Chapter 1081 - Spirit God

On the battlefield, Sherry, Beast God, and all the people in Beast Kingdom's territory had prepared for fighting to the death.

Beast God came out of the spaceship and looked at Array God, who appeared to do the same on the other side of the battlefield.

"I will say this once more. It's better for you to turn away right now," said the Beast God while releasing his killing intent.

"You think you can still talk big? I have brought ten Rank 2 Gods here while you only have three including yourself." The Array God snorted. "I will give you a chance. Offer your Full Loyalty to me and I shall spare your lives! You all are still useful for me and my ambition!"

"Do you think it's still possible?" The Beast God shook his head. "Since you choose to die, I will help you."

The Array God released all of his Divine Energy and killing intent while asking. "What did you say? I will die? No! I will kill the people of your Beast Kingdom and make you see what kind of cruelty I can do!"

"Cruelty, huh..." The Beast God released his power as well and raised his stance. "I guess I need to prove that everything I said wasn't a lie."

"Father! It's better to stop wasting your time and eliminate them right now." Suddenly, Young Master Sun appeared beside his father, looking at the Beast God and Sherry behind him.

"Hmph! Since you are the one starting this, I will let you start the battle. I will give you two Rank 2 Gods to capture that woman. If you can't do that, don't think you can see tomorrow," said the Array God while waving his hand.

Two people then appeared as they cupped their hands to the young master.

The reason he lent two important people was due to the mysterious power that helped Sherry back then. After contemplating for a long time, he realized that the power came from a Rank 2 God.

"Then, let's start it with a bang. We will summon that bastard!" Young Master Sun raised his hand before pointing at the big cannon above him.

Considering the size of the mothership, the cannon alone had one kilometer long barrel with a one hundred meter radius hole.

The arrays that had been inscribed onto the cannon glowed, illuminating the dark outer space. It shone so beautifully, but all of them knew how dangerous that weapon could be.

"I am just using ten percent of this cannon power, so you won't die. However, if you escape, this cannon will hit your ship. Let's see what you will choose." Young Master Sun laughed evilly.

"Not on my watch." The Beast God shouted as he planned to intercept it, but the Array God appeared before him, hitting him back.

At the same time, all the God Rank Experts from his Beast Kingdom appeared and tried to block that cannon for Sherry.

Unfortunately, the Array God's side also sent a massive number of God Rank Experts, suppressing them in one against two battle.

"She is not alone." A female voice echoed as the cat princess made her appearance along with the other princes and princesses. "Even if no God Rank Expert can handle this, we will help her."

"No, don't!" The Beast God wailed as more God Rank Experts appeared to intercept all the princes and princesses.

The battle had just begun while the cannon kept pumping up more energy as the Young Master's shouted. "Fire."

The shot was released, shooting a stream of light that had enough size to destroy the ship.

Sherry gritted her teeth and summoned her avatar.

"Fire Authority, First Stage..."

The same as Alex, her avatar was a fox...No, her true body. That fox shrank in an instant enveloping her body with fox ears and tail.

Even the Crow inside her shadow prepared to help her destroy that attack, but a shadow appeared in his vision as a man's voice echoed in outer space.

"Oi, oi. Who do you think you just shot?"

Sherry dropped her jaw before smiling. "You have finally arrived."

"I am sorry, let me handle this." The man smiled as Divine Intent, Divine Energy, and Elements gushed out of his sword. He jumped forward. "This blow won't kill her, but it will seriously injure her. It can even be considered a Rank 7 God's attack. Though..."

"Three Purities Slash."

In an instant he swung his blade, the laser was split into two; one went down and one went above the ship behind him.

"What?!" Young Master Sun widened his eyes as he narrowed his eyes, finding someone's shadow when the light disappeared.

That person simply raised his sword and smirked as if everything was under control. "You piece of sh*t... Do you think you are worthy of taking my wife from me?"

"Wife, you say? So, you are the bas—" Before finishing his words, a shadow appeared from Sherry and released a few streams of shadow, trying to kill the young master.

The crow made its appearance once again before turning into a human figure. He looked like a middle-aged man with long spiky black hair tied into a ponytail. On his nose was a horizontal cut wound that made him look even more badass. Still, the most noticeable feature in his face was a weird pattern covering both eyes as if it acted as a mask.

"My King is not for you to soil."

Luckily, the two Rank 2 Gods had stopped that attack before reaching their young master while focusing their attention on the middle-aged man.

"You have finally made your appearance. Name yourself! No, never mind. Whoever you are, you shall be cut down." One of them looked down on the middle-aged man.

On the other hand, Alex turned around and looked at Sherry while smiling. "? It's been a while. How are you?"

"He...He is Sherry's husband?" The cat princess widened her eyes. Compared to Young Master Sun, Alex indeed was more handsome. His strength seemed to be far higher than him too. However, his help alone was useless in this war.

Even the other princes and princesses thought the same thing.

Ignoring their reactions, the middle-aged man walked to Alex before dropping on one knee and cupping his hands. "Your Majesty. Congratulations."

"What? Your Majesty?" This statement quickly made the others doubt his identity. For someone to be called their king from a Rank 2 God, that person should be someone important. Yet none of them actually knew the young man's identity.

"So, you are the "Crow" who has protected me in the past and Sherry?" Alex smiled.

"Yes, my name is Sullivan."

Alex nodded. "As much as I want to talk with you and Sherry, I think we need to end this battle first."

"I understand." Sullivan acknowledged his words.

"Hmph, you brat! Do you think you can change the tide of this battle? No! Your existence's only purpose is to make me fulfill my own promise. I will make sure to torture you in front of that b*tch's eyes." The Array God shouted.

"Really?" Suddenly, a woman's voice echoed as a giant lightning cloud gradually formed above the Array God's head. A Lightning Dragon emerged from the cloud and struck the Array God, blowing him far away. "Do you think you are qualified?"

Six shadows made their appearance as they flew toward the two Rank 2 Gods. Sullivan also did the same as if following their movement.

However, ten more shadows appeared on the battlefield. Two of them came from the Beast Kingdom, while the other eight came from the remaining Rank 2 Gods that the Array God brought. At the same time, the Beast God changed his target and helped the Rank 2 Gods instead.

In other words, the Beast Kingdom took on three Rank 2 Gods while the four guardians and Lilda took on the remaining five who just came out, allowing the Central Guardian, William, to head straight toward the Rank 2 Gods that protected Young Master Sun.

Seeing this, Sullivan also appeared from another side, ready to swing his katana.

Both of them exchanged looks while smiling. "It's been a while."

"Indeed." William nodded as he struck his blade together with Sullivan.

"Paragon Slash."

"Untraceable Blade."

"!!!" The two Rank 2 Gods widened their eyes in shock as they quickly took out their weapons to block them, albeit Array God's mothership shook and tilted to the left just from the impact alone.

Bam.

"Y-you!" The Array God had returned. He was in complete shock the moment she saw the woman's face. No God King would be clueless to their own peers. "You are Lin Xingzhi! Why are you here?! You should be in Eulja."

Gasp—! Almost all people gasped when they heard the name of the Nature Goddess. She was one of the oldest God Kings, so not many hadn't heard her name.

The princes and princesses from the Beast Kingdom looked at Alex, who brought six Rank 2 Gods and a God King.

A crown gradually appeared on top of Alex's head, shocking every single Rank 2 Gods other than those from Eulja.

"That... That..."

"The Crown that the former Spirit God had!"

"Spirit Crown!"

"Don't tell me that guy is..."

Alex ignored all the reactions and raised his hands while commanding with a cold voice. "With my authority as the Spirit King, heed my command. Kill them."

Array God laughed out loud and shouted. "To think that you are the Spirit God. That's good then! I will use your life to gain the whole control of Eulja."

"Do you think you can..." Alex remained cold.

"If you only have these people, you won't be my opponents!" The Array God snorted and took out a token. "Call the reinforcement."

"..."

The token didn't lit up and no sound came out.

"Oi!" The Array God's heart skipped a beat and shouted again.

"It's useless." Alex snorted. "They need to deal with their own problem first before they can even come here. It seems that you don't understand... The moment you dare to come here, it's the time for you to die."

The Array God looked at Alex as he realized what was happening.

...

Meanwhile, on another place far from the battlefield, thirty spaceships appeared from big to small.

The biggest ship headed straight to the Divine World not far from them and descended to their atmosphere.

Two people then came out and jumped off the ship, landing on the ground with a smile.

They were none other than Rilt and Vina.

"There are three Rank 2 Gods on this planet," said Rilt while feeling their presence coming their way.

"As long as you can hold one of them while supporting me, I will kill the first two and eliminate the last one." She snorted and turned her head to the side, finding three people coming.

"Who are you?!" One of them shouted. "You know that this is the territory Array God, right?"

"Since you like questions..." Rilt smirked evilly. "You know that your Array God has offended the Spirit God, right?"

Before they could process what he just said, Vina harrumphed and released dark energy. "Don't talk too much."

"Fine." Rilt shrugged.

The two finally transformed in unison. "True Spirit Body."

A cross appeared behind him as he set his staff on the ground. "Four Light Authorities."

"Night Ripper Form." Vina snorted and looked at the enemies. "No need to talk too much. We are here to massacre them."

"Right..." He shrugged.

...

At the same time, this happened in every single Divine World that the Array God had. North of the main Divine World, Agnis landed with five thousand God Rank Experts and ten thousand Martial Saints. "Our mission is to eliminate all the people in Array God's territories. Let's go!"

"Ooh!"

"True Spirit Body."

In another Divine World, Zerah landed and met another Rank 2 God that stayed behind. She simply raised her hand. "Spread out and eliminate all people here. Don't think they are innocent because they might turn against us in the future."

"Who are you?!" The Rank 2 God furrowed his eyebrows, not knowing why Zerah landed in this world. However, her goal was clear. He took out his sword.

"It seems that after waiting for five thousand years, not many know me anymore. But don't you worry, you will know who I am pretty soon." Zerah smiled as she released a powerful Lightning Energy. "True Spirit Body."

The same applied to Canaan. He met one of the Rank 2 God that the Array God left behind to protect his territory.

However, Canaan himself didn't like to talk with strangers despite being pretty friendly toward his allies, especially Alex. He simply ignored his presence and chanted. "True Spirit Body."

Luckily, Helena landed on the water while creating a tsunami as she might be the one with the flashiest entrance. "Seriously...To think that our current king is even crazier than the previous one to even send us to eliminate any future threats while he is risking himself.

"Though, it means that we can handle them separately, allowing us to have an easier time to eliminate them. As long as we are fast enough, we should be able to finish this within hours and send reinforcement to our king while some clean up this entire area."

Helena smiled and nodded. "I can't hold back my power anymore then."

"True Spirit Body."

Chapter 1082 - Great Battle Part 1

"What did he say?!"

"He is the Spirit God?"

"I have heard about the ceremony, but he..."

Shocked, the people fell silent as they never thought that Sherry's husband was the Spirit God. No wonder she could act aloof and set an agreement with the Beast God himself.

Although Alex's cultivation was still a Rank 5 God, the influence of his existence alone could send chills down their spines.

"What Spirit God, he is just trash! All God Rank Experts, kill him!" Young Master Sun shouted as if he was sour because Alex just trampled his identity and pride.

The first to come out was fifty hundred Rank 3 Gods, followed by other God Rank Experts.

Beast God realized it and ordered. "All God Rank Experts from my Beast Kingdom. Protect his excellency, the Spirit King!"

Since this was their home, they had more numbers than the Array God since they didn't need to split up into two for attacking and defending like the Array God.

"I think all of you should come out first." Alex smiled as nine figures appeared behind him. All of them were Rank 8 Gods with the exception of Anna. Yes, they were all the spirits that helped him so much. Unfortunately, they had a harder time when ascending to God Rank. Even though their pace was faster than Alex's wives, Alex's speed was just that fast.

At the same time, Silvia and the other wives also came out together with a Teleportation Array.

"Leave the injured to me." Silvia pumped her fists while summoning the needles. "I will protect them. As long as there is no more than one Rank 3 God, I will be able to ensure their safety."

Alex nodded with a smile. "I will handle everything else. I don't know if I can match up against a Rank 3 God, but I should be fine killing a Rank 4 God."

"Yup. There you go, I will be watching your battle." Silvia nodded.

Alex then took out his spear and regained his focus. He looked around this chaotic battle and planned to kill that Young Master.

"..." Alex narrowed his eyes while observing the enemies with his Spirit Eyes. Surprisingly, he found something that could completely change the direction of the battle but waited for the perfect time to create the biggest impact that would devastate the enemies.

He simply watched how the others fought for the time being.

In the meantime, Lin Xingzhi raised her hand and summoned the Lightning Disturbance again as a lightning dragon struck forth.

"You may be one of the strongest God King, but your ability is not focused on a battle like this. I will show the universe that I am worthy of becoming a God King like those in the past." Sun Gong clapped his hand as a huge array appeared behind him. His creation time was similar to that of Alex, so Lin Xingzhi shouldn't be able to stop him while casting.

"Indeed. Compared to the Sword God, my offensive power is still below him. However, against you? I have enough to spare." Lin Xingzhi smiled and spread both hands, creating two more Disturbances.

There were currently a Lightning Disturbance from above, an Earth Disturbance from the left and a Space Disturbance from below.

Sun Gong activated his array as a small light ball emerged from the array. It flew at high speed before two arrays appeared.

The first array absorbed the ball before shooting out a few streams of light. The second array controlled all those lights so the Array God could choose a specific target to obliterate.

Lin Xingzhi furrowed her eyebrows while looking at her surroundings. The lights prevented her from escaping. At the same time, it held enough strength to injure her.

Yet, Lin Xingzhi still could smile in this situation. She simply raised her hand and created another disturbance.

Surprisingly, the Disturbance was a Space Disturbance. Due to the distorting effect from it, the light bent again, moving away from her.

"!!!" The Array God finally closed his eyes as he became serious. He raised his vision, seeing that the lightning dragon almost hit him and pushed his palm above as another huge array appeared, releasing a white sword, penetrating the dragon.

At the same time, the Earth Disturbance formed a meteorite that would strike him and his ship if he didn't take it.

Having no choice, Sun Gong clicked his tongue and created another Barrier Array to stop the meteorite.

It was at this time Lin Xingzhi played her card, the Space Disturbance that deflected Sun Gong's attacks suddenly turned into a portal, connected to the other Space Disturbance, teleporting the attack back to its owner.

"Wha—" Sun Gong widened his eyes and put another Barrier Array to the other side. In other words, he was controlling three arrays at the same time.

Unfortunately, Lin Xingzhi was a bit better because three or four wasn't her limit. She created another one.

Below the Array God, a small-scale sun appeared and burst out an intense heat. It released a few pillars of fire toward Sun Gong.

Surprisingly, Sun Gong really had the ability to back up his claim. He moved his finger, making a small triangle with his index and middle fingers.

"Three Great Formation Array, Sun, Moon, Star."

Three arrays appeared next to him as the first three disappeared.

The lightning dragon, the meteorite, and Sun Gong's own attack hit him at the same time.

But what Lin Xingzhi found was the crumbling meteorite. The lightning dragon also magically disappeared as if it couldn't penetrate something that stopped him.

The same applied to Sun Gong's previous attack. As if hitting something, the laser like attacks dispersed and disappeared after losing all of their energy.

"Hmm...Not bad." Lin Xingzhi narrowed her eyes as Sun Gong emerged from the attacks unscathed. The three arrays also had disappeared, so she couldn't understand what was going on.

"It's my turn." The Array God raised his hands, summoning three arrays at once. A spear emerged from the first one, lightning sparked from the second one, and flame burst out of the third one. "Take it if you—"

Before he finished, one of the arrays broke as Lin Xingzhi utilized her sixth Disturbance, an Ice Disturbance.

"What did you say? Is there any enemy who will wait to get attacked?" Lin Xingzhi snorted with a cold gaze. At first, she wanted to aim at his body but realized that the Array God would notice it. Hence, she changed her target at the last second, allowing her to reduce the attack into two.

"Hmph!" The Array God remained unfazed and sent only the spear and lightning.

Lin Xingzhi waved her hand as the Space Disturbance blocked the attacks once again. At the same time, she summoned a few more Disturbances to start a counterattack.

...

While Lin Xingzhi handled the Array God, William and Sullivan were fighting two Rank 2 Gods together. They seemed to have fought together a lot in the past from the way they moved and talked.

Sullivan waved his sword and released a Sword Wave toward the blue-haired God in front of him. When the latter was about to dodge, he sensed that William's opponent was behind him. In other words, if he dodged, the attack would surely hit him.

Little did he know that the one behind him also faced the same thing. William had cornered his opponent while matching Sullivan's attack.

When their enemies had the same thoughts, they jumped forward and struck the Sword Wave without hesitation.

Boom.

The shock waves produced by these two clashes shook the entire battlefield. If not because they had a fight going on, they would surely watch the battle between two Rank 2 Gods. It was just too exciting to pass.

Sullivan winked his eyes as if sending a message to William.

Understanding what he intended to do, William sheathed his blade once before swinging it as fast as possible. Sullivan also did the same thing.

"Limitless Curved Blade."

They used the same technique as their opponents thought there would be another Sword Wave coming. However, what they said was more complex than that.

Sullivan's attack curved to the right side, going around his enemy just to reach William's enemy. William also did the same thing as his attack flew toward Sullivan's enemy.

When the two realized it, they were too late to dodge and slashed that attack without their stance. The unbalanced body got pushed back as both backs hit each other.

This was the opportunity Sullivan and William created. They followed the course of their own attacks with their sword sheathed. Just like earlier, they planned to do the same ultra-fast swing.

"Sword Lariat!"

"!!!" The two Rank 2 Gods tried to block those two attacks but ended up losing their right hand simultaneously.

"Kh..." The left Rank 2 God glared at Sullivan and his right hand. He gritted his teeth and took a deep breath. "It seems I have underestimated you. I won't do it anymore this time."

Suddenly, his right hand grew but made of stones. At the same time, three pairs of stone hands appeared from his back, each holding a sword.

"Eight Arms Asura."

"Oi, oi. Sullivan. Look at your opponents, you cut one arm and it regrows along with another three pairs." William jokingly teased Sullivan in this battle.

"Then, I just need to cut more. Since he has shown me something interesting, I should reciprocate his feelings, no?" Sullivan smirked as he was enveloped by Black Energy.

A pair of crow wings emerged from his back while the black patterns on his face spread out until his face was completely black as if wearing a mask.

"True Spirit Body, Untainted Crow Form." He smiled and slashed his sword, releasing not a Sword Wave but his own black feathers.

"!!!" His enemy decided to slash all of them with all his hands but ended up getting blown away, not expecting the powerful force behind each feather.

"Haiz. To think you are using your True Spirit Body. Mine is not too flashy though..." William smiled as another sword appeared on his waist.

"I am still here!" The other one shouted because Sullivan and William paid too much attention to the one beside him. He swallowed the Divine Pill to regrow his hand. Although it didn't have too much strength, the effect could be minimized for a period of time with his Divine Energy. Holding two swords, he glared at William. "I will cut you down."

"Hmph! Look at your own opponent." Sullivan only snorted while looking at the new sword on his waist. He knew this whole time that William had been holding back this whole time. The reason why William became the Central Guardian, which was known as the leader of the Guardians, was due to this style.

William did the same thing as his opponent, pulling out his second sword. The moment he held that sword, his aura changed from a cheerful guy into someone filled with killing intent.

Sullivan smiled and remembered that William managed to lay a blow on the previous Spirit God due to this style.

Although it was indescribable, his opponent could see an aura coming from both blades.

William smirked with confidence as he said, "I will show you my Two Flash Sword Style then. Hope you won't die too fast, you f*cking piece of sh*t!"

Chapter 1083 - Great Battle Part 2

William's opponent raised his blade on top of his head and waited for William to make the first move while saying. "Then, I would like to see whether your blade can reach me."

William smiled and looked around before waving both swords vertically. "This won't take too long."

His opponent was confused by his action because that swing didn't generate anything.

Yet, William kept doing a few swings before sending something indescribable to his opponent.

"!!!" It struck deep inside his heart...The feeling of death. In an instant, his opponent realized that William had been making his attack. "I need to stop his swinging!"

He quickly jumped toward William and swung both swords to stop whatever William was doing. However, he soon felt something on his hand as if it was hit by an invisible force, pushing it back a little bit to mess up his movement.

William then disappeared as two strikes had been delivered, albeit the enemy seemed to be one of the strongest Rank 2 Gods among Array God's retainers.

Even so, William still managed to leave a graze on his enemy's arm.

Although it was shallow, it already showed their disparity.

"This is good! To think I would have the chance to meet someone like you!" He laughed and looked at William who kept swinging his blade, turning the force to an even deadlier one.

Suddenly, his attack pattern changed as he began charging at William without care. His swords released powerful winds that could rip someone apart.

"After fighting you, I have realized that you don't rely on your element. No, should I say that you have completely abandoned your own element?"

"I don't need an element. I reach my current power with my swords alone. You may believe that my own swords are my elements. That's all there to it."

"Haha. You are amusing." He smirked. "I am Regen, Sun Gong's strongest retainers. I shall applaud you to take my arm at the beginning and create this many wounds on my body. However, I am the strongest when I am fighting alone! Hence, be proud when you die in my hand."

"..." William furrowed his eyebrows and took him head-on. "Spirit God's Central Guardian, William."

His opponent continuously threw strikes after strikes, but William blocked every single of them. In fact, he even injured him every now and then until his opponent was covered with blood, and yet, the latter couldn't care less of his body.

Despite the numerous wounds, he followed wherever William went until one point.

Clang.

The clash that made William surprised occurred.

"Ah! This is it. I have disturbed your rhythm. Now it's time for me to attack you!" He smirked and slashed once more. "Twin Berserker Dance."

"!!!" William was taken aback before he spat blood as two big wounds appeared on his chest.

"Tch! Too shallow." His opponent clicked his tongue and turned around, only to find William had gotten his rhythm back. "What?"

'It's time.' William thought. For the first time, he took the initiative to get closer to his opponent.

"Did you let me cut you, so you can grasp your rhythm back? You are very strong, aren't you?" The latter raised his blades and slashed both of them diagonally despite knowing that his attack would surely hit the spaceship. It just showed how powerful William is. He needed to use everything without thinking about someone's safety if he wanted to defeat William, especially after sensing that William had built up his own attack, planning to release it at any moment.

"Unsurpassed Blade Wind." The powerful wind gushed out of his swords and even pushed the spaceship a little. No matter what anyone said, he was still a Rank 2 God. Even though William was stronger, he still had enough strength to claim his current cultivation.

"I might be slashing my own ship, but I need to do it to defeat you." His eyes flashed a dangerous glint as the wind became even stronger. "Even if you are my enemy, it's an honor to fight a swordsman like you."

"I see. So, you are also a warrior. In that case, let's this clash end it all." William smiled as he almost reached his opponent.

"So be it!" He smiled and swung his swords with all his might. "Unsurpassed God Blade."

Seeing the swords, William also released his strike and passed his opponent.

Not many people saw it, but in that instant, two massive green Sword Waves were about to hit the spaceship, but both were destroyed by William's swords alone without having any extraordinary appearance.

However, only his opponent faced the real nightmare of William's true sword.

With his back facing William's back, he sheathed his swords and smiled. "What is the name of your blade?"

"Two Flash Sword Style Ultimate Form. Formless Third Blade."

"Swinging a hundred times to create a magnificent combo that even forced the law of this universe to create one Absolute Blade. Sacrificing your own body to forcefully gain back your rhythm. The third blade of a two-sword style...I have lost."

William smiled as the blade finally showed its might. The Rank 2 God's body was split into half as the cut area spread, cutting the mothership's wing cleanly.

William also sheathed his swords and took a deep breath, still feeling numb after that last attack. Even though he was an enemy, he considered him a warrior.

"Such a strong warrior. I am glad to have the chance to fight him."

...

As the fight ended, Sullivan sighed. "It seems that your friend has died."

"Hmph! You should worry about yourself first. All this time, you keep defending, and with him being exhausted from that last battle, I will kill you before he can recover." Sullivan's opponent snorted as he used all eight arms to strike Sullivan.

However, such a thing was easily blocked by not his sword but his wings. He simply covered his body with his wings that seemed to be impenetrable before slashing his sword.

His opponent was also better than a normal Rank 2 God. His real hand was far faster than his stone hands, allowing him to intercept that true strike.

Still, if one were to take a closer look, they would notice that Sullivan's feathers kept being chipped by his opponent. They all were scattering in the space.

After a certain point, they started to be noticeable, making people think that Sullivan would lose.

The conclusion came in a sudden, when Sullivan's opponent hit him again, due to the lack of feathers, it was the first time Sullivan bleed.

The blood coming out of his wings floated into space, making his opponent more confident.

'It's time." He smirked as all eight swords began to glow. "Die!"

"Eight Arms Asura. Divine Cut."

Sullivan looked at those blades and smiled. He recalled what happened six thousand years ago.

...

Six thousand years ago.

It was his meeting with Alex in the castle. Because it was a private one, only two of them were inside a small room.

"Sullivan," Alex called.

"Do you need me, Your Majesty?"

"Why do you keep holding back your power?" Alex asked while looking at him.

"I don't understand what you mean, Your Majesty." He shook his head in confusion.

"How about you return to your original form?" Alex narrowed his eyes. "I don't like the small one, the real one."

Sullivan pondered for a second before turning into a three meters high crow. However, unlike the form that Sherry had seen, his wings had a difference. It wasn't just a simple one pair. Instead, Sullivan actually had three pairs of wings.

"Due to these wings, people called me an oddball or a monster. I am afraid that it will affect Your Majesty's image..." Sullivan shook his head.

"You kept saying that despite knowing I don't mind, right?"

"Even so, I would feel bad after doing it. I know I am in the wrong. Even if Your Majesty wants to exile me, this one will accept."

Alex sighed and looked at the ceiling before realizing something. "That's right. I have upgraded the ability of my Elemental Gods, Guardians, and Commandants, but I haven't done anything to you."

"That... That... I think it's a waste to use it on me, Your Majesty. I will keep hiding the other two pairs..."

"No, I think I can do something about it." Alex smiled. "But I want you to promise me something."

Sullivan hesitated, so Alex decided to continue without waiting for his reply. "I will give you the chance to hide it. However, there will be a time that your power alone is not enough to handle your opponent. At that time, I want you to show me everything. Even if people claim you are a monster, I will become even more monstrous to make you look like a normal Spirit. I will walk every step you take, so..."

He placed his hands on Sullivan's shoulders before using his Spirit Crown.

Sullivan suddenly turned into his human form.

"Sullivan. True Spirit Body!"

"True Spirit Body, Untainted Crow Form."

Suddenly, Sullivan transformed into his True Spirit Body only to feel something weird. The power he gained wasn't comparable to his usual True Spirit Body.

Alex waved his hand and controlled the Spiritual Energy to create a mirror, allowing him to see his own transformation. At that time, Sullivan let out tears as he saw only one pair of wings on his back.

"This was the first time. Instead of enhancing your skill, I used it on your True Spirit Body instead, separating your True Spirit Body into two parts." Alex paused for a moment and asked. "How about you use it?"

"How?" Sullivan tilted his head in confusion.

"I am sure that you know it. Ask your body, not me." Alex shook his head with a calm expression, waiting for him to achieve the second form.

Sullivan closed his eyes and checked his body before an image flashed in his mind. He subconsciously opened his mouth. "True Spirit Body, Intexia Crow Form."

Two other pairs of his wings suddenly appeared as if it just grew. His power raised exponentially, even surpassing his previous power.

Even Sullivan was shocked when he saw this. Checking his body, he exclaimed in surprise. "This...My current power is like one hundred twenty percent of my original form."

"There is one more thing." Alex smiled and stretched his hand, grasping his wing.

Sullivan couldn't understand what he did, but when he saw blood coming out of his palm, he quickly undid his transformation. "Your Majesty."

"I am fine." Alex smiled and retracted his hand, looking at the wound that soon got closed. "Your Wing has become your additional blade."

"Your Majesty." Sullivan quickly kneeled as he never thought that Alex would have done something like this for someone like him. He had betrayed Alex's trust by holding back and yet, not only Alex gave him another chance, but he also granted him something far more important.

"Sullivan. I am relying on you. I know for sure that even the Lightning Goddess, Zerah, can't compete against you in terms of speed."

Sullivan kept kneeling and couldn't help but cry.

...

After recalling that scene, Sullivan took a deep breath and opened his mouth. "True Spirit Body, second form. Intexia Crow Form."

Sullivan finally released all his six wings. Those wings instantly cut all the stone arms as Sullivan slashed his blade from below, hitting the real two hands.

"!!!" His enemy widened his eyes and leaped backward to gain another distance because he smelled something different from Sullivan.

However, Sullivan already disappeared in that instant.

"Where—" His enemy opened his mouth before realizing that he had been cut and soon split into half.

Sullivan turned out to be behind him with Dark Energy coming out of his body. "I am sorry for this whole time, Your Majesty. To think that I couldn't see you anymore after giving you that promise. However, I won't run away anymore."

"Traceless Blade. Intex."

He sheathed his sword and let out a long sigh before his eyes intertwined with William's, who gradually approached him.

Chapter 1084 - Great Battle Part 3

"Oi, oi, oi! What's that?" William quickly approached him without a care of his own wound. "Since when did you have six wings?"

"Always has been." Sullivan let out a long sigh. "In the past, my trauma prevented me from using this. To think that a few years after promising his majesty that I will unleash everything I have when necessary was the last promise I had before he fought the beast...My heart couldn't take it anymore."

"I chose not to run away anymore, making sure that the current him wouldn't die because of me holding back. After all, I know that losing someone is far worse than getting scrutinized by those around you..." Sullivan closed his eyes, letting out tears.

"Haiz. I never thought that His Majesty forced us to stay home back then, saying that he wouldn't do anything, only turned out that he left alone to fight that beast..." William scratched the back of his head.

"Anyway, I believed that His Majesty had predicted everything, so we could only trust his choice and make sure that the current him can achieve everything he has left behind."

"Yes." Sullivan nodded with a solemn face before asking. "How about your wounds?"

"It's nothing. Every time I fought, I would gain this type of injury, so it's fine. My strength is still at the top...Just a bit exhausted. Probably, I can only help someone once more before my Spiritual Energy is zero. You should know that my Formless Blade required a ridiculous amount of Spiritual Energy, right?"

"Yeah. Though because you managed to wound him in the past using that technique, he decided to use his Spirit Crown to make it even stronger." Sullivan nodded. "Anyway, let's go back to his side first and ask about his opinion."

"Sure thing." William acknowledged and returned to Alex's side.

"Your Majesty. We have successfully killed our enemies." Both cupped their hands and bowed politely.

"How is your body?" Alex asked.

"I will be fine to help someone, but I will retire after that. As expected, taking their strongest Rank 2 God is not easy."

"How about you kill one more so I can stand here to protect his majesty? You probably should help that little Lilda because she is His Majesty's escort, no?"

"Fair enough." William nodded before looking at Alex, confirming the request.

However, Alex simply waved his hand, pointing at the East Guardian, the poison master, Carissa. "You will help her."

"Carissa, huh. Well, she herself is not good at a fight, but I think she can hold on for a little longer." William narrowed his eyes.

"Are you questioning our king's decision, William?" Sullivan released his killing intent.

"No, that's not what I mean. I just want to have His Majesty protected."

"No. It's fine this way. While you are heading to Carissa, I will help the one fighting the Beast God. Both of their opponents have a fire element..." Alex smiled. "Why don't we use something to suppress them?"

"Your Majesty. Are you planning to use the power of Fire God?"

Alex nodded.

"But won't it be too soon? The whole universe is watching you right now. If you carelessly use that power, they will think they need more people to come."

"That's the reason. With more people, their relationship will become even more unstable, resulting in us getting more time to prepare. After that, we can use deception like rumors or such to slow them down even further." Alex smirked. "I hope that I can reach Rank 4 if not Rank 3 before handling them."

"I see. So that's how Your Majesty wants to play out." William nodded. "In that case, Your Majesty wants to use your Space Element as a Trump Card?"

"Yes. Though I haven't practiced my Space Element to his level, since I am planning to take on his inheritance, I will learn it there." Alex nodded with a serious expression. He had calculated everything from the beginning.

"No wonder." William smiled. "I understand. I shall help Carissa."

"Good." Alex then turned to Sullivan. "Do you think you can kill the Beast God's opponent in one strike?"

"If there is an opening, it will be easy." Sullivan nodded.

"That's right. What was the skill you used earlier? You were so fast and cut your enemy just like that." William remembered what he wanted to ask previously.

"It's my true form. I am a six-winged crow. The reason that the Previous Spirit God accepted me as his sole bodyguard was due to my speed. In terms of combat alone, I can probably take on Korzan head-on. However, my strength is in my speed. I can confidently claim that no one is faster than me." He smiled.

"Is that so? Though I really believe that I won't be your match from that speed alone. I can barely follow your movement. Maybe if I have the chance to see your speed a few times, I can defeat you." William thought for a moment.

"Who will let someone escape when you have the chance to kill him?" Sullivan snorted.

"Hmph." William snorted.

"Anyway, let's go." Alex shook his head helplessly. "Let's settle this fight as soon as possible."

"Understood." Both cupped their hands as they disappeared from the battlefield.

...

Meanwhile, Carissa waved her hand and sent a crescent-shaped wave, hitting her opponent's attack directly.

"Tch." Her opponent raised her spear again. Blood had begun coming out of her mouth due to Carissa's poison.

At the same time, Carissa's condition wasn't that good.

"You won't be able to kill me. Your poison is not potent enough." She raised her spear and prepared for another charge.

"I know. Poison experts are never considered someone strong. After all, Divine Energy can hold it off for a long time. When I am dead, you will probably find a way to stop the poison until you have a way to purify it." Carissa smiled. "In fact, I may be the weakest among the guardians. Even so, I still have enough power to buy time until my friends kill all of you. When that time comes, you will have become weak enough that even a Rank 3 God can easily kill you."

"Then I only need to kill you as quickly as possible." She raised her hand and charged at her.

Carissa raised her hand and summoned a giant translucent green-colored palm to stop that charge.

However, her opponent released a powerful fire element that burned all those poisons and pierced through that palm.

"This is it..." She thrust her spear.

Carissa clenched her teeth and launched herself to the left, albeit the spear was quick enough to pierce her shoulder.

"Gah!" Carissa screamed out of pain.

Her opponent smirked and planned to kill her right now.

However, Carissa grasped the spear and controlled her blood to move around, melting the spear.

"What? Ten thousand poison blood?" Her opponent recognized her blood that could even melt a Divine Spear, but she was too late. One drop of Carissa's blood had touched her left hand, turning her white skin into black and spreading at high speed.

The woman released her spear and cut her own hand without hesitation. "Kh..."

Carissa smiled even with blood coming out of her mouth. "Why are you running? I am still here."

"You are insane. Are you planning to kill yourself just to bring me down with you?"

"This is how the weak me has survived until now." Carissa waved her hand, taunting her to come.

Her opponent took another spear out even though she didn't have her left hand anymore. She planned to be more cautious against Carissa, albeit little did she know she was too late.

"Ah, ah. I have told you to come and kill me, but you waste your precious chance." Carissa smiled.

"What did—" Before she finished, an immeasurable pressure hit her. She quickly revolved her Divine Energy but to no avail. She could fight the pressure but couldn't resolve it.

When she turned around, Alex appeared in her vision before the former became upside down.

William let out a long breath and turned to Carissa. "Are you alright, little girl?"

"Not quite. I used a lot of blood during this fight." She shook her head before looking at Alex. Without bothering the old man, Carissa regrouped with Alex.

William couldn't help but shake his head helplessly after seeing how she just ignored him. "Little girl. I just saved you, you know..."

"Without His Majesty, you couldn't do it in that instant." Carissa stuck out her tongue before jumping toward Alex, planning to hug him. "Your Majesty..."

Alex stretched his hand and stopped her by grabbing her forehead. "What?"

"Ah, I am injured, you know." She spun her body and gracefully fell on Alex's embrace. In addition, Carissa even used her full power just to take advantage of this situation. There was no way Alex could react with his current strength.

Taking out a bottle from her space ring, she handed it to Alex with her shaking hand. "Your Majesty. Can you please feed me the medicine? I don't mind if you don't want to do it mouth to mouth, but can you? Pretty please."

Alex twitched his eyebrows, noticing something wrong with the medicine. "Alright. But shouldn't you explain what this medicine is?"

"It's obviously aphrodisiac. If I take that, I will be like a cat in the heat. That way, His Majesty won't have another option other than relieving me through intercourse. After all, my poison blood will just evaporate if you try it with your Pure Fire." Carissa smiled playfully.

"I see. I heard something useful." Alex smiled and placed his hand on her shoulder.

Carissa misunderstood his intention and felt gleeful, expecting him to start groping her chest. However, that pleasure never came. Only the pain was coming.

"Argh!" She struggled before leaping off his embrace. "Uuh...Your Majesty turns out to be an S."

"Little girl, you should be more serious." William sighed when he looked at Carissa.

Alex just slipped a bit of his Pure Fire to her wound, giving her a bit of pain.

"I am serious!" Carissa pouted. "Well, thanks for the help."

"You're welcome." William nodded.

Carissa also took another ointment before giving it to William. "Take this. It should be enough to close your wound. It's the poison that will stimulate your defense system to create more cells to regenerate your body."

"Thanks." William grabbed the ointment and smeared it on his wound.

Carissa also did the same before cupping her hand to Alex. "Thank you for your help, Your Majesty."

Alex nodded. "Is your body alright? I think you should go back with William since we have successfully defeated four Rank 2 Gods."

"I think I have another good plan, Your Majesty." William raised his hand. "Since this one didn't take any energy, I can wreak havoc in their rank, destroying a few spaceships. This way, they will get distracted and the overall situation will turn our way."

"No. It's fine. Besides, I have a job for you." Alex turned around and saw all his wives fighting. "Can both of you protect them?"

"We understand." They bowed to him.

Suddenly, Sullivan brought Lilda with him. "That's five, Your Majesty."

"Oh, Sullivan! What the heck is that form?" Carissa's eyes brightened. "You look amazing."

"This doesn't suit me at all." Sullivan shook his head. "Anyway, I alone will be enough to change the situation, so you two can protect the ladies for the time being. Your Majesty...Will you—"

"Nope. I am not planning to stop here." Alex didn't let him finish and stated. "I am going to kill that guy."

Sullivan sighed as if he had expected Alex would say that. "I shall escort you to that place."

"Sure." Alex agreed since it would be faster that way.

A few seconds later.

Alex and Lilda appeared before the spaceship, looking at Young Master Sun. It was obvious who was superior, considering the latter was only a Rank 9 God while Alex was a Rank 5 God.

"You are not going to die easily." Alex only said as he planned to hand him to Jeanne after this.

Chapter 1085 - Great Battle Part 4

"You—" Young Master Sun clenched his teeth and knew that there was no way he could fight Alex. He was convinced that he could get Sherry, but to think one person, only a Rank 5 God, could overturn the entire situation. He quickly shouted. "Help me!"

"Young Master!" Three Rank 3 Gods appeared next to him, planning to strike Alex. They just barely escaped from their pursuer and tried to come to the Young Master after seeing William and Sullivan killed their opponents.

"I am sorry, but my king wants to bully that man a little bit, you know. So, I will be entertaining you for a while...That is if you don't die in the process." Lilda smiled and clapped her hand, summoning Eulja's logo on her back.

Meanwhile, Alex passed her side and said, "I am leaving them to you."

"No one shall touch you." Lilda nodded with a serious expression.

After hearing that, Alex jumped toward their Young Master with his weapons.

"Hii!" Young Master Sun wanted to escape immediately, but a shadow appeared from the ship, heading straight between him and Alex.

"!!!" Alex instinctively slashed his sword toward that shadow before getting repelled.

"Your Majesty!" Lilda shouted and became concerned about Alex's well-being.

Alex looked at the young man that suddenly came out. It was none other than the other prince that didn't have the same ideal as his father, Sun Gongming.

"I am sorry, but no matter how foolish my little brother is, I should be stepping in this situation." Sun Gongming calmly looked at Alex before asking. "If I may ask, is there a possibility where we can settle this peacefully, Your Majesty, the Spirit King?"

"I can see that you are different from them. However, it's already too late." Alex shook his head.

"In that case, I can only offend you." Sun Gongming raised his hands, summoning an array behind him.

"If you can, that is... I have been wanting to test my strength against a Rank 4 God anyway." Alex raised both hands, released his Absolute Blade Intent, Pure Weapon Qi, and his Godly Pure Fire, and summoned his two dragons.

"Lightning Dragon Array!" As one would expect from the son of an Array God. His array activation was only less than five seconds when people on his peer were supposed to make it in ten seconds to be considered a genius.

A lightning dragon similar to the one that Lin Xingzhi summoned emerged from the array, flying toward him.

Alex's two dragons, which had a smaller size, flew toward it, trying to burn that lightning dragon.

Surprisingly, the Lightning Dragon could move its hands and grabbed both dragons, crushing their heads as if nothing.

Alex's weapon spirits obviously didn't take it that friendly. Before the dragon disappeared, it released a burst of Fire Energy, burning the dragon's hand until it disappeared.

To complete his attack before Alex's Pure Fire burned the dragon as a whole, Sun Gongming forced the dragon to ram through him.

Surprisingly, Alex didn't even dodge and let the dragon swallow him, yet, Sun Gongming frowned instead of smiling.

His Lightning Dragon was ripped apart by a fox that emerged from Alex's back.

"Fire Authority, First Stage. Fire Avatar."

"..." Sun Gongming took a deep breath. In that instant, he understood the reason why the Spirit God was feared. Normally, it was hard for God Rank Expert to fight someone above their level, yet, the one before him could completely destroy his attack without even moving.

No wonder that Lin Xingzhi said that he couldn't be compared to those who possessed overwhelming prowess in the past. It turned out that if someone like Alex actually became a God King, he would possess so much offensive power.

Knowing that he couldn't hold back anymore, Sun Gongming summoned another Array. This time, it called a knife from it. The knife held a considerable amount of killing intent. Coupled with his lightning element, the knife flew like lightning.

Alex narrowed his eyes and disappeared.

The next second, he was already in front of the knife, thrusting his spear.

"Twin Fusion Spear."

The Space Element bent the knife's edge before the Pure Fire emerged from behind, obliterating the knife. Alex's momentum was still forward, heading straight toward Sun Gongming with his sword.

"!!!" Sun Gongming leaped backward to avoid that strike, but Alex didn't let him go away.

With his speed faster than him, Sun Gongming knew that Alex would catch up soon. Instead of running away, he summoned another Array.

As an Array Master himself, Alex noticed the symbols signifying the Barrier Array. It seemed that he needed to cut a barrier array first before cutting him down.

To his surprise, Sun Gongming clenched his hand and threw a fist.

'What? Why did he try to punch me? Does he want me to cut his ha—' When he was about to finish thinking, he noticed that the barrier array formed a small barrier to cover his fist instead of a square that would block him. 'Did he just make a boxing glove out of a barrier array? Seriously?'

Without having any choice, Alex slashed his sword early, resulting in him clashing with that glove instead.

"Three Purities Slash."

To everyone's surprise, Sun Gongming managed to blow Alex away. The latter tried hard to stabilize his position, but no one noticed it until Sun Gongming raised his hand.

The barrier was completely cut deep enough until the sword cut his fingers. It was painful, but the thought of his world getting annihilated just like that was more painful than him.

He didn't even let out a single groan when he saw no finger remained in his right hand.

What no one knew was the fact that Alex cut it with his Pure Sword Qi, the thing that was said to be capable of cutting anything. And with the Space Element and Fire Element enveloping it, it was, in fact, weird to see that it didn't cut Sun Gongming's hand.

It also showed the disparity between Sun Gongming and his brother. No wonder that people adored him as the next ruler after the Array God.

"No wonder the record said that the Sword God and the Spirit God could actually cut a planet into half. Seeing that you managed to cut my concentrated barrier like this, I believe that you would be able to cut a planet in the future." Sun Gongming exclaimed in amazement.

Alex narrowed his eyes and summoned his Fox instead of replying to him. After all, he could see that he had been trapped. There were four arrays lying behind him this whole time and Sun Gongming planned to use it after blowing him away.

"And you even notice the trap I have set up..." Sun Gongming raised his hand, activating the array. "But it's too late."

The four arrays shone as lightning started sparking in all directions.

Boom.

Despite knowing that Alex took the direct hit, no one from Eulja actually said anything.

Even Sun Gongming knew that something like that wasn't enough to kill someone at Alex's caliber.

Suddenly, a fire appeared, burning the residual lightning before Alex's figure came into everyone's vision. The Fox was gone, but fox ears and tail became a part of Alex.

"..." Alex took a deep breath and knew that the person in front of him was not your average Rank 4 God. He possessed both intelligence and power, unlike the one he tried to protect. He realized why Sun Gongming wanted to settle this peacefully.

He had been fighting to change his world.

"It seems that you are a fighter yourself. The one that wants to change something."

"As expected from a king such as yourself. Unfortunately, it's something not possible, right?"

"Unfortunately, no. I will use your world as an example to save...to warn more and more people. Besides, there is no guarantee that you will stay like this when you attain that power."

Sun Gongming suddenly fell silent as if he recalled something. Little did Alex know that his father, the Array God, was actually a warm and responsible father. However, everything changed so suddenly, and no one knew the cause.

"Still, it can't be changed. I am not fast enough to stop everything from happening. In that case, I would rather die while trying than escaping." Sun Gongming let out a long sigh before looking at his brother.

"You should go. If you can escape, our family line will still survive."

Surprisingly, his brother didn't get emotional as if he planned to escape the whole time, albeit everything was too late.

"No. That's impossible." Alex shook his head before pointing his finger toward the enemy rank. "Look. It's my win."

They narrowed their eyes to see what he was pointing at.

Suddenly, a light shone behind the enemy lines.

"Four Light Authorities. First Authority, Life."

The light stunned everyone on the battlefield as they took a split second to see what happened, albeit that split second turned into a few seconds when they saw the change of their two spaceships behind.

The first one melted into molten iron before a giant pillar rose, destroying the entire ship. On the second ship, there was this black energy that was swallowing her the entire ship until nothing was left.

They were none other than Agnis in his Magma Salamander Form, Rilt with his Light Authorities, and Vina in her Night Ripper Form.

Agnis cupped his hand and roared. "Your Majesty. We have eliminated the remaining Rank 2 Gods in their territories. The other Guardians are cleaning up while we are coming for you as a reinforcement. May I know our order?"

When he asked the last question, Agnis released his killing intent. The order was already set in stone. Yet, he chose to scare the enemies once again by asking Alex the question.

Alex raised his hand, signaling Lilda to make a move.

Lilda smiled and clapped her hands as Eulja's symbol appeared behind her back. However, there was something different between her and Alex's. Next to Eulja Logo, she summoned two Array Circles instead of one.

In the past, Alex had enhanced her ability too, just like the others. And she managed to wield two Arrays at once due to Alex.

The left array summoned a giant spear, the one that the Array God used earlier, while the right one had numerous strings coming from it.

"Dual Array Control. Asura Spear Array and One Thousand Hell String Array."

Both of them flew toward the spaceship in front of Alex. The spear pierced it and was big enough to shatter the wing of the spaceship while the strings crushed it, ending up with an explosion.

Alex raised his hand at the fire and helped the outer space to make the fire disappear. What they could see was Alex's indifferent face as he opened his mouth. "I think the order is obvious... Leave no one alive."

Agnis and Vina smirked as they cupped their hands. "Order received."

Chapter 1086 - Great Battle Part 5

"!!!" Sun Gongming raised his eyebrows and activated his array, preventing Alex from moving. If he could restrain Alex here, any attacks would cease for the time being as he could escape from this situation.

However, he also knew that going back wasn't possible anymore. With all their Rank 2 Gods dead, there was no way they could return. After all, they would just get pincerred from two directions. In the end, they might need to wander around and take territory by force to escape from their chase.

But... That would depend on whether he could capture Alex or not. Despite being a Rank 5 God, Alex could go against him, a Rank 4 God.

"Lightning Spiral Array."

"..." Alex furrowed his eyebrow, watching this torrential Lightning Energy. Unlike the previous ones, this Array didn't carry a powerful energy, so he must be planning something, or that was what he thought.

Because the spiral wasn't that big, he summoned his dragon and had it swallow the torrential energy. The Lightning Element was quickly reduced to nothing due to the Pure Fire.

As he expected, Sun Gongming finally launched the real attack.

He looked up and saw four arrays appearing at the same time. The first two were formed by himself while the other two were carried by the lightning earlier.

'To think that he can use an attack to carry another Array. I wonder if I can release my Sword Wave and activate the array later. It's worth learning to be honest, albeit I already have the Holy Emblem to the point I don't need this. Besides, my Activation Speed is eight seconds, three seconds above him. Alicia probably can fight him in terms of speed.' Alex pondered before raising his sword.

"One Sword Kill, Blade of Extinction."

This Sword Wave was faster than any of his strikes, so he thought he could destroy this with his Sword Wave.

Surprisingly, the Array was one step ahead, releasing a powerful light from the very top one, reinforced by the lower ones.

Even the Blade of Extinction was halted for a second despite being covered in Pure Weapon Qi.

Looking at Sun Gongming, who seemed to plan to do another thing while he was occupied with this attack, Alex raised his spear and thrust it.

"One-Inch Spear."

"!!!" Sun Gongming launched himself to the side to avoid that attack, never expecting that Alex still had something like that in his repertoire.

The Array broke, so he couldn't interrupt Alex when he tried to destroy the arrays above his head.

At the same time, Alex waved his hand. He hadn't used this technique for a long time, but it was perfect this time.

"Fire Phoenix Art, First Stage. Phoenix Summon."

The Phoenix flew around and struck the original array, which let out that source of light. He couldn't move due to the suppression of that array, so it was better to solve it from the source.

The moment it exploded, Alex managed to free himself, but Sun Gongming had anticipated this. It turned out that the earlier Array was just a fake. He had been creating a stronger array behind his back.

"After going through the record, I know that the Spirit King will have Spirit Eyes. Your eyes are capable of seeing the energy from everything, so if I concentrate my energy inside my chest and start using my power to create an array, I should be able to fool your eyes for a few seconds." He smiled, looking at Alex while summoning an array.

"Don't die, Spirit King. I need you to be alive to end this war." Sun Gongming released all of his power to this array and shot a powerful lightning cannon.

"You talk too much." Alex snorted as if he had expected everything.

Alex had the same thought as him, which was to end this fight. Instead of releasing three of his powers, he added his Pure Weapon Qi and Weapon Spirit in the mix, allowing him to gain enough strength to cut everything.

"Five Purities Slash." Alex slashed his sword, cutting through the attack until it sliced Sun Gongming's neck.

"Ah..." Surprisingly, there was no trace of regret in Sun Gongming's eyes. He simply recalled the things happening back when he was a kid.

One thousand years ago.

Sun Gongming was only seven years old at that time. He had been fixated on Arrays even when he was a kid. He simply read all kinds of books all day in his garden.

It was a beautiful garden with small rocks. Next to him was a pond with so many golden fishes, but he paid no attention to it.

Suddenly, someone opened the door and walked inside the room, approaching the son who was too focused on his book.

"It seems that my son is so focused that he forgets his father..." The Array God, Sun Gong, bent his knees while patting his head.

"Ah, Father!" A smile appeared on Sun Gongming's face. "Welcome back."

"Yep, I'm back. How are you today?"

"I am confused on a few parts while reading this book."

"Haha!" Sun Gong laughed and lifted his child before putting him down on his lap. He hugged him from behind while holding the book with one hand while asking. "So, what makes you confused?"

"This..."

The two started discussing things. It was a peaceful time.

A few decades passed and Sun Gong had started fighting Sun Gongming with Array, training him under intensive care. However, the smile never disappeared from Sun Gongming's face.

Even with his mother giving birth to his third brother, the cheerful atmosphere never disappeared.

His father started to change a hundred years ago when he reached God King level. His expression became cold, and he never visited him again.

To that end, Sun Gongming visited his father while being careful. He cupped his head and bowed to his father. "Father. Can I ask you about this array?"

Surprisingly, what he got was just a cold gaze. "You can ask someone else. I don't have time."

"..." Sun Gongming furrowed his eyebrows, wondering what kind of thing could change his father. When he left the room in disappointment, he suddenly heard his father's voice inside.

"Argh! I am going to destroy Eulja! They are trash! I am going to make sure that they won't ruin my plan!"

Thump—! The moment he heard it, his heart dropped. He thought, 'Why would Father say that? He never has any conflict with Eulja. No, they even haven't met each other. Is there something between them or is it related to the change of my father?'

Since then, Sun Gongming decided to start his own investigation with all his efforts, trying to find the reason for his father's change.

He ended up not finding anything related to Eulja. Instead, there was another entity that was influencing his father and made him suffer. His father even started talking weirdly from time to time, which he listened to a few times.

It turned out that it had something to do with the Array God inheritance he got from the former Array God. Unfortunately, his investigation ended here as his father found it and forced him to stop.

During the night, he fell silent, watching the moon in this tranquil atmosphere.

"Mother. What should I do? Sun Jia has started going weird. Second Brother also has died during a mission. Now, I am left alone here and can't stop Father. Mother, what should I do?"

During the long night, he came up with an idea. It wouldn't be an easy and short path, but he decided to pursue it. Stretching his hand to the sky, he smiled. "I am going to become a Rank 1 God too and stop Father from all this. I know that he must be suffering something that I don't know, so when I have enough strength, I will force him to tell me everything. After that, my Father and I can protect this family and world."

Unfortunately, he could never achieve that dream. His eyes became fuzzy as he didn't have the feeling of his body anymore. Well, his head was already separated from it, so of course, he couldn't feel it.

Without knowing why, he ended up using the last bit of his Divine Energy to hand him a Space Ring and closed his eyes while saying. "Thank you."

His mind became blank before he saw something so bright.

"Is this Heaven?" His fuzziness prevented him from thinking straight. Everything he did was according to his instinct. There was a woman in front of him, smiling. That smile just melted his heart as if telling him, 'Everything is going to be alright.'

"Ah...Mother... I am... Sorry. I... Can't...Keep...The...Family...i—"

He started hallucinating and heard a voice in his head.

'It's fine, Son. Let's go back and wait for your father and brother.'

"Ah..." He instinctively took the lady's hand and smiled, not wanting to think anymore. He simply followed her while saying, 'Yes.'

...

Meanwhile, Alex looked at Sun Gongming's last moment. He didn't understand what he saw during his last moment, but he couldn't help but empathize with him.

There was a genuine smile, tears, and relief reflected on his face at the same time. He was someone who just wanted the best for his planet and family.

Alex grabbed the Space Ring and checked it with his Spirit Eyes. After confirming that there was no trap inside, he checked inside the Space Ring, only to find so many research papers. He didn't understand it until he took out one to check the content before fighting again.

It just took him one glance to understand what was going on since everything had been summarized by the title. After storing it back and keeping the Space Ring, he snapped his finger.

Sun Gongming's body was burned to ashes as Alex started to chase his prey. However, he still didn't forget to say one thing to the deceased Sun Gongming.

"Thanks."

Chapter 1087 - Great Battle Ends

"You b*tch! I am going to kill you!" shouted the Array God, Sun Gong. His face was red and his heart wasn't calm anymore.

Lin Xingzhi might haven't inflicted serious damage to his body, but he had wasted too much energy just to deal with her attack. If they fought for another few minutes, Lin Xingzhi might start getting the advantage.

Thinking for a moment, Sun Gong narrowed his eyes as though he made a decision in his heart.

Raising his hand before waving his two fingers, Sun Gong created another three Arrays next to him.

Lin Xingzhi raised an Ice Disturbance, freezing all three arrays, but the Array God simply used it as a cover, so the Ice Disturbance didn't freeze the arrays behind it. In other words, the ones she froze earlier were just fake.

Three spears emerged from the Arrays, flying toward Lin Xingzhi.

Lin Xingzhi waved her hands, controlling the Spiritual Energy diagonal to her. Due to the fact that she controlled two facing each other, she clapped her hands.

Both Fire Disturbances burst a powerful flame pillar that somehow connected to each other, turning it into a giant net that would catch the three spears.

"..." Lin Xingzhi's expression remained calm as she would keep him here until he was exhausted. Besides, his army had begun to fall apart with Alex on the move. "You are going to die no matter what, so just accept it."

"You are the one going to die!" He shouted.

Suddenly, the spears that got caught by the net disappeared, revealing Sun Gong's appearance. Because the net was to catch the giant spear, it had enough space for Sun Gong to go through as soon as his spears disappeared.

"!!!" Lin Xingzhi thought that Sun Gong was not someone who was adept in close combat, but when she looked at him clenching his hands on one side, preparing to hit her, she knew she was wrong.

For the last resort, she created a few layers of barriers to prevent him from coming, but Sun Gong disappeared as if he had predicted it.

Lin Xingzhi turned her head to the right before channeling all her Divine Energy into her hands, preparing to stop his hands and blowing him away.

"Die!"

"!!!"

Before the clash, Lin Xingzhi widened her eyes, seeing something too shocking for her. The Array God had been hiding his right hand behind him with his pose must be to conceal this.

His right hand was not a human anymore. It was a green snake instead.

"You—" Unfortunately, it was too late for Lin Xingzhi. They had clashed, where the snake (Sun Gong's right hand) already circled her hand and bit her wrist before he himself got blown away.

"!!!" Lin Xingzhi surprisingly spat out blood as she couldn't comprehend the situation.

"Hahaha! This is the most potent poison in this world. Even your Poison Master won't have poison at this level. You will die in a few minutes." Sun Gong laughed. "That is only because you are a God King. Hahahahaha!"

Sun Gong's face was filled with joy as if he had done something great. However, Lin Xingzhi realized what was going on when he specifically mentioned the strongest venom in the world.

According to Carissa, she had met all kinds of venom she could find around the area, so nothing would be able to beat her poison. Yet, Sun Gong claimed it was the strongest.

If it were too, then there would be someone who could produce that venom.

"You... You have forsaken this side and chosen to destroy this universe..." Lin Xingzhi narrowed her eyes. Her tone was filled with anger.

"This is mercy. You won't be able to fight them." Sun Gong snorted. "Even your beloved Spirit God couldn't handle them, let alone your shrimp. He can't even fight for one round."

Lin Xingzhi clenched her teeth and spat another mouthful of blood. When she raised her hand, it had already changed color into black, coating her entire forearm.

'I need to see Alex.' Lin Xingzhi thought before light enveloped her, turning her hand back to normal.

"!!!"

Both were surprised when they saw someone appear behind Lin Xingzhi.

"My queen... Because you still need to fight, I will try hard neutralizing the poison. I can only treat you after you are done." It turned out the one who saved her was Rilt, but his condition seemed to be a bit bad as he spat out blood. "Seriously. What is this poison? It's trying to eat your energy, bone, and blood. It's like I am fighting a God King myself."

"Are you alright, Rilt?" Lin Xingzhi asked while regaining her focus. Her eyes kept staring at Sun Gong, not wanting him to make another move, especially against Rilt.

"Yes. However, I can only do this for five minutes. Maybe you can ask His Majesty to cure you with his fire, but I think you should choose the former."

"You Bastard!" Sun Gong charged again, but this time, he headed straight to Rilt instead of Lin Xingzhi. The plan was to beat him up first, allowing the poison to consume Lin Xingzhi, but the latter went in the way, blowing him away with her palm that had returned to normal for a few minutes.

"Five minutes are enough. Although I am not planning to use it too early, the situation is indeed not good. I should end this fight as soon as possible." Lin Xingzhi nodded with a stern tone. "I will be going all out."

Rilt nodded and stepped back.

"I have enough. I will kill you first then." Sun Gong roared as he charged again with three giant spears beside him.

"Rilt, I am going to use too much energy after this. Help me, alright?"

"I will try." Rilt nodded while looking around.

"Huft. I have been lecturing Alex about this, but it seems I can't even follow it." Lin Xingzhi sighed and clapped her hands. Two Disturbances appeared left and right. The left was a Lightning Disturbance, while the right was a Fire Disturbance.

Lin Xingzhi stretched her hand as there was a bridge between these two, connecting two different disturbances. This wasn't like how she created the net earlier because these two had a different element.

The fire would try to burn the lightning while the latter wanted to strike the former. Yet, Lin Xingzhi controlled them to make them in harmony.

"!!!" Sun Gong noticed the danger of this technique and sent his spears to destroy it, but the lightning protected them while carrying the fire to increase its power.

"No, I will reach her first!" Sun Gong thought as he tried to end her life with that snake hand of his.

Unfortunately, this was Lin Xingzhi's trick. The moment he got closer, she disappeared, allowing him to get the feel of her two disturbances.

When those two fully connected, it created a boundary that looked like a sphere, trapping Sun Gong inside.

The two Disturbances then got berserk after she lost control of them. However, it was still apparent that Lin Xingzhi had challenged the impossible.

To put it simply, Lin Xingzhi had created two natural phenomena and tried to fuse them.

The power was far beyond her expectation as it created a giant explosion that shook the entire battlefield.

"NOOOOOOoooo—"

The Array God's voice echoed but soon disappeared.

Rilt had caught her and took her away while sighing. "What did you do? That was scary and dangerous at the same time. Are you trying to kill yourself?"

Lin Xingzhi shook her head. "I am exhausted after using a large portion of my energy because this is the first for me. I think I want to use this opportunity to take another step forward.

"Despite knowing my talent, my father never said that I couldn't achieve what the Sword God could do because we had two different types of energy. His was an offensive type while I had a support type.

"I think my father already knew about this and waited for me. No, I might realize this because I have been too comfortable with Alex now. I don't want to lose him anymore, so I choose to step forward, pursuing the greatest strength.

"I won't let the others destroy my family and create this technique. I feel like seeing the beast hand in Sun Gong made me realize that my opponent is far stronger than me, giving me enough courage to do it." Lin Xingzhi smiled as the images of all Alex's wives flashed in her mind. "Just like them, I have something that I want to pursue again."

"Is that so?" Rilt narrowed his eyes and sighed. "Just don't make me worry, alright? Your father asked me to take care of you before he died."

"Ahaha, I can't promise, but I will keep thinking about my safety." Lin Xingzhi chuckled.

"Good enough. For now, I will treat the poison and call Alex here." Rilt sighed and put her back next to the spaceship.

When Alex saw the explosion, he noticed Lin Xingzhi's condition and came back to her side.

Her face looked pale as she barely had enough energy to stand.

"What happened to you?" Alex's heart skipped a beat. His heartbeat increased rapidly and his hands started shaking.

"I am fine." Lin Xingzhi shook her head helplessly. "I just used something I am not used to. After this, I think it will be fine."

"..." Alex then bent his knees, holding her hand where she got bitten. "You or me?"

"You are faster. You do it," answered Rilt without hesitation. "Her Spiritual Energy is just exhausted. A bit of rest, she will be fine."

"I understand. I think the situation has been under control. Only two Rank 2 Gods on their side, so the battle will be concluded very soon." Alex assured him while channeling his Pure Fire inside her hand, burning all the venom. "Who caused this?"

"I think you should know this. When I fought that Sun Gong, his hand suddenly turned into a green snake. With this kind of toxicity, the toxin must come from one of the "weapons", the snake." Lin Xingzhi's tone was severe and her face turned grim, knowing that this might be another clue to the beast's weapons.

The problem would be locating them.

Alex smiled, assuring her. "Don't worry. I think I can handle this."

"Really?"

"Yes. Not everyone in his family was crazy. His son gave me his research about his father's change. To put it simply, his father seemed to be possessed." Alex narrowed his eyes.

"Don't tell me, it's the snake?"

"I think so. I will read his research later." Alex then turned to Rilt. "Do you think they will destroy the Array God's house? I think there will be a clue there."

"I don't think so." Rilt shook his head. "They like to fight and kill, but not destroy."

"Alright. But just in case, warn them to not touch his house. We will do a full-scale investigation there. This is the first time we have found this many clues." Alex narrowed his eyes, wondering if he should ask Silvia's father to participate in killing the snake or not.

Either way, he needed to check the information first.

"For now, you should rest here. I will settle this battle within two hours." Alex smiled before turning to Lilda who followed him. "Can you protect her instead of me?"

"But..." Lilda frowned. Her priority was his safety, so she wasn't sure about this.

"I will go with Sullivan instead." Alex smiled, assuring her that he had considered it.

Even though she was reluctant, she still nodded her head.

Alex then took out his weapons again and disappeared.

He and Sullivan roamed around the battlefield, cutting people down one by one. His Pure Fire was very effective in this situation, allowing him to kill the enemies one by one. With Sullivan next to him, all Rank 3 Gods died in just one or two minutes.

After a long work, the enemies had shrunk to only a few thousand and Alex delivered the killing blow a few minutes later.

This became the mark of their victory.

Chapter 1088 - Searching

After the war ended, Alex was standing in front of the Beast God. Behind him, Lin Xingzhi, Sullivan, and the others, including his wives, stood next to each other, showing their status. Of course, Sherry was among one of them.

Alex cupped his hand politely and said, "I would like to thank the Beast God for taking care of my wife."

"No, no. It's my job." The Beast God hurriedly replied. It felt awkward since it was their first meeting.

Glancing at Sherry, he knew what to do. "Since everything is our fault to begin with, I will hand over the right of Array God's territories to you."

Gasp— The princes and princesses dropped their jaws, never expecting Alex to hand the right just like that. To be honest, if Eulja moved from the start with their full force, the Array God would be extinguished even without their help.

Besides, only the Beast God could kill his opponent while the other Rank 2 Gods were killed by Eulja. Hence, it was kind of inappropriate to get everything.

However, it had a different meaning to Alex. He wanted to use this chance to show the worth of Sherry in his eyes. She was priceless. Even all the territories containing tens of billions of Spirit Crystals were not worth it than a single life.

"However, we have another enemy besides the Array God. It's a past enemy, so I would like to search for a clue in the Array God's temple for a while. Just lend me that building for a few weeks. You can even start stationing your people in that world." Alex smiled.

"Please don't request something like that. We have been the ones receiving the favor. It's just something minor, if you even want the entire planet, I would have given it to you." The Beast God scratched his head, feeling embarrassed.

At the same time, arresting his disappointing son in his room during the whole war seemed to be the right choice because he wouldn't ruin this talk.

"In that case, I and the others will clean up the process and start the investigation as soon as possible."

"Ye-yes." Even though Alex was only a Rank 5 God, he felt like Alex had been the one in charge of this conversation from the beginning. It might be due to the people behind him, but Alex's aura alone really made many words stuck in his throat.

"Then I won't impose you any longer." Alex cupped his hand before snapping his finger, creating a Teleportation Array below them.

"..." When they disappeared, they didn't know why but their mind felt refreshed in that instant.

Still, the Beast God let out a long sigh. Despite winning so much, this might be the last time he talked with the Spirit God. After all, he had delivered something worth more than one person, albeit it was only in ordinary people's eyes.

For those who knew about the Spirit God's true personality, they were worthless compared to one of his wives or family members.

"All of you. Let's clean up the battlefield and return." The Beast God's voice was tired, melting his sons and daughters' hearts.

"Yes, Father." They cupped their hands and answered in unison.

Meanwhile, the Cat Princess could only look at the horizon, thinking about Sherry and Alex. Sherry had been under her care this whole time, so there was still a lingering attachment to her, albeit she believed it was not possible to meet her anymore unless the opportunity arrived.

...

As soon as they arrived, Alex was greeted by Zerah. She had a pair of thunder wings behind her. "Your Majesty."

"How is the situation?" Alex smiled and nodded.

"All Rank 2 Gods have gone. We are starting to clean up all the planets around this place, making sure there was no chain of revenge from this place. If we continue at this rate, we should be able to finish within five days."

Alex thought for a moment and turned around. "Anyone want to fight?"

Surprisingly, all his spirits and wives, except Lin Xingzhi, raised their hands. The Five Guardians, except for William and Carissa, decided to accompany them.

"How about you, Lilda?"

"If I may be selfish, I would like to take a look at Array God's home to check about his array books." Lilda cupped her hand politely, requesting to be allowed to follow Alex.

"Alright." Alex nodded in agreement before turning to Sullivan. "What about you?"

"I am not sure about this, Your Majesty. I started to like Queen Sherry after accompanying her. If she goes out, I will do my best to protect her. Of course, if Your Majesty has a different plan, I will comply."

"No, it's fine. I have learned from Lin Xingzhi that you have been teaching her many things. I would like you to continue doing so. For now, I don't need a bodyguard or something since I want to progress as quickly as possible."

"I understand. I shall protect her with my life on the line." Sullivan bowed politely.

Alex's vision then returned to Zerah. "Call a few people from N Squad to investigate the building. The rest can continue handling the enemies."

"Yes, Sir." Zerah politely cupped her hand.

The next second, all those who planned to go disappeared, following Zerah since she knew about the whole situation.

"William, Carissa, you don't mind helping the investigation, right? Or you want to recover your power first?"

"This old bone is strong. Although my energy hasn't been restored, my physical body is good enough. I am planning to rejoin the battle after two or three days," answered William with confidence.

"Ah, I am planning to sed—Ahem, accompany Your Majesty."

"It's too late to correct it, Carissa. Seduce him?" Lin Xingzhi narrowed her eyes.

Carissa only looked away and replied. "I mean, I can find poison in this place. According to His Majesty, the monster is the snake, so there might be poison somewhere. I can locate it."

"Sure. Please help me." Alex nodded with a smile.

"Yes. Leave it to me."

"Anyway, let's go." Alex waved his hand and flew toward the Array God's home.

It turned out that his home looked like a city. It was so big to the point that his castle looked tiny.

In the center of the city, Alex spotted a giant mansion, filling twenty percent of this city.

Next to the mansion stood a tall tower. It looked like a black pagoda, but if one took another look, they would find it was protected by an array to bar everyone from entering. Unfortunately, his force had destroyed the array, so only half of the array remained.

"I have heard that Sun Gong has a collection of Array Books in a tower... I think that's the tower." Lilda's eyes brightened as she exclaimed in amazement.

"You can go there. Just be careful."

"Yes, Sir." Lilda made a big smile and sped up, heading straight toward the tower.

As soon as Lilda entered the building, his head turned to the mansion as they landed right at the center of the mansion. "I think we can separate from here."

"I will go to the west then." William quickly chose a direction because he didn't want to get in Lin Xingzhi's way.

"Then, I will be the opposite of you. I will go to the east." Carissa walked toward their right playfully like it was normal, but Lin Xingzhi just noticed her real intention.

"As expected of a Poison Master, her brain is also a poison." Lin Xingzhi pouted and chose to go to the south since Alex would enter from the very front. Usually, she would go to the east so she would get the shortest distance to Alex, but Carissa had beaten her.

Alex shook his head helplessly and entered the building in front of him. The building itself was close to a Japanese Wooden Castle.

Most of the interior was made of strong wood but gave a relaxed feeling. The roof was blue and windows appeared every few meters.

Alex activated his Spirit Eyes to check whether there was hidden energy or not but to no avail.

"Time to go then." Alex sighed while carrying his sword on his waist. "Accompany me, Eve."

"Hehe, I have been waiting for you to say that, Master." Eve suddenly came out of the sword, floating next to him. "This is the first time I enter such an amazing building other than your castle. And I feel this place has dense energy."

"It's due to the array below us." Alex pointed his finger to the ground. "There is a formation of a few Rank 9 Gathering Arrays underground, extracting a Spirit Mine. To not waste the resource, there is supposed to be a barrier in this city, preventing the Spiritual Energy from escaping, but it must have been destroyed during the battle."

"No wonder. Anyway, I will be helping you search every single room together." Eve smiled.

"Thank you." Alex nodded as they entered the building.

The first thing they saw was a corridor, leading to three ways: left, right, and forward. He thought he would meet either William or Carissa, so he decided to go forward.

The corridor had nothing exciting to him since it only had red carpet, windows, and paintings. Alex kept walking until he arrived in a large room with two doors next to him and one big open room.

"..." Alex waved his hand, using his energy to open the two doors. The right one seemed to lead him to a library since he saw many books there while the left one was a kitchen.

In other words, his current direction had been decided. He entered the room in his front, leading to a working area. There were so many papers lying around as if they were sorting something before Eulja's invasion.

At the end of the working area were two giant doors that piqued Alex's curiosity.

"Master... That one is very suspicious." Eve narrowed her eyes, having the same thought.

"Yeah. Let's go." Alex nodded in agreement, walking toward the door.

As soon as he opened it, he arrived inside a room bigger than the office that could hold more than a hundred people. He could only find a couple of bookshelves, a pair of tables and chairs with many piles of documents on top of it, and a resting area filled with a couch and bed.

Alex took out the Space Ring that Sun Gongming gave and summoned all the research papers inside it.

"Can you help me search for anything important in this room? I am going to read these papers first to gain a clue of what I want to specifically find." Alex smiled and sat on the chair.

"I thought you were going to do it with me." Eve pouted.

"Ahaha. I will after reading all these. It will only take three hours..."

"Fine." Eve sighed and began to move around the room while Alex started reading the documents.

Chapter 1089 - Current Progress

A few days later, Alex still read everything that might be related to the Array God and his transformation. However, he still couldn't find the exact clue as to where he met the snake.

Lin Xingzhi walked toward the room where Alex spent all his time reading to report what she found along with the others' conditions.

"Alex..." Lin Xingzhi twitched her eyebrows. Alex was sitting in his usual position. Eve also roamed around the area to sort everything that had been sent here. Yet, there was one thing different from the usual situation.

There was another woman hugging him from the back while staring at what he read.

"Sherry. I have never thought that you are here." Lin Xingzhi shook her head helplessly.

"I just came here. I haven't met him for a long time, isn't this fine?" Sherry pouted, not wanting Lin Xingzhi to get mad.

"It's fine, but what about your job?"

"I have done it all. For now, I am resting because I have used up all my energy."

"Just inform me first next time, I thought that someone wanted to take advantage of this situation." Lin Xingzhi sighed.

"Are you talking about me?" Carissa suddenly entered the room while bringing a pile of documents.

"Yeah. Want me to throw you out right now?"

Carissa shrugged and looked down. "I am bringing these documents. You sure?"

"I am sure." Lin Xingzhi nodded with a serious face.

"You are just bullying me." Carissa pouted. When she was about to complain to Alex, Lin Xingzhi already arrived in front of her and grabbed a portion of her luggage, revealing a blue powder scattered on top of the paper.

"Then, can you explain this to me?" Lin Xingzhi narrowed her eyes.

"Ah." Carissa's heart skipped a beat before taking a step back. Her eyes looked away and she appeared to want to escape. "This is not an aphrodisiac; it's just a relaxant. His Majesty has been working for the past few days, so I want him to rest for a while."

Before Lin Xingzhi replied, Alex already asked another question. "And your real intention?"

"When you are asleep, I can start kissing you and doing another thing. Of course, I won't do anything excessive since I will die after that." Carissa stuck her tongue playfully before running away. "Bye."

The papers dropped to the ground as Alex used his Spiritual Energy to organize the papers and put it on the desk.

Yeah, this was how their day passed by. Alex only shook his head helplessly before asking Lin Xingzhi.

"How is the situation?"

"We are eighty percent done. I believe everything will end by tomorrow. After that, we will become famous...Or you."

"Fair enough. I have no doubt that the Spirits can stop talking about it. And there is the Beast Kingdom. The other Divine Worlds would surely learn about this soon." Alex sighed.

"I have tried to suppress it for a while, but I don't think we can hold on for a week."

"I understand. How about the specific conditions?"

"If you are talking about the others, Anna and Anya were fighting together with Rilt and Vina. William seems to be accompanying Letizia and Evelyn because of their sword skill. Silvia keeps healing the injured while Alicia and Firia went with Sullivan. Sherry was also with him, but she is here now. As for Rose, she is with Helena right now because she wants to shoot underwater."

Alex thought for a moment and asked. "The others are fine, right?"

"Yes. We are suppressing them the whole time and we make sure everything is done painlessly. This is a war that will create a chain of hatred if we don't kill them... It's unfortunate for them, but we can't be too weak-willed."

"I understand and perfectly know about it. Don't worry. I am ready to shoulder that burden." Alex waved his hand, telling her he was fine. "For now, let's continue until everything is over..."

"Alex?" Lin Xingzhi tilted her head when she saw the change of expression on Alex's face.

"Where did the Array God get the inheritance from the former Array God?" Alex asked with a grim expression.

"Why? Did you just find something?" Lin Xingzhi asked while walking toward him, wanting to read what he just read.

"In this journal, Sun Gongming said that his father started to change right after getting the inheritance."

"Sun Gongming? The Prince?" Lin Xingzhi tilted her head in confusion. "Do you trust his words?"

Alex closed his eyes for a few seconds, recalling what happened when he killed him. "His expressions when I killed him was not anguish nor hatred. He was relieved. Unlike his own brother, he seemed to have a hope to make something better. He gave me this space ring containing his research about his father's changing behavior. After reading it for a while, I realize that it's indeed true."

"I am not sure myself because the place is very secretive, knowing the Array God. However, the Array God and War Goddess died at that time, so I believed they set up their inheritance at the last moment there. Unfortunately, I don't have the information of its specific location." Lin Xingzhi shook her head in disappointment.

"Do you have any general idea?"

"Yes. Though we need to search a quite big area, including all the worlds inside it. There are approximately three thousand worlds that need to be checked, so it will take a while."

"It's fine. Take your time. There is still time for us. At the very least, this one is the closest one we've ever gotten to those so-called weapons." Alex sighed.

"I understand. With this, we have confirmed the bat, snake, and phoenix's existences." She nodded. "I will handle everything at this point and may join the investigation myself."

"Really?" Alex looked at her with a worried expression.

"Don't worry. It's not going to be like last time." Lin Xingzhi assured him to not make the same move like last time when she exhausted most of her Spiritual Energy.

"Still...How many people do you think will try to attack us while we are investigating the real cause? It's not like they will believe it and wait for me to grow, right?"

"Who knows. All we can do is to prepare. Luckily, we can have three God Kings from Eulja alone. Coupled with the Palm God, we should be able to hold out for a while." Lin Xingzhi shrugged.

Alex nodded before opening it again, finding an Array appeared in the room.

"Master, Master!" Rose suddenly rushed to him with a curious expression. "Was there really a God King known as Bow God?"

"..." Alex nodded. "Yes."

"What?!" Rose dropped her jaw before dropping to her knees. She looked sad and betrayed. "Why didn't you tell me? I thought I could become the first Bow God."

"You will be the first Bow Goddess, not the first Bow God. Besides, I just learned it only recently." Alex shrugged.

"Really?" Rose pouted while doubting him again.

"Yeah. Do you remember when we visited the ten God Beasts? They told me about the ten God Kings. That's when I learned everything." Alex sighed, explaining the situation honestly.

"Then, why sister Xingzhi didn't tell me?" Rose turned to Lin Xingzhi.

"That's because I planned to have you go there in the future. My prediction was when you reached Rank 5 God, but now that you know it, I think you should go earlier." Lin Xingzhi let out a long sigh. "Before that, did Helena tell you about this?"

"Yes. She said there was someone in the past that could shoot down everything, known as the Bow God."

She facepalmed. "I should have told her to not say anything first."

"Why?" Rose seemed to take this matter seriously because she didn't wish to get fooled again.

"Do you know why Alex hasn't gone to the Dungeon God's inheritance yet?"

"Isn't it because Master has too many things going on, so he doesn't have time?"

"Nope. I have gotten the information that it's a very difficult place, so he needs to have Rank 5 God Strength first. Meanwhile, the Bow God is easier which probably requires you to be a Rank 8 if not Rank 7 God. However, unlike Alex's overbearing strength that could fight someone above his level, I am worried about your safety, so I thought you should go when you reached Rank 5 God."

"Is that so..." Rose looked down with a sad expression. However, the feeling was different. If last time she was angry due to Lin Xingzhi hiding it from her, now she was sad due to her not believing in Lin Xingzhi.

She had done so much in her life to the point she didn't know how she could repay her. Yet, to think she doubted her. Rose felt guilty.

Lin Xingzhi bent down and patted Rose's head. "I love you, Rose. Just like Alex, I also want to support you to the best I can. Please believe me, okay?"

"I am sorry." Rose lowered her head.

"It's fine. A smile will be more suited to a cute disciple like you, so don't be sad. I am not mad." She put on a gentle smile. "The place has been discovered by so many people, but no one can inherit that place yet. Hence, I will wait until you are ready before sending you there. Okay?"

"Un. I promise to not escape just for a petty reason." Rose repeatedly nodded.

"So, you are planning to escape just to challenge it if you know about this inheritance? It seems that I need to take back my word and punish you a little bit." Lin Xingzhi narrowed her eyes.

Rose's body shook as she stepped back. "No way! I am just going to train a little bit. Anyway, I still have a lot of energy. I should continue fighting with Helena right now! See you later."

Rose hurriedly escaped from Lin Xingzhi's grasp like Carissa.

Alex shook his head helplessly. "That's my disciple. What should I do about it?"

"Haha. Anyway, let's go back to the topic. We will continue investigating this place for another three days before retreating from this world and handing all the right to the Beast God."

"Yes." Alex acknowledged the plan.

"You are going to leave this world immediately and head straight to the Dungeon God's inheritance. Unlike the other inheritances, the Dungeon God is the most unique because only those who possess the same Space Element will be able to enter his palace. Hence, even when they know about that place, they can't enter it.

"By the way, I have the information that Aria will be coming soon. She is a 10-Star Martial Saint right now, only need one or two years to break through to Rank 10 God."

"Alright. Just send someone to that place and bring her to Eulja. I will let you arrange everything for her."

"Are you going to accept her?"

"What?" Alex tilted his head. "I don't have any intention in receiving her as a wife or a disciple. Instead, how about asking Anya to teach her? I am sure she will be delighted."

"Well, her ability will grow leaps and bounds for sure since Anya is our best strategist. But I think she will become a pervert like her..."

"And whose fault do you think Anya became like that?" Alex narrowed his eyes, staring at Lin Xingzhi.

"Ahahaha! I wonder who..." Lin Xingzhi looked away. "Anyway, let's go back to work."

Alex sighed and looked at the ceiling. "To be honest, I have high hope for her. Unlike the others, she has the talent to simulate everything in her head. Although when she was with me, she became too dependent and I ended up sealing that potential, I believe she managed to overcome it and grew after that.

"Hopefully, she could become another strategist for Eulja. Although Eulja has many talented people like Anya, we need a Pure Strategist...The one that can predict the future. This will solidify our foundation."

"Do you think she can reach that stage?"

Alex shook his head. "I have no confidence, but I want to try."

"Well, I will arrange it." She nodded.

Chapter 1090 - Reactions

A few days later, as Alex expected, the universe was in turmoil.

In the previous place where a woman playing her zither stood the same woman with a smile on her face. Her expression was happy, but she also released killing intent.

"..." She tied her long red hair into a ponytail before glancing at someone behind him.

"You seem to have heard it." It was the same small woman. She could only shake her head helplessly and asked. "Can you stop releasing your killing intent?"

"Ah, sorry. It's not like me at all." She retracted her killing intent while looking at the lake. "To think that right after his coronation, he would wipe out the Array God and all people in his territory, it's something that I would have never thought."

"This will seriously put him in a dangerous position, you know. There is a possibility that many people will band together to kill him, preventing the seed of nightmare from spreading."

"I know. They are just afraid that the Spirit God will rule over them since they still lack many things compared to the previous God Kings." She narrowed her eyes. "What is my reputation in others' eyes anyway?"

"You?" The woman tilted her head in confusion, not knowing why the Song Goddess asked such a question.

"Related to the Spirit God?"

"No. Not one knows about your identity being a follower of a Spirit God other than me." She shook her head, assuring her. "Besides, you are more leaned to the neutral side, so I doubt many people will be looking at you with this going on."

"That's good then. I can use this situation to my advantage." She smiled and released her killing intent again.

"What are you planning? You are not saying that you will immediately announce your allegiance to the Spirit God, right?"

"Of course not. I have a more interesting role to play."

"Don't tell me..." She gasped before her expression turned pale. "Lin Xingzhi won't let you off, you know. You must know her personality!"

"Yes, I know. I will handle Lin Xingzhi myself. As for the Spirit King, I will just say that this is my apology for running away at that time." She shook her head helplessly. "Well, just see how it plays out. I am sure it's going to be amusing. And you are underestimating Lin Xingzhi so much."

"What do you mean?"

"I will only tell you about the reasons behind my confidence and action. I won't tell you my plan." The Song Goddess smiled and opened her mouth.

She gasped when listening to her words, never thinking of all those facts she was talking about. If everything were true, then it would turn the universe upside down.

...

Meanwhile, in a world called Lamoine, the God of Destruction laughed when reading the report. His laugh alone created a shock wave to destroy all the places near him.

"Hahaha! This is truly hilarious."

"This is not a laughing matter." His assistant let out a long sigh. After knowing him for so long, he could already predict what his friend, the God of Destruction, would do with this report.

"I mean, how can you not laugh? The Array God is dead. The Spirit God's current power is a Rank 5 God. Although it's enough to handle Rank 2 Gods, or at least, qualify to escape from them. Many God Kings won't let him go away just like that.

"During this time, they will be under so many assaults. The universe will become fun soon and my body is trembling in joy." The God Of Destruction smirked as if he wanted to enter this chaotic mess.

"..." His assistant became even more hesitant and wondered whether to inform him about a certain matter or not. After contemplating for a few seconds, he decided to do it. "I have a letter coming from the Holy God, asking for you to join his side to stop the Spirit God's madness."

"Huh? Why should I?" The God of Destruction tilted his head as if he thought this proposal was funny.

"Eh?" Even his assistant never expected this answer. "I mean, don't you want to fight the Spirit God?"

"Of course. However, you should know that the Spirit God is someone who doesn't do any mercy. In the worst case, I will bring all my subjects to death with me. Don't tell me you consider me as a muscle brain?"

"You are not?"

"..." The God of Destruction wanted to punch him but refrained himself. "Anyway, if I am going to choose the side, I will surely come to the Spirit God's side. Just think about this. First, I can fight so many God Kings at once, trying to see who among us is the strongest. Second, the current Spirit God is not worth devouring, so I will use this favor to make him promise to fight me when he reaches God King Stage.

"Third, when I die, I doubt that this planet will be destroyed by either side. If the Spirit God won this battle, he would have taken care of my citizens here. If he lost, the enemies wouldn't show that grudge because many would see them the same as the Spirit God and more God Kings would be involved in this matter.

"Fourth, I doubt that Eulja is the only backup he has. As you might know, I aspired to become the God of Destruction because I adored the Spirit God. Everyone kept saying that wherever he goes, destruction will follow. However, don't you think it's weird that as soon as the Spirit God died, Eulja became too passive?"

"I am assuming that they are not declining. Instead, they are becoming more and more formidable. Rather than fighting an opponent with unknown strength, I choose to fight the other Gods since we have more information about them.

"Fifth, their preparation must be so deep if they dare to announce the Spirit God's coronation this early. If it were me, I would have announced it when he became a God King instead since the Spirit God seemed to be less than one hundred years old. This is why it's even more terrifying if you look at this point.

"Sixth, those who are afraid of him are just a target to be devoured. If you were panicking only because of his appearance, they are bound to make mistakes from time to time, especially with their information gathering.

"Not only do they have so little time due to the Spirit God's growth speed, but there is no trust among each other. That's why I believe that Eulja will win this fight. Of course, this is just a prediction...Around sixty percent, I guess?"

"After all, the one who invited us earlier was the Holy God, right? His reputation was like thunder reverberating in one's ears. He was known for his benevolence. I am sure that his invitation is only pure concern about this situation, but I can't be sure for those who join him.

"That's why there must be more people than we can expect joining his side. Still, If I were to gamble my future, I would place it on the hand of the Spirit God." He smirked while raising his hand.

Meanwhile, his assistant dropped his jaw as he couldn't talk at all. He stared at his friend in disbelief, blinking his eyes a few times as if everything was impossible.

"What? Every time I made a move, I had done the calculation in my head. I just never told anyone about it. However, due to how big the scale of this war is, I need you to trust my judgment and follow me. I trust my back to you, so don't get swayed by their empty promises, alright?" The God of Destruction smiled and patted his friend's shoulder.

"I've always thought that you are nothing but a fool...It seems I have wronged you. Do you want a banana or something to increase your stamina?"

"And why do you even mention a banana..." He frowned and shook his head. "Anyway, just tell them that I am sick."

"A God King can't be sick."

"Then poisoned."

"Well, it's good then. You are foolish enough to get poisoned, so I will tell them that exact line."

"Is foolish necessary?" The God of Destruction really wanted to punch him, but the latter already escaped while saying. "See you later."

"Oi!" He facepalmed and dropped to the ground, looking at the blue sky. "Still, the hardest part will be convincing them. I can use the Universe Oath, but how should I make them believe me before that? I need to create an opportunity to talk as well and make sure that no one can find me when I meet him. I wonder if I should just remain neutral...Nah. There must be a reason why the Spirit God would have reincarnated at this timeline.

"The Nature Goddess has been searching for his reincarnation for thousands of years. With Eulja's power, they should have been able to find him in just one thousand years at maximum. Yet, he has never appeared. I am sure that there is something going on. I need to know what is the purpose of his reincarnation. Haiz, I smell destruction. I'm really going to be enjoying my time with this new Spirit God." The man smirked.

It turned out that the man who kept saying about fighting and fighting was a genius. He wasn't rash and could see the whole picture despite the little clue he had.

What would happen when he met Alex?

...

In another world called Holy Land, an old man walked toward a long table where ten people sat next to each other, standing and cupping their hands toward the old man. "Greetings, Supreme Pontiff, O' Holy God."

"Good morning. I believe that I have sent you the letter of what we are going to discuss here..." The old man sighed and walked into his own chair before sitting down with a tired expression.

"Are we going to clash with the Spirit God?" A woman stood up and asked politely. Her blonde hair was tied into a ponytail. She wore a blue shirt and a knee-length skirt. However, there was a sword hanging on her waist, making one rethink their decision whether to get close to her or not.

"Saintess..." The old man let out a long sigh. "After learning about the Spirit God's coronation, I didn't have any plan to attack him. But...Everything changed when he killed billions of lives right after his coronation. If you told me that the Spirit God wouldn't do anything more than that, I wouldn't believe your words.

"Hence, I am going to stop right here and right now before more lives disappear. I don't wish for our people to stop living in peace. With the current opinion, they will surely live and sleep in fear, thinking the Spirit God would attack them so suddenly.

"As much as I hate to do it, I am required to ask other God Kings to participate in this alliance in order to stop the Spirit God. For me, I have no plan to kill him. As long as he makes a Universe Oath to stop killing people, I will protect him from the others and declare that the war has ended."

The Saintess thought for a moment and asked. "Have you ever considered talking to him?"

"I have. In fact, I am planning to visit him in the near future. The invitation that I sent will be held in two years. I am sure that even with the Spirit God's growth speed, it's still impossible for him to reach Rank 4 God. Hopefully, the talk can be ended peacefully..." He sighed.

"Holy God, I am sure that you are too soft in this matter." Suddenly, a young man stood up. His body was covered with body armor, leaving only his face and spiky blonde hair.

"You may be right. But please understand that I only want peace, nothing else. Besides, the Spirit God is the ruler of Eulja, one of the strongest planets out there. With their scale, as long as the Spirit God changes his way, I am sure that many people will have a smile on their faces. That's my sincere wish. I wonder if you can follow me in this?" The Holy God made a genuine smile.

"..." The Young Man closed his eyes for a few seconds before bowing his head as if telling his answer.

The Holy God only smiled.
