." Lin Xingzhi smiled, staring at the emptiness.

"Hmm?" Alex narrowed his eyes. There was indeed nothing if they saw it with normal eyes, but Alex's Spirit Eyes could see a huge amount of energy in this place. "Time Energy?"

"Exactly. This is my father's house. The space has been suspended with time, so only those who have the key can enter." Lin Xingzhi explained.

"Indeed. The energy doesn't move or anything, so I guess it's really like a suspended place. No, should I say it's a kind of the Time Box?" Alex touched his chin, falling into deep thought.

Lin Xingzhi smiled and took out a staff. It looked like an ordinary golden staff, but when Alex saw the green jade on the staff's head, he believed that this staff was the key.

"This is the key, Time God's Staff." Lin Xingzhi smiled. She raised the staff and used the flow of Natural Energy to carry the Time Energy inside the staff, hitting the Time Barrier.

Suddenly, cracks began to appear before revealing an entrance.

"Let's go." Lin Xingzhi nodded and entered the place.

Alex and the others followed her without hesitation and arrived in another place.

"This is...This looks like our garden," Rose exclaimed in surprise.

"This is just a Special Realm that has been reinforced by the time element, so one will get stopped when entering. Unless someone brings him back by using Divine Energy that doesn't have a form, they won't be alive." Lin Xingzhi smiled.

She stretched her hand, asking them to follow her.

They then began crossing the garden for half an hour before Lin Xingzhi smiled and said, "Father. Why did you never say that you still leave your soul in this place?"

The others didn't understand what she was talking about, but a blue light ball appeared in front of them, floating above their heads.

"This is the last bit of my soul. I do feel bad about leaving you alone in Eulja, but I believe you are happy now, Daughter." The light ball turned into a translucent old man.

Lin Xingzhi closed her eyes as she couldn't help but let out tears. She slowly walked toward him and used her Nature Energy to hug something that couldn't be hugged.

The old man smiled and closed his eyes. "You have really worked hard."

If she wasn't an expert, she shouldn't be able to touch him, but the fact that his control over nature was so high allows her to hug this dear person.

"I miss you, Father."

"Yes, I miss you too, but preserving my soul here is really hard. Despite seeing you coming a few times, I couldn't meet you due to my circumstances."

"I know, Father. The fact that you appear before me because you want to talk with someone, right?" Lin Xingzhi smiled and released him.

"Yes." The old man smiled and turned to Alex. "How about coming here?"

Alex's body shook, but he still stepped forward, wondering what he needed to talk about. The Time God was a kind of his father-in-law, so he needed to greet him first. "Greeting, Fat—"

"I don't support a harem!" The Time God shouted, startling everyone.

"I am sorry, Father-in-law." Alex lowered his head while cupping his hands.

"No, I know." The Time God sighed. "How about coming with me first? I want to talk about something in private."

Alex glanced at the others and nodded as if telling them to wait here.

Seeing that he agreed, he pulled Alex to another dimension.

"It's true that I don't support harem until now." He looked up, reminiscing the memory of the past. "Due to her weak body, Lin Xingzhi's mother died after giving birth to her. I loved her so much that I wouldn't even look at another woman. However, a woman you can call a wife is the universe's strongest creature..."

Alex closed his eyes and received his words.

"In her last breath after giving birth to Lin Xingzhi, she asked me to marry another woman just so Lin Xingzhi could have a mother." The Time God wiped the tears on his eyes. He truly loved his wife. "In the end, I couldn't find another woman. I feel like I don't want to be half-assed about it.

"To raise her like a normal girl, I chose to abandon my position back then and became a loose cultivator, known as Time God. In fact, right after she was born, I used my power to create a space that could stop the time for one month. In that one month, I learned everything like cooking, taking care of a kid, and other things.

"It was hard, but everything felt worth it when your daughter called you for the first time. She called me, "Father." She was and is still my most precious treasure until one day she got taken by a jerk who thought nothing of her when she cared for him."

Alex's body shook, knowing who it was. "I am—"

"You don't need to say sorry. Knowing him, you have never known your past life, right? In that case, you don't need to ask for forgiveness. However, I do want to say one thing. Never abandon my daughter. She had gone through so much, especially after you died.

"She is a daughter that I can be proud of. That's why you shouldn't lose again. This is an ord...No, a request from your father-in-law. I don't care how many wives you will have in the future. As long as you are there, she will keep smiling. Please..." The Time God even took Alex's hand and lowered his head.

Alex couldn't help but let out tears as well, seeing the love of the Time God. He took a deep breath and said, "I believe that the family is built by a man and a woman, or you can say a pair. So, I, too, believe that you are the strongest. I promise you that even in the face of destruction, I will keep them alive... I promise you that I won't sacrifice myself so the others can live. Instead, I will sacrifice myself so we can live together."

"That's selfish, but that's the only thing I want to hear." The Time God made a gentle smile. "I leave Xingzhi to you, Alex."

"Yes, Father-in-law. I will make her happy until the end of time." Alex nodded with a serious expression.

"Great. As your father, I will give you something to help you in the future." He smiled and pointed to the ground. "This is my gift."

"A space?" Alex tilted his head in confusion.

"This is not a normal space. Have you checked it with your Spirit Eyes?"

Alex widened his eyes while activating his Spirit Eyes. "This is like the room that I used to train in Encore."

"Oh, you are there already?"

"Yes. Your Previous Life didn't know about this dimension since I kept it a secret. No matter what you did, your parents would always prepare for more." The Time God smiled and patted Alex's head. "Still, I am glad that you have learned about the Spirit Crown."

"!!!" Alex widened his eyes and asked, "How did you know?"

"You should have met that Rilt, right?"

"Yes."

"Do you know anything about his God Eyes?"

"He only told me about the fact that my Spirit Crown came from his God Eyes."

"Actually, that name was an artificial name to hide the real name. Along with your Spirit Crown, they are only used to hide the real name. His is not God Eyes. Instead, he called it Star Eyes back then. As the name implies, it used the power of the star. Everything started as a star from the beginning, even planets.

"Even though the star eventually became cold and turned into a planet, the essence was still there. The Star Eyes allows Rilt to use the Star Essence, which you could say the planet core, to increase his strength.

"And that essence is related to Nature Element. That's how you can touch me." The Time God smiled.

"Does that mean my Spirit Crown's real name is..."

"Yes, it's called Star Crown. However, to boost the morale of the Spirits, you named it Spirit Crown. You will find that fighting someone near a star or sun, or planet would give you more power than you can receive in Outer Space."

"!!!" Alex widened his eyes and closed his eyes. "I see. So, that's how the Spirit Crown increases my strength."

"Yes." Time God nodded. "As long as you understand that, then it's okay. There is another present that I want to give you, but unfortunately, I don't have it with me."

"No, no. It's fine. This dimension alone is enough for me." Alex politely declined, but the Time God patted his shoulders.

"What I want to give you is another type of Spirit."

"Another type of spirit?" Alex was confused. "Like the Spirits in Eulja?"

"Similar to that, but they are more like a beast. I would like you to create a contract with them."

"A contract? Is this to increase my strength? Now that I think about it, can't Father just go to the past and kill the beast?"

The Time God stopped him again. "I will explain everything."

He waved his hand and summoned a stream of light. He glowed two parts. "These two dots are the past and the future. Now, I am already in the future. Using the technique to allow you to travel to the past is harder than you think, considering it's taboo in this universe. However, even if I can, the time doesn't work that way."

He then pointed at the past. "If I travel to the past to change it, this past will become my present. While the future where I come from becomes the past. Do you know what I mean?"

"A little bit." Alex narrowed his eyes.

"In other words, all of you won't exist right now." He then waved his hand. From the past emerged another stream of light. "This branch will be the new future. What about me? I will be gone, erased by the time paradox. That's why even if you can go to the past, you shouldn't meet another person because it will greatly affect the flow of time. And each timeline usually has branches, not like this one stream. It's like this."

He waved his hands and created the branches.

Alex opened his mouth in surprise. The one branch became a hundred, and that one hundred gave birth to another one hundred and so on.

"Without knowing it, we have passed so many possibilities until this one now. That's why the only thing I can do is to prepare you to meet the beast. In other words, preparing the present to face the future. Understand?"

"Yes." Alex nodded.

"I do know that this is a bit complicated, but this is the only thing I can do as Time God."

"Thank you, Father. I will certainly not disappoint you."

"Good. Even if I can predict your future, I won't tell you because you might choose another future because of that variable, turning the future into a different one than what I envisioned. So, I won't tell you anything."

"No, this is enough." Alex smiled.

Chapter 1055 - Life And Death Goddess

"By the way, Father. Can I postpone using this room first?" Alex asked.

"Why?" The Time God was a bit perplexed.

"When I use the room you gave in Encore, I mainly used it to adjust my strength from normal techniques to Divine Techniques and I don't still see any reason to use it other than increasing my strength."

"I see. However, you should know that this dimension is more advanced than the one I built there. Ten years here is one day outside instead of one year."

"I understand. There might be something in the future that requires me to use this room, so I would be relying on this dimension." Alex nodded with a serious expression.

"As expected, you are the same careful person. Anyway, I won't tell you when you can use this room. If you want it, just ask my beloved daughter for the key and come here." The Time God nodded.

"I understand. That's right. I wonder if Father knows anything about the beast?"

"I don't know and I won't say something about it too other than be careful."

Alex closed his eyes, a bit disappointed.

"Just believe what you are doing. Results will follow."

"Yes, I will do my best."

"I have one piece of advice for you." He smiled.

"What is it?"

"It's this..." The Time God suddenly punched him on the cheek, blowing him away. "This is my advice."

Alex was surprised and stabilized his position. He stared at the Time God with a perplexed face. "What are you doing?"

"It's lucky that I can touch you because of your Spirit Crown. As I said earlier, I don't like harem, but it seems that you have so many girls already. In that case, my advice is obvious. You should hit yourself once with all of your strength because your wife will feel it far worse than it every time you get another one.

"However, it's still within my expectation. Just make sure that they lose that painful feeling in their heart when they see you get another woman. Because if it comes to this point, you are basically screwed. That's where everything doesn't matter anymore and your family is already beyond redemption."

Alex's heart felt heavy as he stared at the Time God for one minute before lowering his head.

"In that case, let's return to the others. They must be waiting for you." The Time God sighed and waved his hand, teleporting them back to where they came from.

"Father!" Lin Xingzhi leaped toward him and hugged him.

"Haha, you are still my baby." The Time God laughed while hugging her back. "You have grown up just like your mother. She always made me smile no matter how hard I was hit by reality. Keep doing what you like. Your Father will seriously go this time."

"Yes. Thank you for everything, Father. I love you." Lin Xingzhi smiled while crying.

"Actually, I am wondering what you are going to do..."

"I don't have any plan currently since I am yet to reach Rank 6 God. After that, I will begin my training again to control the Spirit Crown. As for when I am Rank 5 God, I will fully master the Spirit Crown and go to the Dungeon God's place." Alex explained.

"After that?"

"I am not sure." Alex shook his head.

"Hmm, I don't know about your situation, so I can't really say anything. I only want to say something about the inheritances you have gotten."

"The inheritances? The golden lightning?" Alex furrowed his eyebrows.

"I don't know, but I am telling you that in the past, the Spirit God once got all those knowledge after getting stranded in time. I mean, Time Disturbance. Although he got help from me, he learned something about his own ancestors."

"Ancestors?" Alex widened his eyes.

"Although I said ancestors, their real identity remained the same... They were Alexander Sirius."

"What?!" Alex drew a gasp as he blinked his eyes a few times. "Don't tell me..."

"Yes. They were your past lives. From what I know, he saw around fifty of past reincarnations and absorbed their knowledge. This was the reason why he appeared to have so much knowledge in that small brain."

"Then..." Alex clenched his teeth. "I was like 52nd reincarnation?"

"No. I don't know how long the cycle of reincarnation is, but it's proof that you live in the past. However, you must have realized that some of your knowledge is very outdated, not usable anymore in the present. Hence, I want to let you know that you should confront the knowledge by yourself. You might find something amazing. Of course, I can't guarantee it."

"Alright. I will do my best." Alex nodded with a serious expression.

"And since you don't have a plan right now, I will give you one more mission. This is not an immediate mission, so you can go anywhere you like. Remember when I talked about another form of spirit?" The Time God asked Alex.

Alex nodded.

"The spirit that I want you to get is Life and Death Spirit."

"What?!" This time, Lin Xingzhi was the one who got surprised. "Father, you..."

"Like I said, I won't say anything about the future, but it doesn't mean I will stay my mouth shut if I can help you increase the chance to fight the beast."

"What is Life and Death Spirit?" Alex tilted his head in confusion.

"Life and Death Spirit is a pair of spirits that helped one of the God King, Life and Death God in the past. He could understand the meaning of life and death, including reviving someone. There are many complex contracts for that and I am not sure myself, but it's certainly a powerful spirit.

"The Life Spirit is similar to my Nature Element, but it can help one evolve to a stronger being. Of course, the spirit can only do it once every one thousand years, but that powerful spirit is indeed terrifying. Just imagine giving birth to Rank 2 God every one thousand years.

"As for the Death Spirit, it's the epitome of chaos. It's disturbing, but it can resurrect the deaths for the time being. Or you can say, prevent their deaths for a period of time. I am not sure how long it is, but I think you will have at least a few minutes. Of course, this can only be used every one thousand years.

"I don't have a clear grasp about the Life and Death God, so I couldn't explain it to you that much." Lin Xingzhi shook her head in disappointment.

Alex nodded. "That's enough. Thank you."

"I will fill you in." The Time God smiled. "First of all, It's not Life and Death God, but Goddess. According to her, she has the control over the soul and energy. Obviously, the Death Spirit takes the soul to increase her power while the Life Spirit grants her energy to do anything beyond her means."

"Why do you want me to make a contract with those two Spirits?" Alex furrowed his eyebrows.

"The Life Spirit can grant you enough power for your Spirit Crown or even make it stronger. The Death Spirit can control your soul. Don't you have a perfect Original Martial Art for that?" The Time God smiled.

"No!" Alex narrowed his eyes. "You don't mean to..."

"Yes. That alone is powerful, but that attack is nowhere near the strength you need to fight that beast. I want you to make a contract with the spirits to get the technique to slay the beast. However, I don't know about their requirement, so I can't really tell you when is the perfect time to meet them. As for the position, she gave where she passed away after reading about her own death."

"Reading her own death? Did she know about it?"

"Yes. She knew about you and such. Her death couldn't be avoided, so instead of struggling, she decided to seal herself and made everyone think she had died."

"What did you say?" Alex clenched his fists. "She hasn't died?"

"Yes. With my help, I created the second Time Box in the form of a coffin. That coffin allowed her to preserve her life until the right moment. You should meet her as soon as possible. I think she can help you increase your strength." The Time God smiled.

"Wait a minute, Father. You don't want to make her..." Lin Xingzhi narrowed her eyes.

"What are you thinking? You should know about my principle, right? There is no way I will let her become his wife. Besides, her condition is not suited to be his wife." The Time God shrugged. "You will believe me when you see her appearance. She is the most mysterious person in this universe, and only some God Kings have seen her real appearance. Besides, with her way of talking, I can't see her being his wife."

"In that case, it's fine. I don't like to see him being with someone that I barely know." Lin Xingzhi pouted.

"No, no. I am just surprised that you allow him to have these many wives."

"I have limited the number to ten. I won't accept it after that number or he needs to be prepared for eviction." She shrugged.

"What?! Ten?" The Time God widened his eyes and grabbed Alex's collar. He was fuming in anger when he heard about the real number. He thought it was only five or six, but it turned out he had underestimated him. "You, boy. Tell me again how many people have become your wives?"

"Ehm..." Alex was embarrassed, not knowing what to say to his father-in-law.

"He has eight currently." Lin Xingzhi was the first to answer before pointing at Silvia. "She is the ninth."

The Time God clenched even tighter and glared at him while saying, "You bastard...Congratulations..."

"Father..." Alex knew that he was furious. There was no shred of happiness in that congratulatory.

"I don't have the knowledge of having a bastard like you as my son-in-law." The Time God turned around and stomped the ground.

"Father. No need to worry. Just imagine how many grandchildren you can carry. Besides, the number is perfect after calculating it for one thousand years."

"Grandchildren, you say..." The Time God turned back as he imagined that scene happened. His face mellowed a bit and snorted. "Hmph. I will forgive you this time for allowing me to imagine it in this last meeting."

Alex was speechless, not knowing what to say.

"Anyway, please leave everything to me." Lin Xingzhi smiled.

"Fine, fine. In that case, I will give you two things for you." He waved his hand as the first item appeared above his hand.

It was a compass.

"I don't think I need to explain what this compass is, right?" The Time God stared menacingly at Alex.

Alex repeatedly nodded. "Don't worry. I will go to her as quickly as possible."

"This is the second one."

Chapter 1056 - Goodbye

"This is the second one." What the Time God gave to Alex was a sand clock.

"Is that your Sand of Time, Father?" She tilted her head. "I mean, it's a good item, but isn't it..."

"This is only for a precaution. By using this Sand of Time, you can prevent anyone from using Time Element as long as their strength is lower than a certain degree. It's not about whether he is a Rank 2 God or a Rank 3 God. Instead, all that matters are his Time Element. It's like facing a Pure Fire, you know what I mean?"

Alex repeatedly nodded. "Yes. I have met someone using Time Element and he is..."

Alex turned around, staring at Silvia.

"Yes. He is my father's disciple."

"That's right. I haven't asked all of your names. Now that I have finished settling my business with this jerk, let's talk about all of you. How about introducing yourself first?" The Time God put a warm smile and asked.

"Who is first?" Everyone looked around, wondering who should be first. They came to the conclusion that Rose, Alex's disciple, would go first because she was the only one with a different status than them.

"Me? Fine." Rose pouted and bowed to the Time God. "I am Rose Skewes. I am Alexander Sirius's disciple."

"I see. She seems to have this weird strength around her Time Element, but I won't look into it since that power is beneficial for her." The Time God nodded and continued observing her. "I will be a petty person if I don't give her a present, so here is for you."

Rose stretched both hands as a bow appeared, slowly descending onto her hands.

"This is Shattering Heaven Bow. It can be considered one of the strongest bows in the universe. Anyway, I won't talk too much about the legend, but this bow managed to injure me in the past even though I was a God King and he was a Rank 2 God. No matter what, this bow is far better than whatever he could give." The Time God didn't forget to leave an insult to Alex.

Alex could only scratch the back of his head, wondering what kind of grudge this old man had against him.

"This..." Rose hesitated to take it since she felt this was too much. She raised her vision, staring at the Time God.

"It's fine. You should take it. When the time comes, make sure you shoot one arrow on your Master's ass for me. I will take it as a payday."

"Yes." Rose nodded happily before remembering something. "That's right. You are Master's Father-in-law, so should I call you, Grandpa? Can I, Grandpa?"

Not knowing why, but her voice rang sweetly in his ears. "Ah, so this is what it feels to have a granddaughter. I see, I see. It's far more amazing than I thought."

"Oi, don't take the matter of my chastity off like that..." Alex twitched his eyebrows, wanting to smack Rose's head, but he couldn't due to the Time God.

"Good, good. Take care of your master, alright? If he dared to make his wives cry, beat him up for me."

"Yes, I will strictly follow Grandpa's rule." She quickly nodded.

In some way, these two had the same goal, so no wonder they could be on the same page this easily. Yeah, the goal was beating Alex.

He then turned to the one beside Rose, who seemed to have the same height as her.

Evelyn crossed her legs, slightly rose her skirt, and bowed politely. The royal blood in her was still dominant, it seemed.

"My name is Evelyn De Viona, but I guess my name should have changed into Evelyn De Sirius."

"Hmph. What is the use of it? I never agree for my beloved Xingzhi to change her surname even if it's a part of the custom. She is mine. Forever mine." The Time God snorted, looking very petty.

"..." Alex could only sigh when watching this old man. "Whatever. I don't really care about the name."

"Hear that?!" The Time God made a smug smile and said, "Either way, you seem to be royalty somewhere, but I won't talk much about it because the most important thing is the present."

"Yes. Even so, I still couldn't help but smile when thinking about my current name." Evelyn smiled genuinely, startling the Time God.

The latter narrowed his eyes while glaring at Alex. "You boy. How dare you kidnap this well-mannered lady? Never mind. You are shameless. No need to explain it to me."

"Actually, I am the one that is pursuing Big Brother Alex. It's one-sided admiration at first." She played with her hair as her face turned red.

When Time God saw her like this, he snorted. "Hmph. I have just witnessed a crime right now. I should erase you from this universe, you jerk."

"Oi. What do you mean crime? I don't know anything." Alex really wanted to fight it out with this old man.

"The reason you trained her must be to cultivate her to be your wife." He harrumphed.

"I was and am not a lolicon."

"What is a lolicon?"

"It's about a guy loving a kid, Father." Lin Xingzhi finally opened her mouth.

"..." The Time God became even more furious. "Really?"

"I am starting to believe that you hate me, Father." Alex sighed.

"You don't need to start it because I hate you with every cell in my body. You dare to take my daughter away from me is the biggest crime you can ever commit."

"..." Alex fell silent for a few seconds. "I am not guilty."

"Yes, you are." The Time God turned to another person again. "Anyway, it's a waste of time to talk with you. I better know the others first."

The next one was Letizia. "I am Letizia La Scola. Master has given me everything I have right now."

"Master...You bastard. This is it, I am going to beat you up."

"Wha—" Letizia panicked and came between them, while asking the Time God to stop. "I was foolish at that time and voluntarily became his slave. Master has always wanted to break the contract, but I have been refusing him this whole time. So, I am in the wrong."

"I..." The Time God was still pissed off and shouted at Alex. "You bastard. Are you going to hide behind a woman?"

"I am not." Alex sighed. "You are so petty."

"So what?" The Time God crossed his arms while looking away. "So, who is the last girl? She is not your wife yet, right?"

"My name is Silvia Resta. Well, I am a Doctor. Other than that, I don't think I have something to be proud of."

"You are still young, but you have this kind of strength. If that is not something to be proud of, then what is it?"

"I am nothing compared to him." Silvia shook her head.

"Hmph. He is forcefully aging his body. Although it's just practice, he will wear out before he knows it."

"Yes. I have treated him before. I think he can continue for a while until the second treatment, which happens to be the last." Silvia nodded.

"So, you marry her because of her skill?"

"Why are you nitpicking every little thing, Father? Besides, do I look like someone who will take advantage of my status just to get a woman?"

"Your past life? No. Your current life? I don't know."

"..." Alex sighed. "I don't. I guarantee you."

"Fine."

"By the way, where are Anna and Anya?"

"They are trying hard in Eulja. Due to the power of the Dungeon God, they have the chance to reach God King. Though, Anna is the closest one because she has the concept ready. There are several more candidates, but in terms of potential alone, I think Leoz has the biggest probability. We will see." Lin Xingzhi explained.

"No wonder. Give my regards to them. They are good kids."

"Yes." Lin Xingzhi nodded. "That's right. There are three more, but they can't come here. They are Alicia, Firia, and Sherry. Alicia was a human before becoming a Phoenix Queen. She is adept in Array and Ice Element.

"Firia has Alex's Sacrificial Element and her refining skill has grown so much in the past decades. I believe she can soon become one of the strongest alchemists in the younger generation. Last but not least, Sherry. She is a Celestial Fox. Alex's Pure Fire allows her to evolve her fire to the same level as the former Fire God, Phitrus."

"Hmm. I see. Three talented daughters-in-law." The Time God nodded, satisfied. "That's right. About the Time Element guy, what was his name again?"

"I haven't told you. His name is Navin. My father is known as the Palm God." Silvia explained.

"Palm God is currently a God King, but compared to the previous generation of God Kings, his strength is still lacking," Lin Xingzhi added.

"I see. I only want to add this. Don't trust all the God Kings." He smiled.

"I understand. I shall keep that in mind." Lin Xingzhi nodded with a serious expression.

"Good. This will be the last time we met..." His expression mellowed. "I hope that we won't meet again. I don't want to think of a possibility of meeting any of you in the afterlife. You hear me?"

Alex clenched his fists and nodded. "I will do my best to keep them safe."

"Good. Remember our promise."

"Yes, Father."

"I am sorry, but I don't know what you three wants, so you can grab it in the storage yourself. The same rule." The Time God smiled and looked at Lin Xingzhi as if telling him to supervise the entire vault.

"I know. We won't break it no matter what." Lin Xingzhi nodded.

"In that case, I don't need to worry anymore. Don't forget to send my regards to all his wives that are not here." The Time God raised both hands as his body began to disappear.

"Father." Lin Xingzhi shouted and hugged him again. She wanted to feel him until the last second because she missed him so much.

"Hehe. Good daughter. Keep smiling, alright? Your mother's most beautiful moment was when she smiled." The Time God hugged her back. "I am leaving."

"Don't worry. Everything will be fine, Father." Lin Xingzhi closed her eyes until she lost the feeling in her hand as the Time God had completely disappeared.

Alex appeared behind her and hugged her, not wanting to leave her alone. "I am here."

Lin Xingzhi smiled and looked upward. "Yes. This is a new beginning."

"Yes. Let's go."

"Yeah, but you are the only one who needs to go. We won't meet the Life and Death Goddess since the one she is waiting for is you."

"Are you sure?" Alex furrowed his eyebrows.

"Yep." She smiled and turned around, kissing him on the lips. "Just don't forget to bring us home."

"Of course."

Chapter 1057 - Second Meeting

Alex apologized to Silvia and the others since he planned to visit the Life and Death Goddess first because this took priority. He promised them to go to a place where they could enjoy their life together for a year.

The girls were understanding. They let him go without complaining since they also had something to do. Of course, Lin Xingzhi didn't forget to bring them into the Vault to pick a treasure for them.

Alex told her that he didn't need anything and waited until they all finished before bringing them back to Eulja.

This was Silvia's first time coming, so she was pretty impressed by the world. Unlike her world, where the government or her mother did all the work, Alex and Lin Xingzhi didn't really have that much work.

Instead, they appointed the six Elemental Gods to handle most of the jobs in their own territory while allowing all the influences here to keep their territory in check. This was a dangerous system, but Eulja could self-sustain this way for a long time due to their loyalty.

That was lacking in her own world because some Rank 2 Gods were trying to steal her father's position as long as there was an opportunity.

Of course, her mother, Goddess of War, had suppressed them all this time and cleaned them up, but they were so slick, so it was impossible to eliminate all of them. Nonetheless, as long as her father was still in charge, no one would make a move unless they planned to bring a Rank 1 God from another place.

When Alex left, they returned to the castle to check their course of action.

Meanwhile, Alex was using his Teleportation Array to send him to the Life and Death Goddess, wondering if she was inside a planet or not.

Surprisingly, he ended up arriving in a world that was surprisingly an Upper World instead of a Divine World.

Contrary to his expectation, Alex suddenly felt a wave of a powerful energy inside the planet. He activated his Spirit Eyes and saw a powerful Dark Energy that looked otherworldly. No, such energy shouldn't exist in this Upper World because he could clearly see that it was a Divine Energy.

Alex looked at the compass, pointing straight at the energy source.

"Did she wake up?" Alex narrowed his eyes and used his Teleportation Array to check.

...

A few minutes ago, in that Upper World, a woman was flying away with a blue bird from the enemies who were currently chasing them.

"Let's go, Lan." The young woman said to the bird, who gradually fell down to the ground because he couldn't fly anymore due to her injury.

"Ga Wu!"

"What do you mean you can't?" She clenched her teeth in anguish. The pain in her body already made her numb, but her heart felt painful because she remembered the most important promise. It was the promise she made in the past to meet her benefactor again.

She suddenly stopped and said, "Lan...It's alright. You have done well. I will stop them for you. I am sure that if it's you, you can escape from them. Remember our promise, alright?"

"Ga Wu!" The bird shook his head as if telling her that he would rather die together with her instead of escaping alone.

"You silly bird." The woman stroked his fur as they landed on the ground. As soon as her feet touched the ground, she fell on her knees as if she had no energy left.

She then raised her vision to check who had arrived. Luckily, she seemed to have a few seconds to catch her breath.

Next to her, a shadow emerged from the ground, turning into a two-meter human figure. However, this one didn't have any clothes as the body was formed from a shadow. The figure had six eyes, all blue, and looked at the teen while saying.

"Just surrender your body to me. I can kill all of them." The black spirit narrowed his eyes.

"No, you are just going to take over me. I won't do that."

"There is nothing wrong with it. Our Master is waiting for you to resurrect her, so I can't let you die here."

"Then, you should help me, not take over me." She snarled before she drew more power from the spirit.

Her appearance began to change as her skin was covered by black matter, turning half of her body into black as if she got possessed. Her white and black eyes were inverted.

She saw something coming from the above and waved her hand, creating a shield that took that attack.

An explosion occurred as she got blown away by the residual explosion.

"Kh..." She gritted her teeth and glared at two people, one female and one male.

"You...You killed my disciple!" The man was enraged as he was the one releasing the attack earlier. However, the man seemed to be focusing on the blue bird itself instead of the female. "I am going to take your life to know the consequences of what will happen if you offend me."

"You have taken the only person I love. I am going to make you experience the same." The female snorted.

When looking at these two, she protected the bird and shouted. "He wanted my partner to become his pet? Do you think I will give him the consent? If he didn't try to take my partner, he wouldn't have died!"

"So what?! It's that blue bird's honor to be his pet." The female shouted.

Suddenly, another group appeared from the side and said, "Young Lady, let's return back to Hwakgun Clan. We can settle this problem with them. Our Young Master really loves you."

"Heh. Since all of you are selfish, why can't I be selfish too? Will that bastard love someone he hates to the bone? No, right? And now you are forcing me to marry him? Hypocrite. If you dare, then take this life."

The blue bird looked at the woman with a sad expression, hoping something to happen.

However, no one came to the rescue. She had no friends in this world, so this might be the end of them.

"Shut up. You talked too much." The first man shouted and jumped toward her, throwing a powerful punch.

She gritted her teeth and struck his fist with her sword, albeit he was too strong. He blew her away, but the latter used it to launch herself far away while bringing the bird with her.

"Chase her!" shouted the man as soon as he lost eye contact with the woman.

Meanwhile, she almost died at this point. Her back was leaning on the blue bird's body as her consciousness became fuzzy. "I think this as far as we go, Lan. I am sorry that you end up dying with me..."

"Ga Wu." The bird shook his head helplessly, saying that everything was his fault.

"Rather than having them taint me, let's commit suicide..."

"Ga Wu."

She smiled after getting the confirmation from her partner and raised her sword, planning to stab her heart along with the bird.

Suddenly, a red light appeared from the sky, slowly descending upon her. It was so bright that no one could see what produced such a light, but the blue bird could see him perfectly. It was Alex.

"Ga Wu!"

The familiar voice rang in his ears as Alex recognized the blue luan. "You are the blue bird from back then...I will give you a bit of my Pure Fire to help you recover after this. Wait, alright?"

"Ga Wu."

"That voice..." The woman suddenly stopped as if she regained a bit of her body control.

"This is..." The black spirit was baffled because he never thought that the woman could gain back her body. "Master..."

Alex narrowed his eyes and gently called her name. "Mithra. It's been a while."

"Yes, Master." Mithra's eyebrows closed, but tears streamed out of it. At the last moment of her life, she could meet the only person she wanted to meet again.

"You are injured..." Alex looked down, observing her condition and finding out that her body was covered with wounds. In fact, she almost died at this point.

"I am glad that in this last moment, I can finally see you again, Master." She smiled brightly as if she didn't feel the pain.

"Who injured you? No, that is not important." Alex waved his hand and a pill appeared on his hand. This was the Orthodox Recovery Pill. "Take this."

"Ma-master?" Mithra was baffled and felt that she wasn't worthy of getting such an item.

"It's okay. Just take it. You will be like what you are before..." Alex nodded with a smile before seeing the black spirit with his Spirit Eyes. "You are...Death Spirit?"

"Who are you? Why do you know me?" He narrowed his eyes.

"I am the person your Master wants to meet."

"My Master? Don't tell me...You...You are the Spirit God!" He finally recognized Alex.

"You will explain the situation to me later. For now, give the control of her body back and she should be as good as new after eating the Orthodox Recovery Pill."

The black spirit hesitated for a second before ultimately nodding his head. "I understand."

Mithra suddenly regained her body. Although the recovery stopped, Alex waved his hand, forcing the pill inside her mouth.

She subconsciously swallowed the pill and her body soon got covered with golden light.

Alex then turned around, finding so many people coming toward them. However, there were a few recognizable ones.

On his left were two women and two men. The strongest would be a young woman with her eyes covered with a bandana and a middle-aged man with a huge muscular body.

"Who are you? That sl*t dare to kill my disciple. If you are going to stand in my way, I am going to kill you too."

At the same time, there was another group of four coming from the other side. The leader seemed to be the young man with a long sword.

He looked at Alex with a calm expression and said. "As long as she can return to be the Hwakgun Clan Young Master's wife with the Luan as the dowry, I can quickly heal her."

Alex narrowed his eyes and shook his head. "Looking at your killing intent, I am sure that both of you have injured her. Since both of you have said your own demand, then I will also say my piece."

He stomped the ground with his Spirit Step and created a fifty kilometers wide crater before releasing his Spiritual Energy limited to Martial Saint due to the world's limit. He released his killing intent and looked at both of them. "I have only one demand. Kill yourself now or you will face my wrath!"

Chapter 1058 - Just Kill

"What is happening?"

This question kept echoing in everyone's ears as they were trying to figure it out themselves. In just a blink of an eye, there was a crater as big as a city appearing out of nowhere. And the center of the crater was Alex.

When they realized it, they quickly took a look at Alex, albeit Mithra grabbed their attention as all her wounds disappeared, leaving only the traces of blood on the body.

Her complexions had returned to normal as she looked all over her body and raised her head. "Master, this..."

"I have healed you. So, now tell me what happened? Who injured you?" He asked.

"Someone tried to force me to become his wife. I didn't want it and escaped from them. Unfortunately, on the way, someone stopped me because they wanted Lan, who ultimately got killed by Lan."

"So, the ones on our left are people coming for revenge while the other group is just a dog of a big family?" Alex snorted.

"A dog, you say? You bas—" One of them couldn't endure when Alex looked down on them, forgetting the fact that Alex made a crater just now. Before he finished his words, his head already flew away without having the chance to move. No, no one in this place could react because the next thing they realized, Alex already waved his hand.

In other words, Alex just killed someone far away with that simple movement. They never heard this concept before.

"We need to run!" The representative quickly announced to the other two to escape, but Alex already appeared before them as two dragons appeared from his weapons, grabbing the two. As for Alex, he grasped the leader's head and dragged him back to Mithra.

"So, these three are the dogs. What did they do to you? NO, never mind. You don't need to answer me." Alex snorted and used his dragon to bite the two's feet.

"Argh!"

Screams echoed in everyone's ears as the other group began to panic. At the same time, the leader of the first group looked at the two that he considered his brother and sister with hatred.

"You bastard!" He struggled to free himself, so he could cut down Alex, but Alex waved his hand again, cutting all his limbs.

Because of his anger, Alex made this person see how his own people died.

When seeing Alex's cruelty, the middle-aged man shouted. "Retreat! We need to escape!"

Alex obviously didn't let them escape. He grabbed their two most important people, the middle-aged man and the blindfolded woman.

"If you are leaving, then these two will die." Alex's tone was cold as if he could kill them easily.

Most of them halted their steps as they turned around, but Alex had already thrown the two toward Mithra before restricting their movement with his dragons.

Alex looked down on them from the air and said, "I don't need idiots. Perish."

With a snap of his finger, the soldiers that followed those two were burned, leaving only the other two of their original group of four.

Alex did the same as the first group, making all the important people see how their dearest people died.

"You bastard! Are you human?" The blindfolded woman shouted in anger. Her tears were streaming out of her blindfold.

"No, I am not. Besides, you all are not too." Alex snorted with a cold gaze.

"Master! I am here! Help me!" The middle-aged man shouted out loud as if hoping for someone to come.

Suddenly, a blue light appeared from the sky, flying toward Alex.

Boom.

It looked like the light struck Alex, so an old man appeared, flying in the sky. He narrowed his eyes while saying, "You bastard. What do you think you are doing to my disciple?"

"I don't have time to play with you, Old Man." Alex raised his sword and slashed downwards, creating a sword strike that cut the ground until it was too dark to see. Of course, the old man didn't escape even if he was in the sky.

The old man was split into two as he couldn't even see Alex's attack.

"Since you all love to abuse the weak, then I will abuse you too." Alex snorted and looked at the rest of the people. "I have restrained myself this whole time to not kill, but you have really crossed your line by targeting her."

"You—" They could only curse at him because of the dragons.

Alex killed them one by one and made them insane during their last moment, especially the leaders who were the last.

"No!" They were struggling to free themselves to kill Alex but to no avail. "How do you like it? You have driven a little girl into the corner, so I let you taste your own medicine."

"You, my Sword Deity Kingdom won't let you off!" The middle-aged man shouted.

"That is if they dare to attack me." Alex snorted. "As for the so-called Hwakgun Clan, I will definitely erase them from this world."

Mithra looked at Alex with a weird expression but didn't stop him. She just wanted to continue her journey to meet Alex, but there were many people coveting her or her partner.

After getting bothered with their screams, he finally killed those people without listening to what they said.

"You don't want me to kill them?" Alex turned to Mithra.

Mithra shook her head. "I... I just never thought that I would meet my Master again."

"To think you have come to an Upper World, even I am surprised." He sighed before bending his knees, placing his hand on the Blue Luan. He channeled his Fire Energy to help the recovery process. "Rest well."

The Blue Luan finally closed his eyes to recover.

Alex then turned to Mithra. "Lead me to the so-called Hwakgun Clan. I am going to destroy them."

"Master...I don't think it's right for you to do so. I mean—"

Alex shook his head. "If I am not here, you would have died. That's the last thing I want to hear and see. If they are coming for you, it's better to settle the grievances to let them know that other people could abuse their power and influence to handle them like an ant. So, where are they? Give me the direction."

After contemplating for a while, Mithra pointed at the east.

Alex nodded and used his Teleportation Array while asking. "So, how about telling me your story?"

Mithra looked down and nodded. She began telling her story after Alex left.

Because of a few reasons, she seemed to be referred to the Lower World, especially since Alex took a liking to her. With her name becoming famous as the friend of the Legendary Blue Luan, many people tried to know her, resulting in her getting bothered by it.

Even the hero tried to approach her.

According to her, the desire to meet him again rose not long after he went to another world.

Although the portal didn't appear anymore, she found another portal that could let her go to another world. With this intention, she tried to rise in this world by herself, but there were many lecherous people that wanted her by using "justice" as their weapons.

Because of that, she fled to get into the plain not far from here. It was supposed to be a plain that no one dared to enter, but she got ambushed earlier than she expected, resulting in her in this current state.

"I see. You have many enemies already...But because I only know about the Hwakgun Family and they seem to be the worst, I will set the Hwakgun Clan as the limit. I won't kill anyone else in this world." Alex promised her.

Mithra thanked him, but Alex told her not to do that because it was him being a busybody.

He found a huge tower that seemed to be his destination. He landed right in front of the giant tower.

The moment the guards saw Mithra's face, they quickly informed the people from the family.

As one would expect, the first one to come out was the young master who seemed to have misunderstood why Alex brought Mithra here.

"I know that you will be coming back to me!" He shouted while leaping into the air, trying to hug her during his fall. However, Alex waved his hand down, cutting both of his hands.

Mithra avoided him and looked at the young master whose hands were already severed.

"Argh!" He screamed in pain. No one ever did something like this to him, and this was the first time he experienced this type of pain.

Suddenly, an old man came out of the tower and found his son in that state. He glared at Alex and released his power. "You bastard!"

Before he could attack, someone came over from the opposite direction with a few elites.

"What do you want to do?" Alex narrowed his eyes when he saw these people. "Scram. I won't repeat myself. Today, the Hwakgun Clan will disappear from this world."

"What did you say?!" The old man gnashed his teeth. His soldiers came out one by one and prepared to attack as well.

Alex snapped his finger and burned all those soldiers with his Pure Fire. "As I said, you all are going to die."

"Don't you dare to look down on my Hwakgun Clan!" The old man leaped toward Alex.

"I heard it from her as well. It seems that your Hwakgun Clan is number one because of your tone. Unfortunately, you all are trash." Alex shook his head and enveloped the tower with his Pure Fire, reducing it along with the people inside the tower to ashes.

The screams resounded in the town, but the people around the tower were perplexed by the disappearance of the tower.

"What?!" Noticing what happened earlier, the old man looked behind him, only to find nothing.

Alex ignored him and looked at the people that came from an opposite direction. "What? You still don't want to scram?"

They didn't speak or anything. They simply cupped their hands and returned to their place, scared that Alex would kill them.

Alex then grabbed the old man's neck while releasing his killing intent. "Who do you think you are? Do you think you are great? No. You just bully the weak and fear the strong. That's how you look strong in the eyes of others."

"You...You..." The old man couldn't process what just happened, but Alex decided to end this in the most boring way. He couldn't afford to waste his time torturing a turtle like him. He better met the Life and Death Goddess before returning to his place to meet his wife.

"Master..."

Alex shrugged and said, "This is what I will do to my enemy. That's all. For now...Death Spirit, come out!"

The black spirit made his appearance and bowed to him. "Spirit God."

"Enough with the formality. I want to meet the Life and Death Goddess right now. Lead me." Alex narrowed his eyes.

"Certainly."

Chapter 1059 - "Weapons"

Without further ado, the Death Spirit pointed out the direction toward his master. Due to him being bonded to Mithra, Alex brought her too.

"So, what are you doing?" Alex asked the Death Spirit, suspicious of his action. If everything went according to the Time God, the Death Spirit should be waiting by the side of his master, so he might want to do something.

"It's nothing. According to my master, someone would come five thousand years from the day she "died" but no one came after waiting for so long. We ended up agreeing to go outside to search for the person himself. I met this girl a few months ago and made a contract to find you in exchange for my strength, but it seemed the contract has ended."

Alex narrowed his eyes and nodded. Although the story was convincing, he didn't plan to fully trust someone he didn't know. He chose to wait until he got the story from the Goddess herself.

They arrived within ten minutes due to Alex's Teleportation Array and found a small tree in the middle of nowhere. The tree itself was nothing special to normal people, but for Alex, it was a treasure.

"This tree...It holds a powerful Life Energy." Alex narrowed his eyes. "It's like Nature Energy, but a bit different."

The Dark Spirit asked, "Please remove the tree. My master is underground. The only way to enter is the tree."

Alex narrowed his eyes and waved his hand, using his Spiritual Energy to pull out the tree.

"This..." Mithra drew a gasp when she found a small hole leading deep underground.

"Let's go." Alex grabbed her waist and jumped inside before hearing the Dark Spirit saying, "Please bring the tree too."

Alex didn't think much and brought it with him inside his Space Ring.

Of course, he didn't forget to close the hole, so no one learned anything about this place and experienced the free fall for a minute before using his Spiritual Energy to decrease the falling speed until he gently landed on the ground.

Surprisingly, the cave was dark, but they could already see the light coming at the end of the corridor, barely reaching their place without them doing anything.

"That's where my master is."

Alex nodded and activated his Spirit Eyes again, finding another energy, which seemed to be the Life Spirit.

"Follow me." Alex patted Mithra's head while the Blue Loan followed them right behind without making a sound.

As soon as he entered the room at the end of the corridor, the space around them expanded as if they just came to another world. Inside the room was a bright white background without any edge.

A spirit that looked like the Death Spirit, which only had color differences, bowed to him. Unlike his black skin, this Spirit was full white other than its golden eyes.

"I have been waiting for your excellency, Spirit God."

Alex nodded. "Before that, I think we have one thing to do, no?"

"Yes." The Life Spirit's feminine voice resounded in his ears as she explained. "My master has been expecting for Your Majesty to come here. To avoid any implication, my master chose to fake her own death. The way to "wake" her up is to use the tree from the surface."

"You mean this?" Alex waved his hand, taking out the tree full of Life Energy.

"Yes." The Life Spirit nodded before turning to the coffin next to her. She slowly opened the lid, revealing the real appearance of the Life and Death Goddess.

"Seriously?" Alex quickly remembered what the Time God had told him. The reason for him saying that he wouldn't find her attractive because her body looked like Eve. She appeared to be only twelve or thirteen years old, wearing gothic style clothing.

"Is there a problem, Your Majesty?"

"No, no." Alex waved his hand.

"If you don't mind, I would like to start the process right now."

"Please."

The Life Spirit then used her power and lifted the tree above the Goddess.

"My master faked her death with the help of Al while my power is required to dispel the fake death state and resurrect her." The Life Spirit looked at Alex with a pleading gaze as if asking him not to do anything to her master.

"Don't worry. The Time God sent me here, so I won't do anything." Alex shook his head, assuring them.

The Life Spirit nodded and extracted the Life Energy from the tree and used her hand to channel it to the Goddess's body. The energy flowed from her hand to the stomach before spreading all over her body.

Alex decided to close his eyes because he knew that this process would be long.

It turned out that he was true. It took them three days until the Life Spirit said, "My master should be waking up soon."

Alex nodded and waited with a serious expression.

"Mhm." A small groan was heard from the coffin before the Death Spirit, Al, called her. "Master!"

"Al..." She gradually furrowed her eyebrows, looking very annoyed. "You are so loud."

"Master...I am glad." He looked down. If he had the capability of crying, tears would have already streamed down his eyes.

"You are always a cry baby." She smiled but still had yet to open her eyes.

She then sensed Alex's presence and stretched her hand.

The Life Spirit took her hand, helping her up.

"Thank you, El."

"It's nothing, Master."

"Umu." The Goddess smiled and raised her head without opening her eyes. "It's my pleasure to meet you, Spirit God...No, Alexander Sirius."

"..." Alex was surprised because he had prepared himself to get called by that title.

"I can sense that there is only a trace of your previous life's energy in you, not fully controlling your body. In that case, you must be the reincarnation without having the memory or soul. That's why I call you Alexander Sirius. If you prefer to be called Spirit God, I don't mind though."

"No. Alexander Sirius is fine." Alex shook his head.

"In that case, nice to meet you, Alexander Sirius." She thought for a moment and asked, "So, what has Julian or my two eyes said to you?"

"Eyes? Julian?" Alex tilted his head in confusion.

[It's my father's name. I forgot that he hadn't introduced himself. Ugh.]

'Ah. We were rushing back then, so I didn't think much of it.' Alex sighed inwardly.

Meanwhile, the Goddess smiled and asked, "So, they didn't tell you anything?"

"Yes?" Alex was still confused about the eyes, so his tone was quite hesitant.

"Al, El. Do you mind?" The Goddess called the two spirits' names.

"Please, Master." Both answered at the same time before turning into a light ball that flew toward her eyes.

The Dark Ball or Al entered her left eye while the Life Spirit came inside the right eye. She gradually opened her eyes, revealing a white and black eye.

"They are my eyes, you see."

"Ah..." Alex lowered his head. "Sorry."

"You don't need to apologize since no one actually has a record about this. In other words, only you and the two behind you know this." She smiled before asking Mithra and Lan. "So, can you keep this a secret?"

Mithra and Lan repeatedly nodded their heads. Alex's friend would be someone trustworthy, so they didn't dare to tell it to anyone because Alex would be angry.

"Thank you." She smiled and touched both of her eyebrows before closing her eyes again, summoning the two spirits back. "That's how it is...I hope you don't mind talking to this blind girl."

"No, please don't say such a thing." Alex shook his head politely. If it were a blind girl, he already met her a long time ago. Now that he thought about it, he wondered about Aria's progress.

"Thanks. So, I think I will be explaining from the start. This is going to be a long talk." She turned to Al. "Can you bring out everything to make ourselves comfortable?"

"With Master's permission."

"You have my permission."

Al nodded and took a Space Ring inside the coffin, summoning all the stuff like couches, carpet, drinks, and other things.

She also came out of the coffin and sat on the couch without care. She didn't feel any movement from Alex and asked, "Is there something wrong? Is this not comfortable enough? Or do you prefer a bed? But are you sure you want an old woman like me?"

"No thanks." Alex shook his head. "I was shocked, but I guess it's fine."

She smiled and nodded. "So, first of all, I was the one telling you that you were going to die. I mean, your past life."

"Eh?" Alex widened his eyes, never expecting to hear that at the very first sentence.

The Goddess remained calm before remembering something. "Ah, I haven't introduced myself. Sorry, sorry. Let's restart the conversation. My name is Alaya, known as Life and Death Goddess. I personally didn't like to interfere in any matter, but I happened to meet you and abruptly told you about your death.

"You could say that you reeked of death. Of course, it wasn't as accurate as Time Eyes or Fortune Teller, but you could say that it was pretty accurate. And it's not like someone who reeked of that couldn't escape his fate, so it doesn't really matter if I tell you something like that.

"However, the Spirit God took this matter seriously as if he had known something too. After a long talk with the Spirit God, he chose to go on a journey. He called it the Reincarnation Journey.

"I didn't know much about his journey, but I still followed a bit of his news because I felt something was wrong with him and the universe. I learned that he met the Time God, Dungeon God, Fire God. But then I lost contact with him because he went somewhere far away for five years.

"No one knew anything about that journey, even the three Gods. Not long after he came back, the smell of death became even more apparent, and somehow I also had that smell.

"Two years after that, the beast came and started to wreak havoc. It was something stoppable with all the God Kings around, but it was when the real terror began. No one other than me was alive to tell the tale, but a certain planet turned out to be the beast's weapon." Alaya hesitated to tell him because it was a nightmare.

Alex frowned and asked. "What is the weapon?"

"Monsters."

"Monsters?" Alex widened his eyes, never expecting this answer. "What do you mean?"

"They were literally monsters. Although their strength was a bit lower than ours, they had numbers. If I were not wrong, seven God Kings, including me, fought against ten monsters of the same level. And there were millions of monsters storming our way. The three people that didn't participate at that time were you, Sword God, and Fire God.

"You had something in your mind, so you didn't participate. Sword God didn't want to deal with it and retired to his own planet. As for the Fire God, he challenged the beast himself and had himself killed by it.

"The fight lasted almost a week. The Time God told me that I needed to leave that place because I had another role. When I thought of that, the smell of death gradually disappeared from me and that was when I knew what to do. I chose this planet and faked my own death.

"As for the Time God and the others, they chose to sacrifice themselves, so they could destroy all the God King monsters in their ranks while destroying their millions God Rank Experts. The people on our side then used their power to expel the planet from this universe after wiping out any records about this war." She let out a sigh after a long explanation.

"I have never thought that the weapon turns out to be monsters. What kind of monsters were they? I mean, how could they even reach God King until it was too late?" Alex asked with a serious expression.

This might be the most important information to challenge the beast while preventing any "weapons" from being created again.

She hesitated for a minute before opening her mouth.

"They are..."

Chapter 1060 - Alaya

"They are snakes, dragons, phoenixes, bears, bats, and angels."

"Wait a minute..." Alex narrowed his eyes, feeling something was wrong. "I feel like these are..."

"It seems that you have some kind of information about the beast?"

"Not really. It was just the last time I met my previous self, I learned the beast's true body. "The beast had a snake head, dragon body, phoenix talon, bear paws, a pair of bat wings and angel wings."

"I see." Alaya furrowed her eyebrows and nodded in understanding.

"Before you continue, I want to show you something. I know that this might not be related, but I just want to ask your opinion."

"What is it?" Alaya tilted her head.

Al and El became her eyes again.

At the same time, Alex was contacting Silvia through the system to send some samples in the Time Box.

After getting the sample, he took out the Time Box.

"Oh?! It's the Time Box." Alaya was amazed by the appearance of Time Box. She never thought that she would see it again.

Alex nodded and summoned two bat like monsters from the box while asking. "So, what do you think about this?"

"This is..." Alaya widened her eyes as she drew a gasp. "This is one of the weapons, the Bat."

"!!!" Both Alex and Lin Xingzhi, who were watching behind the screen, were shocked. They never expected that the mysterious bat turned out to be one of the most powerful weapons."

"How sure are you?" Alex asked politely.

Knowing his doubt, Alaya began to explain. "The bat will consume every living being and turn them into their kin. However, this so-called kin is not their children or anything. Instead, they are treated as a food source.

"After sending a few of them in a world, the bats will reproduce at a rate that no one has ever seen before. And when the harvest time is over, they will go back to their mother. You can say that they are planning to create God Rank Bats into this. Do you know which one had the biggest population in the past? It was this guy." Alaya sighed.

Alex sweatdropped when he listened to her. Some of the points had been proven, making her explanation more believable.

"Back then, we fought against six to seven million even though we only have a total of two million God Rank Experts. Seventy percent of their numbers are filled with bats."

"What?" Alex's face turned serious.

"I don't know much about their strengthening, but if I am not wrong, they can become a God Rank Expert in fifty years. It seems that they are starting to reproduce again." Alaya closed her eyes, feeling troubled.

"This..." Alex thought for a moment. "Xingzhi."

"I will add more personnel for our investigation team. I will inform the Blackwade Clan and Silvia too. If we can erase them, we should have an easier time in the future."

"Yes." Alex nodded before noticing something. He turned back to Alaya. "How many God Kings for each monster?"

"One for the dragon, phoenix, angel, and snake. Two for the bears, and the rest were bats."

"Fu." Alex took a deep breath. "If we can eliminate them first, we will be able to lower their strength by about fifty percent."

"Indeed." Alaya nodded. "I am assuming there are some Rank 2 or Rank 3 God, but I don't think they have become a God King yet. The beast's revival is near too."

"Do you think we can seal the beast again? If we can, I don't think I need to rush." Alex narrowed his eyes.

"No." Alaya shook her head. "I don't know about the seal, but I know that yours should use something big."

"Well, the previous me almost died back then and used the last bit of power to do it."

"See? The requirement of the seal must be your life. If I am not wrong, there is a Space and Time Seal that uses one's life."

Alex looked down, falling into deep thought.

"What do you plan to do then?" Alex asked.

"Before that, let me explain the other monsters first. The Dragon and Phoenix are basically the same as the ones you can find all around the universe. The snake is annoying because they usually pair up with the bears to create a fusion monster with no blindspot. As for the angels...They can heal people, so our main target should be them. As for the bats, yes, they fill up the numbers."

Alex thought for a moment and nodded. "We can prepare our strategy according to their characteristics. But how it will turn out...I don't have any assurances."

"What about our situation?"

"I have no assurance." Alex shook his head in disappointment.

"Fair enough. You can take your time, but make sure you follow the time limit. The reason we suffered in the past was due to our underestimating the beasts."

"I understand." Alex thought for a moment. He didn't know whether the Palm God would help him or not, but he should be able to have Lin Xingzhi as their God King. If he used all the Spirit Crystals in his possession, he could create two more God Kings. They were probably Anna and Leoz.

After that, there was the Blackwade Clan. With their current situation, it seemed that Alex was required to make an alliance with other Divine Worlds. After all, Eulja would become weaker if he brought them to strike the other monsters before the war started.

"In that case, let's talk about how I ended up here. First of all, I used my Death Spirit to fake my own death, allowing me to reach this place. As for them, they were my eyes, would the world consider them as existences in this world?" Alaya shrugged.

After a while, Alaya continued. "As for what I want to do with you, it's obviously the contract with me."

"With you?" Alex tilted his head.

"Yes. It seemed that Julian actually told you about the contract with my spirits. However, the real contract is with me." She shook her head. "I am not a human, you see. Anyway, no need to know about my race, I only ask you to form a contract with me."

"What kind of contract are you talking about?" Alex asked in confusion.

"Life and Death Contract."

"!!!" Alex widened his eyes. "You..."

"I know what you are thinking. Although I am like this right now, I can recover my God King strength in a decade. By making a contract with me, I can channel my power into your body, creating a third eye. This third eye will have the power of Life and Death. Of course, you would need my permission to use it, but you can say I become your supporter."

"Can I know the pros and cons first? I don't want to make a Life and Death Contract without fully knowing what I have gotten into."

"Sure. Let me tell you about the terms first. We have four terms in this contract. First, if either of us dies, the other will die as well. This means I won't betray you and vice versa. Second, I will grant you my Life and Death power in exchange for your protection. Third, I will follow your command as long as it is within my means and you can't force me to do it. Last but not least, this contract is an equal contract. There is no master or servant."

Alex furrowed his eyebrows. The terms were quite dangerous, especially the first one. However, if she could regain her strength within a decade, she would become a powerful friend to have. There wouldn't be any betrayal as well, so he thought this was a good point.

The third point gave him an advantage because he could order her to do something. This would prove to be useful for Eulja. And since he planned to be the strongest in this universe in the future, he could afford to protect her just fine.

"There are a few benefits you can get from gaining my power. First, you will have a third eye that you can hide at any time. The Life Power will strengthen your cultivation while the Death Power will boost your Soul Power.

"And since we will be a partner if you take the contract, you should know the reason for the second term. I just want to retire you know. Having the Spirit God to protect me in my retirement sounds like the best retirement ever. It's not like I am planning anything big, but this type of assurance is something that I need." She smirked.

Alex thought for a moment. "I want to add something for the third term. I know that I can't force you to do it, but you should agree if we need to discuss it and reach the best conclusion."

"I don't mind." She nodded with a serious expression.

"Have you contracted someone else?" Alex asked.

"Nope. I seldom met people, so yeah, I was alone most of the time. I didn't have my own hometown, so I wandered around aimlessly while enjoying my life. In other words, you are my first and probably last."

[That sounds wrong, but whatever.]

Alex twitched his eyebrows when listening to Lin Xingzhi's response. He shook his head helplessly before saying, "Alright. I can agree with your terms. Besides, your existence might be able to help me convincing other God Kings to participate in this battle."

"Fair enough. There is little to no information spread because of the oath back then, so convincing the people of this era will be hard." She nodded with a serious expression.

"Exactly." Alex nodded.

"Alright. We have a deal then?"

"Yes."

"In that case, let's proceed with the ceremony."

"What ceremony? We just need to take an oath, right?" Alex tilted his head.

"Yes. Just follow your instinct because you will know what you need to say after saying my piece." She smiled.

"I understand. Please start."

"Let's sit down on the floor first." She stretched her hand before turning to Mithra and Lan. "Can you two please stand back? We need to clear up some space."

The two, who had been silent until now, nodded their heads and retreated a few meters from them. They never expected that Alex was this type of bigshot and had a very dangerous mission. Despite that, he was still so kind to other people.

There was never a regret in their heart to find Alex, but when they heard this, they were entirely in awe, wanting to be someone like him.

They watched how the process progressed without letting out a single sound.

At the same time, Alaya stood before him because of their difference in height. She closed her eyes and started chanting.

"I, Alaya Na Varavas, accept my lifelong friend, Alexander Sirius. I will help him in any way possible and act according to the contract we have agreed upon. I will accompany him until I die or he dies because this life has turned into our lives. Almighty Hades and Grand Gaia, please heed my prayer, for I, the Manifestation of the Great Codex of Samsara, Alaya Na Varavas, plead with my life."

Information began entering Alex's head before he opened his mouth. "I, Alexander Sirius, will become Alaya Na Varavas's lifelong friend and won't ever leave or abandon her. Almighty Hades and Grand Gaia, I, Alexander Sirius, shall etch my name in the Great Codex."

Alex stretched his hand toward her before she cut a bit of his index finger and used the blood to dye her lips.

She walked closer to Alex, gently grabbed his head, and kissed Alex's forehead for five seconds before releasing him. "That is the power of Life and Death, your Third Eye..."

Alex felt the power inside the eye, slowly opening his third eye. The third eye had the pattern of yin and yang and released a powerful aura from it, one would make people warm and feel assured, but at the same time, gave a chill colder than Pure Ice. They met Life and Death at the same time.

"...Samsara Eye." She smiled and looked at Alex's face, satisfied.
