

Gacha 1171

Chapter 1171 - Immortal Stage

Alex couldn't help but shake his head. Just after he defeated the annoying Ice Tribulation, he needed to face something like this. It wasn't the combination of two Tribulations anymore. Instead, there were three and each of them were stronger than the ice.

Alex gritted his teeth and knew that he needed to use a few techniques at once to destroy this. He thought, 'There is around one minute before the next Tribulation begins since the wind tribulation just came. So, I have precisely one chance.'

"Eve, Elle, Eliot, control the dragons to swallow all the things left by a destruction later," Alex commanded the trio while using the Swallow Heaven to summon two dragons.

At the same time, his sword had been covered by all of his nine powers. He raised his sword and slashed downwards.

The Space Element began to oscillate back and forth, forging a path for the sword strike to hit the Lower World. Meanwhile, his flame clashed with the lightning, trying to burn it as a whole. The same applied to his Space Element that tried to distort the wind.

The rest of his power went straight to the Lower World as a huge shock wave due to their collision shook the surroundings, forcing a few planets to go off their orbits.

Alex paid no heed to them and focused on the Lower World instead, finding it was split into two and passing him from two sides.

Without waiting for the Lower World to get together again, Alex summoned a huge fire lotus above his head.

"Go!" Alex waved his hand and all the petals flew away, striking the Lower World from all directions. "Divine Petals."

The Petals exploded and each of them caused a huge chunk of rocks to shatter into smaller pieces.

The Weapon Spirits quickly controlled the dragons and swallowed all that came to their way like Alex's order.

Not satisfied with the current performance, a huge array appeared beneath the shattered Lower World.

"Ten Thousand Sword Formation Array!" Alex summoned many swords and coated them with his Blade Qi. Normally, these swords were used to bind someone, but Alex used them for another purpose by coating them with the Sharp Blade Qi.

All ten thousand Swords flew toward the Lower World and shattered it into pieces. This was when a Fire Disturbance appeared, trying to melt all those rubbles away while the rest were swallowed by the dragons.

"Star God Divine Control." Alex used that Fire Disturbance and began swallowing the Lower World as a whole, only to find the Wind Disturbance had yet to end. The extraordinary heat turned the weak wind into a fire tornado, heading straight toward him.

Alex furrowed his eyebrows and planned to use his Space Element to disperse them, but he was shocked when he couldn't even move his body. "Huh?"

Green-colored energy started coming into his vision as Alex realized he was trapped by the next disturbance. And to think the next one was the most unique Tribulation he would ever face. After all, the eighth wave of Tribulation was none other than Time Disturbance.

The Disturbance suspended time for a split second before Alex covered his body with Fire and Space Element. The Space Element turned into a kind of protective suit that bent all the Time Energy around him, allowing Alex to move at the same speed.

Meanwhile, his Fire burned all the Time Energy around him to end this eighth wave of Tribulation.

Still, as expected from the weirdest element in the Universe, the time element, it was harder to burn it altogether. After all, the Time Element tried to suspend the Fire from burning it, forcing Alex to take a bit more time to destroy it.

And with him trapped inside a kind of sphere that was filled with Time Energy, he couldn't go outside. He had tried to make a Spatial Gate to the other side, but the Space World was also getting suspended in time, so he didn't want to risk it.

Unfortunately for him, the ninth tribulation had come when he just finished burning half of them. His enemy this time was none other than Light Element.

He had fought Licht a few times, so he thought he had grasped the Light Element, but it simply went beyond his imagination.

The light element turned into a star-shaped white light that shone upon this dark outer space. It became bigger and bigger as it flew toward Alex before surprisingly turning around, positioning itself on top of Alex's head.

Because of the Time Element, he couldn't escape from this predicament and needed to deal with it with the best of his power, so he could face the last Elemental Disturbance properly.

The white light then released a circular light toward him as if it was trying to purify him. Alex obviously understood what this light wanted to do to him.

"This is going to be bad." Alex narrowed his eyes and knew that the Time Element also suspended this kind of light, meaning that the Light Element would be concentrated right above him. The moment he finished burning all the Time Element, the light would fall on him in full power.

He hurriedly released all his power to burn the Time Energy above his head, yet, it didn't end very well. Below his spot, he could see a huge black hole forming. Unlike the normal black hole, this one didn't have a sucking force. Instead, it seemed to be storing all the energy in its surroundings, planning to release it soon.

"I need to handle both of them at the same time?" Alex narrowed his eyes and shook his head, planning to destroy the Light Element first. Instead of waiting for the Time Element to disappear, Alex thrust his spear filled with his elements.

"Twin Fusion Spear."

The two elements worked with each other as the Fire emerged on the other side of the time sphere, allowing him to weaken the Light Energy from above. Unfortunately for him, the black sphere also released the same type of attack toward him, gathering right behind the Time Barrier.

If both of them attacked him at the same time, he had no doubt that he would fail. Hence, Alex took this one step further.

Without wasting his time, Alex released another strike toward the Light Element. Although he could only do it twice after converting all his Divine Energy into Immortal Energy, he needed to do it to succeed in this Tribulation.

"Nine Purities Slash."

The slash cut through the time barrier and split the attack into two, where his Fire began burning them down, so there wasn't a possible come back.

Still, Alex was also amazed by the fact that the tenth or the last strike of the tribulation actually didn't have that big of a difference with the previous one, though it still endangered his life.

After destroying the ninth wave, Alex proceeded to burn down all the Time Energy as he planned to face this Black Energy head-on.

"It's time to settle this." Alex smirked and called a Fire Disturbance inside the Time Barrier to melt it even faster.

As expected from the Sun God Fire that was fueled by Immortal Energy, all its performance had gone through the roof this whole time.

Even his Nine Purities Slash couldn't be compared to the previous one anymore. After all, that was the sole reason that Alex could slash three Disturbances at the same time.

When the Time Element was about to disappear a few minutes later, Alex waved his hand and summoned the Fire Lotus.

The petals flew toward the Dark Energy that was concentrated on the back while Alex faced against the suspended Dark Energy.

Since he couldn't use his Nine Purities Slash anymore, he planned to do another thing. He didn't know whether he could do it or not, but Alex raised his finger and controlled the Space Element.

"Subjective Reality."

A third of the Dark Energy suddenly jumped as if they had their own will. Surprisingly, it dove down and hit the rest of the attack, causing a chain of explosions.

The moment the Time Element disappeared, Alex's Divine Petals quickly flew away while Alex slashed his sword and spear three times.

"Triple Draws."

"One Inch Spear."

The extended blade slashed the attack that remained only a third due to the explosions earlier and slashed it with ease. "I should have done it this whole time..."

Alex shook his head helplessly, knowing it was impossible. After all, the reason he had enough time to control them was the time barrier that suspended that attack and accumulated that much energy. If he were to fight against the Supreme Beast, only on a few occasions will he have enough time to do that.

Still, no matter what he thought, the Tribulation should be over since he didn't meet any more Disturbances.

In fact, at the base of the Dark Energy, a huge amount of Immortal Energy burst out as if it tried to congratulate Alex for reaching the True Immortal Stage.

Alex remembered his previous life's advice about this step. Just like when he reached Divine Rank, the world would bless him by sending its baptism to change Alex's body and energy to Divine Body and Divine Energy.

And this universe also rewarded him with this huge amount of Immortal Energy that gradually moved toward his body as if he was a magnet.

"This..." Alex narrowed his eyes. With the help of his Law, he began absorbing all the energy around him and found that the energy was similar to the Spirit God's Immortal Energy, making him a bit uncomfortable during the process.

"As long as I succeed in this step, I will be able to reach the Immortal Stage. Haiz, if I were to go for another journey, I would lose my motivation because the only reason I became a Divine Rank Expert was to find Alicia and Firia as well as Lin Xingzhi.

"But one accident after another, I ended up getting involved in this big scale inevitable war even though I didn't wish for one. Well, this war also gave me the motivation to reach this level in a short time. As for reaching more than this... That's the question in the future. I want to live to the fullest first before doing something out of the ordinary." Alex smiled and focused on his baptism.

This baptism was the first step to reach a higher level, but for Alex, this was the weapon that could defeat the beast.

Each skin started evaporating into nothing before getting replaced by another layer. His blood also revolved like crazy, dying and regenerating at a fast speed. His body went back and forth from pale to normal.

If his wives were here, they would wonder whether this guy had died or not. Even so, Alex cared nothing about it because he was sure he could succeed in this baptism.

After his body, the most important one that needed to be replaced was none other than his heart. The heart went into smoke as he died for a few seconds before a new heart made of fire appeared on his body, becoming a perfect house for Immortal Energy.

This looked like benefits, but Alex knew that the moment he exhausted his Immortal Energy, he had no choice other than to recover it in this Universe to avoid getting picked up by the Universe and expelled.

The Spirit God also had warned him about this. The only reason he accepted to become like this was due to the lack of knowledge about this.

After defeating the Supreme Beast, he was sure that no one would dare to pick a fight with him anymore since Alex had stepped beyond the God King Stage. Only fools would do something like that, but his physique alone might be enough to handle them because this was the true body.

After a long three months, Alex's body had been reformed. His Immortal Energy had stabilized and his breathing had gotten its rhythm back.

His eyebrows twitched for a split second before Alex opened his eyes. There was another weird sense coming from those eyes that could send a shiver down one's spine. This was the effect of Alex's Immortal Energy.

And this also meant that Alex had finished his preparation for the last war.

Chapter 1172 - Return

When Alex finally woke up from his slumber, he quickly got back on his feet and returned to the planet called Encore first to say goodbye to the Spirit God since he reached this level due to his assistance.

Meanwhile, the Spirit God, who was looking at the sky that had been turning black and blue, couldn't help but smile when he saw the last one, knowing Alex had succeeded.

'You're the best chance we've got. Unfortunately, the fight against that beast may need more effort than you thought... I'm afraid your power has yet to be able to kill that beast completely.' The Spirit God clenched his teeth and sighed, 'I am sorry for burdening you with this.'

Alex landed gently on the ground and smiled at him, "I have finished. I think I have reached the True Immortal Level, but since the universe doesn't know about it, I will say I have reached God Emperor Level. What do you think?"

"Yes. I think it's good." The Spirit God nodded in agreement.

"That's right. Do you wish to say something to Lin Xingzhi and the others? I will pass your message."

"I know your good intentions, but I don't wish to create another chapter that will just add to their sadness. They have gotten over me, so I just wish for their happiness."

Alex didn't agree to it. Instead, he corrected him by saying, "What do you mean? You have said it a few times. I am you. You are me. We are the same. They love me means they love you too. The chapter is not finished yet because we are Alexander Sirius."

The Spirit God smiled and closed his eyes. "Thank you, My Reincarnation. Unfortunately, I can't say anything in the current situation. Though, I do have two things that I want to tell you."

Alex turned serious as he asked, "And they are?"

"The first is your future. If you happen to win against that beast, you shouldn't forget about the fact that the family needs proper teaching and warmth. Even if they're not going to be destroyed in your generation, we can't say anything about a few generations after you. That's why I want you to make clear with your children to teach them properly as a family.

"And have them teach their own sons and daughters to do just that." The Spirit God sighed.

Alex nodded with a grim expression, knowing what to do. "Yeah. I am not planning to have the family ruined."

"Good." The Spirit God nodded with satisfaction as he rose from the floor, walking to Alex. He got closer and hugged him like a best buddy before whispering, "Then, the second thing I want to tell you is..."

While the two Alexs had their conversation, Lin Xingzhi and the others still couldn't chase the Supreme Beast because he would disappear at the last minute. Although this process was infuriating and tedious, they managed to buy more time than needed.

Lin Xingzhi furrowed his eyebrows, wondering what she should do since Alex hadn't come out this whole time. The army started doubting him too, but she couldn't disclose the fact that Alex went to break through to another level because it meant Alex would leave them after this battle.

There was still his Space Element that could seal his cultivation, but he didn't know how effective it was, so she didn't want to make an empty promise. Only Alex's appearance would be able to revitalize them.

She sat on a chair while asking lazily, "Rose. Any information about Alex?"

[It's still blank. I don't know what's going on.]

"It just means Alex is not in this universe. Anyway, I want you to monitor him until he returns."

[I understand. I will inform you as soon as I receive information from him.]

Unknown to her, Rose had been lying this whole time because Alex requested her not to say anything, wanting to surprise them.

The God Kings, as expected, still gathered together, discussing their battle plans.

Lin Xingzhi tiredly looked at them before joining their gathering. "So, do you guys have anything you want to say about this war?"

"Not really." Alaya shook her head. "I only want to tell you that we may not be able to help the others because we will be too tired to fight anymore after dealing with them or any other reasons."

Most of them nodded their heads, showing their agreement to her statement. The God of Destruction asked, "That's right. Do you have news from the Spirit God? If he were here, we could just break through them without caring about their ambushes anymore. Unfortunately, we're in a bind here because we can't afford to lose that much."

Lin Xingzhi shook her head in disappointment. "I don't know. I haven't received any news. Even I don't know his location, so don't ask me..."

"How about a bet? Let's predict when he will return." Jeanne smirked, trying to wipe off her boredom.

Lin Xingzhi and the others were surprised, never expecting Alex would appear at this timing.

"I'm pretty lucky to finish it first before the beast. But it is also thanks to all of you here." Alex grinned and went toward them.

Lin Xingzhi accompanied by all the God Kings quickly flew toward him, looking at him with observant eyes, only to find that Alex's cultivation seemed to be the same. However, they also realized that Alex had this type of aura that they had never seen before, making them feel threatened.

Alex only smiled and said, "How are you all doing? I haven't heard any reports, so does anyone want to explain it to me?"

Lin Xingzhi let out a long sigh and said, "Our situation is not good but not that bad as well. First of all, we can have all Rank 2 Gods destroy all their armies while stopping any God Kings that dared to come here."

Alex thought for a moment and nodded. "Yeah. I think that's good enough."

"Well, I have thought of something that will allow me to defeat my opponent." Lin Xingzhi added a side note with a cunning look.

The God of Destruction and God of Wrath also nodded in agreement as if they had prepared something beyond his imagination.

The Magic Goddess giggled as if she had a ridiculous plan, but Alex ignored it as well. He only observed the others and asked, "Do you think you can win?"

"If we die in this kind of situation, we will be too ashamed." Was their reply to him.

Alex nodded before the Palm God stopped him, asking, "Spirit God... Are you..."

He hesitated even though this was the question all of them wanted to ask.

Understanding their worry, Alex only answered him with another question. "Do you want to test it, Palm God?"

The Palm God shook his head due to the feeling he sensed from Alex.

"Let's go then." Alex nodded. "I'm sure you've located his direction, so we will be picking up our pace right now. I don't feel like dying today."

All God Kings nodded their heads with a serious expression as they returned to their own armies, shouting. "All troops! Move out!"

Alex then returned to Eulja's armies, where all the soldiers greeted him with euphoria. They hated to admit it, but Alex's presence indeed brought insane morale to his as well as the other God Kings' armies.

Suddenly, a group of bats tried to intercept them. They numbered a thousand.

Due to their positions, the God of Destruction tried to intercept those bats before his assistants told him to go ahead and let them handle this type of situation.

"..." The God of Destruction ultimately agreed to their decision even though he didn't want to let them do it alone. In the end, Alex sent a bit of his army along with his Guardians to help them.

As expected, Alex understood this type of tactic. "Guerilla warfare huh. With their numbers, I believe this is a good tactic since we can't act carelessly and venture too deep into their territories because we may be ambushed. But now that I'm here, we don't need to wait anymore."

Lin Xingzhi nodded and continued marching forward.

Many monsters began to come out from Divine Worlds, coming to hit Alex, only to be stopped by the joint armies. Still, Alex activated his Spirit Eyes to check whether there was a God King hiding nearby.

Fortunately for them, he didn't sense a single of them, believing they were on the Supreme Beast's side.

"We will arrive within five minutes."

Lin Xingzhi tilted her head in confusion, feeling Alex wanted to discuss something, but no words had yet to come out of his mouth.

Instead of telling her the truth, Alex only hugged her tightly without caring about his appearance and closed his eyes.

Lin Xingzhi was stunned, but she somehow understood that this hug felt different than any others. Alex seemed to be telling her something that she couldn't comprehend, only to find tears coming out of her left eye.

"Eh? Why am I crying?" Lin Xingzhi tried to wipe the tears while looking at Alex with bewilderment.

"Just want you to know, I love you." Alex smiled.

"I love you too, but are you setting up a red flag?" Lin Xingzhi tried to joke around to hide her tears. "You are not going to leave me and the others, right?"

"I don't have a plan to do that." Alex shook his head and released her. "Trust me, okay?"

Lin Xingzhi nodded before sensing something big in front of them. She turned around and furrowed her eyebrows.

Alex scratched the back of his head and muttered, "I wonder if this is due to the red flag?"

"What can I say? I have done my best, my past self." Alex sighed when watching the huge amount of Immortal Qi fluttering in the air. Unlike him, the beast didn't receive the baptism or tribulation since he was like Sherry, only sleeping to get it done. And when the Immortal Energy burst out of that planet, it quickly disappeared as if the beast swallowed them all like how he ate the Angels.

"I guess my luck is not that great... Or maybe it's because that beast has transcended luck? Well, I have been lucky enough that this place is not that far from the white hole where I returned to this universe, so I shouldn't feel sad. And this is going to be the last battle." Alex smiled and signaled to Lin Xingzhi.

"They are in front of us. I'm sure you are ready to face them with your all might, right?! Let's settle this for three years... No! Five thousand years grudge with them! Eulja! Move!"

Chapter 1173 - First Confrontation

In the void, ten beasts stood side by side as if receiving a guest to their house.

The Supreme Beast smirked and shouted, "Hahahaha! Spirit God! Why is your cultivation still a God King? Do you think you can win against me with that puny strength of yours?"

"My strength, huh. You're so good. To think you can understand my strength in one glance... Even I couldn't help but feel impressed. I mean, even my Spirit Eyes have no confidence to do the same." Alex shook his head helplessly.

The Supreme Beast suddenly felt something was wrong, but he couldn't find it. He knew Alex was different from three years ago, but that was all. Alex didn't release his energy, so he had no idea what kind of transformation Alex had undergone.

All the God Kings then gathered around Alex, trying to intimidate them. After all, the enemies only had two Bears, six Bats, one Dragon, and one Supreme Beast, while they had fourteen God Kings, including Alex.

There was no way they would lose to them again, especially with their number.

"It seems another Angel has fallen, eh?" Alex snorted, looking down on the Supreme Beast like how the latter did earlier.

The Supreme Beast clenched his teeth since the Angel needed to die to let him advance to the next level. He incorporated his Law, the World's Energy, and his own body to create Immortal Energy forcefully.

The Supreme Beast shouted in anger. "And after today, I will fill this outer space with blood and open a free shop for everyone to paint their spaceship red."

"Oh, you mean your blood?" Alex harrumphed.

"I'm sorry, but my blood is not red." The Supreme Beast shrugged, indirectly telling him that his blood was going to be used to paint a spaceship.

"That is only possible if you can kill me today, which I doubt you can." Alex shrugged.

Between these insults, the first to make a move was the Earth God. Alex had been missing all these years, so he believed Alex must have done something big like their King, so he wanted to test Alex to see his power.

"You're going to do it?" The Supreme Beast narrowed his eyes and asked the Earth God.

"Please let me do it, My King. I would like to see the gap between us." The Earth God lowered his head.

"Just once." The Supreme Beast nodded his head since he was quite curious too. The Spirit God was not someone who would make a useless effort. There must be something he was missing and using the Earth God to check it out might be good.

After getting the acknowledgment, the Earth God stepped forward and clapped his hand.

"Calling."

The Earth Element Disturbance suddenly appeared out of nowhere and grew bigger and bigger until it began to solidify, creating a huge meteoroid half the size of a Lower World. He wanted to see whether Alex still needed to use his Eight Purities Slash to cut down this thing anymore. It should be enough to gauge his current prowess.

"Go!"

The huge meteoroid flew toward Alex as the latter only smiled without the intention of moving.

The God Kings that stood by his side took a step back as they wondered how Alex was planning to fight.

However, it might be due to him being Alex's servant or actually his anger, the God of Wrath, Marcus, jumped toward the meteoroid.

A reddish-purple flame appeared on his hand as he punched that huge meteoroid. The flame then splashed like that of water and engulfed the entire big rock like a slime.

Surprisingly, that big rock began to melt like it was inside magma before disappearing from their vision.

"!!!" The Earth God widened his eyes and looked at the person behind his attack. "God of Wrath!"

Marcus snorted and acted as if nothing happened. He released his killing intent and wrath as he shouted, "I haven't forgotten it yet, Earth God. You all have massacred all the people in my territory and the Goddess of Destiny along with her people. This anger... can even melt everything in this universe. I will be the one to kill you in this battle."

"..." The Earth God clenched his fists. He never found the God of Wrath as his opponent, but that strike earlier showed that he indeed reached the previous generation God Kings' level. The current him started wondering whether he had the strength to face him or not.

Since it was impolite not to return something they gave, Lin Xingzhi also took one step forward as she raised both hands, calling Fire and Lightning Disturbance at the same time. She fused them together and created a stronger one.

"Lightning Fire Dragon Union."

The combined Disturbance formed a dragon and flew straight toward the Supreme Beast. Just like Alex's nonchalant expression, the Supreme Beast knew that someone would appear to block it. And it turned out, the Blood God jumped forward like the God of Wrath.

Red-colored blood appeared out of nowhere as it also formed into a dragon, flying toward Lin Xingzhi's Dragon.

However, this red dragon was obviously weaker than Lin Xingzhi's attack, so the Blood God called another color blood which turned out to be green blood. It reinforced the Dark Red Dragon, forming into armor.

The two dragons then clashed, causing a huge explosion that shook the entire battlefield.

The Blood God snorted and said, "You won't be able to hit my King as long as I'm here."

Lin Xingzhi only shrugged her shoulders and said, "Is that so? We will see it later."

To their surprise, the moment Lin Xingzhi said those words, the Supreme Beast was the one who stepped forward. "Move! You are not strong enough to test him. I will test him myself."

He summoned all six elements simultaneously and fused them together before shooting that rainbow-colored energy toward Alex.

"Gehenna Ray!"

The Supreme Beast wanted to see if Alex still used the same technique to handle this kind of attack since, without a doubt, the power of this technique had improved a lot when he used the Immortal Energy instead of Divine Energy to fuse all the elements.

This time, the Magic Goddess, Alaya, and God of Destruction went forward, trying to block this attack to show that they had the upper hand. As long as Alex hadn't made a move, they could show that they were stronger, raising their morale.

Five magic circles appeared out of nowhere as five star-shaped white lights emerged from the magic circles. The Magic Goddess waved her staff.

"Five Great Stars Magic."

Raiju also used his fist and struck the attack with the Power of Destruction, trying to make the power decay.

"Fist of Destruction."

"Life and Death Coffin. Absorb."

The same applied to Alaya as she called the coffin and absorbed the power of six elements only to find that her coffin rejected this energy and spat it out again. She didn't know that the one that her coffin couldn't swallow was Immortal Energy.

The Supreme Beast only snorted, looking at their useless efforts. The five star-shaped lights were engulfed by the Gehenna Ray, whereas Raiju got pushed back, forcing Alaya to rescue him after finding that they couldn't stop that attack.

This was a shame for Alex because they couldn't show their worth.

Knowing their intention, Alex simply called his sword and gently lifted it up when the attack was about to hit him, deflecting above his head.

"..." The Supreme Beast widened his eyes and knew the only energy that countered his own Immortal Energy was another Immortal Energy. Hence, Alex had also stepped on this stage.

It might be due to his weird Space Element that he managed to stay undercover, making him realize that Alex planned to stay in this Universe for a long time. However, what made him smile was the other meaning. If he wanted to stay in this Universe, he needed to kill him first because he was the biggest hurdle to do that.

Before the Supreme Beast said anything, Alex simply summoned his Fire Lotus above his head and threw all those ten petals toward him.

Since the other side tried to block it, the three among them also tried to do it to show they were stronger, lowering the enemy's morale. This time, the ones who showed up were the Evil God, Vampire Goddess and Demon God.

The Evil God released grey-colored energy, turning them into a huge scythe, impaling the Divine Petals.

"Death Scythe."

Meanwhile, the Vampire Goddess summoned a hundred bats and connected each of them with red-colored thread made of blood, planning to receive the attack from head-on like the God of Destruction and catch all these petals.

"Blood Net."

"Divine-Demonic Blast."

Last but not least, the Demon God created a huge burst of purple-colored energy to weaken all these petals first because they felt the same energy as their King's from these petals.

Unfortunately for them, Alex seemed to have understood another thing in his power during the training. Because his Immortal Energy actually carried both elements, unlike the previous Divine Energy that needed to be fused first, his Divine Petals also had a Space Element covering the Fire Element.

When the Demon God's attack swallowed them, the Space Element bent the attack, deflecting it to another direction while continuing their way without a problem.

Meanwhile, the scythe that was going to impale the petals finally flew down, only to be stopped by three petals. They first bent the scythe blade before exploding to shatter the scythe into pieces.

The same applied to the Vampire Goddess's Blood Net when two petals exploded and reduced the bats to nothing.

There were only five petals left for the Supreme Beast to handle. Since Alex also handled his attack, the Supreme Beast stopped the others from stopping this attack and stepped forward.

"Gehenna Gauntlet."

Yet, something was different from his previous Gehenna Gauntlet. It expanded into a giant gauntlet as the Supreme Beast caught all those petals and let them explode inside his hand. Smoke gushed out of his hand, making one think the Supreme Beast was injured.

Unfortunately for them, the Supreme Beast laughed and said, "It's hot, eh?! Why don't you use this fire to light a candle?"

"!!!" The people behind Alex got triggered. To think the beast still looked down on Alex, who seemed to have the same power as him, by saying that his flame was so weak to the point it could only light up a candle. It was so humiliating.

However, Alex maintained his calm and returned that insult with a smirk. "Sure... if it's for your funeral. But I don't think you will die with a burial ground, so I will graciously give you the best cremation with this weak fire of mine. Be grateful."

Chapter 1174 - Past

The two sides released their energy, showing both of them were not weak. After understanding a bit of Alex's strength, the Earth God came to the Supreme Beast's side and said, "My King, it's not good. They may be using their number to exhaust you first. I hope that My King doesn't make a move first. Let us."

The Supreme Beast narrowed his eyes and raised his voice. "Spirit God! What do you think about leaving this place? We can fight in another place like what we did in the past!"

"Alex..." Lin Xingzhi looked at him with a concerned face, waiting for his answer. She was just afraid that Alex would leave them again like in the past.

But fighting here also meant he would see his people dying because that strategy might be good but not fit for Alex.

'War is a fight of sacrifice huh.' Alex let out a long sigh and looked at Lin Xingzhi, handing her a wooden token. "I have sealed my energy in this place. If it's cracking, it means I'm in trouble. If it's not, please trust me."

"Sacrifice may be the best answer, but it's out of my character." Alex smiled and looked at the beast with a calm expression before disappearing from the battlefield.

The beast could see his movement and also left the battlefield, following him to another place. This was the reason the Supreme Beast hadn't panicked yet. The Spirit God had a character. It might be foolish but honorable. That was why the Supreme Beast actually respected Alex, not all the other God Kings from the past or the present, despite being his enemy.

In another area, Alex halted his movement, feeling that he had gained enough distance from the others. He scanned the area, finding a few Divine Worlds, Upper Worlds, and even some Lower Worlds. This place seemed to be filled with many "shields" that he could use to block the Supreme Beast's attack.

Meanwhile, the Supreme Beast had arrived right behind him without releasing his power. He simply stared at Alex's back with a smirk. "Oh, Spirit God! To think you would still be like this after getting defeated by me. I'm impressed."

"That was in the past. The present... Do you think you can win?" As Alex asked that question, the seal he placed in his body disappeared, releasing a dense Immortal Energy from his body and showing him his real cultivation stage. He repeated the question. "Do you think you can win?"

The beast shivered as he took a step back, looking at Alex with excitement. "Hahahaha! Good, good, good! As expected, you have reached the True Immortal Stage too, Spirit God!"

"Is there a need to be the strongest?" Alex's eyes became melancholy. "Some people will always jump into an opportunity to get stronger and they will continue doing it until they die. For me, this strength is just a burden. I don't wish to have this strength, but it's also necessary to wield it to protect what's mine."

"Becoming a philosopher already?" The Supreme Beast released his killing intent and Immortal Energy.

"No. I'm just questioning your existence. I don't need to wield this power if you're not here." Alex shook his head and released his killing intent too. Their auras alone clashed, creating a shock wave to the surrounding planets. "A lonely boy who is unwanted... How cute."

"!!!" The Supreme Beast gritted his teeth as if Alex just poked something in his past. He roared and spat out a purple-colored poison ball of his mouth.

Alex smiled and raised his hand. A pink sphere appeared between them as it caught the poison ball and wrapped it gently.

"Space Compression."

The ball suddenly shrank because it just compressed nothing. Just like his Divine Petals, which should be a Fire Element Technique but could have a Space Element. This Space Element Technique could also gain his Fire Element, burning the poison as soon as it wrapped the poison ball.

Watching this, the Supreme Beast was stunned and looked at Alex, feeling that he was stronger than he expected.

"What? You're getting triggered already." Alex snorted.

"Don't talk like you know me!" The Supreme Beast roared, sending his killing intent to Alex.

The latter only brushed it off while saying, "And you talk like you know me. Hypocrite. Well, I guess that's how you, a beast, operate. Despite being a proud dragon, you didn't get the attention you deserved and came to this place to attain it. Pathetic."

"Shut up!" The Supreme Beast created a large ice meteoroid and launched it toward Alex.

"..." Alex simply shrugged his shoulders and gently waved his sword with the Nature Energy from his Spirit Crown. "One Sword Kill, Blade of Extinction."

The Sword Wave cut through the Ice easily and made its way toward the Supreme Beast.

Rainbow-colored energy gathered on his hand as the Supreme Beast caught it with his paw and shattered the Sword Wave. "Gehenna Gauntlet."

"I don't care about your complex, but there's a limit to what you can do. Since you're planning to destroy this universe, I shall cut you down here and now."

"You don't know anything!" The Supreme Beast raised his voice. "You don't know the feeling of oppression. Despite becoming one of the most important people, your effort won't be recognized. You don't know anything!"

"When you did something amazing, people would always compare yourself to your elder, saying it's not enough. Whatever you did is just to be compared and forgotten."

Alex shook his head and smiled, "I know. I know that feeling. Being compared to a genius family member and continuously getting outshined. I know that feeling very well."

Alex remembered his past when people only thought of his genius sister. He tried to do anything to assist his sister, yet, his effort only made the people around him scorn and throw him into the trash.

People could easily recall the number one... Who is the first person to go into space? They could easily answer it. Yet, when the question changed into "Who is the second person to go into space?" Alex doubted only a small number of people could answer it.

Back then, his only determination to continue living was Sandra. The naive him thought Sandra must have recognized his effort, becoming one of the small group of people that knew such an answer.

Unfortunately for him, the choice was wrong. Although he only admitted it now, Maria turned out to be the one recognizing his effort, especially when she tried to talk it out when Sandra and John demeaned him. If he were together with Maria instead of Sandra, he wondered what kind of future he would have.

Nevertheless, it was just the past. All the things that had happened as well as the choices in the past had given him far more important things. Lin Xingzhi, Anna, Anya... If he wanted to name all of them, he would be happy to do it. They were, after all, his most precious treasures.

That was why he understood the beast's feeling. Just like the Spirit God said, the beast was just a lonely child. Unlike him, the beast didn't have anyone who would support him and turned into something like this—chopping his dragon body just to become a mutant of six species.

He must have experienced something worse to the point he was called a monster, not in the sense of a genius, but a true monster. His family surely looked at him with disgust and other things.

Alex's serious expression as if he knew it all just pissed the Supreme Beast off. He thought, 'Khh... What are those eyes? What is that look? Are you pitying me?'

The Supreme Beast released all his energy and roared, "I don't need your pity. I will kill you and everyone here! No one shall stop me again!"

"Gehenna Ray."

If it were the past him, he would've freaked out. But he had grown much stronger from that time. He raised his hand and summoned a Fire Lotus. The Petals flew and clashed with the Gehenna Ray, causing a huge explosion.

As one would expect, the Fire Lotus suddenly disappeared as the Gehenna Ray continued on its path.

"Haiz, it's truly not enough." Alex shook his head in disappointment. "At least, it has weakened the attack so much."

Alex let out a long sigh and received the weakened Gehenna Ray with his sword and launched it above instead, letting it explode when it reached an asteroid.

"Anyway, I don't care much about your past. I just want to kill you here." Alex snorted and turned serious.

The Supreme Beast chuckled and released all his rainbow-colored energy, covering his body like armor. This was indeed something Alex had never faced. "I think we've warmed up enough, right? Let's get serious then."

He gathered all the energy into his mouth as he released it like a breath. "Gehenna Ray."

"!!!" Alex widened his eyes and felt something was different from the previous Gehenna Ray. It was far stronger and concentrated. He decided to take one step away from this and let the Gehenna Ray pass him, hitting the Upper World behind him.

Boom.

A tremendous shock wave launched the Upper World and created a deep hole inside. In fact, Alex could see the world's core along with so much molten lava that began to freeze because of the temperature in outer space and the destroyed atmosphere that couldn't withstand the temperature.

The Supreme Beast just half destroyed the Upper World, which was several times bigger than a Lower World. He indeed far surpassed the him who was a mere God King.

Seeing this gaze, the beast only laughed and said, "Oh, Spirit God! I wonder what you can do when you're in this position... I truly would like to see your power after becoming a True Immortal."

Alex sighed as his aura soared through the roof with his spear and sword gathered all Immortal Energy Alex could offer before they released it in one go. "Sword and Spear Possession."

"One Sword Kill, Blade of Extinction."

The Sword Wave carried a trace of Fire and Space Elements as well as all his power like Blade Qi and Intent.

Since Alex avoided his strike, he moved to the right to dodge it as well, letting it hit the Lower World behind him. It was different from him, but he soon heard two loud rumbling sounds in his ears, making him turn around and finding Alex just cut two Lower Worlds that lined up on his back.

Chapter 1175 - Pairs

Meanwhile, on the actual battlefield, the God Rank Experts had begun their fight. Obviously, Alex's side had an overwhelming advantage with their number.

Watching their side getting slaughtered one by one, the Earth God furrowed his eyebrows, saying, "I'm going first."

As he said those words, the Earth God disappeared, arriving above the battlefield. He clapped his hand and stretched it forward, creating multiple asteroids.

"Meteor Falls." The Earth God launched all those rocks to obliterate the enemies with an overwhelming number since this was the best option for them.

According to the plan, the God of Wrath appeared between the battlefield and the asteroids with his purple-colored flame that seemed to be the personification of his wrath. He spread the flame and turned them into a roof for the people below them, catching all those rocks and melting them down with that anger of his.

"I'm your opponent, Earth God." The God of Wrath narrowed his eyes and jumped toward him, sending a punch toward his face.

The Earth God raised both hands as he turned into a black-colored bear with both paws covered in stones.

Bam.

The loud noise resounded on the battlefield as the God of Wrath hit the rock that acted as a gauntlet, but he gritted his teeth, remembering how his people, the Goddess of Destiny and her people were massacred by him. He channeled all that anger into the power behind his fist and blew him away.

He also followed the Earth God while saying, "Your opponent is me."

Not feeling right when the Earth God was at a disadvantage, the Blood God prepared to help him, but as soon as he jumped upward, Alaya appeared out of nowhere.

"Life and Death Coffin."

A huge coffin appeared above her before her eyes shone white and black. On her right hand and right foot, black-colored energy covered them while releasing a huge amount of Death Energy as if telling people that once it touched them, it would invite them to hell. On the contrary, her left hand and left foot filled with Life Energy that could turn the Life Energy that her other hand absorbed into power.

"Activate."

The coffin then began to emit a black aura before a bright white light shone above it. The white light turned into a watch while the black aura transformed into its arrow, showing a certain time. Just like the fight against the Bear, it showed a certain number.

14,000

"Fourteen thousand huh." Alaya narrowed his eyes. "I guess, I need to get serious with this fight. Well, I have regained my full strength, so it's fine."

"Life and Death Goddess!" The Blood God gritted his teeth as he found that Alaya's white claw grasped his wrist and twisted it. "Not good."

Just like the Earth God, Alaya threw this guy to another place, so they could fight alone. She believed this was the best strategy since they couldn't afford to have the people die on the battlefield because of an attack they dodged.

"Just like him, I will be your opponent. I hope that you don't disappoint me, Blood God."

She said it like that, but she already made the first move, especially when they looked at the projected number.

13,900

"Five Great Stars Magic."

"Tch. Annoying." The Vampire Goddess clicked her tongue and summoned five giant bats that flew toward the lights and swallowed them, absorbing their energy. Unfortunately for her, these lights seemed to be different as they shone even brighter when they reached the bats' stomachs, exploding them and brightening the dark outer space.

The Vampire Goddess raised her hands because it was too bright for her eyes. But this also meant her vision became limited. It was when the God of Destruction took advantage of that blinding light to reach the Vampire Goddess, ready to throw his fist.

"!!!" The Vampire Goddess widened her eyes. "Not good."

She used both hands to stop that fist, but the momentum and Raiju's power pushed her hand back until it touched her cheek. It didn't stop there. The punch continued until he broke her jaw, misconfiguring her face and blowing her away as if there was no gender in his eyes and action.

"Don't punch a girl's face, God of Destruction..." The Magic Goddess, Rubia, made a weird smile when he saw that crude man's action. "I wonder if that's the correct thing... I mean, the blinding light."

"It's good enough. Anyway, we need to get going too." Lin Xingzhi shrugged and disappeared from the battlefield.

As if feeling her presence, the Evil God turned around and narrowed his eyes. "It seems Nature Goddess is my enemy. Well, I have fought against her father, so I will handle her."

He seemed to go for a peaceful approach while summoning his bat wings. After making sure everything was alright, he left the battlefield, following Lin Xingzhi. He could also make sure that none of them would bother the Supreme Beast.

This left the Demon God to be the last one among the original beasts and stared at the Magic Goddess, who seemed to be his opponent in this fight.

Suddenly, he found a small crystal appeared above them and exploded, bursting Ice Element.

The Demon God raised his hand and protected them with his black-colored energy before a golden staff appeared, creating a heart symbol on top of the staff's head and hitting the Demon God.

"Justice Blow."

The Magic Goddess used her own staff to hit the Demon God like a baseball before following him. As one would expect from someone who liked the attention, the Magic Goddess didn't forget to wink to others while saying, "I'm going to defeat the bad guy."

They all became annoyed as their faces were twisted. They really wanted to say, "Just go, Old Hag!" but chose to be a bit mature and ignored her like how the Spirit God always did.

Because the original beasts had gone, there were only the Water God, the Wolf, the Panther and the Battle God to hold the fort. Anna then went into action by raising her hand, commanding the people that Eulja brought.

"All God Beasts are to kill the rest while making sure they truly died. Check their parasites too!"

The Ten God Beasts nodded their heads together and said, "Please leave it to us."

"Six Elemental Gods are to protect the entire battlefield to avoid anyone from interfering. Treat all the people that enter this battlefield for whatever reason as our enemies. Tell the other God Kings so they can make an adjustment to the plan if there's any."

"Sure, thing. Ah, my lovely daughter has grown up..." Rilt wiped the tears on his eyes.

"..." Anna paused for a moment, calming her heart down from the embarrassment. She then continued, "After the Five Guardians return to the battlefield, have them help the Six Elemental Gods. As for Song Tao and the others, please kill all those guys with the God Beasts."

After giving the rest their commands, Anna looked at the remaining beasts, saying, "Let's kill them."

"That's what I've been waiting for." Jeanne smirked and released dark red lightning from her body before turning into one herself. "True Spirit Body. Blood Ethereal Lightning Form."

Agnis pouted and made a fuss. "I also want something like that. Come on, I want to be a God King too."

Jeanne stuck her tongue out and went straight toward the Dragon Pet's, the Water God. She crossed her short swords and released a powerful Lightning Shock Wave. "I'm coming for your life!"

The Water God furrowed his eyebrows and used his water to form a barrier that surprisingly wouldn't transmit the lightning.

"Hmm... I see. In that case, I will let her do it then." Jeanne smirked and looked behind him.

"!!!" The Water God widened his eyes and felt a sharp tool coming for his neck.

"Surely, I know that you can't wait anymore, Jeanne." Anna let out a long sigh, only to find her scythe missed the target. She didn't stop there and released her Butterfly Wing with many black patterns covering her body. "True Spirit Body. Dark Butterfly Spirit."

"Espa." Torrential black energy suddenly released powerful energy that knocked him far below the battlefield.

Jeanne and Anna then chased the Water God they blew away.

"They are going to separate u—" The Battle God wanted to warn the rest, but the Palm God already appeared in front of him, sending his palm that seemed to be covered with white light.

The Battle God widened his eyes and blocked it like when they previously fought, only to be surprised by the power contained in that one palm. Just like the others, the Palm God blew him far away while summoning one thousand hands on his back.

He didn't forget to furrow his eyebrows and say, "I don't need your help, Holy God."

"Hoho, this old man wants to win." The Holy God chuckled as he was the culprit why the Palm God had that white light covering his palm that gave him a boost in his power.

"Haiz, you all can't wait for me even though I'm also confident with my strength." The God of Strength sighed before his shirt burst out, revealing his perfect muscles. However, there were many patterns on his body, like a tattoo, but they emitted a powerful aura.

It seemed to be inactive for now, but the God of Strength was powerful enough to be the strongest in terms of strength in this Universe. He came toward the Panther and clashed with its paw. The Panther obviously lost that fight and got blown away.

Seeing the God of Strength had actually sent him away, the God of Greed could only shake his head helplessly while following them. "Seriously, why are there so many muscle brains in this Universe... Well, not that I'm complaining since they are mostly cheap when I hire them. Anyway, time to kill them and gain more money."

Since all of them had a battlefield, this center battlefield became the last one. As expected, Leoz felt a bit unsatisfied but decided not to show it on his face. Instead, he released all the lightning as well as his horns.

"True Spirit Body, Thunder Berserker Form." Leoz looked at the Lycan and pointed his finger. "You're fine. Stay there and let me kill you painlessly."

The Song Goddess's zither suddenly resounded on the battlefield as it sent a shock wave that was sharp enough to cut an asteroid.

The Lycan furrowed his eyebrows and snapped it with his claw as his attention split into Song Goddess and Leoz.

"Please don't forget about me, Big Brother Leoz. You've been taking care of me since when we're in the orphanage..." She smiled.

"Rinrin... Your childhood name sucks." Leoz snorted and charged toward the enemy.

The Song Goddess pouted. "Master gave it, so I loved it!"

Chapter 1176 - Berserk

The Song Goddess followed Leoz facing the Lycan. Leoz's body was covered with yellow lightning. However, his giant blade seemed to be releasing something different than lightning.

When he raised his hand, the answer quickly came.

Rumble.

Rumble.

Loud noises resounded on the battlefield as if they just heard a clap of thunder. This was probably one of the reasons why he called himself a Thunder Berserker God instead of Lightning Berserker. No, it might be related to his Spirit Classification, who named him Thunder Berserker Spirit.

The Song Goddess smiled and gently pulled one string of her zither, neutralizing the loud sound. "Big Brother Leoz, don't be too noisy."

Leoz narrowed his eyes and looked at her coldly. However, Rinrin seemed to not care about that gaze because Leoz was in his True Spirit Body. She knew well how indifferent Leoz could be in his serious mode. Even his muscle-brain element disappeared in his head when he was in this situation. That was the reason Leoz wouldn't keep saying "challenging someone" as soon as he used his True Spirit Body.

Rinrin smiled and said, "I will be supporting Big Brother Leoz from behind. I couldn't do it in the past, but I truly wanted to thank Big Brother and Master for protecting me..."

Leoz took a deep breath and channeled his Lightning Element into his sword. He said, "That's my responsibility. After knowing the hardship one could endure alone, you would grow up just fine... Like the way you are now. Let this body protect you for one last time since I've finally gained the strength to protect you again after you surpassed me and reached God King Stage first."

After saying those words, Leoz disappeared, bringing his sword with him.

The Lycan had a good sense, so he simply looked to the right, finding Leoz swinging his sword horizontally. He simply raised his hand and caught the sword with his palm, showing that his skin was so hard to the point he couldn't pierce.

"I have consumed millions of werewolves. Do you think your sword is harder than my skin?" The werewolf snorted and glanced at Leoz with a cold gaze. He then threw Leoz from him before the Song Goddess made her appearance on the other side.

With her zither on the waist, she plucked one string and released a powerful shock wave to one single direction like that of a whip.

The werewolf had his cheeks bloated before he let out a loud howl, creating the same shock wave as her since both were fundamentally the same, it was sound.

The two shock waves clashed and created a small explosion transparent shock wave that flew in all directions other than the one they came in.

"Lightning Spirit Slash."

A huge crescent-shaped yellow-colored lightning flew forward from the werewolf's blind spot. However, the latter seemed to be able to sense it from a mile away and took one big step to the right without looking.

This move was meant to show how he looked down on Leoz, making him angry to the point he couldn't put his rationality in this fight. The Lycan thought it would be the best chance to win.

But Leoz simply smirked since there was a certain person who could almost do anything.

Suddenly, the Lycan picked up someone's voice, singing, "I have been blessed by the ever-changing path, opening up my dark, gloomy way. For once, I have grown stronger and controlled my own fate."

As one would expect from the Song Goddess, the first was symbolizing the Lightning Spirit Slash that could still be controlled by the Universe. In other words, the song earlier forced the Universe to take control and turn it according to the second verse.

The Lycan widened his eyes when the Lightning Spirit Slash turned around and flew toward him with an even stronger power.

"What?!" The Lycan gritted his teeth and covered his hand with black-colored energy. He struck the Lightning Spirit Slash with that black claw and spread all the energy all over the Sword Wave as it began to disappear naturally.

"..." The Lycan quickly jumped forward as soon as he broke the Sword Wave, still finding his other arm missing.

It turned out Leoz cut it while the Song Goddess maintained the Lightning Spirit Slash. That was why the Lycan tried to escape as soon as possible.

However, as one would expect from a Lycan, the arm had started regenerating at speed visible with naked eyes.

"Do you think you can win against me? I will show you the real reason why I'm qualified to be a God King." The Lycan howled before a blue light shone upon him as if it was trying to illuminate him. Yet his strength rose exponentially.

But what made the Song Goddess shocked was Leoz's reaction. It might be due to that howl earlier, but he seemed to be not in his right mind with his hand clutching his head as if he was in pain. He then charged toward the Lycan with all his power and slashed the regenerated hand.

The Lycan only snorted and disappeared before Leoz instinctively raised his hand to block something coming from above.

The Lycan appeared above him, sending a kick toward Leoz's head but stopped by the hand. Yet, Leoz got blown away from the residual power in that kick before he finally stopped while clutching his head.

"Moon God Empowerment." The Lycan snorted and looked at Leoz. "This power has the ability to increase my overall ability, but that's not all. Coupled with my howl, it can launch a Mind Attack. It works pretty well for someone like you who is fighting something in your own head. This is your weakness. Accept your death."

Despite being told so, there was no movement from Leoz. His eyes even half opened, feeling something weird on his head. This power seemed to be drastically drained of his rationality, turning him into a berserker that couldn't determine foes and friends.

Rinrin tried to play a soothing tune to calm Leoz down, but the Lycan appeared next to her, sending a punch toward her face.

She instinctively raised that zither and blocked the fist with it, only to find it broken.

"What?!" Rinrin widened her eyes, never expecting the Lycan to have this kind of ability. And when she saw black-colored energy covering his claws, she instantly recognized what kind of energy it was.

"Corrosive Energy..." The Song Goddess narrowed her eyes and made a distance between them.

Unfortunately for her, she needed to jump again without caring for her life when she understood the Lycan's real aim.

She quickly went toward Leoz to stop him from using this chance to kill him. The Song Goddess knew that Leoz must be experiencing the backlash of his True Spirit Body. If he became a real berserker who killed both foes and friends, there would be many uncertainties, so she tried to prevent him from becoming a berserker by stopping the attack.

"Big Brother Leoz." Rinrin appeared in front of Leoz while using the Sound Wave produced from a clap to stop the fist, but the Lycan's fist was stronger than she expected.

The fist broke through her Sound Wave and hit her stomach until she spat a mouthful of blood before launching her a few kilometers away. Obviously, she didn't forget to bring Leoz away from him while checking his condition.

"Big Brother Leoz. Are you alright?" Rinrin asked and checked his condition before the Lycan came again.

Surprisingly, Leoz had literally stopped doing anything as if the system in his body just got rebooted entirely. He then placed his hand on her shoulder, smiling. "I see. To think I haven't realized it this whole time and let this little sister of mine suffer... What a bad big brother I am..."

"Big Brother?" Rinrin tilted her head in confusion, feeling something was wrong with him. Leoz looked like he wasn't in his usual state.

"Despite becoming a Berserker God, I have been avoiding the power of Berserker. I have always thought that this power will make me insane after a period of time, so I need to suppress that power. Thanks to you, I have realized I was wrong this whole time." Leoz smirked and released another aura, but this one seemed to be far more powerful than before. "Thanks to you, I know I need to be crazy all the time to utilize my Berserk Law properly."

"Big Brother?" Rinrin's face turned pale. There was a trace of fear apparent in her eyes. Coming from the same orphanage and calling him big brother, Rinrin obviously knew Leoz's past. He had been hiding the fact that he was like a beast before he met Alex. No, in fact, it wasn't like that anymore... He was literally a beast, having no other interactions.

Because his power often went out of control, the others feared him, avoiding him from any of their conversations. Only Alex and the people from the same orphanage would accept him no matter how harsh it was. Of course, it was due to Alex that such a thing was possible.

And Leoz said he wanted to do something he had hated for the past few thousand years? She just couldn't comprehend his actions.

Albeit, what Leoz said completely changed her point of view.

"Don't worry about me. I was originally a beast. No, I should say my past identity as a beast actually defined my power perfectly. So this time, I will just return to my former self and surpass it." Leoz grinned evilly and released all his power, turning his lightning into black.

Like Jeanne's red lightning, this black-colored lightning carried the power of his law. And Leoz deemed this color fitted his personality. "Once again... True Spirit Body. Lightning Berserker Form."

Boom.

Chapter 1177 - First Blood

Leoz finally became a full-fledged God King after rushing his path due to the pressure that the beast left him. He came to terms with his own Law and decided to utilize it like how Alaya wanted him.

"Time for round two." Leoz smirked. Despite saying it was a Berserker Law, Leoz's expression remained calm, not showing even a remnant of it. Yet, the Lycan could see that Leoz became even more dangerous than he expected to the point he might lose against him.

No, it might be due to his Berserker Law that he understood what kind of phenomenon if someone went berserk. And this just showed how much he had control over it.

Rinrin, the Song Goddess, arrived at the same answer as the Lycan.

A high-pitched disturbing sound echoed on the battlefield as Rinrin actually changed her instrument to a guitar. And it was not a normal guitar. It was an electric guitar.

"Hahaha! Since Big Brother Leoz wants to play it that way, I will support you. Let's go crazy, baby!" Rinrin's personality flipped the moment she changed instruments. However, she could do something like this due to her Law. The one she mastered was not a Song Law. Instead, it was Sound Law.

This type of Law allowed her to control what kind of sound she wanted to produce. And she even bothered to practice all kinds of musical instruments she met.

Leoz shook his head helplessly before charging toward the Lycan. "Lightning Spirit Slash."

The Lycan gritted his teeth and threw a punch.

The clash produced a shock wave too, but more importantly, the Lycan's corrosive power and Leoz's Berserk Lightning managed to clash on equal ground, trying to cancel one another.

Due to Leoz's strength finally reaching the Lycan's real strength, Rinrin had enough time to understand the situation better and move accordingly.

"Sound Blast."

Teng.

The high-pitched sound sent a powerful Shock Wave that blew away the Lycan and grazed all over his body before the latter managed to get away, letting the residual attack hit an asteroid and blowing it up.

"Kh!" The Lycan leaped a bit far before howling to neutralize the Song Goddess's Sound Attack. Unlike the previous one, this shock wave felt so sharp. He even felt it was strong enough to cut him.

"You... Your power changes every time you use another instrument." The Lycan decided to assume this because if he observed the third or the fourth one, he would've gotten too many injuries. It was better to gamble it this way and prepare accordingly.

The Song Goddess only snorted and said, "Are you sure? I'm going to play another verse then."

A series of noises echoed in his ears. Although it still had the character of the previous sound, the shock wave that this tune summoned was a kind of a barrage attack.

The Lycan narrowed his eyes and released all his corrosive power that began to shake when the shock wave passed it. Luckily, it didn't go through his corrosive layer or it would be bad.

Leoz looked at her and sighed, "Such a weird power. But I guess it suits you..."

"Thank you." Rinrin smiled sweetly like a little girl who just received praise from her big brother. However, behind that smile was her scheming mind. She sent a thought transmission to Leoz. 'Big Brother. Protect me for fifteen minutes. I have a plan.'

While processing the message, the Lycan used this chance to attack them. He let out another howl to neutralize the Song Goddess's Sound Wave before she sent more and charged toward her. It was better to eliminate someone who had mysterious power first after all.

Unfortunately for him, Leoz appeared next to him with his sword swinging right at his neck.

The Lycan gritted his teeth and stopped that Sword with both hands, planning to leap toward the Song Goddess by using Leoz's giant sword as a stepping. However, he instinctively covered his cheek with his Corrosive Power before finding his jaw broken.

Leoz finally came into his vision as he found Leoz's fist punching his cheek and blowing him away.

After getting the Corrosive Power in his fist, Leoz remained calm and looked at the black energy. He used his Lightning Element to neutralize it, but the skin had been eroded, revealing his flesh and blood.

Due to the power behind this attack, he took another glance at Rinrin's stomach, where she got struck by the same power. Surprisingly, there was a hole in her stomach this whole time. Although it wasn't through her back, it still penetrated a few millimeters.

In other words, Rinrin had been fighting with that kind of condition. He couldn't help but feel embarrassed, thinking, 'She has gotten so much stronger. The kid who always needed protection the whole time had truly become a warrior... Though, she still couldn't fix her bad habit by letting her emotions take control of her when playing instruments...'

Leoz shook his head and charged toward the Lycan.

"Erosion Force!" The Lycan created torrential energy that flew toward Leoz, planning to stop him.

However, Leoz simply raised his hand as five black balls appeared in front of him, creating a bridge between each other by using the black lightning. They then charged powerful lightning energy in the middle as Leoz shot it to blast all this energy.

"Thunder God Cannon."

The two energies clashed with each other before the Lycan used it as a cover to close his distance to Leoz. Even if he wanted to stop the Song Goddess, Leoz had prepared to sacrifice his life, so he needed to finish this first.

Another high-pitched sound formed another shock wave. The Lycan once again used his howl to neutralize it and covered his claws with the Black Energy. "Erosion Claw."

Three crescent-shaped energies flew toward him. Leoz knew that the moment he destroyed this energy, the residual power would splash on his body, but the Lycan seemed to underestimate the real berserker.

Leoz simply slashed the sword with his power and charged forward without hesitation. There were a few burned marks on his arms and chest, but Leoz simply laughed and waved his blade, launching the Lycan even further.

He followed him and continued fighting since Rinrin said she had a plan.

Surprisingly, the Song Goddess kept changing her instruments. From electric guitar to a bass that formed a blunt shock wave, a saxophone that created a shock wave without a form, or even the flutes that could summon the shock waves from all directions by changing its tune.

After fifteen minutes, Leoz's body was covered with injuries while Rinrin kept using her current instrument, a flute, to summon more and more Sound Waves toward the Lycan, who seemed to be exhausted after expending its energy this whole time since he needed to fight two God Kings of the same level.

Rinrin played her flute and plugged three holes, changing the tune. Three Shock Waves appeared in different locations simultaneously.

"Get lost!" The Lycan roared again before his voice turned weird. There was a shriek in that howl as if he just lost his voice. "Wha—"

Rinrin smiled when she found this. "Right? You're relying on your own voice to fight against my sound. Unfortunately for you, my real title is Sound Goddess, but since it doesn't sound romantic in your ears, I have become a Song Goddess. Well, I love songs, so it's fine. But thanks to it, you haven't realized the fact that I'm trying to influence your own sound to the limit and mess up with your vocal cords.

"Now that you don't have the power to protect yourself from my power, it's time to step up my performance." Rinrin smirked and changed her instrument again. This time, she was playing with drums.

Two sticks appeared on both hands as she smashed the drums with all her power, creating a tremendous shock wave.

"!!!" The Lycan widened his eyes, never expecting he would be cornered like this. He looked at the shock wave and used all his Corrosive Power to form a wall, but the Corrosive Power got blown away because it didn't have a solid form.

And the Shock Wave seemed to be targeting only the liquid form and avoided any solid objects because everything was concentrated in one place.

Yes, the noises were focused on the Lycan as if he got struck by an invisible enemy from the front.

Not wanting to give the Lycan a chance, Rinrin hit it a few more times, creating a melody.

As if becoming its complimentary tune, the few hits turned into a few shock waves that appeared on the Lycan's right, top, bottom, and behind, leaving only his left open.

The Lycan had no other choice than to raise his hands to guard all these shock waves until he found a way to escape, but the moment he found his left was empty, Leoz already appeared on his way.

"I don't want to waste more time on you!" Leoz ultimately got the chance from the Song Goddess's help despite wanting to protect her. He slashed his sword downwards, channeling all the lightning he had into his sword. "O' Ancient Thunder God, What is it that lies within your eyes? O Bright Thunder that splits the Heaven, rumbling tremors that shake the Earth, what pulse beats within your ears? Dwell inside me o' God of Lightning as I am Thunder Berserker, Spirit Vessel."

A giant Lightning Tribulation emerged from out of nowhere, lending all of its power into this one strike. All the yellow lightning was converted into black lightning in an instant, hovering around his sword.

"No!" The Lycan raised both hands, trying to stop that attack with his Corrosive Power, but Leoz's black lightning was more powerful than his expectation.

"Lightning God Slash!"

He let out all the power into that single attack, broke through the Lycan's power, and slashed the Lycan into two.

Chapter 1178 - Arguing

As soon as Leoz killed that guy, he took a deep breath and checked his condition. "That was harsh."

"Yeah." Rinrin nodded and came to him before pointing at the remaining corpse.

Leoz nodded and used his Black Lightning to destroy the body into nothingness. "Huft. How are you?"

Leoz lowered his head and looked at her stomach with a concerned expression before taking a pill from the Inventory. "Take this first."

"No, no. You're the one who needs to use it." Rinrin shook her head and rejected it since Leoz's body was covered with injuries.

Leoz didn't bother with her reply, opened her mouth, and forced her to swallow the pill. The wound on her stomach started getting snitched.

"What are you doing?" Rinrin became mad because Leoz prioritized her again.

"I don't need it," Leoz said with a serious expression before making a playful expression and sticking his tongue out. For the first time, Leoz made a joke and took out another pill that gradually healed his wounds. "I have another one."

"..." Rinrin's body shook as if she just never expected to hear a joke coming from his mouth. She even placed her hand on his forehead to check his temperature. "You're not sick? Then, maybe it's a side effect from your power? Do you need help or medication?"

"I'm not sick." Leoz clicked his tongue as his expression was distorted.

"I mean, you've never told anyone a joke."

"So, I couldn't do it? Fine."

Rinrin stuck her tongue out and hugged him like a sister, saying playfully, "Don't say that. I like to see Big Brother is opening up a bit instead of becoming your dumb self."

"Oi." Leoz sighed and asked, "How is your body condition?"

"I am fine, but due to the injury earlier and how much I've exhausted my own Energy... I don't think I can fight more than this." Rinrin shook her head. "How about you?"

Leoz admitted that his body was refusing to move. "I haven't mastered my Berserker Law yet, so I don't think I should fight more since I will just be a burden. I can only hope that Master will win against that beast."

"Indeed." Rinrin nodded. "I don't wish for it to end up the same."

As the two looked at the horizon, hoping for Alex to win, another battle took place not far from them. It was the fight between the God of Greed and the God of Strength facing the Panther.

The God of Strength looked at the Panther with a serious expression before incorporating his Law into his body, increasing his strength even further. His muscles bulged slightly as he raised both hands, ready to throw a punch.

"Unfortunately for you, we both will destroy you." The God of Strength said while looking at the humanoid panther before him.

"Huh? Are you dumb? Maybe you should use that strength of yours inside your head to make your brain bigger." The Panther snorted.

"Dude... You just got owned." The God of Greed laughed out loud. Even the God of Strength glared at the God of Greed. "Oi, we're allies only for this battle, okay? I will be crushing you after this because of your earlier statement."

"I just stated a fact." The God of Greed shrugged before a loud bang echoed.

The Panther tilted his head to the right to avoid something fast coming to him before finding something just grazed his cheek. In other words, he just barely survived that attack. When he was about to respond, a loud explosion noise resounded on the battlefield.

He turned around and widened his eyes to see a huge explosion behind him. That something seemed to hit an asteroid and did that much damage.

As he turned around again, he saw a white-colored fifty centimeters long rifle held in one hand.

Yes, the one who used the gun was none other than the God of Greed.

"Come on, Dude. Can you please die? I don't want to waste too much money even though I've prepared for it." The God of Greed shook his head in disappointment as if the Panther just screwed him over because he didn't die from the bullet earlier.

"How about you try doing it for real?" The God of Strength rolled his eyes. "Look, I don't even understand why you're so obsessed with money and how this event will give you more money. We can't bring the corpse back since the agreement is to destroy it here."

"That's why you're foolish. Just by killing this guy, I will get enough reputation to support my business, meaning more business opportunities. More businesses mean more money. More money means I can expand my business and become another potential business... Means more money. That's the cycle. Eventually, I will surpass the limit and become even wealthier than that Blackwade Clan."

"But that clan is backed by the Spirit God... Are you sure you can do it?" The God of Strength tilted his head in confusion. If the Spirit God was angry, the God of Greed simply couldn't do anything. After all, Alex managed to deflect an attack that three powerful God Kings were not able to block so easily.

And knowing that precise information made the God of Greed silent before correcting his words. "I will be the second richest person in this universe."

"Are you not including the Spirit God?" The God of Strength became even more confused. "I heard this rumor when we fought together, but it seemed the Spirit God used almost two trillion Spirit Crystals to create three God Kings. And I also heard Eulja only supported a third a few hundred billion. The rest came from his pocket."

"..." The God of Greed turned pale and corrected himself again. "I will become the second of the second richest person in this universe."

"It's basically the third..." The God of Strength shook his head helplessly, facepalmed. "You just didn't want to lose, ain't you?"

"..." The God of Greed didn't answer. "Whatever! I want to be rich."

"You're greedy."

"That's what my title implies..."

"No, no. You're beyond greedy."

"Well, everyone is greedy. I mean, even I am greedy for money and women."

"Hold up. It's already arrived at the lust boundary."

"Huh? You don't understand. I am greedy for praise too."

"Look. It's Pride now. Dude, you're beyond greedy."

"What do you mean? Greed is good because it can reach everyone." The God of Greed shrugged, feeling he wasn't in the wrong.

The God of Strength facepalmed as he abandoned this guy already. He was indeed greedy for all other deadly sins too.

Because of these two conversations, the Panther became irritated and sneaked behind them, appearing right behind the God of Greed while slashing him with his claws to shred him into pieces.

However, the God of Strength had sensed him and intercepted the Panther's blow with his own fist. He gripped the fist tighter to avoid him from running away while the God of Greed turned around and shot the Panther right on his head.

As one would expect from a God King, the Panther avoided it again while listening to another explosion sound behind his back.

"Come on, can you die already? Each bullet is ten million Spirit Crystals you know." The God of Greed sighed.

"You're saying that?" The God of Strength made a bewildered face.

"You two need to f*ck the shut up! This is a battle!" The Panther roared in anger and tried to punch the God of Strength in the face.

The God of Strength simply raised his other hand to stop that attack before grabbing the Panther's shoulders before lowering him down. He then raised his knee, kicking him right on the face. "You are the one who needs to shut up. We're discussing something important here. This guy's greed knows no bounds, so I need to give him a bit of a lesson."

"What did you say?" The God of Greed shot the Panther again only to find him dodging the bullet again.

"You know nothing. Money can even buy lives, not just slaves. Even an illness or poison can kill you if you don't have enough money to treat it is a good doctor, let alone the best. If I have all the money this universe can offer, then I don't need to worry about it anymore. Oh, if you want, I can give you a special discount and allow you to invest your money in me. I can bring the best of it."

"Just shut up, you greedy profiteer." The God of Strength shouted and chased the Panther.

"I mean, Greed is my title. Do you want me to act like a playboy or a kid to show that I'm not God of Greed?"

"Shut up! You're messing with my own form." The God of Strength snorted and sent a fist toward the Panther, completely blowing it up on the Panther because he couldn't win against the God of Greed in an argument.

The Panther became even angrier when these two didn't seem to look at him as an opponent. They just couldn't keep spouting nonsense. "This is a battlefield, not your room to argue!"

Hearing the Panther's shout and seeing a fist coming his way, the God of Strength decided to receive the punch while sending him one to test whose strength was stronger. "You goddamn right!"

Both of them managed to deliver one strike to each other. The Panther managed to dislocate the God of Strength's Jaw while the latter broke a few ribs.

The God of Greed sighed and appeared in front of them, shooting the Panther from point-blank range. "Unfortunately, I can't have you as bonus money for this battle. Goodbye, money bag."

Unlike the God of Greed's nonchalant attitude, the Panther panicked and ducked down before trying to kick the God of Strength's lower part. The latter had no other choice and let go of the Panther's hand, allowing him to create another distance to compose himself.

"What the heck? Why did you release him? I was about to change my weapon..." The God of Greed snarled, feeling unsatisfied with the God of Strength's choice. "You could receive many attacks on your body earlier... Just be a man already."

"Dude, I was going to stop being a man if that hit landed..." The God of Strength looked helpless. These two just never got along well, especially since they were neighboring God Kings.

The only reason why the two actually participated in the Alliance that the Holy God created and quitted at the same time was due to their rivalry and all arguments like this. The God of Strength wanted to justify his own Law by showing how strong he was, while the God of Greed wanted to show how cool he was and poached the people from the neighboring God King.

"I'm sick of you!"

"I'm too! Just give me your strength and money already, I won't bother you anymore!" The two continued to fight. Of course, they didn't lower their guard down this whole time like how the two could react to whatever move the Panther made earlier.

Chapter 1179 - Anti-Climatic Win

As the two continued to fight, the Panther was simply in a bind, wondering how these two could actually work together so well when trying to kill him but had these petty arguments while in a fight.

"I'm going to show you that I'm better than you." The God of Strength snorted and flew to a nearby asteroid before kicking it like a soccer ball despite how big it was.

"!!!" The Panther widened his eyes and decided to move toward the God of Greed, so even if he were hit by this asteroid, the God of Strength would've hit the God of Greed too.

However, the latter just showed him something different, especially when his body was surrounded by an energy that surely wasn't his.

It was then the Panther knew whose energy it was, only to get punched on his face, blowing him away. At the same time, the God of Greed stopped the asteroid with one hand and threw it toward the Panther, spinning. "You take this. It's a special fastball with good spin."

"Why are you treating this as a sport, dumbass?" The God of Strength narrowed his eyes.

"What do you mean by dumbass? I'm the smartass here, you're the dumbass."

"So, you're admitting that you act like an as*hole here?" The God of Strength just got the point before saying, "Anyway, you borrowed that strength from me earlier."

"..." The God of Greed became angrier and changed his weapon into a sniper rifle. "This is my Greed Law. Since you're so useless, I will just end this myself."

The sniper rifle released a bullet that seemed to be more powerful than the bullet earlier, flying toward the Panther at fast speed.

The Panther tried to dodge this one and somehow managed to succeed, but he found that the explosion was one hundred times bigger, obliterating the asteroid in one strike.

"Tch. I just wasted a bullet. Oi! This bullet is a fully concentrated Spirit Crystals containing one Billion Spirit Crystals. Your life alone won't be enough to pay for this bullet." The God of Greed complained again.

Meanwhile, the Panther felt like a sh*t, wondering, 'What the heck with these two people? They kept talking and arguing in this entire battle, yet, how can they be this strong? They even cooperated with each other a few times.

'Is this Universe that good?' The Panther gritted his teeth, not wanting to believe that God Kings were this strong. They had the power of Parasite and he had devoured all those strong genes that his mother gave him as nutrition and turned him into a powerful Panther.

He didn't like to see anyone getting stronger than him, especially since it was the God of Strength and the God of Greed. He released another power that had been hiding inside him as his body began to be covered with a black aura.

"I've had enough." The Panther finally turned into a real one that walked on its four feet.

Unfortunately for him, the two still couldn't take it seriously as the God of Strength kept treating him like it wasn't a big deal. "Look. Due to your continuous rumbling, he changes into a full-fledged panther. Don't you feel sorry for him?"

"He's an enemy. And you're the one louder." The God of Greed shrugged.

The God of Strength sighed and gathered his power in one fist before punching the nothing while spinning that hand to create a torrential force out of nothing. "Spinning Power Fist."

The Panther saw this and started going zig zag to avoid getting hit by that torrential energy.

Seeing that the Panther was about to reach him, the God of Strength raised his hand again, preparing for another punch, but found someone appeared right behind him and used his body as a cover.

He then rested his sniper rifle on his shoulder and shot the Panther.

Boom.

Surprisingly, a loud explosion shook the battlefield as the Panther got blown away. Yet, if one took another look at the situation, the blast wasn't that powerful compared to what the God of Greed had shown him.

Only him and the God of Strength actually understood what happened. The God of Greed truly had the audacity to use the gap below his crotch to hide a pistol to hit that Panther. The God of Strength gritted his teeth and roared. "Are you freaking serious? Do you want to turn me into waste?"

"Yes. Why do you even ask?" The God of Greed admitted without hesitation.

"I'm going to die if I become a waste! I'm going to kill you first!"

"What? You die? That's bad then. I need to get all of your money first before you die. And if you don't have a foolish son or daughter, I can't extort or play with them to get their money. I need to reconsider my plan." The God of Greed sighed his head in disappointment as if he truly thought about it.

The God of Strength was completely stunned by his remark before noticing that the Panther seemed to be far more frustrated than they thought he would, especially since the Panther actually chose to escape to another battlefield instead of fighting them.

The God of Greed obviously used his Teleportation Array Plate and chased him.

"Don't you run! You're my money bag." The God of Greed shouted and summoned two pistols, starting to shoot him uncontrollably. As one would expect, the cost of the bullet went down, so he wasn't as remorseful as before, even though he still thought it was a shame.

The God of Strength also chased him from behind since his partner kept the Panther's movement in check. He then raised his hand and sent another punch that created torrential energy.

"Ha!"

The Panther gritted his teeth and swung his paw, sending crescent-shaped energy that cut through the torrential energy. He then charged straight toward the God of Strength since he needed to kill this guy first before even getting a chance to reach the God of Greed because, for whatever reason, this guy seemed to be protecting him.

"Die!" The Panther released all of his energy into his paw to hit him.

Even the God of Strength found this attack too powerful for him to handle physically, so he also gathered all the energy in his hand before finding a metal glove floating on top of his head.

It was none other than the assistance coming from the God of Greed to him, so his hand slid into the glove and clashed with that paw.

"Purgatory Swipe."

"Absolute Strength."

The two collided and created a powerful shockwave. It didn't stop there. Even the God of Greed decided to stay silent when he saw the God of Strength break his own wrist after stopping that attack. The Panther had the same condition. He simply couldn't use that paw again.

The God of Strength didn't care about this and grabbed the useless paw, locking it on his useless arm. Without the ability to escape, the God of Strength punched the Panther with his other hand.

The Panther also found himself in a bind and tried to escape by punching the God of Strength, only to find that his strength wasn't enough to compete with the God of Strength.

He was simply a beast and didn't care about his injury while punching him continuously without a stop. The Panther spat a mouthful of blood and injured him as well, but their situation began to get worse when the God of Greed, who had been waiting for an opportunity, released his shot.

"!!!" The Panther and the God of Strength widened his eyes as the bullet hit the Panther's head and blew them up altogether.

Boom.

No one would expect the God of Greed to actually use this opportunity to attack both of them. One would think he did it to kill them, but the God of Strength's voice soon resounded within the smoke, complaining, "Seriously. What the heck are you trying to do?"

"Killing the Panther!" The God of Greed shrugged as if he didn't do anything wrong. "I even lent you that glove that was capable of blocking one fire attack such as my powerful bullet."

The latter clicked his tongue and realized it was the case. He waved his hand to the side to blow the smoke away from him, revealing the Panther's condition. What hit them earlier was the explosion of the most expensive bullet the God of Greed had.

"Now you need to pay me back. The cost of the glove is twenty Billion Spirit Crystals. The bullet I used was ten billion. I won't ask for the others."

"You're more shameless than I thought..." The God of Strength shook his head helplessly and looked at the Panther. Half of his body just got obliterated due to the explosion as the person himself glared at the God of Strength, telling him something.

Obviously, he understood the words without even saying them. The Panther truly wanted to ask him how he could fight this strong without being serious, especially in the argument part. If he fought the Panther seriously, he would've killed him the same since the Panther was among the weakest bunch.

The God of Strength snorted and said, "I'm serious in fighting you. It's just that guy who can't shut up. My hand is messed up and the other hand is numb. There are external and internal injuries all over my body because of your attack. I think he is the same."

The God of Greed crossed his hands and harrumphed. "I'm lamenting over the fact that my wealth has decreased so fast. I've lost fifteen billion Spirit Crystals in one fight. I better make more money after this war. Well, I've been stealing your power to weaken you, so that's why this muscle brain can defeat you. What the heck with the claim of the Strongest Person alive? Your strength can't even kill this guy."

"..." The God of Strength snapped again as the two started arguing over little things again.

Chapter 1180 - Palm God And Holy God

Just like how the other two fights went on and finished, there were still a few fights that occurred on other battlefields.

The one that was closest to the God of Greed and God of Strength was none other than the fight between the Palm God, the Holy God, and the Battle God.

The three stared at each other for a few minutes because they tried to see through them, especially their cause of fighting like this.

The Holy God shook his head in disappointment. "To think you would fight us like this... It turns out, I'm the biggest enemy of this universe."

The Palm God narrowed his eyes and glanced to the side, wondering what he had to say. He simply couldn't understand since the Holy God was a kind guy that could make people happy. Although his charisma wasn't like that of Alex, he was still in a high position even in the God Kings' eyes.

He managed to recover many planets and relieved them from the oppression and such, bringing a smile to their faces. Yet, such a person actually claimed he was the biggest enemy of the universe, he couldn't comprehend his words.

There was a potential of betrayal since it also carried that meaning, but the Holy God explained it first before any misunderstanding. "I enabled you to create this commotion by inviting you into the alliances. If I didn't bring you there, the Goddess of Destiny didn't need to die and your alliance would be destroyed by the Spirit God before anything could happen.

"But it turned out, I mixed the Magic Goddess, Goddess of Destiny, God of Destruction, God of Greed, and God of Strength into this. I couldn't even say anything to the God of Wrath because he suffered the most.

"That's why this is my last mission. I shall use my remaining lifespan to help other people in need to take accountability for my biggest mistake." The Holy God sighed.

The Palm God contemplated for a moment and thought he wasn't that bad of a guy, but when he saw it from that perspective, the Holy God seemed to be the cause of all this.

"Oi, old man. I don't care about your situation. All I want to know is whether you're going to fight or not." The Palm God snorted and summoned all one thousand hands from his back. He went straight toward the Battle God to start the fight.

"Battle God Avatar."

Seeing this, the Battle God raised his hand and summoned his own Avatar, wielding the same halberd. This one truly showed how weak he was when fighting him, but this time, the Palm God, Hans, understood what it meant to be stronger.

"One Thousand Arm Style, Ten kindness." Hans sent ten big hands toward the Battle God Avatar.

"Battle God Halberd." The Battle God Avatar waved his halberd and knocked the ten palms away with a giant halberd like the one that the Battle God wielded. He then raised his hand to chop all those hands off his back.

Suddenly, a huge circular light illuminated both the Battle God and his Avatar from above.

The Battle God clicked his tongue and raised the halberd to stop the white light that blew him downward.

The Palm God didn't wait for him and sent a hundred palms this time.

"One Hundred Palms Series, True Palm of Blood." All one hundred palms turned red as if they were covered with blood, but there was this bloodshot coming from each palm as if they were alive, looking at the Battle God with a pair of eyes.

The Battle God obviously didn't take it well and released all his strength. On the bottom of the Battle God Halber's blade and the handle, there was a huge red flag with a lotus symbol on it coming into view.

"Battle God Banner. Activate."

This banner released killing intent, bloodlust, Divine Energy and a new form of pressure that no one had ever seen before. The Battle God used those types of energy to suppress the Palm God and the Holy God.

But surprisingly, all the bloodlust emitted by the one hundred palms disappeared without a trace, turning those palms into a regular one with only strength and speed.

With the palms weakened, the Battle God destroyed all of them and cut them together.

"..." The Palm God narrowed his eyes and quickly recovered his arms. Although it took one minute to fix, there was the Holy God, so he believed he should have no problem recovering them. The Palm God drew a deep breath and changed his strategy.

However, the Battle God wouldn't let him. He activated his Banner again and started suppressing both the Holy God and the Palm God.

Although they had no problem moving, they clearly felt it was harder for them to use their techniques.

"Kh..." The Palm God gritted his teeth and flew to the right as the Battle God planned to attack the Holy God first to avoid any of his interference. "You're not going anywhere."

The Battle God narrowed his eyes and clicked his tongue, swinging his giant halbert toward the Holy God.

The Palm God quickly sent all the remaining arms to stop the halbert before he got a fist struck on his stomach.

"Kh, Holy God!" The Palm God shouted.

"I know. I've been working on it." The Holy God nodded and summoned five colored lights. They were blue, white, light blue, light green, and pink, surrounding the Battle God Avatar.

They grew even further and the Holy God finally started activating them. "Wisdom, Kindness, Humility, Friendly, Compassionate. Five Good Rings. Bind!"

Each light flew toward the Battle God Avatar and stopped as if they got frozen. However, the Battle God realized he couldn't move his avatar for the time being.

The Palm God took this chance to complain. "Seriously... Why are we even getting paired together?"

"No need to ask it, we all know that our strength is a bit worse than the Battle God and the others. If only you fought him, I had no guarantee that you would come back alive. Hence, the Nature Goddess wanted us to form a pair to fight against them and won this war without dying.

"Well, I haven't seen my daughter in a wedding dress, so I guess I can't die." The Palm God snorted and looked at the Battle God with a serious expression.

The Holy God nodded and raised his staff as a Light Tribulation appeared, sending its entire might toward the Battle God Avatar.

"Heaven Fall." The Holy God used that energy to obliterate the Battle God Avatar, but the Battle God seemed to be stronger than expected. The energy was completely blocked by his spear as it destroyed the light source to stop the continuous attack.

Because of the distraction, the Palm God felt no restriction from the Battle God Banner anymore and used all his power to charge toward the Battle God.

"Ha! One hundred palms series. True Palm of Blood."

Seeing the incoming a hundred hands, the Holy God smirked and raised his staff. He channeled all his power and created a light ball covering all those palms.

Suddenly, the Palm God felt an increase in his strength, but he still felt frustrated to not have the strength to settle this problem himself.

Unfortunately for him, he couldn't complain too because he certainly knew the reason. If it were like this, he alone wouldn't be able to defeat the Battle God, let alone kill him. The only way for him to kill the Battle God was to accept the alliance with the Holy God.

To show that he understood this kind of problem, the Palm God channeled even more energy into those hands to increase the strength even further and fused the Light Energy from the Holy God with his own Energy, wiping out all that red colors from his hand.

Instead, his hands were now filled with warmth and light as if he was a buddha.

"One Hundred Palms Series. True Palm of Virtue."

Just like when the God of Destruction channeled all his power into the hand as it became a palm of destruction, this Light Element turned his hands into something stronger and adopted a certain name.

The Battle God widened his eyes and gritted his teeth, striking all those hands with his giant halbert, but it was then his halbert started to crack.

"!!!" All their attention quickly went to the halbert. The Battle God thought this was a bad sign since he would lose if this continued, considering the Holy God could keep channeling the power to all other nine hundred hands.

And that was precisely the thought of the Holy God. He raised his staff and used all his Light Element to cover the palms only so his strength would become more formidable.

The Palm God didn't say anything this whole time after he came to terms with the situation. He only gnashed his teeth and pointed his finger. "I admit that I don't have enough strength to kill you, but it doesn't mean both of us will lose. I will use this chance to prove myself that I'm not useless."

The Battle God tilted his head and wondered how big of a fool the Palm God could be. No one in this world actually told him useless other than Alex and his wife, the War Goddess. After all, Palm God indeed had the qualification to wield this strength.

That was why he couldn't stand the Palm God. If he were more willing to understand techniques and other things besides the Cultivation Technique, he would've become a great person without relying on his wife.

Meanwhile, the Palm God didn't think of it at all. He simply knew the fact they managed to crack the halbert meant he had a fair share to win.

"Let's go, Holy God!"

When they thought they were able to win, there was one thing that both the Palm God and the Holy God forgot.

The Battle God's body gradually became bigger. Black-colored fur started covering all his skins, ripping off his shirt and pants. His ears slowly turned into that of a bear before his face and all his limbs.

Yes. No matter what anyone said, the Battle God was still a Bear, a pet that the real Bear, the Earth God, had. So, it was normal for him to have the ability to release it as well.

Surprisingly, the Avatar that resembled him also changed from a red-colored translucent avatar into a black-colored Bear Avatar. It completely blew one's mind, especially of how different the two forms were.

The Palm God and the Holy God narrowed their eyes, exchanging looks. They knew this battle was going to get a lot worse from this point on.

The Battle God still carried his banner and halbert, which had been restored to its full power, in his hand while shouting as loud as possible. "Palm God, Holy God, you two are going to die here. I am going to show my strength and my loyalty and reach the stage that no one has ever stepped before. I will become the one beyond the God King!"
